Foreword

The Union Budget for 2016 comes at a time of unusual volatility in the international economic environment. Markets have begun to swing on fears that the global recovery may be faltering, while risks of extreme events are rising. Amidst this gloomy landscape, the Economic Survey for 2015-16 calls India “... a haven of stability and an outpost of opportunity”. Its macro-economy is stable, founded on the government’s commitment to fiscal consolidation and low inflation. Its economic growth is amongst the highest in the world, helped by a reorientation of government spending toward needed public infrastructure. These achievements are remarkable not least because they have been accomplished in the face of global headwinds and a second successive season of poor rainfall. The task now is to sustain them in an even more difficult global environment.

It was in the above economic backdrop that the FM presented the Union Budget 2016-17 in the Parliament today.

The Budget has a transformative agenda built on nine distinct pillars of agriculture welfare, rural sector, social sector, education, skills and job creation, infrastructure and investment, financial sector reforms, governance and ease of doing business, fiscal disciple and tax reforms.

Investment continues to be the underlying theme in this Budget. The Budget seeks to revive growth and investment and promote domestic manufacturing and ‘Make in India’. The proposal to provide a reduced tax rate for new manufacturing companies, extending the benefit of deduction for employment of new regular workmen and changes to the customs and excise duty rates on inputs can be expected to have a significant impact on this theme.

The Budget contains a number of tax proposals for providing relief to small taxpayers, measures to boost growth and employment generation, incentivizing domestic value addition, reducing litigation and providing certainty, and for simplification and rationalization of taxation.

With the adoption of the BEPS package in October 2015, OECD and G20 countries laid the foundations of a modern international tax framework under which profits would be taxed where economic activity and value creation occurs. It was widely expected that the Budget proposals would reflect India’s commitment to implementing BEPS. To this effect, the Budget seeks to implement a new three-tier approach for TP documentation, an equalization levy to address BEPS risks which stand exacerbated by the digital economy and a nexus based patent box regime. The regime may prove to be a catalyst to progress from “make in India” to “innovate in India”.

The FM reiterated that GAAR would be implemented with effect from 1 April 2017. The proposal to defer implementation of POEM as a test for corporate residency should be welcomed.

The Budget’s accelerated structural reforms at the Centre, accompanied by the dynamism of competitive federalism could all combine to maintain the fundamental promise that is India. The sweet spot created by a strong political mandate but, recalibrated to take account of a weaker external environment, is still beckoningly there.

Key performance indicators

Even in trying and uncertain circumstances, India’s growth story has largely remained positive, and the country has registered a steady pace of economic growth in 2015-16. Additionally, other macroeconomic parameters like inflation, fiscal deficit and current account balance have exhibited distinct signs of improvement. Wholesale price inflation has been negative for more than a year and the consumer price inflation has declined significantly over the last year. However, weak growth in advanced and emerging economies has taken its toll on India’s exports growth.

The macroeconomic situation in India has improved during the current year with a rise in the growth rate from 7.2% in 2014-15 to 7.6% in 2015-16.

Agriculture and allied sector: The sector has experienced two consecutive years of low growth due to deficient monsoons.

Industrial, corporate and infrastructure performance: The industrial sector has continued to perform well in the wake of various reform measures undertaken by the government recently.

Services: The services sector has emerged as the most dynamic sector globally and remains the key driver of India’s economic growth.

On account of slowdown in global growth, India’s services exports witnessed subdued growth of 3.7% since second half of 2014-15, which decelerated further to 0.7% in the first half of 2015-16.
Given the fact that the government is committed to carrying the reform process forward, aided by the prevailing macroeconomic stability, it appears that conditions do exist for raising the economy’s growth momentum beyond 8% in the next couple of years. Considering the uncertainties surrounding global growth and financial sector outlook, India’s growth is unlikely to pick-up dramatically in 2016-17 from the levels achieved in 2015-16.

Some of the key economic indicators are summarized as follows:

► Headline wholesale price index (WPI) inflation has remained in the negative territory since November 2014 and was (-) 2.8% in 2015-16 (April-January) as compared to 2% in 2014-15.

► Foreign exchange reserves increased from USD 341.6 billion in 2014-2015 to USD 349.6 billion in 2015-16 (Jan 2016).

► The performance of Indian stock market has remained subdued due to volatility in global equity markets. The BSE index has declined by (-) 8.5% (up to 5 January 2016) over end-March 2015.

► During the current financial year (April-January 2015-16), India’s exports declined y-o-y by (-) 17.6% as compared to a decline of (-) 1.3% in 2014-15. Imports have declined by (-) 15.5% in 2015-16 (April-January 2015-16).
Net Foreign Direct Investments have increased from USD 16,183 million in April-September 2014 to USD 16,652 million in April-September 2015. However, Foreign Portfolio Investments recorded a net outflow of USD 8,745 million in April-September 2015 compared to an inflow of USD 22,202 million during the same period in 2014.

Centre’s Gross Fiscal Deficit was targeted at 3.9% of GDP for 2015-16 (BE) lower than 4.0% of GDP achieved during 2014-15 (PA).

