Corporate reorganizations and project management

Strategically effective reorganization
In an increasingly competitive market, success requires an efficient corporate structure that is designed to minimize costs and optimize profits. Whether prompted by an acquisition, spin-off or internal restructuring, EY Law helps clients to manage changes to their corporate organization more effectively. We can deliver better value with less risk by strategically addressing all legal implications for our clients, by providing high quality client centric legal advice and sophisticated project management.

Cohesive and multidisciplinary advice
EY lawyers work alongside experienced business professionals in EY’s tax, consulting, accounting and financial advisory practices in order to deliver cohesive guidance to clients. EY Law can advise and assist with the execution of a variety of corporate restructuring activities, including:

► Pre-transaction restructuring, including multinational spin-offs and the separation of divisions, business lines or other assets into separate corporate structures
► Post-acquisition integration of acquired company groups
► Operational and fiscal reorganizations designed to create efficient group structures
► Group simplification projects to remove dormant or surplus companies

Efficient project management
Especially with multidisciplinary and multi-jurisdictional corporate reorganizations, it is a challenge to coordinate different types of legal services providers efficiently – a challenge many of our clients have experienced in the past. However, no matter how complex a reorganization may be, there is no longer a need to
