

Do you have the ability to adapt to an unfamiliar landscape?

Our EY LawOnsite lawyers do.

The better the question. The better the answer.
The better the world works.

Shape the future
with confidence

The legal landscape is undergoing rapid transformation, significantly influencing how companies oversee their legal departments. This dynamic environment necessitates a wider array of skills for legal professionals. However, companies may encounter difficulties in securing suitable resources.

EY LawOnSite offers temporary placement of our legal professionals. Tailoring our approach to your specific requirements, we strive to find the ideal match based on expertise, experience, and alignment with your company's values and culture.

Our purpose

With EY LawOnSite, our purpose is to strengthen the resilience and efficiency of your legal operations, particularly during unforeseen events or periods of heightened business demands. We actively listen to your unique needs and provide customized solutions to offer the support and expertise your legal & compliance department requires.

What do we deliver?

EY LawOnSite delivers in-house temporary and hands-on legal operational support. Based on a service agreement, our lawyers will work on-site at the client's facilities and this for the agreed timeframe to cover your needs.

Areas of expertise

We offer a broad range of services across various legal domains, including:

- Corporate and M&A law
- Commercial law
- Data protection law
- IP/IT law
- Public procurement law
- Concrete examples:
 - Assistance with your company's corporate (group) compliance obligations
 - Assistance with the drafting and maintenance of various types of contracts
 - Data protection officer services
 - Post-M&A restructuring services
 - Screening/drafting of public tender documents

Where does EY LawOnSite fit best?

- Is your team dealing with an increased workload due to an acquisition?
- Are you facing a temporary gap in your legal & compliance team due to employee leave or sabbatical?
- Do you need urgent compliance assistance?
- Are you looking to implement a legal tech solution but lack the in-house resources or time to execute?

In case any of the above situations sound familiar to you, then EY LawOnSite could be the solution you need!

Why EY LawOnSite is your preferred partner?

At EY LawOnSite, our journey begins with a deep dive into your organization's specific legal needs and expectations. As we highly value your unique company culture, we will always try to find the lawyer who best fits your organization, thereby guaranteeing a smooth integration within your team.

We aim to provide you with a lawyer who has sufficient experience and the right expertise (preferably in more than one of the mentioned legal domains), to offer your legal team the best possible support in a flexible and hands on-manner, dedicated to delivering high quality results.

Given EY Law's unique set-up, most of our lawyers have gained experience in more than one legal domain. Moreover, each lawyer is backed by a team of specialists who can provide customized support.