Current account deficit has narrowed from USD 10.9 billion (2.2% of GDP) in April-September 2014 to USD 8.2 billion (1.6% of GDP) during the same period in 2015.

In 2015-16 (April-December), resource mobilization through the public and right issues has surged rapidly as compared to the last financial year. During 2015-16 (April-December), 71 companies accessed the capital market and raised INR 513,110 million, compared to INR 115,810 million raised through 61 issues during the corresponding period of 2014-15.

Challenges and outlook of the Economic Survey 2015-16

The key challenges and outlook of different sectors and key recommended policy initiatives as per the Economic Survey 2015-16 are outlined as follows:

► Agriculture: During the last three years, the growth in agricultural sector has been very volatile due to two consecutive drought years in 2013-14 and 2014-15 and issues related to expansion in irrigation and its efficiency.

► Industry: Many policy measures taken by the government for creating enabling environment for industrial growth have started showing its impact on increased FDI inflows and better performance of infrastructure sector. Industrial sector is expected to be the key driver of economic growth in the country aided by some key initiatives like Make in India, Ease of Doing Business, Start Up India, Digital India, and Smart Cities.

► Services: The services sector has remained the most dynamic sector in terms of contribution to national and state incomes, trade flows, FDI inflows and employment. However, the global slowdown has cast a shadow even on this promising sector. A targeted policy of removing bottlenecks in major and potential services can result in large dividends in the form of higher services growth and services exports.

► Energy, infrastructure and communication: 2015-16 has been a year where the government has reoriented its spending towards much needed public infrastructure with the objective of not only making up for the deficiency of private investment but also crowding it back in.

► Finance: Budget 2015-16 envisioned to achieve a delicate balance between supporting growth, accommodating resource transfer to states as recommended by the Fourteenth Finance Commission and ensuring fiscal consolidation. Despite a lower than expected nominal GDP growth, the fiscal deficit target of 3.9% of GDP for 2015-16 seems achievable given buoyant revenue receipts (on account of robust indirect tax collections), lower expenditure on subsidies and containment of revenue expenditure.
► Taxes: The budgeted growth of 15.8% in gross tax revenue for 2015-16 was anticipated to be driven by a strong growth in indirect taxes (19.5%) and direct taxes (13.1%). The overall gross tax revenue target is likely to be achieved mostly on account of measures taken by the government to enhance revenue by raising excise duty on petroleum products in the wake of falling crude prices.

► FDI policy reforms: The government is playing a proactive role in investment promotion through a liberal FDI policy. A number of sectors have been liberalized, including defence, construction, broadcasting, civil aviation, plantation, trading, private sector banking, satellite establishment and operation and credit information companies.

► External trade: While exports may continue to slow down for a while, continuance of low global commodity prices augurs well for sustaining low trade and current account deficits. CAD is likely to be in the range of 1%-1.5% of GDP in 2015-16.

► Free Trade Agreements (FTA’s): Since the mid-2000s, India’s FTA’s have doubled to about 42 today which has led to increased imports and exports.

► Inflation: It is expected that CPI inflation will ease to between 4.5%-5% in 2016-17.

► India’s labour market: There are several key developments taking place in India’s labour markets. First, the increasing use of contract labour supplied by specialised staffing companies, which allows large firms to grow, raising aggregate productivity. Second, the dynamics of competitive federalism is at work, with states competing to attract employment-intensive, high-quality companies. The third trend involves labour-intensive manufacturing, like apparel firms, relocating to smaller cities creating “suitable” jobs for women.

The centre could complement these developments and boost formal sector job growth by expanding employees’ choice regarding their employment benefits.

► Renewable energy: India has set itself an ambitious target of achieving 40% cumulative electric capacity from non-fossil fuel-based energy resources by 2030.
Banking Sector: The performance of Scheduled Commercial Banks (SCB) during the current financial year remained subdued.

JAM Trinity Solution: The Jan Dhan Yojana, Aadhaar, Mobile (JAM) trinity has tremendous potential as seen in its implementation for LPG subsidies. The main constraint on JAM’s spread is the last-mile challenge of getting money from banks into people’s hands, especially in rural areas. The government should improve financial inclusion by developing banking correspondent and mobile money networks, while in the interim consider models like BAPU—Biometrically Authenticated Physical Uptake. At present, the most promising target for JAM is fertiliser subsidies.

Non-plan expenditure is estimated to increase to INR 14,280.3 billion (growth of 9.16% over RE 2015-16) representing 72.19% of total expenditure in 2016-17.

► The dual condition of acquisition and installation in the same previous year is causing hardship to the assessees and is relaxed.

► Now, investment allowance will be allowed even if new plant or machinery is acquired and installed in different previous years provided installation happens before 31 March 2017. In such case, the investment allowance will be allowed in the year of installation.

Government proposed a National Civil Aviation Policy covering issues such as regional connectivity scheme, scheduled commuter airlines, maintenance repair and overhaul, fiscal incentives, bilateral traffic rights, code share agreements etc. The policy aims to provide a conducive environment and a level playing field to various aviation sub-sectors like Airlines, Airports, Cargo, Maintenance Repairs and Overhaul services, General Aviation, Aerospace manufacturing, Skill Development etc.

