Preface

EY Worldwide Transfer Pricing Reference Guide 2025

The EY Worldwide Transfer Pricing Reference Guide 2025 is a publication designed to help international tax executives identify transfer pricing rules, practices and approaches. These must be understood for a company to carry out both transfer pricing compliance and planning activities in the base erosion and profit shifting (BEPS)¹ era.

Transfer pricing rules and regulations around the world continue to grow in number and complexity. Practitioners need to have current knowledge of a complex web of jurisdiction tax laws, regulations, rulings, methods and requirements.

The information included in the EY Worldwide Transfer Pricing Reference Guide 2025 covers 121 jurisdictions. It is meant to provide an overview for the covered jurisdictions regarding their transfer pricing tax laws, regulations and rulings; Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) Guidelines treatment; documentation requirements; transfer pricing returns and related-party disclosures; transfer pricing documentation and disclosure timelines; BEPS Action 13 requirements; transfer pricing methods; benchmarking requirements; transfer pricing penalties and relief from penalties; statutes of limitations on transfer pricing assessments; likelihood of transfer pricing scrutiny and related audits by the tax authorities; and opportunities for advance pricing agreements (APAs).

The content for the EY Worldwide Transfer Pricing Reference Guide 2025 is updated as of 30 April 2025, unless otherwise noted.

This publication should not be regarded as offering a complete explanation of the matters referred to and is subject to changes in laws and other applicable rules, in addition to the overall business environment in each jurisdiction.

For a more detailed discussion of any of the jurisdiction-specific transfer pricing rules, or to obtain further assistance in addressing and resolving intercompany transfer pricing issues, please contact your local EY member firm office or the relevant jurisdiction contact listed herein. An interactive jurisdiction map to navigate directly to the jurisdiction chapters of this publication can be found at ey.com.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

General Directorate of Taxes (Drejtoria e Përgjithshme e Tatimeve – GDT)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Law no. 29/2023 “On income tax,” as amended (Income Tax Law), dated 28 December 1998, has the following references:

- Effective from 4 June 2014, legal provisions on transfer pricing were introduced, providing a more comprehensive regulatory framework on international transfer pricing, aligned with the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines.
- These legal provisions introduced transfer pricing documentation requirements since 2014.

Law no. 9920 on tax procedures in the Republic of Albania (Tax Procedures Law), dated 19 May 2008, has the following references:

- Article 115/ 1 addresses penalties related to transfer pricing.
- Double taxation treaties enacted by Albania.

The Ministry of Finances and Economy issued Instruction no. 29, 16 November 2023, “On transfer pricing and Advance Pricing Agreements” for the implementation of the transfer pricing legislation (Transfer Pricing Instruction). This provides further guidance on the application of the arm’s-length principle, the preparation of transfer pricing documentation and the procedures on the implementation of APAs.

c. Effective date of applicability

4 June 2014

d. Section reference from local regulation

Article 3, paragraph 13, of Income Tax Law provides for the definition of “related party” for transfer pricing purposes. Paragraphs 3.2 and 3.3 of the Transfer Pricing Instruction elaborate on the “related party” definition.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

No

- Additional details
- Not applicable

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Albania is not a member of the OECD. Albanian transfer pricing legislation refers to the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

No

▪ Additional details

Albania joined the Inclusive Framework on BEPS in August 2019.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Not applicable

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

- CbCR applies in Albania for fiscal years commencing on or after 1 January 2024. Material differences from OECD report template or format.

- The CbC report approved by the General Directorate of Taxes is in accordance with the OECD’s XML schema and User Guide for CbC reporting. Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

No

▪ Coverage

Not applicable

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

Not applicable

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

Not applicable

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

No

- Coverage

Not applicable

- Effective or expected date of commencement

Not applicable

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

Not applicable

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

- Additional details

The local transfer pricing regulations are generally in line with the BEPS Action 13 format. However, to ensure that it is considered complete and to achieve penalty protection, it should also contain the local industry and market analyses; an overview of the local entity, including any local strategies; and the organizational structure of the local entity.

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

No

- Additional details

There are no explicit requirements to prepare the transfer pricing documentation contemporaneously. However, it is advisable to have it prepared by the corporate income tax (CIT) return date, i.e., 31 March of the following year.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation should be prepared annually. However, taxpayers with a turnover of less than ALL50 million that use external comparable data can use the same data for three consecutive fiscal years. This is applicable provided that there have been no material changes in the conditions of the controlled transactions, the comparability of the external data and the relevant economic circumstances.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Turnover

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is a revenue threshold of ALL50 million.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

MNE groups having total consolidated group revenue more than ALL105 billion (approx. EUR 1,050 million) during the fiscal year preceding the reporting fiscal year as reported in its consolidated financial statement are required to prepare and submit a CbC report.

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

Not applicable

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

- Not applicable

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

Pursuant to paragraph 15. 6 of the Transfer Pricing Instruction, the transfer pricing documentation should be submitted in English or in Albanian. If it is in English, it should be accompanied by a notarized translation into Albanian, which should be provided within 45 days of the tax authorities' request for translation.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Unspecified

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

- Additional details

There is no preference, and both are allowed.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

Taxpayers are required to report all controlled transactions annually by filing an annual controlled transaction notice if the aggregate value of their controlled transactions, including loan balances, exceeds ALL50 million (approximately EUR500,000). The annual controlled transaction notice should be submitted by 31 March of the following year. When determining the annual aggregate transaction value, taxpayers should take into account all intercompany transaction amounts (i.e., without offsetting credit and debit values).

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

There are no other related-party disclosures or additional forms required by the legislation, except those included in the financial statements.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Related-party disclosures are included in the financial statements of the taxpayer pursuant to IFRS requirements.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

31 March

- Additional details

The CIT return should be submitted by 31 March of the following year.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

31 March

- Additional details

The annual controlled transaction notice should be submitted by 31 March of the following year.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

- The CbCR must be filed no later than 12 months after the last day of the reporting fiscal year of the MNE Group.

- Additional details

Not applicable

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

The CbCR notification must be submitted to tax administration no later than the last day of the reporting fiscal year of the MNE Group.

- Additional details

Not applicable

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

No specific deadline

- Additional details

There is no specific preparation deadline for the transfer pricing documentation.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

There is no specific filing deadline for the transfer pricing documentation.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The transfer pricing documentation should be made available to the tax authorities within 30 days from their request.

an EY jurisdiction practice to first attempt local comparables, and if not available, the search can be extended to regional comparables in the following order: the Balkans, Eastern Europe and the EU.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Preference is given to uncontrolled comparables belonging to the same year as the controlled transaction. However, the taxpayer can rely on immediate previous-year comparables, provided the comparability criteria is met. It is an EY jurisdiction practice to use a multiyear analysis for testing arm's length.

The transfer pricing rules define the market range as a range that includes all the values of the financial indicators, such as price, markup, or any other indicator used for the application of the most suitable transfer pricing method for a number of uncontrolled transactions. These transactions are such where each is almost equally comparable with the controlled transaction based on a comparability analysis. The transfer pricing rules do not specifically provide for the interquartile range. However, they stipulate that, in the case of adjustments by the tax authorities, the financial indicator is adjusted to the median. It is an EY jurisdiction practice to use the interquartile range (from Q1 to Q3) as the acceptable range.

The transfer pricing rules do not include any general provision in this respect. It is an EY jurisdiction practice to perform a fresh benchmarking search every three to five years. The financial update is performed annually. The transfer pricing rules state that taxpayers with a turnover of less than ALL50 million that use external comparable data can use the same data for three consecutive fiscal years. This is applicable provided that there have been no material changes in the conditions of the controlled transactions, the comparability of the external data, and the relevant economic circumstances.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

The transfer pricing rules do not provide any specific provision regarding the use of a simple or a weighted average. In the examples provided in the Transfer Pricing Instruction, the simple average is used. However, it is an EY jurisdiction

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

- Additional details

Under the current transfer pricing rules, all transfer pricing methods advocated by the OECD Guidelines are acceptable – namely, CUP, resale price, cost-plus, TNMM and profit-split. When it can be proved that none of the approved methods can be reasonably applied, taxpayers are allowed to use other more appropriate methods. Preference is given to the best method providing the most reliable results.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Preference is given to local comparables. In the absence of local comparables, regional comparables can be used, but the differences between geographical markets and other factors affecting the financial indicator being analyzed must be taken into consideration in the comparable analysis. It is practice to use both the weighted average and the simple average. The transfer pricing rules do not provide any specific provision regarding the use of a simple or a weighted average. In the examples provided in the Transfer Pricing Instruction, the simple average is used. However, it is an EY jurisdiction practice to use both the weighted average and the simple average.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

If the documentation is considered incomplete, the taxpayer does not benefit from the penalty relief, in case of transfer pricing adjustments performed during a transfer pricing audit.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Failure to submit the CbC report by the deadline is subject to a penalty of ALL10,000 for each month of delay, up to 12 months. After this period, an additional fixed penalty of ALL200,000 is levied.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

- Are there any other penalties?

The failure to file the annual controlled transaction notice (explained in the “Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures” section above) is subject to a penalty of ALL10,000 for each month of delay.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

- Additional details

Transfer pricing adjustments for which no documentation has been made available or such documentation is considered as incomplete trigger a penalty of 0.06% of the amount of the unpaid liability for each day of delay, capped at 21.9% (an equivalent of 365 days).

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

There are no explicit requirements to prepare the transfer pricing documentation contemporaneously.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

There is no interest charged on penalties.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

Taxpayers that have submitted the transfer pricing documentation in a timely manner (i.e., within 30 days upon receipt of the tax authorities' request) and in compliance with the transfer pricing rules are relieved from penalties in the case of a transfer pricing adjustment. They will be liable to pay only the additional tax liability and default interest. The taxpayer has the option of appealing the decision of the tax authorities. Initially, the appeal is addressed to the Regional Tax Directorate, further to the Tax Appeal Directorate and, if applicable, to the administrative court after all administrative appeal methods have been exhausted.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments is five years from the date the related CIT return is filed.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing audit in Albania may be considered to be high. In light of the transfer pricing rules that became effective on 4 June 2014, and especially because of the introduced documentation requirements, transfer pricing issues are expected to continue to attract significant attention. Transfer pricing audits are expected to increase rapidly.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

No

▪ Additional details

The tax administration is unlikely to challenge the methodology applied. In principle, in examining the arm's-length character of a transaction, the tax administration should use the same transfer pricing method applied by the taxpayer, to the extent that it is the most appropriate one for that transaction.

There are no differences among transactions, industries and situations.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

There are no differences among transactions, industries and situations.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

The transfer pricing rules provide for three types of APAs: unilateral, bilateral and multilateral agreements. Requests for APAs will be taken into consideration provided the controlled transactions during the period of the agreement surpass in aggregate the amount of EUR30 million or if it is a case of complexity and of a high commercial and economic impact for Albania.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The maximum proposed period of the APA is five years unless the APA is bound to a governmental agreement ratified by law.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Taxpayers may not request a roll-back. However, if the APA is signed and finalized after the first fiscal year of the proposed APA, the year during which the APA was proposed will be considered covered under the agreement.

d. Is MAP available?

MAPs are generally available under the double tax treaties that Albania has with its treaty partners.

Albanian tax law includes thin capitalization rules with respect to the deduction of interest on loans, which apply if the debt-to-equity ratio exceeds 4: 1. The ratio applies to all debts owed to related and unrelated parties as well as to loans obtained from financial institutions. However, the limitation does not apply to banks or to insurance and leasing companies. For related-party loans, the net interest expense balance (that is, the difference between the interest expenses and interest revenues, exceeding 30% of EBITDA) is not deductible. Such nondeductible interest in the current period can be carried forward to future tax periods, provided that a change of 50% in the entity's ownership does not occur.

 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
Not applicable
 - Local File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?
The entity should meet the following criteria to be required to prepare a TP documentation:

End of the fiscal year, directly or indirectly, by a company whose annual turnover excluding taxes or gross asset is at least DZD1 billion
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Value of total assets
 - Is there any other threshold?
Yes
 - Additional details
Turnover
 - Economic analysis
 - Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?
No
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Not applicable
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
There are no materiality limits or thresholds.
- c. Specific requirements
- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?
Yes
 - Additional details
The transfer pricing documentation needs to be submitted in the local language. The Algerian Constitution mandates the use of Arabic or French in official exchanges and documents filed with the administration. French is, in practice, the language used for all tax filings.
 - Is a safe harbor available?
No
 - Additional details
Not applicable
 - Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?
No preference
 - Additional details
Due to lack of comparable data, both approaches are accepted in practice (aggregation or individual testing).
 - Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?
Yes
All companies subject to the transfer pricing obligation must, if requested by the tax authorities in the frame of a tax audit, provide analytical accounting information to the tax auditors. However, the tax authorities do not specify the type of information or the template that must be used to submit such information when requested.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

Taxpayers are required to submit an online transfer pricing form.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

In the framework of a tax audit, tax inspectors are entitled to audit the possible infringement of the arm's-length principle with related parties (intercompany transactions), such as the existence of a commercial or financial relationship that differs from those that would be made between independent enterprises.

- Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Not applicable

- Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable

- Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

The online annual transfer pricing declaration should be submitted by 30 April.

- Additional details

30 April of the next fiscal year.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

Not applicable.

- Additional details

Local file should be remitted to the local file if requested by the tax authorities in the frame of a tax audit.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

In the case of a tax audit or requisition, the taxpayer must submit transfer pricing documentation within 15 days of the tax authority's formal notice.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

▪ Additional details

The Algerian transfer pricing legislation does not provide an official transfer pricing method to be used for each transaction type, but the Algerian tax authorities issued tax audit guidelines in 2010 referring to the OECD methods. In theory, all OECD methods could be accepted, subject to justification in the Economic analysis section within the documentation.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Local comparables are preferred, although regional comparable could in some cases be accepted due to a lack of local data.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

This is not specified by either legislation or administrative doctrine.

This is not specified by either legislation or administrative doctrine.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

This is not specified by either legislation or administrative doctrine.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

This is not specified by either legislation or administrative doctrine.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

Not applicable

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

DZD15 million penalty is applicable only in case of failure to submit the online annual transfer pricing declaration within the provided deadline (30 April) or the disclosure of insufficient or incorrect information.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable - Master File should not be filed to the tax authorities.

▪ Are there any other penalties?

DZD15 million penalty is applicable only in case of failure to submit the online annual transfer pricing declaration within the provided deadline (30 April) or the disclosure of insufficient or incorrect information.

Moreover, failure to respond or providing an incomplete response to the formal notice requiring the availability of transfer pricing documentation or any additional information within 15 days from the date of notification, sent by registered mail with acknowledgment of receipt, results in the application of a tax penalty.

This penalty amounts to 2% of the transactions covered by the documentation that was not made available to the tax administration, with a minimum penalty of DZD10,000,000 per audited fiscal year.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

▪ Additional details

DZD15 million penalty is applicable only in case of failure to submit the online transfer pricing form within the provided deadline (30 April) or the disclosure of insufficient or incorrect information.

Moreover, failure to respond or providing an incomplete response to the formal notice requiring the availability of transfer pricing documentation or any additional information within 15 days from the date of notification, sent by registered mail with acknowledgment of receipt, results in the application of a tax penalty.

This penalty amounts to 2% of the transactions covered by the documentation that was not made available to the tax administration, with a minimum penalty of DZD 10,000,000 per audited fiscal year.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

- Additional details

Failure to respond or providing an incomplete response to the formal notice requiring the availability of transfer pricing documentation or any additional information within 15 days from the date of notification, sent by registered mail with acknowledgment of receipt, results in the application of a tax penalty.

This penalty amounts to 2% of the transactions covered by the documentation that was not made available to the tax administration, with a minimum penalty of DZD 10,000,000 per audited fiscal year.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

Yes

- Additional details

Interest (late-payment penalties) can be charged on principal and penalties if the latter are not paid on schedule. These interests are capped at 25%, on the total reassessed amount (amounts deemed to be transferred indirectly).

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

Specific penalty relief is Not applicable to transfer pricing, but general penalty relief could apply in the framework of a transaction procedure (remise conditionnelle) provided by the Algerian Tax Procedure Code, under certain conditions. Relief can also be granted for late-payment penalties under the graceful remittance (remise gracieuse) procedure, under certain conditions.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The statute of limitations for transfer pricing adjustments is the same as for all Algerian corporate tax assessments (i.e., four years following the year for which the tax is due).

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

Theoretically, yes. In practice none have been observed.

This is not provided by local transfer pricing regulation.

- d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

The oil and gas, pharmaceutical, and information and communication technology industries are most likely to undergo an audit. Also, all companies making large payments to foreign related parties are more likely to undergo an audit.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

- a. Are APAs available?

The Algerian tax legislation does not provide for a specific APA procedure. However, a binding tax ruling procedure was introduced in the Algerian Tax Procedure Code for taxpayers registered at the level of the DGE. Following the 2019 Finance Act provisions, an APA obtained by the group in other jurisdictions can be requested by the tax authorities in the context of a tax audit.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Not applicable

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable

d. Is MAP available?

Not applicable

The thin capitalization rule is Not applicable in Algeria but some rules on the deductibility of interests may have the same impact. Indeed, the 2019 Finance Act introduced a new provision that limited deduction of interest as follows:

- Interest paid to shareholders: The deductibility of amounts provided to the company, in addition to their share in the capital, regardless of the legal form, is limited to the average effective interest rate communicated by the Bank of Algeria. The deductibility condition is also subject to the fact that the capital is fully paid by the shareholder and that amount provided to the company do not exceed 50% of the capital.
- Interest paid to related parties: The deductibility of interest paid to related companies in the context of intercompany loans is limited to the average effective interest rates communicated by the Bank of Algeria.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

General Tax Administration (Administração Geral Tributária – AGT)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Presidential Decree 147/13 of 1 October 2013 – specifically, Section II and Articles 10 to 13 (Statute of Large Taxpayers) and Article 50 of Law 19/14 of 22 October 2014 (Industrial Tax Code), applicable starting 1 January 2014, changed by Law 26/20 of 20 July 2020. It is also relevant to mention Circular No. 002/DCC/2020 from the Angola National Bank (Banco Nacional de Angola – BNA), by which the burden of proof of the market nature of services purchased abroad lies with the Angolan entity. The publication of this circular by the BNA on 18 August 2020 aimed to define the procedures for validation and execution of current invisible contracts, considering that the contracting of services abroad may represent a high risk of exchange fraud and facilitate the illicit movement of funds abroad. In summary, the authorization to transfer foreign currencies from Angola related to service contracts with related parties will require the presentation of, among other elements, support documentation to prove the arm's-length nature of the underlying invoices.

c. Effective date of applicability

1 January 2014

d. Section reference from local regulation

According to Article 11 of Chapter IV of Presidential Decree 147/13 of 1 October 2013, two companies are considered related parties when: a. The directors or managers of a company, as well as their spouses, ascendants and descendants, directly or indirectly have an ownership interest of 10% or more in the capital or the voting rights of the other entity. b. A majority of the members of the board of directors or management are either common or distinct but related by marriage, non-marital partnership, or direct kinship. c. One of the entities has contractual control over the other. d. The companies have a relationship of control or cross-ownership or contractual subordination contract, peer group or equivalent situation following the terms of company law. e. Commercial relations between the two entities represent more than 80% of the volume of operations. f. One finances the other, to the extent of more than 80% of its credit needs.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There is a documentation obligation for domestic transactions. All intragroup transactions involving the company must be reported (domestic and cross-border).

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Limited

▪ Additional details

Angola is not a member of the OECD. The OECD Guidelines are not adopted in the local transfer pricing regulations by Angola, although certain OECD language is included in the transfer pricing regulations enacted.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

No

▪ Coverage

Not applicable

- Effective or expected date of commencement

Even though Angola has officially joined the BEPS Inclusive Framework, it is not possible to foresee when any BEPS-related changes will be introduced into the local legislation.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

- Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

No

- Coverage

Not applicable

- Effective or expected date of commencement

Even though Angola has officially joined the BEPS Inclusive Framework, it is not possible to foresee when any BEPS-related changes will be introduced into the local legislation.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

Angola has not adopted the Master File approach, and full local transfer pricing documentation is expected from each eligible taxpayer.

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

No

- Coverage

Not applicable

- Effective or expected date of commencement

Even though Angola has officially joined the BEPS Inclusive Framework, it is not possible to foresee when any BEPS-related changes will be introduced into the local legislation.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

Angola has not adopted the Local File approach, and full local transfer pricing documentation is expected from each eligible taxpayer.

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Angola has not adopted the Master File and Local File approach, and full local transfer pricing documentation is expected from each eligible taxpayer. Consequently, only transfer pricing documentation fully compliant with local regulations can be considered to protect against potential penalties.

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

No

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

- a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation must be prepared and submitted to the tax authorities by the end of the sixth month after the fiscal year closing date. It also needs to be contemporaneous.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?
 - Yes
 - Additional details
 - Not applicable
- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?
 - Yes
- b. Materiality limit or thresholds
- TP documentation
 - Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?
 - Yes
 - If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
 - Turnover
 - Is there any other threshold?
 - No
 - Additional details
 - The documentation applies to all companies reporting annual revenue of more than AOA7 billion, including those listed on the large taxpayers list: large government-owned companies, financial banking institutions, insurance and reinsurance companies, pension fund management companies and pension funds, payment system operators and providers, microcredit companies, oil and gas companies, diamond companies, telecommunications companies, and companies operating in a monopoly regime.
- CbCR
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?
 - Not applicable
- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
 - Not applicable
- Is there any other threshold?
 - No

- Economic analysis
 - Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?
No
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Not applicable
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
There is no materiality limit.
- c. Specific requirements
 - Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?
Yes
 - Additional details
The transfer pricing documentation needs to be submitted in the local language (Portuguese).
 - Is a safe harbor available?
Unspecified
 - Additional details
Not applicable
 - Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?
Individual testing
 - Additional details
Not applicable
 - Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?
No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

No additional related-party information is disclosed to the General Tax Administration, other than the submission of entity-specific transfer pricing documentation, when applicable.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

In addition to the transfer pricing documentation, taxpayers must also submit a detailed form that describes the taxpayer's transfer pricing policy, according to the information contained in the transfer pricing documentation file.

This form requires the identification of related parties, transactions carried out with those entities, the transfer pricing methods used, the definition of the interquartile range based on the statistical study of comparables, including the minimum, first quartile, median, third quartile, and maximum, the number of comparables used, and any transfer pricing adjustments made. It is worth mentioning that there is a special section for intra-group financing operations, with a similar level of detail.

An additional burden of proof was imposed on Angolan paying entities concerning contracts with foreign entities of the same group, to prove that the prices charged in the arrangements for the provision of services contracted to nonresident-related entities conform to market prices. Taxpayers' obligations vary depending on whether they reported annual revenues of more than AOA7 billion.

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

31 May (Group A)/30 April (Group B)

Not applicable

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

30 June

▪ Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation must be prepared within six months after the fiscal year-end, until 30 June.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation must be prepared and submitted to the tax administration within six months of the fiscal year-end, until 30 June.

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The transfer pricing documentation must be submitted by the deadline stated above, so no additional notice is given to taxpayers.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Traditional transactional transfer pricing methods only are preferred, namely, the CUP, resale price and cost-plus methods.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There is very limited, if any, comparable financial data available on public databases regarding Angolan companies.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

There is no reference to preferences regarding single year vs. multiyear analysis in the local legislation. The practical approach has been to test the taxpayer's single-year results against multiple-year interquartile ranges.

In recent tax audits, the tax authorities have used the interquartile range as a reference.

Although not specified in the legislation, doing a fresh benchmarking study is followed in practice.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

This is not specified in the legislation.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

The local independence threshold or criteria should be used in benchmarking studies. If local comparables cannot be found, comparability adjustments can be performed on the set of regional comparables.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

Failure to comply with documentation requirements may shift the burden of proof from the tax authorities to the taxpayer. Additionally, the General Tax Administration may consider that a taxpayer who fails to file complete transfer pricing documentation has not complied with the submission obligation, and as a result, may apply a tax penalty under the General Tax Code, specifically No. 2 of Article 198. The penalty amount can range from AOA10,000 to AOA50,000.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

▪ Are there any other penalties?

The General Tax Administration notifies taxpayers that fail to file transfer pricing documentation to pay a tax penalty under the General Tax Code (namely, No. 2 of Article 198). The penalty amount can range from AOA10,000 to AOA50,000. Existing notifications indicate that the maximum amount of the range is being applied. The application of penalties in this regard will imply a reputational risk to the taxpayer, as it will be considered noncompliant. Moreover, noncompliance with transfer pricing documentation requirements may result in such taxpayers being forbidden from performing capital operations, current invisible transactions (payments for services and intangibles), or trading operations that, according to the current exchange control regulations, require an intervention from the National Bank of Angola. In practice, it may block the day-to-day activity of any taxpayer if its legal name is communicated by the General Tax Administration to the National Bank of Angola, specifying noncompliance with tax obligations.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

▪ Additional details

If a transfer pricing adjustment is made, a penalty equivalent to 25% of the additional tax will be applied, plus late interest at the non-compounded rate of 1% per month (or 12% per year).

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

▪ Additional details

If a transfer pricing adjustment is made, a penalty equivalent to 25% of the additional tax will be applied, plus late interest at the non-compounded rate of 1% per month (or 12% per year).

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The statute of limitations for transfer pricing assessments is five years from the last day of the tax year-end or 10 years in cases of tax infringement.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

Large taxpayers have already been notified to pay penalties for noncompliance with the contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation preparation and submission to the Large Taxpayers' Office.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

Not applicable

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Large taxpayers are more likely to undergo tax audits. Currently, food wholesale and retail players are also subject to a high scrutiny.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

There is no APA program available in Angola.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Not applicable

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable

d. Is MAP available?

Only if available in the specific context of a convention to avoid double taxation, namely with Portugal.

Angola does not have thin capitalization rules, but until recently interest expenses from shareholder loans were not accepted as tax deductible for the computation of the taxable income due on industrial tax. However, as of 18 April 2019, shareholder loan interest expenses have become tax-deductible (No. 1 of Article 16 of the Industrial Tax Code), provided that the portion exceeding the average annual interest rate established by the National Bank of Angola is added to the taxable income.

d. Section reference from local regulation

Section 14 of the Administrative Order as amended by Decree 1170/2018 and by Decree 862/ 2019

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

No

▪ Additional details

There are no requirements to report these transactions.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Limited

▪ Additional details

Argentina is part of the UN, and has started the process required to become a member of the OECD. The OECD Guidelines are not referenced in Argentina's ITL and regulations. However, the tax authority usually recognizes the OECD Guidelines in practice as long as they do not contradict the ITL and regulations. Several first-level court cases also recognize the use of the OECD Guidelines, insofar as they do not contradict the ITL and regulations.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

It covers the Local File, Master File and CbCR.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

CbCR was introduced in Argentina in 2017. The group's income for the previous fiscal year must exceed EUR750 million. The CbCR has to be filed by the entities controlling Argentine MNEs. In addition, the local filing of the CbCR will only be required in Argentina when there is an underlying international agreement in effect, but not a competent authority agreement.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 2017.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

The CbCR must be filed in Spanish by local taxpayers.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

The Master File has been introduced within the Argentine transfer pricing regulations through the enactment of Decree 1170/2018. The regulations are outlined in Article 45 of General Resolution 4717/2020.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The Master File is effective for fiscal years beginning 1 January 2018.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

The Master File needs to be filed in Spanish by local taxpayers. The Master File contents required by regulations include additional information to that established by the OECD.

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

- Coverage

The Local File has been introduced within the Argentine transfer pricing regulations through the enactment of Decree 1170/2018. The regulations are outlined in Article 45 of General Resolution 4717/2020.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The Local File is effective for fiscal years beginning 1 January 2018.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

The Local File needs to be filed in Spanish by local taxpayers. The Local File contents required by regulations include additional information to that established by the OECD.

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

It needs to be submitted contemporaneously depending on minimum thresholds. For the Local File, it must be submitted if intercompany transactions are above ARS30 million. For those cases where the company must submit the Master File or the group must submit the CbCR, the minimum threshold for intercompany transactions is ARS3 million as a whole or ARS300,000 for individual transactions. This same threshold applies in the case of transactions with entities located in low-tax or non-cooperative jurisdictions. For the Master File, it must be submitted if the group presents an annual income greater than ARS4 billion and the intercompany transactions are above ARS3 million as a whole or ARS300,000 individually. The CbCR must be submitted following the OECD's BEPS Action 13 guidelines.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

▪ TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Value of international transactions

- Is there any other threshold?

No

If not required to submit Master File and CbCR

- Additional details

Taxpayers will not be required to file the transfer pricing documentation if their transactions carried out with foreign related parties, invoiced as a whole in the fiscal year, do not exceed the total amount equivalent to ARS3 million or, individually, equivalent to ARS300,000. This should be done without prejudice to the duty to preserve the document's information and evidence supporting the aforementioned transactions. If the company is not required to submit the Master File and the group is not required to comply with the CbCR, the minimum threshold for intercompany transactions is ARS30 million.

▪ CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

EUR750 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

Group's income for the previous fiscal year

- Is there any other threshold?

No

If there is an underlying international agreement in effect

but not a competent authority agreement

- Additional details

CbCR was introduced in Argentina in 2017. The group's income for the previous fiscal year must exceed EUR750 million. The CbCR has to be filed by the entities controlling Argentine MNEs. In addition, the local filing of the CbCR will only be required in Argentina when there is an underlying international agreement in effect, but not a competent authority agreement.

- Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

ARS3 million/ARS300,000

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Total international related-party transactions

Transactions with foreign-related parties/individual transaction

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

Total consolidated annual income – ARS4 billion

- Additional details

The Master File has been introduced within the Argentine transfer pricing regulations through the enactment of Decree 1170/2018. The regulations are outlined in Article 45 of General Resolution 4717/2020. Submission of the Master File is not mandatory when:

The total consolidated annual income of the group does not exceed ARS4 billion in the preceding fiscal year.

The amount of the transactions with foreign-related parties in a fiscal year does not exceed ARS3 million in total or ARS300,000 for an individual transaction.

Notwithstanding the above, the Master File will be mandatory when the group is required to file CbCR in its corresponding jurisdiction.

▪ Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

ARS3 million/ARS300,000/ARS30 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Total international related-party transactions

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Taxpayers will not be required to file the transfer pricing documentation if their transactions carried out with foreign related parties, invoiced as a whole in the fiscal year, do not exceed the total amount equivalent to ARS3 million or, individually, equivalent to ARS300,000. This should be done without prejudice to the duty to preserve the documents, information and evidence supporting the aforementioned transactions. If the company is not required to submit the Master File and the group is not required to comply with the CbCR, the minimum threshold for intercompany transactions is ARS30 million.

▪ Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is no materiality limit.

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation needs to be submitted in Spanish.

- Is a safe harbor available?

No

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

- Additional details

There is a preference for individual testing.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

Yes

For import and export transactions involving an international intermediary between the Argentine taxpayer and the foreign related parties, the local entity will have to prove that the remuneration obtained by the international intermediary is in accordance with the risks assumed, the functions performed and the assets involved in the transactions. The Local File must include the functional analysis of the international intermediary. In addition, in case of imports or exports of commodities, specific transfer pricing rules apply, including additional transfer pricing returns. Services received by Argentine taxpayers require a benefit test regarding the transaction paid by local company. For financial transactions, companies must be able to demonstrate their financial capacity to assume the obligation and to comply with the loan agreement conditions (principal repayment, interest accrual, etc.). In the case of the lender, it must be able to prove its capacity to dispose of the funds.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

Starting in 2018, taxpayers are required to file the following transfer pricing- specific returns with the ARCA:

- Annual Form 2668 (transactions with related parties or entities located in low- or no-tax jurisdictions or non-cooperative jurisdictions, and import and export transactions with third parties)
- Annual Form 4501 (for the digital filing of the transfer pricing study and certified public accountant's certification)

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable, provided there exists a separate return to report related parties.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Taxpayers are required to file the following documentation with the ARCA:

An annual transfer pricing study (Local File)

Audited financial statements for the fiscal year, if they have not already been filed

Certification of certain contents of the transfer pricing study by an independent certified public accountant

Transfer pricing-specific return (Form 2668 and Form 4501)

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable, provided there exists a separate regime to regulate CbCR filings

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

15 May

▪ Additional details

- Submission/filing date – The deadline is the fifth month after fiscal year-end. For fiscal years ending in December, the filing deadline is mid-May. There are specific due dates that depend on the taxpayer's fiscal ID and the fiscal year-end.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

June (specific date depends on taxpayer's fiscal ID)

▪ Additional details

- Submission/filing date – TP Report and Forms 2668 and 4501: sixth month after fiscal year-end. For fiscal years ending in December, the deadline falls in June of the following financial year. There are specific due dates that depend on the taxpayer's fiscal ID and the fiscal year-end.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

31 December

▪ Additional details

- Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared) – Companies that have to comply with the Master File must do it on an annual basis.
- Submission/filing date – The Master File needs to be prepared and filed with the tax authority up to 12 months after the fiscal year-end. The Master File should be in Spanish.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

▪ Additional details

CbCR for locally headquartered companies

Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared) – The document should be prepared on an annual basis.

Submission/filing date – The deadline is 12 months after the fiscal year-end.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Last week of March

- Additional details

There are two notifications. The deadline for the first one is the third month after the fiscal year-end and the second one is the second month after the CbCR filing. Annual submission is required. It is possible to perform only one filing covering multiple entities in the jurisdiction. There are specific due dates that depend on the taxpayer's fiscal ID and the fiscal year-end.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

15 May

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation must be finalized by the time of lodging the tax return to achieve penalty protection (e.g., where there is a contemporaneous requirement). There are specific due dates that depend on the taxpayer's fiscal ID and the fiscal year-end.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

- Additional details

The statutory deadlines for Argentine transfer pricing filings are:

Fiscal year-end plus five months: The income tax return is due the fifth month after the fiscal year-end. Within such filing, the local taxpayer must disclose transfer pricing adjustments (if any). In that filing, the company must disclose whether a transfer pricing adjustment is needed to have arm's-length prices in its transactions with related and unrelated parties located in countries or jurisdictions considered non-cooperative for fiscal transparency purposes, and in low- or no-tax jurisdictions. Thus, the transfer pricing analysis should be performed by that time even though the documentation is not due until later (fiscal year-end plus six months).

Fiscal year-end plus six months: The company must file the transfer pricing annual return (Form 2668), including detailed information of all cross-border intercompany transactions (or those performed by the local company with entities located in countries and jurisdictions considered non-cooperative for fiscal transparency purposes or in low- or no-tax jurisdictions). Transfer pricing report (covered in AFIP General Resolution 4717/20) needs to be filed through Form 4501. A CPA certification, signed by an independent accountant, of certain procedures and information contained in the transfer pricing report is also needed. The company also must file statutory financial statements for the year signed by an independent accountant. If this is the first filing, the financial statements for the two immediately preceding tax periods (if applicable) should also be filed. All applicable pieces of documentation must be filed to complete a documentation package.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The taxpayer has 10 working days to submit the transfer pricing documentation once requested by the tax authorities in an audit or inquiry.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

- Additional details

The ITL does not prioritize methods; however, there exists a strong preference in internal comparables, and Section 30 of the Administrative Order, as amended by Decree 1170/2018 and Decree 862/2019, articulates the best-method rule. The tested party must be the local entity (i.e., the entity based in Argentina). For the evaluation of profit margins, these must be examined based on local accounting information. In this sense, audited financial statements are the ones to be considered in profit-based analyses. The taxpayer selects the most appropriate method, but the ARCA may oppose the selection. Pursuant to the ITL, the accepted methods for transactions with related parties and entities, located in countries and jurisdictions considered non-cooperative for fiscal transparency purposes or in low- or no-tax jurisdictions, are CUP, resale price, cost-plus, profit-split, TNMM and other methods. The use of an interquartile range is mandatory. Unless there is evidence to the contrary, the market price must be used for tangible goods transactions with both related and independent parties where there is an international price in a transparent market. The CUP method shall be considered the most appropriate to value the transactions of goods with well-known prices in transparent markets, either by reference to uncontrolled comparable transactions or by reference to the indexes, coefficients or quotation values. For import and export transactions involving an international intermediary between the Argentine taxpayer and foreign related parties, the local entity will have to prove that the remuneration obtained by the international intermediary is in accordance with the risks assumed, the functions performed and the assets involved in the transactions. If the remuneration of the foreign intermediary is higher than that agreed upon between independent parties, the excess in the amount of such remuneration shall be considered a higher profit from an Argentine source, attributable to the local taxpayer. The ARCA has the authority to reclassify the transaction, including determining the nonexistence of remuneration attributable to the foreign intermediary and establishing the functions performed, assets used and risks assumed (with the respective remuneration and attribution to the party or parties), under the following conditions:

- If, from the evaluation of the transaction, the ARCA determines that there is a clear discrepancy between the actual transactions and the functional analysis or signed agreements with the foreign intermediary
- If the purpose of the transaction is explained solely for fiscal reasons or if its conditions differ from those to which independent companies have subscribed in accordance with commercial practices export and import transactions with independent parties not located in countries and jurisdictions considered non-cooperative for fiscal transparency purposes or in low- or no-tax jurisdictions are subject to information requirements if the annual amount of the transaction exceeds ARS10 million or if the transactions are exports and imports of commodities. The requirements depend on different annual transaction amounts and, in some cases, may include calculations of profit margins.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There is no specific requirement. However, the comparable companies to be selected should be those that have publicly available information (Forms 10-K, 20-F, ARS or similar and audited financial statements in Spanish or English can be found). Even though there is no specific requirement established by law for using such databases or selecting comparable companies, the ARCA has requested information with such level of comfort in the data in the context of fiscal audits (e.g., counting with a description of the comparable business activities in Spanish, the financial information in a specific format, the explanation of comparability adjustments made in Spanish). It is also important to consider that the local legislation determines the obligation of exposing the name of the database used, the date of the comparable search, and the breakdown with the accepted or rejected comparable companies, along with the search process.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

A single-year analysis is required for the local taxpayer (tested party). Multiple years can be considered for comparable companies, but it must be justified.

When, by application of any of the methods set forth in ITL Section 17, as revised in 1997 and as amended by Decree 824/2019, and the related Administrative Order as amended by Decree 1170/2018 and Decree 862/2019, two or more comparable transactions are determined, the median and interquartile range shall be determined for the prices, consideration amount or profit margins.

A fresh benchmarking search is recommended every year, but a reasonable update of financials is accepted.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is none specified.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is a preference for internal comparables, when available.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

In case of late filing or incomplete transfer pricing documentation, the tax rating of the local taxpayer could be downgraded and a penalty of ARS 20,000 could be applied.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

ARS600,000-ARS900,000

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

In case of late filing or incomplete transfer pricing documentation, the tax rating of the local taxpayer could be downgraded and a penalty of ARS20,000 could be applied.

- Are there any other penalties?

For late filing of tax returns concerning other international transactions, the taxpayer will be fined ARS20,000. For penalties related to late filing or lack of filing, it does not matter whether the transactions were at arm's length. For noncompliance with the formal duties of furnishing information requested by the ARCA, the taxpayer faces fines of up to ARS45,000. The same applies to failure to keep vouchers and evidence of prices in files on hand and the failure to file tax returns upon request. If tax returns are not filed after the third request and the taxpayer has income amounting to more than ARS10 million, the fine is increased from ARS90,000 to ARS450,000. For unpaid taxes related to international transactions, the taxpayer is fined 200% of the unpaid tax, which could be augmented to 300% upon recidivism. Penalties for fraud are two to six times the unpaid taxes. Criminal tax law stipulates imprisonment for two to six years if the unpaid tax exceeds ARS1.5 million for each tax and fiscal year. If the unpaid tax exceeds ARS15 million, the prison term will increase, ranging from three years and six months to nine years. Failing to comply with the obligations related to CbCR and CbCR notifications will be considered by the ARCA as a relevant indicator for starting an audit and verification of the risks associated with their transfer prices and the potential tax BEPS from the entities domiciled in Argentina to other member companies of the MNE group. Moreover, the liable parties may be subject to any of the following measures:

- Being classified as a company subject to greater risk of undergoing an audit
- Suspension or removal from the special tax registries of the Argentine tax jurisdiction
- Suspension of the process of obtaining an exemption or non-withholding certificates. The following penalties are applicable to the noncompliance with the obligations related to CbCR and CbCR notifications:
- The penalty will be between ARS80,000 and ARS200,000 when the local taxpayer is a member of an MNE group that reaches the minimum limit of total consolidated revenues for mandatory CbCR and fails to comply with the respective notifications and information about the MNE group and the ultimate parent entity, requested by the ARCA, within the deadlines established for this purpose. If the local entity fails to comply with the notification mentioned above, but its MNE group does not reach the limit established for mandatory CbC reporting, the penalty will be set between ARS15,000 and ARS70,000. The penalty will be between ARS80,000 and ARS200,000 when the local taxpayer fails to inform, within the deadlines established for that purpose, the identifying data of the reporting entity (the entity designated for the submission of the CbCR) (first notification). The penalty will be between ARS80,000 and ARS200,000 when the local taxpayer fails to inform, within the deadlines established for that purpose, the submission of the CbCR by the reporting entity in its tax jurisdiction (second notification).

- There will be an adjustable penalty (between ARS600,000 and ARS900,000) when the local taxpayer fails to file the CbCR to the ARCA. The penalty will also apply if the report submitted is partial, incomplete, or has serious errors or inconsistencies.
- There will be an adjustable penalty (between ARS180,000 and ARS300,000) upon the total or partial noncompliance with the requirements made by the ARCA on complementary information requested in addition to the CbCR.
- There will be a penalty of ARS200,000 when the local taxpayer does not comply with a formal requirement from ARCA to comply with duties mentioned in (a) and (b) (above).

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

When the tax is not paid for not filing returns or reports or for filing inaccurate returns or reports, the taxpayer shall be penalized with a fine of 200% (which could be augmented to 300% upon recidivism) of the unpaid or un-withheld tax. This is if the nonpayment refers to transactions entered into between local companies and any type of foreign entity, as provided by Section 45.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

When the tax is not paid for not filing returns or reports or for filing inaccurate returns or reports, the taxpayer shall be penalized with a fine of 200% (which could be augmented to 300% upon recidivism) of the unpaid or un-withheld tax. This is if the nonpayment refers to transactions entered into between local companies and any type of foreign entity, as provided by Section 45.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Interest accrues on unpaid tax balances.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

Concerning underpayment and fraud, if the non-recidivist taxpayer voluntarily amends the tax returns before receiving an intervention notice from the ARCA, then no penalty shall be applied. If the tax returns are amended during the term between receiving the intervention notice and before receiving a special notice (or pre-vista) from ARCA's auditors, the penalty is reduced to one-quarter of the minimum fine. If the tax returns are amended after receiving the pre-vista but before receiving the notice of the resolution that formally starts the official assessment procedure (the "vista"), the penalty is reduced to half of the minimum fine. If the non-recidivist taxpayer accepts the adjustments assessed by the ARCA and pays the amounts due within 15 days of receiving this notice, the penalty is reduced to three-quarters of the minimum fine. If the non-recidivist taxpayer accepts the adjustments assessed by the ARCA through the official assessment resolution, the penalty is reduced to the minimum fine.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The general statute of limitations for federal tax matters is five years for registered and registration-exempt taxpayers and 10 years for unregistered taxpayers. These periods begin on 1 January following the year in which the tax return is due. In some cases, the multilateral tax treaties stipulate a more extensive statute of limitation in the presence of intercompany transactions, which prevails over the general rule. The moratorium regime in place during the calendar year 2009, the voluntary declaration of the foreign exchange holding regime in place during the calendar year 2013 and the extension to the moratorium to reduce the effects of the pandemic in place during 2020 added one additional year each to the statute of limitations period for certain fiscal years. The taxpayer must keep the transfer pricing documentation on hand and provide it upon the ARCA's request for up to five years after the period established by the statute of limitations.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing audit possibility is high.

- b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

The possibility of tax authority challenging the taxpayer's transfer pricing methodology is high. If the tax authority requires a methodology change, in most cases the consequence will be a TP adjustment.

If the price, the amount of the consideration or the profit margin set by the taxpayer is within the interquartile range, it will be considered as agreed between independent parties. Otherwise, the price, the amount of the consideration or the profit margin used by independent parties shall be deemed to be the median value (Article 42 of the Administrative Order).

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Pharmacy, automotive and export of commodities are targeted industries. Financial transactions and foreign intermediaries are more likely to undergo an audit.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Yes, there is unilateral and bilateral availability. However, the implementation regulations are yet to be issued for availability.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Not applicable yet; further regulations are expected to make these changes operative.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable yet; further regulations are expected to make these changes operative.

d. Is MAP available?

Yes, but the process is not simple.

Thin capitalization rules apply as a restriction on the deductibility of interest and foreign exchange losses arising from debts of a financial nature that are contracted by taxpayers with related entities (whether local or foreign). According to the 2017 tax reform, the former 2:1 debt-to-equity thin capitalization rule was replaced with the BEPS-based rule. The deduction on interest expense and foreign exchange losses with local and foreign related parties is now limited to 30% of the taxpayer's taxable income before interest, foreign exchange losses and depreciation. The taxpayer is entitled to carry forward the excess non-deductible interest for five years and the un-utilized deduction capacity for three years. Certain exceptions to the above limitation are also available notwithstanding the thin capitalization rule above mentioned does not apply on exchange differences, if the local entity is subject to the integral tax inflationary adjustment provided in the Income Tax Law (it has to be noted that the tax inflationary adjustment was applicable to fiscal years ended in 2022 and should also apply to fiscal years ended in 2023 onward, as the inflation index exceeded 100% accumulated during the 36 months prior to year-end). In case of loans received by Argentine borrowers, debt capacity and business reasons for the transaction should be documented. In general, local transfer pricing rules follow the OECD family approach for intercompany financial transactions.

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

- ### 3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements
-
- a. Applicability
- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?
Yes
 - If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?
No
 - Additional details
Transfer Pricing documentation should be submitted within 30 working days after the request of tax authorities.
 - Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?
Yes
- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?
Yes
 - Additional details
TP documentation must be prepared annually under Armenian regulations, and it should include the following:
 - A detailed description of the taxpayer's business functions
 - A detailed description of the taxpayer's organizational structure
 - A description of controlled transactions
 - A description of applied TP methods
 - The list of parties to controlled transactions
 - A description of sources of information on comparable uncontrolled transactions

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

There is none specified.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

The taxpayer shall complete the notification form on controlled transactions and file it with the tax authority on or before 20 April of the year following the tax year in which controlled transactions were concluded.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes, this is applicable, according to Accounting Standard 24 of Armenia. The definition of “related parties” in this standard overall corresponds to the provisions of related parties in TP rules of Armenia.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The taxpayer has to submit the TP documentation within 30 working days from the time the tax authority requests it.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The comparable uncontrolled price (CUP) is priority method.

the arm's-length range will be the financial indicator value corresponding to the resulting fraction, rounded up.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

Under the current legislation, there are no specific guidelines and requirements on the need to conduct a fresh benchmarking search every year or for updating the financials of a prior study. However, the best practice is preparation of fresh benchmarking every year,

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Non-specified

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

If there is a lack of information on uncontrolled transactions with an Armenian party's involvement, the use of foreign comparables shall be acceptable, where the impact of economic circumstances and other comparability factors on the financial indicator subject to examination by the appropriate TP method is analyzed and, where necessary, a comparability adjustment is made.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

A multiyear analysis (three years) is preferred.

Lower quartile: In cases when the lower quartile, defined by multiplying the quantity of the used financial indicators with 0.25, is an integer number, the lower limit of the arm's-length range will be the arithmetic mean value of the financial indicator, corresponding to that multiplication, and the value of financial indicator immediately following it. In the other cases, when the multiplication of the quantity of the used the financial indicators and 0.25 is a fraction number, the lower limit of the arm's-length range will be the financial indicator value, corresponding of the resulted fraction, rounded up. Upper quartile: In cases where the upper quartile, defined by multiplying the number of used financial indicators by 0.75, is an integer number, the upper limit of the arm's-length range will be the arithmetic mean value of the financial indicator corresponding to that multiplication and the value of the financial indicator immediately preceding it. In other cases, when the multiplication of the quantity of the used financial indicators and 0.75 is a fraction number, the upper limit of

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

There is none specified.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

▪ Are there any other penalties?

A penalty of AMD500,000 in case of failure to include full information on controlled transactions in notifications to the tax authority, after the tax authority's request of change. A penalty for not submitting a notification on time, depending on turnover of the company in the previous tax year:

- In case of turnover above AMD2 billion, the penalty will be AMD5 million.
- In case of turnover above AMD1 billion, the penalty will be AMD3 million.
- In case of turnover below AMD1 billion, the penalty will be AMD1 million. The penalty for not submitting transfer pricing documentation on time after a request by the tax authority shall be 10% of the sum of all controlled transactions.

10% of controlled transaction, on which TP documentation was requested by tax authorities and it was not submitted in 30 working days

b. Penalties post-TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

Yes

- Additional details

0.075% per day.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The statute of limitations on TP assessments is five years.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

TP audit frequency depends on riskiness of the taxpayer:

In case of high risk, not more often than once in three consecutive tax years

In case of medium risk, not more often than once in four consecutive tax years

In case of low risk, not more often than once in five consecutive tax years

- b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

In case of self-adjustment, the TP adjustment should be at least to the lower quartile. In case of adjustment imposed by the tax authority, the adjustment can be imposed to the median value.

- d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

There is none specified.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

- a. Are APAs available?

Yes

- b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Up to three years with possibility of prolongation for additional two years

- c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable

- d. Is MAP available?

Not applicable

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

Interest expenses on loans from entities other than banks and credit organizations are not deductible in excess of two times the tax base of the taxpayer's net assets. The threshold for banks and credit organizations is nine times the tax base of net assets.

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Australian Taxation Office (ATO)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

- Subdivisions B, C, D and E of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 (ITAA 1997)
- Subdivision 284- 255 of Schedule 1 to the Tax Administration Act 1953 (TAA 1953)
- Subdivisions 177G to 177R of the ITAA 1936
- Relevant provisions of double tax agreements with Australia

Applicability of legislation

Subdivisions 815-B, C and D apply to taxpayers with income years commencing on or after 1 July 2013. The Commissioner can apply Subdivisions 815-B, C and D, and taxpayers must self-assess them. Subdivision 815-E addresses the Country-by-Country Reporting obligations as further outlined in the following sections. All Australian TP legislation only applies in one direction. Broadly speaking, it can only be used to increase profits, decrease losses and offsets, and increase withholding tax liabilities.

Overview of current legislative framework

Subdivisions 815-B, C and D were enacted in June 2013 and introduced important changes to the TP rules, including the following:

- A self-assessment regime effectively requires Public Officers to be satisfied that the taxpayer has not received a TP benefit, to satisfy their duties in signing off on the tax return. In extreme cases, the public officers may be liable for penalties if they do not discharge this responsibility.
- The preparation of TP documentation is not compulsory. However, a failure to prepare documentation contemporaneously in accordance with the legislation prevents the taxpayer from establishing a reasonably arguable position (RAP). This prevents the taxpayer from accessing lower penalties if the taxpayer receives a TP adjustment that increases its tax liabilities in Australia. A failure to prepare contemporaneous documentation cannot be remedied later.
- Subdivisions 815-B through D provide the ATO with extensive powers in relation to examining the actual commercial and financial relations between a taxpayer and its international related parties, and substituting them with what the ATO considers a better reflection of arm's-length commercial and financial relations. These substituted transactions then form the basis for determining the arm's-length conditions. This provision must also be self-assessed by the taxpayer.

- Compliance with the arm's-length principle is assessed on the alignment of the taxpayer's actual conditions with arm's-length conditions. Conditions are defined broadly to encompass all pricing and non-pricing aspects relevant to the economic substance of the business and its international arrangements. This effectively gives rise to a "double test," where taxpayers must assess the overall commerciality of their arrangements as well as the pricing of individual transactions.

Subdivision 815-C provides specific rules for permanent establishments to make certain that the amount brought to tax in Australia by entities operating permanent establishments is not less than it would be if the permanent establishment was a distinct and separate entity operating independently. The rules and requirements contained in Subdivision 815-C apply in broadly the same manner as those contained in Subdivision 815-B. Note that the Australian source rules do not align with the OECD authorized approach and require an allocation of actual revenue and expenses. Where this leaves too much profit in Australia, it is not remedied through Subdivision 815-C due to the one-sided application of the TP provisions.

Subdivision 815-D applies to partnerships and trusts using an approach analogous to that found in Subdivisions 815-B and 815-C.

Subdivision 815-E addresses the Country-by-Country Reporting obligations as further outlined in the following sections.

Diverted profits tax

In addition to the specific TP legislation, Australia has a diverted profit tax that broadly speaking looks at transactions that are taxed overseas at a low rate (generally less than 24% effective tax) and where obtaining a tax benefit is a principal purpose of the arrangement. Diverted profits tax is levied at 40%, i.e., higher than the standard company income tax rate, and is not subject to relief from double taxation under Australian tax agreements. The diverted profits tax applies to significant global entities (SGE). Broadly speaking, SGEs are Australian taxpayers that form part of an Multinational Enterprise (MNE) that has a global turnover exceeding AUD1 billion. Country-by-Country Reporting (CbCR): Australia has very specific CbCR requirements that deviate from the global norm in several aspects.

1982

d. Section reference from local regulation

The ATO has issued a significant amount of TP guidance. Below are the key transfer pricing taxation rulings (TR), practice statements law administration (PS LA) and practical compliance guidelines (PCG):

- TR 2000/ 16: relief from double taxation and the MAP
- TR 2001/ 11: operation of Australia's permanent establishment attribution rules
- TR 2004/ 1: cost contribution arrangements
- TR 2011/ 1: application of the TP provisions to business restructurings by multinational enterprises
- TR 2014/ 6: income tax: TP – the application of Section 815-130 of the ITAA 1997
- TR 2014/ 8: income tax – TP documentation and Subdivision 284-E
- PCG 2017/ 1: ATO compliance approach to TP issues related to centralized operating models involving non-core procurement, marketing, sales, and distribution functions
- PCG 2017/ 2: Simplified Transfer Pricing Record Keeping options
- PCG 2017/ 4: ATO compliance approach to taxation issues associated with cross-border related-party financing arrangements, related derivatives, and interest-free funding
- PCG 2019/ 1: ATO compliance approach to inbound distribution entities
- PCG 2020/ 7: ATO compliance approach to the arm's-length debt test
- PCG 2024/ 1: Intangibles migration arrangements
- Taxpayer Alert 2018/ 2: Mischaracterisation of activities or payments in connection with intangible assets
- Taxpayer Alert 2020/ 1: Non-arm's-length arrangements and schemes connected with the development, enhancement, maintenance, protection and exploitation (together DEMPE) of intangible assets
- PS LA 2014/ 2: administration of TP penalties for income years commencing on or after 29 June 2013
- PS LA 2014/ 3: simplifying TP record-keeping
- PS LA 2015/ 4: APAs
- Reportable Tax Position Schedule Guidance
- International Dealings Schedule Guidance
- Country-by-Country Reporting Guidance

Case law

There have been several TP cases before the courts in Australia, of which the following seven are the most influential:

- Roche Products Pty Ltd (Roche) v. Commissioner of Taxation [2008] AATA 261
- Commissioner of Taxation v. SNF (Australia) Pty Ltd [2011] FCAFC 74
- Chevron Australia Holdings Pty Ltd v. Commissioner of Taxation [2017] FCAFC 62
- Glencore Investment Pty Ltd v. Commissioner of Taxation of the Commonwealth of Australia [2019] FCA 1432
- Singapore Telecom Australia Investments Pty Ltd v. Commissioner of Taxation [2021] FCA 1597
- PepsiCo, Inc v. Commissioner of Taxation [2024] FCAFC 86
- Oracle Corporation Australia Pty Ltd v. Commissioner of Taxation (Stay Application) [2024] FCA 1262

Broadly speaking, the Roche and SNF cases apply to Division 13, and highlighted the fact that Division 13 limited the ATO to the consideration of whether the pricing of a related-party transaction was at arm's length. It did not provide the scope to consider whether the profits or other commercial context of the arrangement were also at arm's length. In response, new TP provisions were created; Subdivision 815-A was released in 2012, and Subdivisions 815-B, C and D were released in 2013.

The Chevron case looked at both Division 13 and Subdivision 815-A and addressed the appropriate pricing for intercompany loan arrangements. Of relevance is that it rejected the "orphan concept" in determining the arm's-length consideration for loans. As a result, loans cannot be priced as if the borrowing entity is an "orphan" but rather should be seen as part of the global group's family of companies.

The Glencore case addressed the appropriate pricing for the sales of copper concentrate produced by the Australian Glencore entity to its Swiss parent. Importantly, the case examined the extent of the ATO's ability to reconstruct the actual agreement entered by the taxpayer on the basis that the terms of this agreement are not considered to be arm's length in nature and rely on an alternative hypothetical agreement that is differently structured to the actual agreement entered into for the purposes of addressing statutory questions in Division 13 and Subdivision 815-A. In finding for the taxpayer, the court examined market evidence that supported the terms of the actual agreement entered and expressed the view that any reconstruction should be limited to exceptional circumstances referring to commentary in the OECD Guidelines. Given the introduction of the reconstruction provision in Subdivision 815-B and changes to the OECD Guidelines since 2010, this judgment may have limited application in more recent years. The SingTel case builds on earlier cases and focuses on what arm's-length parties would have done. It essentially rejects the "stand-alone" approach for financing transactions and postulates that independent parties would have obtained a guarantee from their parent. The Court also ruled that notwithstanding this, no guarantee was payable as there was no actual guarantee provided and no guaranteed fee charged.

The PepsiCo case is technically a withholding tax case rather than a transfer pricing case, but is relevant to transfer pricing in that it deals with embedded royalties in tangible goods payments.

Similarly, the Oracle case revolved around whether payments made by Oracle Australia to Oracle Ireland for sublicensing software were "royalties" under the treaty and thus subject to Australian withholding tax obligations. The case is also addressing the interaction between Mutual Agreement Procedures (MAP) and court cases as the taxpayer is applying to stay domestic court proceedings while MAP is ongoing.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no documentation obligation for domestic transactions.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Australia is a member of the OECD and largely follows the OECD Guidelines in practice. In response to key TP cases that questioned the relevance of the OECD Guidelines in interpreting Division 13 and the ATO's reliance on such interpretation, revised TP provisions were enacted. These provisions refer directly to the 2022 OECD Guidelines for years starting on or after 1 January 2022. For earlier years, the 1999, 2010 or 2017 Guidelines apply as relevant guidance for the determination of the arm's-length conditions.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

In name, Australia has adopted the OECD's three-tiered documentation approach set out in BEPS Action 13. The requirements are met through lodgement of two files: the Local File/Master File through the LCMSF (as defined below) and the CbC report. The Australian interpretation of the Local File deviates significantly from what is seen in other countries.

As part of the Australian implementation of Action 13, Country-by-Country Reporting Entities (CbCRE) have CbC reporting requirements. Whether an entity is a CbCRE is subject to complex and nuanced rules, especially for private equity-owned entities.

CbCREs need to provide the country-by-country report (or country-by-country report notification) as well as the LCMSF file. "LCMSF" stands for each of the components provided through the file, being: Local file, CbC report notification, Master file, Short-form local file, Financials. The LCMSF must be lodged electronically in XML format and specific software tools are required to prepare the XML file.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

CbCR requirements apply to CbCREs, largely Australian taxpayers that form part of an MNE with an annual global income of AUD1 billion or more. While the definition of global group generally follows accounting consolidation rules, there are exceptions that require careful consideration.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2016.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format.

- Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

- Coverage

CBCREs are required to lodge the Master file with the ATO through the LCMSF file.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2016.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

- Coverage

CBCREs are required to lodge the Local File.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2016.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

The Australian interpretation of the Local File deviates significantly from the interpretation in the rest of the world. In Australia, the Local File is not a TP documentation report, but a collection of transactional data and other information structured in three parts: The short-form Local file, Part A of the Local file, Part

B of the Local file. The data provided through the Local File includes reporting entity information, transactional data, the level of compliant Australian TP documentation, foreign exchange result-related information, legal agreements, information on the TP method applied in Australia and overseas, overseas Advance Pricing Agreement (APA) and ruling, etc. For years starting on or after 1 January 2024, the Short Form Local File requirements have been significantly extended and now require substantial additional information on reporting lines and restructures. Restructures are defined very broadly and many changes that would not be regarded restructures in the usual sense of the work need to be reported. In addition, significant information including steps plans and detailed information on steps including overseas steps as well as their Australian and global tax impact need to be provided.

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

- Additional details

Australia has specific documentation requirements set out in Subdivision 284-E TAA 1953. Transfer pricing documentation that does not meet these requirements is not able to provide a reasonably arguable position (RAP) and the related penalty mitigation. In more complex cases, e.g., those involving restructures, intangibles, intragroup financing or commercially unrealistic results, substantive additional technical analysis will typically be required to address the Australian TP legislation. Such analysis will need to consider the commercial context of such arrangements to ensure that the TP reconstruction provisions should not apply before considering the arm's-length nature of the pricing of such transactions. It is worth reiterating that in addition to TP documentation requirements, there is the separate Australian Local File Requirement that cannot be satisfied through a BEPS Action 13 format report or transfer pricing documentation.

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

The preparation of TP documentation is not compulsory. However, taxpayers that do not prepare documentation that meets the specific requirements set out in Subdivision 284-E are precluded from establishing a RAP in the event of a TP adjustment. This means that higher penalties apply if the taxpayer receives a TP adjustment that increases its tax liabilities in Australia. To satisfy Subdivision 284-E, it is required that the documentation:

Be prepared contemporaneously, i.e., it must be kept by or accessible to the local entity before the time by which the taxpayer lodges its income tax return.

Be prepared in English, or readily accessible and convertible into English.

Explain the way in which the relevant TP provisions apply (or do not apply) to the taxpayer's international related-party dealings.

Explain why the application of the TP provisions to the taxpayer's international related-party dealings in that way best achieves consistency with the relevant guidance materials including the OECD Guidelines.

Allow actual conditions, arm's-length conditions, comparable circumstances, and the result of the application of the subdivision to be readily ascertained.

In addition to these legal requirements to be able to have a RAP, the ATO expects that taxpayers answer the following questions in their documentation:

What are the actual conditions that are relevant to the matter?

What are the comparable circumstances relevant to identifying the arm's-length conditions?

What are the particulars of the methods used to identify the arm's-length conditions?

What is the arm's-length conditions, and is the TP treatment appropriate?

Have any material changes and updates been identified and documented? Further disclosures are listed in Subdivision 284-E TAA.

If the documentation is prepared for a fee, an Australian Tax Agent must prepare or control the preparation of the transfer pricing documentation to avoid a breach of the Tax Agent Services Act.

Further, and importantly, as Australia operates under a self-assessment regime, it is necessary that sufficient work has been done in a given year to enable both the Public Officer and the Tax Agent signing the income tax return to warrant that the transfer pricing is appropriate and hence that disclosures made in that return are accurate and (where necessary) reflect any transfer pricing adjustments which have been made to ensure compliance with the law. The absence of detailed, Australian-focused transfer pricing documentation may be indicative of insufficient analysis having been undertaken and may confer risk to either or both of the Public Officer and Tax Agent. Further, in the absence of such work having been undertaken (and evidenced) a further Reportable Tax Position disclosure may be required to be made in certain circumstances.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

To have a RAP, documentation should be prepared annually and contemporaneously with the income tax return. Care has to also be given to the benchmarking analysis used. In particular, it is unlikely that regional Asian sets would meet the requirements or be accepted by the ATO because of the significant differences between Australia and other regional economies.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

No

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation
 - Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

No
 - If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable
 - Is there any other threshold?

No
 - Additional details

There is no materiality limit for the preparation of TP documentation.
- CbCR
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

AUD1 billion
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income
 - Is there any other threshold?

No
 - Additional details

The CbC report (or “CbC report notification” if lodged elsewhere and automatically exchanged with the ATO) must be lodged by CbCREs. CbCREs are largely Australian taxpayers that form part of an MNE with an annual global income of AUD1 billion or more. While the definition of global group generally follows accounting consolidation rules, there are exceptions that require careful consideration.
- Master File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

AUD1 billion
- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income
- Is there any other threshold?

No
- Additional details

The Master File must be lodged by CbCREs. CbCREs are largely Australian taxpayers that form part of an MNE with an annual global income of AUD1 billion or more. While the definition of global group generally follows accounting consolidation rules, there are exceptions that require careful consideration.
- Local File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

AUD1 billion
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income
 - Is there any other threshold?

No
 - Additional details

The Master File must be lodged by CbCREs. CbCREs are largely Australian taxpayers that form part of an MNE with an annual global income of AUD1 billion or more. While the definition of global group generally follows accounting consolidation rules, there are exceptions that require careful consideration. Further, if the local entity has less than AUD2 million in total international related-party transactions, and no transactions that are on the exclusions list, it may be able to submit only the short-form Local File.
- Economic analysis
 - Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

▪ What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

▪ Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no materiality limit for the preparation of an Economic analysis.

c. Specific requirements

▪ Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The TP documentation needs to be maintained in English (local language) or be readily convertible into English.

▪ Is a safe harbor available?

No

▪ Additional details

There are no formal safe harbors in the Australian TP legislation. However, through PCGs (Practical Compliance Guidelines), the ATO provides guidance on its compliance approach, areas of focus and the kind of arrangements that would typically not warrant compliance activity. Subject to the taxpayer meeting all conditions for the relevant option, PCG 2017/ 2 provides simplified record-keeping options applicable to the following transactions:

- Taxpayers whereby the annual turnover of the Australian Economic Group is less than AUD50 million
- Distributors with a turnover of less than AUD50 million and profit before tax that exceeds 3% of sales
- Low value-adding intragroup services with a markup of no less than 5% for services provided and no more than 5% for services received
- Technical services with a markup of no less than 10% for services provided and no more than 10% for services received
- Outbound loans with related parties where the loan is denominated in AUD, the amount lent does not exceed AUD50 million, and the interest rate is at least 5.81% for the 2023-24 income tax year and 5.61% for the 2024-25 income tax year

- Inbound loans with related parties where the loan is denominated in AUD, the amount lent does not exceed AUD50 million, and interest does not exceed 5.81% for the 2023-24 income tax year and 5.61% for the 2024-25 income tax year
- Taxpayers that have international related-party dealings of less than 2.5% of the total turnover of the Australian economic group

Where a taxpayer applies the simplified TP record-keeping requirements and discloses this in its international dealings schedule (IDS) or Local File, the ATO will typically not allocate compliance resources to that arrangement. Note that in addition to the thresholds mentioned above, further eligibility requirements must be met to allow application of these rules. In addition, taxpayers must self-assess the appropriateness of the TP and must document this self-assessment as well as how they meet the criteria for the specific transaction. PCG 2019/ 1 provides the ATO's compliance approach in relation to inbound distributors and sets out the margins that would typically not warrant ATO compliance resources. Again, these margins are not safe harbors and are not designed to indicate the true arm's-length position (which need to be separately analyzed). Low-risk EBIT (Earnings before interest and tax) margins differ depending on the industry and per this PCG starting at: Information and communications technology (ICT) category I: 4. 1% ICT category II: 5. 4% Life sciences category I: 5. 1% Life sciences category II: 8. 9% Life sciences category III: 10. 0% Motor vehicles: 4. 3% General distributors: 5. 3%

▪ Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

▪ Additional details

Whether to aggregate or test individual transactions will depend on the facts and circumstances. Aggregation of transactions is allowed under appropriate circumstances.

