Notes:

1. Bill C-2, which received royal assent on 15 December 2016, introduced a 4% increase in the federal top marginal personal income tax rate on income in excess of $200,000 ($202,800 in 2017) and also contains consequential amendments to the refundable additional Part I tax, Part IV tax and the refundable dividend tax on hand mechanism. For taxation years ending after 2015, the refundable additional Part I tax on investment income earned by a CCPC is increased by 4%, from 6.67% to 10.67%. As a result, the federal rate applicable to investment income earned by a CCPC is increased to 38.67% from 34.67%. The additional refundable tax as well as a portion of the regular Part I tax paid on the investment income is refundable to the CCPC as follows: 30.67% of the investment income (increased from 26.67%) is added to the CCPC's refundable dividend tax on hand account and is refundable at a rate of 38.33% of taxable dividends paid (increased from 33.33%). For taxation years that straddle 1 January 2016, these changes are prorated for the number of days in the taxation year that are after 2015. The 13% federal general rate reduction does not apply to investment income earned by a CCPC.
2. The federal general rate reduction of 13% applies to the base federal rate of 28% for active business income not eligible for other incentives, as well as to investment income earned by a non-CCPC.
3. Newfoundland and Labrador increased the general corporate income tax rate from 14% to 15%, effective 1 January 2016.
4. New Brunswick increased the general corporate income tax rate from 12% to 14%, effective 1 April 2016.
5. Quebec is gradually reducing the general corporate income tax rate from 11.9% to 11.5% over four years, effective 1 January of each year beginning in 2017, in accordance with the following schedule: 2017 - 11.8%; 2018 - 11.7%; 2019 - 11.6%; and 2020 - 11.5%.
6. In accordance with its 2017-18 budget, Saskatchewan is reducing its general corporate income tax rate from 12.0% to 11.5% effective 1 July 2017, resulting in an effective tax rate of 11.75% for the 2017 calendar year.
