

Strategic Growth Forum Africa

Unlocking value to grow beyond the possible

Inspiring Africa: growing beyond the possible

1-2 March 2012
The Westin, Cape Town

Be inspired by the business possibilities in Africa. Welcome to the first Strategic Growth Forum – Africa to be hosted in Cape Town 2012!

The renowned Ernst & Young Strategic Growth Forum event series is coming to Africa in March 2012.

This two day event will be a high-quality knowledge-sharing and networking platform for business leaders from near and far. It will provide thought-provoking keynote speakers, case studies and panel discussions with eminent academics, innovation leaders, entrepreneurs and Ernst & Young subject matter experts to debate:

1. What Africa needs to do to deliver on the growth opportunities the continent offers to create sustainable economies, strengthen international trade and secure long term employment
2. What fast-growing and innovative companies need to do to unlock African growth opportunities and the best strategies and operating models to do so

Drawing upon Ernst & Young's international network and our African Business Center expertise it will also attract a number of international guests keen to explore African business opportunities.

Join us to learn more about the exciting business ideas unique to this region, explore different perspectives through topical panel discussions and breakout sessions, and build your international network with this exclusive gathering of the industries' leaders from around the world.

There's a whole world of possibility in Africa just waiting to be unlocked ...