▪ Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Transfer pricing-specific lodgements include CbCR requirements, Reportable Tax Position (RTP) requirements and the IDS.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The ATO requires an IDS to be filed with the tax return. In addition to a variety of wider tax topics, it requires taxpayers to disclose:

- Details of restructuring events involving international related parties (question 17, which must be completed regardless of the quantum of the transactions)
- Dealings with branch operations (question 18, which must be completed regardless of the quantum of the transactions) In addition, if the aggregate number of transactions or dealings with international related parties, both revenue and capital in nature, is greater than AUD2 million, the following information must be disclosed:
- Top three transactions (individually) and other transactions (combined) for the top three specified "low-tax" jurisdictions (question 3)
- The top three transactions and other transactions for the top three non-specified jurisdictions (question 4) (historically, the list of specified jurisdictions predominantly focused on tax havens, but the list has since expanded to include Hong Kong, Ireland, Luxembourg, Singapore, Switzerland, and the Netherlands)
- For all international related-party transactions (questions 5 through 13):
- Type of transaction, e.g., royalties, intercompany loans, technical services, and administrative services
- The quantum per type of transaction

- The percentage of transactions of each type covered by contemporaneous documentation that has been prepared in accordance with the ATO guidance mentioned above (TP documentation does not need to be lodged with the tax return)
- TP methodologies selected and applied for each international related-party transaction type
- Information on transactions for no payment or nonmonetary payment, share-based employee remuneration and cost contribution arrangements (CCAs) (questions 14 through 16) In addition to the TP disclosures, the IDS captures information on interests in foreign companies or foreign trusts, permanent establishments, and thin capitalization. Separate thresholds apply for these disclosures. As an administrative concession, the ATO has waived the requirement to lodge parts of the IDS where taxpayers complete and lodge Part A of the Local File part of the LCMSF in XML format at the same time as the tax return.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Related-party disclosures may be required in the financial statement and annual report.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No, taxpayers disclose whether they are subject to CbC reporting requirements in the tax return and separately provide a CbC Report notification through the LCMSF form.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

Not applicable

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

Varies (six months and 15 days after year-end for most companies)

▪ Additional details

In most cases, the income tax return is due for lodgment six months and 15 days after the end of the income tax year; however, it varies depending upon the entity. Payment of any final tax liability is normally due on the first day of the sixth month following the end of the income tax year. Taxpayers may request a due date extension through the ATO portal.

Transfer pricing documentation does not need to be filed but must be contemporaneous, meaning it must be in existence at the time of lodging the income tax return.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

At the same time as lodging the tax return

- Additional details

If international related-party dealings exceed AUD2 million (including average loan balances), an IDS must be lodged as part of the corporate tax return.

An RTP Schedule must be disclosed for companies with a turnover more than AUD25 million that form part of an Australian economic group with a turnover in excess of AUD250 million. Transfer pricing reportable tax positions include “normal” material reportable tax positions as well as specific disclosures in relation to ATO guidance on a variety of topics including financing; distribution arrangements; Development, Enhancement, Maintenance, Protection and Exploitation (DEMPE) functions; intangible property; marketing; and non-core-procurement hubs.

The IDS and RTP schedule are due at the time of the income tax return filing (i.e., six months and 15 days after the end of the income tax year).

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Twelve months after year-end

- Additional details

Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared)

The Master File must be lodged directly with the ATO within 12 months after the end of the taxpayer’s year-end.

The Master File must be filed 12 months after the end of the financial year of the taxpayer unless the taxpayer has received a replacement reporting period (RRP), in which case the deadline is 12 months after the end of the RRP (typically the global parent entity’s year-end immediately preceding the taxpayer’s year-end).

For cases where there are multiple entities that are not members of the same tax consolidated group, each entity will need to lodge a notification. There is an option for one entity to notify that it will be lodging the information on behalf of those entities, but it will need to state this within its notification.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

Twelve months after year-end

- Additional details

The CbC report (or the CbC Report Notification if applicable) must be lodged directly with the ATO within 12 months after the end of the taxpayer’s year-end. If required, the CbC report is due 12 months after the end of the financial year of the taxpayer unless the taxpayer has received an RRP, in which case the deadline is 12 months after the end of the RRP.

For cases where there are multiple entities that are not members of the same tax consolidated group, each entity will need to lodge a notification. There is an option for one entity to notify that it will be lodging the information on behalf of those entities, but it will need to state this within its notification.

Refer to the “CbCR notification” section for situations where the CbC report has been lodged with another revenue authority with whom the ATO has a formal information exchange.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Twelve months after year-end

- Additional details

If the CbC report is lodged with another revenue authority with whom the ATO has a formal information exchange, the Australian taxpayer is able to provide a notification through the LCMSF form. This notification is due 12 months from year-end.

For cases where there are multiple entities that are not members of the same tax consolidated group, each entity will need to lodge a notification. There is an option for one entity to notify that it will be lodging the information on behalf of those entities, but it will need to state this within its notification.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

The tax return lodgment date

- Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation: To achieve penalty protection, documentation must be on hand by the date of lodging the corporate tax return. This cannot be remedied at a later point in time. The documentation does not need to be provided to the ATO.

If required, the Local File must be filed 12 months after the end of the financial year of the taxpayer. If the taxpayer prepares and lodges at least Part A of the Australian Local File by the due date of the corporate tax return, questions 2 to 17 of the abovementioned IDS do not need to be completed (this is an “administrative concession” provided by the ATO).

- g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

- Additional details

There is no filing deadline for the submission of TP documentation; however, TP documentation must be provided upon request by the ATO.

The Local File must be must be filed 12 months after the end of the financial year of the taxpayer. If the taxpayer prepares and lodges at least Part A of the Australian Local File by the due date of the corporate tax return, questions 2 to 17 of the abovementioned IDS do not need to be completed (this is an “administrative concession” provided by the ATO).

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The taxpayer generally has to submit the TP documentation within 28 days upon request by the ATO. Although an extension of this deadline is possible from the ATO, the ATO is unlikely to grant such an extension unless there are clear, compelling reasons supporting the request. The ATO will routinely check the date stamp on the files to confirm whether they were contemporaneous.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

- a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

- Additional details

The legislation requires taxpayers to adopt the “most appropriate” TP method and refers to the OECD Guidelines in this regard. Methods include traditional transaction methods (e.g., CUP, resale price and cost-plus) and traditional profits-based methods (e.g., profit-split and TNMM). Any other method that results in an arm’s-length outcome is also acceptable. However, other methods should only be used where one of the other traditional transaction or profits-based methods cannot be reliably applied.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

- a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

The ATO has a strong preference for local comparables and uses local databases that contain information on more Australian companies than the typical regional and global databases. The ATO will generally accept foreign comparables only if it can be demonstrated that reliable local comparables are not available. Regional Asian comparables are often not accepted due to market differences.

- b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Although multiple-year (five-year) testing is generally acceptable, based on recent experience, the ATO has been challenging profit profiles where there are several very low-profit or loss years that are combined with higher-profit years to achieve an overall average result within the range.

There are no formal guidelines on the determination of the appropriate point in the range. Interquartile ranges calculated using spreadsheet quartile formulas are generally acceptable, but there may still be challenges in terms of the most appropriate point within the interquartile range (i.e., it is not necessarily accepted that if the tested-party results fall within the interquartile range, it may automatically be concluded that such results are consistent with the arm's-length principle). For taxpayers that are required to file an RTP schedule, results that sit outside the interquartile range must be disclosed as a Category A RTP if they meet the materiality threshold and are not already disclosed as a Category C RTP.

There is no specific requirement to conduct a fresh comparable benchmarking search annually. Generally, such benchmarking may be rolled forward with a refresh of the financial information of the comparables for an additional one or two years where there have not been significant changes in the industry or the functional profile of the tested party.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Generally, weighted rather than simple averages are used in determining averages over a period, and pooled results are rarely used.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Incomplete documentation will typically mean that the documentation does not provide a reasonably arguable position (RAP) for penalty mitigation purposes.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

The maximum is 2,500 penalty units (Currently AUD825,000).

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

The maximum is 2,500 penalty units (Currently AUD825,000).

- Are there any other penalties?

The penalty for failing to lodge the Local File is a maximum of 2,500 penalty units (currently AUD825,000).

If not provided upon request, taxpayers cannot rely on documentation to provide a RAP. Whether incorrect disclosures have an impact will depend on the disclosure itself. Minor errors are unlikely to have an impact, whereas significant misleading disclosures could lead to increased penalties. To avoid any misunderstanding, the primary requirement for penalty mitigation is that the taxpayer has documentation at the time of lodging the income tax return.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

- Additional details

Incomplete documentation does not allow a taxpayer to establish a RAP, with resulting higher penalties in case of adjustments.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Documentation that is not contemporaneous does not allow a taxpayer to establish a RAP, with resulting higher penalties in case of adjustments. Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Interest is charged on a tax shortfall, but not on the penalties.

Penalties apply to underpaid tax (shortfall penalties), failure to submit or late submission (failure to lodge penalties), or incorrect disclosures (false and misleading disclosure penalties). Penalties depend on the entity as well as various other factors, such as the level of culpability.

Penalties for SGEs, i.e., any entity that is part of a group with a global turnover of AUD1 billion or more, are particularly high. Failure-to-lodge penalties for these entities start at 500 penalty units (AUD165,000) for filings that are one day late and gradually increase to 2,500 penalty units (AUD825,000) for lodgments that are 112 days late or more. The Australian Local File lodgment is mandatory for Country-by-Country Reporting Entities, and failure to lodge is subject to the same penalties. Similarly, failure to address Master File lodgment requirements could lead to penalties up to AUD825,000 per year.

- Where ATO conclude that an entity entered the arrangement with the sole or dominant purpose of that entity or another getting a transfer pricing benefit, the penalties will be either 50% or 25% of the transfer pricing shortfall amount, depending on whether the entity has appropriate documentation. Higher penalties apply where there are further culpability factors such as intentional disregard for the law. These penalties are doubled for SGEs.
 - Where the ATO concludes that an entity did not enter the arrangement with the sole or dominant purpose of getting a transfer pricing benefit, the penalties will be either 25% or 10% of the transfer pricing shortfall amount, depending on whether the entity has appropriate documentation. These penalties are doubled for SGEs.
- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Where the taxpayer has contemporaneous documentation (i.e., prepared prior to, or at the time of, filing the company's annual tax return and IDS) to support a RAP, the penalty may be reduced. In addition, penalties may be reduced in certain circumstances by 20% for voluntary disclosure after notification of an audit, or by 80% for voluntary disclosure before notification of an audit. A taxpayer with an APA will typically not incur tax shortfall penalties. Exceptions to this include non-arm's-length dealings that are not covered by the APA, or noncompliance with the terms and conditions of the APA.

The Commissioner has discretion to remit penalties. PS LA 2008/ 18, sets out guidance on the remission of penalties. The practice statement provides some very restrictive examples in which penalties are to be remitted.

In relation to penalties with respect to failure to have a RAP, given the specific nature of Subdivision 284-E, it would seem unlikely that the Commissioner would remit penalties in the future unless the prescribed documentation exists. Similarly, we are seeing a reluctance to remit failure-to-lodge penalties for SGEs.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

Under Subdivisions 815-B, C and D, amendments can be made within seven years following the date on which a notice of assessment is issued to the taxpayer. Historically, there has been no statute of limitations with respect to TP adjustments.

The tax legislation applicable for financial years starting before 1 July 2013 specifically empowers the Commissioner to make amendments to tax assessments in any year for TP adjustments under Division 13. As such, years starting before 1 July 2013 remain open to challenge indefinitely.

Adjustments can be made under Subdivision 815-A for any financial years starting between 1 July 2004 and 30 June 2013 (inclusive). Like Division 13, there is no limitation on when adjustments can be made. Some of Australia's double-tax agreements, including those with New Zealand and Japan, specify time limits for adjustments.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

All top 1,100 companies in Australia are subject to review over a four-year period, with the top 100 companies being subject to annual reviews. A similar review process has recently been started for large privately owned Australian companies.

The ATO has also recently selected companies in the pharmaceutical and technology industries for audits as well as taxpayers with significant intragroup financing. Outside these groups, the possibility of an annual tax audit in Australia is typically medium. However, if taxpayers exhibit risk factors, the possibility of a review or audit increases significantly.

Where the taxpayer enters a material level of international related-party transactions, TP is almost always reviewed if any general tax review or audit is started.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

It is generally the application of the TP method that is challenged, e.g., the comparables selected and selection of point in the range. However, there have been recent cases where the method has been challenged, e.g., the use of the cost-plus method to remunerate a marketing service function has been rejected in favor of a sales-based measure to determine the remuneration for this function. There have also been recent experiences in which the ATO has sought to apply the profit-split method to determine the remuneration of a local marketing, sales, and distribution entity where it has been concluded that such entity provides a unique and valuable contribution to the overall supply chain. The chance of some adjustment may be medium to high, given the ATO risk selection guidelines for an audit, i.e., the ATO will prioritize resources for those cases where the ATO believes there is a relatively high probability of an adjustment.

No specific regulations, however, the ATO will typically adjust to the median rather than the closest point in the range.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

In determining whether an Australian taxpayer's TP arrangement should be reviewed or audited, the ATO generally considers the size and nature of the related-party dealings, the quality of any TP documentation, and whether the taxpayer's results appear to be commercially realistic. The ATO has developed a sophisticated risk engine that considers these factors, along with other financial and industry data, to determine which taxpayers to review. Related-party transactions undertaken in connection with the following may receive particular attention by the ATO:

- Centralized business models with activity in low-tax jurisdictions, including principals, marketing hubs and procurement companies in low-tax jurisdictions

- Low levels of profitability, or losses
- Financing arrangements, including interest-free loans (for outbound taxpayers), high-interest-bearing loans (for inbound taxpayers) and guarantee fees
- Business restructuring (particularly where profitability is reduced, or intangible property is transferred)
- Transactions with low-tax jurisdictions
- Payments made in connection with intangible property, including royalties or other licensing arrangements
- Management service fees that significantly impact overall profitability or are paid to a low-tax jurisdiction. In addition to ATO focus, financing and transactions that include exploitation of intangibles are the topic of the following draft legislation that is likely to be adopted shortly:
- New legislation regarding thin capitalization and determining an arm's-length capital structure to ensure deductibility of interest costs.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

There is an APA program available in Australia. APA regulations in Australia support unilateral, bilateral and multilateral APAs. The ATO's APA program is outlined in ATO PS LA 2015/ 4. A review of the APA program by the ATO is currently underway.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

An APA in which the ATO is involved typically has a three- to five-year term.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Historically, roll-backs were available subject to the ATO's agreement and the taxpayer's facts. While roll-backs are still included in the PS LA, the ATO may also apply other mechanisms such as a "letter of comfort" or a "settlement deed" depending on the situation.

d. Is MAP available?

Australia has an active MAP program.

There are three layers to consider.

Australia has introduced Debt Deduction Creation Rules that mean that interest on from certain financing arrangements cannot be deducted. This applies to new as well as historical debt.

If the debt does not fail the debt creation rules, the transfer regulations require taxpayers to assess both the level of debt and the interest rate. If the arm's length level of debt multiplied by the arm's length interest rate exceeds the actual interest, the excess interest is permanently denied.

If the interest passes both previous steps, the thin capitalization rules can still be used to reduce the interest deduction as a temporary denial. The Australian thin capitalization rules have three tests that provide a cap:

- Default fixed ratio test based on 30% of tax EBITDA, with potential carry forward of denied deductions (FRT disallowed amounts) for up to 15 years (i.e., temporary denial). Almost all taxpayers will apply this test.
- Two alternative tests – group ratio test; third-party debt test. Great care has to be taken if a taxpayer is looking to rely on either of these tests as there are complex rules on how they are applied and elections can be unrevocable.

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

Yes

b. Name of authority

ATO

c. Name of regulations

Section 3D of the Taxation Administration Act 1953

d. Effective date of applicability

Years starting on or after 1 July 2024

e. Section reference from local regulation

Section 3D of the Taxation Administration Act 1953

14. PCbCR thresholds and exemptions

a. What is the global consolidated income threshold?

AUD1 billion, which is significantly below the action 13 CbCR threshold in many countries.

b. Are there any materiality exemptions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Australian revenue of the global group is less than AUD10 million.

15. Content

a. Does PCbCR align with OECD BEPS Action 13 CbCR requirements?

No

▪ Additional details

While there is partial alignment, the Australian PCbCR regime requires additional documents to be provided, requires a prescriptive data source and has a differing requirement in relation to related party revenues.

b. Is aggregation of transactions allowed?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Information can be aggregated for all countries, with the exception of Australia and the 40 specified countries. This list of specified countries does not align with the EU list and includes countries such as Switzerland, Singapore and Hong Kong.

c. Can you provide data sources and guidance?

Pending as the guidance is not yet finalized and released.

16. Lodgment process and requirements

a. Is lodgment possible?

Yes

- Additional details

Submission through the ATO is required. Self-publication is not allowed.

b. Is lodgment in another jurisdiction possible?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Is lodgment required in a prescribed form and format?

Yes

- Additional details

Format is being finalized but will likely be an XML format.

d. What is the lodgment deadline?

Twelve months after year-end.

17. Penalties

a. What are the maximum administrative penalties?

Several penalty regimes apply, the most severe is the failure to lodge penalty regime for SGEs, which is subject to a maximum of 2,500 penalty units (AUD825,000 at current penalty unit rates).

- Additional details

Other penalties may apply as well including the false and misleading statements regime.

b. Is there any risk of criminal prosecution?

Yes

- Additional details

The penalty provisions do allow for criminal prosecution in extreme cases.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Ministry of Finance

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

- Transfer Pricing Documentation Law (TPDL) and the related regulation for implementation of the law – applicable for fiscal years (FYs) starting on or after 1 January 2016
- Austrian Transfer Pricing Guidelines 2021 (ATPG 2021; last update 11 March 2025) (BMF-GZ 2025-0.159.492, 11 March 2025)
- Section 6 (6), Income Tax Act
- Sections 8 and 12 (1) 10, Corporate Income Tax Act
- Income Tax Guidelines 2000 6. 13. 2. 3., 2511- 2513
- Corporate Income Tax Guidelines 2013 13. 9., 959- 963
- Sections 115, 119, 124, 125, 131 and 138, Federal Tax Code (FTC)
- Section 118, FTC regarding unilateral APAs
- Section 49b, Criminal Tax Law (CTL)
- Several opinions (public rulings called Express Answering Service (EAS)), published by the Ministry of Finance regarding selected TP issues
- CbCR Publication Act – applicable for FYs starting after 21 June 2024

c. Effective date of applicability

1 January 2016

d. Section reference from local regulation

Section 6 (6) of the Income Tax Act and Income Tax Guidelines 2515

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Domestic intragroup transactions have to be documented if transactions directly or indirectly affect the determination and cross-border analysis of appropriate intragroup transfer prices applied within the group.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Austria is a member of the OECD and recognizes the OECD Guidelines, which provide support for domestic use, but do not constitute binding law in Austria. According to the Austrian Transfer Pricing Guidelines, the tax authorities also observe the OECD Report on the Attribution of Profits to Permanent Establishments (AOA), although the AOA is currently not fully applicable, as none of Austria's current double tax treaties include the new Article 7. The Austrian tax authorities recognize the OECD BEPS developments (e.g., BEPS Action 13 was considered as the basis for the implementation of the TPDL). There is no public information available on the extent of reliance of the Austrian tax authorities on the UN Practical Manual on Transfer Pricing for Developing Countries. According to Section 4 of the ATPG 2021, the reports of the EU Joint Transfer Pricing Forum (JTPF) can be used as an interpretative aid for the arm's-length principle but are not legally binding.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Austria implemented the BEPS Action 13 in the Austrian Transfer Pricing Documentation Law.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

CbCR is covered.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The Austrian TPD is applicable for FYs beginning on or after 1 January 2016.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Master File is covered.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The Austrian TPD is applicable for FYs beginning on or after 1 January 2016.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

There is none specified. However, more detailed documentation in connection with intangibles and services is very likely to be requested, based on the case law of the higher administrative court in Austria (stated also in the ATPG 2021).

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Local File is covered.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The Austrian TPD is applicable for FYs beginning on or after 1 January 2016.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

There is none specified. However, more detailed documentation in connection with intangibles and services is very likely to be requested, based on the case law of the higher administrative court in Austria (stated also in the ATPG 2021).

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no penalty protection regime in Austria. The TPD does not define specific penalties regarding the Master and Local Files.

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

▪ Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

Yes

▪ Additional details

For FYs starting on or after 1 January 2016, the TPD is applicable. The TPD stipulates that a Local File has to be prepared by constituent entities resident in Austria if their turnover in each of the previous two fiscal years exceeded EUR50 million. However, the TPD clarifies that documentation obligations existing in addition to the TPD (e.g., accounting and filing obligations according to Federal Fiscal Code) are not affected by the TPD. Consequently, the competent tax office may request additional documents necessary for the determination and examination of the appropriate intragroup transfer prices. Therefore, as part of the general documentation obligations, the taxpayer has to prepare proper documentation evidencing the appropriateness of the transfer prices applied (Section 430 of the ATPG 2021).

The ATPG 2021 include guidance regarding transfer pricing documentation requirements for constituent entities not meeting the threshold of EUR 50 million. According to ATPG 2021 Sections 411 and 412, the required scope of the transfer pricing documentation must be assessed on a case-by-case basis and is not only determined by the scope of the cross-border business relationship itself, but above all by the complexity of the respective facts and the industry. If TP documentation needs to be prepared according to the TPD, both the Master File and the Local File must be submitted upon the request of the competent tax office within 30 days. The Austrian tax authorities can request submission of the Master File and Local File after the constituent entity files its tax return (i.e., the earliest deadline for the submission of the Master File and the Local File is 30 days after filing the tax return of the respective year). For years not covered by the TPD, the Austrian Transfer Pricing Guidelines do not contain any submission deadlines. TP documentation is usually submitted to the Austrian tax authorities upon request during a tax audit. Usually the competent tax inspector will determine a submission deadline, which can vary from case to case (e.g., from one week to several weeks). Upon the tax inspector's consent, an extension of the deadline is possible. Following the OECD Guidelines as well as the ATPG 2021, TP documentation should be prepared at the time of the transaction, or no later than the time of completing and filing the tax return for the fiscal year in which the transaction takes place. The ATPG 2021 additionally state that the TP documentation requirements have to be met in a timely manner. If represented by an Austrian tax advisor, the annual corporate income tax (CIT) return has to be filed by the end of March of the second calendar year following the balance sheet date at the latest – and if the Austrian tax authorities do not ask for an earlier filing. So usually, as already mentioned, the TP documentation needs to be submitted upon request of the tax authorities during a tax audit.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

Section 407 of the ATPG 2021 states that under the provision of FTC Sections 124, 131 and 138, the taxpayer must prove that the pricing in business relations with associated enterprises complies with the arm's-length principle. The requirements in relation to the transfer pricing documentation are to be fulfilled in a timely manner. This means that the documentation obligation must be fulfilled at the time of the transaction or, in any case, no later than the time of the preparation and filing of the tax return for the fiscal year in which the transaction took place.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

No

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Turnover

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

The TPD stipulates that a Master File and Local File have to be prepared by constituent entities resident in Austria if their turnover in each of the previous two fiscal years exceeded EUR50 million. Furthermore, the TPD clarifies that documentation obligations existing in addition to the TPD (e.g., accounting and filing obligations according to the FTC) are not affected by the TPD. Consequently, TP documentation also needs to be prepared by constituent entities not exceeding the turnover threshold. In this regard, the ATPG 2021 stipulates the minimum content required for TP documentation of entities not exceeding the turnover threshold. The required content of the transfer pricing documentation must be evaluated on a case-by-case basis and depends on the volume of the cross-border transactions, the complexity of the facts and circumstances surrounding the transactions in question, as well as the industry.

The Austrian TP regulations do not provide materiality thresholds in relation to the question, which transactions should be included in the TP documentation. In general, all cross-border intercompany transactions need to be documented. However, materiality thresholds are often applied in practice following the approach outlined in OECD Guidelines 2022. If applied, such materiality thresholds may be questioned by the Austrian tax authorities.

▪ CbCR

▪ What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

EUR750 million

▪ What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

▪ Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

The TPDL covers CbCR. A CbCR has to be prepared if the total turnover generated by the multinational group stated in the consolidated annual financial statements of the previous FYs amounts to at least EUR750 million. The term "turnover" should be understood as the sum of the revenues generated from activities on the market. The tables to be used for the CbCR must be in line with the tables provided in the TPDL, which correspond to the tables provided in the OECD Guidelines.

▪ Master File

▪ What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

EUR50 million

▪ What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

▪ Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

The TPDL covers the Master File. A Master File must be prepared by constituent entities resident in Austria if their turnover in each of the previous two fiscal years exceeded EUR50 million. The obligation to prepare the Master File ceases each year if the turnover of the constituent entities is below EUR50 million for two previous consecutive years. Constituent entities resident in Austria that do not exceed the stipulated turnover threshold have to file a Master File upon request if a group entity resident in another state is required to prepare a Master File according to the respective domestic law of its resident state. Furthermore, the TPDL clarifies that documentation obligations existing in addition to the TPDL (e.g., accounting and filing obligations according to the FTC) are not affected by the TPDL. Consequently, TP documentation also needs to be prepared by constituent entities not exceeding the turnover threshold. In this regard, the ATPG 2021 stipulates the minimum content required for TP documentation of entities not exceeding the turnover threshold. The required content of the transfer pricing documentation must be evaluated on a case-by-case basis and depends on the volume of the cross-border transactions, the complexity of the facts and circumstances surrounding the transactions in question, as well as the industry.

▪ Local File

▪ What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

EUR50 million

▪ What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

▪ Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

The TPDL covers the Local File. A Local File must be prepared by constituent entities resident in Austria if their turnover in each of the previous two FYs exceeded EUR50 million. The obligation to prepare the Local File ceases each year if the turnover of the constituent entities is below EUR50 million for two previous consecutive years. Furthermore, the TPDL clarifies that documentation obligations existing in addition to the TPDL (e.g., accounting and filing obligations according to the FTC) are not affected by the TPDL. Consequently, TP documentation also needs to be prepared by constituent entities not exceeding the turnover threshold. In this regard, the ATPG 2021 stipulate the minimum content required for TP documentation of entities not exceeding the turnover threshold. The required content of the transfer pricing documentation must be evaluated on a case-by-case basis and depends on the volume of the cross-border transactions, the complexity of the facts and circumstances surrounding the transactions in question, as well as the industry.

▪ Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is no materiality limit.

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

The TPDL stipulates that the entire documentation must be prepared in a language officially permitted for tax proceedings (typically German) or English. A German translation of documentation prepared in English (or for certain parts thereof) may be requested by the Austrian tax authorities. The regulation of the implementation of the TPDL states that Appendix 3 of the CbCR has to be prepared in English.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Unspecified

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

- Additional details

The Austrian tax authorities expect to be provided with a Local File in which each transaction type is analyzed separately. Note that an aggregated approach is not usual. However, based on Sections 3. 9- 3. 12 of the OECD Guidelines, it is also arguable that for separate transactions that are closely linked to be evaluated together.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

TP-specific returns must be filed along with the annual tax returns.

- b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

Specific continuous disclosure is required in the annual tax return. In the case of a tax audit, the auditors usually ask for a description of related-party transactions, as well as disclosure of all contracts in place with the related parties and TP documentation available. In an increasing number of cases, an extensive TP questionnaire is discussed.

- c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Besides reporting obligations according to the IFRS (which are not incorporated into Austrian law), Section 238 of the Austrian Commercial Code (applicable to medium and large corporations) states that transactions of the company with related companies and persons, as well as information on their value and the type of relationship, must be provided. Further information on the transactions that are necessary for the assessment of the company's financial position must also be provided. It should be noted that this reporting obligation exists (only) for transactions that do not comply with the arm's-length principle and that are material.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

The CbCR notification is not included.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No.

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

31 March (if represented by tax advisor)/30 June (if filed electronically)

▪ Additional details

The CIT return must be filed by 31 March of the second calendar year following the balance sheet date at the latest, if represented by an Austrian tax advisor. If not represented by an Austrian tax advisor, CIT returns must be filed by 30 June of the calendar year following the balance sheet date at the latest, if filed electronically.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

No TP-specific returns must be filed along with the annual tax returns.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

30 June

▪ Additional details

A Master File must be submitted upon the request of the competent tax office within 30 days. The Austrian tax authorities can request submission of the Master File after the constituent entity files its tax return (i.e., the earliest deadline for the submission of the Master File is 30 days after filing the tax return of the respective year). According to Section 407 of the ATPG 2021, the requirements relating to the transfer pricing documentation must be met in a timely way. This means that the documentation must generally be prepared at the time of the business transaction or, at the latest, at the time the tax return is prepared and submitted for the financial year in which the business transaction took place.

▪ Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared) – Transfer pricing documentation must generally be prepared at the time of the business transaction or, at the latest, at the time the tax return is prepared and submitted for the fiscal year in which the business transaction took place.

▪ Submission/filing date – The Master File must be submitted within 30 days upon request by the competent tax office. The competent tax office can request submission after the constituent entity files its tax return (i.e., the earliest deadline for the submission of the Master File is 30 days after filing the tax return of the respective year).

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

▪ Additional details

The filing due date for the CbCR depends on the fiscal year-end of the reporting entity (usually the group's fiscal year-end). If the Austrian constituent entity is the reporting entity, the CbCR has to be filed electronically (via FinanzOnline) with the competent tax office within 12 months after the end of the respective FY.

CbCR for locally headquartered companies

Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared) – CbCR for locally headquartered companies must be filed within 12 months after the end of the respective FY.

Submission/filing date – If the Austrian constituent entity is the reporting entity, the CbCR has to be filed electronically (via FinanzOnline) with the competent tax office within 12 months after the end of the respective FY.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

31 December

▪ Additional details

The TPDL stipulates that a constituent entity that is resident in Austria needs to inform the competent tax office about the identity and residence of the reporting entity by the last day of the FY for which a CbCR is filed. For FYs beginning after 31 December 2021, no notification needs to be filed if no changes occur from the previous year. Each constituent entity needs to submit CbCR notification separately.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

30 June

▪ Additional details

In line with the TPD, the required documentation (the Master File and the Local File, as well as the CbCR) must be prepared for FYs starting from 1 January 2016. Where a constituent entity was officially designated by notice as the surrogate parent entity for the submission of the CbCR, the submitted information can refer to FYs starting from 1 January 2017. Master Files and Local Files prepared in line with the TPD must be submitted upon the request of the competent tax office within 30 days after the constituent entity files its tax return (i.e., the earliest deadline for the submission of the Master File and the Local File is 30 days after filing the tax return of the respective year). Following the OECD Guidelines as well as the ATPG 2021, TP documentation should be prepared at the time of the transaction, or no later than the time of completing and filing the tax return for the Fiscal Year in which a transaction takes place. Consequently, it is highly recommended to have the Master File and the Local File prepared when the tax return is filed at the latest.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There is no statutory deadline in terms of a specific date as to when TP documentation must be submitted. However, under the TPD, there is a statutory deadline in terms of a fixed time in which TP documentation must be submitted upon the tax authorities' request.

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Based on the TPD, the deadline for the submission of the TP documentation (Master File and Local File) is 30 days upon the request of the competent tax office after the constituent entity files its tax return. Based on our experience TP documentation (Master File and Local File) is usually requested by the competent tax auditor during a tax audit. The submission deadline can vary greatly from case to case (e.g., from one week to several weeks). Upon the tax auditor's consent, an extension of the deadline is possible.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Based on the OECD Guidelines and the Austrian Transfer Pricing Guidelines, the Austrian Ministry of Finance accepts the CUP, resale-minus, cost-plus, TNMM and profit-split methods. The Ministry of Finance follows the replacement of the hierarchy of TP methods, according to the 2022 update of Chapters I to III of the OECD Guidelines. Particularly, the TNMM and the profit-split method are no longer considered methods of last resort. According to the Austrian Transfer Pricing Guidelines, the method that provides the highest degree of certainty for the determination of an arm's-length transfer price must be selected.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

The TPD does not include regulations regarding benchmark studies. Generally, local comparables are preferred. However, for Austrian purposes, usually regional pan-European Amadeus benchmark studies (EU 15 or EU 27 along with Iceland, Norway, Switzerland, and the UK) are accepted. When preparing a benchmark study, the five comparability factors must be considered in identifying or determining the set of comparables.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Multiyear analysis is used for the financials of comparables. However, for the tested party, usually each separate year should be within the interquartile range identified by a benchmark study, and specific reasoning should be provided in case of deviations.

Yes, interquartile range calculation using spreadsheet quartile formulas is acceptable.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

Following the OECD Guidelines as well as the ATPG 2021, if the operating conditions remain unchanged, the searches in databases for comparables supporting part of the Local File shall be updated at least every three years. However, deviating from Section of the 5. 38 OECD Guidelines, the ATPG 2021 states under Section 426 that when updating the benchmarking searches, it must be ensured that continuous data is used so that there are no gaps in the data series and no individual years are omitted from the searches. An annual update of the financial data of the benchmarking search is not necessary.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is a clear preference for the weighted average for arm's-length analysis. In practice, three-year weighted average arm's-length ranges are commonly applied.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

- Independence: rejection of companies owned by at least one shareholder (25% threshold) and companies owning at least one subsidiary (25% threshold).
- Type of accounts: unconsolidated.
- Loss-making companies: companies with a weighted average loss are rejected frequently.
- Regarding the comparability of companies identified in database studies, the ATPG 2021 under Section 74 stipulate that the comparability of accounting standards must be ensured. This should, if necessary, also be achievable through adjustment calculations for the audited company (tested party). For comparable companies reporting under EU accounting regulations, it should generally be assumed that the accounting standards are sufficiently comparable.
- If a cost-based TP method is used to assess the arm's length nature of contract R&D services it needs to be noted that Austria offers tax incentives in the form of a research premium, which other countries do or may not have. The research premium decreases the R&D costs. Therefore, the cost base of the tested party will need to be adjusted for the research premium to ensure comparability.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

None, but note that there is an increased risk of adjustments by the Austrian tax authorities. Further, the risk of investigations based on the Criminal Tax Law (CTL) is increased.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the Master File?

Not applicable

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish CbCR?

EUR25,000/EUR50,000

- Are there any other penalties?

At the time of this publication, there was only one specific regulation dealing with TP penalties in Austria. Section 49b of the CTL stipulates that anyone who does not file the CbCR in time, does not file it at all, or incorrectly files the required items in the tables in Appendices 1 to 3 of the TPD, by intent, commits a tax offense. The CTL stipulates penalties of up to EUR50,000 for intent and up to EUR25,000 for gross negligence. While penalties are to be imposed, legal prosecution (by courts) for such tax offenses is excluded by the CTL. However, the TPD does not define specific penalties with regard to the Master File and Local File. Therefore, the general regulations of Section 111 FTC (penalties) apply. According to Section 111 FTC, a fine of up to EUR5,000 per offense can be levied by the tax authorities after they provide the taxpayer with a warning or notification that includes the amount of the fine and an appropriate deadline for taking the required action. In addition, Section 51 (1) lit., a CTL (tax offenses) could be applicable, which stipulates a monetary penalty of up to EUR5,000 for an intentional violation of the tax law disclosure obligations. Additionally, a lack of documentation significantly increases the risk that the tax authorities will regard a transaction as noncompliant with the arm's-length criterion and, thus, the risk of a TP adjustment is also increased. Further, the risk of investigations based on the CTL, especially in connection with incorrect disclosure, is increased.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

Specific penalties are stipulated. Withholding tax may be levied depending on the circumstances and facts. Penalties according to the CTL can be assessed in case of intent or gross negligence (usually a percentage of the unpaid taxes).

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

However, the risk of investigations based on the CTL is increased.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

If the taxable income is increased because the arm's-length criterion has not been met, nondeductible late-payment interest, in the amount of two percentage points above the base rate (published by the European Central Bank), is levied on the CIT payments for any additional prior year for up to 48 months.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

There are no penalty relief provisions available. Late-payment interest will become due on any CIT payments for an additional prior year, regardless of whether the documentation is sufficient. If adjustments are proposed or made by the tax authority in the course of a tax audit, the taxpayer can either file an appeal or request for a MAP, or both.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The statute of limitations on a TP adjustment is usually six years after the end of the calendar year in which the relevant FY ends. If the CTL is to be applied, the statute of limitations is 10 years. In case a tax audit starts within the six-year period, the statute of limitations is extended. The term may be extended for up to 10 years.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

The annual tax audit (i.e., every FY being examined) is very high and TP is highly likely to be reviewed as part of that audit. TP methodology being challenged may be considered to be medium to high, depending on the specific circumstances of the case.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

Based on Section 78 of the ATPG 2021, if the transfer price set by the taxpayer is outside of the arm's-length range, the tax authorities must make an adjustment to the point within the range. It may be appropriate to adjust to the median value. However, if it can be proved that a certain comparative value within the range is the most reliable, such value is decisive.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Intercompany service transactions, intercompany royalty payments, intercompany financing arrangements, transactions with low-tax jurisdictions, as well as business restructurings and change of TP policy leading to a reduction of profits have a higher possibility to undergo audit. The possibility depends more on transaction types than on the industry an MNE is belonging to. Furthermore, due to the update of the ATPG 2021 specific focus on contract R&D services and the consideration of location savings (e.g., research premium or COVID-19 funding) in the transfer pricing methodology is expected.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Based on Section 118 of the FTC, it is possible to apply for a unilateral binding, appealable advance ruling issued by the competent tax office on the tax treatment of a particular (but yet-to-occur) issue related to reorganizations, groups of companies, international tax law (including TP), sales tax law or the existence of abuse. The administrative fee to be paid to the tax authorities in filing an APA request is up to EUR20,000. Under specific circumstances, it is possible to ask the Austrian tax authorities to participate in negotiations of a bilateral or multilateral APA on the basis of Article 25 (3) of the respective double tax treaty.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Usually, APAs based on Section 118 of the FTC are granted for a period of three years.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

A roll-back is only available for bilateral and multilateral APAs in line with Chapter IV of the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines and the BEPS Action 14 Minimum Standard.

d. Is MAP available?

Austria had a total of 229 active MAP applications as of 31 December 2023 (most recent statistics available). The following tables show the average time needed to close MAP cases.

- Average time needed to close MAP cases (in months)

Note: The average time taken to close MAP cases that started before 1 January 2016 was computed by applying the following rules: (i) start date: the date on which the competent authority that received the MAP request decided that the objection raised in the request was justified and initiated the bilateral phase of the MAP, and in cases where Austria's competent authority did not receive the MAP request, the date of the official notification of the initiation of the bilateral phase of the MAP by the other competent authority; and (ii) end date: the date on which an MAP agreement was reached. The date of notification of the taxpayer was not taken into account. If the treaty partner required acceptance of the MAP result by the taxpayer, then the "end" date was counted as the date when the taxpayer responded, either accepting or rejecting the agreement. Note: The average times to close MAP cases that started as from 1 January 2016 were computed according to the MAP statistics reporting framework available at the OECD website.¹

Under Austrian tax law, there are no debt-to-equity rules referring to a fixed percentage or a certain minimum equity. Shareholders are basically free to decide whether to finance their company with equity or loans. The tax authorities may reclassify loans granted by shareholders, loans granted by group companies and loans granted by third parties (guaranteed by group companies) as equity, if the funds are transferred under legal or economic circumstances that typify equity contributions, such as the following:

- The equity of the company is insufficient to satisfy the solvency requirements of the company and the loan replaces equity from an economic point of view.
- The company's debt-to-equity ratio is significantly below the industry average.
- The company is unable to obtain any loans from third parties, such as banks.
- The loan conveys rights similar to shareholder rights, such as profit participations.

If a loan is reclassified (for example, during a tax audit), interest is not deductible for tax purposes and the withholding tax on hidden profit distributions may become due. On the basis of the administrative practice of the Austrian tax authorities and High Court jurisdiction, an equity ratio of about 20%-25% is generally recommended. Austrian tax authorities usually check the equity ratio based on the year-end annual financial statements (by dividing total equity through balance sheet total).

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

Yes

b. Name of authority

Ministry of Justice

c. Name of regulations

Federal Act on the Disclosure of Country-by-Country Income Tax Information Reports (CbCR Disclosure Act)

d. Effective date of applicability

Applicable to FYs starting after 21 June 2024

e. Section reference from local regulation

Not applicable

14. PCbCR thresholds and exemptions

a. What is the global consolidated income threshold?

EUR750 million

b. Are there any materiality exemptions?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

15. Content

a. Does PCbCR align with OECD BEPS Action 13 CbCR requirements?

No

▪ Additional details

PCbCR aligns with Amending Directive (EU) 2021/2101 of the EU Accounting Directive. Information may be presented on the basis of the reporting instructions laid down in Section III, Parts B and C, of Annex III to Council Directive 2011/16/EU (based on OECD BEPS Action 13) when preparing a PCbCR.

b. Is aggregation of transactions allowed?

No

▪ Additional details

PCbCR does not include any reporting of transactions.

c. Can you provide data sources and guidance?

CbCR Disclosure Act, version as of 1 January 2025: RIS - CBCR-Veröffentlichungsgesetz - Bundesrecht konsolidiert, Fassung vom 01.01.2025

16. Lodgment process and requirements

a. Is lodgment possible?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

b. Is lodgment in another jurisdiction possible?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Subsidiary undertakings and branches are exempt from filing the PCbCR if the non-EU/EEA ultimate parent company makes the CbCR publicly available on its website free of charge in at least one of the official languages of the EU. At least one subsidiary undertaking or branch in a member state of the EU or a contracting state of the EEA that has published the report must be stated in the PCbCR. The use of the exemption must be reported to the Commercial Register Court.

c. Is lodgment required in a prescribed form and format?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

d. The European Commission implemented a common template and electronic reporting formats EU Regulation 2024/2952) for a standardized presentation of PCbCR (data.europa.eu/eli/reg_impl/2024/2952/oj)What is the lodgment deadline?)

The PCbCR must be submitted no later than 12 months after the balance sheet date.

17. Penalties

a. What are the maximum administrative penalties?

Maximum of EUR100,000

- Additional details

According to CbCR Disclosure Act the administrative penalties amount to a maximum of EUR20,000 for medium-sized companies and branch offices, EUR50,000 for large companies, and EUR100,000 for companies of public interest.

The Commercial Register Court may impose administrative fines to ensure timely, complete and accurate filing of the PCbCR. For example, in the case of large companies, the penalty can be increased to EUR50,000 after unsuccessful coercive penalties of up to EUR10,000, and to EUR100,000 for companies of public interest.

b. Is there any risk of criminal prosecution?

No

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

The State Tax Service under the Ministry of Economy of the Republic of Azerbaijan

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

The transfer pricing regulations are contained in:

- The Tax Code of the Republic of Azerbaijan adopted by the Law No. 905-IQ from 11 July 2000 including amendments valid during the period starting from 1 January 2024 (the Tax Code)
- Decision of the Ministry of Taxes of the Republic of Azerbaijan No. 1717050000006200, dated 27 January 2017, "Determination and Application of Transfer Pricing," including amendments valid during the period starting from 1 January 2022 (the transfer pricing rules) Major transfer pricing regulations are contained in Article 14- 1 (introduced by Law No. 454-VQD), 16. 1. 4 and 18 of the Tax Code. Jurisdictions with a preferential tax regime are defined in the Presidential Decree of the Republic of Azerbaijan No. 1505, dated 11 July 2017, "Approval of the List of Countries and Territories with Preferential Taxation" and last updated in 2023.

c. Effective date of applicability

1 January 2017

d. Section reference from local regulation

The regulations define controlled transactions as:

- Transactions between a resident of Azerbaijan and a non-resident, both qualifying as related parties under Article 18
- Transactions between a permanent establishment of a non-resident in Azerbaijan and such non-resident itself, as well as its representative or branch offices or other divisions located in other countries
- Effective for 2019 reporting period, transactions between a permanent establishment of a non-resident in Azerbaijan and any person associated (under Article 18) with such non-resident located in other jurisdiction

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing regulations prescribe five methods:

- Comparable uncontrolled price (CUP) method
- Resale price
- Cost-plus
- Transactional profit method
- Profit-split

The CUP method is the most preferred method. If the CUP method cannot be applied, the resale price method and the cost-plus method are preferred.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

The transfer pricing regulations do not specify a preference between local and regional comparables. Moreover, there is no local database available. However, the regulations envisage comparability factors. Therefore, determination of a region highly depends on the facts and circumstances of a tested transaction.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Multiple-year analysis is required.

The transfer pricing regulations envisage an interquartile range of identified comparable as an acceptable market range. The formula for determining the interquartile range is as follows: $Q 1 = (n + 1) \times 0.25$ and $Q 3 = (n + 1) \times 0.75$ $Q 1$ = lower quartile median; $Q 2$ = median; $Q 3$ = upper quartile median; n - number of indicators.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

The benchmarking study is required to be refreshed every year. In a multiple-year search only those comparables having information for each year included in the analysis are accepted.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

A simple average is applied for multiple-year search results.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

The transfer pricing rules prescribe 20% independence and other benchmarking criteria such as three-year average range including reporting year and two previous years.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

There is a AZN6,000 (approximately USD3,500) penalty for non-submission of TP documentation in the form prescribed by the local TP rules.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

AZN10,000 (approximately USD5,880)

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

▪ Are there any other penalties?

A penalty of AZN6,000 (approximately USD3,500) applies for failure to submit the notification on controlled transactions. A penalty of AZN6,000 (approximately USD3,500) applies for presenting inaccurate information in the notification.

A penalty of AZN10,000 (approximately USD5,880) applies for failure to submit the CbCR notification.

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

No

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

TP documentation is required to be maintained by the taxpayer on or before the due date of filing the TP return. The documentation only needs to be submitted with the tax authorities upon request. As per Bangladesh TP law, the data of comparables has to be of the relevant financial year, so there is a contemporaneous requirement.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Turnover

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is an applicable materiality limit in Bangladesh for the purpose of preparing TP documentation based on aggregate transaction values of Bangladesh taka (BDT) 30 million.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

Not applicable

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is no separate threshold for undertaking the Economic analysis.

- Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

TP documentation needs not be submitted in the local language.

- Is a safe harbor available?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

There are no additional requirements or disclosures apart from the statement of international transactions (SIT), TP documentation and accountant's report.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

Under Section 238 of the Act, every person that has entered into an international transaction shall furnish, along with the return of income, an SIT in the form and manner as may be prescribed. Under Section 239, the Deputy Commissioner of Taxes may, by written notice, ask for an accountant's report certifying that the documents and information maintained by a taxpayer are in line with Bangladesh's TP regulations, provided the taxpayer is entering into an international transaction in which the aggregate value of the international transactions entered into by the taxpayer exceeds BDT30 million.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

The income tax return form requires the taxpayer to declare on the face of the return itself whether it has entered into international transaction and, if yes, whether it has submitted the details of such transactions (SIT captures the details of international transaction and is required to be filed along with return of income).

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

From a Bangladesh TP perspective, no specific disclosure is required in the financial statement and annual report.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

15 July or 15 September

- Additional details

Every company (resident or non-resident) is required to file a return of income by the 15th day of the seventh month following the end of the income year or 15 September, following the end of the income year where the said 15th day falls before 15 September.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

15 July or 15 September

- Additional details

It should be filed with the corporate tax return.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

15 July or 15 September

- Additional details

TP documentation is required to be maintained by the taxpayer on or before the due date of filing the TP return. The documentation only needs to be submitted with the tax authorities upon request.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

No

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

This is not known as assessments are yet to begin. Typically, seven to 10 days may be expected.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

- Additional details

Bangladeshi legislation prescribes the following methods: CUP, resale price, cost-plus, profit-split, TNMM and any other method. When it can be demonstrated that none of the first five methods can be reasonably applied to determine the arm's-length price for an international transaction, Section 235 allows the use of any other method that can yield a result consistent with the arm's-length price. To determine a comparable uncontrolled transaction, the relevant rule provides that only the data pertaining to the relevant financial year should be used. However, the rule permits the use of data before the relevant financial year, if it can be substantiated that such data bears facts that could influence the analysis of comparability.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Since no local databases are available, regional benchmarking is undertaken.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Bangladesh TP legislation has not provided any preference for single-year or multi-year testing. Since Bangladesh TP regulations are broadly based on the OECD Guidelines, it is generally suggested that multiple-year data be used.

As per Bangladesh TP laws, in case six or more data sets are being used, the arm's-length price shall be considered as the range of the 30th percentile to the 70th percentile.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

A fresh benchmarking search every year is preferable. The regulations do not explicitly provide guidance in relation to the use of contemporaneous data but the relevant rule provides that only the data pertaining to the relevant financial year should be used. However, the rule permits the use of data before the relevant financial year, if it can be substantiated that such data bears facts that could influence the analysis of comparability.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is a preference for the weighted average.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Penalty provisions are mentioned below.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

▪ Are there any other penalties?

The details of the penalty provisions are provided below:

- For failure to keep, maintain or furnish any information or documents as required by Section 237 of the Act, the taxpayer faces a penalty not exceeding 1% of the value of the international transaction.

- For failure to comply with the notice or requisition under Section 235 of the Act by the Deputy Commissioner of Taxes, the taxpayer faces a penalty not exceeding 1% of the value of the international transaction.

- For failure to file an SIT, there is a penalty of 2% of the value of the international transaction under Section 238 of the Act.

- For not furnishing an accountant's certificate, the taxpayer is fined an amount not exceeding BDT300,000.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

Penalty relief regulation has not been provided as of the time of this publication. The imposition of the penalty is at the discretion of the Deputy Commissioner of Taxes. An aggrieved taxpayer has the option to appeal an adjustment in the following order: 1. First appellate authority: Commissioner of Taxes (Appeals) 2. Final fact-finding authority: Taxes Appellate Tribunal 3. High Court Division of the Supreme Court 4. Final authority: Appellate Division of the Supreme Court

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

When a TP assessment has been initiated, no order of assessment shall be made after three years have passed from the end of the assessment year in which the income was first assessable.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

No

- Additional details

The first round of audits in Bangladesh is yet to be initiated.

- b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

- c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

Not applicable

- d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Not applicable

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

- a. Are APAs available?

Bangladesh does not have a formal APA program.

- b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Not applicable

- c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable

- d. Is MAP available?

As per the provisions of double taxation avoidance agreement between Bangladesh and the relevant jurisdiction

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

There are no relevant regulations or rulings. The TP regulations are currently at a very nascent stage and TP assessment is yet to commence. Therefore, the approach of the tax authorities, or any rulings, on the thin capitalization or debt capacity is not yet known.

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Belgian General Administration of Taxes, part of the Federal Public Service Finance

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

- The Belgian Income Tax Code (ITC)
- Transfer pricing (TP) documentation rules were passed through the law of 1 July 2016 and the Royal Decree of 28 October 2016. Three new Royal Decrees were issued on 16 June 2024 to replace the Royal Decrees of 28 October 2016 with respect to transfer pricing documentation (article 321/5 §4 and §5 of the Belgian Income Tax Code) and are applicable for financial years starting on or after 1 January 2025.
- Belgian administrative guidelines published in February 2019.
- The most recent transfer pricing administrative guidelines were published on 25 February 2020 with reference 2020/C/35. These provide the interpretation of the Belgian tax administration on the OECD Guidelines.
- Various other circular letters were issued in the past on transfer pricing, dispute resolution, etc.

c. Effective date of applicability

1 July 2016

d. Section reference from local regulation

- The arm's-length principle detailed in Article 185, Section 2, of ITC, entered into force on 19 July 2004. Articles 26, 49, 53, 54, 55, 79, 206/3, 307, Section 1, s. 3; and 344 of the Belgian ITC also relate to TP. TP documentation rules are embedded in the Belgian ITC (Articles 321/1-321/7 and 445, Section 3).

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation has to be prepared even if the Belgian company or the permanent establishment has only domestic transactions. In the latter case, it documents the intercompany transactions taking place between Belgian entities and the Belgian branches of foreign entities. In addition, if the company is part of a multinational group and falls within the thresholds for preparation of Master File and Local File transfer pricing forms, it must submit them even if it is only engaged in local intercompany transactions (general Part A and Part C only, in case of the Local File form).

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Belgium is a member jurisdiction of the OECD. The Belgian transfer pricing legislation and guidance are generally in line with the OECD Guidelines. While Belgium considers its transfer pricing laws and regulations to be consistent with the OECD Guidelines through historical practice, coupled with case law and transfer pricing circulars specifying the position of the Belgian tax administration, the Belgian interpretation differs on certain points from these guidelines. Belgium has implemented additional compliance requirements (transfer pricing forms) in addition to the arm's-length principle.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Belgium has adopted its own version of BEPS Action 13 as further detailed below.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

CbCR applies to multinational groups with a consolidated group revenue equal to or exceeding EUR750 million. Belgian entities that are the ultimate parent companies or the surrogate parent companies of such multinational groups should annually file the CbCR form (275.CBC) with the Belgian tax authorities within 12 months after the end of the group's financial year. The Belgian entity may also be required to file this form in a number of cases, for instance, if there is no agreement for the exchange of information in tax matters between Belgium and the reporting entity's jurisdiction. Each Belgian entity of a qualifying multinational group should annually file a CbCR notification form (275.CBC NOT) with the Belgian tax authorities, providing details on the group entity that will comply with the CbCR. The notification should be filed with the Belgian tax authorities no later than the end of the financial year of the group. For reporting periods ending on 31 December 2019 or later, the filing of Form 275 CBC NOT will only be required in case of changes (law of 2 May 2019). For financial years starting 1 January 2025, 275.CBC.NOT now requires indicating whether the submitted form is a first notification, a modification of a previous notification, or a termination of the notification obligation.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2016.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format. Additional changes were made for financial years starting 1 January 2025.

- Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

- Coverage

Master File is covered.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The Master File transfer pricing form (275.MF) is applicable for financial years beginning on or after 1 January 2016

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format. However, specific forms are to be completed and filed through a dedicated platform in a specific electronic format.

For financial years starting 1 January 2025, new explanatory notes to the Royal Decree of 16 June 2024 include new clarifications with respect to the content of the Master File, related to the value chain and functional analysis, DEMPE functions and financing arrangements. Those requirements go beyond what is required from a mere OECD format perspective.

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

- Coverage

Local File is covered.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The Local File transfer pricing form (Parts A and C of 275.LF) is applicable for financial years beginning on or after 1 January 2016. A detailed Local File transfer pricing form (Part B of 275.LF) is applicable for financial years beginning on or after 1 January 2016. In the explanatory notes of the Royal Decree of 16 June 2024 updating the requirements for financial years starting on or after 1 January 2025, tax authorities require to attach available transfer pricing documentation (policies, agreements, etc.) and cost contribution agreements, APAs and captive insurance contracts.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format. However, specific forms are to be completed and filed through a dedicated platform in a specific electronic format.

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

Yes

- Additional details

Provided that compliance with the transfer pricing forms and the related law and Royal Decrees are met

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

It needs to be prepared contemporaneously. Developing jurisprudence indicates that the proactive preparation of transfer pricing documentation demonstrates best efforts of the taxpayer and offers additional support in case of litigation.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

No

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

For companies not exceeding the thresholds in the following section, but involved in intercompany transactions, transfer pricing documentation requirements also exist. Hence, there is no specific financial threshold. Specifically, in the case of a transfer pricing audit, all Belgian companies and permanent establishments need to provide transfer pricing documentation demonstrating that their intercompany transactions take place at arm's length, within 30 days of the request of the Belgian tax authorities.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

EUR750 million of consolidated group turnover in the preceding year

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

CbCR applies to multinational groups with a consolidated group revenue equal to or exceeding EUR750 million in the preceding year. Belgian entities that are the ultimate parent companies or the surrogate parent companies of such multinational groups should annually file the CbCR form (275.CBC) with the Belgian tax authorities within 12 months after the end of the group's financial year. The Belgian entity may also be required to file this form in a number of cases, for instance, if there is no agreement for the exchange of information in tax matters between Belgium and the reporting entity's jurisdiction. Each Belgian entity of a qualifying multinational group should file a CbCR notification form (275.CBC NOT) with the Belgian tax authorities, providing details on the group entity that will comply with the CbCR. The notification should be filed with the Belgian tax authorities no later than the end of the financial year of the group. For reporting periods ending on 31 December 2019 or later, the filing of Form 275 CBC NOT will only be required in case of changes (law of 2 May 2019). For financial years starting on or after 1 January 2025, the form will need to indicate whether the forms concerns a first submission, a submission that informs of a change or a submission informing that the company is no longer subject to the formality (the company does no longer belong to a group meeting the threshold)

- Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

EUR50 million/EUR1 billion/100 FTE

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

Belgian tax resident companies or permanent establishments that exceed at least one of the following criteria in their (statutory) financial accounts of the prior financial year have to submit a Master File transfer pricing form (275.MF) and a Local File transfer pricing form (275.LF):

Operating and financial income equal to or exceeding EUR50 million (excluding nonrecurring items)

Balance sheet total (i.e., total assets) equal to or exceeding EUR1 billion

Maintaining at least 100 full-time employees on average annually

- Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

EUR50 million/EUR1 billion/100 FTE

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

Belgian tax resident companies or permanent establishments that exceed at least one of the following criteria in their (statutory) financial accounts of the prior financial year have to submit a Master File transfer pricing form (275.MF) and a Local File transfer pricing form (275.LF):

Operating and financial income equal to or exceeding EUR50 million (excluding nonrecurring items)

Balance sheet total (i.e., total assets) equal to or exceeding EUR1 billion

Maintaining at least 100 full-time employees on average annually

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is no materiality limit. However, in the absence of an Economic analysis, the transfer pricing documentation will likely be considered incomplete.

- Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

Answers to formal questions of the tax authorities must be given in one of the Belgian official languages (i.e., French, Dutch or German). The transfer pricing documentation and transfer pricing forms can be submitted in one of the Belgian official languages or in English.

- Is a safe harbor available?

No

- Additional details

Belgium has no safe harbor rules.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

- Additional details

A transaction-by-transaction approach is preferred, unless transactions are so closely linked or continuous that they cannot be evaluated adequately on a separate basis.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

There are specific transfer pricing returns in Belgium, including the CbCR (275.CBC) and Master File forms (275.MF), both of which have to be filed, at the latest, 12 months after the last day of the group's financial year-end to which they relate. The Local File transfer pricing forms (275.LF) have to be filed at the same time as the deadline of the corporate tax return for the financial year to which they relate. In addition, companies that are part of a multinational group of companies subject to CbCR also have to notify the Belgian tax authority of the name of the entity and the jurisdiction of its tax residence that will submit the CbC notification (275.CBC. NOT) every year, before the end of the group's financial year in case of changes (see supra). For financial years starting 1 January 2025, 275.CBC.NOT now requires indicating whether the submitted form is a first notification, a modification of a previous notification, or a termination of the notification obligation (see supra).

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

The reporting requirement introduced through Article 307, Section 1, s. 3 of the Belgian ITC, relates to payments of more than EUR100, 000 per taxable period made by resident or non-resident entities (Belgian permanent establishments) to persons established in tax havens on or after 1 January 2010. Tax havens are defined with reference to a "blacklist" determined through a Royal Decree (it currently contains around 30 jurisdictions that either do not levy corporate income tax or have a nominal corporate income tax rate that is lower than 10%). A mandatory form (No. 275 F) for reporting direct or indirect payments to persons established in tax havens is to be attached to the tax return. Failure to report payments results in the non-deductibility of such payments. In addition, these tax deductions are acceptable only when proof is presented by the Belgian taxpayer that these payments relate to actual and bona fide transactions at arm's length with persons other than artificial constructions.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

The Belgian accounting rules introduced through the Royal Decree of 10 August 2009 require that companies provide certain additional information that relates to TP in the notes or annex section of their statutory annual accounts, as follows:

Companies must provide information regarding the nature and business purpose of their relevant off-balance sheet arrangements; whether underlying risks and benefits are considered material; and when the disclosure is necessary to correctly assess the financial position of the company. This requirement is applicable in cases of intragroup guarantees, pledges, factoring liabilities, transactions with special-purpose entities (whether transparent or not) and offshore entities.

Companies must disclose their material transactions with affiliated parties that are considered not to be at arm's length. Depending on the type of company, a different scope of information is to be provided, ranging from merely listing such transactions to mentioning the amounts involved, alongside all other information necessary for a correct view of the company's financial position.

While this rule is not included in the Belgian Tax Code, it creates a requirement for the relevant entities to review and document the arm's-length nature of their intercompany transactions. Noncompliance may result in director liability.

Evidently, any such disclosures are a source of information for a tax inspector to initiate a (targeted) transfer pricing audit.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

The CbCR notification should be submitted in a form separate from the statutory tax return.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No other transfer pricing filings, other than these listed under the above paragraphs

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

31 July (collective extensions possible)

▪ Additional details

Generally, the deadline is seven months after the financial year-end. For a company with a calendar financial year, the deadline is, in principle, 31 July. Tax authorities do, however, grant collective extensions on an annual basis, but plan to reduce these in the future.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

31 July

▪ Additional details

Local File transfer pricing forms (275.LF) should be filed at the same time as the filing deadline of the corporate tax return.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

31 December

▪ Additional details

Master File transfer pricing form (275.MF) needs to be submitted within 12 months after the last day of the group's financial year to which it relates.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

▪ Additional details

It should be filed within 12 months after the last day of the group's financial year to which it relates. For a group with a calendar financial year, the deadline would be 31 December of the next year.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

31 December

▪ Additional details

The filing deadline is by the end of the financial year of the group. The new section in Article 321/ 3 ITC (§ 3) states that the filing of Form 275 CBC NOT is required only if the information provided deviates from what was filed for the previous reporting period. This should be submitted for each legal entity/establishment separately.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

31 July

▪ Additional details

For the Master File transfer pricing form (275.MF) and Local File transfer pricing form (275.LF), see the above section. In addition, when completing the Local File form, which is due at the same time as the deadline for the corporate income tax return, the taxpayer should notify the tax authorities if transfer pricing documentation is available. The transfer pricing Local File report must be available upon the request of the Belgian tax authorities (e.g., in case of a transfer pricing audit).

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no obligation to submit the Local File transfer pricing report. However, as mentioned above, the Local File transfer pricing report should be available upon the request of the Belgian tax authorities (e.g., in case of a transfer pricing audit). In addition, if the Belgian company or permanent establishment of an MNE group falls within the thresholds to prepare and submit the Local File transfer pricing forms – as the latter asks to confirm the existence of the aforesaid Local File transfer pricing documentation reports – the existence of such reports also needs to be mentioned as the filing of the tax return.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The taxpayer must submit the transfer pricing documentation report within 30 days upon request.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

- a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

- Additional details

There is no real hierarchy of methods. In case multiple methods can be applied in an equally reliable manner, then the traditional transaction methods are preferred over the transactional profit methods. The CUP method is preferred if it and another method can be applied in an equally reliable manner.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

- a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

In case sufficient comparability references cannot be found in the jurisdiction of the tested party, this can be expanded with markets that are closest comparables to the market of the tested party. The Belgian administration accepts pan-European studies.

- b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Single-year testing is required.

The interquartile range is preferred by the Belgian tax administration. In case of very high and equal comparability with the third-party reference points, each point in the full range can be a reference for a comparable price.

The Belgian tax authorities recommend performing a full update of the original comparability study every three years. A yearly update of the results of the original comparability study is expected.

- e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

No formal guidance exists in this regard.

- f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

The Belgian tax authorities issued in the transfer pricing circular of 2020 more detailed administrative guidelines containing suggested criteria for the benchmarking search.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

- a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

The absence of the mandatory transfer pricing documentation required to be filed with the tax return (Local File transfer pricing forms) results in an incomplete or inaccurate tax return, which may lead to the reversal of the burden of proof. In addition, administrative penalties may be levied ranging from EUR1,250 to EUR25,000. The general tax penalty framework may apply to transfer pricing adjustments. These penalties vary from 10% to 200% (in exceptional cases).

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

EUR1,250 to EUR25,000

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

EUR1,250 to EUR25,000

- Are there any other penalties?

In accordance with the transfer pricing legislation, failure to submit the CbC report, CbCR notification, Master File forms (275.MF) or Local File transfer pricing forms (275.LF) will result in an administrative penalty ranging from EUR1,250 to EUR25,000. This penalty will apply as of the second infringement. Furthermore, noncompliance with the transfer pricing documentation obligations increases the possibility of a transfer pricing audit. In addition, the absence of the mandatory transfer pricing documentation required to be filed with the tax return (Local File transfer pricing forms) results in an incomplete or inaccurate tax return, which may lead to the reversal of the burden of proof.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

The general tax penalty framework applies to transfer pricing adjustments. These penalties vary from 10% to 200% (in exceptional cases). The rate depends on the degree of intent to avoid tax or the degree of the company's gross negligence. Furthermore, for late payments, interest is due on additional tax assessments (including assessments resulting from a transfer pricing adjustment).

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

With respect to the application of the general tax penalty framework, although the burden of proof of non-arm's-length pricing lies principally with the tax authority, the taxpayer needs to provide all information necessary to allow the tax authority to verify the company's tax position. Therefore, since additional tax assessments largely depend on the degree of intent to avoid taxes or on the company's gross negligence, penalties may be reduced or eliminated if the taxpayer can demonstrate its intent to establish transfer prices in accordance with the arm's-length principle, which would generally be the case through the availability of detailed local documentation reports. MAPs or the EU Arbitration Convention is available to resolve tax disputes with the Belgian tax authorities. Alternatives include initiating administrative appeal procedures or proceedings in court.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The general rules regarding the statute of limitations equally apply to transfer pricing assessments. Therefore, the tax authority is entitled to make additional assessments for a period of three years, starting from the closing of the accounting year. For financial years starting on or after 1 January 2022, different statutes apply if the company is subject to transfer pricing reporting requirements. If a company needs to submit a form 275 LF or 285 MF, assessments can be made for a period of six years (instead of three). Late or incomplete filing of the tax return triggers statutes of four years (where for the six years statutes only the transfer pricing reporting obligation is considered, not whether the return has been filed late or incomplete). In the case of fraud being considered, the tax authority has the right to adjust the income during a 10-year period, provided the taxpayer received prior notice of indications of fraud. The financial years in which tax losses arise can be audited in the financial years where those losses are used to offset taxable income, even beyond the standard statutes. Some other exceptional statutes of limitations also exist for specific situations (e.g., information obtained from abroad).