SEZ

With a view to promote the ease of doing business, SEZ units are now allowed to remove goods for repair, replacement, testing, calibration, quality testing and research and development purposes also on self-attestation basis under intimation to the Specified Officer and on giving an undertaking to the Authorized Officer for return of such goods.

In order to have growth of SEZs in the country and to give a boost to exports from SEZs, Government has extended benefits of both the reward schemes (MEIS and SEIS) to units located in SEZs.

Global tax update

2015 was a landmark year for international tax in more than many ways. On 5 October 2015, the OECD released its final reports on the BEPS Action Plans containing 15 action points. These final reports represent the culmination of work on the Base Erosion and Profit Shifting project. Because of Government concerns about the potential for MNEs to locate profits where they are subject to favorable tax treatment, the G20 requested the OECD to develop recommendations for changes in international tax laws and treaties that Governments can implement to reduce the potential for BEPS activity. The OECD, in response to this request, issued 15 action items to address the main areas where they feel companies have been most aggressively policies for shifting of profit – addressing the digital economy, treaty abuse, transfer pricing, and more.

The output from the BEPS project include recommendations for significant changes in key elements of the international tax architecture. Such changes are reflected in revisions to the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines and the OECD Model Tax Convention and in recommended domestic law provisions. This output was endorsed by the G20 in November 2015. The focus now shifts to implementation of the BEPS recommendations in a consistent and coherent manner, monitoring the impact on both double non-taxation and double taxation.

There has been significant BEPS-driven legislative and tax administration activity around the world, which are captured in the following paragraphs:

On 27 January 2016, 31 countries signed the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) for the automatic exchange of country-by-country (CbC) reports, which requires each jurisdiction’s competent authority to provide a notification regarding the jurisdiction’s readiness and intentions with respect to CbC reporting (Action 13). The count of signatories to MCAA is likely to increase in the future.

On 28 January 2016, the European Commission published an Anti-Tax Avoidance Package containing measures against corporate tax avoidance in the European Union. It includes an Anti-Tax Avoidance Directive containing new provisions on interest deduction limitations, exit taxation, CFC taxation, treatment of low-taxed foreign income, anti-abuse rules, and hybrid mismatches. It also includes an European Union CbC reporting Directive containing rules on mandatory automatic exchange of CbC reports within the European Union from fiscal years starting on or after 1 January 2016. The ATA Directive also proposes a GAAR to address non-genuine arrangements or a series thereof, carried out for the purpose of obtaining a tax advantage that defeats the object or purpose of applicable tax provisions. This follows the embedding of a GAAR into the Parent-Subsidiary Directive, which Member States were required to have transposed into national legislation by 31 December 2015. Bulgaria, France, Luxembourg, Poland, Sweden etc., have already implemented the Parent-Subsidiary Directive, which is aimed at preventing abuse of participation exemption for dividends and abuse of exemption from withholding tax on outbound dividends.

► On 3 December 2015, Australia implemented Multinational Anti Avoidance Law to apply to foreign multinationals generating certain profits earned from Australia without an Australian PE. Multinational Anti Avoidance Law has application to arrangements involving high tax jurisdictions as well as being based on a subjective and low threshold “principal purpose” test.

► On 14 December 2015, the Norwegian Government approved its 2016 Fiscal Budget that includes changes to the interest deduction limitation rules and a restriction on the participation exemption regime for hybrid instruments.

► The Brazilian Revenue Authority issued a Declaratory Act on 18 December 2015, through which Dutch holding companies without “substantial economic activity” are included in its list of “privileged tax regimes”. This list triggers a series of tax consequences, from both an inbound and an outbound perspective. However, there is no official guidance on defining substantial economic activity.
On 17 December 2015, Germany and Japan signed a revised income tax treaty and a protocol that will replace the existing 1966 treaty. It includes some of the OECD recommendations under Actions 2, 6 and 14 of BAP, such as the treatment of income from fiscally transparent entities or arrangements; a tie-breaker rule to determine the treaty residence of dual residents; a combination of a limitation on benefits provision and a principal purpose test provision to address treaty abuse and allows for mandatory binding arbitration.

On 12 November 2015, a revised tax treaty and protocol was also signed between Australia and Germany including some of the recommendations proposed under Actions 6 and 7 of BAP such as inclusion of preamble clarifying the intention of tax treaties; revised definition of a PE to include the proposed amendments with regard to the dependent and independent agent definitions, the anti-fragmentation rule and a new anti-splitting up of contracts provision; and an anti-treaty shopping rule preventing treaty abuse through a principal purpose test.

On 30 October 2015, the Spanish Official Gazette published the General Budget Law for year 2016, including the introduction of the modified nexus approach recommended in Action 5 of BAP on harmful tax practices.

With implementation being the top-most priority, OECD has launched a multilateral instrument (MI) under Action 15, to update the global network of more than 3,500 bilateral tax treaties. About 95 countries, including India, have joined an ad hoc group to negotiate an MI, to modify bilateral tax treaties in a synchronised and efficient manner. The group began its work in May 2015 with the aim of finalizing the multilateral instrument and to open it for signature by 31 December 2016.