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

In Belgium, the possibility of a tax audit may be regarded as medium to high due to a significant number of transfer pricing audit questionnaires sent by the Belgian tax authorities to Belgian companies and permanent establishments, and the significant staffing and reinforcement of the Belgian transfer pricing Audit Cell. The Belgian tax authorities also use systematic data-mining techniques to identify and target Belgian companies and permanent establishments for transfer pricing audits; they also use information available in the filed transfer pricing forms.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Depending on the robustness of the transfer pricing methodology and support available, the possibility of an adjustment may be regarded as medium to high.

According to the 2020/C/35 TP Circular Letter, transfer pricing adjustments by the tax authorities will be done to the median of the interquartile range (or full range as applicable), unless another point in the range can be sufficiently supported.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

In practice, a transfer pricing audit is often triggered by situations such as:

- Structural losses
- Sudden decrease in profitability
- Business reorganizations
- Migration of businesses
- The use of tax havens or low-tax-rate countries
- Back-to-back operations
- Circular structures
- Invoices for services sent at the end of the year, i.e., management services
- Changes in the number of employees
- Business restructurings
- Intangibles-related and financial transactions
- Financial transactions
- Failure to file transfer pricing forms in Belgium

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

There is an APA program available in Belgium for unilateral, bilateral and multilateral APAs.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The APAs are generally granted for a five-year term, which is the legal maximum. Unilateral APAs are generally granted for a three-year term.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Roll-backs are allowed in principle for one year subject to the approval and agreement with the Belgian Competent Authority. Roll-backs will only be permitted if the applicable time limits (such as the tax assessment terms) allow this. Roll-backs are not available for unilateral APAs.

d. Is MAP available?

MAPs are generally available under the double tax treaties that Belgium has with its treaty partners, as well as under the EU Arbitration Convention.

a. Thin capitalization rule (until tax year 2019 with grandfathering) The Belgian tax law provides for a general thin capitalization rule (5: 1 debt-equity ratio), according to which interest payments or attributions in excess of a 5: 1 debt-equity ratio are not tax deductible. This thin capitalization rule exists until and including tax year 2019. As of the tax year 2020 (financial years ending 31 December 2019 or later), the EBITDA-based rule will apply. This thin capitalization rule will, however, remain applicable in two cases: (i) grandfathered loans (i.e., loans granted before 17 June 2016, in case no "fundamental" modifications have been made); and (ii) interest paid to a beneficiary located in a tax haven.

b. New EBITDA-based rule (as of tax year 2020) The EBITDA-based rule is in line with the EU Anti-Tax Avoidance Directive I requirements. Exceeding borrowing costs will only be tax-deductible up to the highest of the following two thresholds: (i) 30% of the taxpayer's fiscal EBITDA, or (ii) EUR3 million. The borrowing costs exceeding these thresholds that are not deducted in the current taxable period can be carried forward indefinitely. Taxpayers that are part of the same group also have the possibility to transfer unused EBITDA capacity to other group companies, provided certain conditions are met.

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

Yes

b. Name of authority

Ministry of Economy

c. Name of regulations

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

As a general comment, the Bosnian tax system consists of three separate entities (jurisdictions), i.e., the Federation of Bosnia and Herzegovina (FBiH), Republic of Srpska (RS), and Brcko District (BD), which have separate legal and, therefore separate tax systems.

FBiH: Tax Authority of the Federation of Bosnia and Herzegovina

RS: Tax Administration of Republic of Srpska

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

FBiH

Articles 44-46 of the Corporate Income Tax (CIT) Law define the arm's-length principle, the acceptable methods, and the obligation to prepare and file TP documentation, which are available on the official website of the Tax Authority of the FBiH. Articles 58-59 of the CIT Law refer to penalties, among others, for non-possession of TP documentation and are available on the official website of the Tax Authority of the FBiH (effective from 5 March 2016).

The Rulebook on TP provides further details about the methods for the determination of arm's-length prices in intragroup transactions, and prescribes obligatory content and the filing deadline of the TP documentation, related-party or associated enterprise criteria, safe harbor transactions, etc. The Rulebook on TP is available on the official website of the Tax Authority of the FBiH (effective from 27 August 2016).

Republic of Srpska

Articles 31-35 of the CIT Law prescribe the related-party definition, arm's-length principle, acceptable methods, and the obligation to prepare and file TP documentation. Articles 58-60 of the CIT Law refer to penalties, among others, for no possession of TP documentation and are available on the official website of the Tax Administration of Republic of Srpska (effective from 1 January 2016).

The Rulebook on TP and the methods for the determination of arm's-length prices in intragroup transactions provides further details about these and prescribes obligatory content of the TP documentation effective from 26 May 2016).

c. Effective date of applicability

FBiH TP Rulebook: 5 March 2016

RS TP Rulebook: 26 May 2016

d. Section reference from local regulation

FBiH

Article 44 of the CIT Law and Article 6 of the Rulebook on TP defines related parties and associated enterprises.

Republic of Srpska

Article 31 of the CIT Law and Article 4 of the Rulebook on TP define related parties and associated enterprises.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There is a documentation obligation for domestic transactions.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Bosnia and Herzegovina and all its tax jurisdictions (i.e., FBiH and Republic of Srpska) are not members of the OECD. TP legislation in the FBiH and the Republic of Srpska are generally based on the OECD Guidelines. The EU Joint Transfer Pricing Forum and UN tax manual are not directly recognized by Bosnian transfer pricing legislation.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The FBiH implemented BEPS Action 13 to a certain extent through local TP legislation, Master File and CbC report;

the Republic of Srpska prescribed only the CbC report in local legislation and TP documentation in accordance with the local TP Rulebook.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Groups with consolidated revenue above approximately EUR750 million for Republic of Srpska and FBiH

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

FBiH: The effective date for filing CbCR is 27 August 2016 (FY 2016).

Republic of Srpska: There is none specified, but it can be identified with the effective date of the TP Rulebook application (26 May 2016 – FY 2016).

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

FBiH: No material differences from OECD format. Republic of Srpska: Not applicable, i.e., there is no CbCR template prescribed by local regulations.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

FBiH TP legislation in the FBiH covers Master File. Republic of Srpska does not cover Master File.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

FBiH: The effective date for the preparation of a Master File is 1 January 2018. Republic of Srpska: There is none specified, but it can be identified with the effective date of the TP Rulebook application (26 May 2016 – FY 2016).

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

FBiH: No material differences from OECD format. Republic of Srpska: Not applicable, i.e., there is no Master File template prescribed by local regulations.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

FBiH TP legislation in the FBiH covers Local File. Republic of Srpska does not cover Local File.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

FBiH: The effective date for the preparation of a Local File (i.e., TP report) is 27 August 2016 (FY 2016).

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

FBiH: No material differences from OECD format. Republic of Srpska: Not applicable, i.e., there is no Local File template prescribed by local regulations.

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

▪ Additional details

FBiH

The BEPS Action 13 format for the Local File would not suffice (i.e., some requirements, mostly related to the description of the local entity itself, local industry analysis, should be supplemented with some additional information) whereas particular information prescribed for the Master File in the OECD report template or format would be required.

Republic of Srpska

The BEPS Action 13 format for the Local File would not suffice (i.e., some requirements, mostly related to the description of the local entity itself, local industry analysis, should be supplemented with some additional information), whereas for the Master File, this is Not applicable.

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

No

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

No

- Additional details

The Rulebook on TP provides rules for the preparation of TP documentation. TP documentation needs to be prepared by a certain due date, but it is to be submitted upon the request of the tax authorities.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

TP documentation has to be prepared annually under local jurisdiction regulations in the FBiH and the Republic of Srpska. Every section of the TP report should be updated with the latest available information.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

No

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is no materiality limit.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

EUR750 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Groups with consolidated revenue above approximately EUR750 million for Republic of Srpska and FBiH

- Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

FBiH: EUR750 million, RS: Not applicable

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

In the FBiH, the threshold for preparation of Master File is EUR750 million and is set on the group level. Not applicable for RS.

- Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

Not applicable

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is no materiality threshold.

- c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

The TP report should be prepared in the local language (i.e., Bosnian, Croatian or Serbian).

FBiH: If required, a Master File could be submitted in English, but the local tax authority does not waive the right to request the translation.

Republic of Srpska: There are no specific requirements.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Yes

- Additional details

- FBiH

TP legislation in the FBiH prescribes safe harbor of 5% on the total cost of the service for the receipt of specific administrative and support services, which are not provided to third parties (by service provider).

- Republic of Srpska

TP legislation in the Republic of Srpska does not prescribe safe harbor for controlled transactions.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

- Additional details

- FBiH

TP legislation in the FBiH prescribes individual testing of transactions, but depending on the circumstances, in some cases, transfer prices can be determined on the aggregate basis of several transactions or at the level of the production line, and not at the level of each individual transaction.

- Republic of Srpska

Two or more controlled transactions realized in the same or similar circumstances that are economically related or represent a series that cannot be reliably analyzed separately, can be tested on aggregate basis.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

Yes

Bosnian legislation does not explicitly prescribe the currency in which the transfer pricing documentation should be prepared; however, implicitly it may be concluded that the transfer pricing documentation should be prepared in local currency (BAM) and that the stated amounts should be consistent with the information from the official financial statements.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

▪ Additional details

FBIH

Taxpayers should prepare the form with summary of controlled transactions (TP 902 form) in case that its related-party transactions exceed BAM500,000. This document should be provided to the tax authorities alongside the CIT return. There is a specific form prescribed in this respect and it should be signed by an authorized person in the company and submitted by 31 March for the previous year. In addition, taxpayers may have to submit the TP-900 form (elimination of double taxation when two or more companies are operating in the territory of FBIH) by 31 March for the previous fiscal year (FY) if they fulfill the prescribed requirements.

Republic of Srpska

Taxpayers are obliged to submit an annual report of controlled transactions if the total amount of their controlled transactions is above BAM700,000 alongside with the CIT return by 31 March for the previous year.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

▪ Additional details

Taxpayers are obligated to disclose tax-based adjustments based on the TP analysis in their annual CIT return, while other TP information (revenues and expenses resulting per each type of transactions with related parties, etc.) are disclosed in submitted TP form alongside with the CIT return.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Information relating to transactions with related parties should be disclosed within notes in the financial statements.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

31 March (FBIH)/31 March (Republic of Srpska)

▪ Additional details

It's 30 days from the deadline for submission of financial reports (e.g., for 2022, the deadline for the CIT return would be the end of March 2023) in the FBIH. And it's 90 days after the fiscal year-end (in case the fiscal year-end corresponds to the calendar year-end, the submission deadline is 31 March of the current FY for the previous FY) in the Republic of Srpska.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

31 March

▪ Additional details

It's 31 March for the previous FY for the TP-900 and TP-902 forms in the FBIH and 31 March for the previous FY for the annual report of controlled transactions in the Republic of Srpska.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Forty-five days from request in FBIH, Not applicable in Republic of Srpska

▪ Additional details

- Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared): This is not prescribed.
- Submission/filing date: In FBIH, MF should be prepared and submitted upon tax authorities' request within 45 days of the request. Not applicable in Republic of Srpska.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

No later than 12 months after the last day of the reporting tax period of the MPL group

- Additional details

Regardless on the location of headquartered companies (locally or US), the ultimate parent entity of an MNE group established in FBiH needs to prepare and submit CbCR by no later than 12 months after the last day of the reporting tax period of the MPL group.

In the Republic of Srpska, a CbC report should be prepared by 31 March of a current FY for the previous FY and submitted within 30 days upon request by tax authorities (alongside TP documentation).

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

No deadline prescribed for CbC notification.

- Additional details

FBiH: As to the notification on the entity within the group obliged to submit CbCR, please note that deadline for submission of notification is not envisaged by the applicable legislation, however, according to the practice, the deadline is understood to be the same deadline as for CbCR (i.e., no later than 12 months after the last day of the reporting tax period of the MPL group).

Republic of Srpska: Not applicable

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

31 March

- Additional details

FBiH: The deadline for preparation of the TP report is 31 March of a current FY for the previous FY.

Republic of Srpska: The deadline for preparation of the TP report is 31 March of a current FY for the previous FY.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

TP legislation in the FBiH and the Republic of Srpska does not prescribe a statutory deadline for the submission of TP documentation but sets out that TP documentation must be prepared by the CIT return submission deadline.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

FBiH: 45 days upon tax authority request. Republic of Srpska: 30 days upon tax authority request.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

- Additional details

FBiH: Traditional transaction methods have priority for application in TP in the FBiH, with CUP defined as the most preferable method.

Republic of Srpska: TP legislation in the Republic of Srpska does not prescribe priorities in the application of methods.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Foreign comparables are accepted for the purpose of a benchmark analysis, if no local comparables could be identified in the FBiH and the Republic of Srpska.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Use of a multiyear analysis is mandatory in the FBiH; use of multiyear analysis is recommended in the Republic of Srpska.

This is mandatory in the FBiH, whereas its use in the Republic of Srpska is recommended.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

TP legislation in the FBiH and the Republic of Srpska does not prescribe this issue. However, as per OECD Guidelines, there is no need to conduct a fresh benchmarking search every year. TP documentation has to be prepared annually, and there is no need to conduct a fresh benchmarking search every year, i.e., a roll-forward (update of financials of comparable companies) of the previous year's benchmarking analysis should be acceptable, too. Furthermore, the financials of a taxpayer should be updated every year in accordance with the financial statements for that year.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Application of the weighted average is mandatory in the FBiH, whereas its application is recommended in the Republic of Srpska.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

Independence of a company is evaluated by related-party rules stating that an entity is considered a related party if it has 25% of shares or votes of the taxpayer. In the FBiH, a related party is any person/entity closely related to the taxpayer. In addition, as per FBiH TP Rulebook, when preparing the benchmark, the companies that should be excluded from the analysis are those with the following financial results:

- Average weighted loss for the tested period
- Loss incurred for more than half of the tested periods

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

FBiH The taxpayer is exposed to the risk of penalty in the amount of BAM3,000 to BAM100,000 (approximately EUR1,500 to EUR50,000) as well as the responsible individual in the taxpayer (e.g., director, CEO or general manager) is exposed to the risk of penalty in the amount of BAM2,500 to BAM10,000 (approximately EUR1,250 to EUR5,000) in case of not possessing the required TP documentation in accordance with the CIT Law (Article 58, paragraph 2 point j).

According to the tax administration law, if the mentioned violations are committed more than once, the stated penalty for the taxpayer is to be increased by an additional 50%.

RS: The taxpayer is exposed to the risk of penalty in the amount of BAM20,000 to BAM60,000 (approximately EUR10,000 to EUR30,000) as well as the responsible individual in the taxpayer (e.g., director, CEO or general manager) is exposed to the risk of penalty in the amount of BAM5,000 to BAM15,000 (approximately EUR2,500 to EUR7,500) in case of not possessing TP documentation that contains sufficient information to determine arm's-length nature of transactions in accordance with the CIT Law (Article 58, paragraph 1 point 2).

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

FBiH: The taxpayer is obligated to possess a TP report at the time of submission of the CIT return. Penalties in the amount of BAM3,000 to BAM100,000 (approximately EUR1,500 to EUR50,000) could be imposed if the taxpayer doesn't possess the TP report on the due date of the CIT return. Additionally, penalties in the amount of BAM2,500 to BAM10,000 (approximately EUR1,250 to EUR5,000) could be imposed on a responsible person in the company for the previously mentioned.

Republic of Srpska: The range of penalties for eventual noncompliance (i.e., not having a prepared TP report on the day of submission of the annual CIT return or missing the deadline for submitting TP documentation after receiving a request from the relevant tax authorities) is between approximately EUR10,000 and EUR30,000 for the legal entity. And it's between approximately EUR2,500 and EUR7,500 for the responsible individual in the legal entity.

Criminal prosecution - FBiH/RS: There is very low limit in terms of unpaid taxes of approximately EUR5,000, which can already lead to criminal investigation against the company or responsible persons and imprisonment in case tax evasion (e.g., intentional avoidance of paying taxes by providing false or incomplete information or failing to report income and relevant facts that affect tax liability).

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

▪ Additional details

In addition to abovementioned penalties, the possible adjustment of taxable income on a TP basis may result in increased CIT liability and penalty interest payments for late tax payments.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

Penalties would only be assessed in case the TP documentation for the relevant tax period is not prepared. It is possible that the competent authorities dispute the information presented in the TP documentation due to the non-contemporaneous nature of said TP documentation. In that case, the taxpayer could be liable for additional CIT liability payment and related penalty interest.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

FBiH: Legislation in the FBiH prescribes that the interest is charged at a daily rate of 0.04% on imposed tax liability.

Republic of Srpska: Legislation in the Republic of Srpska prescribes that the interest is charged at a daily rate of 0.03% on imposed tax liability.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The general statute of limitations period of five years for direct taxes in the FBiH and the Republic of Srpska can be applied to TP assessments. In FBiH, there is no statute of limitation for direct taxes in circumstances such as falsely prepared tax returns or failure to prepare and submit a tax return or intentional concealment or undertaking action to hide the offense from the TA.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

FBiH

The TP practice in FBH is still in the development stage; tax authorities are aware of the topic but still lacking sophistication, usually concentrating on the fulfillment of the prescribed liability - possession of the TP study, rather than the actual content of the study.

Practically, it has been observed that TP documentation is typically requested by inspectors during direct tax audits. In most cases, this documentation is not subjected to further detailed examination. Nonetheless, it is important to note that the practice of auditing TP documentation seem to be developing.

RS

The TP practice in RS is also still in the development stage; tax authorities are aware of the topic, but still lacking sophistication. Practically, it has been observed that TP documentation is typically requested by inspectors during direct tax audits.

Up to recently tax audits were usually concentrating to the fulfillment of the prescribed liability - possession of the TP study, rather than to the actual content of the study; however, recently they are a little bit more aggressive and do examine the content of TP studies as well.

In the lack of sophistication, we have seen different outcomes. It is important to note that the practice of auditing TP documentation is developing.

- b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

Given the lack of practice, the possibility to additionally adjust tax base may be medium since the tax authorities have a limited level of sophistication in TP methodology.

FBiH

When using TNMM, the arm's-length range is between the first and third quartile. It is not prescribed to which point within interquartile range TP adjustment should be made. For other methods, specific regulations on TP adjustments are not prescribed.

Republic of Srpska

In general, TP adjustment should be calculated to the median. In case the adjustment is made to some other point within the arm's-length range, the taxpayer should prove accuracy and comparability of such approach.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Despite adherence to TP rules and the existence of TP documentation, the TA frequently scrutinizes management and similar support services, often challenging them due to reasons such as insufficient documentation or the presence of internal functions within the taxpayer's organization that overlap with the provided services.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Advance rulings and APAs are not available in the FBiH or the Republic of Srpska.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Not applicable

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable

d. Is MAP available?

This is applicable through double tax treaties. There is still no elaborate practice in FBiH or the Republic of Srpska regarding MAP.

However, to the best of our knowledge, it seems that FBiH is currently considering this matter to develop MAP regulations aligned with BEPS Action 14. However, we are not aware that RS Ministry of Finance is considering this matter.

FBiH

A thin capitalization rule applies in the FBiH, under which interest expense relating to debt more than a 4:1 debt-to-equity ratio is nondeductible.

RS

Practically, in the Republic of Srpska, under the thin capitalization rule interest cost cannot exceed 30% of the tax base before interest. Any cost of interest exceeding this threshold is considered as nondeductible expense for CIT purposes.

No

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

There are no additional guidelines outside the regulations, and the significance of the OECD Guidelines in interpreting these regulations has been provided. The Local File should be prepared contemporaneously, and it is to be filed on or before the prescribed due date for filing the tax return. The Master File is only submitted to the tax authority upon request.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Value of international transactions

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Documentation is required where the value of the intercompany transactions exceeds BWP5 million, provided there is no artificial splitting of transactions. This is based on guidance from the tax authority and not necessarily provided for in the current legislation. It is likely that the threshold will be legislated as part of the upcoming income tax act revision.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

Not applicable

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is no requirement to prepare a CbCR.

- Master File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?
BWP5 million
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Total international related-party transactions
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
The detailed group information (Master File) will be required from only those taxpayers whose transactions with connected persons exceed BWP5 million. It shall be filed on request from the tax authority.
 - Local File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?
BWP5 million
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Total international related-party transactions
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
Documentation is required where the value of the intercompany transactions exceeds BWP5 million, provided there is no artificial splitting of transactions.
 - Economic analysis
 - Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?
No
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Not applicable
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
There is no materiality threshold for preparing an Economic analysis.
- c. Specific requirements
- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?
No
 - Additional details
All transfer pricing documentation sent to the tax administration is to be drafted in Setswana or English.
 - Is a safe harbor available?
No
 - Additional details
There are no safe harbor rules.
 - Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?
Individual testing
 - Additional details
Transactions are to be tested individually where either their nature is different or the related parties to each transaction are different.
 - Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?
No
-
- #### 4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures
-
- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?
No
- Additional details
There is no transfer pricing-specific return. The Local File should be filed as an attachment to the corporate income tax return.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

Filed as attachments to the corporate income tax return

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Not applicable

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

There is no requirement for CbCR.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

Four months after the end of the taxpayer's financial year

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Upon notification from tax authority

- Additional details

The Master File will be filed on notification from the tax authority, and the due date will be stated in the notice.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

There is no CbCR, hence no notification requirement.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

There is no CbCR, hence no notification requirement.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

Before tax return filing

- Additional details

The Local File should be prepared before filing the tax return.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

- Additional details

The Local File should be filed together with the tax return on the prescribed return filing date, i.e., four months after the end of the fiscal year.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The deadline will be specified in the tax authority notice.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

- Additional details

The regulations provide that, where possible, the CUP is to be the default transfer pricing method. Where both the traditional and the transactional methods can be equally applied, the traditional methods are to be used. Furthermore, the taxpayer has been allowed to use any other method outside the approved methods provided that the Commissioner General (CG) is satisfied that the transfer pricing method used is consistent with the regulations and that none of the five approved methods can be reasonably applied.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

The tax authority will consider comparables from the same geographic market as the controlled transaction. Where such information is not available, the tax authority may accept information from any other geographic market.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

It is not mandatory. However, where used, the law requires that the taxpayer justifies the use of the multiyear data.

The regulations provide for the use of the full range and not interquartile.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

The law provides for analysis for each tax year.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is no provision for the use of averages.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none.

▪ Are there any other penalties?

None

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

▪ Additional details

A penalty equal to the greater of (i) 200% of the amount of tax that would have been payable had the transaction been conducted at arm's length, or (ii) a fine of BWP10,000

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

▪ Additional details

A penalty equal to the greater of (i) 200% of the amount of tax that would have been payable had the transaction been conducted at arm's length, or (ii) a fine of BWP10,000.

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The liability is treated like any other liability which if it remains unpaid, attracts interest at 1.5% per month or part thereof.

▪ Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Penalty relief of up to 50% is applicable for failing to furnish the BURS with transfer pricing documentation.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

BWP500,000

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

None provided in the regulations

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

BWP500,000

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

There is no guideline provided yet. However, the general statute of limitations is eight years.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

May be considered high based on the current general anti-avoidance audits

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

Adjustment shall be to the median in the arm's-length range.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Based on prior BURS audit activity, related-party transactions are more likely to be audited. Mining, capital projects and financial services are the industries most likely to undergo audits.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

While the law provides for APAs, the terms and conditions for entering into an APA have not yet been prescribed.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Federal Revenue Department (Receita Federal do Brasil – RFB)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

On 15 June 2023, the Brazilian President signed and approved Provisional Measure (PM) No. 1, 152 into Law 14, 596/2023, which officially changes Brazil's transfer pricing rules to align with the OECD framework. The new rule is obligatory from 1 January 2024.

In accordance with Law 14.596/2023, the RFB Normative Instruction 2161/2023 has been published, providing a detailed overview of the mandatory regulations set to take effect in the calendar year 2024. Subsequently, RFB Normative Instruction 2246/2024 was published to amend Article 37 of IN RFB 2161/2023 regarding the registration of commodity transactions. In the second half of 2024, a public consultation was initiated to gather comments and suggestions from companies, academic institutions, and other stakeholders. This consultation addresses provisions related to intragroup service transactions, the Specific Consultation Process (APA), and other aspects of IN RFB 2161/2023. We anticipate forthcoming regulations to clarify details that remain unaddressed in the legislation.

c. Effective date of applicability

1996 for the old rules

From 2024 onward for the new rules

d. Section reference from local regulation

Not applicable

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

No

▪ Additional details

There are no requirements to report these transactions.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Brazil is not a member of the OECD. Until 31 December 2022, Brazil did not adopt the arm's-length standards. However, on 1 January 2024, Brazil officially changed its transfer pricing rules to be aligned with the OECD framework. For the 2023 calendar year, taxpayers had the option to adopt the new rules early, contingent upon notifying the IRS within the specified time frame. Taxpayers who did not elect to the early adoption continued to adhere to the previous regulations for calendar year 2023. Effective from the 2024 calendar year onward, the new rules are mandatory for all taxpayers.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Until calendar year 2023: limited to CbCR. From calendar year 2024 on: full alignment with Action 13.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

The threshold is the lower of BRL2.26 billion or EUR750 million (or equivalent in Brazilian reais according to the euro FX conversion rate of 31 January 2015) in the previous year of the fiscal year under analysis.

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing (TP) calculations, including the local TP study, should be conducted annually, and the results must be reported in the specific forms of the annual corporate income tax return, regardless of the transaction amount. Starting from the calendar year 2024, the new transfer pricing documentation, aligned with the OECD framework, was introduced by Law 14.596/23 and IN RFB 2161/2023.

There are various thresholds that determine the presentation and format of the Local File and Master File based on the amount of controlled transactions reported in the year preceding the analysis:

- Transactions up to 15 million: exempt from both Local and Master File requirements
- Transactions between 15 million and 500 million: mandatory submission of a simplified version of the Local File and a complete Master File
- Transactions equal to or exceeding 500 million: mandatory submission of the complete version of both the Local File and the Master File

The information in the TP forms is mandatory on an annual basis.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

Until calendar year 2023: Yes, for penalty avoidance purposes, a taxpayer is considered to have satisfied the documentation requirement if it maintained certain documentation, such as: spreadsheets describing step by step the selected method application, intercompany invoices and agreements, etc. From calendar year 2023 (early adoption) on: The new transfer pricing documentation, following the OECD framework was introduced by Law 14.596/23; the implementation regulations came with the publication of the RFB normative instruction 2161/2023. Subsequent publications of normative instructions outlining additional obligations are expected to be issued by the tax authorities.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Value of international transactions

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

Despite the different thresholds for the Local File and Master File presentation, the transfer pricing information in the Brazilian Income Tax Return is mandatory every year, regardless of the amounts.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

BRL2.26 billion/EUR750 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income
- Is there any other threshold?

Yes
- Additional details

The threshold is the lower of BRL2.26 billion or EUR750 million (or equivalent in Brazilian reais according to the euro FX conversion rate of 31 January 2015) in the previous year of the Fiscal Year under analysis.
- Master File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

Yes. Starting from the calendar year 2024, a Master File is required for entities that reported controlled transaction amounts of 15 million reais or more in the year preceding the analysis.
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Total international related-party transactions
 - Is there any other threshold?

No
 - Additional details

Until calendar year 2023: Not applicable. From calendar year 2023 (early adoption) on: The new transfer pricing rules, following the OECD framework, were introduced by Law 14.596/23;

 - Transactions up to 15 million: exempt from Master File requirements
 - Transactions equal to or exceeding 15 million: mandatory submission of Master File
- Local File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

There are various thresholds that determine the presentation and format of the Local File and Master File based on the amount of controlled transactions reported in the year preceding the analysis:

 - Transactions up to 15 million: exempt from both Local and Master File requirements
 - Transactions between 15 million and 500 million: mandatory submission of a simplified version of the Local File and a complete Master File
 - Transactions equal to or exceeding 500 million: mandatory submission of the complete version of both the Local File and the Master File

The information in the TP forms is mandatory on an annual basis.

In addition to that, there is a specific format for the submission of the Local File on the IRS website that has to be divided in different sections according to the transaction analysis reported.

▪ Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

From calendar year 2024 on: There is no materiality limit. For the Economic analysis there is no materiality limit despite of the Local File and Master File triggers. The information in the TP forms is mandatory on an annual basis.

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation needs to be submitted in the local language (Portuguese). It includes the information in the Brazilian Income Tax Return and the Local File. The Master File can be submitted in English or Spanish.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Yes

- Additional details

The new transfer pricing rules in Brazil, based on the OECD framework, were introduced by Law 14.596/23 and include a safe harbor provision, which allows a 5% markup for low-value-added services.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

- Additional details

Since introduction of the new transfer pricing rules, following the OECD framework, a separate analysis using the CUP method is mandatory for transactions involving commodities. Similarly, transactions related to royalties and financial transactions should also be analyzed, with a preference for the CUP method.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

Until calendar year 2023: Taxpayers are expected to have the calculations and documentation necessary to support the information filed in specific TP forms as part of the annual tax return. From calendar year 2024 on: This requirement continues with the TP form included in the annual tax return.

- b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

The electronic income tax return (ECF) contains various specific forms that require taxpayers to disclose detailed information regarding their main intercompany transactions and the details of the local TP calculations (Brazilian TP study). Taxpayers need to disclose the total transaction values of the transactions; the names and locations of the related trading partners; the methodology used to test each transaction; the calculated benchmark price; the average annual transfer price; and the amount of any resulting adjustment.

The transfer pricing (TP) calculations, including the local TP study, should be conducted annually, and the results must be reported in the specific forms of the annual corporate income tax return, regardless of the transaction amount. Starting from the calendar year 2024, the new transfer pricing documentation, aligned with the OECD framework, will be introduced by Law 14.596/23 and IN RFB 2161/2023.

There are various thresholds that determine the presentation and format of the Local File and Master File based on the amount of controlled transactions reported in the year preceding the analysis:

- Transactions up to 15 million: exempt from both Local and Master File requirements
- Transactions between 15 million and 500 million: mandatory submission of a simplified version of the Local File and a complete Master File
- Transactions equal to or exceeding 500 million: mandatory submission of the complete version of both the Local File and the Master File

The information in the TP forms is mandatory on an annual basis and its filing is based in the Economic analysis.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Annual report

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Yes

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

31 July

▪ Additional details

Submission/filing date: The corporate income tax is due the last business day of July of the following year.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

31 July

▪ Additional details

Submission/filing date: last business day of July of the following year, as part of the corporate income tax return

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Submission/filing date: last business day of July of the following year, as part of the corporate income tax return.

▪ Additional details

For the first year of implementation, calendar year 2024, the submission of the Master File is due by 31 December 2025. In subsequent years, submissions must be made by 31 July of the year following the analysis.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

Last business day of July

▪ Additional details

CbCR for locally headquartered companies

Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared): The CbCR is due the last business day of July of the following year.

Submission/filing date: The CbCR is due the last business day of July of the following year.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Last business day of July

▪ Additional details

Submission/filing date: The CbCR notification is due the last business day of July of the following year. It is required to be submitted annually as part of the corporate income tax return. No multiple entities in jurisdiction.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By end of January of the following year, for income tax and social contribution payments purposes. But the deadline for the submission of the TP documentation is the last business day of July of the following year.

▪ Additional details

Ideally, the TP analysis (local TP study) must be finalized before the income tax and social contribution payments are due (by the end of January of the immediately following year to the calculation period). Add-backs must be considered in a timely way in the taxable basis and paid within the regular deadline. Fines and interests are charged in case of late payment. Exceptionally, for the first year of implementing the new rules concerning the calendar year 2024, the submission of the Local File and the Master File is due by 31 December 2025. In subsequent years, all submissions must be made by 31 July of the year following the analysis.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Exceptionally, for the first year of implementing the new rules concerning the calendar year 2024, the submission of the Local File and the Master File is due by 31 December 2025. In subsequent years, all submissions (TP Form, Local File and Master File) must be made by 31 July of the year following the analysis.

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Taxpayers have to deliver the TP documents within 30 days upon request from the tax authorities. The taxpayer can ask for additional time depending on the volume of information requested by the Brazilian IRS.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

▪ Additional details

From calendar year 2024 on: Law 14. 596/ 23 defines the comparable uncontrolled price (CUP) method as the most appropriate method when reliable comparables are available for cross-border commodities transactions; however, taxpayers may apply other methods based on the appropriate facts and circumstances.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

From calendar year 2024 on: Yes, but not limited.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

From calendar year 2024 on: It depends on the method. The PIC method is preferable for the year of analysis, but for other methods, a multiyear analysis is possible depending on the business cycle.

From calendar year 2024 on: Yes, interquartile range is acceptable. In situations where data from multiple years of comparable transactions are utilized to establish the range, the arithmetic mean of the financial indicators for each comparable over those years must be calculated. This resulting value will be used to form the range of comparables.

For the purposes of this calculation, a weighted average should be applied based on the following denominators relevant to the financial indicator examined under the most appropriate method:

- Net resale revenue, in the case of the Resale Price method
- Direct and indirect costs associated with the transaction, in the case of the Cost Plus method
- Net revenue, direct and indirect costs, operational assets, or other denominators used in the profitability indicator for calculating the net margin under the TNMM method

In the analysis of multiple years, particularly when using the TNMM method based on external comparables, the following requirements must be considered:

The average of multiple years for comparables should generally be derived from the last three years, including the current year or the previous year, depending on the availability of information, plus two immediately preceding years.

In exceptional cases, aligned with the facts and circumstances, and provided that the taxpayer justifies this in accordance with the current rule, it may be appropriate to use data covering different periods.

Unrelated parts whose weighted average of financial indicators is negative over multiple years, as well as those presenting a negative financial indicator in more than one period, must be excluded from the range.

Calendar year 2024 on: a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

From calendar year 2024 on: weighted

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

Preference is given to local comparables; however, this is not exclusive and may vary based on the available information. A country risk adjustment is foreseen in the legislation for comparables outside of Brazil.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Until calendar year 2023: As there are no special penalties for TP, general tax penalties are applicable. The amount of the penalty may be up to 20% of the omitted tax (or 0.33% per day) if the taxpayer pays the related taxes late, but before an audit. Meanwhile, if the tax authority assesses the taxpayer as part of a TP audit, the applicable penalties may range from 75% to 225% of the omitted taxes. From calendar year 2023 (early adoption) on: There is a fine equivalent to 0.2% per calendar month, or fraction, on the value of gross revenue for late submission. There is a fine equivalent to 5% on the value of the transaction corresponding to or 0.2% on the value of revenue consolidated of the MNE group for incorrect or incomplete information. There is a fine equivalent to 3% on the value of gross revenue for failure to comply with the requirements. There is a fine equivalent to 5% on the value of the transaction, capped at BRL5 million for late submission of information or documentation during tax audit.

What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

There is a fine equivalent to 0.2% per calendar month, or fraction, on the value of gross revenue for late submission. There is a fine equivalent to 5% on the value of the transaction corresponding to or 0.2% on the value of revenue consolidated of the MNE group for incorrect or incomplete information. There is a fine equivalent to 3% on the value of gross revenue for failure in comply with the requirements. There is a fine equivalent to 5% on the value of the transaction, capped at BRL5 million for late submission of information or documentation during tax audit.

Are there any other penalties?

Until calendar year 2023: As there are no special penalties for TP, general tax penalties are applicable. The amount of the penalty may be up to 20% of the omitted tax (or 0.33% per day) if the taxpayer pays the related taxes late, but before an audit. Meanwhile, if the tax authority assesses the taxpayer as part of a TP audit, the applicable penalties may range from 75% to 225% of the omitted taxes. From calendar year 2023 (early adoption) on: There is a fine equivalent to 0.2% per calendar month, or fraction, on the value of gross revenue for late submission. There is a fine equivalent to 5% on the value of the transaction corresponding to or 0.2% on the value of revenue consolidated of the MNE group for incorrect or incomplete information. There is a fine equivalent to 3% on the value of gross revenue for failure in comply with the requirements. There is a fine equivalent to 5% on the value of the transaction, capped at BRL5 million for late submission of information or documentation during tax audit.

b. Penalties post-TP audit

Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

Additional details

Until calendar year 2023: As there are no special penalties for TP, general tax penalties are applicable. The amount of the penalty may be up to 20% of the omitted tax (or 0.33% per day) if the taxpayer pays the related taxes late, but before an audit. Meanwhile, if the tax authority assesses the taxpayer as part of a TP audit, the applicable penalties may range from 75% to 225% of the omitted taxes. From calendar year 2023 (early adoption) on: Law 14, 596/23 sets out that the RFB will establish how the relevant information for the application of the transfer pricing rules will be submitted, as well as the penalties for late or misfiling, which can be avoided altogether in certain circumstances if the taxpayer amends the relevant tax returns.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

Until calendar year 2023: As there are no special penalties for TP, general tax penalties are applicable. The amount of the penalty may be up to 20% of the omitted tax (or 0.33% per day) if the taxpayer pays the related taxes late, but before an audit. Meanwhile, if the tax authority assesses the taxpayer as part of a TP audit, the applicable penalties may range from 75% to 225% of the omitted taxes. From calendar year 2023 (early adoption) on: Law 14, 596/23 sets out that the RFB will establish how the relevant information for the application of the transfer pricing rules will be submitted, as well as the penalties for late or misfiling, which can be avoided altogether in certain circumstances if the taxpayer amends the relevant tax returns.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Until calendar year 2023: Payables and refunds are updated by the official Brazilian interest rate (Sistema especial de Liquidacao e Custódia – SELIC), when applicable. From calendar year 2023 (early adoption) on: The current legislation provides for fines only, with no provision for interest.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

Until calendar year 2023: No penalty relief is available. The taxpayer may appeal to the administrative court. If there is no resolution at this level, the dispute goes to other courts. Where a taxpayer voluntarily makes a tax payment, penalties may be waived, even in case of late payment, to the extent no audit has been started by the tax authorities. From calendar year 2023 (early adoption) on: Penalties may be avoided by establishing reasonable cause and good faith through taxpayer-provided documentation following the premises: (i) have not acted contrary to a normative or interpretative act; (ii) have been cooperative with Brazilian tax authorities during tax audit; (iii) have adopted reasonable efforts to comply with the local regulations; (iv) have adopted consistent and reasonable criteria for the corporate tax basis.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

A general statute of limitations of five years from the first day of the following fiscal year applies. In the case of filing amended tax returns, the statute starts with the filing of the latest amended return.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

TP being reviewed as part of an audit is characterized as medium to high, because the tax authorities have access to a wide range of accounting and fiscal information in electronic databases that makes it easier for them to monitor any discrepancy of tax information. The publication of Law 14, 596/23 is a milestone for Brazil and represents a new chapter in the jurisdiction's international operations aligned with the OECD Guidelines. It is expected that this change goes beyond the tax system, as it affects the operating models of multinationals with a presence in Brazil. However, experience has shown that well-reasoned documentation may potentially reduce the possibility of further scrutiny.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

If the challenge is successful, penalties will be applied based on the criteria mentioned above for cases of late filing or misfiling.

From calendar year 2023 (early adoption) on: Yes. When there are uncertainties about the degree of comparability between comparable transactions in relation to the controlled transaction or any uncertainty regarding reliability that cannot be precisely identified or quantified and adjusted, the interquartile range shall be considered as the appropriate interval. For the purpose of determining the transfer pricing adjustments, when the financial indicator of the controlled transaction examined under the most appropriate method is not included in the appropriate range, the value of the median shall be assigned to the controlled transaction.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

For certain industries – such as automotive, pharmaceutical, chemical, and oil and gas – and intragroup services into Brazil (services and cost allocations), the possibility of a TP audit is high. The risk of a TP audit is also high if the tax authorities identify inconsistencies in the information filed electronically (e.g., customs declaration, financial statements) and other filing requirements, such as SISCOMEX (Sistema Integrado de Comércio Exterior).

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

APA was introduced by Law 14, 596/ 23; however, the implementation regulations are yet to be issued.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Not applicable

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Roll-back provisions may be applicable provided the facts and circumstances are the same as the ones considered for the issuance of the APA.

d. Is MAP available?

Yes. The RFB has issued Normative Instruction 1, 846/ 18, which regulates the MAP in Brazil in accordance with the minimum standards of BEPS Action 14. Following are the phases of the procedure:

- Unilateral MAP: The RFB receives and analyzes the request presented by the taxpayer related to the MAP. If the RFB accepts the proposal and ends the double taxation, the MAP process is concluded. If the RFB disagrees with the proposal, the bilateral MAP is activated.
- Bilateral MAP: The RFB will proceed with discussions with the other tax authority, with a view to investigate and end the alleged double taxation.

Under the thin capitalization rules, interest paid to related parties that are not located in a tax-haven jurisdiction and that do not benefit from a preferential tax regime may be deducted on an accrual basis for corporate income tax purposes, only if:

- The expenses are necessary for the company's activities.
- Both of the following thresholds are met:
 - The related-party debt-to-equity ratio does not exceed 2:1, calculated based on the proportion of related-party debt-to-direct-equity investment made by related parties.
 - The overall debt-to-equity ratio does not exceed 2:1, calculated based on the proportion of total debt-to-total-direct-equity investment made by related parties. Interest paid to an entity or individual located in a tax haven or that benefits from a preferential tax regime (regardless of whether the parties are related) may be deducted only if the expenses:
 - Are necessary for the company's activities.
 - Both of the following thresholds are met:

- The amount of the Brazilian entity's indebtedness to the tax haven or preferential tax regime resident does not exceed 30% of the net equity of the Brazilian entity.
- The Brazilian entity's total indebtedness to all entities located in a tax-haven jurisdiction or benefiting from a preferential tax regime does not exceed 30% of the net equity of the Brazilian entity. Excess interest is treated as a non-deductible expense for Brazilian Corporate Income Tax (IRPJ) and Social Contribution on Net Profit (CSLL) purposes. The TP rules affecting cross-border loans remain in effect, as do the general requirements for deductibility.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

National Revenue Agency (NRA)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

- Corporate Income Tax Act (CITA), promulgated in State Gazette (SG) Issue 105, 22 December 2006, most recent amendments promulgated in SG Issue 8, 30 December 2022
- Tax and Social Insurance Procedure Code (TSIPC), promulgated in SG Issue 105, 29 December 2005, most recent amendments promulgated in SG Issue 105, 25 January 2023
- Ordinance N 9, 14 August 2006, about methods for determining market prices (Ordinance N 9), promulgated in SG Issue 70, 29 August 2006
- Double-taxation treaties enacted by Bulgaria

c. Effective date of applicability

22 December 2006

d. Section reference from local regulation

According to Article 15 of the CITA, when related parties enter transactions whose commercial and financial terms differ from those of unrelated-party transactions, resulting in a different taxable base than what would have been achieved in unrelated-party transactions, the tax authorities will adjust the taxable base accordingly. Specifically, under Article 16 of the CITA, when one or more transactions, including those between unrelated parties, have been concluded under terms in which the fulfillment leads to lower or no taxation, the taxable base will be determined without taking notice of these transactions, certain terms, or their legal forms. Instead, the taxable amount that will be considered would be obtained in a market-customary way of the relevant type at market prices and is intended to achieve the same economic result without leading to lower or no tax. For the definition of "related parties," the CITA refers to the provisions of the TSIPC. The methods applied in determining the arm's-length prices have been introduced by the TSIPC and Ordinance N 9. The NRA released its Manual on Transfer Pricing Audits (the Manual) in 2008. By introducing a chapter on TP documentation requirements in the manual in 2010, the NRA approved the documents that TP auditors would require during their investigations. The Manual is not technically part of the law; however, it is generally followed both by taxpayers and the tax administration. In this respect, it is in the taxpayers' interest to comply with the Manual because it defines what the NRA usually requires during a TP audit. Compliance with the Manual is expected to significantly narrow the scope of disputes over TP matters during tax audits. In mid-2018, new legislation was developed making TP documentation mandatory for related-party transactions that take place after 1 January 2020. The new rules were introduced in the TSIPC, promulgated in SG Issue 64, 13 August 2019 and Issue 96, 6 December 2019. The mandatory TP rules will apply to local taxpayers that are subject to a corporate tax levy, involved in cross-border dealings with related parties and meet certain criteria that are like the criteria for a large enterprise set in the Accountancy Act.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Bulgarian legislation and the relevant soft law do not distinguish between domestic and cross-border related-party transactions. The general rules for evidencing their arm's-length nature apply. However, if the entity has related-party dealings only within the territory of the jurisdiction, it has no obligation to prepare TP documentation.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Bulgaria is not a member of the OECD. In January 2022, however, the OECD Council decided to open accession discussions with Bulgaria to OECD membership. Although there is no specific reference in the Bulgarian TP legislation and the relevant soft law, the NRA generally follows OECD Guidelines. However, there are certain differences because the 2010 and 2017 editions of the OECD Guidelines have not been incorporated in local TP legislation and in the Manual. For example, domestic regulations still provide for the hierarchy of methods that was abolished in the OECD Guidelines. Furthermore, Bulgarian TP rules do not explicitly deal with business restructuring. The Manual is expected to be aligned with the most recent edition of the OECD Guidelines in the near future.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Bulgaria has adopted BEPS Action 13 for TP documentation in the local regulations in terms of CbCR, as well as for overall TP documentation starting January 2020.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

This is applicable to Bulgarian constituent entities with consolidated revenue exceeding BGN1,467 million (approximately EUR750 million).

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2020.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Master File is covered as per new regulations effective from January 2020.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The newly adopted law is applicable for the fiscal years beginning on or after 1 January 2020.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format. However, there are some local specifics that need to be considered.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Local File is covered as per new regulations effective from January 2020.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The newly adopted law is applicable for the fiscal years beginning on or after 1 January 2020.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format. However, there are some local specifics that need to be considered.

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

▪ Additional details

The penalties if no TP documentation is prepared and presented when requested are insignificant under the previous legislation. Generally, Master Files and Local Files prepared in the BEPS Action 13 format report should be sufficient to show the arm's-length nature of the related-party transactions reviewed. However, from January 2020 onward, failure to present the Local File may trigger penalties of up to 0.5% of the volume of the related-party transactions that should have been documented. Failure to submit the Master File may trigger penalties ranging from BGN5,000 to BGN10,000 (approximately EUR2,500 to EUR5,000).

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

There are TP documentation requirements that are generally in line with OECD's BEPS Action 13. The 2019 amendments to the TSIPC introduced TP documentation preparation requirements. Under the new Bulgarian TP legislation, beginning 1 January 2020, large taxpayers will be obliged to prepare TP documentation on a yearly basis. The taxpayers will be required to have TP documentation with the prescribed content within the deadline set if at least two of the following three thresholds mentioned below have been met:

Their annual net sales for the preceding year did not exceed BGN76 million (approximately EUR38 million).

Their assets' net book value did not exceed BGN38 million (approximately EUR19 million) as of 31 December of the prior year.

Their average employee headcount over the reporting period did not exceed 250. The transfer pricing documentation of obliged entities should be prepared contemporaneously. Despite the reduced scope of entities obliged to prepare TP documentation, the general requirement remains for taxpayers to prove the market nature of their transactions with related parties during tax checks and audits. The Local File is to be kept by the taxpayer and provided to the local tax authorities upon request; there is no submission otherwise.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

Under the newly introduced legislation, while the Master File and the Local File need to be updated each year, the applicable benchmarks might be updated every three years if there have not been any significant changes in the business environment and roll-forward is performed. Additionally, financial data and the respective transaction data that serves as a basis for comparison of the transactions under review need to be updated annually.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

Mandatory TP rules are effective as of 1 January 2020. Under the newly adopted legislation, the preparation of TP documentation with specific content within a fixed time limit is mandatory for local taxpayers that are subject to a corporate tax levy and could generally be classified as large enterprises. To avoid falling within the scope of the new obligation, a local taxpayer should not meet more than one of the following three thresholds:

Assets with a balance sheet value not exceeding BGN38 million (approximately EUR19 million) as of 31 December of the previous year

Net sale revenues of less than BGN76 million (approximately EUR38 million) as of 31 December of the previous year

Average annual employee headcount of more than 250 over the reporting period

The Local File should analyze and document related-party dealings whose value over the reporting period exceeds the following thresholds:

BGN400,000 (approximately EUR205,000) applicable to controlled transactions in goods

BGN200,000 (approximately EUR102,000) applicable to controlled transactions in services

BGN200,000 applicable to transactions related to intangibles

BGN1 million (approximately EUR500,000) applicable to the value of the loan principal

BGN50,000 (approximately EUR25,000) applicable to interest rate accrued

▪ CbCR

▪ What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

BGN1,467 million

▪ What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

▪ Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

This is applicable to Bulgarian constituent entities with consolidated revenue exceeding BGN1,467 million (approximately EUR750 million).

▪ Master File

▪ What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

Not specified

▪ What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

▪ Is there any other threshold?

Yes

▪ Additional details

As mentioned above, taxpayers will be required to have TP documentation (including Master File) with the prescribed content within the deadline set if at least two of the following three thresholds mentioned below have been met:

- Their annual net sales for the preceding year did not exceed BGN76 million (approximately EUR38 million).
- Their assets' net book value did not exceed BGN38 million (approximately EUR19 million) as of 31 December of the prior year.
- Their average employee headcount over the reporting period did not exceed 250. The transfer pricing documentation of obliged entities should be prepared contemporaneously.

Mandatory TP rules are effective as of 1 January 2020. Under the newly adopted Bulgarian TP legislation, large taxpayers (as defined in the TSIPC) that have dealings with related parties from abroad will be obligated to prepare TP documentation consisting of Local File and Master File. The Master File should be available by 30 June of the following year. However, there is no change in the requirement for the submission of the TP documentation, i.e., it should be submitted upon request by the NRA. For the most part, Bulgarian TP documentation requirements are compliant with OECD Guidelines and follow the BEPS Action 13 framework. However, some local specifics must be considered, in order to avoid further questioning from the tax authorities or even imposing penalties. Failure to submit the Master File may trigger penalties ranging from BGN5,000 to BGN10,000 (approximately EUR2,500 to EUR5,000).

- Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

Based on TSIPC provisions, any documents presented to the tax authorities should be prepared in the Bulgarian language or translated by a sworn translator. In this respect, the TP documentation needs to be submitted in the local language. The group's Master File may be prepared in another language. However, the taxpayer should be able to provide a translated version of the document (or the parts requested by the tax authorities) performed by a sworn translator. In case the translated documentation is not provided by the deadline, the tax authorities may translate the document at the expense of the taxpayer.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Unspecified

Not applicable

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

- Additional details

Individual testing of transactions is preferred. However, aggregation is also allowed if individual testing cannot be performed.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

In Bulgaria, there is no TP-specific return.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

Taxpayers are required to submit, as part of their annual corporate income tax package, summarized information about transactions with domestic and non-resident related parties as well as with offshore companies. This includes a statement of the total annual income and expenses arising from controlled dealings as well as balances (i.e., payables and receivables) outstanding at the end of the year. Furthermore, taxpayers are required by the National Accounting Standards (and IFRS) to disclose, in their financial statements, relationships between related parties, regardless of whether there have been transactions between them, as well as the related-party transactions.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Further to the provisions of the National Accounting Standards (and IFRS), taxpayers are required to disclose, in their financial statements, relationships between related parties, regardless of whether there have been transactions between them, as well as the related-party transactions.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

There is none specified.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

The entities in an MNE group with an obligation to prepare a CbCR should file a notification to the tax authorities stating which entity in the group submits the CbCR returns.

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

30 June

- Additional details

The filing deadline is 30 June of the following year. Therefore, the CIT return for the financial year 2024 should be filed by 30 June 2025.

- Submission/filing date: 30 June of the following year.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

30 June

- Additional details

The filing deadline is 30 June of the following year. Therefore, the CIT return and the relevant disclosures related to TP for the financial year 2024.

- Submission/filing date: Should be filed by 30 June 2025.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

30 June

- Additional details

The due date for the Master File is 12 months after the Local File deadline.

- Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared): The Master File for FY 2024 should be prepared by 30 June 2026.
- Submission/filing date: No submission. The Master File is to be kept by the taxpayer and provided to the local tax authorities upon request.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

The CbCR should be submitted within 12 months of the end of the fiscal year for the MNE. Thus, CbCR of a multinational group of entities with a fiscal year that ended on 31 December 2024 should be submitted by 31 December 2025.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

The filing deadline is the end of the respective fiscal year, i.e., a notification for the fiscal year ended on 31 December 2024 should be submitted by 31 December 2024. There is a requirement for annual submission. Each entity should file a separate notification.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

30 June

- Additional details

Current guidelines: There is no statutory deadline or recommendation for the preparation of TP documentation. As a good practice, to avoid TP adjustments, it is recommended that the file be completed by the time the corporate income tax return for the respective year should be submitted. Adopted amendments: Under the adopted TP legislation, the local TP file should be prepared by 30 June of the following year, while the Master File should be available by 30 June.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

There is no statutory deadline. TP documentation only needs to be presented upon request of the tax authorities.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

TP documentation should usually be submitted within seven to 14 days upon request. However, the taxpayer can request an extension of up to three months.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

- Additional details

Current guidelines Under Bulgarian TP legislation, one of the following methods should be applied to determine the market price:

- CUP
- Resale price
- Cost-plus
- Profit-split
- TNMM

The hierarchy of methods' criteria should be used for the application of TP methods. The TSIPC introduced the methods applicable for determining the arm's-length price, while Ordinance N 9 regulates the order of consideration, and applying the traditional TP methods is preferred. Moreover, the CUP method is considered the most direct and reliable measure of an arm's-length price for controlled transactions. The TNMM and profit-split methods are used only in cases in which applying the traditional methods produces an unsatisfactory result. Adopted amendments under the hierarchy of methods is accepted.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

In terms of the procedural search approach to conduct comparable searches, the Manual states that comparable data could be obtained both from internal and external transactions and the source database should be publicly available. In addition, according to the Manual, exemplary sources of comparable transactions data could be the National Statistical Institute, local industry associations, Amadeus, Orbis and others. It is the NRA TP auditors' recent practice to challenge benchmarking analysis for the lack of Bulgarian data and analysis of the local market players. In such cases, the revenue authority performs its own benchmark analysis and test of the profitability of the local entities on the basis of local business intelligence databases. In this respect, it is highly recommended that the benchmark analysis contained in the TP documentation of the taxpayer reviews Bulgarian comparables and considers them with priority.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

There is no specific guidance in legislation or the Manual; however, as a jurisdiction practice, multiple-year testing is used (usually three years).

Local TP legislation requires the use of interquartile ranges in case the TNMM method is applied.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

Current guidelines - A fresh benchmarking search is to be conducted every year. According to the Manual, the TP documentation should be prepared for the fiscal period when the analyzed intercompany transactions were concluded. Any TP documentation prepared for the preceding Fiscal Years may be used for the following years, provided no changes in the organization and functions of the company or changes of any other factors that may affect the pricing of the controlled transactions are present. The actualization of the TP documentation should be made in relation to these changes for the respective year. Adopted amendments under the TP documentation should be updated annually. However, benchmarks may be updated once every three years in case no changes in the organization and functions of the company or changes of any other factors that may affect the pricing of the controlled transactions are present. Additionally, financial data and the respective transaction data, which serve as a basis for comparison of the transactions under review, need to be updated annually.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is none specified.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

No specific benchmarking criteria are contained in the local legislation and the relevant soft law.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

For presenting incorrect or incomplete data in the transfer pricing documentation, the obligated entity can be imposed with a fine between BGN1,500 and BGN5,000.

What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

BGN5,000 to BGN10,000

Are there any other penalties?

Current guidelines: If the taxpayer fails to provide documentation when requested by the tax authorities, a fine for not cooperating could be imposed. However, this fine is insignificant (i.e., in the range of BGN250 to BGN500, or approximately EUR128 to EUR256). Therefore, the main consequence for the entity would be the adjustment of its taxable profit if the tax auditors conclude that the price applied in controlled transactions is not at arm's length. Furthermore, a taxable person involved in a "hidden profit distribution" would be subject to an administrative sanction amounting to 20% of the expense and classified as a hidden profit distribution (unless voluntarily disclosed to the tax authorities). Both the expense classified as hidden profit distribution and the sanction would be non-deductible for corporate income tax purposes. In addition, the expense would be considered a deemed dividend and, thus, subject to a 5% withholding tax. Business expenses may be classified as a hidden profit distribution if an entity has:

- Accrued, paid or distributed to the benefit of the entity's shareholders or their related parties' amounts that are not business-related or are in excess of market-price levels
- Accrued interest costs on debt financing if at least three of the following criteria are met:
 - The loan principal exceeds the equity of the borrower as of 31 December of the preceding year.
 - The repayment of the principal or the interest on the loan is not limited by a fixed time period.
 - The loan repayment or interest payment depends on whether the borrower ended on a profit position.
- The repayment of the loan depends on the satisfaction of other creditors' claims or on payment of dividends. Adopted amendments in addition to the penalties discussed above, if failure to submit the Local File may trigger penalties up to 0.5% of the volume of the related-party transactions that should have been documented. Failure to submit the Master File may trigger penalties ranging from BGN5,000 to BGN10,000 (approximately EUR2,500 to EUR5,000).

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

Described in the compliance penalties

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

Described in the compliance penalties

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

Yes

- Additional details

On refund, default interest (i.e., 10% plus the base interest of the Bulgarian National Bank) could be claimed on the amounts unduly paid by a taxpayer.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

Voluntary disclosure of hidden-profit distribution relieves taxpayers of the administrative penalty, which is 20% of the hidden profit. This allows taxpayers to self-adjust any overpriced group transactions with no threat of penalties. If, in the course of a tax audit, the tax auditors challenge the TP methodology and propose an adjustment, the local taxpayer may file an objection along with any relevant evidence. Then, based on all documents collected in the course of the audit, the tax auditors will come up with a final assessment, which, if not in the taxpayer's favor, could be appealed before the Appeals Directorate of the NRA, which may confirm or cancel the assessment or assign a new audit. In case the assessment is confirmed by the Appeals Directorate, the taxpayer may initiate a court appeal. Bulgaria is also a party to the EU Arbitration Convention.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

In Bulgaria, documentation may be required for any open tax year as well as for tax obligations not covered by the statute-of-limitations period. As a general rule, the statute-of-limitations period for corporate income tax is five years from the year following the year of expiration of the statutory term granted for filing corporate income tax returns. The Bulgarian statutory term for both filing the annual corporate income tax return and remittance of the amount due is 30 June of the following year. For example, the financial year 2019 is open for tax audits until the end of the financial year 2025 because the corporate income tax return for the financial year 2019 should have been filed by 30 June 2020.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

No

- Additional details

In general, the possibility of an annual tax audit is characterized as low. The possibility that TP documentation will be reviewed as part of that audit is characterized as high because of the high probability that the tax authorities would request to analyze all related-party transactions. Normally, a taxpayer is audited for its corporate tax compliance at least once every five periods.

- b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

The revenue authorities tend to scrutinize cases where the local entity has sizable operations yet is earning limited margins or generating losses. Routine service arrangements are normally not challenged as long as the actual rendering of the service is evidenced.

Currently, we are experiencing pushback in tax audits on 5% marking up unless it can be clearly provided that the services rendered do not require any specialized skill set.

As per the local rules, when the result of the controlled transaction falls outside the range of market values, this result is adjusted to a point in the series that reflects the facts and circumstances that correspond to the greatest extent to the conditions of the controlled transaction. If such a point cannot be found, the adjustment is performed to the median.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Currently, the NRA is not challenging the TP methodologies of particular industries as riskier than others. Based on our observations, local affiliates of multinationals that report recurring losses or low profitability in high-margin sectors may be scoped in for tax audits focused on TP. Large employers that participate in group stock incentive plans have recently been subject to audits on their pricing policies.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

No binding ruling or APA opportunities are currently applicable. Taxpayers are allowed to file a request for a written opinion from the NRA or the Ministry of Finance on the interpretation and application of the tax law with regard to a specific tax issue. However, the value of the position of the tax authorities on a particular tax aspect is very limited because the tax authorities refuse to provide any opinion about transactions that have not yet been structured and documented.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Not applicable

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable

d. Is MAP available?

Yes

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

All financing (interest) expenses may be subject to the Bulgarian thin capitalization rules (if certain conditions are met). However, these rules do not apply in case of the following:

- If the interest is not tax-deductible on other grounds (e.g., noncompliance with the arm's-length principle)
- In case of penalty interest and interest for late payment
- If the interest expenses are capitalized in the value of an asset
- In case the interest expense is related to financial lease or a bank loan, unless guaranteed or provided by related party
As of January 2020, if a loan is guaranteed by a Bulgarian entity and its related party at the same time, then the thin capitalization rules will not apply to the part of the interest on the loan equal to the ratio between the market value of the guarantee provided by the Bulgarian taxpayer and the amount of the financing.

There is no specific requirement.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no specific requirement.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is no specific requirement.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is no specific requirement.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

A fine equal to 0.5% of the amount of the transactions concerned with a minimum of XOF10 million per fiscal year.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

XOF50 million

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

- Are there any other penalties?

Failure to submit the transfer pricing return: XOF10 million;
Failure to submit CbCR: XOF50 million

b. Penalties post-TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

A fine equal to 0.5% of the amount of the transactions concerned with a minimum of XOF10 million per fiscal year.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

A fine equal to 0.5% of the amount of the transactions concerned with a minimum of XOF10 million per fiscal year.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The limitation period is set to three years (common tax regime), added to two years in case of transfer pricing tax audit or whether the information exchange procedure has been implemented.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

This is not specified by the Law. It will depend on each tax inspector.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

There are none specified.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

A possibility to agree with the local tax authorities is provided by law (Article 588- 8). However, no further guidance is available.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The APA may cover the year in which the request was done as well as the four subsequent years.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

There is no guidance provided.

d. Is MAP available?

Yes, taxpayers may request an MAP if taxation has or is likely to occur that is not in accordance with the provisions of a double taxation treaty to which Burkina Faso is signatory.

The intercompany interest payments are only deductible if the capital has been fully released. In any case, the maximum deductible amount cannot exceed the legal interest rate increased by two percentage points and cannot be greater than 15% of the profit before EBITDA.

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislationa. Does PCbCR apply?

No

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

General Department of Taxation (GDT)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Prakas 986 – “Rules and procedures for income and expense allocation between related parties” issued on and effective from 10 October 2017

Prakas 574 – “Rules and procedures for income and expense allocation between related parties” issued on 19 September 2024 and effective from 1 January 2025. Prakas 574 replaces the Prakas 986.

c. Effective date of applicability

Requirements to prepare local TP file are effective from 10 October 2017.

d. Section reference from local regulation

Article 5 of the Law on Taxation issued on and effective from 16 May 2023 (LOT) defines a related party for transfer pricing purposes. Article 18 of the LOT empowers the GDT to determine the arm’s-length price in a related party transaction and to adjust the corporate income tax liability of the Cambodian taxpayer, where appropriate.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The regulations require taxpayers with related party transactions to prepare local TP documentation, and does not provide any exemption on domestic transactions.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

No

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Cambodia is not a member of the OECD; however, its local regulations are broadly consistent with the OECD Guidelines.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

No

▪ Additional details

The documentation requirements in Prakas 986 broadly conform to the guidance in the OECD BEPS Action 13 on Transfer Pricing Documentation and CbCR.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

No

▪ Coverage

Not applicable

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

Not applicable

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

Not applicable

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

No

▪ Coverage

Not applicable

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

Not applicable

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

Not applicable

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

- Coverage

Only Local File is applicable.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective date for Local File is 10 October 2017.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

Yes

- Additional details

The documentation requirements in Prakas 986 broadly conform to the guidance in the OECD BEPS Action 13 on Transfer Pricing Documentation and CbCR.

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

No

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

There are transfer pricing documentation rules. A transfer pricing report has to be prepared annually.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation needs to be prepared annually, and must also include contemporaneous benchmarking.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Turnover

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

Effective from 1 January 2025, taxpayers are exempt from the obligations to prepare annual TP documentation for any tax year if they meet both of the following criteria:

a. Have an annual turnover less than KHR8 billion (approximately USD2 million) and total assets less than KHR4 billion (approximately USD1 million).

b. Their related party transactions are less than KHR1 billion (approximately USD250,000) for goods, services, royalties and any other transactions combined, except the related party loan transactions.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

Not specified

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Not applicable

Annex 1, which is the related-party disclosure form, must be attached to the corporate income tax (CIT) return.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Annex 1, which is the related-party disclosure form, must be attached to the CIT return.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

31 March or 90 days after the end of the fiscal year-end

▪ Additional details

The CIT is due within 90 days after the end of the fiscal year-end.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

31 March or 90 days after the end of the fiscal year-end.

▪ Additional details

TP disclosure form is required as an annex of the annual CIT return, which should be filed within 90 days after the end of the fiscal year-end.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Not specified

▪ Additional details

There is none specified.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

No specified deadline

▪ Additional details

There is no specified deadline for the preparation of transfer pricing documentation but the Local File must be readily available when requested by the tax auditor during a tax audit.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The documentation should be filed within seven working days.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

▪ Additional details

All five recognized OECD methodologies are accepted in Cambodia, and there is no priority or preference of methods.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Yes, local comparables are preferred. However, finding local comparables is extremely difficult because of a lack of publicly available databases and only a few companies are listed on the local stock exchange. Accordingly, regional comparables are accepted.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

No preference

Use of full range and interquartile range based on the spreadsheet quartile formula is accepted.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

Roll-forward study is acceptable.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

No preference. Simple average is acceptable.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

There is none specified.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

- Are there any other penalties?

Failure to submit, late submission or incorrect disclosures will result in administrative penalties and may also result in the withdrawal of the taxpayer's certificate of tax compliance.

Failure to maintain proper accounting records and other documents (i.e., TP documentation) will be punishable by a fine of KHR10 million (Article 235 of LOT).

The tax administration can bring charges and demand punishment for criminal violation if necessary.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

▪ Additional details

A penalty of 10% to 40% of the underdeclared amount may be assessed, depending on the quantum of the underdeclared amount relative to the tax amount declared.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

▪ Additional details

A penalty of 10% to 40% of the underdeclared amount may be assessed, depending on the quantum of the underdeclared amount relative to the tax amount declared.

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Monthly interest is calculated at 1.5% of the amount of taxes deemed underdeclared.

▪ Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

▪ Additional details

Penalty relief is generally not available.

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

Prakas 986 states that a controlled transaction will not be adjusted if the relevant financial indicator falls within the arm's-length range. If the relevant financial indicator falls outside the arm's-length range, it will be adjusted to the median. The arm's-length range is defined as the range of relevant moderating financial figures obtained from the application of one of the five transfer pricing methods.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Historically, the revenue authority has focused on the garment industry for transfer pricing audits. The logistic, shipping and freight-forwarding industries are also a focus for transfer pricing audits by the authorities. At an individual transaction level, payment of management fees, royalties, and payments for other intangibles are all currently being closely scrutinized by the tax authority.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The statute of limitations is three years, which may be extended to 10 years if fraud or obstruction of the implementation of the law is involved. Generally, the tax audit is conducted covering the previous three years which have not been audited.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

There is none specified.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Not applicable

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable

d. Is MAP available?

No

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

No dedicated thin capitalization rules exist; however, interest deductions are capped at 50% of earnings before interest and taxes (EBIT) for the year in question plus any interest income earned in that year.

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Canada Revenue Agency (CRA)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

In Section 247 of the Income Tax Act, Canada (ITA) received Royal Assent on 18 June 1998 and is generally applicable to tax years that began after 1997. For transactions after 28 March 2012, Sections 247(12) to 247(15) were added in 2012 to streamline and rationalize the withholding tax implications of transfer pricing adjustments. Section 247(2.1) was added in 2021, applicable to taxation years that begin after 18 March 2019, to implement an ordering rule to give priority to Section 247 over other provisions of the ITA. Proposals introduced in June 2023 to revise Canadian transfer pricing legislation are currently under consideration. The CRA provides its administrative interpretations and guidance with respect to Section 247 and its application through the release of Information Circulars (ICs), Transfer Pricing Memoranda (TPMs), and pronouncements at public conferences, symposia and conventions. The CRA's current key pronouncements on transfer pricing are:

- IC 94-4R, International Transfer Pricing: Advance Pricing Arrangements (APAs), 22 February 2024
- IC 94-4R (special release), Advance Pricing Arrangements for Small Businesses, 18 March 2005
- IC 71-17R 6, Guidance on Competent Authority Assistance Under Canada's Tax Conventions, 1 June 2021
- Fourteen different TPMs

c. Effective date of applicability

18 June 1998

d. Section reference from local regulation

Refer to the section above.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no documentation obligation for domestic transactions.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Canada is a member of the OECD. While no mention is made of the OECD Guidelines in Section 247 of the ITA, the legislative provision is intended to reflect the arm's-length principle as set out in the OECD Guidelines. The CRA has also endeavored to harmonize its administrative guidance and approach to transfer pricing with the OECD Guidelines. When dealing with transfer pricing issues domestically, the relevant Canadian statutory provisions are relied upon. The CRA's administrative guidance is considered instructive, but not binding. The OECD Guidelines and other OECD reports are not formally recognized as authoritative. However, courts and other dispute resolution channels (e.g., competent authorities) will usually consider the OECD's international principles and standards in reaching a decision. Proposals to revise Canadian transfer pricing legislation introduced in 2023 are currently under consideration, including a provision to support consistency of interpretation with the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

No

▪ Additional details

Canada has not adopted or implemented BEPS Action 13 for transfer pricing documentation in its local regulations. Rather, the jurisdiction relies on the transfer pricing documentation framework outlined in Section 247(4)(a) (i) to (vi) of the ITA. Proposals to revise Canadian transfer pricing legislation introduced in 2023 are currently under consideration, including proposals to harmonize domestic documentation requirements with the OECD documentation framework.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Not applicable

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

▪ Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

Yes

▪ Additional details

Documentation needs to be prepared contemporaneously but is only required to be submitted upon request by the CRA.

▪ Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

▪ Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

Under local jurisdiction regulations, transfer pricing documentation should completely and accurately describe material changes in the year (if the documentation was previously prepared).
- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes
- b. Materiality limit or thresholds
- TP documentation
 - Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

No
 - If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable
 - Is there any other threshold?

No
 - Additional details

Not applicable; however, reporting of transactions on Form T 106 is required only if the total reportable transactions exceed CAD1 million.
- CbCR
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

EUR750 million
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income
 - Is there any other threshold?

No
 - Additional details

The threshold is EUR750 million.
- Master File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

Not applicable
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable
 - Is there any other threshold?

No
 - Additional details

Not applicable
- Local File

Not applicable
- Economic analysis
 - Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable
 - Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Where transfer pricing documentation is prepared, inclusion of an economic analysis would normally be considered to comprise an element of the taxpayer's reasonable efforts to document and use arm's-length transfer prices.

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation is acceptable in English or French; however, there is no specific mandate by tax law.

- Is a safe harbor available?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable; however, a transfer pricing penalty is not imposed except where adjustments exceed the lesser of i) 10% of gross revenue, and ii) CAD5 Million.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

- Additional details

Testing of each discrete transaction is preferable to aggregation.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

The T-106 Information Return requires disclosure of transaction amounts and transfer pricing methods applied.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

Taxpayers are required to file a T-106 information return annually, reporting the transactions undertaken with non-arm's-length nonresidents during the taxation year. This requirement applies where the value of transactions with non-arm's-length nonresidents in the aggregate exceeds CAD1 million in the taxation year. The T-106 is a separate information return, but it is usually filed together with the corporate tax return (although there are separate penalties if the T-106 information return is filed late). Data from the T-106 is entered into a CRA database and is used to screen taxpayers for international tax audits.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Not applicable

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

30 June for corporate taxpayers with a calendar year-end

- Additional details

Corporate income tax return should be filed within six months after year-end for corporations and within five months after year-end for partnerships.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

30 June for corporate taxpayers with a calendar year-end

- Additional details

T-106 information returns should be filed within six months after year-end for corporations and within five months after year-end for partnerships.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not required

- Additional details

There is no requirement to file a Master File.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December of subsequent year for corporate taxpayers with a calendar year-end

- Additional details

The report should be submitted no later than 12 months after the last day of the fiscal year to which the CbCR relates.

CbCR for locally headquartered companies

Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared) - within 12 months of the last day of the fiscal year being reported on.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

30 June for corporate taxpayers with a calendar year-end

- Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation should be completed by the time of filing the tax return, which is six months after year-end for corporations and five months after year-end for partnerships.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Taxpayers must provide documentation to the CRA within three months of service, made personally or by registered or certified mail, of a written request under Subsection 247(4).

6. Transfer Pricing methods

- a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

- Additional details

Traditionally, the CRA considered that, even though Section 247 does not stipulate so, the above-noted transfer pricing methods form a natural hierarchy, with the CUP method providing the most reliable indication of an arm's-length transfer price or allocation. Traditionally, the CRA did not require or impose a best-method rule. The CRA believes that the most appropriate method to be used in any situation will be the one that provides the highest degree of comparability between transactions, following an analysis of the hierarchy of methods. Following the 2010 revisions to the OECD Guidelines, which it endorsed, the CRA in 2012 published TPM- 14. While not wholly abandoning the concept of a natural hierarchy of methods, it indicated that accepting the preferred method in a particular circumstance would depend on the degree of comparability available under each of the methods and the availability and reliability of the data.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

- a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Local benchmarks are preferred following the jurisdiction of the tested party. For Canada, Canadian benchmarks are preferred, but generally, North American companies are acceptable as comparables.

- b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Single-year testing is generally required, but multiple-year data may be considered in setting pricing under APAs.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

The full range of comparable results is relevant for testing transfer prices; quartile results are not critical but may be presented for information purposes along with the median.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

It is not necessary for a fresh benchmarking search to be conducted every year; rollforward and update of the financials of a prior study are acceptable if the facts and circumstances have not materially changed for the transaction from those applicable to the year of the study. In line with OECD guidance we recommend a fresh benchmarking search at least every three years.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

The taxpayer's results are tested on a single-year basis. Nonetheless, comparable company data is often presented for multiple years using a weighted average.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There are none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Penalties equal 10% of any adjustment to income arising from transfer pricing where reasonable efforts were not made to document and use arm's-length transfer prices.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Generally, $500/month subject to certain conditions.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

- Are there any other penalties?

Subsection 247(3) of the ITA imposes a penalty of 10% of the net upward transfer pricing adjustments. These penalties are applicable if such adjustments exceed the lesser of 10% of the taxpayer's gross revenue for the year or CAD5 million and if the taxpayer has not made reasonable efforts to determine and use arm's-length transfer prices. Proposals to revise Canadian transfer pricing legislation are currently under consideration, including revisions to the penalty thresholds. As set out in TPM- 13, all proposed reassessments involving potential transfer pricing penalties must be referred to the Transfer Pricing Review Committee (TPRC) for review and recommendation for final action. After considering the facts and circumstances and the taxpayer's representations, the TPRC will conclude whether a transfer pricing penalty is justified. A taxpayer will be deemed not to have made reasonable efforts to determine and use arm's-length transfer prices or allocations unless the taxpayer has prepared or obtained records or documents that provide a description that is complete and accurate, in all material respects, for the items listed in Subsection 247(4) of the ITA (see the "Transfer pricing documentation requirements" section above), and such documentation exists as of the tax filing due date. For corporations, such documentation must exist six months after the year-end. For partnerships, the due date is five months after year-end. Further, a taxpayer will be deemed not to have made reasonable efforts to determine and use arm's-length transfer prices or allocations if the taxpayer does not provide the records or documents to the CRA within three months of the issuance of a written request to do so.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

- Additional details

Transfer pricing related penalties are assessed without reference to the taxpayer's income or loss for the relevant reporting year and are not tax deductible.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

Yes

- Additional details

Interest on penalties is payable from the date of assessment of the penalty, at 8% currently in 2025; if the assessed penalty is subsequently rescinded, the interest would be reversed.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

If a taxpayer is considered to have made reasonable efforts to determine and use arm's-length transfer prices or allocations with respect to adjusted, non-arm's-length transactions, no penalty is assessed. No transfer pricing penalties under Subsection 247(3) of the ITA should arise with respect to transactions covered by an APA, as long as the APA remains in effect and the taxpayer complies with its terms and conditions. When the CRA has reassessed a transfer pricing penalty, and the Canadian competent authority and relevant foreign counterpart negotiate a change to the amount of the transfer pricing adjustment, the CRA will adjust the amount of the Canadian transfer pricing penalty accordingly. If the result of the change is that the adjustment no longer exceeds the penalty threshold, the penalty is rescinded. An assessed transfer pricing penalty may also be vacated by the CRA Appeals Branch upon review.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

Under Subsection 152(4) of the ITA, the Minister of National Revenue ordinarily cannot reassess a taxpayer after the "normal reassessment period" as defined in Subsection 152(3.1) of the ITA. For most multinational taxpayers, that period is four years beginning after the earlier of the day of mailing a notice of an original assessment for the year or the day of mailing an original notification that no tax is payable for the year. The time limit applies unless the taxpayer has made misrepresentations, committed fraud or filed a waiver, in which case, the minister may reassess a taxpayer at any time (i.e., without any time limit). With respect to transactions involving non-arm's-length transactions with nonresidents, the reassessment period is extended by an additional three years, i.e., to seven years. This time period may be further extended if the taxpayer provides the CRA with a waiver (authorization from the taxpayer to the CRA to waive the time limit for reassessment). The taxpayer may provide waivers within the seven-year extended reassessment period. A number of Canada's tax treaties restrict the time for Canada to make an adjustment to a period less than the seven years allowed under the ITA.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

For large corporations, the risk of an annual tax audit may be considered to be high, smaller corporations are also susceptible to be audited depending on the nature and relative size of their transactions. Transfer pricing methodology being challenged, if transfer pricing comes under audit, is also high, as the CRA does challenge methodology depending on the facts.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

If the methodology is challenged, the likelihood of an adjustment may be considered to be high.

CRA guidance in TPM-16 indicates that "the CRA will not make a transfer pricing adjustment if the price or margin of a transaction is within the arm's length range. If, however, the price or margin falls outside the established range, the CRA will determine the most appropriate point within the range using the most suitable measure of central tendency under the circumstances. Where no further distinction can be made on the basis of comparability, the most appropriate point may usually be determined by using the average."

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Corporate restructuring, royalties, hybrid debt transactions, financial products and corporate services charges are more likely to undergo an audit. However, CRA does not limit itself to these categories and all types of transactions are susceptible to being selected for audit.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

The CRA launched its APA program in July 1993. As set out in IC 94- 4R2, it allows taxpayers to pursue unilateral, bilateral and multilateral APAs. In addition, the CRA has made a small-business APA program available to Canadian taxpayers under certain conditions. The CRA no longer charges taxpayers a fee to complete an APA. An APA request can cover a taxation year if the request is made before the filing due date for that year.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Typically, the tenure is five years, but terms can vary; often, additional years may be added at the end of an APA negotiation.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

TPM- 11 discusses the CRA policy with respect to rolling an APA back to prior years, with the main limitation being that APAs may not be rolled back to years for which a request for contemporaneous documentation under Section 247 has been issued. Effectively, this means that APAs cannot be rolled back to tax years that are currently undergoing a transfer pricing audit.

d. Is MAP available?

Yes, the taxpayer may request MAP consideration under an applicable treaty. A time limit specified under either the "associated enterprises" or the "mutual agreement procedure" provision of a double taxation treaty may be relevant in the case of transfer pricing and the time limit may not necessarily be the same number of years in the MAP article of each treaty.

Under Subsection 18(4) of the ITA, deductibility of interest paid to related nonresident people is limited to debt equal to 1. 5 times the equity. Debt capacity is not subject to specific regulation. However, there is proposed legislation that applies to limit excessive interest and finance expenses (EIFEL).

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

National Directorate of State Revenues (Direcção Nacional de Receitas do Estado – DNRE)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Articles 65 and 66 of the Corporate Income Tax Code (CITC) define the arm's-length concept, the eligible TP methods, the definition of special relations, and declarative requirements. Ministerial Order No. 75/ 2015 (updated by Ministerial Order No. 24/2023 of May 18,2023) was published by Cape Verde's Ministry of Finance (Ministério das Finanças) on 31 December 2015 (TP Ministerial Order).

c. Effective date of applicability

31 December 2015

d. Section reference from local regulation

Article 66 of the CITC

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

They have to be reported and should be in line with the arm's-length principle.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Limited

▪ Additional details

Cape Verde is not a member of the OECD. It has adopted general concepts of the UN tax manual and the OECD Guidelines in its local regulations. Furthermore, the TP Ministerial Order mentions that the OECD Guidelines are an important reference on TP matters.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

No

▪ Additional details

Cape Verde has not yet adopted BEPS measures in its TP legislation, but it has joined the Inclusive Framework for the global implementation of the BEPS project. The part of BEPS Action 13 devoted to CbCR has been introduced in Cape Verde.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

The report should be consistent with OECD requirements (i.e., group consolidated revenue of EUR750 million).

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

Details on the CbCR obligation are pending the publication of administrative guidance, namely regarding the format and means of submitting this information to the tax administration.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

No

▪ Coverage

Only CbCR recommendations have been adopted. The BEPS Action 13 TP documentation format has not been adopted in Cape Verde.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

Details on the CbCR obligation are pending the publication of administrative guidance, namely regarding the format and means of submitting this information to the tax administration.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

There are differences, as Cape Verde has not adopted the Master File approach. However, Cape Verde local TP legislation does not outline a specific structure that the TP report should follow. Instead, it lists (in Article 15 of the TP Ministerial Order) the information that the report should include, which is in line with the OECD TP Guidelines.

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

No

- Coverage

Only CbCR recommendations have been adopted. The BEPS Action 13 TP documentation format has not been adopted in Cape Verde.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

Details on the CbCR obligation are pending the publication of administrative guidance, namely regarding the format and means of submitting this information to the tax administration.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

There are differences, as Cape Verde has not adopted the Local File approach. However, Cape Verde local TP legislation does not outline a specific structure that the TP report should follow. Instead, it lists (in Article 15 of the TP Ministerial Order) the information that the report should include, which is in line with the OECD TP Guidelines.

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

No

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

As per the TP Ministerial Order, taxpayers must maintain contemporaneous information and documentation.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

As per the TP Ministerial Order, taxpayers must maintain contemporaneous information and documentation regarding the TP policy adopted in the determination of transfer prices on an annual basis.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Turnover

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

The entities classified as “large taxpayers” are entities with a turnover greater than CVE300 million or with a global value of paid tax greater than CVE15 million or entities with a high level of risk associated. Additionally, other entities are subject to preparation of the TP documentation – namely, i) entities benefiting from the privileged taxation regime, as defined in the General Tax Code, permanent establishments of nonresident entities and entities specifically designated by the tax authorities for this purpose, ii) entities under supervision of Cape Verde Bank, iii) entities with activities related to telecommunication, production and distribution of water and energy, iv) other relevant entities related with the entities previously considered, and v) entities nominated by the Treasury Director.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

EUR750 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

The report should be consistent with OECD requirements (i.e., group consolidated revenue of EUR750 million).

- Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

Not applicable

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

Not applicable

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

They are the same as those identified above. Economic analysis should be a part of the TP documentation, and there are no separate criteria for this obligation.

- Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

The documentation should be in Portuguese.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Unspecified

- Additional details

This is not explicitly addressed in the legislation.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

- Additional details

Aggregation is allowed only if certain conditions are met.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

The main disclosure requirements at this level are contained in the Annual Tax and Accounting Information Return (declaração anual de informação contabilística e fiscal), in which a taxpayer should, on a yearly basis, indicate whether it has engaged, during that tax year, in intragroup transactions with entities in which it is in a situation of special relation, as well as:

- Identify the related entities.
- Identify and declare the amount of transactions conducted with each of the related parties.
- Declare if it has organized, by the time the transactions took place, and maintains the documentation relating to the transfer prices applied. The deadline for the submission of such return corresponds to the end of the seventh month after the corresponding tax year-end.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

There are no specific TP returns (other than the one described above).

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

31 May

- Additional details

The deadline for the corporate income tax filing is five months from the fiscal year-end.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

31 July

- Additional details

The deadline for the TP disclosures and return is seven months from the fiscal year-end.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

The deadline for submission of the CbCR is the end of the 12th month following the fiscal year-end.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

31 May

- Additional details

The deadline for preparation or submission for the CbCR notification is the last day of the fifth month following the fiscal year-end.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

End of the seventh month after year-end

- Additional details

In the absence of provisions covering the deadline to prepare TP documentation, it is reasonable to assume that it corresponds to the deadline of the submission of the annual tax and accounting information return – the end of the seventh month after the corresponding tax year-end.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

There is no statutory deadline for submission of TP documentation, but it should be submitted upon request.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Not applicable

6. Transfer Pricing methodsa. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

All five widely accepted methods recognized among TP administrators and practitioners are acceptable under the local regulations: CUP, resale price, CPM, profit-split and TNMM. It is foreseen that the most appropriate method should be applied to a controlled transaction or to a series of transactions to determine whether those transactions comply with the arm's-length principle.

7. Benchmarking Requirementsa. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There is no specific requirement.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

There is no specific requirement.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

There is no specific requirement.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no specific requirement.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is no specific requirement.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

Not applicable

8. TP Penalties and Reliefa. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Entities refusing to file or to prepare the relevant transfer pricing documentation (if not regarded as tax fraud) are liable for a penalty ranging from CVE100, 000 to CVE2.5 million. Formerly, the penalty for negligent non-filing or late filing of the transfer pricing documentation was set at CVE375,000.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

CVE100,000 to CVE2,500,000

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

- Are there any other penalties?

Entities refusing to file or to prepare the relevant transfer pricing documentation (if not regarded as tax fraud) are liable for a penalty ranging from CVE100,000 to CVE2.5 million. Formerly, the penalty for negligent non-filing or late filing of the transfer pricing documentation was set at CVE375,000.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

There is none specified.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The statute of limitations in Cape Verde is five years, counting from the beginning of the fiscal year after the one in which the tax issue was raised.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

- Additional details

Regarding the annual transfer pricing return, as per Article 32 of the 2023 Finance Law, companies realizing annual turnover less than XAF500 million, and that are under the dependence or that control other foreign companies, are required to file an annual transfer pricing return using the template provided by the tax authorities. The filing must be performed together with the annual tax return. Regarding transfer pricing documentation, Article 32 of the 2023 Finance Law mentions that it is applicable for companies realizing turnover equal to or more than XAF500 million and that are under the dependence or that control other foreign entities. This must be submitted using the guideline provided by rules n° 02 MFBCP/CE/SG/DGI/DLCRFI/ 2023.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes, the details of the information to be included in the transfer pricing return form are given in the document "Instruction Specifying the Procedures for Applying the Transfer Pricing Rules."

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

30 April (or 15 May if extended)

▪ Additional details

It's 30 April of each year, with the possibility of extension to 15 May if agreed to by the tax administration.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

30 April or 15 May

▪ Additional details

It's 30 April of each year with the possibility of extension to 15 May if agreed to by the tax administration.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

30 April (or 15 May if extended)

▪ Additional details

The transfer pricing return deadline is 30 April of each year, with the possibility of extension to 15 May if agreed to by the tax administration.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The transfer pricing return/documentation must be submitted each year, along with the annual tax return, no later than 30 April, for enterprises whose shares or voting rights are held directly or indirectly, or that hold directly or indirectly the shares or voting rights of a company abroad. The late submission penalty is applied as below:

▪ XAF10 million if submitted after 15 May to 31 May

▪ XAF20 million if submitted after 1 June to 30 June

▪ XAF25 million if submitted after 1 July to 31 July

▪ XAF5 million for each month from 1 August If the tax administration, during a general tax audit, has evidence to presume that such companies had indirectly transferred profit abroad or had conducted intragroup transactions not reported in the transfer pricing return, the following sanctions are applied:

Rejection of deductibility of intragroup transaction

Fine of 5% of the total amount of the intragroup transactions of the company with a minimum of XAF50 million per fiscal year

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

If transfer pricing documentation is not handed over or is only partially handed over, the tax administration shall send to the concerned company a formal warning to produce or complete it within 15 days.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

- a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

There is no specific method provided by the legislation. However, the method chosen by the company should respect the arm's-length principle.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

- a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There is no specified method as per the tax law, but the company should specify the method used. African comparables are preferable.

- b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

There is no specified method as per the tax law, but the company should specify the method used.

- c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

There is no specified method as per the tax law, but the company should specify the method used.

- d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no specified method as per the tax law, but the company should specify the method used.

- e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is no specified method as per the tax law, but the company should specify the method used.

- f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is no specified method as per the tax law, but the company should specify the method used.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

- a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

- Rejection of deductibility of intragroup transaction
- Fine of 5% of the total amount of the intragroup transactions of the company with a minimum of XAF50 million per fiscal year

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

- Are there any other penalties?

The late submission penalty is applied as per the below:

- XAF10 million if submitted after 15 May to 31 May
- XAF20 million if submitted after 1 June to 30 June
- XAF25 million if submitted after 1 July to 31 July
- XAF5 million for each month from 1 August

Incorrect disclosure and absence of transfer pricing return are sanctioned as follows:

- Rejection of deductibility of intragroup transaction
- Fine of 5% of the total amount of the intragroup transactions of the company with a minimum of XAF50 million per fiscal year

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

Penalties cannot be assessed if companies make the adjustment before any tax audit and no later than 30 June. Any adjustment after 30 June will not be accepted.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

This is not specified.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

The enterprise can request total or partial deductibility of the expenses.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

There is no specific statute of limitations for transfer pricing, so the statute of limitations that will be applied is the one for the annual tax return, which is three years.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

Not applicable

- d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Not applicable

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

- a. Are APAs available?

Unilateral and multilateral APA are available in Chad following the 2023 Finance Bill.

- b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Such an agreement allows a set of appropriate criteria (including the method to be used, the comparable and adjustments to be made, and the key assumptions about future developments) to be determined in advance of transactions between associated companies

- c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable

- d. Is MAP available?

Not applicable

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

When a loan is concluded with a parent company, the General Tax Code provides two types of limitations in deduction of related loan interest. The first limitation relates to the basis of calculation. The basis of calculation of allowable interest on loan granted by a shareholder cannot exceed half of the share capital of the company. The second limitation relates to the applicable rate, which should be a maximum of the Bank of Central African States (Banque des États de l'Afrique Centrale – BEAC) rate plus 2 points. When a loan is concluded with affiliate companies that are not parent companies, the interest is not deductible for corporate income tax purposes.

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

No

b. Name of authority

Not applicable

c. Name of regulations

Not applicable

d. Effective date of applicability

Not applicable

e. Section reference from local regulation

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Internal Tax Service (Servicio de Impuestos Internos – SII)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Article 41E of the Income Tax Law (ITL) establishes that any cross-border transaction held with a related party, or with an entity domiciled in a tax haven, or in a back-to-back transaction, or any transaction resulting from a restructuring process, is subject to transfer pricing regulations.

c. Effective date of applicability

1 January 2012

d. Section reference from local regulation

Article 41E defines situations where parties are deemed to be related, for example, if the counterparty is domiciled or resident in a jurisdiction or territory considered as a preferential tax regime. For this purpose, any jurisdiction or territory included by SII in the list of Article 41H of the ITL would be considered as a preferential tax regime. Additionally, the natural persons will be considered as related parties if they are spouses or have a kinship by consanguinity or affinity up to the fourth degree, inclusive.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Although Chilean transfer pricing rules do not include a formal obligation to inform transactions between Chilean related parties, there is a general rule in the Chilean Tax Law that gives the SII the authority to assess whether these transactions were carried out according to the market prices. In practice, a transfer pricing team of the SII assesses transactions between Chilean related parties.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Chile has been a member of the OECD since May 2010. Although the transfer pricing rules do not mention the OECD Guidelines, the arm's-length principle is mentioned. On the other hand, the SII applies the OECD Guidelines as a source of interpretation on transfer pricing audits or APAs.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Since 1 January 2016, Chilean parent companies or controllers of MNE groups with revenues higher than EUR750 million, or its equivalent amount in CLP (calculated using the exchange rate of the end of 2015), must prepare the CbCR form (Affidavit No. 1937). Additionally, since commercial year 2018, Form 1907, Annual Transfer Pricing Affidavit, includes specific fields to notify which entity of the group is submitting the CbCR and in which jurisdiction it is being done.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2016.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

The Master File is applicable for headquarter entities of Chilean multinational groups that meet the requirements.

- Effective or expected date of commencement
The Master File is applicable from FY 2020.
 - Material differences from OECD report template or format
Along with the Master File document, information such as intercompany agreements, full shareholder chart and APAs in force, among other information, must be attached.
 - Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?
Yes
 - Coverage
The Local File is applicable for some Chilean entities that belong to multinational groups. The obligation to submit the Local File annually applies from FY 2020.
 - Effective or expected date of commencement
The Local File is applicable from FY 2020.
 - Material differences from OECD report template or format
Along with the Local File document, information such as intercompany agreements, full shareholder chart and APAs in force, among other information, must be attached.
- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?
Not applicable
- Additional details
Not applicable
- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?
Yes
-
- ### 3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements
-
- a. Applicability
- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?
Yes
 - If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?
Yes
 - Additional details
The transfer pricing documentation is recognized by the law as a valid proof during a transfer pricing audit. From FY 2020 the documentation is mandatory for some taxpayers in Chile.
 - Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?
Yes
 - Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?
Yes
 - Additional details
Not applicable
 - For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?
Yes
- b. Materiality limit or thresholds
- TP documentation
 - Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?
Yes
 - If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Other
 - Is there any other threshold?
Yes
 - Additional details
Transfer pricing documentation should always be prepared by taxpayers with related-party transactions, but it is only mandatory to submit annually for those taxpayers that meet the following requirements:

- Being classified as large taxpayer
 - Having related-party transactions higher than CLP200 million
 - Belonging to an MNE that is obligated to submit the CbCR in any jurisdiction
- CbCR
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?
EUR750 million
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Annual global income
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
Since 1 January 2016, Chilean parent companies or controllers of MNE groups with revenues higher than EUR750 million, or its equivalent amount in CLP (calculated using the exchange rate of the end of 2015), must prepare the CbCR form (Affidavit No. 1937). Additionally, since commercial year 2018, Form 1907, Annual Transfer Pricing Affidavit, includes specific fields to notify which entity of the group is submitting the CbCR and in which jurisdiction it is being done.
 - Master File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?
EUR750 million
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Annual global income
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
The Master File is applicable from FY 2020, and it is only mandatory for those headquarter entities of Chilean MNE groups that are obligated to submit the CbCR in Chile.
- Local File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?
Having related-party transactions higher than CLP200 million
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Total international related-party transactions
 - Is there any other threshold?
Yes
 - Additional details
The Local File is applicable from FY 2020. Transfer pricing documentation should always be prepared by taxpayers with related-party transactions, but Local File is only mandatory to submit annually for those taxpayers that meet the following requirements:
 - Being classified as large taxpayer
 - Having related-party transactions higher than CLP200 million
 - Belonging to an MNE that is obligated to submit the CbCR in any jurisdiction
 - Economic analysis
 - Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?
No
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Other
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
Taxpayers should prepare a transfer pricing documentation that includes the Economic analysis done to prove the prices, values or margins obtained in transactions with foreign related parties. The SII may require these analyses for any transaction.

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

Some information can be provided in English; however, the default language for the documentation must be Spanish.

- Is a safe harbor available?

No

- Additional details

However, the ITL establishes that the royalty rate cannot exceed 4% of the company's sales when the said transaction has been held with a related party, and other specific conditions need to be in place. This is a limit to the deductibility of expenses.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

- Additional details

Both alternatives are applicable if they are duly explained considering the terms of the case.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

Yes

With the transfer pricing obligations in place (i.e., Form 1950, Annual Master File Affidavit, and Form 1951, Annual Local File Affidavit), a lot of information should be included as part of this compliance: for example, legal structures, related-party agreements, financial statements, organizational chart with the detail of employees by area, among others.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

Taxpayers listed by the Large Taxpayers Directorate

(grandes contribuyentes) or classified as large must file another Form 1913, Global Characterization of the Taxpayer, which must be submitted before the annual income tax return in any case before 30 June. This affidavit has several questions related with transfer pricing and other tax matters.

The transfer pricing return (Form 1907, Annual Transfer Pricing Affidavit) must be filed by the last business day of June with respect to the information of the prior fiscal year (a three-month extension is automatically obtained if the form is filed after that date, one time only each year). All transactions with foreign related parties must be reported, but only transactions greater than CLP200 million (approximately USD300,000) need to include details about transfer pricing methodology for analysis. This threshold is Not applicable to financial operations that must be fully reported regardless of the amount. The mentioned financial operations include date, maturity, interest rate, principal, and kind of interest rate. Taxpayers that meet any of the following conditions must file the transfer pricing return (Form 1907):

- Companies considered medium or large size as of 31 December of the commercial year to be disclosed
- Companies that entered into transactions with parties domiciled in a jurisdiction or territory that is considered to be a preferential tax regime according to Article 41H of the ITL
- Small companies that have entered into transactions of more than CLP500 million (approximately USD725,000 or the equivalent in a foreign currency) with non-domiciled related parties as of 31 December of the commercial year to be disclosed transactions with related parties must be registered by the type of transaction and by related entity. The SII also requires technical aspects to be filed, such as:
 - Transfer pricing method used
 - Profit-level indicator (PLI) applied
 - Global or segmented analysis
 - Tested party and its result in the transaction analyzed
 - Whole operating margin of the Chilean entity, regardless of the method selected for the Economic analysis

- b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

Taxpayers can include a transfer pricing adjustment for corporate tax purposes, if taxpayers determine that prices in intercompany transactions with related foreign entities are not aligned with the arm's-length principle. Transfer pricing adjustment for corporate tax purposes must be positive.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Not applicable

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No, is not. It is part of Form 1907.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

There are other forms to be filed annually, such as Form 1913, which is only applicable for large taxpayers in Chile; Form 1951 (Local File), applicable for entities that belong to an MNE group filing the CbCR anywhere, with transactions with related parties higher than CLP200 million and being large entities. And other forms such as Form 1937, which is the CbCR and Form 1950 (h) must be submitted by those entities that are obligated to file the CbCR in Chile. All of them have the same deadline, the last business day of June of each year. Some of those forms, such as 1950 and 1951, require some documents together with the Form, for instance, copy of the intercompany agreements, financial statements, group shareholding charts, among other information.

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

30 April

- Additional details

Corporate income tax return must be filed by 30 April or after, depending on the result of the taxes to be paid (payment or refund).

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

Last business day of June

- Additional details

Transfer pricing return (Form 1907) should be filed by the last business day of June with respect to the information of the prior fiscal year (a three-month extension may be obtained, one time only each year).

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

30 June

- Additional details

The Master File should be filed by the last business day of June with respect to the information of the prior fiscal year (a three-month extension may be obtained, one time only each year).

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

30 June

- Additional details

The CbCR (Form 1937) must be prepared and submitted by the last business day of June with respect to the information of the prior fiscal year (a three-month extension may be obtained, one time only each year).

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

30 June

- Additional details

If the Chilean entity is designated as surrogate entity, it has to notify from 1 June to 30 June. The constituent entities should notify CbCR through Form 1907 at the end of June (or September).

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

Contemporaneously and upon request

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation must be prepared contemporaneously and provided upon request. It is highly recommended that the transfer pricing documentation be prepared in Spanish; however, for Form 1951, it is possible to attach it in English. If taxpayers fulfill the requirement to file Form 1951, Local File must be provided by the last business day of June (a three-month extension is automatically obtained, one time only each year, if the form is filed after that date).

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

The same as Form 1951, if the form is Not applicable, the entity should file the Local File upon request – usually within 30 days.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The SII allows a maximum of 30 days for delivery from the time of the request.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

- a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing methods accepted are the same as those established by the OECD Guidelines. Additionally, a sixth or “other” method is acceptable, when one of the other methodologies is Not applicable. Transfer pricing rules in Chile consider the “best method rule,” meaning taxpayers must choose the method that best reflects the transaction’s economic reality to determine its market value. The taxpayer should be able to demonstrate or sustain the applicability of such a method over the others.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

- a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Foreign comparable entities and transactions are accepted in the absence of local comparable entities and transactions, if they are similar in functions, assets and risks of the tested party or tested transaction.

- b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Single-year testing is recommended for tested parties. However, for the comparable information, it is usual to apply multiple-year analysis to perform the range of the comparable values. If considering the characteristics of the company is necessary to apply a multiple-year approach for the tested party, it is possible to explain the economic reasons to apply it.

Chilean transfer pricing Rule (ITL Article 41E) incorporates as parameter to compare the prices, values or margins obtained by the tested party the interquartile range.

- d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

The Chilean transfer pricing rules do not specify whether a fresh benchmarking is necessary every year; nevertheless, the practice follows the OECD recommendations, considering both options.

- e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

The weighted average is usually used; however, it is not mandatory. Best practice must be applied.

- f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

It is important that the financial information used for the tested party be comparable to the financial information used for the benchmark; for example, differences in accounting standards used may require some comparability adjustments.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

- a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

The monetary penalty for not having Forms 1907, 1937, 1950 or 1951; submitting them late; or filing them with mistakes is between 10 and 50 Chilean annual tax units, which is approximately USD10,000 to USD50,000, but no more than an amount equal to 15% of the tax equity of the taxpayer.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Same as documentation

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Same as documentation

- Are there any other penalties?

The monetary penalty for not having Forms 1907, 1937, 1950 or 1951; submitting them late; or filing them with mistakes is between 10 and 50 Chilean annual tax units, which is approximately USD10,000 to USD50,000, but no more than an amount equal to 15% of the tax equity of the taxpayer.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

Regarding transfer pricing adjustments, price, value or profit margin differences that result from applying Chilean transfer pricing rules are subject to a single tax penalty of 40% (before January 2017, the rate was 35%) of the adjustment determined. If the SII determines the transfer pricing adjustment as a result of a transfer pricing audit without enough collaboration of the taxpayer, an additional 5% may be applied, unless the taxpayer rendered the information and documentation required during the audit process, as determined by the former in a notification.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

The application of penalties depends on the potential adjustment determined by the Chilean IRS. Having available the TP documentation would imply a better defense of the transfer pricing methods applied; however, if the documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous, it might be considered not enough proof about the proper application of the methods – but this lack of information does not have a specific penalty, unless it involves a fault in presentation of the Form 1951 (Local File).

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Interest and readjustments for inflation are determined under the application of ITL Article 53.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

There is no prescribed penalty relief for not preparing and submitting transfer pricing documentation. However, maintaining contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation would be accepted by the SII as an important proof of the taxpayer's "good faith." In these cases, the transfer pricing penalty applicable to the potential adjustments may be reduced. There are discounts applicable if the payment is made in a short period.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The general statute of limitations is three years from the latest date on which the tax was due. It could be extended to six years if no return is filed or if the authorities find that the returns are false. In Chile, the transfer pricing rules are "substance over form." In this sense, the SII can challenge not only the arm's-length principle but also the effectiveness of the transaction and its economic substance.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

Currently, there is a high probability that the SII will audit transfer pricing methods (most likely if the company has expenses related to services received, royalties paid or interest paid or those under operating losses).

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

If the methodology is challenged successfully, the SII would probably apply a corresponding adjustment.

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

If the Chilean IRS issues a transfer pricing adjustment, the median of interquartile range will be used. However, if the Chilean Tax Payers accepts transfer pricing analysis prepared by Chilean IRS previous to transfer pricing assessment is issued formally by Chilean IRS (which means during transfer pricing audit), any value within interquartile range could be used.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

In Chile, there are specific programs that assess transfer pricing transactions in the mining industry. The transactions that the SII assesses in a transfer pricing audit are intragroup services (management, technical and routine services), payment of royalties, interest accrued, payments for reimbursement of expenses, commodity transactions from different industries, and others.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Taxpayers can propose APA procedures in relation to their transactions. To this end, it is necessary to submit a formal request and a transfer pricing study. The SII, within six months of the taxpayer sharing all the necessary information, can accept all or part of the taxpayer's request or refuse it. The SII could subscribe to unilateral or multilateral APAs. The decision of the SII cannot be challenged through a legal or administrative process.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The APA, once signed, can last up to five commercial years (considering signed year), after which it can be extended with a prior agreement between the parties involved. This term could be reduced if economic circumstances change drastically from one year to another.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Yes. Three years could be contemplated.

d. Is MAP available?

The MAP process is recognized by the tax treaties signed by Chile.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

For transfer pricing purposes, the thin capitalization analysis is based on benchmarking, to prove if this transaction would be agreed between unrelated parties. These analyses are based on the OECD Guidelines, without any specific rule about that. On the other hand, there are specific tax thin capitalization rules applicable for withholding-tax purposes.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

State Taxation Administration (STA)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

As of 31 December 2024, there are six STA releases that form the overall framework for TP enforcement in mainland China:

- Bulletin Gonggao [2021] No. 24 (Bulletin 24) – Bulletin on Simplified Procedures for Unilateral Advance Pricing Arrangements (effective from 1 September 2021)
- Bulletin Gonggao [2017] No. 6 (Bulletin 6) – Bulletin on Supervisory Measures for Special Tax Investigation Adjustments and Mutual Agreement Procedures (MAPs) (effective from 1 May 2017)
- Bulletin Gonggao [2016] No. 64 (Bulletin 64) – Bulletin on Issues Related to Improving the Administration of Advance Pricing Arrangements (effective from 1 December 2016)
- Bulletin Gonggao [2016] No. 42 (Bulletin 42) – Bulletin on Improving Administration of Related-Party Transaction
- Reporting and Contemporaneous Documentation (effective from fiscal year 2016 and onward)
- Circular Guoshuifa [2009] No. 2 (Circular 2) – Implementation Measures for Special Tax Adjustments (Trial Implementation) (effective from 1 January 2008)

Other relevant STA releases include:

- Circular Guoshuifa [2012] No. 13 – Notice on Internal Procedures of Special Tax Adjustments (Trial Implementation): sets out the guidelines for different tax authorities across China to coordinate their work on tax investigations (effective from 1 March 2012)
- Circular Guoshuifa [2012] No. 16 – Notice Regarding Procedural Guidelines for Joint Review of Significant Special Tax Adjustments Cases (Trial Implementation): sets up a joint panel review mechanism for cases involving large taxpayers (capital over RMB100 million or revenues from main operations over RMB1 billion) to ensure consistency (effective from 1 March 2012)
- Bulletin Gonggao [2013] No. 56 – Bulletin on the Implementation Measures for Tax Treaty Mutual Agreement

Procedures: supplements Circular 2 guidance on MAPs under tax treaties – relevant regulations and rulings (effective from 1 November 2013)

- Bulletin Gonggao [2015] No. 45 – Bulletin on Strengthening the Follow-Up Monitoring of Cost Sharing Arrangements (CSA): modifies Circular 2 by eliminating preapproval requirements for entering into a CSA while strengthening the follow-up monitoring (effective from 16 July 2015)

c. Effective date of applicability

As of 31 December 2024, below are the STA releases that form the overall framework for TP enforcement in mainland China:

- Bulletin Gonggao [2021] No. 24 (Bulletin 24) – Bulletin on Simplified Procedures for Unilateral Advance Pricing Arrangements (effective from 1 September 2021)
- Bulletin Gonggao [2017] No. 6 (Bulletin 6) – Bulletin on Supervisory Measures for Special Tax Investigation Adjustments and Mutual Agreement Procedures (MAPs) (effective from 1 May 2017)

d. Section reference from local regulation

According to Bulletin 42, a related-party relationship is defined as follows:

- The enterprise directly or indirectly owns 25% or more of the shares of the other enterprise; a third party directly or indirectly owns 25% or more of the shares of both the enterprise and the other enterprise.
- Where one enterprise owns shares of the other enterprise through an intermediary and the enterprise owns 25% or more of the shares of the intermediary, the percentage of indirectly owned shares is deemed to be the same as the percentage of the other enterprise's shares owned by the intermediary.
- Where more than two individuals who are spouses, lineal relatives by blood, or under other custodianship or family maintenance relationships co-own the shares of one enterprise, the percentage of owned shares is jointly calculated.
- Where one enterprise owns the shares of another enterprise or a third party owns the shares of both enterprises, but the percentages of the shares being owned does not meet the threshold set out in (1), debt between the enterprise and the other enterprise accounts for 50% or more of total paid-in capital of any of the two enterprises, or 10% or more of one enterprise's debt is guaranteed by the other enterprise (other than loans or guarantees between independent financial institutions).
- Where one enterprise owns the shares of another enterprise or a third party owns the shares of both enterprises, but the percentages of the shares being owned does not meet the threshold set out in (1), one enterprise's business operations depend on the other enterprise's patents, non-patented know-how, trademarks, copyrights or other concessions.
- Where one enterprise owns the shares of another enterprise or a third party owns the shares of both enterprises, but the percentages of the shares being owned does not meet the threshold set out in (1), one enterprise's business operations, such as the purchase, sales, receipt of services or provision of services, are controlled by the other enterprise.

- More than half of the board members or senior management (including board secretary of a listed company, general manager, vice general manager, chief finance officer and other personnel stipulated in the articles of association) of one enterprise are appointed or delegated by the other enterprise; such personnel of one enterprise simultaneously act as board members or senior management of the other enterprise; or such personnel of both enterprises are appointed by a third party.
- Two individuals who are spouses, lineal relatives by blood, or under other custodianship or family maintenance relationship have one of the relationships stated under (1)-(5) with one enterprise and the other enterprise respectively.
- The two parties have other common interests in substance.

Except for conditions under (2), when the related-party relationships change over the fiscal year, they should be recognized on the basis of the actual duration of such relationships. Two parties that have one of the relationships stated under (1)-(5) merely because their shares are owned by the state, or board members or senior management who are appointed by the departments administering state-owned assets, should not be regarded as related parties.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There is a documentation requirement for domestic transactions. However, taxpayers that deal only with domestic related parties can be exempted from documentation.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

- Additional details

China is not a member of the OECD. The Chinese TP framework is generally consistent with the framework established by the OECD Guidelines. The STA has observer status on the OECD's TP working group and has been involved in the OECD/G20 BEPS project, including the revisions to the OECD Guidelines relating to risks and intangibles. Still, while reference may be made to the OECD Guidelines, the STA does not see itself as bound by them. The STA has also been involved in the development of the United Nations Practical Manual on Transfer Pricing for Developing Jurisdictions (UN Manual) and has contributed one of the four sections in chapter 10 on jurisdiction practices. The UN Manual is largely consistent with the OECD Guidelines, but there are some differences. Key areas in which the Chinese approach may differ from other jurisdictions' understanding of the OECD Guidelines approach are location-specific advantages (LSAs) or other local market features, local intangibles and intragroup services, as follows:

- The STA places considerable emphasis on LSAs and takes the view that profits in China should be higher because of the characteristics of the local market, such as location savings and market premiums. Under Bulletin 42, specific documentation of the role of LSAs is a required component of the Local File. Under Bulletin 64, the role of LSAs is also a required topic to be addressed in APA application.
- The STA pays more attention to local contributions to intangibles. China's "Jurisdiction Practices" section of the UN Manual, for example, emphasizes the role played by Chinese affiliates in developing marketing intangibles and manufacturing process improvements. Bulletin 6 retains the framework with respect to the functions that are relevant in determining the allocation of profits from the use of intangible property. After BEPS reforms, the OECD Guidelines identifies five relevant functions: development, enhancement, maintenance, protection and exploitation (i.e., DEMPE). Bulletin 6 adds a sixth function: promotion (i.e., DEMPEP). While promotion functions can likely be subsumed under the other DEMPE functions in an OECD framework, the identification of promotion as a separate function demonstrates the importance China places on value created through marketing activities by Chinese companies. The STA increasingly challenges charges made for headquarters services, requiring efficient application of the benefits test. Bulletin 6 follows the internationally accepted and OECD-sanctioned "benefit test." That is, an intragroup service is recognized only if the activities of the service provider provide the service recipient with economic and commercial value that will enhance its commercial position, and if an independent enterprise, in comparable circumstances, would be willing to pay a third party to perform the activity or to do it itself.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

- Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

- Additional details

China adopted BEPS Action 13 for TP documentation effective from 1 January 2016.

- Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

- Coverage

Chinese resident taxpayers that are the ultimate parent company of a group whose consolidated revenue in the previous year exceeded RMB5.5 billion are required to file a CbC report. China will also accept "surrogate" filings by a Chinese resident taxpayer that is so designated by its group. Since China has an extensive tax treaty and information exchange network, the STA will be receiving and actively reviewing CbC reports filed by groups with ultimate parent companies in other jurisdictions. While there is no local filing requirement, Article 8 of Bulletin 42 states that Chinese tax authorities may request a Chinese taxpayer to provide its group's CbC report in the course of an investigation. This can take place if the ultimate parent company is required by its home jurisdiction to prepare a CbC report but China has been unable to receive the report because of the parent company's failure to file, the absence of a treaty or exchange mechanism between China and that jurisdiction or the failure of such an exchange mechanism to work in practice.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2016.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

- Coverage

The Master File is covered.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

BEPS Action 13 came to effect in China on 1 January 2016.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

For the Master File, Bulletin 42 requests more detailed information, such as details on industrial structure adjustments (Article 12-(2)), and information on the main functions, risks, assets and personnel of the group's major research and development (R&D) facilities (Article 12 (3)). In addition, the Master File should state which entity within the group should prepare and file the CbC report (Article 12-(5)).

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

- Coverage

Local File is covered.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

BEPS Action 13 came to effect in China on 1 January 2016.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

Bulletin 42 requires a detailed analysis of location-specific factors and the value chain, as well as location-specific factors' contributions to the value chain (Article 14-(3)-a/b); detailed disclosure of related service transactions (Article 14-(3)-e); disclosure of foreign investment (Article 14-(3)-c); disclosure of related-party share transfer (Article 14-(3)-d) and disclosure of APAs in other jurisdictions or regions (Article 14-(3)-f).

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

- Additional details

The Master File and Local File should be prepared in accordance with the requirements under Bulletin 42, and those additional items identified above should be addressed for compliance purposes.

The STA recently issued two internal guidelines, i.e. the transfer pricing documentation preparation guideline, and the transfer pricing documentation review guideline, which provided detailed instructions on how a TP compliance report should be prepared in order to meet the compliance requirements in China. Failure to produce a Bulletin 42 compliant transfer pricing report would result into a non-compliance record and potential loss of penalty protection pursuant to relevant provisions of Bulletin 42.

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

- a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

There are TP documentation rules, which require contemporaneous documentation.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

TP documentation has to be prepared annually. There is no minimum requirement. In practice, taxpayers should prepare or update the full report.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

- b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

Refer to the Master File and Local File thresholds below.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

RMB5.5 billion

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Chinese resident taxpayers that are the ultimate parent company of a group whose consolidated revenue in the previous year exceeded RMB5.5 billion are required to file a CbC report. China will also accept “surrogate” filings by a Chinese resident taxpayer that is so designated by its group. Since China has an extensive tax treaty and information exchange network, the STA will be receiving and actively reviewing CbC reports filed by groups with ultimate parent companies in other jurisdictions. While there is no local filing requirement, Article 8 of Bulletin 42 states that Chinese tax authorities may request a Chinese taxpayer to provide its group’s CbC report in the course of an investigation. This can take place if the ultimate parent company is required by its home jurisdiction to prepare a CbC report but China has been unable to receive the report because of the parent company’s failure to file, the absence of a treaty or exchange mechanism between China and that jurisdiction or the failure of such an exchange mechanism to work in practice.

- Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

RMB1 billion

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

The Master File thresholds are as follows:

There are cross-border RPTs during the year, and the ultimate holding company of the MNE group has prepared a Master File.

Or

The annual RPTs exceed RMB1 billion.

- Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

RMB200 million/RMB100 million/RMB100 million/RMB 40 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

The Local File thresholds are as follows:

- Tangible asset transfers exceed RMB200 million (in case of toll manufacturing, value should be based on annual import and export values for customs purposes). Or
- Financial asset transfers exceed RMB100 million. Or
- Intangible asset transfers exceed RMB 100 million. Or
- The aggregate amount of other RPTs exceeds RMB40 million (including service transactions, intangibles licensing, tangible property rentals and interest on loans).

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

The TP documentation needs to be submitted in the local language. Article 21 of Bulletin 42 mandates the use of Chinese in TP documentation.

- Is a safe harbor available?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

- Additional details

There is none specified in the regulation. Technically speaking, individual testing of transactions is generally preferred by tax authorities, whereas aggregation testing of transactions is still often observed in practice for compliance purposes.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

Yes

Special item files: Bulletin 42 also provides documentation requirements for "special item files" with respect to CSAs and thin capitalization, if applicable.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

China does not have TP-specific returns. However, the return disclosures described below are extensive.

- b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

Under the authority of Article 43 of the Corporate Income Tax Law (CITL), Article 1 of Bulletin 42 requires that taxpayers complete and submit a set of comprehensive RPT annual reporting forms along with their annual tax filing on or before 31 May of the following calendar year. For taxable years before 2016, there were nine RPT forms. For taxable year 2016 and after, there are up to 22 RPT forms that a taxpayer may need to prepare. Three of the RPT forms implement the CbCR requirement, if applicable; there will be three additional forms that are English translations of these three. The other 16 RPT forms are:

- Enterprise Information Return
- Summary of Annual Related-Party Transactions Form
- Related-Party Relationships Form
- Ownership Transfer of Tangible Asset Transactions Form
- Ownership Transfer of Intangible Asset Transactions Form
- Use Right Transfer of Tangible Asset Transactions Form
- Use Right Transfer of Intangible Asset Transactions Form
- Financial Asset Transactions Form
- Financing Transactions Form
- Related-Party Service Transactions Form
- Equity Investment Form
- Cost-Sharing Agreement Form
- Outbound Payment Form
- Overseas Related-Party Information Form
- Financial Analysis of Related-Party Transactions Form (unconsolidated)
- Financial Analysis of Related-Party Transactions Form (consolidated)

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

In general, the annual report would include a section of related-party disclosures.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

There is none specified. However, the name and location of its ultimate parent company should be stated in the RPT form, and whether the local entity is designated to file the CbC report of the group.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No.

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

31 May

▪ Additional details

The corporate income tax filing deadline is 31 May.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

31 May

▪ Additional details

The deadline for other transfer pricing disclosures and return is 31 May.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

31 December

▪ Additional details

The Master File should be ready within 12 months after the financial year-end of the ultimate parent company.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 May

▪ Additional details

The CbCR preparation and submission deadline is 31 May.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

30 June

- Additional details

The Local File and special item files should be ready by 30 June of the following year. The Master File should be ready within 12 months after the financial year-end of the ultimate parent company.

- g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

There is no statutory deadline.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The documentation should be submitted within 30 days upon request.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

- a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

Under Bulletin 6, there is no priority among TP methods. All the methods identified by the OECD Guidelines are considered reasonable: CUP, resale price, cost-plus, TNMM and profit-split (including both contributory profit-split and residual profit-split). Other methods are also acceptable, if they are consistent with the arm's-length principle. Bulletin 6 identifies three methods that are frequently used for asset valuation as allowable "other methods": the cost method, the market method and the income method. This is consistent with the OECD Guidelines after BEPS reforms. Bulletin 6 provides that TNMM is not appropriate in transactions where significant intangible assets are involved, but it does not define what intangibles would be considered significant. For TNMM, while all PLIs are recognized in principle, the ones most often used in practice are operating margin and markup on total costs. In applying TNMM, database searches for comparable companies are generally expected to be limited to publicly traded companies. In any event, nonpublic Chinese companies are not required to publicly file their financial statements, so there are no jurisdiction-specific databases available. Bulletin 6 is generally consistent with current practice with respect to toll manufacturing. If comparable companies that has the same business model cannot be found, the value of materials and equipment provided by the principal must be added back to the cost base, when applying a cost-plus method. While working capital adjustments are not allowed in any other case, they are allowed in toll manufacturing cases, if the adjustment is no more than 10%.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

- a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Pan Asia-Pacific or Chinese companies are acceptable as comparables. The tax authorities have a clear preference for local Chinese comparables, but given the limited number of potential comparables, they could accept regional sets of comparables if the taxpayer has exhausted all means but cannot locate sufficient local comparables. Where foreign comparables are used, the tax authorities will seek to make adjustments for LSAs. Article 24 of Bulletin 6 makes it clear that publicly available data is preferred. In addition, Bulletin 6 explicitly authorizes the tax authorities to use information that is not publicly available, e.g., secret comparables. Such nonpublic information is used in practice, especially in a risk assessment context.

- b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Multiyear testing (up to three years) is acceptable.

- c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

Interquartile range calculation using spreadsheet quartile formulas is acceptable.

- d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

Fresh benchmarking search is the suggested practice; however, there is no specification from the regulation.

- e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is a preference for weighted average for arm's-length analysis in practice. However, Bulletin 6 provides a wide latitude to the tax authorities to use arithmetic means, weighted averages or interquartile ranges in examinations.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

Not applicable

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

Taxpayers that do not provide contemporaneous documentation or relevant information on related-party transactions or provide false or incomplete information that does not truly reflect the situation of their related-party transactions shall be subject to different levels of fines, ranging from less than CNY10,000 to CNY50,000, in accordance with Article 70 of the Tax Collection and Administration Law and Article 96 of the Tax Collection Regulations. The taxpayer will have a negative compliance record and be subject to additional penalty of 5% in case of TP adjustment. In addition, the tax authorities have the authority to deem such taxpayers' taxable income by reference to the profit level of comparable companies, or the taxpayer's cost plus reasonable expenses and profit, or apportioning a reasonable share of the group's total profits; or the deemed profit determined based on other reasonable methods according to Article 44 of the CITL and Article 115 of the Detailed Implementation Regulation (DIR).

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

There is no specific penalty but the general rules under the Tax Administrative and Collection Law would apply.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

There is no specific penalty but the general rules under the Tax Administrative and Collection Law would apply.

General penalties that are applicable to tax record maintenance and tax filing requirements also apply to TP matters. Under Article 62 of the Tax Collection and Administration Law, taxpayers failing to fulfill tax-filing obligations may be fined between RMB2,000 and RMB10,000. This would apply to failure to file TP disclosure forms with the annual tax return. Under Article 60, taxpayers failing to maintain accounting books and other relevant information, or failing to provide such information to the tax authorities upon request, may be fined between RMB2,000 and RMB10,000. This would apply to failure to maintain or provide contemporaneous documentation. Under the CITL and implementation regulations, if a taxpayer continues to refuse to provide information or provides false information, the tax authorities can assess taxable income on a deemed basis, rather than on the basis of TP results.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

▪ Additional details

While there are no penalties on TP adjustments, there is a 5% interest surcharge if the taxpayer does not file TP disclosure forms or fails to meet the contemporaneous documentation requirements. The taxpayer will have a negative compliance record and be subject to additional penalty of 5% in case of TP adjustment. To meet these requirements, in addition to preparing the documentation described above, the taxpayer must provide it to the tax authorities within 30 days of the request (prior to 2016, within 20 days of the request). In all events, whether there is an interest surcharge or not, interest will be applied to the underreported tax resulting from TP adjustments – based on the base RMB lending rate published by the People's Bank of China.

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Taxpayers that do not provide contemporaneous documentation or relevant information on related-party transactions or provide false or incomplete information that does not truly reflect the situation of their related-party transactions shall be subject to different levels of fines, ranging from less than CNY10,000 to CNY50,000, in accordance with Article 70 of the Tax Collection and Administration Law and Article 96 of the Tax Collection Regulations. The taxpayer will have a negative compliance record and be subject to additional penalty of 5% in case of TP adjustment. In addition, the tax authorities also have the authority to deem such taxpayers' taxable income by reference to the profit level of comparable companies, or the taxpayer's cost plus reasonable expenses and profit, or apportioning a reasonable share of the group's total profits; or the deemed profit determined based on other reasonable methods according to Article 44 of the CITL and Article 115 of the DIR.

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

▪ Additional details

While there are no penalties on TP adjustments, there is a 5% interest surcharge if the taxpayer does not file TP disclosure forms or fails to meet the contemporaneous documentation requirements.

▪ Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

▪ Additional details

As discussed above, the 5% interest surcharge can be avoided if TP disclosure forms are filed and contemporaneous documentation requirements are met.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The duration could be as long as 10 years. For example, if the tax authorities initiate a TP audit in 2025, the covered period could be from 1 January 2015 to 31 December 2024. Article 24 of Bulletin 42 states that contemporaneous documentation should be maintained for 10 years.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The Chinese tax authorities screen and select the TP audit targets every year on the basis of the information collected from the tax filing systems and other sources. They use big data analysis and internet information to conduct risk assessments and categorize taxpayers by risk levels – as high, medium and low – to identify audit targets.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The Chinese tax authorities take a clear stand on local contributions and locally developed intangibles, and often test the effectiveness of TNMM, which is commonly used to compensate the local subsidiaries. Even though the TP method can be sustained, the profit margins would usually be adjusted upward.

According to Article 25 of Bulletin 6, the median is often referenced for transfer pricing adjustments.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

In recent years, the STA has put in place a taxpayer monitoring system, to differentiate “low-risk” from “high-risk” taxpayers, on the basis of their compliance with tax requirements and the tax positions taken. High-risk taxpayers are much more likely to face formal tax audits. Two industries that are currently being analyzed by the tax authorities are pharmaceuticals and luxury goods. This focus illustrates the degree of importance the STA places on LSAs, as the STA finds that both industries enjoy substantial market premiums. In addition to LSAs, the tax authorities recently have been paying close attention to outbound payments of royalties and service fees. With respect to royalties, the tax authorities have focused on the extent to which the Chinese taxpayer has made contributions to the value of licensed intangibles and possibly developed local intangibles, thereby suggesting royalty rate reductions are appropriate. For services, the tax authorities have sought authentication that services were actually provided, and that costs were appropriately captured and allocated based on actual benefits received. In addition, Chinese tax authorities are increasingly reviewing financing transactions and also start to scrutinize domestic related party transactions as well.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Unilateral, bilateral and multilateral APAs are available in China. Guidance regarding the APA process and procedures is provided in Bulletin 64. To further promote APAs, Bulletin 24 provides a simplified procedure for unilateral APA in which the tax authorities should decide whether to accept the application within 90 days, and once accepted, the tax authorities should in principle complete the negotiation within six months (excluding the additional time that may be needed for collection of further information). Requirements for APA applicants are that their RPT volume should be in excess of RMB40 million for each of the past three years. They must have duly filed RPT forms with their tax returns and they must have met contemporaneous documentation requirements. There is no application fee.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The duration of an APA is generally three to five years.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Roll-back provisions are available. The retrospective period can extend to a maximum of 10 prior years, if the RPTs are the same or similar to those covered by the APA.

d. Is MAP available?

Yes, the taxpayer may request a MAP. Application for an MAP must be made within a reasonable period of time from the first notification of the action resulting in taxation not in accordance with the provisions of the double taxation treaty (DTT). If the application is submitted in person, the application date is deemed to be the submission date; if the application is submitted by email, the application date is the date that the STA receives the application.

The CIT law has a thin capitalization rule disallowing interest expense arising from excessive related-party loans. The safe harbor debt-to-equity ratio for enterprises in the financial industry is 5: 1 and 2:1 for enterprises in other industries. However, if there is sufficient evidence (e.g., a thin capitalization special item file) to show that the financing arrangement is at arm's length, these interests may still be fully deductible even if the ratios are exceeded.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Master File is covered.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

It is effective from the financial year 2017.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Local File is covered.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

It is effective from the financial year 2017.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

The Local File was the equivalent of the previous transfer pricing study presented by taxpayers until the financial year 2016. It is mandatory to include in the Local File i) executive summary, ii) functional analysis of the both parties involved in the evaluated transaction with an additional detail description of the local entity and information regarding the shareholders, competitors, business units, among other, iii) Economic analysis considering the most reliable method, tested party selection, detail comparable search process including the date of the search performed, the financial information for both tested party and comparables must be aligned to the year under analysis, among others and iv) industrial analysis (when it supports the Economic analysis that was applied).

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Since there is no penalty protection regime in Colombia

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation must be submitted to the tax authorities in September. It applies for all type of transactions carried out with foreign related parties, local related parties located in a free trade zone and third parties located, resident or domiciled in low-tax jurisdictions, or with entities subject to preferential tax regimes.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation must be prepared annually under local jurisdiction regulations. Taxpayers must prepare and submit a Local File that includes the analysis of the transactions subject to study, complying with the local regulatory requirements mentioned in Articles 260- 1 to 260- 11 of the Colombian Tax Code and the Regulatory Decree 1625 of 2016. They should demonstrate that intercompany transactions were carried out at arm's length. The group's Master File must be submitted as well. The documentation must be updated annually, with updates to transactions and amounts, the financial information of the comparable set, Economic analysis and functional analysis.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?
 - Yes
- Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation in Colombia is composed of Local File and Master File.

Local File: If transactions carried out with related parties abroad or located in a Colombian free-trade zone exceed COP2,117,925,000 per transaction type, the taxpayer must submit a Local File documenting such transactions. For transactions carried out with independent third parties or related parties located in a tax haven, the threshold for transaction type is COP470,650,000.

Master File: Taxpayers who are subject to submitting the Local File must also submit the Master File of the Group that they belonged to during fiscal year 2024.
- CbCR
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

COP3,812,265,000,000
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income
 - Is there any other threshold?

No
 - Additional details

The limit is 81,000,000 tax units in the previous fiscal year (COP3,812,265,000,000 for tax year 2024).
- Master File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

Not specified
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other
- Is there any other threshold?
 - No
- Additional details

It must be filed by entities that meet the requirements to prepare the Local File and belong to a multinational group.
- Local File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

COP2,117,925,000/COP470,650,000
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Total international related-party transactions
 - Is there any other threshold?
 - Yes
 - Additional details

Taxpayers must file a Local File for those types of intercompany transactions carried out with foreign related parties or local related parties located in a free trade zone that surpass 45,000 tax units (COP2,117,925, 000 for fiscal year 2024), only if gross equity is equal to or greater than 100,000 tax units (COP4,706,500,000 for fiscal year 2024) or if gross revenues are equal to or greater than 61,000 tax units (COP2,870,965,000 for fiscal year 2024).

In case there are transactions with entities located, resident or domiciled in low-tax jurisdictions, or with entities subject to preferential tax regimes, the taxpayer is subject to transfer pricing obligations regardless of its revenues or equity, and the transactions threshold per type of transaction to prepare and submit the Local File and Master File is 10,000 tax units (COP470,650,000 for fiscal year 2024).
- Economic analysis
 - Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?
 - Yes

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Total international related-party transactions

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

Economic analysis must be included in the Local File if transactions carried out with related parties abroad or located in a Colombian free-trade zone exceed COP2,117,925,000 per transaction type. For transactions carried out with independent third parties or related parties located in a tax haven, the threshold for transaction type is COP470,650,000.

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

The Local File needs to be submitted in the local language (Spanish), as mandated by law. The Master File may be provided in either English or Spanish. However, at any time during their review, the tax authorities might request an official translation of a Master File provided in English.

- Is a safe harbor available?

No

- Additional details

There are no formal safe harbors in Colombia. Companies that exceed the thresholds detailed above must comply with formal obligations and demonstrate that intercompany transactions were carried out in compliance with the arm's-length principle.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

- Additional details

Individual testing of transactions is preferred, however it would depend on the functional profile. If aggregated testing is included it should be justified.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

Yes

The tested party's financial information must be certified.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

Taxpayers must file a transfer pricing informative return if gross equity is equal to or greater than 100,000 tax units (COP4,706,500,000 for fiscal year 2024) or if gross revenues are equal to or greater than 61,000 tax units (COP2,870,965,000 for fiscal year 2024).

As part of the transfer pricing return, taxpayers must disclose information about related parties, such as whether they are a foreign or local related party (free trade zone), the jurisdiction and city of residence and the tax identification number. Information about transactions carried out in tax-haven jurisdictions must also be disclosed. Other information disclosed on the transfer pricing return includes the type of intercompany transaction, the amount of the transaction, the transfer pricing methodology applied, the tested party, the price or margin obtained in the transaction and the arm's-length range. It is also necessary to include information regarding comparability adjustments, the amount of the adjustments included in the income tax return (if any) and the financial information that was used (segmented or aggregate information).

- b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

There are no specific transfer pricing disclosures to be included in the corporate income tax (CIT) return. All transfer pricing disclosures are to be included in the transfer pricing informative return.

- c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

CbCR notification is included in the transfer pricing informative return. If the local constituent entity is not subject to file a TP return, the CbCR notification must be submitted separately.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

Varies (9 April to 24 April depending on Tax ID number)

- Additional details

For fiscal year 2024, the deadlines for large taxpayers go from 9 April to 24 April 2025. The specific date for a taxpayer will depend on the last digit of its Tax ID number.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

9 September to 22 September

- Additional details

For fiscal year 2024, the transfer pricing return will be due between 9 September and 22 September 2025. The specific date for a taxpayer will depend on the last digit of its Tax ID number.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

9 September to 22 September

- Additional details

- Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared): For fiscal year 2024, the Master File must be submitted to the tax authorities between 9 September and 22 September 2025. It must be referred specifically to fiscal year 2024.

- Submission/filing date: The specific date for a taxpayer will depend on the last digit of its Tax ID number.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

12 December

- Additional details

For fiscal year 2024, the CbCR submission deadline is 12 December 2025. It must be referred specifically to fiscal year 2024.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

9 September to 22 September

- Additional details

For fiscal year 2024, taxpayers subject to filing a transfer pricing informative return must include CbCR notification in it. For other taxpayers, CbCR notification must be filed between 9 September and 22 September 2024. This notification must be filed on a year-by-year basis. If the local constituent entity is not subject to file a TP return, the CbCR notification must be submitted separately. Regardless of whether the notification is filed as part of the transfer pricing informative return or as a separate filing, it is possible to submit a single CbCR notification for all entities in Colombia that belong to a multinational group

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

Between 9 September and 22 September

- Additional details

For fiscal year 2024, the Local File must be submitted to the tax authorities between 9 September and 22 September 2025.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

- Additional details

For fiscal year 2024, the Local File must be submitted to the tax authorities between 9 September and 22 September 2025.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Not applicable

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

▪ Additional details

For the analysis of both international and domestic transactions (the latter refers only to transactions with local related parties located in a free trade zone), Colombian tax law has established five transfer pricing analysis methods, which follow the OECD Guidelines. They are CUP, resale price, cost-plus, TNMM and profit-split (which can be applied either in the form of a contribution analysis or a residual analysis). Method selection should be based on the characteristics of the transaction under analysis. The selected method should be the one that best reflects the economic reality of the transaction, provides the best information and requires the fewest adjustments. The use of internal comparable, if existing, is prioritized. Special considerations for the analysis of services and financing transactions, purchase and sale of shares, or transactions involving the purchase and sale of commodities or fixed assets, are applicable.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There is no legal requirement or tax authority preference for local jurisdiction comparables and all jurisdictions could be included in the benchmarking study. If a geographic filter criteria is applied, it must be supported in the search strategy process. Local, Americas or global benchmark analysis can be used for the preparation of the Local File. European, Asian, Middle East, or other continents' benchmarks cannot be used.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

The regulation provides that single-year testing (1x 1) should be used as a general rule, but in extraordinary circumstances a multiyear approach could be used. However, technical, economical and financial arguments must be included in the Local File to support a multiyear analysis.

Yes, interquartile range calculation using spreadsheet quartile formulas is acceptable. However, in exceptional cases the regulations allow the use of other statistical measures (including the total range).

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no rule that requires a fresh benchmarking search every year; however, the comparability factors of the comparable companies should be evaluated to confirm whether the comparables still comply with those characteristics. Regulations require the disclosure of the date on which the search was run and any updates on the financial information.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Weighted average is the most common practice.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There are no specific benchmark criteria required in the local regulation. However, the common practice is to use the information of companies with public financial information available (public annual report, 10K or equivalent document available in English/Spanish), not affected by significant controlled transactions, without any extraordinary situation that could affect comparability such as recurring losses.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Transfer pricing documentation Penalty regarding transfer pricing documentation is given below:

- Late filing: Within the five days following the deadline, 0.05% of the total amount of the transactions subject to analysis. After, it will be 0.2% of the same base per month of delay, with a limit of 20,000 tax units (COP941,300,000 for tax year 2024).

- “Inconsistencies”: 1% of the value of the transactions reported with inconsistencies, limited to 5,000 tax units (COP235,325,000 for tax year 2024).
 - “Omission”: In transactions with related parties, 2% of the value of the transactions not reported or partially reported, limited to 5,000 tax units (COP235,325,000 for tax year 2024). In transactions with tax havens, 4% of the value of the transactions not reported or partially reported, limited to 10,000 tax units (COP470,650,000 for tax year 2024).
 - Non-submission: In transactions with related parties, 4% of the value of the transactions subject to analysis, limited to 25,000 tax units (COP1,176,625,000 for tax year 2024). In transactions with tax havens, 6% of the value of the transactions not reported or partially reported subject to analysis, limited to 30,000 tax units (COP1,411,950,000 for tax year 2024).
 - Amendment: Before the special preassessment: 1% of the value of the transactions with changes, limited to 5,000 tax units (COP235,325,000 for tax year 2024). After the special preassessment: 4% of the value of the transactions with changes, limited to 20,000 tax units (COP941,300,000 for tax year 2024). Similar penalties will apply for incomplete TP return.
- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?
- The penalty will be 0.5 UVT for each piece of data not provided, which may not exceed UVT 7,500 (COP352,987,500), according to Article 651 (penalty for failing to provide information).
- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?
- If the Local File is submitted but the Master File is not submitted, the penalty that applies is “Non-submission,” considering the Master File is part of the Transfer Pricing Documentation.
- If neither the Local File nor the Master File is submitted (jointly considered as Transfer Pricing Documentation), the penalty that applies when submitting them will be “late filing.”
- Late filing: Within the five days following the deadline, 0.05% of the total amount of the transactions subject to analysis. After, it will be 0.2% of the same base per month of delay, with a limit of 20,000 tax units (COP941,300,000 for tax year 2024).
 - Non-submission: In transactions with related parties, 4% of the value of the transactions subject to analysis, limited to 25,000 tax units (COP1,176,625,000 for tax year 2024). In transactions with tax havens, 6% of the value of the transactions not reported or partially reported subject to analysis, limited to 30,000 tax units (COP1,411,950,000 for tax year 2024).
- Are there any other penalties?
- No
- b. Penalties post TP audit
- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?
- Yes
- Additional details
- “Inconsistencies” or “omission” penalties can be applied, depending on the Tax Authority point of view:
- “Inconsistencies”: 1% of the value of the transactions reported with inconsistencies, limited to 5,000 tax units (COP235,325,000 for tax year 2024).
 - “Omission”: In transactions with related parties, 2% of the value of the transactions not reported or partially reported, limited to 5,000 tax units (COP235,325,000 for tax year 2024). In transactions with tax havens, 4% of the value of the transactions not reported or partially reported, limited to 10,000 tax units (COP470,650,000 for tax year 2024).
- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?
- Yes
- Additional details
- “Inconsistencies” or “omission” penalties can be applied, depending on the Tax Authority point of view:
- “Inconsistencies”: 1% of the value of the transactions reported with inconsistencies, limited to 5,000 tax units (COP235,325,000 for tax year 2024).
 - “Omission”: In transactions with related parties, 2% of the value of the transactions not reported or partially reported, limited to 5,000 tax units (COP235,325,000 for tax year 2024). In transactions with tax havens, 4% of the value of the transactions not reported or partially reported, limited to 10,000 tax units (COP470,650,000 for tax year 2024).

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

▪ Additional details

Regarding transfer pricing penalties there is no interest charged.

▪ Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

▪ Additional details

There is not a penalty protection regime in Colombia. However, when the taxpayer amends its transfer pricing return/transfer pricing documentation for inconsistencies or omissions before the tax authority issues its penalty order, the penalty might be reduced to 50% of the amount determined in the official assessment.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The statute of limitations for transfer pricing assessments is five years.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Tax authorities undertake regular audit programs, which may increase the possibility to be audited.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

If, because of a challenge there is a change in the transfer pricing analysis, and therefore a result below the market range, an adjustment should apply to the median of the market range. This adjustment should be included in the income tax return. It will also imply an inaccuracy penalty corresponding to the 100% of the higher income tax and an interest rate will be applied. If a controversy process is in place, it is possible to avoid an inaccuracy penalty if the taxpayer demonstrates that the essence of the controversy is a difference in the application of legal criteria.

Transfer pricing adjustment should apply to the median of the interquartile range.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

The tax authorities have changed their audit processes, focusing on the oil and gas, mining, and pharmaceutical industries. In addition, tax authorities challenge the benefits and actual rendering of general and specialized services (such as accounting, administrative, marketing or technical assistance). During an audit, the tax authorities have required companies to evidence the real provision, usefulness, non-duplication and business benefits of the services charged, as well as its compliance with Article 107 of the Colombian Tax Code. It might be also required to demonstrate how the charges for services were calculated by the provider. Local tax authorities are currently challenging special transactions (such as services, royalties and intercompany loans), economic and extraordinary adjustments, unusual approaches for analysis – irrespective of the industry – or the use of gross margin methods. Commodities sale and purchase transactions have also become a focus in transfer pricing audits. Methods such as cost-plus or resale price are normally challenged if the benchmark is compounded by external comparables.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

There is no specific distinction; any related-party transaction covered by local regulations may be part of an APA. There is no specific APA program for low-tax jurisdictions.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The APA agreement will be valid for the year it is subscribed to, the year before and up to three taxable years after.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

There is no rule that requires a fresh benchmarking search every year; however, the comparability factors of the comparable companies should be evaluated to confirm whether the comparables still comply with those characteristics. Regulations require the disclosure of the date on which the search was run and any updates on the financial information.

d. Is MAP available?

There is none specified.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

Thin capitalization rules are applicable specifically for intercompany debt. The ratio allowed by tax regulations is 2:1 intercompany debt-to-equity.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Failure to provide complete transfer pricing documentation by the date on which the audit is initiated is punishable by a fine of XAF25 million.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

XAF5 million and reconsideration of the TP policies of the entity

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

- Are there any other penalties?

Penalties specific to a failure to comply with the transfer pricing documentation requirements apply: Failure to submit local transfer pricing return and/or transfer pricing documentation may result in penalties equal to XAF5 million after eight days of no reply to a formal notice. Late submission of the Country-by-Country declaration or the declaration accompanying the transfer pricing documentation is punishable by a tax fine of XAF5 million. In addition to the fiscal penalties generally applied as a consequence of a transfer pricing reassessment, transfer pricing reassessments from the tax authorities (deemed not to be reflecting the arm's-length principle) trigger an adjustment of the taxable profit for CIT purposes (at one-third of their amounts).

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

Penalties are generally applied as a result of a transfer pricing reassessment, regardless of the compliance with transfer pricing documentation requirements. After a transfer pricing reassessment is made, the additional profit is qualified as a deemed distribution of a benefit. The tax treatment of such "benefit" transfer may trigger consequences, such as additional CIT (28% of profit) and a deemed transfer of a dividend (15%). Furthermore, penalties of 50% for CIT and 100% for deemed transfer of dividend may apply.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Tax Administration of Costa Rica (Dirección General de Tributación – DGT)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Executive Decree No. 41818-H, which contained TP regulations, came into effect on 26 June 2019, following publication in the Official Gazette No. 145. The TP Decree replaced Executive Decree No. 37898-H, which originally adopted TP regulations applicable to individuals or business entities that conduct related-party transactions from 13 September 2013. Decree No. 41818-H was then updated on 17 December 2021 by Executive Decree No. 43198-H (the TP Decree) with no changes to TP regulations. On 13 September 2016, the DGT issued DGT-R- 44- 2016, the TP information return regulations that complemented Article 8 of Decree No. 37898-H. However, on 5 June 2017, the Costa Rican tax authorities published Resolution DGT-R- 28- 2017 in the Official Gazette, which modified Article 4 of regulations DGT-R- 44- 2016 and suspended the term for the submission of TP information until further notice. On 21 April 2017, the Costa Rican tax authorities published, in the Official Gazette, Resolution DGT-R- 16- 2017, which adds the Master File and Local File to the existing TP documentation requirements, in accordance with BEPS Action 13. Costa Rican taxpayers that have transactions during the relevant fiscal year with associated enterprises must prepare a Master File and a Local File, and retain them for four years. Taxpayers will only need to submit this information if requested by the tax authorities. If requested, taxpayers will have 10 working days to submit this information.

c. Effective date of applicability

26 June 2019

d. Section reference from local regulation

On 13 November 2019, the tax authorities published the DGT-R- 49- 2019 resolution, which replaces Resolution DGT-R- 16- 2017 about TP documentation requirements (Local File and Master File). Although Resolution DGT-R- 49- 2019 supersedes Resolution DGT-R- 16- 2017 and includes several changes, it also maintains some of the requirements of Resolution DGT-R- 16- 2017.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There is a documentation obligation for domestic transactions.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

- Additional details

There is no specific requirement.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

Taxpayers are obligated to file a TP information return annually when one or more of the following conditions are met:

- The taxpayer conducts cross-border and local related-party transactions.
- Such taxpayer falls under the category of “large taxpayers” (grandes contribuyentes), or is an individual or entity operating under the free trade zone regime.
- Such taxpayer carries out national or cross-border transactions with related parties and separately or jointly exceed the amount equivalent to 1,000 base salaries in the corresponding year. However, on 5 June 2017, the Costa Rican tax authorities published Resolution DGT-R- 28- 2017 in the Official Gazette, which suspends the term for the submission of TP information until further notice.

- b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

Related-party disclosures have to be made in specific TP returns. No related-party disclosures need to be made on general income tax returns.

- c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes. Usually, information of type of intercompany transactions, amount and name of the related party is included in the audited financial statements. This information must be consistent with the information disclosed in the rest of the TP disclosures of information.

- d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

There is none specified.

- e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

- a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

15 March

- Additional details

The filing deadline is two months and 15 days after the end of the fiscal year.

- Submission/filing date: The filing deadline is two months and 15 days after the end of the fiscal year.

- b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

Suspended until further notice

- Additional details

The tax authorities suspended the term for the submission of TP information until further notice.

- Submission/filing date: The tax authorities suspended the term for the submission of TP information until further notice.

- c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Upon request

- Additional details

Master File needs to be prepared as per local requirements, which include some of the OECD BEPS Action 13 requirements. The Master File needs to be prepared in Spanish.

- Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared): It is part of the transfer pricing documentation of the taxpayer and needs to be prepared on an annual basis, ideally when the Local File is prepared. Master File must be available if it is requested by the tax authorities.
- Submission/filing date: Master File should be filed upon request.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

▪ Additional details

The CbC report shall be filed no later than 31 December of the year following, which is the last day of the reporting fiscal year.

CbCR applies for Costa Rican UPE or surrogate UPE.

Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared): The CbC report shall be filed no later than 31 December of the year following, which is the last day of the reporting fiscal year.

Submission/filing date The CbC report shall be filed no later than 31 December of the year following, which is the last day of the reporting fiscal year.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Last working day of March

▪ Additional details

Notifications should be submitted by the last working day of March each year at the latest. Only Costa Rican tax-resident constituent entities that are UPEs or surrogate UPEs of an MNE group with annual consolidated group gross revenue equal to or exceeding EUR750 million during the reporting fiscal year need to file the notification. Thus, this is a requirement for annual submission if the Costa Rican tax-resident constituent entities that are UPEs are filing the CbCR in Costa Rica.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

Annually, no specific deadline

▪ Additional details

Taxpayers must prepare and maintain TP documentation annually. The TP Executive Decree does not state a deadline. The documentation must be at the disposal of the DGT upon request.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no statutory deadline for the submission of TP documentation.

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The time period is 10 working days.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The specified methods are CUP, resale price, cost-plus, profit-split and TNMM; and the valuation of goods with international quotations method that can be applied as an alternative to the CUP method. The TP Executive Decree requires the application of the most appropriate TP method.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There are no benchmarking requirements for local and regional comparables considering the lack of financial information available on local comparables. Thus, international comparables are accepted by the tax authorities.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

There is multiple-year testing for comparables. In practice, the number of years is three.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

This is not specified. However, the spreadsheet quartile calculation is preferred and common in practice.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

A fresh benchmarking search every year over the update of the financials of a prior study is preferred. A TP report must be prepared annually, updating all the information that allows a correct TP analysis. In practice, local tax authorities expect to see the most recent comparable information and use the most recently available financial information for the comparables and the tested party.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

The weighted average is the common practice.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

No express monetary penalties are applied when taxpayers provide incomplete TP documentation or the TP information return. Nevertheless, the monetary penalties for failure to provide complete information set forth in the Tax Code of Standards and Procedures should apply by default.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Maste File?

Not applicable

▪ Are there any other penalties?

No express monetary penalties are applied when taxpayers fail to maintain contemporaneous TP documentation or the TP information return. Nevertheless, the monetary penalties for noncompliance set forth in the Tax Code of Standards and Procedures should apply by default.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The monetary penalties for noncompliance set forth in the Tax Code of Standards and Procedures should apply by default.

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

▪ Additional details

No express monetary penalties are applied when taxpayers fail to maintain contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation or the transfer pricing information return. Nevertheless, the monetary penalties for noncompliance set forth in the Tax Code of Standards and Procedures should apply by default.

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

▪ Additional details

In the case of a TP income adjustment, surcharges and penalty interest apply, per the general provisions of the Tax Code of Standards and Procedures.

▪ Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

▪ Additional details

No penalty relief regime is in place.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The standard four-year statute of limitations on general tax assessments should apply. This statutory period is extended to 10 years for unregistered taxpayers, fraudulent returns filed and failure to file. The term is extended in cases of amended returns. The statute of limitations starts the next month following the due date of the tax return.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

In case TP is scrutinized, methodology will be challenged is also high. In the past, the DGT effectively tried to apply only the CUP method. Although in recent years the DGT has accepted the use of the TNMM, it prefers the use of the CUP method whenever internal comparables exist.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The resolution in most cases results in an adjustment.

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

Yes, if the margin or price falls outside the interquartile range, the adjustment should be made to the median of such range.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

The companies that are characterized as large taxpayers have a higher possibility of being audited.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

APAs are contemplated under the provisions of the TP Executive Decree.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The duration of an APA is a maximum of five years.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

There is none specified.

d. Is MAP available?

MAP guidance is included in Resolution N° DGT-R- 12- 2017.

The thin capitalization rule establishes a limitation to interest deduction equal to 20% of EBITDA (i.e., earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization), excluding interests paid on loans with local financial institutions supervised by the Superintendencia of Financial Entities (Superintendencia General de Entidades Financieras, or SUGEF) or foreign financial institutions supervised in their jurisdiction. The interest expense that exceeds this threshold should be considered as nondeductible for income tax purposes and could be taken as a deductible expense in the following tax periods, provided the interest expenses in each year does not exceed 20% of the company's EBITDA. This limitation will come into effect with the second tax period from the date the recent Tax Reform (1 July 2020) enters into force with a 30% threshold for the first two tax periods. The limitation will be reduced 2% each year until it reaches the mentioned 20% threshold.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

There is none specified.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There is no specific guidance. However, the tax authorities could accept local jurisdiction comparables or West African comparables.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

There is no specific guidance. Three-year testing could be acceptable.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

There is no specific guidance on the use of the interquartile range.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no specific guidance. There is no need to conduct a fresh benchmarking search every year; updates could be acceptable.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is no specific guidance. The simple average for arm's-length analysis could be preferred.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

TP documentation: Failure of on-site communication, total or partial, documents and information, 30 days after formal notice from the tax authorities, is punished by a fine equal to 0.5% of the amount of the transactions covered with a minimum of XOF10 million.

c. Effective date of applicability

1 January 2021

d. Section reference from local regulation

Article 13 of the CIT Act defines “related parties” as parties in which one entity participates directly or indirectly in the management, control or capital of the other party or the same persons participate directly or indirectly in the management, control or capital of both parties.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There is a documentation requirement for domestic transactions in case one party is in a favorable tax position (e.g., if the concerned party pays CIT at lower rate or has tax losses carried forward from previous periods).

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

The provisions of relevant Croatian tax legislation are generally based on the OECD Guidelines. Furthermore, the Ministry of Finance issued instructions for the tax officials performing transfer pricing audits, which are also based on the OECD Guidelines.

As Croatia is in the process of accessing the OECD, it introduced amendments to the CIT Bylaw, in force as of 1 February 2025. The amendment to the local tax legislation introduce information about the Group and information about the local taxpayer that should be prepared and maintained by the local taxpayer.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

No

▪ Additional details

Croatia has adopted BEPS Action 13 only in relation to CbCR as of 1 January 2017. Amendments to the local tax legislation, in force as of 1 February 2025, introduce the information about the Group and information about the local taxpayer that should be prepared and maintained by the local taxpayer.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

If the consolidated revenues of the group amounted to at least EUR750 million in the previous fiscal year, it needs to submit a CbCR.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2016.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

No

- Coverage

Croatian TP legislation does not specifically define a Master File. Nevertheless, the amendments to the Croatian TP legislation, in force as of 1 February 2025, define information about the Group that should be maintained by the local taxpayer (with minimum content defined in local rules).

- Effective or expected date of commencement

Not applicable

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

Not applicable

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

No

- Coverage

Croatian TP legislation does not specifically define a Local File format. Nevertheless, the TP documentation requirement at the level of local taxpayers is largely similar to the Local File format (with minimum content defined in local rules).

 - Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?
Yes
 - Additional details
The transfer pricing documentation needs to be submitted in Croatian.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Yes

- Additional details

Interest rate on intercompany loans can be determined with reference to the interest rate prescribed by the Minister of Finance at the beginning of each tax period (e.g., 4.38% for 2025) subject to condition that this approach is applied for all intercompany loans.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

A form outlining the relevant information on transactions with related parties (PD-IPO form) will need to be submitted with the CIT return. Other than the PD-IPO return, the CIT Act and CIT Bylaw do not prescribe specific requirements for separate returns (including information returns) for related-party transactions.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

A form outlining the relevant information on transactions with related parties (PD-IPO form) will need to be submitted with the CIT return.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

CbCR notification is a separate filing and is not included in the statutory tax return.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

30 April

- Additional details

Four months after the fiscal year-end (30 April if the fiscal year corresponds to the calendar year).

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

30 April

- Additional details

Four months after the fiscal year-end (30 April if the fiscal year corresponds to the calendar year).

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

CbCR for locally headquartered companies should be prepared and filed 12 months after the end of the fiscal year for which the report is prepared.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

30 April

- Additional details

Four months after the fiscal year-end (30 April if the fiscal year corresponds to the calendar year). CbCR notification has to be submitted in the first year. Subsequent filing of the CbCR notification (along with the CIT return) is needed only if there is a change in information on ultimate parent entity (UPE)/surrogate parent entity (SPE). There is no possibility for one entity to file on behalf of all entities in jurisdiction.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

30 April

▪ Additional details

There is no transfer pricing documentation preparation deadline. The changes to the CIT Act and Bylaw that apply to fiscal years starting as of 1 January 2021 define that the taxpayer is obligated to confirm the arm's-length nature of its intercompany pricing at the year-end. If prices are not at arm's length, the taxpayer is obligated to increase its tax base in the CIT return. This implies that transfer pricing documentation should be available along with the deadline for filing the CIT return, although transfer pricing documentation continues to be submitted only upon request (usually in the course of a tax audit or upon filing the CIT return if specifically requested by the taxpayer's tax officer).

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no statutory deadline for the submission of transfer pricing documentation; however, it is to be submitted as supporting documentation upon filing the CIT return if specifically requested by the taxpayer's tax officer.

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The prescribed deadline for provision of any documentation to the tax authorities is eight days. In practice, this deadline is generally extended.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

▪ Additional details

CIT Act regulations do not provide detailed rules on how to arrive at the arm's-length price that should be applied in related-party transactions. However, the CIT Act prescribes the methods that a taxpayer can use to determine the arm's-length price: CUP, resale-minus, cost-plus, profit-split, TNMM, any other method. All the OECD's standard methods are allowed; however, traditional transactional methods (CUP, resale-minus and cost-plus) should have the priority when establishing whether the conditions imposed between related parties are at arm's length. If possible, the CUP method should be applied. Other available methods, i.e., transactional profit methods (profit-split and TNMM), should be used when traditional methods cannot be reliably applied.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Croatian CIT legislation does not prescribe any rules regarding the search approach for preparation of a benchmark analysis. However, the OECD approach is followed.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Croatian TP legislation does not prescribe any rules. Multiyear analysis (three to five years), as per common practice, is applicable.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

Croatian CIT legislation does not prescribe any rules for the usage or calculation of the interquartile range. Nevertheless, mathematic quartile is used, as per common practice.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no specific provision in the legislation in relation to performing a fresh benchmarking search every year or updating the financials of a prior study. Per common practice, a fresh benchmarking search is usually performed after a three-year period, while update of the financials of a prior study is accepted for the other years.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Croatian CIT legislation does not prescribe any rules.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

The Croatian tax legislation does not envisage penalties for incomplete documentation. If transfer pricing documentation is not complete, the Croatian tax authorities could reject transfer pricing documentation and determine arm's-length prices under their own parameters. If intercompany prices are not at arm's length as determined by the Croatian tax authorities, penalty interest for late payment of tax liability could be imposed. Fines of up to EUR26,540 for a company and EUR2,650 for the responsible individual within the company may also be imposed for any underestimation of the CIT liability. Penalty interest would also be calculated from the date the tax was due until the date the tax is paid.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Fines of up to EUR26,540 for a company and EUR2,650 for the responsible individual within the company may also be imposed for the failure to furnish the CbCR.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

▪ Are there any other penalties?

Fines of up to EUR26,540 for a company and EUR2,650 for the responsible individual within the company may be imposed for any underestimation of the CIT liability. Penalty interest would also be calculated from the date the tax was due until the date the tax is paid.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

▪ Additional details

There is none specified.

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

▪ Additional details

There is none specified.

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

▪ Additional details

There is none specified. However, general penalties may apply as noted above.

▪ Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There is none specified, other than settlement defined in the General Tax Act.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

According to the Croatian General Tax Act (GTA), as of 1 January 2017, the statute of limitations for determining tax liabilities by the tax authorities and for the taxpayers' right for claiming a tax refund for a particular tax period expires at the end of the sixth year following the year in which the tax liability has arisen. For example, a CIT return for FY 2020 should have been submitted by 30 April 2021, and thus the statute-of-limitations period commences on 1 January 2022. The statute of limitations for collection of tax and interest commences in the year following the year in which the taxpayer determined the tax liability itself or by the end of the year in which the resolution by which the tax authorities determined the tax liability and interest became enforceable. According to GTA provisions, tax authorities can perform a tax audit in three years following the commencement of the statute of limitations.

The amendment to the GTA in force as of 1 January 2025 introduce the extension of the statute of limitations to six years for procedures involving or relating to the business of taxpayers in cross-border transactions with related parties, including the transfer pricing.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

There is none specified.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

There is none specified.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Yes. The bylaw for concluding APA was introduced on 29 April 2017 and allows unilateral, bilateral and multilateral APA.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

APAs are concluded for a period of up to five years.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

There is none specified.

d. Is MAP available?

Yes

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

Interest limitation rule

As of 1 January 2019, new rules for interest limitation have been introduced in Croatian CIT legislation. As a tax-deductible expense, a taxpayer is entitled to borrowing costs incurred in the tax period up to:

- 30% of EBITDA
- EUR3 million (if the higher amount is achieved this way)

The nondeductible borrowing costs are those costs exceeding the taxable interest income or other economically equivalent taxable income. The amount of nondeductible exceeding costs is reduced for the amounts for which the tax base is increased under thin capitalization rules and the interest on loans between related parties. "Borrowing costs" include interest on all forms of debt and other costs economically equivalent to the interests and the costs incurred in connection with the collection of funds (including loans from unrelated parties). The exceeding borrowing costs may be transferred to the following three tax periods, but in each period up to the maximum prescribed amount.

Thin capitalization rule

According to Croatian CIT legislation, thin capitalization rules apply to loans provided by nonresidents holding at least 25% of the equity or voting rights in a Croatian taxpayer, loans provided by third parties not being Croatian tax residents that are guaranteed by the shareholder and loans provided by related parties not being Croatian tax residents. On the basis of the thin capitalization rule, interest on loans exceeding 4:1 debt-to-equity ratio is not tax-deductible.

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

Yes

b. Name of authority

Ministry of Finance - Tax Authority

c. Name of regulations

Accounting Act

d. Effective date of applicability

1 January 2024

e. Section reference from local regulation

Chapter 10 of the Accounting Act

14. PCbCR thresholds and exemptions

a. What is the global consolidated income threshold?

EUR750 million

b. Are there any materiality exemptions?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

15. Content

a. Does PCbCR align with OECD BEPS Action 13 CbCR requirements?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Minimum requirement defined in the local legislation.

b. Is aggregation of transactions allowed?

No

▪ Additional details

Not specified

c. Can you provide data sources and guidance?

Accounting Act (in Croatian: Zakon o računovodstvu)

16. Lodgment process and requirements

a. Is lodgment possible?

Yes

▪ Additional details

As per the Accounting Act, the Croatian entity can opt to publish a CbCR on the website or within the company's register.

b. Is lodgment in another jurisdiction possible?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Croatian entity is not obliged to publish the CbCR if:

The PCbCR is available to the public, free of charge, and in a machine-readable format for reporting on the website of the ultimate parent entity or independent entrepreneur in at least one of the official languages of the European Union no later than 12 months after the balance sheet date of the financial year for which the report on information about corporate income tax is prepared

The PCbCR specifies the name and registered office of the subsidiary or the name and address of the branch to which the law of the Republic of Croatia or another member state applies and which has published the PCbCR.

c. Is lodgment required in a prescribed form and format?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Minimum requirement prescribed in the local legislation.

d. What is the lodgment deadline?

12 months after the fiscal year-end

17. Penalties

a. What are the maximum administrative penalties?

Up to EUR13,270 for the taxpayer and up to EUR2,650 for the responsible individual within the taxpayer.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Cyprus Tax Department, Ministry of Finance

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Following the amendment of the Section 33 of the Cyprus Income Tax Law (L 118(I) of 2002, as amended, Section 33), the Council of Ministers issued a relevant Regulation and the Tax Commissioner issued a notification with reference number Κ.Δ.Π. 314/ 2022.

c. Effective date of applicability

No date specified

d. Section reference from local regulation

Section 33 of the Cyprus Income Tax Law (L 118(I) of 2002, as amended, Section 33) refers to transactions between connected and related parties.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There is no specific requirement for the treatment of domestic transactions in a distinct manner. Domestic transactions are in scope of transfer pricing documentation requirements similar to cross-border transactions.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

No

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Cyprus is not a member of the OECD. However, the local transfer pricing regulations are in line with the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Cyprus has adopted the three-tier approach (i.e., Master File, Local File and CbCR) as described in OECD BEPS Action 13.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

In case a Group exceeds the reportable threshold of EUR750 million, a CbC reporting obligation exists in Cyprus. The Group should file a:

- CbC report in Cyprus if the Ultimate Parent Entity or Surrogate Parent Entity is a Cypriot tax resident. Additional local requirements are applicable, if the CbC report is filed in a jurisdiction where Cyprus does not have exchange of information agreement in place.
- CbC notifications should be submitted by all Cypriot constituent entities of the Group indicating the jurisdiction where the CbC report is filed.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

Cyprus has adopted CBC reporting requirements in its legislation with effect from 1 January 2016.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

The Cypriot CbCR requirements are mainly in line with OECD's Guidelines on Action 13: Country-by-Country Reporting; however, where deviations/conflicts between the OECD Model legislation and the Cypriot CbCR legislation exists, the Cypriot CbCR legislation takes precedence (such as the equivalent reporting).

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Similar to the CbC report, if a Group exceeds the reportable threshold of EUR750 million and their Ultimate Parent Entity or Surrogate Parent Entity is a Cypriot tax resident, the Group should have an obligation to prepare a Master File in Cyprus.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

From the tax year 2022 and onward

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

Master File content requirements in Cyprus are broadly in line with the OECD Guidelines.

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

- Coverage

The Local File shall be prepared by taxpayers with intragroup transactions exceeding the documentation thresholds, outlined as follows:

EUR5 million for related party transactions falling under the category "Financing"

EUR1 million for all other categories of connected transactions (i.e., "Goods," "Services," "Royalties", "Other Intangibles" and "Other")

It is important to note that the Local File should be subject to quality assurance review (sign off) by a person who has a practicing certificate of ICPAC or any other recognized institute of certified accountants in Cyprus, while additional requirements arise for Cypriot taxpayers with related party transactions below the above thresholds.

Effective or expected date of commencement

From tax year 2022 and onward

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

The content requirements of the Local File are broadly in line with the OECD Guidelines; however, additional minimum documentation requirements are required for Cypriot tax purposes.

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

Yes

- Additional details

Late filing penalties apply for Master File, Local File and CbCR.

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

- a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

Cyprus has introduced transfer pricing rules and documentation requirements as of 1 January 2022. The Local File should be prepared annually by the deadline for the submission of corporate income tax (CIT) return. Local File has no specific submission requirement but should be provided to the Cypriot tax authorities within 60 days upon request. The SIT form should be submitted along with the corporate income tax return and the signed quality assurance review letter for the Local File shall be submitted along with the SIT form.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation should be prepared annually, while specific reference has made to any significant changes of the market conditions that may impact the information and data included in the Local File. Moreover, all sections of the Local File should be updated, while under profit-based documentation methods, the comparable companies' financial data should be annually updated.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

▪ TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

Materiality thresholds for Master File, Local File and CbCR apply as outlined below.

▪ CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

EUR750 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

If the consolidated revenues of the group amounted to at least EUR750 million in the previous fiscal year, it needs to submit a CbCR.

▪ Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

EUR 750 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

A Master File obligation arises if (i) the taxpayer is part of an MNE group with a CbCR obligation (e.g., with consolidated revenue above EUR750 million) and the Cypriot taxpayer is either the ultimate parent entity (UPE) or the surrogate parent entity (SPE).

▪ Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

EUR5 million/EUR 1 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

The Local File obligation is applicable for Cypriot taxpayers if their intercompany transactions either exceed (or should have exceeded based on the arm's-length principle) the amount of EUR5 million for financial transactions and EUR1 million in aggregate for other categories of transaction per tax year. The predefined categories are:

- Goods
- Services
- IP transactions
- Financing
- Others

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

Yes

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Taxpayers that meet Local File thresholds should prepare an Economic analysis as part of the Local File.

- c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

Local transfer pricing documentation may be prepared in English or Greek.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Yes

- Additional details

Safe harbor (or simplification) rules apply to transactions that do not exceed the documentation threshold for the following:

- Provision of financing to connected persons funded by debt instruments: minimum return of 2.5% before taxes
- Provision of financing to connected persons funded by equity: minimum return equal to the 10-year government bond yield of the jurisdiction in which the borrower operates, increased by 3.5% before taxes
- Receipt of financing from connected persons used for business purposes: borrowing costs of the company do not exceed the yield rate of the 10-year government bond of the Republic of Cyprus, increased by 1.5% before taxes

- Low value-adding services: 5% profit mark-up on the costs related to those services

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

Companies must submit a SIT of their intercompany transactions to the tax authorities.

- b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

As noted above, Cypriot taxpayers should disclose their intercompany transactions as part of the SIT return.

- c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Related-party transactions and balances are required to be disclosed in the "Notes of the Financial Statements" as provided under IFRS.

- d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

There is a CbCR notification and CbC report submission requirement in Cyprus. Statutory annual tax return does not make reference to CbCR notifications.

- e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

31 March (15 months from FY-end)

▪ Additional details

The deadline is 15 months from the financial year-end (e.g., for the fiscal year ending 31 December 2024, the deadline is 31 March 2026).

- Submission/filing date - for the fiscal year ending 31 December 2024, the deadline is 31 March 2026.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

31 March

▪ Additional details

The deadline for the SIT return is with the tax return, within 15 months from the financial year-end (e.g., for the fiscal year ending 31 December 2024, the deadline is 31 March 2026).

- Submission/filing date - for the fiscal year ending 31 December 2024, the deadline is 31 March 2026.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

31 March

▪ Additional details

Similar to the Local File, the Master File does not have a formal submission requirement. However, a Cypriot taxpayer should prepare the Master File by the CIT return submission deadline and provide it to the Cypriot tax authorities within 60 days upon request.

- Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared) - by the tax return deadline (within 15 months from the financial year-end for the fiscal year ending 31 December 2024, the deadline is 31 March 2026).
- Submission/filing date - within 60 days upon request

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

▪ Additional details

The deadline is 12 months from the end of the fiscal year (e.g., for groups with year-end 31 December 2024, the reporting deadline is 31 December 2025).

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

31 December

▪ Additional details

The deadline is the last day of the reporting fiscal year (i.e., for fiscal years ending on 31 December 2024, the deadline is 31 December 2024). There is an annual submission requirement. Each entity shall file a stand-alone notification.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By CIT return deadline

▪ Additional details

A Cypriot taxpayer should prepare the Local File by the CIT return deadline and provide to the Cypriot tax authorities within 60 days upon request.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

▪ Additional details

A Cypriot taxpayer should prepare the Local File by the CIT return deadline and provide to the Cypriot tax authorities within 60 days upon request.

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The deadline is within 60 days upon the tax authorities' formal request.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

- Additional details

The Cypriot transfer pricing legislation makes no specific reference about priority or preference of transfer pricing methods. However, in line with the OECD Guidelines, it may be considered that the traditional transaction methods are preferred over the transactional profit methods.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

No guidance has been issued by the Cypriot tax authorities, but, in practice, pan-European benchmarking studies should be considered sufficient.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

In practice, multiple-year (three years) analysis is accepted.

Spreadsheet quartile function is generally accepted.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

No guidance has been issued by the Cypriot tax authorities, but, in practice, the comparable data defined based on a benchmarking study can be used for the next two consecutive financial years; however, the financial data should be annually updated, and the compliance of the final set of comparable entities with the comparability and independence requirements should be examined for each financial year.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

No guidance has been issued by the Cypriot tax authorities, but, in practice, weighted average is accepted.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

Not applicable

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Penalties for noncompliance with the submission deadlines for the TP documentation files and the SIT have been introduced as outlined below.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Based on the Cypriot legislation on CbC reporting, the Tax Commissioner may impose fines in relation to specific violations as follows:

An administrative fine of up to EUR 10,000 in cases where the Reporting Entity of a MNE Group which has its residence in Cyprus, fails or refuses to submit the CbC report in accordance with the provisions of the legislation

An administrative fine of up to EUR 5,000 in cases where the constituent entity of a MNE Group which has its residence in Cyprus, refuses or violates the provisions of the legislation

An administrative fine of up to EUR 20,000 to any person for continuous infractions or failure to pay any fines imposed in a timely manner

However, we note that we have not yet seen in practice how the penalties for non- and/or late compliance are applied.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

In case the TP documentation (Master File and Local File) is submitted after the 60th day, the penalties vary as follows:

- If submitted between 61 and 90 days, the penalty is EUR 5,000.
- If submitted between 91 and 120 days, the penalty is EUR 10,000.
- If not submitted or submitted after the 120th day, the penalty is EUR 20,000. Moreover, the penalty for late or non-submission of SIT is EUR 500

- Are there any other penalties?

No.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

- Additional details

On the assumption that an adjustment concluded by the Tax Office will be in contrary to the tax position of the company as defined by the TP documentation applied (e.g., incomplete documentation), any amount to be assessed will be subject to a flat 5% penalty, plus interest of 5.5% calculated on a completed month basis.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

Same explanation provided above under deemed incomplete applies to this question.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

Yes

- Additional details

No interest is charged on the 5% penalty to be assessed. With regard to a potential tax refund, even though it is highly unlikely for the Tax Office to assess a downward adjustment, if it does so, interest of 5.5% will be applied, calculated on a completed month basis.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

No penalty relief applies in case of noncompliance with local transfer pricing requirements.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The statute of limitation is the same as it is for income tax (i.e., six years from the end of the year of assessment, which may be increased to 12 years in the case of fraud or willful default).

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

However, considering the fast-paced tax landscape in Cyprus, it is expected that transfer pricing audits will be increased in the subsequent years.

- b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Not applicable

- Additional details

However, expected to be increased in the following years. In case transfer pricing Local File is reviewed as part of the audit, the probability that transfer pricing methodology will be challenged is currently low. However, considering the introduction of the new transfer pricing legislation and the evolving global tax environment, such risk is expected to increase in the upcoming years.

- c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

No specific guidance has been provided by the Cypriot tax authorities. However, in practice, transfer pricing adjustments are applied to the median.

- d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

This is Not applicable.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

- a. Are APAs available?

As of 1 January 2022, Cypriot taxpayers may apply for unilateral, bilateral or multilateral Advance Pricing Agreements (APAs).

- b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The APA will be valid for period of up to four years.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable

d. Is MAP available?

MAP opportunities are applicable under the bilateral double tax treaties.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

Not applicable. Anti-Tax Avoidance Directive provisions for the interest limitation rules are applied as of 1 January 2019.

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

Yes

b. Name of authority

Cyprus Tax Department, Ministry of Finance

c. Name of regulations

Cyprus Companies Law

d. Effective date of applicability

Cyprus Companies Law was amended by transposing the Directive (EU) 2021/2101 of the European Parliament (EU Directive) into national law on 6 December 2024. The reporting requirement applies for financial years (FYs) starting on or after 22 June 2024.

e. Section reference from local regulation

Articles 157A to 157N of Cyprus Companies Law.

14. PCbCR thresholds and exemptions

a. What is the global consolidated income threshold?

As per the local rules, a reporting obligation arises in cases where a multinational group with consolidated revenues exceeding EUR750 million in each of the last two consecutive financial years. Examples of entities that meet the threshold are they following:

- The ultimate parent undertaking of a multinational group that is registered in Cyprus
- A Cyprus stand-alone undertaking with at least one foreign branch
- A Cyprus registered subsidiary which is considered as a “medium” or “large” sized (as defined in Directive 2013/34/EU) and is part of a multinational group controlled by an ultimate parent which is not governed by the law of an EU Member State
- A Cypriot branch of an entity which is a member of a non-EU headquartered multinational group with a turnover exceeding EUR8 million.

b. Are there any materiality exemptions?

Yes

- Additional details

Certain undertakings operating in the banking sector are excluded from the scope of the new reporting rules, as far as they are already obliged to publicly disclose similar information under existing legislation in Cyprus.

15. Content

a. Does PCbCR align with OECD BEPS Action 13 CbCR requirements?

Yes

- Additional details

In general, the rules in Cyprus are in line with the EU Directive 2021/2101.

b. Is aggregation of transactions allowed?

Yes/Partly

- Additional details

The information must be disclosed on a disaggregated basis, i.e., on a country-by-country basis, for EU Member States and non-EU list of non-cooperative jurisdictions for tax purposes. Information related to other jurisdictions may be disclosed on an aggregated basis.

c. Can you provide data sources and guidance?

<https://eur-lex.europa.eu/legal-content/EN/TXT/?uri=CELEX%3A32021L2101> (EU Directive link).

16. Lodgment process and requirements

a. Is lodgment possible?

Yes

- Additional details

The lodgment should be made from the website of the reporting entity.

b. Is lodgment in another jurisdiction possible?

Yes

- Additional details

The lodgment of the Public CbC report lies with the UPE. Therefore, we assume that in case the Group files the Public CbC in its website using the relevant format adopted by the EU Directive.

c. Is lodgment required in a prescribed form and format?

Yes

- Additional details

The information must be presented using a common template and electronic reporting formats (adopted regulation requires drawing up their report with XHTML and Inline XBRL) that are machine-readable.

d. What is the lodgment deadline?

The report containing the above information must be filed with the Cyprus Registrar of Companies within 12 months of the balance sheet date for the relevant FY and should be available free of charge to the public in Greek or in English, and for at least five consecutive years via the website of the reporting entity which has the obligation to publish such report.

17. Penalties

a. What are the maximum administrative penalties?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Is there any risk of criminal prosecution?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

The Czech Republic is a member of the OECD. However, the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines are not implemented into the Czech tax legislation directly, but the recommendation to use transfer pricing guidelines is present in Czech Guideline D- 59.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

However, only the CbCR obligation has been effectively adopted.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

If the consolidated revenues of the group amounted to at least EUR750 million in the previous fiscal year, it needs to submit a CbCR.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

As of 2016

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

There is none specified.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

No

▪ Coverage

The Master File is not covered. However, Directive D-334, containing similar requirements on the scope of transfer pricing documentation and issued by the Czech MF, is followed in the Czech Republic.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

- Additional details

There is no concept of penalty protection in Czech tax law.

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

No

- Additional details

The Czech Republic tax legislation currently does not have a formalized legal requirement for the existence of transfer pricing documentation. However, Czech taxpayers generally bear the burden of proof in tax proceedings; thus, upon a tax audit, they are obligated to demonstrate that their transfer prices are in line with the arm's-length principle. In recent years, the transfer pricing documentation has always been required during tax audits. Directive D-334 outlines the requirements of the expected scope of documentation of a transfer pricing methodology agreed upon between related parties.

- #### 4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures
-
- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?
No
 - Additional details
There is none specified.
- b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?
Yes

- Additional details

Effective from 1 January 2001, the executives of a controlled entity are required to complete a memorandum with respect to relationships and transactions with companies in the group. This does not apply if a controlling agreement is concluded. Note that this is based on commercial legislation, rather than tax legislation, and the memorandum has no direct tax impact or tax aspects.

From 2014, taxpayers are obliged to fill in a mandatory enclosure with the CITR that includes reporting of intragroup transactions. Qualifying companies have to submit information regarding related parties, such as name and registered office. They should also present a list of selected transactions entered into with the aforementioned related parties in a special enclosure with their tax return. The transactions are to be classified by type, such as sale of goods, provision of services, financial transactions and payment of royalties. In addition, all taxpayers are required to disclose, in the CITR, whether they were engaged in transactions with related parties.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

- Additional details

The CITR needs to be submitted three months after the year-end, or four months after the year-end if filed electronically, or six months after the year-end, if the taxpayer is subject to the obligatory audit or the tax return is filed by a certified tax advisor.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

The report needs to be filed 12 months after the year-end.

- Additional details

Not applicable

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

The notification filing deadline is the end of the respective year. It needs to be filed only if there are changes in the filed information, compared with the notification for the previous year. No requirement for annual submission. One entity cannot file on behalf of all entities in jurisdiction.

- Additional details

Not applicable

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

Upon request

- Additional details

Upon the request of the tax authorities

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The taxpayer has to deliver the transfer pricing documentation within the prescribed deadline, which is usually 15 days, but it may be extended to at least 30 days.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The MF follows the OECD Guidelines. The CUP method is generally preferred. Use of profit-based methods is acceptable where substantiated.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There is no legal requirement for local jurisdiction comparables. There is a preference for local comparables, even though EU comparables are usually accepted in practice.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Multiyear (three years) analysis, as per common practice, is preferred.

Spreadsheet quartile is used as per common practice.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no need to conduct a fresh benchmarking search every year; however, an update of the financials is recommended annually.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

The weighted average, as per common practice, is preferred.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is a 25% independence threshold based on Czech tax law.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Not applicable

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

There is a penalty of up to CZK1.5 million (approximately EUR60,000) for not filing the CbCR. There is a penalty of up to CZK500,000 (approximately EUR20,000) for not filing the CbCR notification.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

▪ Are there any other penalties?

There are no specific penalties for not having transfer pricing documentation. There is a penalty of up to CZK500,000 (approximately EUR20,000) for not filing the transfer pricing appendix to the CITR.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

▪ Additional details

Generally, when the tax authority successfully challenges transfer pricing, a penalty of either 20% of the unpaid tax or 1% of the decreased or reduced tax loss will be applied. Thereafter, interest is assessed at 8% above the "repo rate" (or repurchase agreement rate) of the Czech National Bank (Czech: Česká Národní Banka – CNB)

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

Penalty relief regime is in place. It is at the discretion of the MF to decrease penalties; however, this is limited to specific situations.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The statute of limitations could be three years as of the CITR deadline, but it may be extended in the case of tax scrutiny, supplementary CITR, tax losses (up to an additional five years to the standard statute of limitations for the year when the tax loss was realized and the subsequent five years) or investment incentives (up to an additional 10 years to the standard statute of limitations).

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

The audits are initiated on the basis of the results of complex screening performed by the Czech tax authorities and risk profiles of taxpayers (though not regularly).

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

The tax audits are initiated when the tax authorities have a specific suspicion as the tax authorities generally take a pragmatic approach and focus on areas where it is relatively easy for them to make the adjustment.

Based on the current case law, the tax authorities should make the adjustment to the point in the arm's-length range that is the most advantageous for the taxpayer (e.g., lower quartile).

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Intangibles, royalties, long-term losses and service fees are seen as the most common transfer pricing audit issues. Although no specific jurisdiction is targeted for transfer pricing audits, transactions with tax-haven jurisdictions are closely scrutinized. The scrutiny of transfer pricing will only intensify, and in press statements, the MF has directed that the tax authorities should particularly focus on transfer pricing. In addition, they have created a specialized group of full-time specialists within the tax authority dedicated to transfer pricing issues.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

An APA program is available, and Czech taxpayers may request unilateral, bilateral and multilateral APAs. Upon the taxpayer's request, the tax administrator decides whether the taxpayer has chosen a transfer pricing method that would result in a transfer price determination on an arm's-length basis. As of 2018, Czech tax nonresidents may ask for an APA for the allocation of profits to a permanent establishment. D- 32 details the procedure for issuing binding assessments and the particulars for the application.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The tenure period is usually three or four years.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

The binding assessment can be issued only for transactions that are effective in a particular tax period or that will be effective in the future. It is impossible to apply for a binding assessment of business relationships that have already affected tax liability. However, in practice, the decisions are respected for previous periods as well.

d. Is MAP available?

MAP procedure is available in line with the EU arbitration convention, the Dispute Resolution Mechanism (DRM) Directive and respective double tax treaties.

The tax deductibility of financing expenses (interest and associated expenses) with respect to related-party loans (including back-to-back loans) is limited by a debt-equity ratio of 4:1 (6:1 for banks and insurance companies). Financing expenses with respect to profit-participating loans are nondeductible for tax purposes. Also, limitations are imposed on the deductibility of financing expenses related to shareholdings. Further, in 2019, the interest deductibility limitation rule was implemented through the Anti-Tax Avoidance Derivative (ATAD) transposition. A deductibility limit for exceeding borrowing costs is the higher of 30% tax earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortization (EBITDA) or CZK80 million. The rule does not apply to stand-alone taxpayers or to listed financial enterprises. Borrowing costs subject to this rule are defined broadly in line with ATAD. Disallowed exceeding borrowing costs may be carried forward and claimed in future tax periods (however, transfer to previous tax periods and transfer of unused capacity to future tax periods are not allowed). The interest deductibility limitation rule applies together with the thin capitalization rule and other limitations on financing expenses.

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

Yes

b. Name of authority

MF

c. Name of regulations

Accounting Act

d. Effective date of applicability

Financial years starting on or after 22 June 2024

e. Section reference from local regulation

Sections 32m - 32r of the Accounting Act

14. PCbCR thresholds and exemptions

a. What is the global consolidated income threshold?

EUR750 million

b. Are there any materiality exemptions?

Yes

- Additional details

- If a Czech entity is part of a group whose ultimate parent is located outside the EU, the Czech subsidiary or branch is obliged to file the PCbCR only if its net turnover exceeded CZK200 million in two consecutive accounting periods.

15. Content

a. Does PCbCR align with OECD BEPS Action 13 CbCR requirements?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Is aggregation of transactions allowed?

Yes

- Additional details

PCbCR presents total figures per jurisdiction, not per transaction.

c. Can you provide data sources and guidance?

Sections 32m - 32r of the Accounting Act

16. Lodgment process and requirements

a. Is lodgment possible?

Yes

- Additional details

Lodgment is required for qualifying entities and is carried out by filing the report in the Czech Commercial Register.

b. Is lodgment in another jurisdiction possible?

Yes

- Additional details

On certain conditions yes, but filing in the Czech Commercial Register is still needed.

c. Is lodgment required in a prescribed form and format?

Yes

- Additional details

PCbCR needs to be filed in the prescribed language (Czech or English), electronic form and structure.

d. What is the lodgment deadline?

12 months after the year-end

17. Penalties

a. What are the maximum administrative penalties?

3% of the assets

- Additional details

There is no practical experience with the penalties so far.

b. Is there any risk of criminal prosecution?

Yes

- Additional details

Provided that (i) the breach is deliberate, (ii) hides profit shifting, tax evasion, or systematic fraud and (iii) causes serious harm.

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

As of 1 January 2017, there is an obligation to file a TP return with the DGI. Local TP documentation is to be provided to the DGI only upon request in case of a tax audit (since 2015).

And the financial metric or basis used to determine the threshold is a Minimum Annual Revenue Excluding Taxes.

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

It's not provided by the law; however, in practice, the following analysis methods are used: CUP, resale price method (RPM), cost-plus method, comparable profits method (CPM), TNMM and the transactional profit-split method (PSM).

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?
 - Yes
- Additional details
 - French
- Is a safe harbor available?
 - Unspecified
- Additional details
 - There is none specified.
- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?
 - Individual testing
- Additional details
 - Individual testing of transactions is preferred, if possible.
- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?
 - No
- TP return does not replace the supporting documents relating to each transaction.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

The document to be filed with the tax authority is the TP return. It must be submitted in French as part of the taxpayer's annual tax return.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The deadline is 20 days following the tax auditor's request for the TP documentation.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

The legal arm's-length pricing method is either:

- The comparable uncontrolled price (CUP)
- The cost-plus method (CPM)
- The resale price method
- The transactional net margin method (TNMM)
- The profit split method

In all cases, any other method chosen by the company may be considered acceptable provided that it is justified, consistent with the functions performed and the risks assumed, and that the remuneration complies with the arm's-length principle.

- Additional details

These methods are accepted: CUP, resale price, cost-plus, profit-split and TNMM.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Both can be applicable. However, local comparables are preferred if available.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

There is none specified.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

There is none specified.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is none specified.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is none specified.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

The risk of noncompliance is that in the event of an audit by the DGI, the absence of complete TP documentation could lead tax administrators to reject certain deducted professional charges linked to these transactions. In addition, since the publication of the 2020 Finance Law, failure to declare the documentation of the transfer price gives rise to a fine of CDF500,000 per day of delay.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

▪ Are there any other penalties?

The risk of noncompliance is that in the event of an audit by the DGI, the absence of TP documentation could lead tax administrators to reject certain deducted professional charges linked to these transactions. In addition, since the publication of the 2020 Finance Law, failure to declare the documentation of the transfer price gives rise to a fine of CDF500,000 per day of delay.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

▪ Additional details

There's no guidance provided; however, after a TP reassessment is made, the profit indirectly transferred should be qualified as a deemed distribution of a benefit. Such "benefit" transfer should entail a CIT of 30% and withholding tax (WHT) of 20% on the distributed amounts payments. Accordingly, penalties will apply at the rate of 20% of the tax evaded, or discretionary taxation, and 40% if recurring. The recovery penalties are set at 2% of the principal per month of delay.

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

▪ Additional details

There is none specified.

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

▪ Additional details

In the case of a reassessment or a discretionary taxation, interest of 2% is applied per month of delay, capped at 50% of the tax evaded or reconstituted by the office.

▪ Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

▪ Additional details

There is none specified, but we can assume that further discussion can be held with the DGI.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

Five years

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

No

▪ Additional details

It is not a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities. However, the tax authorities tend to always ensure the reality of transactions between local entities and related parties.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

If the transfer pricing methodology is successfully challenged, an adjustment is likely to be made if the taxable base is lowered as a result of the adopted methodology.

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

There is none specified.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

The industries are large companies: telecommunication, oil and gas, mining, and subcontracting mining companies.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Applicable

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The duration is a maximum of four years.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable

d. Is MAP available?

Not applicable

In terms of Article 64 of the 2023 Finance Act, interest paid to shareholders who effectively manage the company de jure or de facto are deductible only when the sums loaned to the company do not exceed, for all of the concerned shareholders, the amount of paid-up share capital. The DRC has several measures applicable to related-party transactions that are not conducted on an arm's-length basis. These provisions include the disallowance of loan interest with respect to rates exceeding the annual average of the effective rates charged by the credit institutions of the jurisdiction in which the lending company is established, and the repayment of principal beyond five years. Management fees paid to a related party may be deducted from the CIT base if the following conditions are satisfied:

- The services rendered can be clearly identified, i.e., they are genuine services that are effectively rendered and directly related to operating activities.
- The services cannot be rendered by a local company, i.e., overhead expenses recharged to the local entity are excluded.
- The amount paid for the services corresponds to the remuneration paid in identical transactions between independent companies.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Danish Tax Administration (Skattestyrelsen)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Central transfer pricing regulations include:

- Tax Assessment Act (Ligningsloven)
- Tax Control Act (Skattekontrolloven)

The following regulations contain references to TP documentation:

- Tax Control Act Section 37-42, which defines the documentation requirements that are further detailed in the executive order
- Executive Order No. 468 of 19 April 2022, which specifies the TP documentation requirements

c. Effective date of applicability

No date specified

d. Section reference from local regulation

- Tax Assessment Act Section 2: arm's-length principle
- Tax Control Act Section 37- 42: TP documentation companies

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

For financial years started before 1 January 2021, there is no exemption for domestic transactions. Domestic transactions should therefore be included for TP documentation purposes, despite often being within a consolidated tax group (mandatory joint taxation). Despite the documentation requirement, the DTA will generally only take an interest in such transactions in cases of asymmetric tax regimes (tonnage or hydrocarbon taxation, etc.) or in case of entity-specific carryforward losses within a mandatory joint taxation.

For financial years starting on or after 1 January 2021, an exemption from documenting domestic transactions for Danish TP documentation purposes has been introduced. Following this, preparation of TP documentation covering domestic transactions will only be required in cases either: a. Between parties subject to asymmetrical tax regime (tonnage tax, hydrocarbon tax, cooperative tax, financial services tax, special losses within the joint taxation group, etc.) Or b. When having impact on a cross-border transaction and therefore required to understand the basis for a cross-border transaction.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Denmark is a member of the OECD. The OECD Guidelines are generally recognized as a source for interpretation (soft law) of the Danish TP rules (the arm's-length principle).

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Denmark has adopted BEPS Action 13 for TP documentation in terms of Master File, Local File and CbCR.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

CbC report filing and CbCR notification requirements apply in line with the OECD Guidelines. The threshold for CbCR is DKK5.6 billion (EUR750 million).

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2016.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

- Coverage

Master File is covered.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

It is applicable for years beginning on or after 1 January 2016.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

- Coverage

Local File is covered.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

It is applicable for years beginning on or after 1 January 2016.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

TP documentation is required to be prepared contemporaneously to offer protection from penalties and discretionary assessment. Under the current law, TP documentation for financial years starting on or after 1 January 2021 must be submitted annually to the Danish Tax Administration. The deadline for submitting TP documentation is 60 days after the deadline for filing the tax return. Generally, the tax return filing is due six months after the end of the financial year (but can be shorter for certain periods).

TP documentation for financial years started prior to 1 January 2021 should be submitted only upon request by the Danish Tax Administration, with 60 days to submit. This deadline cannot be extended.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

TP documentation for Danish entities and branches (permanent establishments) is subject to requirement of being contemporaneously prepared and needs to be prepared annually. Noncompliance with the deadline may mean that:

- Taxable income may be determined on a discretionary/estimated basis. (The burden of proof shifts from the tax authorities to the taxpayer.)

- TP penalties can be imposed. Failure to timely submit/file TP documentation with the Danish Tax Administration will expose the taxpayer to penalty risk and risk of discretionary assessment under reversed burden of proof. The same risks apply to insufficient TP documentation. Penalty for late submission or insufficient TP documentation may only be imposed by the Danish Tax Administration if they can prove it is due to gross negligence or intent. Danish case law generally supports that late submission of the TP documentation is gross negligence by the taxpayer.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes. Additionally, for its submission package, each entity needs to include the full TP documentation package (Local File and Master File).

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

▪ TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

▪ Additional details

(Applies for income year 2024 and prior) TP documentation exemption clause: Entities/branches belonging to a consolidated group with fewer than 250 full-time equivalent (FTE) employees and either of the following are exempt from the requirement to prepare and file TP documentation:

- Less than DKK125 million in assets
- Less than DKK250 million in revenue

Note that the thresholds are at a consolidated basis for the group, not only the Danish entities/branches. Further, the exemption does not apply for entities/branches that engage in controlled transactions with counterparties resident in non-EU/EEA jurisdictions with which Denmark does not have a tax treaty. When exempt, the entity/branch is still subject to TP principles (the arm's-length principle) and the exemption from preparing TP documentation does not mean that the entity/branch cannot be subject to transfer pricing scrutiny by the Danish Tax Administration.

UPDATE: New legislation enacted 3 June 2025 revises Danish thresholds concerning TP documentation requirements with effect for income year 2025 and onward. Summary highlights:

- The above asset threshold is raised to DKK 195 million from DKK 125 million.
- The above revenue threshold is raised to DKK 391 million from DKK 250 million.
- Employee threshold is unchanged.

In addition, a de minimis exemption based on controlled transaction volume is introduced. Danish entities/permanent establishments with less than a total of DKK 5 million of reportable intercompany transactions and less than a total of DKK 50 million of reportable intercompany receivables and/or debt (at year end) may be exempt from the requirement to prepare and submit TP documentation. However, there are a few cases where the de minimis exemption based on controlled transaction volume will not apply:

- Cross-border intercompany transactions concerning intangible assets (f.e.x. IP transfers or royalty/licenses) will require TP documentation regardless of transaction volume.
- Cross-border intercompany transactions with counterparties resident outside the EU/EEA with which Denmark does not have a tax treaty (or exchange of information agreement) will require TP documentation regardless.

Finally, the new legislative changes also relax TP documentation requirements in relation to cash dividends, capital injections and certain equity transactions.

For more info: See EY's tax alert "Danish transfer pricing landscape: Insights into control mechanisms and legislative changes enacted on 3 June 2025".

Contact the local EY office for evaluation of exemption applicability on the basis of thresholds.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

DKK5.6 billion

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

CbC report filing and CbCR notification requirements apply in line with the OECD Guidelines. The threshold for CbCR is DKK5.6 billion (EUR750 million).

- Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

Not specified

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is no threshold separate or specific for the Master File.

- Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

Not specified

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is no separate or specific threshold for the Local File.

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Economic analyses/"outcome tests" and comparability analysis (benchmarking or other comparable data comparisons) are required for material controlled transactions.

Assuming TP documentation is required, note that there are no quantified transaction volume materiality limits for immateriality under current law or administrative guidance. Therefore, as a starting point, all controlled transactions subject to TP documentation requirements shall be included in the TP documentation regardless of volume. However, a controlled transaction may be deemed immaterial if it is a nonrecurring transaction with a limited/low economic value relative to the local entity/branch. Transactions deemed immaterial for transfer pricing documentation purposes should be identified and listed, but are not subject to detailed documentation requirements (not subject to a comparability/Economic analysis). Consider consulting with local EY before deeming transactions immaterial given the TP compliance penalty risks.

Please refer to Section 3(b) above for transaction volume thresholds relevant for determining the requirement to prepare and submit TP documentation as per the new Danish legislation enacted 3 June 2025 with effect for income year 2025 and onward.

- Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

TP documentation is required to be prepared in Danish, English, Swedish or Norwegian.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Unspecified

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

- Additional details

Generally individual testing per transaction type and counterparty is preferred.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

TP-specific disclosures are embedded within companies'/ branches' tax returns under the header "Kontrollerede transaktioner." However, in certain cases, e.g., for companies subject to hydrocarbon taxation, companies/ branches are required to report controlled transactions using Form 05. 022.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

In the tax return, entities and branches are required to report controlled transactions. The taxpayer is requested to specify the nature and volume of the controlled transactions, jurisdiction of counterparties, assess whether the entity/branch is subject to exemption from Danish TP documentation requirements, etc. Information regarding the TP method applied and outcome testing is not reported on this form. Also, the tax return does not include a statement that controlled transactions are on arm's-length terms and conditions.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

No

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Notification for the CbCR must be filed separately for Danish entities and branches before the end of the financial year.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

- Additional details

- Submission/filing date

The general principle for the corporate tax return deadline is six months after financial year-end (i.e., 30 June for a 31 December financial year-end), however, the tax return filing deadline can never be later than 1 September. This means that certain entities/branches can be subject to a tax return filing deadline shorter than six months (for example financial years ending 31 March).

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

- Additional details

- Submission/filing date

The controlled transactions related disclosures of the corporate tax return have the same filing deadline as the corporate income tax return.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

- Additional details

- Submission/filing date

TP documentation (including the Local File and Master file) for financial years starting on or after 1 January 2021 must be filed (uploaded) to the Danish Tax Administration no later than 60 days after the corporate tax return deadline.

TP documentation (including the Local File and Master file) for financial years started prior to 1 January 2021 should be submitted only upon request by the Danish Tax Administration, with 60 days to submit.

The Danish Tax Administration, in its guidance, has introduced certain options that, under specific circumstances, allow for later filing of specifically the Master File. Reach out to your local EY office for a specific discussion if such option is pursued.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

- Additional details

CbCR should be submitted no later than 12 months after the end of the financial year the reporting concerns.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

- Additional details

For Danish taxpayers the CbCR notification deadline is no later than the end of the financial year reported in the CbCR (Report period). Notification should also be filed if the company is no longer obligated to file CbCR, e.g., if falling below the revenue threshold. In case of more than one group entity/branch in Denmark, and such entities/branches being subject to the Danish joint taxation scheme, only the administration company in the joint taxation group is required to file CbCR notification on behalf of all entities/branches in the joint taxation group.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

- Additional details

TP documentation (including the Local File and Master file) for financial years starting on or after 1 January 2021 must be prepared and filed (uploaded) to the Danish Tax Administration no later than 60 days after the corporate tax return deadline.

TP documentation (including the Local File and Master file) for financial years started prior to 1 January 2021 should be finalized at the time the tax return is submitted (prepared contemporaneously) and submitted only upon request by the Danish Tax Administration, with 60 days to submit.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

- Additional details

TP documentation (including the Local File and Master file) for financial years starting on or after 1 January 2021 must be prepared and filed (uploaded) to the Danish Tax Administration no later than 60 days after the corporate tax return deadline.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

60 days (only applicable for financial years started prior to 1 January 2021)

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

The following TP methods are accepted: CUP, resale price, cost-plus, profit-split, TNMM and others. When selecting the most appropriate method, the taxpayer should consider the aspects regarding the application of methods stated in the OECD Guidelines.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Local comparables are not required. Pan-European benchmarks are accepted.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Multiple-year testing is generally accepted but not always recognized. For principal TP structures, TP documentation should test whether the margins of limited-risk entities (contract manufacturer or limited-risk distributor, etc.) are within the interquartile range every year (single-year testing).

It should not automatically be taken for granted that multiyear testing can reduce the TP risk attributable to single-year outcomes.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

Yes, the interquartile range is preferred and respected in administrative practice. The most common quartile formulas are respected.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

Frequency of new benchmarks and benchmark refreshes/roll-forwards are consistent with recommendations as per OECD Guidance.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is a preference for the weighted average for arm's-length analysis.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

The penalty amounts to DKK250,000 (EUR33,500) per entity per year for which either no, insufficient or late/non-contemporaneously prepared TP documentation is submitted. Penalties are nondeductible for tax purposes. The DKK250,000 penalty can be reduced by 50% if sufficient TP documentation is subsequently submitted. Failure to submit the TP documentation within the deadline automatically renders a penalty notice.

Failure to submit sufficient quality TP documentation is subject to an individual penalty assessment on a case-by-case basis, where gross negligence or intent is evaluated by the Danish Tax Administration. The tax authorities have the burden of proof for TP penalties. An additional penalty amounting to 10% of any income assessment/adjustment resulting from a TP audit can apply in severe cases.

What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

For CbCR, the same penalty regime as for Transfer Pricing of DKK250,000 (EUR33,500) applies; however, it is less frequently applied in practice.

What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

Are there any other penalties?

In case of no or late submission, it should be expected that penalties will be imposed. In addition, if the taxpayer does not fulfill the disclosure requirements as stated in the tax returns and Form 05. 022 or if the information provided is not correct, a penalty can be imposed.

b. Penalties post TP audit

Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

Additional details

If the Danish Tax Administration increases the income by a TP audit, an additional penalty of 10% of the income adjustment may be imposed in severe cases. Additionally, a nondeductible surcharge will be levied on any underpaid tax amount resulting from the income adjustment. In addition, interest will be charged on the late payment of taxes.

Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

Additional details

A Danish TP documentation must be prepared and filed within the applicable deadlines else penalties will be applied.

Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

Yes

Additional details

Nondeductible interest accrues on late tax payments related to revised income assessments for prior years' taxable income. The interest is 0.9% per month in 2024 and 2025. 0.7% per month in 2019-2023. Refunds are also subject to interest.

▪ Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

▪ Additional details

If the taxpayer subsequently provides compliant TP documentation, the penalty may be reduced from DKK250,000 to half (DKK125,000). TP penalties may be successfully contested depending on circumstances. Contact the local EY office for options.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The statute of limitations for a TP assessment is 1 May of the sixth year following the financial year concerned (e.g., the statute of limitation for financial year 2019 was 1 May 2025).

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The Danish Tax Administration commonly scrutinizes transfer pricing methodologies and the transfer pricing models of taxpayers. The Danish Tax Administration employs multiple teams of specialized transfer pricing case handlers and has a long history of challenging taxpayers on transfer pricing.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

In practice, the Danish Tax Administration will often argue for TP adjustments to the median observation if the realized outcome is not within the benchmarked interquartile range, however, it is not governed by any regulation.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

The tax authorities are particularly focused on:

- Business restructurings/IP transfers
- Loss-making entities/branches
- Entities/branches with material financial transactions
- Material decreases in taxable income

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Unilateral (informal), bilateral and multilateral APAs are available.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The tenure is usually five years, but may be shorter or longer.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Roll-back years for APAs are available depending on circumstances.

d. Is MAP available?

MAPs are available (subject to applicable tax treaties and/or EU arbitration convention/EU Directive 2017/1852).

Under thin capitalization rules, interest paid by a Danish company or branch to a foreign group company is not deductible to the extent that the Danish company's debt-to-equity ratio exceeds 4:1 at the end of the debtor's income year and that the amount of controlled debt exceeds DKK10 million. Limited deductibility applies only to interest expenses relating to the part of the controlled debt that needs to be converted to equity to satisfy the debt-to-equity ratio of 4:1 (that is, a minimum of 20% equity). The thin capitalization rules also apply to third-party debt if the third party has received guarantees and similar assistance from a group company of the borrower.

The Danish thin capitalization rules are supplemented through an “interest ceiling rule” and an Earnings Before Interest, Taxes, Depreciation and Amortization (EBITDA) rule. These rules apply to controlled and non-controlled debt. Only companies with net financial expenses exceeding DKK21,300,000 and DKK22,313,400, respectively (2024 amounts), are subject to these supplementary rules. For jointly taxed companies, the thresholds apply to all of these companies together.

Under the “interest ceiling rule,” a company may only deduct net financial expenses corresponding to 6% (2024 rate) of the taxable value of certain qualified assets. Deductions for any excess net financial expenses are lost, except for capital losses, which may be carried forward for three years.

Under the EBITDA rule, a company may reduce its taxable income through the deduction of financial expenses by no more than 30%. Net financial expenses exceeding this limit are nondeductible but, in contrast to the interest ceiling rule, the excess expenses can be carried forward without any time limitation (if not restricted again by the EBITDA rule).

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

Yes

b. Name of authority

The Danish Business Authority (Erhvervsstyrelsen)

c. Name of regulations

Danish Financial Statements Act (Årsregnskabsloven)

d. Effective date of applicability

Financial years started 22 June 2024 or later

e. Section reference from local regulation

Danish Financial Statements Act (Årsregnskabsloven) LBK nr 1057 af 23/09/2024, Chapter 18a

14. PCbCR thresholds and exemptions

a. What is the global consolidated income threshold?

DKK5.6 billion

b. Are there any materiality exemptions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Danish subsidiaries in accounting classes A or B or branches with a revenue of less than DKK111 million are not obligated to file PCbCR.

15. Content

a. Does PCbCR align with OECD BEPS Action 13 CbCR requirements?

No

▪ Additional details

The PCbCR rules align with EU Directive 2021/2101 of 24 November 2021. Compared to the BEPS Action 13 CbCR requirements, the PCbCR rules do not require reporting Stated capital or Fixed assets. Additionally, the PCbCR rules include a Safe Clause making it possible for companies to withhold information that could significantly damage the business if made public.

b. Is aggregation of transactions allowed?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The PCbCR discloses on a country-by-country basis. Aggregation of transactions is inherent in the ruleset.

c. Can you provide data sources and guidance?

Not applicable

16. Lodgment process and requirements

a. Is lodgment possible?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The PCbCR shall be filed to the Danish Business Authority (Erhvervsstyrelsen) no later than 12 months after the end of the financial year the report covers.

Entities required to file the PCbCR are:

- Parent companies that prepare consolidated financial statements and where the group's net turnover exceeds DKK5.6 billion annually for two consecutive years.
- Companies that are not part of a group, but where the company's net turnover exceeds DKK5.6 billion annually for two consecutive years.
- A subsidiary in accounting class C or D, whose ultimate parent company is resident outside the EU/EEA, and where the total net turnover of the ultimate group exceeds DKK5.6 billion annually for two consecutive years. The country-by-country reporting must be prepared for the ultimate group.
- Certain branches of foreign companies resident outside the EU/EEA. The country-by-country reporting must be prepared for the foreign company or group.

b. Is lodgment in another jurisdiction possible?

Yes

- Additional details

If the Danish parent company is itself a subsidiary of an ultimate parent entity resident in an EU/EEA country and that ultimate parent entity prepares a PCbCR in accordance with EU Directive 2021/2101 of 24 November 2021 in its country of residence, that ultimate parent entity will be lodging the PCbCR in another EU/EEA jurisdiction and the Danish parent company is exempted from its obligation to lodge in Denmark.

c. Is lodgment required in a prescribed form and format?

Yes

- Additional details

Future guidance is expected. Contact the local EY office for the most recent details.

d. What is the lodgment deadline?

The PCbCR shall be filed to the Danish Business Authority (Erhvervsstyrelsen) no later than 12 months after the end of the financial year the report covers.

17. Penalties

a. What are the maximum administrative penalties?

- Additional details

Not defined

b. Is there any risk of criminal prosecution?

Yes

- Additional details

Violation of the Danish Financial Statements Act (Årsregnskabsloven) is sanctioned with a fine unless a more severe sentence is mandated by the Penal Code (Straffeloven). Given the recency of the PCbCR rules, it is currently not known to what degree sanctions will be applied in relation to PCbCR.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Taxpayers with domestic transactions are not obliged to prepare a TP documentation report unless the amounts agreed upon between the parties reduce tax liability or produce deferred taxation in the Dominican Republic. Notwithstanding the above, taxpayers with domestic transactions must file the TP return.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Unreliant

▪ Additional details

The Dominican Republic is not an OECD member and there is no reference in which the OECD Guidelines can be relied upon for interpretation.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation needs to be prepared and submitted annually.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

The TP documentation report and return must be prepared annually, with updates to all the information that allows a correct TP analysis. The local tax authorities require the most recent available financial information for the comparables and the tested party.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Taxpayers are exempt from preparing a TP local file and master file in certain situations:

Taxpayers whose total amount of intercompany transactions does not exceed DOP12,193,981.70 (adjusted every year for inflation) and have no transactions with entities located in tax havens or under preferential tax regimes.

For related-party transactions with entities resident in the Dominican Republic, provided such intercompany transactions do not result in a tax deferral or overall reduction of tax revenues. Nevertheless, taxpayers excluded from the documentation requirements are still subject to complying with the arm's-length principle and are required to file the TP information return. The tax administration reserves the right to require exempt taxpayers to provide any information it deems necessary regarding their intercompany transactions.

No

- Additional details

Taxpayers whose total amount of intercompany transactions does not exceed DOP12,193,981.70 (adjusted annually for inflation) and who have no transactions with entities located in tax havens or under preferential tax regimes.

Taxpayers conducting related party transactions with entities resident in the DR (for the local transactions part only), provided that such intercompany transactions do not result in a tax deferral or reduction of the taxable income. A detailed analysis should be performed by the taxpayer to determine if there are any indications of tax deferral or reduction of the taxable income. Taxpayers excluded from this documentation requirement are still subject to comply with the arm's-length principle and to file the transfer pricing informative return. The Tax Administration reserves the right to require any information it deems necessary to analyze the arm's-length nature of the intercompany transactions performed.

Not applicable

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

The TP documentation needs to be submitted in the local language. Article 21 of General Norm No. 07-14 states that entities and individuals must file (when required by the Tax Administration) accounting and financial documents that support the information provided in the corresponding tax return. These documents must be filed in Spanish.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Unspecified

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

- Additional details

In practice, tax administration tends to prefer an individual testing of transactions, if possible.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

Yes

Transfer pricing informative return (DIOR), that must be filed on an annual basis.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

Article 18 of Decree No. 256-21 states that taxpayers should file an annual informative return (DIOR).

Information to be disclosed includes related parties' tax address and tax identification numbers, transaction classifications, amounts, profit-level indicator of the tested party of each transaction, interquartile range or results of comparables, and the methods applied for analysis, among others. The return should be filed within 180 days for fiscal years previous to FY 2022. For FY 2022 and onward, the return should be filed within 120 days after the closing date of the Fiscal Year, by the time the corporate income tax return (IR-2) is filed.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes. Usually, information of type of intercompany transactions, amount and name of the related party is included in the audited financial statements. This information must be consistent with the information disclosed in the rest of the TP disclosures of information.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

120 days after FY closing

- Additional details

Submission/filing date: The filing should be made within 120 days after the closing date of the fiscal year.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

120 days after FY closing

- Additional details

Submission/filing date: For fiscal years prior to FY 2022, the filing of the DIOR was within 180 days after the fiscal year-end. From FY 2022 and onward, this return should be filed within 120 days after the fiscal year-end, by the time the corporate income tax return (IR- 2) is filed.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

180 days after transfer pricing informative return deadline

- Additional details

Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared): From fiscal year 2021, all taxpayers must submit annually to the DGII the Master File within 180 days after the transfer pricing informative return deadline.

Submission/filing date: From fiscal year 2021, all taxpayers must submit annually to the DGII the Master File within 180 days after the transfer pricing informative return deadline.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

No later than 12 months after the fiscal year end of the MNE.

- Additional details

CbCR for locally headquartered companies Norm 08-2021 in its Article 4 states that each ultimate parent entity of an MNE group that is resident for tax purposes in the Dominican Republic and surpasses the stated revenue threshold shall file a Country-by-Country Report no later than 12 months after the fiscal year-end of the MNE.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

A constituent entity of a multinational group that is tax resident in the Dominican Republic must notify the DGII as to whether it is the ultimate parent entity (UPE) or the reporting entity. The constituent entity must use the formal communication procedures for notifying the DGII and report whether it is the UPE or reporting no later than the last day of the multinational group's reporting tax year. In addition, when a constituent entity of a multinational group that is resident for tax purposes in the Dominican Republic is not the UPE or the reporting entity, it must notify the DGII of the legal name and tax residence jurisdiction of the reporting entity no later than three months before the end of the multinational group's reporting tax year.

- Additional details

If the constituent entity fails to notify the DGII of the reporting entity, all taxpayers that are constituent entities of the multinational group, resident or domiciled in the Dominican Republic, will be appointed, and the penalties provided in Article 281 ter. of the Dominican Tax Code will be applied. Taxpayers that are subject to file the CbCR notification requirement must submit the documentation annually even if there are no changes in the information to be submitted. All entities resident in the Dominican Republic that are required to file the CbCR notification must submit it individually.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

From fiscal year 2021, all taxpayers must submit annually to the DGII the Local File and Master File within 180 days after the transfer pricing informative return (DIOR) deadline.

- Additional details

The documentation must be readily available by the time the transfer pricing informative return (DIOR) is filed.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

- Additional details

From FY 2021 and onward, the Local File and Master File must be submitted to the DGII within 180 days of the filing deadline of the transfer pricing informative return or DIOR.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The taxpayer has five days to submit the TP documentation once requested by the tax authorities in an audit inquiry.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

- Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

Article 281 of the Dominican Tax Code establishes the following methods to assess the arm's-length standard: CUP, resale price, cost plus, TNMM, profit split and transparent market concept (the sixth method).

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There are no benchmarking requirements for local and regional comparables, considering the lack of financial information available on local comparables. Thus, international comparables are accepted by the tax authorities.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

According to item 2, paragraph V, Article 18 of Decree 256-21, an explanation must be given for carrying out a multiyear analysis, in cases where it is necessary. Multiple-year testing for the comparables is applicable. In practice, the number of years is three.

Article 12 of Decree No. 78-14 requires the application of an interquartile range.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

A fresh benchmarking search every year over the update of the financials of a prior study is preferred. A TP local file must be prepared annually, updating all the information that allows a correct TP analysis. Additionally, in practice, local tax authorities expect to see the most recent comparable information and to use the most recent available financial information for the comparables and the tested party.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Weighted average is common in practice.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Article 281 ter of the Dominican Tax Code dictates that failure to provide true or complete TP documentation could result in penalties of up to three times the penalties stated in Article 257 (five to 30 minimum wages and 0.25% of the previous year's gross income).

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Article 281 ter of the Dominican Tax Code dictates that failure to provide true or complete TP documentation could result in penalties of up to three times the penalties stated in Article 257 (five to 30 minimum wages and 0.25% of the previous year's gross income).

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Article 281 ter of the Dominican Tax Code dictates that failure to provide true or complete TP documentation could result in penalties of up to three times the penalties stated in Article 257 (five to 30 minimum wages and 0.25% of the previous year's gross income).

▪ Are there any other penalties?

Not applicable

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

▪ Additional details

Any additional tax generated by DGII price adjustments should be subject to surcharges (10% for the first month and 4% for the subsequent months) and interest (1.10% on a monthly basis).

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Any additional tax generated by DGII price adjustments should be subject to surcharges (10% for the first month and 4% for the subsequent months) and interest (1.10% on a monthly basis).

Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

Additional details

No interest is paid on refunds.

Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

Additional details

Taxpayers can benefit from reductions of the surcharges assessed as a result of any DGII adjustment:

- A 40% reduction of the surcharges is assessed if the company decides to voluntarily amend its tax return without any prior notice from the tax authorities.
- A 30% reduction of the surcharges is assessed if, after being audited, the difference between the estimated tax and the effectively paid tax represents less than 30% of the latter.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The statute of limitations is three years; the term is affected by amended returns. However, if a taxpayer fails to file a return, the period is extended to five years.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

Additional details

In practice, the DGII has continued to focus on TP with no exceptions to large and non-large taxpayers and with a current focus on, and auditing, MNEs with complex transactions. The methodologies applied by these types of enterprises tend to be challenged by the DGII in TP audits. For instance, the DGII has been adjusting commodities transactions with the use of the sixth method. In addition, the DGII has been challenging comparables when using the TNMM, agreements when using the CUP method and royalty transactions, among others.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

Additional details

If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, the consequences of a successful challenge can include an adjustment.

Article 12 of Decree 78- 14 states that when the intercompany results fall outside of the interquartile range, the tax administration will perform an adjustment to the median of such range.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Any type of industry is subject to being audited, since the tax authorities are very active in auditing taxpayers from all kind of industries. In the past, the consumer products, hospitality and commodities industries were more likely to be audited.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

APAs, bilateral or multilateral, are contemplated in Article 281 bis of the Dominican Tax Code and in Decree No. 78- 14.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Taxpayers can request an APA for a certain time period and renew it for an additional three years. APAs should be requested within the first three months of the corresponding taxpayer's Fiscal Year and can be requested, among others, for financing transactions.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

There is none specified.

d. Is MAP available?

Yes

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

Article 287 of the Dominican Tax Code states that the limitation on interest deduction will be limited to the indebtedness capacity of the entity, considering that, numerically, this capacity could not exceed three times the value of its equity.

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

No

b. Name of authority

Not applicable

c. Name of regulations

Not applicable

d. Effective date of applicability

Not applicable

e. Section reference from local regulation

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Internal Revenue Service (Servicio de Rentas Internas, or SRI) and National Customs Service (Servicio Nacional de Aduanas del Ecuador, or SENA)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

The transfer pricing regime is part of the corporate income tax (CIT) enacted in the tax law (Ley de Régimen Tributario Interno, or LRTI), and its application is prescribed in LRTI, tax administration resolutions and communications, and a technical guidelines document prepared by the SRI that is available on its website. OECD's Transfer Pricing Guidelines are used as a technical reference. However, LRTI, tax administration resolutions, Ecuadorian laws or international treaties signed by Ecuador hold supremacy over the OECD Guidelines.

In addition, the obligations and deliverables derived from BEPS Action 13 do not apply in Ecuador; however, starting from the fiscal year 2023, the Tax Administration requires that the Local Report includes the information typically contained in the Group's Master File contemporaneous to the year of documentation, as well as additional requirements of corporate information that exceed the content of the Master File.

c. Effective date of applicability

No date specified

d. Section reference from local regulation

Related parties are defined in LRTI's first unnumbered article after the Article 4 and SRI's resolution on tax havens, as transactions with those regimes are deemed as related-party transactions per Ecuadorian Tax Law. In addition, the Tax Law includes definitions of the arm's-length principle, the methods accepted locally, comparability criteria and penalties for not duly complying the taxpayer's transfer pricing obligations.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Under certain conditions domestic transactions must be documented and analyzed for TP Documentation purposes. Nevertheless, domestic transactions are, in all cases, required to fulfill the Arm's Length standard.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

No

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Limited

▪ Additional details

Ecuador is not a member of the OECD; however, its Guidelines are applicable as technical reference for matters not being regulated by any internal law, regulation or resolution or by any international treaty. The regulation establishes that the relevant version of the OECD guidelines, to analyze a transaction, will be those that were the most current on January 1st of the fiscal year (in Ecuador, always coincident with calendar year) during which the transaction was performed. On 20 January 2022, the OECD published a new version of the guidelines applicable to transfer pricing to multinational companies and tax administrations. In consequence, starting 2023, these guidelines are relevant technical reference.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

No

▪ Coverage

Not applicable

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

Not applicable

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

Not applicable

- Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

- Coverage

Starting from fiscal year 2023, the Tax Administration requires that the Local Report includes most of the information typically contained in the Group's Master File contemporaneous to the year of documentation, as well as additional requirements that exceed the content of the Master File.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

2023

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

The Contemporaneous Transfer Pricing Documentation (TP Report) for the Functional Analysis of the Group (Local or International Groups) requires the inclusion of Master File's contents into the Local Report (not exactly a Local File). The provided information must be contemporaneous to the year of documentation; and, in addition to what is typical to a Master File, it is required to provide detailed information related to the assets, functions and risks assumed by the related parties with whom the taxpayer in Ecuador maintained transactions and copies of the APAs obtained by the Group, relevant to any of the reported transactions.

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

No

- Coverage

Not applicable

- Effective or expected date of commencement

Not applicable

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

A Local Report, in a sense, is assimilable to what a Local File represents. Nevertheless, specific sections, content and information must be provided exactly as requested, not to risk being fined for non-compliance.

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

- Additional details

The BEPS Action 13 format report is not sufficient to achieve penalty protection. To achieve this standard, all the specific regulations of SRI resolutions on documentation, including the local tax administration transfer pricing guidelines, must be closely followed. Massive compliance controls take place routinely and fines are imposed in consequence.

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

No

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

- a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

Ecuador has its own local transfer pricing documentation guidelines supported in the Tax Law, Tax Administration's resolutions and communications, and a technical guidelines document issued and periodically reformed by the SRI.

The OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines must be used as the transfer pricing technical reference for items not covered by national regulations.

Tax Law regulation on transfer pricing matters includes many factors, such as:

- Compulsory filing of documentation when a defined threshold is met.
 - Thresholds based on the addition of transactions following rules that cover P&L and balance sheet accounts.
 - Domestic transactions reached by the transfer pricing regime – may not be part of the threshold calculations if certain conditions are met.
 - In the case of loans received from related parties, the principal of new loans contemporaneous with the year of documentation must be reported, as well as the novation of these loans in the year subject to documentation.
 - The CIT for banana exports and air cargo transport is revenue-based where the taxable revenue is derived from transfer prices calculated by the SRI.
 - Crude oil and metallic minerals (i.e. gold, silver, copper) have their own particular regulations to avoid unsubstantial international trading and to prevent abuse of pricing strategies during volatile periods.
 - The use of the interquartile range, when more than one comparable is found, being compulsory for every applicable method – transfer pricing adjustment to be calculated to the median of the comparable set.
 - The use of a single year (contemporaneous to the transaction's fiscal year) of financial statements of comparable companies being requested, as well as the exclusion of companies with more than one business activity.
 - The possibility that tax administration's use of secret comparable.
 - Transfer pricing documentation needs to be submitted and prepared contemporaneously as long as the company exceeds the threshold of transactions with domestic and cross-border related parties in addition to tax havens, during the fiscal year subject to documentation.
- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?
- Yes
- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?
- Yes
- Additional details
- Transfer pricing documentation must be prepared annually under local jurisdiction regulations. It must cover every transaction, independently of its amount (no materiality considerations apply) or the filing obligations of the company (i.e. Tax Law requires every transaction of every obliged taxpayer to be documented. This documentation must be filed when certain conditions are met).
- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?
- Yes
- b. Materiality limit or thresholds
- TP documentation
- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?
- Yes
- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
- Other
- Is there any other threshold?
- Yes
- Additional details
- The tax administration has defined "relevant transactions" whose addition triggers the transfer pricing formal obligations, as explained below:
- Taxpayers are required to file the Transfer Pricing Annex (Informative Return) if the relevant transactions exceed USD3 million.
- Taxpayers are required to submit the Transfer Pricing Report if the relevant transactions exceed USD10 million. Notwithstanding the thresholds that trigger documentation submission, the SRI may require, at any time, the transfer pricing Annex or Report, even though the company does not reach the threshold amounts, and on transactions that did not accumulate for the threshold.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

Not applicable

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Issuance of a CbCR is not required by Ecuadorian tax law.

- Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

The same threshold for the presentation of the Transfer Pricing Documentation; considering that Master File contemporaneous to the year of documentation is part of the Group's functional analysis.

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

Total related party transactions (cross-border, tax havens and local related parties when it is applicable)

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

Taxpayers are required to submit the Transfer Pricing Report if the relevant transactions exceed USD10 million.

- Additional details

The issuance of a Master File as an independent deliverable is not required by Ecuadorian tax law. However, taxpayers have the obligation to issue a local transfer pricing report according to the specifications defined by local regulations. The Master File contemporaneous to the year of documentation is part of the Group's functional analysis contained into the Transfer Pricing Report.

- Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

Not applicable

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Ecuadorian tax law does not establish any thresholds for the preparation of Economic analysis. All transactions, regardless of their amount, must comply with the arm's-length principle and therefore should have an analysis.

- c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

The official national language, Spanish, shall be used for documentation presented for administrative procedures with public institutions in Ecuador.

▪ Is a safe harbor available?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

▪ Additional details

Individual testing of transaction for an entity is preferred to document the accomplishment of the arm's-length principle.

▪ Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

▪ Additional details

An informative transfer pricing return, on XML format (transfer pricing Annex) must be filed along with the Transfer Pricing Report. Details of every transaction related parties identificative information and TP methodologies and outcome of the analysis make part of this return.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Total amounts of related part transactions make part of the CIT return.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Financial statements in Ecuador follow the IFRS accounting standards, and by law, the external auditors must include in the notes to the financial statements an opinion about the accomplishment of the arm's-length principle for the related party transactions for the audited year.

In addition, part of the obligations of the taxpayers is to file a Tax Compliance Report prepared by its external auditors.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

11 April (Special Taxpayers)

▪ Additional details

The tax administration has defined two types of regimes for taxpayers when referring to companies incorporated in Ecuador: 1) General Regime and 2) Special Taxpayers. General Regime: The submission deadline for the specific obligations to be fulfilled by taxpayers under the General Regime is defined according to the ninth digit of their tax identification number. Special Taxpayer: For this regime the submission deadline for the specific obligations to be fulfilled by taxpayers from 10 April to 28 April (if the ninth digit of their tax ID is 1 then the deadline would be 10 April, if the ninth digit of their tax ID is 2 then the deadline would be 12 April, etc.).

- Submission/filing date: The filing date depends on the type of taxpayer explained above.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

Two months after CIT return filing

▪ Additional details

The transfer pricing Annex and Report must be filed no later than two months after filing the CIT return. Deadlines will be established according to the taxpayer regime detailed in the corporate income tax return section.

- Submission/filing date: The filing date depends on the type of taxpayer that has the obligation to file the Annex and the Local Report. In both cases, the filing date is tied to the due date of the income tax return; up to two months after the due date of the income tax declaration.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

The same for the presentation of the Transfer Pricing Documentation; considering that Master File contemporaneous to the year of documentation is part of the Group's functional analysis.

- Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

Annually, no specific deadline for preparation.

- Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation must be prepared annually under local regulations. Documentation requirements will be determined according to the thresholds of related-party transactions (domestic, foreign and tax havens). Local transfer pricing documentation must be submitted according to what is specified in 3.b. In case submission was not compulsory, if the SRI requests the documentation, the submission must be completed in two months.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing Annex and transfer pricing documentation must be submitted within two months after the CIT return of the company.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

When the tax authority notifies the taxpayer of noncompliance or late submission of the transfer pricing Report and Annex, it will establish a deadline of five to 10 business days to submit information. However, if the tax authority detects inconsistencies in declarations or annexes filed by the taxpayer, it will establish a deadline of 10 to 20 business days for the taxpayer to present the correction of the errors.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

- a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

Ecuadorian regulations do not establish the compulsory hierarchy application between direct and indirect methods and allowed the Ecuadorian tax administration to issue technical guidelines that all taxpayers must follow unless they can document the reasons behind the use of a different methodology.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

- a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

The SRI prefers the use of local comparable companies instead of foreign comparable companies; however, the use of a local company as a comparable will be limited to the fact that its information be available in public sources as of 11 April of the fiscal year following the fiscal year analyzed (Example: for the year 2024 the financial information of the local comparable must be public until 11 April 2025).

- b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

The PLI for analyses must be calculated only with the financial information contemporaneous to the year of documentation.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

Interquartile ranges are compulsory whenever more than one comparable or observation is available.

A fresh benchmarking search needs to be conducted every year. For the application of methods that use external comparable companies (resale price, cost-plus and especially TNMM), the same Fiscal Year must be used for the tested party and the comparable companies. There is no restriction in Ecuadorian tax regulations or Ecuador transfer pricing rules that limit the use of roll-forward of comparable companies and update of the financials; For this reason, the provisions of the OECD guidelines in this regard can be taken as a reference.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Simple average.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

- The PLI should be calculated using just the financial information for the year under analysis (2024). The tax authority requires the use of contemporaneous financial information with the 2024 information of the comparable companies and tested party.
- In the absence of financial data for the contemporaneous fiscal year, the financial information of the prior year (2024) may be used, if it shows that the relevant conditions were similar in both periods.
- The use of financial information of more than one year to calculate the PLI (average calculation for the PLI of the comparable companies) should be factually justified based on business cycles or other comparability criteria.
- The use of comparable companies with operating losses is allowed as long as the taxpayer could demonstrate reliably and with documentation that there are market situations that led both the comparable company and the tested party to incur losses in the year under analysis.
- If the selected method requires a PLI, it must not use a denominator that contains the operations that are being tested, unless it is duly verified that its use does not influence the result of the analysis.

- More detailed review of the comparable companies is required to identify other business segments that are not comparable with the tested party. Local tax authority prefers a comparison using the segmented financial information excluding the non-comparable business segmented financial information.
- The application of working capital adjustments to the financial information of the comparable companies and the tested party must be explained and supported. Since transfer pricing documentation 2018, there is not an obligation or a routine application of working capital adjustments and the company can use the non-adjusted range.
- The arm's-length range should be calculated with regular statistics formulas (EY interquartile range or weighted average is not allowed).

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Ecuador has a specific transfer pricing penalty regime. Penalties of up to USD15, 000 would be applied if taxpayers do not submit the transfer pricing report or the transfer pricing annex, or if inaccuracies, mistakes, differences, lack of information (incomplete documentation) or false data is detected.

Massive and extensive campaigns for detection of formal errors, differences in quantifications, or between tax documents and the TP report are being conducted routinely, with fines arising up to USD 15,000

What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

What is the penalty for failure to furnish master file?

Not applicable

Are there any other penalties?

Ecuador has a specific transfer pricing penalty regime. Penalties of up to USD15,000 would be applied if taxpayers do not submit the transfer pricing report or the transfer pricing annex, or if inaccuracies, mistakes, differences, lack of information (incomplete documentation) or false data is detected.

Tax administration issued the Resolution NAC-DGERCGC24-0000020 that establishes the penalty amount according to a tier based on the type of taxpayer and the seriousness of the fault or misdemeanor (late delivery or incomplete or erroneous information sent by the local taxpayers).

The fines are independent and accumulate in case the transfer pricing report and/or the transfer pricing annex was sent late or with errors.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

- Additional details

A 20% surcharge on the assessment will be applied.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

- Additional details

A 20% surcharge on the assessment will be applied.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

Yes

- Additional details

A specific interest rate will be charged on adjustments and is paid on refunds. This interest rate is variable and is defined as 1.5 times the Ecuadorian lending rate.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

No penalty relief regime is in place. The 20% surcharge may be prevented when an assessment is accepted at the draft stage of the administrative action, before the final assessment has been issued. Once the adjustment has been assessed, a claim resource may be presented before the tax authority, to be resolved by a claims team.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The statute of limitations is four years from the date of the CIT return filing.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

If a taxpayer is selected for a general tax audit, viewed as part of that audit may be considered to be high.

- b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

If transfer pricing is reviewed as part of the audit, the risk of the methodology being challenged may be deemed as high. In audits in which transfer pricing is a subject, the percentage of reviews where assessments are based on challenging the methodology (or at least the set of comparable companies) is more than 75%. The local tax administration tends to propose very unorthodox positions from an OECD point of view.

Transfer pricing adjustments are calculated at the median value of the arm's-length range established in a transfer pricing assessment.

- d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Recent activities have been focused on intangible property, and services-related transactions. Nevertheless, the possibility of methodologies being challenged during an audit are similar for every taxpayer.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

There is an APA-like procedure that takes the form of pricing or methodology consultations and information disclosure.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The ruling term includes the year before the response date (in cases where the response is issued before the CIT return filing for the previous year), the year when the response is issued and the following three tax years.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

If the answer to the consultation would result in favorable terms to the taxpayer, the taxpayer will have to carry out amendments to the tax return for the Fiscal Years' previews to the date of favourable answer from the tax administration.

d. Is MAP available?

Not applicable

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

When a transaction is performed between related parties, a thin capitalization rule should be met. The interest generated by foreign loans granted directly or indirectly by related parties to banks, insurance companies, and entities of the financial sector of the popular and solidarity economy will be deductible provided that the ratio between the total external loans and equity does not exceed 300%. In case of excess, the interest would be non-deductible. For other companies and individuals, the interest generated by foreign loans granted by related parties will be deductible, provided they do not exceed the 20% of the earnings before interests, taxes, profit sharing, depreciations, and amortizations. In case of excess, the interest would be non-deductible according to specific rules established in the tax law.

No

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

No

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

TP documentation needs to be submitted contemporaneously.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

TP documentation is required be prepared annually.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Value of international transactions

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation in Egypt is applicable as per OECD BEPS Action 13. Any taxpayer with overall related-party transactions (domestic and cross-border transactions) exceeding EGP15 million in value must prepare and submit TP documentations

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

At least EGP3 billion

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

An Egyptian parent company of a multinational group with consolidated group revenue of at least EGP3 billion is required to file CbC report in Egypt. A CbCR will be required only if the Egyptian parent MNE has foreign subsidiaries or branches (PE).

- Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

Above EGP15 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Total international related-party transactions

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

During the fiscal year, any taxpayer with overall related-party transactions (domestic and cross-border transactions) exceeding EGP15 million in value must prepare and submit a Master File as per the specified deadlines.

- Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

Above EGP15 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Total international related-party transactions

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

During the fiscal year, any taxpayer with overall related-party transactions (domestic and cross-border transactions) exceeding EGP15 million in value must prepare and submit a Local File as per the specified deadlines.

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is no materiality limit.

- c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

The TP documentation needs to be submitted in the local language (i.e., Arabic). Any correspondence with the ETA should be in Arabic; however, the ETA will accept documentation in English, but may ask for an official translated copy.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Unspecified

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

- Additional details

It depends on the nature of transactions.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

There are no separate returns to be filed for TP. However, disclosure of related-party transactions is required on the corporate tax return (CTR), specifically in Table 508.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

The CTR, in its related-party disclosure section (Table 508), requires taxpayers to provide the following information:

- Name of the related party or parties
- The nature of the relationship
- Type of the related parties' transactions
- The value of the transactions for current and previous year
- The jurisdiction of origin for goods and jurisdiction of the services supplier
- The pricing method used in each related-party transaction
- Identical information concerning transactions with unrelated parties

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes, related-party transactions are required to be disclosed in financial statement and annual reports.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No. CbCR notification is to be submitted separately by the last day of the fiscal year to which the CbCR relates.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No.

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

Four months from the end of the financial year

- Additional details

The corporate income tax return is required to be submitted within four months from the end of the financial year.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

- Submission/filing date: For Egyptian entity having headquarters in Egypt or Egyptian entity part of overseas multinational group with no Master File submission requirement at ultimate parent entity's jurisdiction, the Master File in Egypt is required to be submitted along with the Local File within two months from the tax return submission date.

For Egyptian entity part of overseas multinational group where Master File submission requirement is specified in the ultimate parent entity's jurisdiction, the Master File in Egypt is required to be submitted on the same date as per the timeline at ultimate parent entity's jurisdiction

- Additional details

- Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared)

There is none specified.

- Submission/filing date: For Egyptian entity having headquarters in Egypt or Egyptian entity part of overseas multinational group with no Master File submission requirement at ultimate parent entity's jurisdiction, the Master File in Egypt is required to be submitted along with the Local File within two months from the tax return submission date.

- For Egyptian entity part of overseas multinational group where Master File submission requirement is specified in the ultimate parent entity's jurisdiction, the Master File in Egypt is required to be submitted on the same date as per the timeline at ultimate parent entity's jurisdiction.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

The CbC report must be filed within one year after the end of the reporting fiscal year.

▪ Additional details

None

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

CbCR notification must be submitted not later than the last day of the fiscal year to which the CbCR relates. The last date of the fiscal year shall be considered for the entity filing the CbCR. Annual submission is required. Each entity must submit a stand-alone notification.

▪ Additional details

None

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

No specified deadline

▪ Additional details

There is none specified.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Local File shall be submitted within two months following the date of filing or submission of CTR.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

There is none specified.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

▪ Additional details

With reference to Articles 39 and 40 of the ITL, the Executive Regulations establish the methods of determining the arm's-length price. According to Article 39, the fair-market price shall be determined according to the CUP, cost-plus or resale price methods. The amendments under Article 39 added two new methods of determining the arm's-length price: the transactional net margin method and the profit-split method. According to amendments under Article 40, the hierarchical approach in selecting TP methodology was canceled. The taxpayer has the right to choose one of the methods referred to in Articles 39 and 40, according to the nature of the transaction and the conditions of dealing, and there is no longer a priority in applying a certain method before the other. The taxpayer has the right to follow any appropriate method, provided that adequate documents are available to support the application of that method are presented.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

In Egypt, there is a lack of local comparable data; however, the ETA accepts Middle East and Africa comparables. Global comparables are accepted if sufficient efforts are made to demonstrate that local comparables are not available.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Multiple-year analysis (three years) is preferred.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

There are no preferences officially stated in the guidelines; however, in practice, the interquartile range is used.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no need to conduct a fresh benchmarking search every year; however, updating the financials of a prior study is required. In general, a fresh benchmarking study should be conducted every three years.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

The weighted average is used for arm's-length analysis; however, there are no preferences officially stated in the guidelines.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified. However, as per recent assessments and audits conducted by the ETA it appears that the ETA is applying manual shareholding filter/criteria while selecting the comparables. The following are the shareholding criteria used by the ETA to reject comparables having more than 50% ownership or unknown ownership: a. 50% or more direct shareholding, b. 50% or more immediate shareholding, c. Direct and immediate shareholding details are unavailable, d. 50% or more global ultimate ownership, e. If one individual is holding more than 50% shares and f. 50% or more shares are held by a family.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

The consequence for incomplete three-tiered documentation is likely to be considered as noncompliance with submission timelines resulting in prescribed penal provisions and/or additional challenges during audit. Penalties for non-submission, late submission or incomplete documentation are based on the following:

- For corporate income tax returns due to be filed on or after 20 October 2020, failure to declare accurate value of related-party transactions (Table 508), penalty at the rate 1% of the total value of the undeclared related-party transactions (local and cross-border transactions) during the fiscal year.

- Failure to submit a Master File or Local File by prescribed due date, penalty at the rate 3% of the total value of the related-party transactions (local and cross-border transactions) during the fiscal year.
 - Failure to submit a CbC report (if the taxpayer is the ultimate parent entity of a multinational group) or notification (if the taxpayer is the constituent entity) by prescribed due date, penalty at the rate 2% of the total value of the related-party transactions (local and cross-border transactions) during the fiscal year. Where there are multiple instances of noncompliance, the penalties payable by a taxpayer for a fiscal year are capped at 3% of the total value of the related-party transactions (local and cross-border transactions) for that year. The penalties related to the Master File, Local File and CbC report or notification apply to documents required to be submitted to the Tax Authority on or after 4 December 2020.
 - What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?
 - 2% of the total value of the related-party transactions (local and cross-border transactions) What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?
 - 3% of the total value of the related-party transactions (local and cross-border transactions) Are there any other penalties?
- As per the Unified Tax Procedures Law, there are additional penal provisions for non-submission, late submission, or incorrect submission.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

While there are no penalties for incomplete documentation, there are penalties for audit adjustments and these adjustments are based on the following:

- Twenty percent of the difference between final tax due as per the ETA and the tax due as per the tax return, this will apply if the difference is less than 50% of the final tax due.

- Forty percent of the difference between final tax due as per the ETA and the tax due as per the tax return, this will apply if the difference is more than 50% of the final tax due. It is important to note that the penalties set forth above can be reduced by 50% if an agreement is made between the taxpayer and the ETA before the appeal committee.
- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?
No
 - Additional details
Not applicable
- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?
No
 - Additional details
Not applicable
- Can penalty relief be obtained?
No
 - Additional details
There is none specified.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The term is five years.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no formal TP scrutiny yet – it is during the corporate income tax audit phase where the tax inspector will inspect the taxpayer's books and request to file the TP study during the corporate income tax inspection in case it's not filed before. And it will inform the Transfer Pricing department within the ETA for further review. Recently, the Transfer Pricing department has formally started issuing notices to the taxpayers having related party transactions but have not submitted the TP documentation. Considering the TP guidelines published on 23 October 2018, if a taxpayer does not submit adequate TP documentation, the ETA is likely to treat the taxpayer as a high-risk taxpayer, increasing the possibility of audit and a TP adjustment. Moreover, this could also shift the burden of proof on the taxpayer to contest the ETA's assessment position. Hence, taxpayers with related-party transactions should review the new guidelines and ensure the appropriate compliance under the revised guidelines.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

In case a valid TP analysis is performed with adequate justification on selection of the most appropriate method, it is unlikely to be challenged. If the tax authority has challenged the TP methodology, the possibility of an adjustment is high.

The median is used as the common practice.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

The scenarios listed below could trigger questionings or tax inspections:

- Change in business model
- Consistent loss-makers Sector-specific TP audit challenges
- Distribution businesses
- Services provided/received
- Manufacturing businesses

In practice, pharma sector taxpayers face greater audit challenges as compared to other sectors.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Unilateral APAs are available in Egypt. However, so far, no APA has been entered into by the ETA.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

There is none specified.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

There is none specified.

d. Is MAP available?

Yes

Under the new tax law, the maximum debt-to-equity ratio is 4:1. If the debt exceeds such ratio, the excess interest may not be claimed as a deductible expense. On 15 June 2023, the income tax law has been amended, the debt-to-equity ratio has become 4:1 for the taxable year 2023; 3:1 for the taxable years 2024 till 2027 and 2:1 from the taxable year 2028 onward.

There are the Articles 62-A, 124, 147, 199-A, 199-B, 199-C, 199-D and 244 of the Salvadoran Tax Code, as well as GO No. 001/ 2018, which is intended to provide general guidance to taxpayers about the tax treatment of related-party transactions or transactions with entities domiciled in tax haven jurisdictions. Taxpayers should prepare and maintain contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation annually within the first five months following the close of the financial year (i.e., by 31 May).

In addition, a transfer pricing informative return (Form F- 982) has to be prepared and filed within the first three months that follow the fiscal year-end.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing report and return must be prepared annually, updating all the information that allows a correct transfer pricing analysis. Use of the most recently available financial information for the comparables and the tested party is requested. In addition, the documentation is necessary for the external tax auditor to verify and reflect in the tax statutory report that said transactions comply with transfer pricing regulations. Under the rules of the Tax Code (TC), when a taxpayer has assets with a value exceeding USD1,142,857 or sales higher than USD571,429 during the previous fiscal year, it must appoint an external tax auditor (certified public accountant) to perform a statutory tax audit and file the resulting tax audit report (dictamen fiscal) within the first five months following the tax year that was audited (deadline of 31 May or, when applicable, the next business day). Subsection (f) of Section 135 of the TC includes an obligation for an external tax auditor to include a note in its report regarding transactions conducted by the taxpayer with its related parties or entities domiciled in tax haven jurisdictions, indicating whether the taxpayer complies with the transfer pricing legislation.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

No

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Not applicable
- Is there any other threshold?
Yes
Not applicable
- Additional details
For Form F 982, the threshold is USD571,429 on intercompany transactions, taking into account both P&L transactions (income or expenses) and balance accounts for the period being analyzed.
- CbCR
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?
Not applicable
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Not applicable
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
El Salvador has not implemented or included CbCR requirements.
- Master File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?
Not applicable
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Not applicable
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
El Salvador has not implemented or included Master File requirements.
- Local File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?
Not applicable
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Not applicable
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
El Salvador has not implemented or included Local File requirements.
- Economic analysis
 - Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?
No
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Not applicable
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
There is no materiality limit.
- c. Specific requirements
 - Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?
Yes
 - Additional details
The transfer pricing documentation needs to be submitted in the local language, per Article 333 of the Civil and Commerce Procedural Code.
 - Is a safe harbor available?
No

- Additional details

There are no specific requirements for preparing safe harbor availability.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

- Additional details

Individual testing of transactions is preferred, if possible.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

Section 124-A of the TC establishes an obligation for taxpayers to file an information return for transactions conducted with related parties (Form F- 982) within the first three months that follow the fiscal year-end, when these transactions (individually or in the aggregate) are equal to or exceed USD571,429 annually. To determine the threshold, it must take into account both P&L transactions (income or expenses) and balance accounts for the period being analyzed. Form F- 982 is to be filed separately from the income tax return.

- b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

Under the TC, when a taxpayer has assets with a value in excess of USD1,142,857 or sales higher than USD571,429 during the previous fiscal year, it is required to appoint an external tax auditor (certified public accountant) to perform a statutory tax audit and file the resulting tax audit report within the first five months following the tax year that was audited (deadline of 31 May or, when applicable, the next business day). Subsection (f) of Section 135 of the TC includes an obligation for an external tax auditor to include a note in its report regarding transactions conducted by the taxpayer with its related parties or with entities domiciled in tax-haven jurisdictions, indicating whether the taxpayer complied with the transfer pricing legislation.

- c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Usually, information of type of intercompany transactions, amount and name of the related party is included in the audited financial statements. This information must be consistent with the information disclosed in the rest of the TP disclosures of information.

- d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable

- e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

- a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

30 April

- Additional details

Submission/filing date: The documentation has to be filed on or before 30 April.

- b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

31 March

- Additional details

Submission/filing date: The transfer pricing return F 982 has to be filed on or before 31 March.

- c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

- d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By 31 May

- Additional details

Taxpayers should prepare and maintain contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation annually within the first five months following the close of the financial year (i.e., by 31 May).

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

The submission is to be done upon request of the tax authorities.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

There is no specific time range, but the tax authority usually grants 15 working days to submit the documentation once requested.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

The law does not regulate specific transfer pricing methods, but it establishes that the tax authorities are empowered to apply the market price method when adjusting prices. Additionally, the GO includes a reference to the OECD methodology as acceptable with the following methods: CUP, resale price, cost-plus, TNMM, profit-split and residual profit-split.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Considering the lack of financial information available on local comparables, international comparables are accepted by the tax authorities.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Multiyear testing is for the comparables only; in practice, the number of years is three.

The spreadsheet interquartile calculation is indicated in the GO.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

A fresh benchmarking study needs to be conducted every year. In practice, local tax authorities require use of the most recent available financial information for the comparables and the tested party.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

The weighted average is preferred for arm's-length analysis; in practice, three-year weighted average arm's-length ranges are frequently calculated.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

In case of late filing, failing to file, or incomplete or incorrect information is filed in the transfer pricing return, Section 244 literal (I) of the TC establishes a penalty of 0.5% of the taxpayer's equity (as reflected on the taxpayer's balance sheet), minus any surplus on the revaluation of assets, with a minimum of three monthly minimum wages. When there is no balance sheet, or it is not possible to determine the taxpayer's equity, a penalty of nine monthly minimum wages applies. In addition, if the documentation is not complete or does not allow full confirmation that all transactions comply with the arm's-length principle, the tax administration is empowered to adjust such transactions to the median of the interquartile range.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

▪ Are there any other penalties?

Failure to maintain transfer pricing documentation leads to a penalty of 2% of the taxpayer's equity, as reflected on the taxpayer's balance sheet, minus any surplus on the revaluation of assets. This is imposed when the taxpayer does not have supporting documentation or fails to comply with the obligation to maintain all documentation for 10 years for transactions conducted with related parties, and those with individuals or legal entities domiciled, incorporated or resident in tax haven jurisdictions. The said penalty cannot be less than nine monthly minimum wages. In case the external tax auditor fails to comply with the new requirement under Section 135 (f) of the TC, a penalty of five monthly minimum wages is established for the tax auditor, regardless of any other penalty that may be imposed by the local certified public accounting council for not complying with the responsibilities of the profession. Additionally, when the tax auditor's noncompliance is because the taxpayer failed to provide the information and documentation requested and required by the tax auditor, a penalty of 0.1% of the taxpayer's equity (as reflected on the taxpayer's balance sheet), minus surplus on the revaluation of assets, would be imposed on the taxpayer. The said penalty is at least four monthly minimum wages. In case of noncompliance with the filing obligation of the information return, Section 244 literal (I) of the TC establishes a penalty of 0.5% of the taxpayer's equity (as reflected on the taxpayer's balance sheet), minus any surplus on the revaluation of assets, with a minimum of three monthly minimum wages. When there is no balance sheet, or it is not possible to determine the taxpayer's equity, a penalty of nine monthly minimum wages applies.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

▪ Additional details

In the case of adjustments for underpayments either on income tax or value-added tax, depending on certain circumstances, penalties from 25% to 50% of the unpaid tax could be applicable. The penalties could not be less than USD568 or USD2,736, depending on the type of sanction applied.

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

▪ Additional details

In the case of adjustments for underpayments either on income tax or value-added tax, depending on certain circumstances, penalties from 25% to 50% of the unpaid tax could be applicable. The penalties could not be less than USD568 or USD2,736, depending on the type of sanction applied.

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

According to Section 261 of the TC, if there is voluntary disclosure and payment is received by the tax authorities before any notice of an examination, a 75% penalty reduction applies; if an examination is already ongoing, a 30% penalty reduction may still apply. After a tax audit, the tax authority (Reviewer Office) issues an audit report that contains the findings of the audit (e.g., potential tax adjustments, if any). The taxpayer has five days to file the initial “non-conformity” script and 10 additional days to file the corresponding proofs (15 working days in total). The tax authority will review the arguments and proofs filed, and issue a resolution. After the tax authority sends the letter of determination (its final resolution that contains the final tax adjustments and penalties in charge of the taxpayer), the taxpayer has 15 working days to file an appeal before the Administrative Board of Appeals (still at an administrative level). The appeals process has three phases (up to one to three years): the initial appeal script, the proofs phase and the final allegations phase. Once the Administrative Board issues its resolution, in case it is unfavorable for the taxpayer, the taxpayer can file a complaint script at a judicial level (within 60 working days from the date of notification of the final resolution).

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

Under the current legislation, and in particular under the rules of the TC, the ordinary statute of limitations is three years; however, when no tax return has been filed, the statute of limitations is extended to five years.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

In case transfer pricing is scrutinized, the possibility that the transfer pricing methodology will be challenged may be considered to be medium. In practice, the DGII consistently has been questioning the application of transfer pricing methods (i.e., the CUP method with internal comparables instead of the TNMM), the profit-level indicator and the use of comparables with losses, mainly. It's high, because in most audits, the DGII challenges either the methodology or the comparables. As part of every general tax audit, the tax authorities review compliance with transfer pricing regulations. Thus, the possibility that transfer pricing will be scrutinized as part of a general tax audit may be considered to be high.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, the consequences of a successful challenge can include an adjustment.

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

Yes. In the GO No. 001/ 2018 and as general practice, if the margin or price falls outside the range, the adjustment should be made to the median of such range.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

There is none specified.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

There is none specified.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Not applicable

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable

d. Is MAP available?

No

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

No

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislationa. Does PCbCR apply?

No

b. Name of authority

Not applicable

c. Name of regulations

Not applicable

d. Effective date of applicability

Not applicable

e. Section reference from local regulation

Not applicable

14. PCbCR thresholds and exemptionsa. What is the global consolidated income threshold?

Not applicable

b. Are there any materiality exemptions?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

15. Contenta. Does PCbCR align with OECD BEPS Action 13 CbCR requirements?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Is aggregation of transactions allowed?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Can you provide data sources and guidance?

Not applicable

16. Lodgment process and requirementsa. Is lodgment possible?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Is lodgment in another jurisdiction possible?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Is lodgment required in a prescribed form and format?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the lodgment deadline?

Not applicable

17. Penalties

a. What are the maximum administrative penalties?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Is there any risk of criminal prosecution?

Local File is covered.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

1 January 2007. New transfer pricing regulation came into force 1 January 2022.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

- Additional details

Specific local practice exists regarding financing transactions (loans, cash pool, etc.) where relying on BEPS Action 13 format will not be sufficient.

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation must be submitted upon request.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- details

Transfer pricing documentation must be updated annually with the most recent data per company or group, industry (if need be), as well as a functional analysis and Economic analysis, if changes have occurred, and benchmark studies.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Turnover

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

There is no materiality limit based on transaction value; however, transfer pricing documentation is applicable to:

A resident credit institution, insurance undertaking or a listed company

If one transaction party is a person situated in a non-cooperative jurisdiction for tax purposes

A resident legal person or a non-resident with a permanent establishment in Estonia meeting the following criteria: a. The number of employees (including associated persons) is at least 250; b. The turnover of the financial year together with associated persons (i.e., P/L statement turnovers of local entity and all associated persons combined) preceding the transaction was at least EUR50 million; c. The consolidated balance sheet total assets were at least EUR43 million.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

EUR750 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Consolidated revenues of the group in the previous fiscal year amounted to at least EUR750 million.

- Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

- Transfer pricing documentation, including Master File, is applicable to:
 - A resident credit institution, insurance undertaking or a listed company
 - If one transaction party is a person situated in a non-cooperative jurisdiction for tax purposes

A resident legal person or a non-resident with a permanent establishment in Estonia meeting the following criteria: a. The number of employees (including associated persons) is at least 250; b. The consolidated balance sheet total assets were at least EUR43 million.
 - Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?
 - Yes
 - Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation needs to be submitted in the local language (i.e., Estonian). It may also be prepared in English, but the tax authorities may require translation of certain parts of the documentation.
 - Is a safe harbor available?
 - No
 - Additional details
 - Not applicable
 - Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?
 - Individual testing
 - Additional details
 - There is none specified.
 - Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?
 - Yes

Taxpayers must, on quarterly basis, declare to the tax authorities all intragroup loans and other similar financing instruments (cash pools, deposits, overdrafts, etc.), except to immediate subsidiaries, within previous quarter, including provided and received amounts and actual received interest.
- #### 4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures
-
- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?
 - No
 - Additional details
 - Currently, Estonian tax laws do not require a separate return for related-party transactions.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

▪ Additional details

An annual report, including a description of transactions with related parties, must be filed within six months of the end of the relevant financial year. If a taxpayer has obligation to prepare transfer pricing documentation, such documentation must be completed for every financial year. Transfer pricing documentation does not have to be filed with the tax return or annual report.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

An annual report, including a description of transactions with related parties, must be filed within six months of the end of the relevant financial year.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

CbCR notification should be filed electronically on the tax authority's website (as a separate form and not as part of the tax return) or by email on an annual basis within six months after the end of the financial year for which the reporting is to be made

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

10th day of each month

▪ Additional details

It should be filed by the 10th day of each month. The CIT return is filed monthly as there is a monthly corporate income tax return.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

Within 12 months after financial year end

▪ Additional details

The filing deadline is 12 months after the end of the financial year for which reporting is to be made).

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

During six months after end of financial year

▪ Additional details

It should be filed within six months after the end of the financial year for which the reporting is to be made. There is a requirement for annual submission. Each local entity submits a separate CbCR notification.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By tax return lodgment date

▪ Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation should be finalized by the time of submitting upon request.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no statutory deadline for the submission of transfer pricing documentation, but it needs to be prepared annually.

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Taxpayers are obligated to submit transfer pricing documentation within 60 days of the tax authority's request.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

▪ Additional details

The Tax and Customs Board accepts CUP, resale price, cost-plus, profit-split and TNMM methods or, if necessary, any other suitable method. There is no hierarchy of methods; all are treated equally. However, if available, internal and Estonian domestic data is preferred for determining the arm's-length price.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Local benchmarks are preferred, but pan-European sets are acceptable.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

No. Commonly, multiyear analysis is performed.

Estonian legislation defines the arm's-length range as the interquartile range. Interquartile range formula is not specified, but commonly Excel quartile formula would be used.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

A benchmarking search must be up to date every year. A fresh benchmarking search must be performed every three years in case no major changes in the controlled transaction take place; otherwise yearly. An update of the benchmark study's financials must be performed yearly.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Not specified in transfer pricing regulation

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

If documentation is incomplete, the fine may be as high as EUR3,200.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

EUR3,300

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

EUR3,200

- Are there any other penalties?

If the required documentation or the relevant tax return is not submitted on time, the fine may be as high as EUR3,200. Failure to submit information to the tax authority intentionally, or submission of false information if the tax or withholding obligation is decreased thereby or the claim for refund is increased, is punishable by a fine of up to EUR32,000. When a taxpayer intentionally submits wrong information on its tax return that reduces the tax paid, a criminal penalty may be imposed, and the fine may be as high as EUR16 million.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

▪ Additional details

The income tax rate is 22% on the gross amount of the difference between the transfer price and arm's-length price (i.e., 22/78 of the net amount) and is payable even if a company has losses.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

▪ Additional details

EUR3,200. Additionally, the income tax rate is 22% on the gross amount of the difference between the transfer price and arm's-length price (i.e., 22/78 of the net amount) and is payable even if a company has losses.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

If tax is assessed, interest on the tax amount at the rate of 0.06% per day, up to the principal tax amount, will be imposed retroactively as of the date when the tax was supposed to be paid until actual payment (here, interest is subject to income tax at the rate of 22/78 as a non-business-related expense).

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

There is no penalty relief if a taxpayer has the necessary documentation, but the transfer price is determined to be at non-arm's length and there is an income tax adjustment. However, imposing a fine is probably more an exception than a rule. Interest for the delay of the tax payment is always assessed.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The statute of limitations for making an assessment of tax is three years. In the event of intentional failure to pay or withhold an amount of tax, the limitation period for making an assessment of tax is five years. The statute of limitations begins as of the due date of submission of the tax return that was either not submitted or contained information leading to an incorrect determination of the tax due.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

In case of intragroup loans, management and support services, restructurings, intellectual property transactions, large-amount transactions, and primary business transactions; it may be considered to be high in the case of large multinationals.

- b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

May be considered medium

- c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

No reference is available, but in practice the most favorable value in the interquartile range, i.e., either lower or upper quartile, has been accepted.

- d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Intragroup financing and management and support services are under critical scrutiny regardless of the industry and company. Additionally, primary business transactions of a company are always under critical scrutiny, as well as large-amount transactions and transactions involving intellectual property. On 1 January 2018, an amendment to the Income Tax Act came into force, obligating Estonian resident companies and nonresident companies with a permanent establishment in Estonia to prove at the request of the tax authorities that their intragroup loan granted to a shareholder, partner or member of the company (with a term exceeding 48 months) does not constitute hidden profit distribution. If the circumstances of a loan transaction indicate a hidden profit distribution, income tax at the rate of 22% (as of 2025, before 20%) on the loan amount shall apply (tax base is divided by 0.78 before multiplied by the tax rate). Tax authorities are required to allow the company at least 30 days to demonstrate their capacity and intention of collecting the loan.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

- a. Are APAs available?

Currently, Estonian tax laws do not provide an opportunity to conclude APAs.

- b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Not applicable

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable

d. Is MAP available?

Yes; however, no concrete procedure is established in the legislation. MAP has been applied in practice.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

Exceeding borrowing costs are taxable if they exceed EUR 3 million and 30% of EBITDA.

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

Yes

b. Name of authority

Tax and Customs Board

c. Name of regulations

Tax Information Exchange Act

d. Effective date of applicability

12 May 2024

e. Section reference from local regulation

Chapter 2² Automatic exchange of information on country-by-country reporting in European Union, § 20⁷.

14. PCbCR thresholds and exemptions

a. What is the global consolidated income threshold?

EUR750 million

b. Are there any materiality exemptions?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

15. Content

a. Does PCbCR align with OECD BEPS Action 13 CbCR requirements?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Is aggregation of transactions allowed?

No

- Additional details

c. Can you provide data sources and guidance?

Not applicable

16. Lodgment process and requirements

a. Is lodgment possible?

No

- Additional details

To be published by Tax and Customs Board on its website

b. Is lodgment in another jurisdiction possible?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Is lodgment required in a prescribed form and format?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the lodgment deadline?

On the 10th of the month following the month when data was provided

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Fiji Revenue and Customs Services (FRCS)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Legal Notice 11, Fiji Transfer Pricing Regulations 2012, has reference to TP.

c. Effective date of applicability

2012

d. Section reference from local regulation

Section 3 (Associates), subsection 2 of the Fiji Transfer Pricing Regulations, has reference to TP.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no specific requirement for domestic transactions.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

No

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Fiji is not a member of the OECD. The FRCS adopts the positions outlined in the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprise (MNE) and tax administrations, and it proposes following the OECD Guidelines in administering Fiji's TP rules. Consequently, the FRCS Guidelines supplement, rather than supersede, the OECD Guidelines, and the OECD Guidelines should be referred to if more detail is required.

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

A clarification from the FRCS is that it must be prepared contemporaneously.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

The minimum requirement to achieve this is a TP analysis or transfer pricing documentation of the foreign jurisdiction benchmarking documentation.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

There is none specified.
 - Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?
No
-
- #### 4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures
-
- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?
No
 - Additional details
There is no separate TP return required to be filed in Fiji.
 - b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?
Yes
 - Additional details
There are specific disclosure requirements in the tax returns namely “international related dealings” that need to be filled out.

Payments to non-residents, such as dividends, interest, management fees, “know-how” payments, royalties or contract payments made in some instances, the FRCS may require additional details before assessing an income tax return.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes, there is a requirement for such disclosure.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

31 March

▪ Additional details

The filing deadline is 31 March or three months after the financial year-end. Some returns are due on different dates within the year and they may have a three-, five- and six-month extension.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

31 March

▪ Additional details

The filing deadline for other TP disclosures and return is usually the fiscal year-end or the date of the extension. Transfer Pricing Documentation (TPD) is not filed but must be prepared on the due date of lodgment.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By tax return lodgment date

▪ Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation needs to be finalized by the time of lodging the tax return to achieve penalty protection (e.g., where there is a contemporaneous requirement). Dates depend on the fiscal year-ends. For example, for FYs ending 31 December, the deadline is usually at the end of the third month – i.e., March – of the following year, or at the date the FRCS provides for under the tax agent lodgment program

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation should be submitted each year, along with the tax return.

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The taxpayer has 14 days to submit the transfer pricing documentation once requested by the tax authorities, but an extension can be requested.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

The FRCS accepts the most reliable method or methods chosen from the following:

- CUP-Comparable Uncontrolled Price Method
- Resale price
- Cost-plus
- Profit-split
- TNMM-Transactional Net Margin Method

TNMM and the profit-split method are the most commonly used in Fiji.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

A local benchmarking can be used for benchmarking requirements in Fiji.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Multiyear analysis (five years) is a common practice.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

In recent TP audits, the interquartile range was used by the tax authorities.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no need to conduct a fresh benchmarking search every year, and financial updates are acceptable.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

The weighted average is a common practice.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

The FRCS, at most times, uses the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) industry benchmarking on profitability.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

In accordance with the Income Tax (Transfer Pricing) Regulations 2012, the following penalties apply: Failure to keep required transfer pricing documentation is an offense, and upon conviction, the person is liable for a fine of at least Fijian dollar (FJD)100,000.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

▪ Are there any other penalties?

In accordance with the Income Tax (Transfer Pricing) Regulations 2012, the following penalties apply: Failure to keep required transfer pricing documentation is an offense, and upon conviction, the person is liable for a fine of at least FJD100,000. In accordance with the Tax Administration Decree, the following penalties apply: For failing to keep, retain or maintain accounts, documents or records as required under a tax law:

- If the failure is knowingly or recklessly made, the taxpayer faces a penalty equal to 75% of the amount of tax payable for the tax period to which the failure relates.
- In any other case, the taxpayer faces a penalty equal to 20% of the amount of tax payable for the tax period to which the failure relates for making false or misleading statements
- If the statement or omission was made knowingly or recklessly, the taxpayer faces a penalty equal to 75% of the tax shortfall.
- In any other case, the taxpayer faces a penalty equal to 20% of the tax shortfall. The amount of penalty imposed under the abovementioned cases is increased by 10 percentage points if this is the second application of the penalties related to making false or misleading statements, and 25 percentage points if this is the third or a subsequent application.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Interest is charged on penalties. As for refunds, the market interest rate determined by the Reserve Bank of Fiji is applicable on refunds withheld by the FRCS.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

Shortfall penalties may be reduced by 10 percentage points if the person voluntarily discloses the shortfall prior to the earlier of:

- The discovery by the FRCS of the tax shortfall
- The commencement of an audit of the tax affairs of the taxpayer

Shortfall penalties may also be reduced if a taxpayer has a historically good compliance record.

- In the case of fraud, wilful neglect or serious omission by or on behalf of the taxpayer, at any time

or

- In any other case, within six years of the date the FRCS served the notice of assessment on the taxpayer

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

The FRCS has started to conduct comprehensive audits. However, recently trained officers now have started to conduct comprehensive audits. Tax audits are undertaken at the discretion of the FRCS. The FRCS selects audit targets based on certain criteria and risk profiling (called "red flags"), including:

- Company incurring ongoing losses
- Lower-than-expected profitability
- Dealings with associates in tax haven jurisdictions
- Dealings with associates in special-purpose tax haven jurisdictions – these jurisdictions have relatively high headline tax rates but offer significant tax savings for specified activities
- Those who offer special reduced tax rates for a particular activity
- Poor compliance processes and records
- Intragroup charges – e.g., management and technical fees
- Large royalty payments and excessive debt levels (i.e., interest payments)
- Transfer of intangibles
- Business restructurings

- b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

There is no specific statute of limitations applying only to TP assessments. Accordingly, the statute of limitations applying to all assessments will also apply to TP assessments. In accordance with the Tax Administration Decree, the amendment of a tax assessment may be made:

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

Not applicable

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Manufacturing and services, such as banking and insurance are more likely to be audited.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

APA provisions do not exist under the Income Tax (Transfer Pricing) Regulations 2012 however the Fiji Transfer Pricing Guideline 2012 which adopts the OECD Model around this area has enabled the FRCS and a multinational to achieve the only APA in Fiji. We understand that APA legal provisions will be considered in the future and only one company has entered into this back in 2013 and reviewed every five years.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Not applicable. Review every five years.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable

d. Is MAP available?

Yes, where a double tax treaty is involved.

An entity may have offshore borrowings up to FJD5 million per year without the prior approval of the Reserve Bank of Fiji. Foreign-owned companies may borrow locally any amount if a total debt-to-equity ratio of 3:1 is maintained. The total debt consists of local and offshore borrowings. Equity includes paid-up capital, shareholders' non-interest-bearing loans, retained earnings and subordinated interest-bearing loans.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Finnish Tax Administration

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

The relevant reference is the Act on the Tax Assessment Procedure, Sections 14a to 14e, 31, 32, 75 and 89. The previous Finnish transfer pricing rules entered into force on 1 January 2007. The current provisions concerning the Master and Local Files under BEPS Action 13, as well as the rules on CbCR, entered into force on 1 January 2017. The rules concerning CbCR apply, however, to financial years that began on or after 1 January 2016.

c. Effective date of applicability

1 January 2007

d. Section reference from local regulation

Act on the Tax Assessment Procedure, Section 14 and 31
Act on the Tax Assessment Procedure Section 31 amended effective from 1 January 2022: After the amendment, the income adjustment provision can be applied in the full scope of OECD Transfer Pricing guidelines, including determining the transaction according to its factual content (Subsection 2), and ignoring the transaction in exceptional circumstances, and if necessary, replace with another transaction (Subsection 3).

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no transfer pricing documentation obligation for domestic transactions. Arm's-length pricing should nevertheless also be applied in domestic transactions.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Finland is a member of the OECD. The Finnish transfer pricing regulations and tax practice in general follow the OECD Guidelines.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Finland has adopted BEPS Action 13 for transfer pricing documentation in its local regulations.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Finnish CbCR requirements apply if the group revenue exceeds EUR750 million in the financial year immediately preceding the reporting financial year.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2017.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Master File is covered in accordance with OECD recommendations.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

1 January 2017

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

- Coverage

Local File is covered in accordance with OECD recommendations.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

1 January 2017

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

- Additional details

However, it is possible that the penalties can be reduced or removed if the taxpayer presents supplementary transfer pricing documentation that supports the arm's-length nature of the intragroup transactions. Determination of penalties will be made on a case-by-case basis. According to a decision issued by the Finnish Supreme Administrative Court in 2014, penalties should not be assessed in transfer pricing cases where the taxpayer has adequately followed the arm's-length principle in intragroup pricing.

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

No

- Additional details

Sections 14a to 14e of the Act on the Tax Assessment

Procedure contain rules on the preparation of transfer pricing documentation. No contemporaneous documentation during the tax year would be required. The Finnish tax authorities have also issued separate guidelines concerning transfer pricing documentation. Finland has implemented the Master and Local File requirements as well as CbCR as proposed in BEPS Action 13.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

However, there is no annual obligation to submit transfer pricing documentation. The completed transfer pricing documentation should be submitted only if requested by the tax authorities. There are no specific, separate minimum requirements for how the documentation should be updated from year to year (the standard requirements apply).

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

No

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

The obligation to prepare transfer pricing documentation is stated in Section 14a of the Act on the Tax Assessment Procedure, and the transfer pricing documentation applies to the following entities:

A company that together with its group companies employs 250 people or more

A company that together with its group companies has a consolidated turnover of EUR50 million or more and consolidated net assets of EUR43 million or more

A company that does not qualify as a small or medium-sized enterprise as defined in the EU Commission Recommendation (2003/ 361/EC) concerning the definition of micro, small and medium-sized enterprises. The documentation requirements apply if one of the abovementioned criteria is fulfilled. The figures used in calculating the abovementioned criteria are figures for the consolidated group.

▪ CbCR

▪ What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

EUR750 million

▪ What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

▪ Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

Finnish CbCR requirements apply if the group revenue exceeds EUR750 million in the financial year immediately preceding the reporting financial year.

▪ Master File

▪ What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

EUR500,000

▪ What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Total international related-party transactions

▪ Is there any other threshold?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The obligation to prepare Master File documentation applies if one of the abovementioned criteria is fulfilled, and if the total value of the taxpayer's cross-border intercompany transactions with a related party during the fiscal year in question exceeds EUR500,000.

▪ Local File

▪ What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

Not applicable

▪ What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

▪ Is there any other threshold?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The obligation to prepare Local File documentation applies if one of the abovementioned criteria is fulfilled. Local File documentation needs to be prepared, although if the total value of intercompany transactions between two parties does not exceed EUR500,000, less-extensive documentation is allowed (functional analysis, comparability analysis and description of the transfer pricing method may be omitted).

▪ Economic analysis

▪ Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

Yes

▪ What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Total international related-party transactions

▪ Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

If the total value of intercompany transactions between two parties does not exceed EUR500,000, less-extensive documentation is allowed (Economic analysis may be omitted).

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation can be prepared in Finnish, Swedish or English. The Finnish Tax Administration can request a Finnish or Swedish translation in case the documentation is prepared in English. However, in practice this is not very common.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Unspecified

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

- Additional details

Individual testing is preferred.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

If a taxpayer (including a Finnish branch of a foreign company) is obligated to prepare the transfer pricing documentation in Finland, the Finnish tax authorities also require Form 78 to be completed and disclosed with the annual corporate income tax return. Information regarding cross-border intragroup transactions, which normally cannot be directly found in the company's financial statements, is reported on Form 78. However, information regarding the transfer pricing method applied is not reported in this form.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

There is none specified.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Not applicable

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

There is a separate process to be followed for filing the CbCR notification.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

30 April

- Additional details

The corporate income tax return has to be filed at the end of the fourth month after the end of the financial year (i.e., 30 April if the financial year ends on 31 December).

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

30 April

- Additional details

It is the same as the deadline for filing the corporate income tax return (i.e., 30 April if the financial year ends on 31 December).

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

60 days upon request

- Additional details

The deadline is 60 days upon request. However, there is no obligation to provide the Master File earlier than six months after the end of the accounting period.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

The CbC report should be submitted within one year from the end of the financial year (i.e., by 31 December 2021 for a financial year that ends on 31 December 2020).

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

CbCR notification should be submitted by the last day of the financial year of the ultimate parent entity. For example, if FY 2021 of the ultimate parent entity ends on 31 December 2021, the CbCR notification for that financial year should be submitted by 31 December 2021. Annual submission is required by all entities; however, one entity can submit the CbCR notification on behalf of all entities as long as all entities are listed on the form.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

Within six months after year-end

- Additional details

There is no specific deadline for the preparation of transfer pricing documentation (Master File and Local File), but a taxpayer should be prepared to provide the transfer pricing documentation within 60 days if requested by the tax authorities. However, a taxpayer is not obligated to provide the transfer pricing documentation earlier than six months after the end of the accounting period.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

There is no statutory requirement to submit transfer pricing documentation to the tax administration every year.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

A taxpayer must deliver the transfer pricing documents within 60 days upon request. However, a taxpayer is not obligated to provide the transfer pricing documentation earlier than six months after the end of the accounting period.

6. Transfer Pricing methodsa. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

Taxpayers may choose any of the OECD transfer pricing methods, as long as the chosen method or a combination of the chosen methods results in arm's-length pricing. In its selection of the most suitable method, a taxpayer should consider the aspects regarding the application of methods as stated in the OECD Guidelines.

7. Benchmarking Requirementsa. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There are no specific regulations governing the preparation of benchmarking studies, but the preference is for local or Nordic comparables. Pan-European comparables are, however, generally accepted in local tax practice.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Multiyear (e.g., three-year) analysis is followed, as per common practice.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

Both EY and spreadsheet quartiles are used, as per common practice. Finland follows the OECD Guidelines and IQR range is preferred.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no requirement to conduct a fresh benchmarking search every year.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

No preference is stipulated by law. However, the Finnish Tax Administration has used weighted average in their guidance.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

A tax penalty of up to EUR25,000 can be imposed for failure to comply with the transfer pricing documentation requirements, even if the pricing of intragroup transactions has been at arm's length.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

A tax penalty of up to EUR25,000 can be imposed for failure to comply with the transfer pricing documentation requirements.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

A tax penalty of up to EUR25,000 can be imposed for failure to comply with the transfer pricing documentation requirements, even if the pricing of intragroup transactions has been at arm's length.

▪ Are there any other penalties?

A tax penalty of up to EUR25,000 can be imposed for failure to comply with the transfer pricing documentation requirements, even if the pricing of intragroup transactions has been at arm's length.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

▪ Additional details

A tax penalty of up to EUR25,000 can be imposed for failure to comply with the transfer pricing documentation requirements, even if the pricing of intragroup transactions has been at arm's length.

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

▪ Additional details

A tax penalty of up to EUR25,000 can be imposed for failure to comply with the transfer pricing documentation requirements, even if the pricing of intragroup transactions has been at arm's length.

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

Yes

▪ Additional details

If the income of the taxpayer is adjusted upward, the resulting additional tax liability will incur interest at two different rates. A lower rate of interest, adjusted annually (6.5% in 2025), is calculated until approximately 10 months after the end of the financial year. An interest at a higher rate (11.5% in 2025) applies from approximately 10 months after the end of the financial year until the due date of the additional tax liability resulting from the adjustment. Somewhat different rules apply to the calculation of interest for the tax assessment for years preceding 2017. The rate of interest payable on tax refunds varies annually and is 2.5% in 2025.

▪ Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

▪ Additional details

It is possible that the penalties can be reduced or removed if the taxpayer presents supplementary transfer pricing documentation that supports the arm's-length nature of the intragroup transactions. Determination of penalties will be made on a case-by-case basis. According to a decision issued by the Finnish Supreme Administrative Court in 2014, penalties should not be assessed in transfer pricing cases where the taxpayer has adequately tried to follow the arm's-length principle in its intragroup pricing. The following dispute resolution options are available if an adjustment is proposed by the tax authority:

▪ The taxpayer can initiate an MAP procedure to remove the double taxation.

▪ The taxpayer can also appeal the tax assessment decision.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The time limit for the adjustment of income, due to the failure to apply arm's-length principle to the pricing of a transaction, is six years after the end of the calendar year during which the financial statement was closed. This statute of limitations applies to financial years that ended on or after 1 January 2017. The previous rules were, in this regard, identical.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

As transfer pricing is one of the key topics of the tax authorities, the possibility of a challenge to the transfer pricing methodology should be moderate, provided that the transactions are reflecting the commercial rationale and the pricing models follow the OECD recommendations.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

It is very typical that a reassessment will be imposed by the tax office if a challenge is made during a tax audit.

There are no specific regulations; however, based on Supreme Administrative Court decision, any point in the interquartile range should be sufficient.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Transactions involving transfer of intellectual property rights and business restructurings are likely to undergo audit.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

It is possible to apply for an APA with the Finnish Tax Administration. There is, however, no formal APA program available in Finland. Unilateral, bilateral and multilateral APAs are available.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

APAs are concluded for a fixed term, but there are no formal rules concerning the term in Finland.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

There is none specified.

d. Is MAP available?

Yes, taxpayers may request a MAP if taxation has or is likely to occur that is not in accordance with the provisions of a double taxation treaty (DTT) to which Finland is signatory. Most of Finland's DTTs permit taxpayers to present their case to the tax authority or the Ministry of Finance within three years from the first notification to the taxpayer of the actions giving rise to taxation not in accordance with the DTT. However, time limits may vary, and the relevant DTT should be consulted for the applicable time limit. Taxpayers have three years to present a case to the tax authority under the EU Arbitration Convention (90/436/EEC).

There are no thin capitalization rules; as such, interest limitation rules have been implemented instead. As of the financial year 2019, new rules concerning interest deductibility have become applicable. Broadly, the deductibility of a company's net financing expenses is limited to 25% of that company's adjusted taxable income. The adjusted taxable income is described as "taxable earnings before interest, tax and depreciation (EBITD)" and is calculated as taxable income including group contributions received and adding back interest expenses, group contributions paid and tax depreciations. The interest deduction limitation is applied only if the net interest expense exceeds EUR500,000. Non-related-party net interest expense is deductible up to EUR3 million and is deducted primarily as part of the 25% tax EBITD quota. The amended Act on the Tax Assessment Procedure Section 31, aligned with the OECD Guidelines, could in practice provide the Finnish Tax Administration the power to delineate the actual transaction according to its economic substance despite its legal form, which was not allowed under the previous TP adjustment provision. In practice, this may give the Finnish Tax Administration the power to determine by virtue of transfer pricing provisions whether a purported loan should be regarded as a loan and to which extent or regarded as some other kind of payment, in particular a contribution to equity capital.

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

Yes

b. Name of authority

Patent and Registration Office

c. Name of regulations

Accounting Act, Chapter 7 b

d. Effective date of applicability

1 June 2024. The regulations are applied to the fiscal years starting from 22 June 2024.

e. Section reference from local regulation

Accounting Act, Chapter 7 b (1 § - 11 §)

14. PCbCR thresholds and exemptions

a. What is the global consolidated income threshold?

Finnish PCbCR requirements apply if the group revenue exceeds EUR750 million in the reporting financial year and in the financial year immediately preceding the reporting financial year.

b. Are there any materiality exemptions?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

15. Content

a. Does PCbCR align with OECD BEPS Action 13 CbCR requirements?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Finnish PCbCR requirements apply if the group revenue exceeds EUR750 million in the reporting financial year and in the financial year immediately preceding the reporting financial year.

b. Is aggregation of transactions allowed?

Yes

▪ Additional details

In Finland, aggregation of transactions is allowed under the Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) regulations. The reporting is conducted on a country-by-country basis (aggregated information of all entities in one country).

c. Can you provide data sources and guidance?

The Accounting Act, Chapter 7 b, available at (in Finnish):

<https://finlex.fi/en/legislation/1997/1336>

Government Degree, TEM/2024/79, available at (in Finnish):

16. Lodgment process and requirements

a. Is lodgment possible?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

b. Is lodgment in another jurisdiction possible?

Yes

- Additional details

The main rule is that the Finnish company or Finnish permanent establishment of a foreign company must lodge the Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) notification and report in Finland. The report should be also published in the company webpage. However, the main rule does not apply if a company outside the European Economic Area or, if it is not independent, its ultimate parent company located outside the European Economic Area publishes a tax report within 12 months from the balance sheet date, which must:

- I. Include the information required from the tax report in this chapter, as well as the name and domicile of the Finnish company or branch in Finland that has published the report as identifying information.
- II. Be available free of charge in at least one of the official languages of the European Union and in a machine-readable electronic reporting format.

c. Is lodgment required in a prescribed form and format?

Yes

- Additional details

The Public CbCR report must be prepared in accordance with the model and follow the electronic reporting format stipulated by the Commission implementing regulation issued under Article 48c(4) of the Accounting Directive.

d. What is the lodgment deadline?

The Public CbCR report must be prepared and published within one year from the end of the financial year.

member, or the member of the similar body, and the CEO, to submit the Report for registration within the specified timeframe. The imposition of a conditional fine is regulated by the Conditional Fines Act.

If, despite the above-mentioned request, the Report has not been submitted for registration within one year from the end of the financial year, the Finnish Patent and Registration Office shall order the ultimate parent company or the subsidiary to be placed into liquidation or removed from the Trade Register or the branch to be removed from the Trade Register.

If the registration of the Report is intentionally or through gross negligence neglected within the time limit, shall the person specified above be sentenced to a fine for the violation of the registration of the report, unless a more severe penalty is provided elsewhere in the law.

No penalty shall be imposed if the violation is minor.

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Is there any risk of criminal prosecution?

No

- Additional details

If the registration of the report is intentionally or through gross negligence neglected within the time limit, shall the person specified above be sentenced to a fine for the violation of the registration of the report, unless a more severe penalty is provided elsewhere in the law.

No penalty shall be imposed if the violation is minor.

17. Penalties

a. What are the maximum administrative penalties?

If the obligation to register the PCbCR report is not fulfilled, the Patent and Registration Office may require the board

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

French tax authorities (FTA) (Direction Générale des Finances Publiques, or DGFIP; formerly, Direction Générale des Impôts, or DGI)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

The regulations or rulings related to TP in the French Tax Code (FTC) are found in the following articles (applicable for several years but revised regularly):

- Article 57: arm's-length principle
- Article 223 quinquies B: annual declaration of related-party transactions
- Article 223 quinquies C: CbC Reporting
- Article 238A: the reversal of the burden of proof in the case of transactions with tax haven (entities taxed at less than half the taxation they would have had if they were French tax residents)
- Article 209B: CFC regulation
- Articles 212-I and 39-1 3: part of the thin capitalization legislation (applied in the context of intragroup financing arrangements such as intragroup interest payments or intragroup debt)
- Article 1735 ter: TP documentation penalty regime
- Article 1729F: CbCR penalties
- The regulations or rulings related to TP in the French Procedural Tax Code (FPTC) are found in the following articles:
 - Articles L 13 AA and L 13 AB: TP documentation requirements applicable to certain taxpayers
 - Article R 13 AA-1: additional guidance on how to apply Article L 13 AA
 - Article L 13 B: general TP documentation requirements for all taxpayers during a tax audit (this reverses the burden of proof from the tax authority on to the taxpayer and can only be applied if certain conditions are met)
 - Article L 10: general information requests during a tax audit

c. Effective date of applicability

No date specified

d. Section reference from local regulation

FTC Article 39-12 has reference to TP documentation.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no documentation obligation for domestic transactions. However, this does not exclude domestic transactions from potential scrutiny during tax audit.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

France is a member of the OECD and concluded an extensive network of double tax agreements (DTAs) with foreign jurisdictions based on the OECD Model Tax Convention. The FTA generally considers the French TP regulations to be consistent with the OECD Guidelines and is following the BEPS developments closely (certain BEPS initiatives have been introduced into law). However, court cases deny the applicability of certain TP principles when they were released after the conclusion of the DTA between France and the foreign jurisdiction. This is notably the case for the provision related to the authorized OECD approach from the OECD PE report in relation to allocation of capital.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

- Additional details

France has adopted BEPS Action 13. CbCR requirements were adopted for financial years starting on or after 1 January 2016, whereas Master File and Local File requirements were adopted for financial years starting on or after 1 January 2018 (previous contemporaneous documentation format was based on the EUJTPF recommendation).
- Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

 - Coverage

The threshold is EUR750 million consolidated revenue.
 - Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2016.
 - Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format
- Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

 - Coverage

Master File is covered.
 - Effective or expected date of commencement

Master Files are covered for financial years starting on or after 1 January 2018. However, for the years prior to 2018, another format was already required and had to be updated contemporaneously.
 - Material differences from OECD report template or format

The decree that complements Article L 13 AA (i.e., the French TP documentation requirements) added the following elements to the OECD's BEPS Action 13 recommendations: The Master File has to be made available in electronic format. All financial data contained in the Master File have to be made available in an electronic format that allows the FTA to verify the calculations (e.g., in spreadsheet). A specific format, in terms of section headings and the order of the sections, is specified, but the overall content required to be included in Master Files is consistent with the OECD's BEPS Action 13 recommendations.
- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

 - Coverage

Local File is covered.
 - Effective or expected date of commencement

Local Files are covered for financial years starting on or after 1 January 2018. However, for the years prior to 2018, another format was already required and had to be updated contemporaneously.
 - Material differences from OECD report template or format

The decree that complements Article L 13 AA (i.e., the French TP documentation requirements) added the following elements to the OECD's BEPS Action 13 recommendations: The Local File has to be made available in electronic format. All financial data contained in the Local File have to be made available in an electronic format that allows the FTA to verify the calculations (e.g., in spreadsheet). A specific format, in terms of section headings and the order of the sections, is specified, but the overall content required to be included in Local Files is consistent with the OECD's BEPS Action 13 recommendations. The entity's financial information in the Local File needs to be sourced from the French statutory accounts, and the corresponding account numbers need to be provided in the Local File. The local entity must provide the reconciliation between management accounts used for TP purposes and statutory accounts. The reconciliation makes the link between the costs as booked in the General Ledger, the allocation to the appropriate "service/product," then the calculation of the margin and the corresponding revenue booked as reported in the General Ledger. This requirement is very restrictive for taxpayers and more burdensome than what is required in the OECD Guidelines given the need to fully reconcile the statutory profit and loss (P&L) and the calculations of transfer prices.
- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

Yes

- Additional details

A BEPS Action 13 format report should be sufficient to achieve penalty protection, but financial data contained in the report need to be provided in electronic format. In addition, the financial reconciliation required between management accounts used for TP purposes and statutory accounts should be provided in the Local File.

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

TP documentation needs to be contemporaneous, and must only be submitted in the event of a tax audit.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

TP documentation needs to be prepared and updated annually under local jurisdiction regulations. For financial years starting on or after 1 January 2018, the OECD's BEPS Action 13 recommendations (Master File and Local File) apply with some specific add-ons on financial data reconciliation. However, comparable searches only need full updating every three years under the condition that no material changes occurred during that period. Still an annual update of the financials of the comparables is required.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Turnover

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

Total gross assets

- Additional details

Taxpayers that fulfill at least one of the following conditions need to prepare TP documentation compliant with Article L 13 AA of the FPTC:

Entities that generate (at statutory level) more than EUR400 million of turnover or have at least EUR150 million of gross assets on the balance sheet at the end of the year

Entities that are owned, directly or indirectly, by an entity that passes this EUR150 million threshold

Entities that own, directly or indirectly, an entity that passes this EUR150 million threshold.

For the Transfer Pricing Statement (Article 223 quinquies B, below are the further details), the abovementioned threshold of EUR400 million is lowered to EUR50 million.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

EUR750 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Other
- Is there any other threshold?
No
- Additional details
The threshold is EUR750 million consolidated revenue.
- Master File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?
 - - Until FYE 2023: EUR400 million
 - - As from FYE 2024: EUR150 million

The threshold has to be met by the company or any company part of the same group.
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Annual global income
 - Is there any other threshold?
Yes
Total gross assets
 - Additional details
Prior to 2018, another format was applicable. For financial years starting on or after 1 January 2018, Article L 13 AA of the FPTC was amended to reflect the outcome of BEPS Action 13, i.e., the adoption of the Master File (or Local File) approach to TP documentation.
- Local File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?
 - Until FYE 2023: EUR400 million
 - As from FYE 2024: EUR150 million

The threshold has to be met by the company or any company part of the same group.
- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Annual global income
- Is there any other threshold?
Yes
Total gross assets
- Additional details
Prior to 2018, another format was applicable. For financial years starting on or after 1 January 2018, Article L 13 AA of the FPTC was amended to reflect the outcome of BEPS Action 13, i.e., the adoption of the Local File (or Master File) approach to TP documentation.
- Economic analysis
 - Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?
Yes
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Other
Any transaction type that exceeds EUR100,000 must be analyzed.
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
There is no materiality limit prior to 2018.

For financial years starting on or after 1 January 2018, only the “most important intra-group transactions” need to be benchmarked. A separate decree, published in July 2018, specifies that the “most important intra-group transactions” are cross-border intragroup transactions that exceed EUR100,000 by type of transactions. A “type of transaction” is, for example, tangible goods purchase, tangible goods sale, service provision, trademark royalty, IT license, sale of a tangible asset or purchase of an intangible asset.

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

The TP documentation does not need to be submitted in the local language, and English-language reports are commonly provided to the FTA. However, the FTA does have the power to demand a translation into French of all or parts of the documentation.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Yes

- Additional details

The only safe harbor available in France relates to intragroup lending; a French borrower that pays a rate that is equal to or lower than the “legal rate” will not be questioned or reassessed on that interest rate. The legal rate is published quarterly by the FTA and is a variable rate based on data communicated by French banks to the FTA on interest rates these banks provide to borrowers on loans of at least two-year maturity. This legal rate is, thus, a variable rate.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

Yes

The local entity must provide in the Local File the reconciliation between management accounts used for TP purposes and statutory accounts.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

Transfer Pricing Statement CERFA 2257-SD (Article 223 quinquies B) needs to be submitted as part of the taxpayer annual CIT return. In any way, this form needs to be submitted electronically at the latest within six months after the legal deadline for submitting the CIT return itself. The threshold for entities having to lodge a TP form is the same as for Master File and Local File but lowered from EUR150 million to EUR 50million.

- b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

The TP documentation (i.e., required by either Article L 13 AA or Article L 13B) only needs to be provided upon request during a tax audit. The Transfer Pricing Statement (required by Article 223 quinquies B) needs to be submitted as part of the taxpayer’s annual tax return (CERFA Form 2257-SD). In any way, this form needs to be submitted at the latest within six months after the legal deadline for submitting the tax return itself. Filing has to be done electronically and in French. The threshold for entities having to lodge a Transfer Pricing Statement is lowered from EUR150 million to EUR50 million, but only cross-border intra-group transactions exceeding a threshold of EUR100,000 per type of transaction need to be disclosed on this tax return form. CbCR disclosures or notifications are required by Article 223 quinquies C.

- c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Not applicable

- d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Yes, this is applicable only if the UPE or the SPE is not located in a jurisdiction that has adopted CbCR requirements and has not signed the automatic exchange of information protocol.

- e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

30 April

- Additional details

Generally, the deadline is three months after the financial year-end; a minor extension is granted for companies closing on 31 December (end of April or beginning of May).

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

30 April

- Additional details

The Transfer Pricing Statement (Cerfa Form 2257-SD) needs to be submitted with the tax return or not after six months of the legal deadline for submitting the tax return itself.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Upon request in case of tax audit

- Additional details

- Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared)

The Master File should be prepared before the fiscal year it relates to could be tax audited.

- Submission/filing date

The Master File must be provided to the tax auditor upon request, at the moment a tax audit is engaged. If not provided upon request, the taxpayer has 30 days after formal request. This can, under very strict situations, be extended to up to 60 days, but the decision to allow such an extension is at the discretion of the tax inspector and rarely granted in practice

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

- CbCR for locally headquartered companies

Between the closing of the FY and before the deadline for filing

- Submission/filing date

It should be submitted within 12 months after the end of the financial year.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

The deadline is the same time as submitting the tax return, i.e., generally, it is three months after the financial year-end for companies closing on 31 December (end of April or beginning of May). The annual submission is required. It can be filed either by the parent company or by a designated entity instead.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By time of tax audit

- Additional details

TP documentation needs to be provided only upon request in the case of a tax audit. However, as the taxpayer has only 30 days to provide its TP documentation after having received such a request, proactive preparation is recommended. The Master File and Local File should be ready at the time of filing the CIT return.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

There is no statutory deadline for the submission of TP documentation; it only needs to be finalized by the time it is submitted upon request.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The Local File should be provided under very strict situations upon request in case of a tax audit. If not provided upon request, the taxpayer has 30 days after the formal request. This can potentially be extended up to 60 days, but the decision to allow such an extension is at the discretion of the tax inspector.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

- a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

- Additional details

FTA accepts the following methods: CUP, resale price, cost-plus, profit-split and TNMM. The CUP method is considered as the most reliable method when it can be applied. Other methods may be accepted by the tax authorities if justified and if the remuneration is compliant with the arm's-length principle.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

- a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Yes

French comparables are preferred when the tested party is French. However, pan-European comparables are sufficient for TP documentation penalty protection.

- b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

No

Multiple-year testing (three years) is preferred.

The spreadsheet quartile range is preferred.

- d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no need to conduct a fresh benchmarking search every year. French administrative guidance allows for fully updating the benchmarking studies every three years instead of annually on the condition that no material changes occurred during the period. However, inspectors tend to ask for an annual refresh of the financial information (i.e., the addition of the most recent available financial information) when comparables' searches have not been updated.

- e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

The weighted average is generally used for arm's-length analysis.

- f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

The independence of comparables is required by law. Independence is either a question of law (exceeding 50% of ownership) or fact (whether one management's decision can be influenced by the other entity).

8. TP Penalties and Relief

- a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Companies that are caught by Article L 13 AA but fail to meet their transfer pricing documentation requirements expose themselves to a penalty that is the greater of:

A minimum of EUR10,000 for each fiscal year concerned prior to 2024, and EUR50,000 for each fiscal year concerned as from 2024.

- 5% of the additional corporate income tax payable as a consequence of a transfer pricing reassessment
- 0.5% of the amount of non-documented transactions

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

EUR100,000

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

The greater of:

A minimum of EUR10,000 for each fiscal year concerned prior to 2024, and EUR50,000 for each fiscal year concerned as from 2024.

- 5% of the additional corporate income tax payable as a consequence of a transfer pricing reassessment
- 0.5% of the amount of non-documented transactions

- Are there any other penalties?

Penalties specific to the failure to comply with the TP documentation requirements apply in addition to the fiscal penalties generally applied as a consequence of a TP reassessment. TP reassessments from the FTA trigger an adjustment of the taxable profit for corporate income tax purposes (and other taxes depending on the case). Specific TP penalties apply when the taxpayer fails to answer the tax authorities' request for documentation either on the basis of Article L 13B of the FPTC (which relates to general TP documentation requirements if the FTA can provide evidence of a TP issue before it applies this article) or on the basis of Articles L 13AA and L 13AB of the FPTC (which relate to special TP documentation requirements). The failure to provide complete information in the framework of Article L 13B of the FPTC may result in: A reassessment of the company's taxable profit based on information the tax authorities possess

- The failure to provide sufficient TP documentation under the framework of Articles L 13AA and L 13AB of the FPTC will trigger penalties. Such TP documentation-related penalties are the highest of the following amounts:
- A minimum of EUR10,000, or EUR50,000 as from 2024 FY, per entity and per period not documented
- A 0.5% charge of the volume of transactions that were not documented

Or

- A 5% charge of the reassessments based on Article 57 of the FTC (arm's-length principle)

The failure to submit a Transfer Pricing Statement as required by Article 223 quinquies B of the FTC or make erroneous statements on this tax return form (Form 2257-SD) will trigger penalties as follows:

- EUR150 if the Transfer Pricing Statement is not submitted

Or

- EUR15 per error with a minimum penalty of EUR60 and a maximum penalty of EUR10,000

The failure to submit a Transfer Pricing Statement will increase the risk of a tax audit as the FTA uses this tax return form as a risk assessment tool. The failure to comply with the legal CbCR requirements (i.e., Article 223 quinquies C of the FTC) will trigger a penalty of maximum EUR100,000.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

Penalties generally applied as a result of a TP reassessment regardless of compliance with TP documentation requirements are as follows:

- After a TP reassessment is made, the additional profit is qualified as a deemed distribution of a benefit. The tax treatment of such "benefit" transfer may trigger the same consequences as a deemed transfer of a dividend, depending on the definition of "dividend" in the applicable tax treaty. Accordingly, a withholding tax on the reassessed amounts is imposed by the FTA when the applicable tax treaty allows for imposing withholding taxes. When the double tax treaty permits the FTA to treat the TP reassessment as a deemed dividend distribution, the actual withholding tax applied depends on the relevant tax treaty provisions. In the absence of a specific tax treaty, the withholding tax rate applied is 30% and increases to 75% when the foreign entity is based in a "non-cooperative" jurisdiction. Note that the effective rate will be the grossed-up rate
- If the transfer is treated as a deemed dividend, the tax authorities also usually apply a 10% penalty for not declaring the withholding tax. Such penalty is applied regardless of the good faith of the taxpayer.
- However, if certain cumulative conditions are met, at the request of the taxpayer, the withholding taxes may be waived. These cumulative conditions are enshrined in Article L 62 A of the FPTC but basically require that the taxpayer files, before the FTA issues the tax bill, a written request to apply Article L 62 A and that the amounts classified as deemed dividends are repatriated to the benefit of the French taxpayer within 60 days from the request. However, the taxpayer cannot have recourse to Article L 62 A if the non-French related party that entered into the reassessed transaction with the French entity is located in a non-cooperative state or territory.

- Supplementary penalties apply if the taxpayer committed a willful offense (formerly referred to as “bad faith” penalties) (40%) – this is much more frequently applied by the tax authorities – or acted fraudulently (80%). When these penalties are definitive (i.e., where any resources are statute barred, where the penalties have been accepted, or if the penalties have been definitively confirmed by a Court decision), taxpayers can be denied recourse to the European Union Arbitration Convention and often also from MAPs through the applicable double tax treaty (possibly subject to discussion, however, depending on treaty provisions). The competent authorities may also decide to hold on the MAP recourse during the litigation concerning these penalties. It should be noted that the assessment of a TP documentation penalty under Article L 13AA (TP documentation penalty regime) does not prevent the taxpayer from seeking recourse under MAP provisions. In addition, the adjustment may result in a reassessment of other taxes and contributions, such as business or local taxes and employee profit-sharing regimes.

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

▪ Additional details

Late interest payments are applied in the case of tax reassessments made on the grounds of Article 57 of the FTC. The ordinary late payment interest rate is 0.4% per month (i.e., 4.8% per year), reduced to 0.2% for periods starting on or after 1 January 2018. In other words, when a late payment interest calculation bridges a period that included months prior to and after 1 January 2018, 0.4% is applied to the months prior to 1 January 2018 and 0.2% for periods after 1 January 2018. Tax reimbursements that may be made by the French Government as a consequence of a MAP do not attract interest.

▪ Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

▪ Additional details

During a tax audit and before the tax authorities send the notice of reassessment, taxpayers, under the framework of Article L 62 of the FPTC, are allowed to correct their errors or omissions in consideration of a reduced late-payment interest rate (3.36% per year), which is equal to 70% of the ordinary late-payment interest rate. In this respect, taxpayers must file a complementary tax return and pay the corresponding additional taxes at the same time. The taxpayer can contest penalties for willful offense (40%) or penalties for fraudulent activities (80%) in court if such penalties are maintained at the end of the usual tax audit procedures.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The statute of limitations for TP adjustments is the same as for all French corporate tax assessments, which is generally three years following the year for which the tax is due. For example, a financial year that closed on 31 December 2017 will be statute-barred by 31 December 2020. Similarly, a financial year that closed on 31 March 2017 will also be statute-barred by 31 December 2020 (i.e., calendar-year principle applies). If no reassessment notice has been received by the taxpayer by 31 December 2020 at the latest, the year 2017 will be statute-barred. However, carry-forward losses can be audited as long as they are carried forward. But if the losses occurred in periods being statute-barred, the FTA could only reassess up to the amount of the losses in those statute-barred years – i.e., they could not reassess additional taxable income in those statute-barred years and, at maximum, cancel the losses. If the FTA request international tax assistance (Article L 188A of the FPTC) – administrative assistance procedures between tax authorities of different countries – the statute of limitations is extended up to three additional years in order to give the non-French authorities the time to respond and the FTA the time to take into account this response in their analyses. The general three-year statute of limitations can also be extended in specific cases, such as when an asset (e.g., going-concern and clientele) was transferred but not declared at the time of transfer (extension from three to six years in this particular case). An effective extension to 10 years applies in cases where permanent establishments are deemed to exist by the FTA and where the non-French entity never declared any taxable activities in France to the FTA.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

As taxpayers that have been audited once usually enter a recurring three or four-year audit cycle and transfer prices will always be analyzed, to a greater or lesser extent, during tax audit.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

As it is rare that a French tax inspector would invest the time and effort to investigate transfer prices in detail without at least trying to reassess. No French tax inspector would ever challenge a TP methodology without coming to the conclusion that this challenge is based on the assertion that the French taxable base was too low. However, amounts are often subject to discussion on recourses post-tax audit during the pre-litigation phase. France still has an active litigation activity on TP with several cases reviewed by courts and several decisions rendered.

There is no particular legal requirement for applying a precise point in the IQR. The case law is not stabilized yet, some decisions allowing the use of the full IQR while other allow the tax administration to adjust to the median.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Loss situations are highly scrutinized and the reason for opening tax audits and starting discussion on TP from the beginning of the tax audit in many cases. In recent years, US-headquartered technology companies have been subject to highly publicized (in newspapers, for instance) tax police raids and tax audits. Also, intra-group financial transactions, in particular with Luxembourg, have been heavily scrutinized in the past three to four years. But, as a general comment, all types of intra-group transactions (e.g., management fees and royalties or licenses) are subject to scrutiny.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Yes.

Bilateral, multilateral and, subject to certain well-defined conditions, unilateral APAs are available (Article L 80 B 7° of the FPTC).

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

APAs have a fixed term of three or five years. An APA submission, i.e., an official request to be allowed into the APA program, needs to be lodged at the latest six months before the start of the first year the APA would apply. For example, for a 1 January 2026 start of the APA, the APA submission would need to be lodged by 30 June 2025 at the latest. No administrative fees are required to be paid to the French authorities for entering into an APA.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Roll-back can be requested in France since 2025. It will be assessed and granted by the tax administration on a case by case analysis.

d. Is MAP available?

Yes.

Taxpayers may request an MAP if taxation has or is likely to occur that is not in accordance with the provisions of a double taxation treaty (DTT) to which France is a signatory. Most of France's DTTs permit taxpayers to present their cases to the tax authority within three years from the first notification to the taxpayers of the actions giving rise to taxation not in accordance with the DTT. However, time limits may vary; the relevant DTT should be consulted for the applicable time limit. Taxpayers have three years to present a case to the tax authority under the EU Arbitration Convention (90/ 436/EEC) or the 2017/1852 EU Directive. The DTT modified by the MLI have also set the applicable time limit for filing to three years.

In an effort to comply with the European Union (EU) Anti-Tax Avoidance Directive (ATAD), major changes to the current French interest deductibility limitation rules have been implemented to Fiscal Years open as from 1 January 2019:

New general limitation: Net interest expenses are deductible from the taxable income of a company only to the extent that they do not exceed the higher of the two following thresholds: (i) EUR3 million or (ii) 30% of the adjusted taxable income of the company (i.e., corresponding to the taxable income before the offset of tax losses and without taking into consideration net financial expenses and – to some extent – depreciation, provisions and capital gains or losses), altogether referred to as the “regular threshold.” Debt-to-equity ratio: Should the company be thinly capitalized and exceed a specific 1.5:1 debt-to-equity ratio, a portion of the net interest expense, determined by application of the following ratio to the net interest expense, is subject to the regular threshold:

- Average amount of indebtedness toward unrelated parties + [1.5 x equity] (numerator)
- Average amount of indebtedness (denominator): The remaining portion of the net interest expense is to be tax deductible only within the limit of the higher of the two following thresholds: (i) EUR1 million or (ii) 10% of the abovementioned adjusted taxable income (strengthened threshold). The portion of net interest expense that is subject to the strengthened threshold corresponds to the difference between: (i) the total amount of net interest expense and (ii) the amount of net interest expense subject to the regular threshold in accordance with the above-mentioned computation. According to a specific safe harbor provision, despite the fact that a company is thinly capitalized, it is subject to the strengthened threshold if the debt-to-equity ratio of the company is not higher, by more than two percentage points, than the debt-to-equity ratio of the consolidated group to which it belongs (i.e., application of the regular threshold to the total amount of net interest expense).

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

Yes

b. Name of authority

No sanction has been yet established. However, anyone may ask a court ruling in summary proceedings to enjoin the legal representatives or the persons actually empowered to bind the company to draw up, publish or make available the report. If the request is granted, the proceedings' costs as well as any fee incurred by the missing publication shall be borne by the legal representatives, individually or jointly.

c. Name of regulations

The public CbCR has been created by the EU Directive 2021/2101, 24 November 2021, and implemented in French law by the Ordinance 2023-483, 21 June 2023.

d. Effective date of applicability

FY starting 22 June 2024 or later

▪ Additional details

The public CbCR report shall be published no later than 12 months after the end of each concerned FY, i.e., 30 June 2026 for a FY started 22 June 2024, and 31 December 2026 for a FY started 1 January 2025.

e. Section reference from local regulation

The regulations or rulings related to public CbCR in French law are found in the following articles:

- A 232 of the French Business Code: transactions to be included in the calculation of the thresholds
- L 232-6, D 232-8-1, L 233-28-1, D 232-8-1, L 233-28-2, D 232-8-1 of the French Business Code: French companies concerned
- L 232-6-1, D 238-2-1, L 233-28-2, D 232-8-1 of the French Business Code: foreign companies concerned
- L 232-6 of the French Business Code: information to be provided in the public CbCR report
- R 232-8-2 of the French Business Code: sensitive information that may be temporarily omitted
- L 238-7 of the French Business Code: missing reports may engage the liability of the legal representatives, or the persons actually empowered to bind the company

14. PCbCR thresholds and exemptions

a. What is the global consolidated income threshold?

EUR750 million

▪ Additional details

All French independent companies exceeding for two consecutive years a turnover of EUR750 million shall publish a report.

All French subsidiaries exceeding for two consecutive years a turnover of EUR15 million and belonging to a non-EU or non-EEA company exceeding for two consecutive years a turnover of EUR750 million shall publish a report.

All ultimate parent company of a consolidated group, i.e., a company not itself controlled by another entity, shall publish a report as well if the turnover threshold of EUR750 million is met for two consecutive years.

Subsidiaries of an ultimate parent company established outside of the EU or the EEA, or member of a consolidated group having a branch in France, exceeding for two consecutive years EUR15 million of turnover.

b. Are there any materiality exemptions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

French independent companies without any permanent establishment abroad, or bind to disclose similar information under banking laws are exempted from public CbCR reporting requirements.

Foreign companies in the scope of public CbCR are companies comparable to French stock-companies or limited liability companies, which exceed for two consecutive years a turnover of EUR750 million, among other conditions.

- Sales
- Amount of profit or loss before income tax
- Amount of income tax due
- Amount of income tax paid based on actual settlements
- Amount of retained earnings

Information whose disclosure would be seriously prejudicial to the commercial position of the companies to which it relates may be omitted, on a temporary basis, for a maximum of five years. Reasons for exclusions shall be explicitly given in the report. Missing information shall eventually be published in a future report. No information relating to countries listed in Annex I and Annex II lists established by the EU can benefit from this provision.

b. Is aggregation of transactions allowed?

No

▪ Additional details

Abovementioned details shall be provided separately for each EU/EEA State, as well as each State mentioned in the Annex I and Annex II lists established by the EU (commonly referred to as the black and gray lists).

c. Can you provide data sources and guidance?

Not applicable

15. Content

a. Does PCbCR align with OECD BEPS Action 13 CbCR requirements?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The report shall provide all of the following information about last FY:

- Name of the company
- FY concerned
- Currency used
- Brief description of the nature of the company's activities
- Number of full-time equivalent employees

16. Lodgment process and requirements

a. Is lodgment possible?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Lodgment is mandatory. The report, translated into French if necessary, must be filed with the clerk of the commercial court for inclusion in the "companies register" within 12 months of the end of the FY. The filing will be followed by a mention in the "Bodacc," i.e., the official publication of the National Companies Registration Book.

The report shall be made public for at least five years and available on the company's internet website.

b. Is lodgment in another jurisdiction possible?

No

- Additional details

If the French company has no website, it is possible to make the report available on the foreign parent company's website.

c. Is lodgment required in a prescribed form and format?

Yes

- Additional details

Documentation must be submitted electronically and financial data tables should be provided in a format that allows the tax authorities to perform calculations, such as Excel spreadsheets.

d. What is the lodgment deadline?

The report shall be lodged within 12 months after the end of FY.

17. Penalties

a. What are the maximum administrative penalties?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Is there any risk of criminal prosecution?

No

- Additional details

Only civil prosecution is provided for by law.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Georgia Revenue Service (RS)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

The transfer pricing general principles are provided in Articles 126 to 129 of the Georgian Tax Code (GTC) and the Instruction on Pricing International Controlled Transactions (transfer pricing instruction).

c. Effective date of applicability

No date specified

d. Section reference from local regulation

Article 126 and Article 129 of GTC

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

No

▪ Additional details

The Georgian transfer pricing rules are Not applicable to domestic transactions. Thus, there are no documentation requirements in this regard.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Georgia is not a member of the OECD. Georgian transfer pricing rules generally follow the OECD Guidelines. The transfer pricing instruction contains a direct reference to the OECD Guidelines and sets forth that issues not regulated by the GTC or the transfer pricing instruction shall be regulated by the OECD Guidelines.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Annual consolidated group revenue of EUR750 million for the preceding fiscal year.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2016.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

No

▪ Coverage

Not applicable

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

Not applicable

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

Not applicable

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

No

▪ Coverage

Not applicable

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

Not applicable

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

Not applicable

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

▪ Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

▪ If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

▪ Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

▪ Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation needs to be prepared annually under local jurisdiction regulations. Taxpayers with a turnover of less than GEL8 million (approximately USD3 million) will be considered to satisfy the documentation requirements even where the financial indicators of external comparables are only updated every third year, provided there have been no material changes to the Georgian enterprise's business, the business operations of the comparables or the relevant economic circumstances. In all other cases, there is no exception or special rule.

No

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

▪ TP documentation

▪ Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

No

▪ If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

▪ Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

No materiality limit

▪ CbCR

▪ What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

EUR750 million

▪ What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

▪ Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

Annual consolidated group revenue of EUR750 million for the preceding fiscal year

▪ Master File

▪ What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

Not applicable

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Not applicable
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
Not applicable
 - Local File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?
Not applicable
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Not applicable
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
Not applicable
 - Economic analysis
 - Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?
No
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Not applicable
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
There is no materiality limit.
- c. Specific requirements
- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?
No
- Additional details
The transfer pricing documentation may be submitted in Georgian or English. However, when the documentation is submitted in English, the tax authorities may request a Georgian translation to be arranged by the taxpayer.
 - Is a safe harbor available?
Unspecified
 - Additional details
There is none specified.
 - Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?
Individual testing
 - Additional details
Individual testing of transactions is preferred.
 - Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?
No
-
- #### 4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures
-
- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?
No
- Additional details
Not applicable. However, any transfer pricing adjustment by the taxpayer must be reflected in the monthly corporate income tax return.
- b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?
No
- Additional details
No such disclosures
- c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?
No such disclosures

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No other information or documents

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

Monthly, by the 15th of the following month

- Additional details

This is to be filed on a monthly basis.

- Submission/filing date: On a monthly basis, no later than 15th of the month after the reporting month.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

Upon request by tax authority

- Additional details

This is to be filed upon request of the tax authority.

- Submission/filing date: If requested by the tax authority, the company is given 30 days to prepare the documentation.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

CbCR submission is due not later than 31 December of the year following the reporting fiscal year of the MNE group.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Last day of the reporting fiscal year of MNE Group.

- Additional details

The CbCR notification submission deadline is no later than the last day of the reporting fiscal year of MNE Group.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By tax return lodgment date

- Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation should be finalized by the time of submission upon request of the tax authority.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

There is no statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation; it only needs to be finalized by the time of submission upon request of the tax authority.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Taxpayers are obligated to submit the documentation within 30 calendar days of the tax authority's request.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing law includes five methods similar to those used in international transfer pricing practices: (1) CUP, (2) cost-plus, (3) resale price, (4) TNMM, and (5) profit-split. The CUP method has first priority, whereas the profit-split is the method to be used as a last resort.

The three traditional methods prevail over the TNMM and profit-split method. Some other method can be used if none of the approved methods can provide reliable results, and such other method yields a result consistent with that which would be achieved by independent enterprises engaging in comparable uncontrolled transactions under comparable circumstances. In such cases, a taxpayer shall bear the burden of demonstrating that the abovementioned requirements have been satisfied.

A taxpayer should select the most appropriate method according to the nature of its business, comparability factors and the availability of relevant information. If there is a lack of internal comparables or information (or if these internal comparables or information is not accurate or reliable enough), the taxpayer may use external comparables from the foreign markets. Under the transfer pricing instruction, use of secret comparables is prohibited.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

The application of foreign comparables is acceptable because of the lack of information sources within Georgia. But the impact of geographic differences and other factors need to be analyzed, and, where appropriate, comparability adjustments should be made in accordance with the transfer pricing instruction.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Generally, a taxpayer is expected to conduct an Economic analysis using the benchmarks relevant to the financial year in which controlled transactions occurred. However, where required information is not available, the taxpayer is allowed to use the benchmarking data for the years preceding the year of its transaction, but not more than four years prior to the financial year in which the tested transaction took place.

The spreadsheet quartile is used as per the Georgian transfer pricing rule specifying calculation approach.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

It is necessary to conduct a fresh benchmarking search every year or to update the financials of a prior study. Taxpayers with a turnover of less than GEL8 million (approximately USD3 million) could update an Economic analysis based on external comparables every third year, provided there have been no material changes to the business operations of the comparables or relevant economic circumstances.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is no specific regulation in this regard; both simple and weighted averages may be used.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There are no specific regulations in place. The benchmarking criteria shall comply with the general comparability factors as determined by transfer pricing Instruction 6. The applicable independence criterion is 50% or less.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

No penalty for incomplete documentation.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

GEL400

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

GEL400

▪ Are there any other penalties?

No specific penalties are defined for when a taxpayer does not submit transfer pricing documentation; if the documentation is not submitted by the deadline, the standard penalty for the failure to submit information to the tax authorities will apply. Any transfer pricing adjustment will be treated as distributed profit and taxed with profit tax according to the Georgian tax legislation. In addition, if the tax authorities reassess the transaction, penalties of 50% of the adjusted sum will apply. The general penalties for failing to submit required information apply. The penalty is GEL400. A penalty of GEL1, 000 applies in case of repeated violation.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

If the tax authorities reassess the transaction, penalties of 50% of the adjusted sum will apply.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

This is not specified.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Interest is not charged on penalties. However, late-payment interest of 0.05% per overdue day may apply.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

No specific penalty relief is available. In practice, having proper transfer pricing documentation reduces the risk of transfer pricing adjustments. However, the tax authority, the authority considering a dispute or the court may release a faithful taxpayer from a tax sanction under GTC, if the tax offense was caused by the payer's mistake/lack of knowledge.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

There is no specific statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments. The general statute of limitations in Georgia is three years. It will be extended for one year, if less than a year remains before the expiration of the period and the taxpayer has filed with a tax authority a taxpayer's claim or a tax return (including an adjusted tax return) for the relevant period. Tax cannot be reassessed after this period has elapsed.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes, from 1 January 2017, the existing regulation for levying a profit tax in Georgia changed and the so-called tax on distributed profits model was introduced. In particular, the object of taxation of a resident entity became only distributed profit, and, according to the new regulation, controlled transactions with related parties are deemed as distribution of profit if they do not comply with the arm's-length principle. Thus, the possibility of the potential transfer pricing audit may further increase.

- b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

Not applicable

- d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Not applicable

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

- a. Are APAs available?

A unilateral APA (between a resident taxpayer and the RS) is available. The fee to apply for an APA is GEL30,000.

- b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The tenure could be as long as three years (with a possibility of extension).

- c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

No, roll-back is not allowed.

- d. Is MAP available?

Subject to the provisions of the applicable tax treaty, where a Georgian enterprise becomes aware that the actions of the Revenue Service or a tax treaty partner will result in taxation not in accordance with the provisions of the relevant tax treaty, the Georgian enterprise may present the case the RS and request that the case be resolved by mutual agreement procedure.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

Order No. 331 of the Minister of Finance of Georgia of 2 October 2024 on the Amendment to Order No. 423 "On Approval of the Instructions on the Evaluation of International Controlled Transactions"

- Additional details

Article 141 of the "Instruction on the Evaluation of International Controlled Transactions" establishes various criteria for determining whether an operation, initially classified as a loan by the parties involved in a controlled transaction, can be requalified as a capital contribution. This evaluation takes into account both the agreement made by the parties and/or the actual circumstances surrounding the transaction. The Article states that the qualification of the operation, or any portion thereof, may be altered if there are valid grounds for such a change, supported by at least three of the specified criteria.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

German taxes are administered either by the German Federal Central Tax Office (Bundeszentralamt für Steuern) or by German state authorities.

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

German transfer pricing rules are not included in one integrated section of the German tax code but in several provisions in different legislative acts, which are:

- Section 1 and 1a Foreign Tax Act
- Constructive dividend, Section 8 (3) Sentence 2 of the Corporate Income Tax Act
- Hidden capital contribution, Section 4 (1) of the Income Tax Act and Section 8 (3) Sentence 3 of the Corporate Income Tax Act
- Contribution (Section 4 (1) Sentence 8 of the Income Tax Act) or withdrawal, (Section 4 (1) Sentence 2 of the Income Tax Act) (e.g., for partnerships)

The most influential provision for transfer pricing in Germany is Section 1 of the Foreign Tax Act, which stipulates the arm's-length principle. The German interpretation of the arm's-length principle generally follows the definition in Article 9 of the OECD Model Tax Convention. However, Section 1 (1) of the Foreign Tax Act stipulates that for the interpretation of the arm's-length principle, it is assumed that both parties involved in an intercompany transaction have full knowledge about all facts and circumstances (information transparency).

The latest update of Section 1 of the Foreign Tax Act now includes detailed regulations in Section 1 (3d) and (3e) Foreign Tax Act regarding intra-group financing transactions. This update was part of the Growth Opportunities Act (Wachstumschancengesetz), which was approved by the Federal Council on 22 March 2024.

According to Section 1 (3d) Foreign Tax Act taxpayers must demonstrate for intercompany interest expenses to be deductible that they can service the capital for the entire duration of the transaction and that the financing is economically necessary and used for the business purpose. This particularly concerns the borrower's debt sustainability and the specific purpose of the financing.

The new law has been in effect since 1 January 2024. For existing loans that were significantly amended between 31

December 2023, and 1 January 2025, the new law does not apply to (interest) expenses incurred before the amendment. For continued loans beyond 31 December 2024, capital serviceability must be demonstrated by 31 December 2024. This transitional regulation means that old loans that expired in 2024 or were not significantly amended are exempt from the new regulations.

According to Section 1 (3e) Foreign Tax Act, intra-group financing relationships are generally considered low-function and low-risk services. The German Foreign Tax Act clarifies that the comparable uncontrolled price method should be applied primarily - and regardless of the role of the financing company. Financing functions are generally considered support functions for the core business, although exceptions may exist, such as for banks or insurance companies.

Proir to this, Section 1 of the Foreign Tax Act was updated with effect from 1 January 2022. This does not only concern the structure of Section 1 but also the content by including the regulations prescribed by the German Act to Implement the Anti-Tax Avoidance Directive (ATAD-Umsetzungsgesetz) and the German Withholding Tax Relief Modernization Act (Abzugsteuerentlastungsmodernisierungsgesetz). Such changes concern, for instance, the introduction of the DEMPE concept (Section 1 (3c) of the Foreign Tax Act), the outsourcing of the price adjustment clause (Section 1a of the Foreign Tax Act) and modifications to the cross-border transfer of function rules (Section 1 (3b)). With respect to these changes of the law, an update of the existing Order Decree Law on Transfer of Business Functions (FVerIV) was published on 24 October 2022. Among others, the updated FVerIV extends the definition of a "transfer of function" and includes changes to the calculation of the transfer package, (e.g., consideration of tax effects and determination of comparable third-party discount rates). Additionally, while the previous FVerIV only required a taxpayer to provide prima facie evidence, the new FVerIV now shifts the burden of proof to taxpayers by requiring a taxpayer to provide evidence under certain conditions. The new FVerIV applies with retroactive effect to transfers of functions for tax assessment periods beginning after 31 December 2021. As explained below, these changes have also been incorporated in the Administrative Principles for Transfer Pricing.

As of 1 January 2013, a law amending Section 1 (5) of the Foreign Tax Act incorporated the authorized OECD approach (AOA) on the allocation of profits to permanent establishments into German law. The AOA treats a permanent establishment as a (nearly) fully separate entity for tax purposes. This includes the recognition of internal dealings between the head office and a foreign permanent establishment, such as the supply of goods, a service provision and even licensing arrangements. These dealings have to be priced in accordance with the arm's-length principle (i.e., including a profit element). Given the lack of legally binding agreements between the different parts of one enterprise, contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation becomes crucial to defend the transfer prices applied for internal dealings. In October 2014, an executive order law with regard to the application of the arm's-length principle to permanent establishments was released (Verordnung zur Anwendung des Fremdvergleichsgrundsatzes auf Betriebsstätten nach § 1 Absatz 5 des Außensteuergesetzes (Betriebsstättengewinnaufteilungsverordnung, BsGaV). The main issues covered by the BsGaV are the attribution of assets and risks to a permanent establishment, and the allocation of the (free) capital or surplus to the different parts of the enterprise. In addition, the executive order law contains specific provisions with respect to permanent establishments of banks and insurance companies, and construction and exploration sites. Notably, the BsGaV stipulates that the taxpayer has to prepare an "auxiliary calculation" on an annual basis with respect to assets, capital, remaining liabilities, and revenues and expenses attributable to the permanent establishment, including deemed revenues and expenses resulting from internal dealings. The auxiliary calculation has to be prepared, at the latest, when the tax return for the respective financial year is filed. The executive order law is applicable for Fiscal Years beginning after 31 December 2014.

With regard to transfer pricing documentation and Country-by-Country Reporting, the following provisions are relevant:

- German transfer pricing documentation requirements are stipulated in Section 90 (3) of the German General Tax Code as well as in an executive order law to Section 90 (3) (Verordnung zu Art, Inhalt und Umfang von Aufzeichnungen im Sinne des § 90 Absatz 3 der Abgabenordnung (Gewinnabgrenzungsaufzeichnungs-Verordnung - GAufzV)).

The latest amendment (Vierte Bürokratieentlastungsgesetz (BEG IV)) of Section 90 (3) of the General Tax Code (AO) was in September 2024 with effect for tax periods starting after 31 December 2024. Since 1 January 2025 the documentation requirements according to Section 90 (3) German General Tax Code must be divided into the following components:

- Overview of business transactions (Transaction Matrix)
- Presentation of business transactions (Factual Documentation), and presentation of the economic and legal basis for an agreement of conditions in accordance with the arm's-length principle (Arm's length Documentation) (typically both included in the Local File)
- Group Master File

- Documentations for any extraordinary business transactions

Due to the new regulation, in addition to the Local File, a so-called Transaction Matrix is also required. This matrix should provide detailed information about the company's cross-border business transactions. The goal is to simplify the identification of audit priorities for the tax authorities, thereby contributing to a more effective and accelerated tax audit. According to the BMF (Bundesfinanzministerium) letter dated 2 April 2025, the transaction matrix should include the following information:

- The type of intercompany transaction
- Identification of the parties involved with a designation of the service recipient and service provider
- The volume (e.g., volume of intercompany loans) and remuneration (in euros) (e.g., interest paid) of the business transactions
- The contractual basis
- The applied transfer pricing method
- The affected tax jurisdictions
- Whether the business transactions are subject to regular taxation in the respective tax jurisdiction or subject to any preferential taxation (e.g., license box)

According to the circular of the BMF, it is sufficient to refer the contractual basis on the transaction matrix. It is not required to provide the contractual basis as an attachment to the transaction matrix.

After the announcement of the tax audit, the Transaction Matrix, the Master File, and documentations for any extraordinary business transactions have to be submitted within 30 days after the announcement of the audit order without a separate request. Further, the German tax authorities have the right to request any of the transfer pricing documentation components listed above at any time (e.g., when applying for APA or MAP). These must then be submitted within 30 days upon request. This particularly concerns the Local File, which now has to be submitted within 30 days instead of 60 days upon request.

- Section 162 (3) and 162 (4) of the German General Tax Code stipulate penalties in case of noncompliance with transfer pricing documentation rules. Section 162 (4) of the German General Tax Code was also tightened by the implementation of DAC 7 in Germany for taxes arising after 31 December 2024 stipulating autonomous and differentiated penalty qualifications for the lack of usable transfer pricing documentation or its late submission. This amendment shall produce differentiated qualitative and quantitative effects on penalties imposition. If a taxpayer does not provide records of a business transaction in accordance with Section 90 (3) German General Tax Code or if the records provided for a business transaction are essentially unusable, or if the transaction matrix according to Section 90 (3) sentence 2 number 1 is not submitted, a surcharge of EUR5,000 is to be imposed. The surcharge amounts to at least 5% and at most 10% of the additional income resulting from a correction due to the application of paragraph 3 (estimation), if this results in a surcharge of more than EUR5,000.

- In addition, the German legislature introduced nonpublic CbCR standards as proposed by the OECD in its report on Action 13 of the BEPS project with mandatory CbCR for Fiscal Years beginning after 31 December 2015 in Section 138a of the German General Tax Code. The bill also included the implementation of the European Automatic Information Exchange Directive, which was adopted in December 2015 and governs the exchange of information concerning advance cross-border rulings and APAs as well as some other additional information reporting obligations imposed on MNEs. Also, it is noteworthy to mention the recent promulgation of the Income Tax Disclosure Act according to the Directive (EU) 2021/ 2101 for the implementation of public CbCR through Sections 342- 342p of the Commercial Code. Furthermore, the Ministry of Finance published the Minimum Tax Directive Implementation Law discussion draft for the implementation of EU Directive on the introduction of a Global Minimum Tax (2022/ 2523), containing CbCR Safe-Harbor dispositions, to ensure that from 2024 onward, a top-up tax in accordance with the rules agreed to at an international level will be introduced. In addition to the above legislation, the German tax authorities have issued circulars helping to interpret the German transfer pricing provisions and outlining their interpretation of the laws. These administrative regulations do not constitute binding law for taxpayers or the courts, but are binding for the tax authorities and, therefore, indicate how the tax authorities will treat specific intercompany transactions between related parties. The purpose of these administrative regulations is to provide a directive concerning the tax treatment of transfer pricing cases, and to ensure a uniform application of rules and methods.

On 12 December 2024, the German Ministry of Finance (MoF) issued the "Administrative Principles for Transfer Pricing – Principles for the adjustment of income in accordance with Sec. 1 AStG," (AP TP 2024), which replaces the "Administrative Principles for Transfer Pricing – Principles for the adjustment of income in accordance with Sec. 1 AStG," dated 6 June 2023. The revised regulation clarifies the requirements for examining intra-group financing relationships according to Section 1 (3d) sentence 1 number 1 Foreign Tax Act. The burden of proof for the arm's-length nature of interest deductions, both in terms of justification and amount, remains with the taxpayer and must be fulfilled cumulatively. The regulation includes clarifications and simplifications regarding the modalities of evidence provision. The VWG AP 24 incorporates the contents of VWG AP 23 and supplements them, making VWG AP 23 no longer applicable for new cases from the year 2024 onward. However, the contents from the year 2023 remain included in the new VWG AP 24 and thus continue to be valid unless otherwise specified.

The VWG AP 23 replaced the "Administrative Principles for Transfer Pricing – Principles for the adjustment of income in accordance with Sec. 1 AStG," dated 14 July 2021, and were intended to align the administrative guidance to the legislative transfer pricing framework in Germany. As mentioned above, key changes include updated administrative guidance on the German cross-border transfer-of-function rules with legal changes in the cross-border transfer-of-function rules in the German Foreign Tax Act and the corresponding updated Order Decree Law on Transfer of Business Functions (Funktionsverlagerungsverordnung – FVerIV). Some examples are:

- Extension of the concept of "transfer package"
- Elimination of two escape clauses
- Consideration of tax effects resulting from the transfer
- Determination of the risk premium based on "market" interest rates"
- Obligation to provide evidence (instead of prima facie evidence), e.g., regarding capitalization period, claims for damages
- Deletion of the possibility of an application for the assumption of a transfer of use in the case of (unintentional) relocation of functions With respect to intercompany financing transactions, the MoF aligns its interpretation on the examination of income allocation between entities involved in financing transactions with the OECD Guidelines and with recent German jurisprudence of the Federal Fiscal Court (BFH) on determining intercompany interest rates for intercompany loans. In particular, the MoF has changed its controversial view that interest expenses exceeding the risk-free market return are not deductible at the level of borrower group entities unless the financing company is "able and authorized" to control the financial investment and has the capacity to bear the corresponding risks. The MoF now clarifies that the interest rate should be determined based on the economic circumstances of the borrowers (not the lenders). The AP TP

2024 now refer to the “Guidance note on international mutual agreement and arbitration procedures in the field of taxes on income and capital,” dated 27 August 2021. The AP TP 2024 no longer refer to the administrative guidance on APAs dated 5 October 2016 regarding the process for APAs, because the German legislature since then introduced a specific legal norm for advanced bi- or multilateral rulings (Section 89a of the German General Tax Code), which was not reflected in the previous guidance. While the implementation of a specific norm for APAs has been welcomed, significant practical and procedural questions and uncertainties remain that the MoF could address in further guidance. This circular is immediately applicable to all tax cases, except for cross-border transfer of functions realized before 1 January 2022, for which the existing Administrative Principles on Transfer of Business Functions dated 13 October 2010 still apply. In addition, the following circulars are still in place and are of particular relevance for transfer pricing purposes:

- “Administrative Principles 2020,” dated 3 December 2020, published in the Federal Tax Gazette dated 30 December 2020
- Published in March 2017, “Administrative Principles on the Profit Attribution to Permanent Establishments” includes 152 pages of details and clarifications of the AOA that is implemented in Section 1(5) of the Foreign Tax Act and the Executive Law.
- “Guidance note on international mutual agreement and arbitration procedures in the field of taxes on income and capital,” dated 27 August 2021, published in the Federal Tax Gazette dated 11 October 2021. This administrative guidance comments on dispute settlement procedures under double-tax treaties, the European Union (EU) Arbitration Convention and EU DTT Dispute Settlement Act and clarifies general procedural questions regarding their application. Considering increasing legal uncertainties in the application and interpretation of the arm’s-length principle in Germany, this guidance is of high practical relevance for taxpayers. Other relevant circulars include inter alia administrative circulars concerning cross-border secondment of personnel (dated 9 November 2001), as well as a circular related to joint tax audit and simultaneous checks (dated 6 January 2017).

c. Effective date of applicability

See chapter b: “Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings”

d. Section reference from local regulation

Following the implementation of the EU Anti-Tax Avoidance Directive, the definition of “related party” in Section 1 (2)

Foreign Tax Act was extended with effect of 1 January 2022. In principle, there is no specific percentage of shareholding required to qualify as a “related party” under German transfer pricing rules. Section 1 (2) Foreign Tax Act provides for a minimum direct or indirect shareholding of 25%. However, if this threshold is not met, transfer pricing adjustments can nevertheless be made on the basis of Section 8 (3) Corporate Income Tax Act (constructive dividend) or Section 4 Income Tax Act (hidden capital contribution), which do not require a minimum shareholding percentage. Parties can also qualify as related party in case the other party can exert a significant influence on the taxpayer or has an interest in the income generated by the other party.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There are no transfer pricing documentation obligations for domestic intercompany transactions. However, with regard to domestic intercompany transactions, taxpayers still have a duty to respond to tax authority inquiries, and to cooperate with them to clarify the facts and circumstances of the case. This may include providing existing information related to the specific transactions upon request of the tax authorities as well as answering the tax authorities’ questions regarding these transactions. For domestic transactions, only the general adjustment provisions are applicable but not Section 1 of the Foreign Tax Act.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Germany is a member jurisdiction of the OECD. The OECD Guidelines provide support for domestic use, but do not constitute binding law in Germany. German transfer pricing regulations and practices do differ from those of the OECD Guidelines with regard to certain issues

(e.g., the application of transactional profit methods, documentation requirements and the treatment of transfers of functions). The German tax authorities consider the German transfer pricing laws and regulations to be generally consistent with the OECD Guidelines. In tax audit practice as well as in tax court procedures, the OECD Guidelines are often applied and used as a point of reference. In this regard, the AP TP 2024 reference the OECD Guidelines (which also form an integral part of the circular as they are included as an Appendix 1) in order to ensure international orientation and an alignment with the OECD Guidelines. However, although the circular includes this statement and often refers to specific chapters and articles of the OECD Guidelines, the Administrative Principles Transfer Pricing may deviate from the OECD Guidelines on certain topics, which is also stipulated in the circular (Guidelines in Chapter 3). In addition, for the German authorities the arm's-length principle is based on economic principles that are independent of time and context, and it provides enough flexibility to address current developments in the digital economy without implementing additional legislative measures. Note that this position is challenged by both German and international tax experts and tax courts.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Yes, Germany has adopted BEPS Action 13 for transfer pricing documentation, effective from 1 January 2016. For this purpose, Section 90 (3) of the German General Tax Code had been amended.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

There is a materiality limit to prepare CbCR. For German domestic ultimate parent companies, CbCR only has to be prepared where the consolidated revenues of the group in the previous fiscal year amounted to at least EUR750 million. Nevertheless, this limit might be reduced according to the implementation of the Income Tax Disclosure Act, and specially of the Minimum Tax Directive Implementation Law.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2016.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Yes, Section 90 (3) of the German General Tax Code has been amended to include the obligation to prepare a Master File if the specific "de minimis" thresholds are exceeded.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

German transfer pricing documentation obligations were implemented in 2003. As of fiscal years starting after 31 December 2016, German taxpayers are obliged to prepare a Master File-type transfer pricing documentation.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

In principle, there should not be material differences between the OECD report template or format and Germany's regulatory requirements. However, taxpayers need to be aware that German transfer pricing documentation obligations apply on a transaction-by-transaction basis and that there are no materiality thresholds per transaction. In addition, the catalog provided in the respective executive order law to Section 90 (3) of the German General Tax Code slightly differs from the OECD Master File template. For example, Section 4 (1) No. 4 lit. a of the executive order law stipulates that the taxpayer has to document the date or period when transfer prices have been determined (price-setting approach). In addition, information available at the time the transfer prices were determined has to be documented Section 4 (1) No. 4 lit. b) of the executive order law. While these differences could be described as clarifications of the OECD Master File template, there is no official statement of the German tax authorities confirming that the German documentation requirements do not exceed the requirements as set forth under the OECD Master File template. In particular, it is questionable whether the specific documentation obligations listed in Section 4 (2) executive order law follow the OECD Master File template, e.g., the documentation requested for cost allocations or CSAs, research and development activities, explanations for losses, and the impact of business strategies and business restructurings. In practice, German tax authorities often request very detailed and specific information beyond OECD requirements.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Yes, Section 90 (3) of the German General Tax Code has been amended to include the obligation to prepare a Local File if the specific “de minimis” thresholds are exceeded.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

German transfer pricing documentation obligations were implemented in 2003. As of fiscal years starting after 31 December 2016, German taxpayers are obliged to prepare a Local File-type transfer pricing documentation.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

In principle, there should not be material differences between the OECD report template or format and Germany's regulatory requirements. However, taxpayers need to be aware that German transfer pricing documentation obligations apply on a transaction-by-transaction basis and that there are no materiality thresholds per transaction. In addition, the catalog provided in the respective executive order law to Section 90 (3) of the German General Tax Code slightly differs from the OECD Local File template. For example, Section 4 (1) No. 4 lit. a of the executive order law stipulates that the taxpayer has to document the date or period when transfer prices have been determined (price-setting approach). In addition, information available at the time the transfer prices were determined has to be documented Section 4 (1) No. 4 lit. b) of the executive order law. While these differences could be described as clarifications of the OECD Local File template, there is no official statement of the German tax authorities confirming that the German documentation requirements do not exceed the requirements as set forth under the OECD Local File template. In particular, it is questionable whether the specific documentation obligations listed in Section 4 (2) executive order law follow the OECD Local File template, e.g., the documentation requested for cost allocations or CSAs, research and development activities, explanations for losses, and the impact of business strategies and business restructurings. In practice, German tax authorities often request very detailed and specific information beyond OECD requirements.

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

▪ Additional details

It is generally considered reasonable to assume that transfer pricing documentation prepared in line with the BEPS Action 13 format report would not be considered as being “essentially unusable” under the German penalty rules and regulations. However, taxpayers should be aware that this understanding has not yet been confirmed by a tax court ruling or an official statement by the German tax authorities. Most importantly, taxpayers should be aware that penalties may be levied on a transaction-by-transaction basis without any materiality threshold in terms of intercompany volume.

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

▪ Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

Yes

▪ Additional details

Yes, there are transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules. The obligation to prepare transfer pricing documentation is included in Section 90 (3) of the German General Tax Code. Documentation for extraordinary transactions, such as corporate restructurings as well as implementation of or changes to material long-term contractual relationships, must be prepared within a reasonably short period (i.e., within six months after the end of the business year in which they occurred). The transaction matrix, master file, and documentation for extraordinary business transactions must be submitted within 30 days from the notification of the audit order without a separate request. However, the right of the tax authority to request transfer pricing documentation at any time remains unaffected (APA, MAP). These must also be submitted within 30 days upon request. The Local File must be provided within 30 days upon request. Such request is typically be made as part of a tax audit but can also be made at any time (e.g. during APA, MAP). Extensions of deadlines can still be granted by the tax authorities in justified individual cases, according to Section 90 (4) sentence 4 German General Tax Code. Rules regarding CbCR are governed by Section 138a of the German General Tax Code. The statutory rules on transfer pricing documentation are supplemented by an executive order law to Section 90 (3) of the German General Tax Code as well as the new administrative circular dated 3 December 2020 (Administrative Principles 2020).

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

No

- Additional details

According to German transfer pricing documentation rules, the transaction matrix, master file, and documentation for extraordinary business transactions must be submitted within 30 days from the notification of the audit order without a separate request. However, the right of the tax authority to request transfer pricing documentation at any time remains unaffected (APA, MAP). These must also be submitted within 30 days upon request. The Local File must be provided within 30 days upon request. Such request is typically be made as part of a tax audit but can also be made at any time (e.g. during APA, MAP). Extensions of deadlines can still be granted by the tax authorities in justified individual cases, according to Section 90 (4) sentence 4 German General Tax Code. Thus, while there is no strict legal requirement to update transfer pricing documentation on an annual basis, it is strongly recommended to at least update budgets, information on intercompany transaction volumes and segregated P&L financial data once a year.

This recommendation is reinforced considering the 2024 amendments to Section 90 of the German General Tax Code. Regarding the update of benchmarking studies and other Economic analysis, there is no strict rule in the German transfer pricing law, executive order law or administrative circular that such studies have to be updated on an annual basis. In practice, benchmarking studies are often updated every three years. For extraordinary business transactions (e.g., transfer of intellectual property and business restructurings), transfer pricing documentation has to be prepared contemporaneously, i.e., at the latest within six months after the end of the Fiscal Year in which the transaction took place.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

No

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

There is a materiality limit for preparing transfer pricing documentation. Exception for small- and medium-sized companies apply. The company does not have to prepare transfer pricing documentation if annual consideration (paid or received) from intercompany transactions involving the supply of goods with foreign related parties do not exceed EUR6 million and if the annual consideration (paid or received) in connection with other intercompany transactions (e.g., services) do not exceed EUR600,000. Once these "de minimis" thresholds are exceeded, the transfer pricing documentation obligations apply on a transaction-by-transaction basis without a separate materiality threshold per transaction. Therefore, in principle, transfer pricing documentation has to be prepared for every single intercompany transaction upon request by the tax auditors independent of the transaction volume.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

EUR750 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

There is a materiality limit to prepare CbCR. For German domestic ultimate parent companies, CbCR only has to be prepared where the consolidated revenues of the group in the previous Fiscal Year amounted to at least EUR750 million. Nevertheless, this limit might be reduced according to the implementation of the Income Tax Disclosure Act, and specially of the Minimum Tax Directive Implementation Law.

- Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

EUR100 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is a materiality limit for preparing the BEPS Master File. The Master File only has to be prepared by a German entity where its revenue was higher than EUR100 million in the preceding fiscal year.

- Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

Section 90 (3) of the German General Tax Code has been amended to include the obligation to prepare a Local File if the specific “de minimis” thresholds are exceeded.

German transfer pricing documentation obligations were implemented in 2003. As of Fiscal Years starting after 31 December 2016, German taxpayers are obliged to prepare a Local File-type transfer pricing documentation.

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Total international related-party transactions

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Other than the general “de minimis” thresholds described above, there are no materiality limits for preparing the Local File.

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is no materiality threshold for preparing an Economic analysis, i.e., an Economic analysis has to be prepared for each intercompany transaction with a related party if transfer pricing documentation for this transaction is requested by the tax authorities.

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

In principle, transfer pricing documentation has to be submitted in German (reference Section 2 (5) of the executive order law to Section 90 (3) of the German General Tax Code). However, the taxpayer can apply for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared in a foreign language. The application has to be filed at the latest without undue delay after receiving a request for submitting transfer pricing documentation. In practice, many German tax auditors accept English transfer pricing documentation reports or are satisfied with receiving a (partial) German translation of the reports.

- Is a safe harbor available?

No

- Additional details

Apart from the “de minimis” thresholds for preparing transfer pricing documentation mentioned above, there are no safe harbor rules upon which the taxpayer could rely. Nevertheless, the Minimum Tax Directive Implementation Law is expected to extend the threshold including the Simplified ETR and Routine Profits thresholds.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

- Additional details

In general, the arm's-length analysis has to be performed on a single transaction basis. However, in case single transactions are closely connected to each other such that an analysis on a single transaction basis is not possible, an aggregated approach might be followed.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

Yes. Due to the new regulation, a so-called Transaction Matrix is also required. This matrix should provide detailed information about the company's cross-border business transactions. The goal is to simplify the identification of audit priorities for the tax authorities, thereby contributing to a more effective and accelerated external audit. The structure of the Transaction Matrix is to be further specified in the Profit Allocation Recording Ordinance (GAufzV) according to the explanatory memorandum to BEG IV. Further, there are some specific transfer pricing related Directives on Administration Cooperation (DAC 6) mandatory disclosure requirements that may be applicable.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

There are in general no specific transfer pricing-related returns to be prepared and/or filed. However, in October 2014, an executive order law with regard to the application of the arm's-length principle to permanent establishments was released. Notably, the executive order law stipulates that the taxpayer has to prepare an “auxiliary calculation” on an annual basis with respect to assets, capital, remaining liabilities, and revenues and expenses attributable to the permanent establishment, including deemed revenues and expenses resulting from internal dealings. The auxiliary calculation has to be prepared, at the latest, when the tax return for the respective financial year is filed. The executive order law is applicable for Fiscal Years beginning after 31 December 2014. Other than that, there are no other specific transfer pricing-related returns required.

- b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

Apart from the general standard documentation and notification requirements under the German General Tax Code and the Foreign Tax Act, there are no specific disclosure requirements specifically related to transfer pricing. However, the relevant tax return forms may include certain questions or information relevant for transfer pricing as well (e.g., information on related parties in low-tax jurisdictions for German CFC regulations, information on constructive dividends and information on foreign permanent establishments).

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Affiliated companies within the meaning of the German Commercial Code (HGB) are to be included in consolidated financial statements. Section 285 No. 11 of the German Commercial Code (HGB) requires that the following be disclosed for shares in affiliated companies: name, registered office, amount of the share in the capital, equity, and the result of the last financial year of these companies' consolidation. IAS 24 of the IFRS does also apply.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Yes

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

FY 24: 31 July 25 (non-advised) / 30 April 2026 (advised by tax advisor)

▪ Additional details

Returns are, in principle, due by 31 July of the following year. However, for tax returns prepared by a professional tax adviser, the deadline is extended to the last day of April of the subsequent year. Under certain conditions (e.g. known late-filers and those with a record of other irregularities), one can be asked to submit their returns before these extension dates, though not before 31 July.

For tax years 2019 to 2024, the deadlines for filing tax returns have been extended due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

30 days upon request

▪ Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation (Master File or Local File) has to be submitted within 30 days after the announcement of the audit order without a separate request. However, the right of the tax authority to request further records at any time remains unaffected (APA, MAP). These must also be submitted within 30 days upon request. The transaction matrix, master file, and documentation for extraordinary business transactions must be submitted within 30 days from the notification of the audit order. Upon request, the local file must also be provided within 30 days. Extensions of deadlines can still be granted by the tax authorities in justified individual cases, according to Section 90 (4) sentence 4 German General Tax Code.

- Submission/filing date: Currently: within 30 days after the announcement of the audit order without a separate request. However, the right of the tax authority to request further records at any time remains unaffected (APA, MAP). These must also be submitted within 30 days upon request.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

30 days after the announcement of the audit order without a separate request days upon request

▪ Additional details

Since 1 January 2025 taxpayers have to submit transfer pricing documentation within 30 days after the announcement of the audit order without a separate request. However, the right of the tax authority to request further records at any time remains unaffected (APA, MAP). In this case, the Master File must also be submitted within 30 days upon request.

- Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared): There is no explicit statutory date like for a tax filing. As described above, taxpayers have to submit transfer pricing documentation within 30 days after request and, more importantly, without request based on the announcement of a tax audit.
- Submission/filing date: As described above taxpayers have to submit transfer pricing documentation within 30 days after the announcement of the audit order without a separate request. However, the right of the tax authority to request further records at any time remains unaffected (APA, MAP). These must also be submitted within 30 days upon request

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

▪ Additional details

CbCR for locally headquartered companies

Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared): There is no explicit date, but it's one year after the end of the respective fiscal year.

Submission/filing date: The deadline for filing the CbCR is one year after the end of the respective fiscal year. Filing requirements also extend to subsidiaries.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

31 December

▪ Additional details

A CbCR notification is part of the tax return for the respective fiscal year. Notification should be included in the tax return due date of notifying entity. The CbCR notification is part of the tax return for the respective fiscal year. The CbCR notification might contain a list of all enterprises and permanent establishments, broken down according to tax jurisdiction.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

Within six months after year-end for extraordinary transactions

▪ Additional details

Ordinary intercompany transactions do not have to be documented contemporaneously. In contrast, extraordinary business transactions need to be documented contemporaneously, i.e., at the latest within six months after the end of the fiscal year in which the transaction took place.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There is no statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation like with a tax return, but since 1 January 2025, transfer pricing documentation for both ordinary as well as for extraordinary transactions will have to be submitted within 30 days upon request by the tax auditors or without request after having received a tax audit announcement. The transaction matrix, master file, and documentation for extraordinary business transactions must be submitted within 30 days from the notification of the audit order. Upon request, the local file must also be provided within 30 days. Extensions of deadlines can still be granted by the tax authorities in justified individual cases, according to Section 90 (4) sentence 4 German General Tax Code.

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Since 1 January 2025, transfer pricing documentation for both ordinary as well as for extraordinary transactions will have to be submitted within 30 days upon request by the tax auditors or without request after having received a tax audit announcement.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

▪ Additional details

German tax auditors will analyze the arm's-length nature of the transfer prices based on Section 1 of the Foreign Tax Act. It should be emphasized that the structure and partially the content of Section 1 of the Foreign Tax Act has been revised with effect of 1 January 2022. The law does not prioritize any transfer pricing methods anymore but suggests that the arm's-length price shall generally be determined based on the transfer pricing method best suitable with respect to the comparability analysis and the availability of third-party comparable data, Section 1 (3) Sentence 5 et seq. of the Foreign Tax Act. Any differences between the circumstances of the third-party comparable transactions and the transaction under review that may have an impact on the application of the transfer pricing method should be eliminated by appropriate adjustments if this leads to an increase of the comparability. If no comparable data exists, the law stipulates that taxpayers have to conduct a hypothetical arm's-length analysis to derive arm's-length transfer prices. Following the application of the arm's length principle, Section 1 (3a) of the Foreign Tax Act further describes how to proceed with the derived range of values. If only limited comparability exists, the range of available third-party comparable data must be narrowed (e.g., if there is no specific indication, the interquartile range should be used according to Section 1 (3a) Sentence 3 Foreign Tax Act). In case the value used by the taxpayer is outside the full range or limited range, the arithmetic mean of the range of values is assumed to be the arm's-length transfer price for the transaction under review, if the taxpayer cannot prove that another value within the range better complies with the arm's-length principle. If a hypothetical arm's-length analysis is applied to derive arm's-length transfer prices, the range of negotiation is defined by the minimum price a hypothetical seller would accept and by the maximum price a hypothetical purchaser would pay. The taxpayer must use the arithmetic mean of the range of values if the taxpayer provides no reasons that another value within the range of negotiation complies with the arm's-length principle.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Local benchmarks are preferred, but European benchmarks are usually accepted if no local benchmarks are available. In tax audits, the validity of benchmark studies is often a major point of dispute between the taxpayer and the tax authorities.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Single-year testing is preferred for tested arm's-length analysis, but multiyear analyses are often accepted. Again, in tax audits, the validity of benchmark studies is often a major point of dispute between the taxpayer and the tax authorities.

The interquartile shall be used to test the arm's-length nature. This is now also suggested by Section 1 (3a) Sentence 3 of the Foreign Tax Act if there is no specific indication to use another narrowing method.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no legal requirement to perform a new benchmarking search or a financial update of a benchmarking study on an annual basis. In practice, a fresh search is recommended to be performed latest every three years, while a financial update shall be prepared annually.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

The weighted average is preferred for testing the arm's-length analysis.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

Usually, benchmarking studies should not include other companies with a common shareholder that owns 25% or more of the company's shares and should also exclude the company's own subsidiaries in which it has a share of 25% or more.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

The tax authority can impose a penalty of EUR10,000 for failing to provide a county-by-jurisdiction report in due time or providing an incomplete report Section 379 (2) no 1c, (5), German General Tax Code.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

EUR10,000

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

EUR5,000

▪ Are there any other penalties?

If a taxpayer does not comply with the transfer pricing documentation requirements to the extent outlined in Section 90 (3) of the German General Tax Code, a refutable assumption applies, and the tax authorities are allowed to assume that the taxpayer's income had been reduced by the amount of inappropriate transfer prices, thereby forming the basis of a transfer pricing adjustment. The tax authorities may apply Section 162 (3) of the German General Tax Code if the taxpayer submits insufficient or no documentation or if extraordinary transactions have not been recorded contemporaneously. In all three cases, the tax authority is authorized to estimate the income provided the taxpayer does not rebut the assumption. This also holds true when a taxpayer does not disclose relevant data available only from the foreign related parties. If the tax authorities have to estimate the arm's-length transfer prices and it is only possible to determine the relevant income within a certain range, the range may be fully exploited to the taxpayer's detriment. If the taxpayer fails to submit transfer pricing documentation, or if the documentation submitted is insufficient or essentially unusable, a penalty of 5% to 10% on the income adjustment may be applied, with a minimum penalty of EUR5,000. The same applies to the non-submission of the transaction matrix. In addition, for late filing, the taxpayer may face a penalty of up to EUR1 million, minimum penalty of EUR100 per day of delay, Section 162 (4) of the German General Tax Code. The surcharge is to be determined after the completion of the external audit (previously Section 162 (4) Sentence 7 German General Tax Code, now Section 162 (4) Sentence 3 German General Tax Code). Additionally, the surcharge may be set in cases of late submission for full weeks and months in partial amounts (Section 162 (4) Sentence 4 German General Tax Code). The penalty for late submission can also be imposed during an ongoing audit. According to the justification, this is intended to introduce a differentiation regarding the timing of the assessment. The ultimate amount is finally up to the discretion of the tax authority as far as not explicitly stipulated in law. Penalties are imposed after the closing of a tax audit. The aforementioned penalties constitute nondeductible expenses for tax purposes. Section 146 (2c) of the German General Tax Code further allows the assessment of penalties of up to EUR250,000 in case documents are not provided to tax auditors in a timely manner upon request. As of 2017, the penalty regime has been tightened and follows a transactional approach. Section 162 (4) of the German General Tax Code was also tightened by the implementation of DAC 7 in Germany for taxes arising after 31 December 2024 and will be amended stipulating autonomous and differentiated penalty qualifications for the lack of usable transfer pricing documentation or its late submission. This amendment shall produce differentiated qualitative and quantitative effects on penalties imposition. As mentioned above, noncompliance with the CbCR obligation may be subject to a penalty of up to EUR10,000 according to Section 379 of the German General Tax Code.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

- Additional details

Penalties can be assessed based on the taxpayer's noncompliance with the documentation requirements. An actual income adjustment is not subject to penalties. If the taxpayer fails to submit transfer pricing documentation or if the documentation provided is unusable or insufficient, a penalty of 5% to 10% of the income adjustment may be applied, with a minimum penalty of EUR5,000. In addition, for late filing, the taxpayer may face a penalty of up to EUR1 million, minimum penalty of EUR100 per day of delay, Section 162 (4) of the German General Tax

Code. The ultimate amount is finally up to the discretion of the tax authority as far as not explicitly stipulated in law. Penalties are imposed after the closing of a tax audit. The aforementioned penalties constitute nondeductible expenses for tax purposes. Section 146 (2c) of the German General Tax Code further allows the assessment of penalties of up to EUR250,000 in case documents are not provided to tax auditors in a timely manner upon request. As of 2017, the penalty regime has been tightened and follows a transactional approach. If no or insufficient transfer pricing documentation for a certain transaction is submitted, the burden of proof shifts to the taxpayer, and the German tax authorities can assess income adjustments up to the most unfavorable point (for the taxpayer) within the arm's-length range. Taxpayers, therefore, have to ensure that their transfer pricing documentation is complete and includes all intercompany transactions they are involved in, e.g., including intercompany financial transactions

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

- Additional details

If documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous, the tax authorities may claim that the documentation provided is unusable or insufficient, the burden of proof shifts to the taxpayer and the German tax authorities can assess income adjustments up to the most unfavorable point (for the taxpayer) within the arm's-length range.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Interest is only assessed on the additional tax payments (6% per annum, which is nondeductible for tax purposes), Section 238 (1) of the German General Tax Code. Interest starts accruing 15 months after the end of the calendar year in which the tax liability arose, Section 233a of the German General Tax Code. The penalties constitute nondeductible expenses for tax purposes. In its decision dated 8 July 2021, the German Federal Constitutional Court held that interest payments made in accordance with Section 233a of the German General Tax Code in conjunction with Section 238 (1) of the German General Tax Code are inconsistent with the German principle of equality stipulated in Article 3 (1) of German Constitutional Law. This holds true if the aforementioned legislation was applied to interest periods starting 1 January 2014 onward. The current legislation is still applicable to interest periods ending prior to or anytime in 2018. The German legislature introduced Section 238 (1a) of the German General Tax Code as a reaction to this court decision: As from 1 January 2019, interest for late payment amounts to 0.15% for each month started, i.e., 1.8% per year. The German ministry of finance also introduced an executive order law regarding these new interest rules.

▪ Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

▪ Additional details

The taxpayer is required to present compliant transfer pricing documentation to the German tax authority to avoid penalties. The taxpayer can avoid the consequence of a rebuttable assumption (Section 162 (3) of the German General Tax Code) if the taxpayer submits sufficiently compliant transfer pricing documentation any time prior to a ruling of a lower tax court. In this case, the court will not apply Section 162 (3) of the German General Tax Code in its ruling. However, penalties for late submission will be levied. In general, if an adjustment is assessed by the tax authorities in post-audit tax assessment notes that the taxpayer does not want to accept, the taxpayer is able to appeal the assessment at the local tax authority. Separate appeals will have to be filed against any penalty assessments. If an appeal is rejected by the tax authorities, the taxpayer can file a claim at the local tax court. In case the adjustment is not in line with respective double tax treaties or with the EU Arbitration Convention, the taxpayer may also file a request for MAP or arbitration at the Federal Central Tax Office.

In general, the assessment period for taxes (Section 169 of the German General Tax Code) is four years. For customs duties, it is shorter, and in cases of grossly negligent evasion of taxes or tax fraud, it is much longer. The assessment period is 10 years if a tax has been evaded and five years if a tax has been carelessly underpaid. This also applies if the tax evasion or careless tax underpayment was not committed by the taxpayer or a person used by the taxpayer to fulfill his tax obligations, unless the taxpayer proves that he has not obtained any pecuniary advantage as a result of the offense and that it is also not based on the fact that he has failed to take the precautions necessary to prevent tax evasion. These periods commence at the end of the calendar year in which the tax liability arose. No special time limit provisions apply if intercompany transactions are involved. However, taxpayers should be aware that under specific circumstances tax authorities are allowed to retroactively adjust the transfer price within a period of up to seven years (reduced from prior 10 years due to changes in local law and especially in Section 1 of the Foreign Tax Act as consequence of implementation of the German Withholding Tax Relief Modernization Act (Abzugsteuerentlastungsmodernisierungsgesetz) in cases where a significant intangible asset has been transferred between related parties (so-called price adjustment clause now stipulated in Section 1a of the Foreign Tax Act). The general regime of the statute of limitations applies in accordance with the German General Tax Code. Accordingly, each case has to be carefully considered to determine the specific statute of limitations. Most taxes are levied by way of assessment. Assessments can be made only within the statutorily prescribed assessment period, which is subject to the statute of limitations for assessments. The assessment period, however, does not start before the end of the calendar year in which the taxpayer has submitted the tax return (but also does not start later than three years after the year the tax liability arose), Section 170 of the German General Tax Code. There are a number of statutory exceptions to the end of the statute of limitations for assessments (e.g., it should be kept in mind that the limitation period is interrupted when a tax audit begins), Section 171 of the German General Tax Code. Section 175a of the German General Tax Code stipulates that tax assessments can be amended due to the result of an MAP or EU arbitration procedure up to one year after the effective date of such agreement, regardless of whether the aforementioned statutes of limitations have expired before.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Yes, the possibility of a tax audit in Germany depends on the classification of the entity/group that is audited. If the entity is part of a group and the revenue of the group is higher than EUR25 million in Germany a tax audit is mandatory. Usually, a tax audit covers a three- to four-year period on a continuous basis. The possibility of transfer pricing issues being scrutinized during a tax audit is also high and continuously rising. It is expected that transfer pricing issues will continue to attract significant attention in tax audits, in particular, with respect to transactions qualifying as extraordinary business transactions under the documentation provisions, such as the transfer of functions. Further, many tax audits increasingly focus on (brand) royalty charges and financing transactions. The German Federal Tax Office often joins the local tax authorities within an ongoing tax transfer pricing audit, especially with regard to financing transactions. In the last years, the German tax authorities have been very active with regard to coordinated tax audits with other jurisdictions, mostly within the EU (Section 12 of the EU Administrative Assistance Act).

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Yes, the possibility that the transfer pricing mechanism will be challenged if transfer pricing is reviewed as part of the audit is also high in view of the generally firm tax audit environment regarding transfer prices in Germany. In case the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, there is a high possibility that tax authorities will claim an adjustment based on their own methodology and estimates applied to the detriment of the taxpayer. The possibility of whether the taxpayer's position can ultimately be defended strongly depends on the fact and circumstances of the case.

The tax authority can impose a penalty of EUR10,000 for failing to provide a county-by-jurisdiction report in due time or providing an incomplete report Section 379 (2) no 1c, (5), German General Tax Code. If a taxpayer does not comply with the transfer pricing documentation requirements to the extent outlined in Section 90 (3) of the German General Tax Code, a refutable assumption applies, and the tax authorities are allowed to assume that the taxpayer's income had been reduced by the amount of inappropriate transfer prices, thereby forming the basis of a transfer pricing adjustment. The tax authorities may apply Section 162 (3) of the German General Tax Code if the taxpayer submits insufficient or no documentation or if extraordinary transactions have not been recorded contemporaneously. In all three cases, the tax authority is authorized to estimate the income provided the taxpayer does not rebut the assumption. This also holds true when a taxpayer does not disclose relevant data available only from the foreign related parties. If the tax authorities have to estimate the arm's-length transfer prices and it is only possible to determine the relevant income within a certain range, the range may be fully exploited to the taxpayer's detriment. If the taxpayer fails to submit transfer pricing documentation, or if the documentation submitted is insufficient or essentially unusable, a penalty of 5% to 10% of the income adjustment may be applied, with a minimum penalty of EUR5,000. In addition, for late filing, the taxpayer may face a penalty of up to EUR1 million, minimum penalty of EUR100 per day of delay, Section 162 (4) of the German General Tax Code. The ultimate amount is finally up to the discretion of the tax authority as far as not explicitly stipulated in law. Penalties are imposed after the closing of a tax audit. The aforementioned penalties constitute nondeductible expenses for tax purposes. Section 146 (2c) of the German General Tax Code further allows the assessment of penalties of up to EUR250,000 in case documents are not provided to tax auditors in a timely manner upon request. As of 2017, the penalty regime has been tightened and follows a transactional approach. Section 162 (4) of the German General Tax Code was also tightened by the implementation of DAC 7 in Germany for taxes arising after 31 December 2024 and will be amended stipulating autonomous and differentiated penalty qualifications for the lack of usable transfer pricing documentation or its late submission. This amendment shall produce differentiated qualitative and quantitative effects on penalties imposition. As mentioned above, noncompliance with the CbCR obligation may be subject to a penalty of up to EUR10,000 according to Section 379 of the German General Tax Code.

▪ If an adjustment is sustained, can penalties be assessed if documentation is deemed incomplete? Penalties can be assessed based on the taxpayer's noncompliance with the documentation requirements. An actual income adjustment is not subject to penalties. If the taxpayer fails to submit transfer pricing documentation or if the documentation provided is unusable or insufficient, a penalty of 5% to 10% of the income adjustment may be applied, with a minimum penalty of EUR5,000. In addition, for late filing, the taxpayer may face a penalty of up to EUR1 million, minimum penalty of EUR100 per day of delay, under Section 162 (4) of the German General Tax Code. The ultimate amount is finally up to the discretion of the tax authority as far as not explicitly stipulated in law. Penalties are imposed after the closing of a tax audit. The aforementioned penalties constitute nondeductible expenses for tax purposes. Section 146 (2c) of the German General Tax Code further allows the assessment of penalties of up to EUR250,000 in case documents are not provided to tax auditors in a timely manner upon request.

As of 2017, the penalty regime has been tightened and follows a transactional approach. If no or insufficient transfer pricing documentation for a certain transaction is submitted, the burden of proof shifts to the taxpayer, and the German tax authorities can assess income adjustments up to the most unfavorable point (for the taxpayer) within the arm's-length range. Taxpayers, therefore, have to ensure that their transfer pricing documentation is complete and includes all intercompany transactions they are involved in, e.g., including intercompany financial transactions

- If an adjustment is sustained, can penalties be assessed if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous? If documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous, the tax authorities may claim that the documentation provided is unusable or insufficient, the burden of proof shifts to the taxpayer and the German tax authorities can assess income adjustments up to the most unfavorable point (for the taxpayer) within the arm's-length range. Interest is only assessed on the additional tax payments (6% per annum, which is nondeductible for tax purposes), under Section 238 (1) of the German General Tax Code. Interest starts accruing 15 months after the end of the calendar year in which the tax liability arose, under Section 233a of the German General Tax Code. The penalties constitute nondeductible expenses for tax purposes. In its decision dated 8 July 2021, the German Federal Constitutional Court held that interest payments made in accordance with Section 233a of the German General Tax Code in conjunction with Section 238 (1) of the German General Tax Code are inconsistent with the German principle of equality stipulated in Article 3 (1) of German Constitutional Law. This holds true if the aforementioned legislation was applied to interest periods starting 1 January 2014 onward. The current legislation is still applicable to interest periods ending prior to or anytime in 2018. The German legislature introduced Section 238 (1a) of the German General Tax Code as a reaction to this court decision: In the cases of Section 233a of the German General Tax Code, the interest is from 1 January 2019 onward 0.15% for each month begun that means 1.8% for each year. The German ministry of finance also introduced an executive order law regarding these new interest rules.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

The possibility of a transfer pricing audit is particularly high in the following circumstances:

- Companies facing (long-term) losses
- Companies being involved in a business restructuring

- Companies that have intercompany business transactions with related parties located in low-tax jurisdictions
- Companies that have significant intercompany financing transactions

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

In Germany, taxpayers may apply for a bilateral or multilateral APA in relation to transfer pricing questions. German tax authorities usually do not grant unilateral APAs on transfer pricing questions in cases where there is a double tax treaty including an article on MAPs. The German Ministry of Finance issued an APA circular on 5 October 2006 that defines the APA procedures and provides guidance with regard to the negotiation of APAs. However, with the implementation of the APA 2023, the reference to the APA circular was deleted and instead the reference to the "Guidance note on international mutual agreement and arbitration procedures in the field of taxes on income and capital" dated 27 August 2021, was included. Additionally, Section 89a of the German General Tax Code has been introduced, and provides a local legislative basis for the APA procedure. Based on the new law, binding up-front multilateral agreements are now also possible for non-transfer pricing-related matters. In this context, the fees for APAs have been revised: EUR30,000 for a new APA and EUR15,000 for a renewal of the APA. Aforementioned fees are reduced to 25% in case the APA does not concern transfer pricing (i.e., EUR7,500 for a new APA, EUR3,750 for renewal of APA). For small taxpayers (i.e., those with intercompany tangible goods transactions below EUR6 million and other intercompany transactions below EUR600,000), the filing fee is limited to EUR10,000 for a new APA and EUR7,500 for a renewal of APA. Beyond this, reduced fees may also apply in case of a coordinated bilateral or multilateral tax audit. This has to be evaluated for the individual case. The administrative competence for APAs is centralized in the Federal Central Tax Office.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

From application to conclusion, the APA process can take 18 months to several years. According to the APA circular, the APA term should be not less than three years and not more than five years. In practice, however, APAs can and have already been negotiated for (much) longer time periods depending on the facts and circumstances of the case. According to Section 89a (3) of the General Tax Code, an agreement reached between two competent authorities will be made conditional in two regards: the taxpayer must consent to the intergovernmental agreement and must waive its right to appeal tax assessments to the extent that they are in line with the content of the APA.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

There is no automatic roll-back procedure. In contrast, Section 89a (1) of the German General Tax Code now stipulates that an APA will only cover such transactions that can be assessed in detail and have not been realized yet.

d. Is MAP available?

In this regard, special attention shall be paid to the revised circular "Guidance note on international mutual agreement and arbitration procedures in the field of taxes on income and capital" dated 27 August 2021 (replacing circular dated 9 October 2018), which comments on various questions concerning the application and conduct of aforementioned procedures. The taxpayer must be eligible under one of Germany's double taxation treaties, or the EU Arbitration Convention (90/436/EEC) or (for FYs starting 1 January 2018 onward) the implementation of the EU Directive on Tax Dispute Resolution Mechanisms (EU-Doppelbesteuerungsabkommen-Streitbeilegungsgesetz) to request a MAP. A formal and timely request to the Federal Central Tax Office, including a description of the facts and a legal assessment, is required. The request has to be submitted by the taxpayer or an authorized representative. MAP requests are accepted in the case of a taxpayer-initiated foreign bona fide adjustment. A taxpayer has to present the case to the tax authority within three years from the first notification to the taxpayer of the actions giving rise to the MAP.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

There are specific interest barrier rules (so-called German Zinsschranke), see Section 4h of the Income Tax Act 12 and Section 8a of the Corporate Income Tax Act. 13 There are also German CFC Rules covered in Section 7 of the Foreign Tax Act.

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

Yes

b. Name of authority

The Bundeszentralamt für Steuern (BZSt - German Federal Central Tax Office) is the central body for exchanging these reports in Germany.

c. Name of regulations

Public CbCR (pCbCR) was introduced by Directive (EU) 2021/2101. The law transposing the Directive into national law introduces pCbCR in Sections 342-342p German Commercial Code and extends the disclosure obligations for multinational companies in the area of income taxes.

d. Effective date of applicability

On 19 June 2023, Germany published its final implementation legislation in the Federal Gazette. The legislation requires all in-scope multinational enterprises (MNEs) to disclose defined income tax information on a country-by-country basis to the general public for all fiscal years beginning on or after 22 June 2024.

e. Section reference from local regulation

The implementation legislation was included in the German Commercial Code (HGB) under Sections 342-342p.

14. PCbCR thresholds and exemptions

a. What is the global consolidated income threshold?

EUR750 million

b. Are there any materiality exemptions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The new law primarily impacts companies that are already mandated to prepare a Country-by-Country Report (CbCR) in accordance with Section 138a German General Tax Code. The requirement is that the reported (consolidated) sales revenues must exceed EUR 750 million in two consecutive fiscal years (Section 342b et seq. German Commercial Code (HGB)). This applies to domestic group parent companies as well as unrelated companies with registered branches, fixed places of business, or permanent business activities in at least one other country.

Additionally, domestic medium-sized and large subsidiaries of a non-EU parent company are also affected. Domestic registered branches of non-EU companies are required to disclose information only if the sales threshold of EUR12 million is exceeded in two consecutive financial years.

Credit institutions, however, are exempt if all required information has already been disclosed elsewhere. If an enterprise falls within the scope described above, the reporting obligation begins from the second financial year in which the sales threshold is exceeded. The obligation ceases if the threshold is not met in two consecutive years.

15. Content

a. Does PCbCR align with OECD BEPS Action 13 CbCR requirements?

No

▪ Additional details

When applying the Directive, it cannot be assumed that the EU terminology is aligned with relevant Action 13 terminology. Only when a group chooses to apply the option to publish information that corresponds with DAC4 information, Action 13 terminology as incorporated in DAC4 will be leading.

b. Is aggregation of transactions allowed?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

c. Can you provide data sources and guidance?

Not applicable

16. Lodgment process and requirements

a. Is lodgment possible?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The retention periods for companies are primarily governed by two legal frameworks: tax law and commercial law. In the area of tax law, the retention obligations are regulated in the German General Tax Code (Abgabenordnung, AO), while the Commercial Code (Handelsgesetzbuch, HGB) contains corresponding provisions for merchants. The commercial and tax law provisions largely align, but the tax law regulations are particularly relevant for practical business operations. The retention obligation is part of the bookkeeping and record-keeping requirements under both tax and commercial law. Consequently, anyone who is obligated to maintain books and records according to tax or commercial law is also required to retain these documents. The specifics of the tax retention obligation are outlined in the German General Tax Code (AO), predominantly in Section 147 German General Tax Code. Except for the annual financial statements, the opening balance sheet, and the documents mentioned in paragraph 1 number 4a (if they are official documents or informally signed preference certificates), the documents listed in paragraph 1 can also be stored as reproductions on image carriers or other data carriers. (Section 147 (2) German General Tax Code).

A 10-year retention period (Section 147 (3) in conjunction with (1) Nr. 1, 4, and 4a German General Tax Code) applies to various documents, including books and records, annual financial statements, inventories, management reports, opening balance sheets along with the necessary working instructions and other organizational documents for their understanding, booking vouchers, invoices, and documents that must be attached to a customs declaration submitted using data processing means (ATLAS), provided that the customs authorities have waived their submission. A 6-year retention period applies to all other business documents subject to retention, such as received commercial or business letters, copies of sent commercial or business letters, and other documents, insofar as they are relevant for taxation. The retention period begins at the end of the calendar year in which the last entry was made in the book, the inventory was created, the opening balance sheet, annual financial statement, or management report was prepared, the commercial or business letter was received or sent, or the booking voucher was created, as well as when the recording was made or the other documents were created (Section 147 (4) German General Tax Code).

b. Is lodgment in another jurisdiction possible?

Yes

▪ Additional details

According to the tax regulations (Section 146 (2) German General Tax Code), the documents subject to retention must generally be kept in Germany. The Commercial Code does not specify a particular location, but the documents must be able to be presented within a reasonable time (Section 239 (4) Sentence 2 German Commercial Code).

According to Section 146 (2a) German General Tax Code, the competent tax authority may grant permission, upon written request from the taxpayer, to maintain and store electronic books and other necessary electronic records outside the scope of the German General Tax Code (Germany).

c. Is lodgment required in a prescribed form and format?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Regardless of the form of storage, the documents must remain readable throughout the entire retention period. For example, Section 14 (1) sentence 2 of the German Value Added Tax Act (UStG) specifically stipulates that invoices must be readable for the entire retention period of 10 years.

With the exception of annual financial statements, opening balance sheets, and the documents referred to in (1) number 4a, provided that the latter documents are official certificates or informal preference proofs that must be signed by hand, the documents listed in (1) may also be stored as reproductions on an image carrier or other data carriers, provided that this complies with the principles of proper accounting and ensures that the reproductions or data correspond visually with the received commercial or business letters and accounting records, and content-wise with the other documents when made readable. Additionally, these reproductions or data must be available at any time during the retention period, can be made readable immediately, and can be machine-evaluated. (Section 147 (2) of the German General Tax Code).

d. What is the lodgment deadline?

A 10-year retention period (Section 147 (2),(3) in conjunction with (1) number 1, German General Tax Code applies to various documents, including books and records, annual financial statements, inventories, management reports, opening balance sheets along with the necessary working instructions and other organizational documents for their understanding, booking vouchers, invoices, and documents that must be attached to a customs declaration submitted using data processing means (ATLAS), provided that the customs authorities have waived their submission. A six-year retention period applies to all other business documents subject to retention, such as received commercial or business letters, copies of sent commercial or business letters, and other documents, insofar as they are relevant for taxation. The retention period begins at the end of the calendar year in which the last entry was made in the book, the inventory was created, the opening balance sheet, annual financial statement, or management report was prepared, the commercial or business letter was received or sent, or the booking voucher was created.

17. Penalties

a. What are the maximum administrative penalties?

Max. EUR250,000

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

b. Is there any risk of criminal prosecution?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The risk of criminal prosecution strongly depends on the facts and circumstances of the case.

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

Regulation 11(1) of the 2020 Regulations L.I. 2412 requires all taxpayers who engage in transactions with persons with whom they are in a controlled relationship to file transfer pricing returns.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

▪ Additional details

No. The transfer pricing return and the corporate income tax return are separate requirements.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes, in the financial statements

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No. The CbCR notification is not included in the tax return.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No. There are no other information/documents to be filed.

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

Four months after the end of the year of assessment (financial year for a company)

▪ Additional details

Not later than four months after the end of each basis period

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

Four months after the end of the year of assessment (financial year for a company)

▪ Additional details

Not later than four months after the end of each basis period

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Four months after the end of the year of assessment (financial year for a company)

▪ Additional details

It is contemporaneous. The filing must be done not later than four months after the end of the entity's basis period.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

The CbCR is due 12 months after the last day of the reporting fiscal year of the MNE group.

▪ Additional details

The CbCR is due 12 months after the last day of the reporting fiscal year of the MNE group.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

No CbCR notification is required; rather, the actual filing or submission of the CbCR is required. The CbCR is due 12 months after the last day of the reporting fiscal year of the MNE group. The CbCR must be filed annually. The MNE group may designate one of the constituent entities to file the CbCR with the tax authority and notify the tax authority that the filing is intended to satisfy the filing requirement of all the constituent entities of the MNE group resident in the jurisdiction.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

Not later than four months after the end of each basis period.

▪ Additional details

Not later than four months after the end of each basis period

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Yes, the Local File is required to be filed not later than four months after the end of each basis period.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Not applicable. From November 2020, all Local Files are required to be filed. For periods prior to November 2020, there is no specified time in legislation for submission of the Local File with the tax authority upon request. In practice, the tax authority has been known to give clients 14 days, as it is the tax authority's expectation that taxpayers have this documentation already as required by law.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

- a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

There is no preference.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

- a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There is no legal requirement for local comparables. In practice, comparables from economies similar to Ghana are acceptable to the tax authority.

- b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

This is not specified, but multiyear analysis is commonly used.

- c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

Three-year interquartile range is preferred.

- d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no legal requirement to conduct a fresh benchmarking search every year. In practice, benchmarking is updated on a three-year basis.

- e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Weighted average is preferred.

- f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

Independence threshold of 25%

8. TP Penalties and Relief

- a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

A person who fails to maintain proper documents as required by a tax law is liable to pay for each month or part of a month during which the failure continues: (a) 75% of the tax attributable to that period where the failure is deliberate, or (b) in any other case, the lesser of the amount referred to in paragraph (a) and 250 currency points

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

GHS500, plus GHS10 for each day failure persists

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

GHS500 plus GHS10 for each day failure persists

- Are there any other penalties?

Failure to submit or late submission: An on-the-spot penalty of GHS500 and GHS10 for each day the noncompliance continues. Incorrect disclosures: Penalties for making false or misleading statements apply, calculated as 100% of the tax shortfall where the statement was made without reasonable excuse; it's 30% of the tax shortfall in any other case. Applicable for Local File specifically.

- b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes. A taxpayer may be deemed to have failed to maintain proper documents required by a tax law and such taxpayer will be liable to pay up to 75% of the tax payable by that taxpayer for the year.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes. A taxpayer may be deemed to have failed to maintain proper documents required by a tax law and such taxpayer will be liable to pay up to 75% of the tax payable by that taxpayer for the year.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Interest is assessed and computed at 125% of the statutory (central bank prime) rate and compounded monthly on the amount outstanding.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

A penalty shall not be imposed on a taxpayer for making false or misleading statements if that taxpayer voluntarily discloses to the CG of the GRA an error inadvertently made by that taxpayer before the error is discovered by a tax officer or before the next tax audit of that taxpayer, whichever is earlier.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The tax law, mandates records to be maintained for at least six years from the financial year-end. Where fraud, wilful default or serious omission is prevalent, there is no limit.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes, the transfer pricing method is being challenged in a transfer pricing audit may be considered to be medium to high and depends on taxpayer-specific circumstances.

- b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes. The GRA frequently proposes adjustments in successful challenges.

- c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

The interquartile range must be considered to be an arm's-length range.

- d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Not applicable

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

- a. Are APAs available?

Not applicable

- b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Not applicable

Commissioner of Income Tax, Income Tax Office

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

The reference is stated under the heading "Anti-avoidance." This does not set out any specific TP rules but refers to documents published by the OECD as part of its Transfer Pricing Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and Tax Administrations. This was effective from 1 January 2011 onward. "Artificial and fictitious" definition is effective from 25 October 2018.

c. Effective date of applicability

There is no specific requirement for treatment of domestic transactions.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Gibraltar is not a member of the OECD. Gibraltar's tax legislation states that general anti-avoidance provisions in the tax law must be construed in a manner that best secures consistency among those powers and internationally accepted principles for the determination of profit in respect of activities within a multinational group of companies – notably, the rules that, at 1 January 2011, were contained in Article 9 of the Model Tax Convention on Income and on Capital published by the OECD – and such documents issued by the OECD on or after 1 January 2011, which are designated by the relevant minister and published in the Gibraltar Gazette. From 25 October 2018 onward, "artificial and fictitious" is defined in terms of being "not consistent with the international standard of the arm's-length principle as defined by the OECD as part of their Transfer Pricing Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and Tax Administrations as amended from time to time."

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

No

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The authorities may impose a deadline of 30 days (or more) for providing information when an inquiry is made.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

There is nothing specific in the legislation, other than the abovementioned reference to documents published by the OECD.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There is none specified.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

There is none specified.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

There is none specified.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is none specified.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is none specified.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Not applicable

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

There is an initial penalty of £300 for failure to file a CbCR notification or return by the deadline.

Once such a penalty has been assessed and the entity notified of the assessment, there is a further penalty of up to £60 for each day that the failure to file continues. An increased daily penalty may be applied where the failure has continued for more than 30 days after notification of the initial penalty, provided approval to do so is obtained from the Income Tax Tribunal. Such increased penalty may not exceed £1,000 for each applicable day.

A penalty of up to £3,000 applies where an entity has provided inaccurate information as part of a CbCR report or notification, and the entity is aware of the inaccuracy the time the filing is made, or they subsequently become aware of the inaccuracy and fail to take reasonable steps to inform the Competent Authority of the inaccuracy.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File

Not applicable

- Are there any other penalties?

There are no specific transfer pricing penalties. If tax is underpaid, or paid late, a surcharge of 10% of the underpaid amount is due immediately after the date at which the tax was due. A further surcharge of 20% of the underpaid amount is due if the amount remains underpaid after another 90 days. Additional penalties are payable for failing to comply with specific provisions in the Income Tax Act 2010, though none specifically relate to TP, other than as described above for CbCR.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

There is no specific provision in the legislation for relief from surcharges. The penalties related to CbCR reports and notifications described in section 8a bullet two do not apply if the entity satisfied the Commissioner of Income Tax that there is a reasonable excuse for the failure. Furthermore, penalties may be removed at the discretion of the Commissioner of Income Tax.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The Commissioner of Income Tax has one year from the date that a return is received to give notice of his or her intention to make an inquiry about a return. After that date expires, for up to six years from the end of the relevant accounting period or tax year, the Commissioner of Income Tax may raise an assessment upon discovery that a person has not had the tax assessed or was assessed at a lesser amount than ought to have been assessed. There is a limit of 20 years after the end of the relevant financial year-end for additional assessments to be raised when any form of fraudulent or willful default or neglect has been committed.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

No

- Additional details

No. Formal tax audits are relatively rare. Ad hoc queries are frequently raised by the Income Tax Office on behalf of the Commissioner of Income Tax. Queries relating to TP are relatively uncommon, however, the tax authorities in Gibraltar have recently invested in additional resources to deal with any perceived aggressive tax planning

- b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Not applicable

- Additional details

No, as formal audits are very rare occurrences. If they occur, it is likely that a potential issue has been identified.

- c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

There is none specified.

- d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

There is none specified.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

- a. Are APAs available?

Taxpayers may request advance tax rulings from the Commissioner of Income Tax, in accordance with the Income Tax (Tax Rulings) Rules 2018, which is effective from 25 October 2018. A standard form is provided, which should be used to request a ruling. In determining whether sufficient evidence has been provided, the Commissioner must take into account any relevant OECD or other international benchmarks or standards.

- b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

A tax ruling will specify a period, not exceeding three years, during which it may be relied upon.

- c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

There is none specified.

- d. Is MAP available?

Gibraltar only has one DTA in place, which is with the United Kingdom. This provides for the operation of a MAP.

Interest paid is deemed a dividend where the debt-to-equity ratio exceeds 5: 1 and the interest is paid to a connected party that is not a company, or interest is paid to an arm's-length party where the loan is secured by assets belonging to a connected party that is not a company.

Gibraltar applies an interest limitation rule such that exceeding interest expense is deductible up to the greater of 30% of EBITDA or EUR3 million in line with the EU's Anti-Tax Avoidance Directive.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Ministry of Finance

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Transfer pricing in Greece is driven by the Income Tax Code (L. 4172/ 2013) and the Tax Procedures Code (L. 4174/ 2013), double taxation treaties, and supranational norms. Other decisions and guidelines issued are provided below:

- Circular POL 1142/ 02. 07. 2015 aims to clarify transfer pricing issues affecting intercompany transactions pertaining to tax years starting 1 January 2014. It provides long-anticipated clarifications on matters including the concept of "associated or affiliate persons," the calculation of the interquartile range, the use of databases for comparable company search and the benchmarking studies to be used for documentation purposes.
- Issued by the General Secretary of Public Revenues, Decision 1097/ 2014, as amended by Decision 1144/ 2014, provides the mandatory contents of the transfer pricing documentation file for intercompany transactions referring to financial years starting on or after 1 January 2014.
- Decision 1107/ 2023 of the Governor of the Independence Authority of Public Revenue determines the procedures for the conclusion, amendment, revocation and annulment of an APA. The decision refers to the procedures of both unilateral and bilateral APAs for cross-border intercompany transactions that take place in financial years starting 1 January 2014.
- APA guidelines and templates from the Ministry of Finance were issued initially in October 2014 and have been updated in July 2023. The CbCR requirements that are applicable to Greek tax resident entities that are members of an MNE group with a consolidated group turnover exceeding EUR750 million were introduced by L. 4484/ 2017 in August 2017.

c. Effective date of applicability

1 January 2014

d. Section reference from local regulation

The Income Tax Code (L. 4172/ 2013, Article 2) defines the term "associated person," which applies to legal persons, individuals and any other body of persons. The term encompasses two persons whereby:

- One of them directly or indirectly holds shares, parts or quotas of at least 33% in the other, which is estimated on the basis of total value or number, or equivalent profit participation rights or voting rights.
- A third person, directly or indirectly, participates in them in any of the aforementioned ways.
- There is, between them, direct or indirect management dependence or control, the possibility of one person exercising a decisive influence on the other, or the possibility of a third person doing so on both of them.
- Circular 1142/ 2015 provides examples of cases in which management dependence or control, or the possibility of one person exercising a decisive influence exists.
- Circular 1049/ 2019 regulates issues related to the MAP in accordance with bilateral conventions for the avoidance of double taxation.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There is no specific requirement for the treatment of domestic transactions in a distinct manner. Domestic transactions are in scope of transfer pricing documentation requirements similar to cross-border transactions.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Greece is a member of the OECD. The aforementioned legislative framework confirms the application of the OECD Guidelines. More specifically, according to the Income Tax Code, the provisions regarding intercompany transactions are, in principle, interpreted and implemented in accordance with the OECD Guidelines.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Greece has adopted the three-tier approach (i.e., Master File, Local File and CbCR) as described in OECD BEPS Action 13.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

The CbCR requirements are applicable to Greek tax resident entities that are members of an MNE group with a consolidated group turnover exceeding EUR750 million. On 1 December 2017, Greece's Independent Public Revenue Authority (AADE) published Decision 1184/2017, providing guidelines on the implementation of CbCR in Greece.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2016.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

The Master File is covered (with minimum content defined in local rules), whereas entities subject to documentation requirements need to prepare the file.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The Master File is required since the financial year 2008; however, the required minimum content of the file became closer to the suggested content in BEPS Action 13 from the financial year 2014.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

The main differences of the minimum required content of the Master File for Greek transfer pricing documentation purposes and the sample content suggested under BEPS Action 13 are:

The Greek rules require the description and high-level functional analysis in the Master File to be performed for all material transactions relevant to the Greek entities, and not to be limited to the services, intangibles and financial transactions. The Greek rules require special reference to the group's business strategy.

The Greek rules require reference to CCAs or court decisions relevant for transfer pricing purposes apart from reference to APAs.

- The Greek rules require a short description of the entities with which the Greek entities report intercompany transactions to be included also in the Master File.

iv. Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

The Local File is covered (with minimum content defined in local rules), whereas entities subject to documentation requirements need to prepare the file.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The Local File is required since financial year 2008; however, the required minimum content of the file became closer to the suggested content in BEPS Action 13 from financial year 2014.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

The main differences of the minimum required content of the Local File for Greek transfer pricing documentation purposes and the sample content suggested under BEPS Action 13 are:

- The Greek rules require analysis of all transactions, not only of material transactions.
- The Greek rules require explicit reference to the group pricing policy applied and to any debit or credit transfer pricing adjustments that may have taken place.
- The Greek rules require analysis to be included regarding any business restructurings subject to "transfer of functions" rules (Article 51 of the Income Tax Code).

- The Greek rules require a flowchart of transactions.
- The Greek rules require additional information such as financial statements of affiliates with which ICO transactions exist and that are located in non-cooperative jurisdictions.
- The Greek rules require a statement to be included by the taxpayer committing that additional information may be provided upon request.

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

▪ Additional details

The penalties for late/inaccurate filing of the CbCR stands at EUR10,000, while the penalty for the non-filing of the CbCR amounts to EUR20,000.

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCRs?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Yes, there are transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules in Greece. The transfer pricing documentation file has to be prepared annually up to the deadline for the submission of companies' corporate income tax (CIT) return; it has to be submitted to the Greek tax authorities within 30 days following their request.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Yes, the transfer pricing documentation has to be prepared annually under local jurisdiction regulations. Furthermore, all sections of the transfer pricing documentation files have to be updated. If profit-based documentation methods are applied through the performance of a comparability search, the comparable data defined on the basis of the benchmarking study can be used for the next two consecutive financial years. However, the comparable companies' financial data should be annually updated, and the compliance of the final set of comparable companies with the comparability and independence requirements should be examined for each financial year.

The transfer pricing file as per Decision 1097/ 2014 consists of both a Master File and a Local File in line with the OECD BEPS Action 13 initiative:

- The Master File is common for all group companies and contains common, standardized information for the group affiliates as well as for the branches.
- The Local File (Greek file) contains additional information regarding the Greek companies.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

▪ TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Turnover
- Is there any other threshold?

Yes
- Additional details

Persons subject to documentation requirements include taxpayers with a total value of intercompany transactions of more than EUR200,000 or EUR100,000, depending on whether their turnover is more or less than EUR5 million, respectively. Entities exempt from income tax obligations are also exempt from transfer pricing documentation requirements.
- CbCR
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

EUR750 million
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income
 - Is there any other threshold?

No
 - Additional details

The CbCR requirements are applicable to Greek tax resident entities that are members of an MNE group with a consolidated group turnover exceeding EUR750 million. On 1 December 2017, Greece's Independent Public Revenue Authority (AADE) published Decision 1184/2017, providing guidelines on the implementation of CbCR in Greece.
- Master File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

EUR200,000/EUR100,000
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other
- Is there any other threshold?

Yes
- Additional details

Persons subject to documentation requirements are also subject to Master File preparation requirement. Liable persons include taxpayers with a total value of intercompany transactions of more than EUR200,000 or EUR100,000, depending on whether their turnover is more or less than EUR5 million, respectively.

Entities exempt from income tax obligations are also exempt from transfer pricing documentation requirements.

Taxpayers qualifying as subject to documentation requirements need to document all transactions irrespective of value, whereas expense transactions fully tax-adjusted for corporate income tax purposes are exempt from documentation requirements.
- Local File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

EUR200,000/EUR100,000
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other
 - Is there any other threshold?

Yes
 - Additional details

Persons subject to documentation requirements are also subject to Local File preparation requirement. Liable persons include taxpayers with a total value of intercompany transactions of more than EUR200,000 or EUR100,000, depending on whether their turnover is more or less than EUR5 million, respectively.

Entities exempt from income tax obligations are also exempt from transfer pricing documentation requirements.

Taxpayers qualifying as subject to documentation requirements need to document all transactions irrespective of value, whereas expense transactions fully tax-adjusted for corporate income tax purposes are exempt from documentation requirements.

▪ Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

Taxpayers qualifying as subject to documentation requirements need to document all transactions irrespective of value, whereas expense transactions fully tax-adjusted for CIT purposes are exempt from documentation requirements.

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

▪ Additional details

On the basis of Decision 1097/ 2014, the transfer pricing documentation (i.e., Master File and Local File) needs to be submitted to the Greek tax authorities upon request in the Greek language. The Local File is required to be maintained in Greek even prior to submission.

- Is a safe harbor available?

No

▪ Additional details

There are no safe harbor rules available.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

▪ Additional details

There is not an explicit reference in the Greek transfer pricing rules; however, based on Greek transfer pricing rules' reference to OECD Guidelines, the preferred approach is individual testing, while aggregation is acceptable upon proper justification.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Companies must submit a Summary Information Table (SIT) of their intercompany transactions to the tax administration up to the deadline for the submission of companies' CIT returns.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

▪ Additional details

Taxpayers disclose their intragroup transactions by annually filing electronically a SIT of transfer pricing information. For intragroup transactions taking place from 1 January 2015, the SIT must be filed up to the deadline for the submission of companies' CIT returns.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Not applicable

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

There is a CbCR notification and CbC report submission requirement in Greece. A taxpaying member of an MNE group, which is subject to CbCR submission requirements, should release under Table Θ of its CIT return:

- The group it belongs to

- Whether it has submitted a CbCR
- The jurisdiction or tax jurisdiction of the UPE
- The jurisdiction or tax jurisdiction to which the CbCR has been submitted

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

30 June

- Additional details

The CIT return filing deadline is six months following the year-end (for entities with 31 December as year-end, this is, in principle, by 30 June of the next year).

- Submission/filing date: six months following the year-end

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

30 June

- Additional details

Companies are obligated to electronically submit a SIT of their intercompany transactions to the tax authorities up to the deadline for the submission of companies' CIT return (i.e., in principle, 30 June for companies with a financial year-end on 31 December).

- Submission/filing date

Up to the deadline for the submission of companies' CIT return (i.e., in essence six months following the year-end).

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Within 30 days upon tax authorities' request

- Additional details

The taxpayer should submit the transfer pricing file consisting of a Master File and a Local File within 30 days upon tax authorities' request. Master File and Local Files, although not required to be submitted until requested, they should be prepared by the time of the CIT return filing deadline.

- Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared)

Up to the deadline for the submission of companies' CIT return (i.e. in essence six months following the year-end).

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

The UPE of an MNE group or any other reporting entity, established in Greece, must submit the CbCR for each financial year electronically to the competent authority within 12 months from the end of the MNE group's reporting financial year. If the application for submitting the CbCR is not operational because of a technical failure, the deadline will be extended by seven working days.

CbCR for locally headquartered companies The same requirements apply for both domestic and non-Greek headquartered entities.

Within 12 months from the end of the MNE group's reporting financial year.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

In general, the deadline is on the last day of the reference year; however, for reporting financial year 2016, an extension of the notification deadline has been granted. This means that constituent entities should submit the notification by the deadline for the CbCR submission (i.e., for MNE groups with a reporting financial year ending on 31 December 2016, the first notification must be filed by 31 December 2017).

The deadline is on the last day of the reference year. Notification is required to be filed annually even if no change occurs. Each entity based in Greece shall file its own CbCR notification.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By tax return lodgment date

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation should be prepared annually up to the deadline for the submission of companies' CIT return (in principle, within six months from the year-end); it is not filed with the tax authorities until it is officially requested.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

ii. What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The taxpayer should be able to present the transfer pricing file to the audit authorities within 30 days following their request (requests always require the files to be submitted in Greek).

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

- Additional details

Greek regulations follow the OECD Guidelines. More specifically, Decision 1097/ 2014, as amended by Decision 1144/ 2014, adopts the OECD authorized methods. However, the traditional transaction methods (CUP, resale price and cost-plus) are preferred, while transactional profit methods are allowed when the traditional methods do not lead to reliable results. In particular, transactional profit transfer pricing methods, such as the TNMM and profit-split, can be used only in cases in which the above traditional transfer pricing methods are considered ineffective because of the absence of available or sufficient comparables, provided that a detailed justification is included in the documentation files.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

For performing the comparable company search, any database may be used as long as relevant details on the database are included in the transfer pricing file. In practice, the Greek tax authorities accept pan-European benchmarking studies; in case that the Greek entity is the tested party then feasibility of a local (Greek) benchmarking study is advisable to be checked based on availability of Greek potentially comparable entities.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

If profit-based documentation methods are selected to calculate the acceptable interquartile range, the weighted-average financial data of the comparable companies for the three financial years preceding the year under review should be utilized (this is a legal requirement).

The tested party's results should always refer to one year (this is a legal requirement).

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

The arm's-length range, determined based either on prices or on profit margins, is the interquartile range; the calculation method coincides with the spreadsheet formula.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

On the basis of Decision 1142/ 2015, the comparable data defined based on a benchmarking study can be used for the next two consecutive financial years; however, the financial data should be annually updated, and the compliance of the final set of comparable entities with the comparability and independence requirements should be examined for each financial year (this is a legal requirement).

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

The weighted average is preferred in testing an arm's-length analysis.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

The search strategy should incorporate the independence criteria as provided by the Greek legislation currently in force. In this respect, the term “associated person” refers to persons that:

- Are affiliated, due to the participation of one person, to the other, holding, directly or indirectly, shares, partnership units or equity participation of at least 33% based on value or number, or profit rights or voting rights
- Are affiliated to any other person holding, directly or indirectly, shares, partnership units, voting rights or equity participation of at least 33% based on value or number, or profit rights or voting rights in one of the affiliate persons
- Are affiliated to any other person with which there is a direct or indirect significant management dependence or control; or the person that exercises decisive influence on or may significantly influence the company's decision-making; or in cases where both persons have an exclusive direct or indirect relationship of material management dependence or control; or may be of significant management influence by a third party

In light of the above, a 33% shareholding screening step, as well as a 33% subsidiary screening step, should be included. In addition, a screening of potential comparable entities for persons holding management position in more than one entity is strongly advised; this screening step is applied for checking existence of common control in management.

The final set of comparable observations should consist of at least five observations in order to calculate the interquartile range. Furthermore, the calculation of the quartiles should be based on a specific formula (this is a legal requirement) that is identical to the spreadsheet formula.

During the comparability search, information reasonably available to the taxpayer when preparing the documentation should be used, while the use of databases is restricted to releases available two months prior to a company's year-end and up to the deadline for the submission of the companies' CIT return (this is a legal requirement).

The profit margins of the controlled entity should be calculated with reference to the local tax legislation irrespective of the accounting standards used for drafting its financial statements.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

A penalty will not be imposed for filing incomplete documentation

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

EUR20,000

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

- Are there any other penalties?

Transfer pricing penalties include:

- Penalties for the late filing of the SIT are calculated at 0.1% on the value of the transactions subject to documentation requirements (minimum penalty of EUR500 and maximum penalty of EUR2,000). In the event of filing an amended SIT, a penalty applies only to the extent that the declared amounts are amended and such amendments exceed the amount of EUR200,000. In the event that the amended amounts exceed EUR200,000, the penalty is calculated at 0.1% on the value of the transactions subject to documentation requirements (minimum penalty of EUR500 and maximum penalty of EUR2,000).
- Penalties for an inaccurate filing of the SIT are calculated at 0.1% on the value of the amounts to which the inaccuracy relates (minimum penalty of EUR500 and maximum penalty of EUR2,000). If the inaccuracy consists of differences in the amounts declared and does not exceed 10% of the value of the total transactions subject to documentation, no penalty applies.
- Penalties for the non-filing of the SIT are calculated at 0.1% on the value of the transactions subject to documentation requirements, with a minimum penalty of EUR2,500 and a maximum penalty of EUR10,000.
- In the case of failure to provide the tax authorities with transfer pricing documentation within 30 days from the official request, a penalty of EUR5,000 applies, which is increased to EUR10,000 if transfer pricing documentation is provided after 60 days, and to EUR20,000 if it is provided after 90 days or not provided at all.

- The penalty for non-submission of the CbCR has been set at EUR20,000, whereas the penalty for late submission or submission of inaccurate information has been set at EUR10,000.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

In the case of noncompliance with the arm's-length principle, the difference in taxable profits will increase the tax base of the company. In addition, the general income tax inaccuracy penalties, ranging from 10% to 50% of the tax underpayment, as well as default interest, will apply.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

No, there are not penalty provisions in the Tax Procedures Code (L. 4174/ 2013) on the submission of an incomplete or noncompliant transfer pricing documentation file, unless it is considered that its noncompliance is equivalent to non-submission (in which case the non-submission penalties are applicable).

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

In the case of late payment of any amount of tax within the statutory period, including the late submission of tax returns, the taxpayer is obligated to pay interest on that amount starting from the statutory deadline. The interest rate currently is set at 8.76% annually (0.73% monthly).

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

No penalty relief is available.

Upon the completion of a tax audit, the taxpayer is notified of a temporary assessment note. According to Article 33 of L. 5104/2024 (Tax Procedures Code), the taxpayer may file, within 20 days, a memo to the tax authorities stating his or her views of the tax audit's findings.

Within one month from the receipt of the taxpayer's memo or from the due date for such submission, the tax auditors shall issue the final assessment note, which will be handed over to the taxpayer together with the relevant audit report.

Within 30 days of the notification of the final assessment note, the taxpayer may file an administrative appeal before the Dispute Resolution Department of Article 72 of L. 5104/2025, seeking a revision of the case (tax audit results and final assessment note). The Dispute Resolution Department should issue its decision within 120 days from the filing or submission of the administrative appeal.

If the Dispute Resolution Department fails to issue a decision within 120 days, the appeal is deemed to have been implicitly rejected. Having said that, the Dispute Resolution Department will examine only the tax items challenged by the company through the administrative appeal. In the case of an adverse decision on the administrative appeal or implicit rejection thereof, the taxpayer may appeal before the Administrative Court within 30 days as of the notification of the decision (or the implicit rejection).

If, following a tax audit, profits from intragroup transactions that have been subject to tax in Greece are included in the profits of a legal entity, the related party that is subject to tax may request a corresponding adjustment to its taxable profit. This is carried out by means of a filing of an amending tax return, accompanied by the audit report issued by the tax authorities within a deadline of three months from the notification of the act of the corrected tax assessment to the audited legal person. The refund or offsetting of tax at the level of the related party is conditional upon the payment by the audited legal entity of the tax assessed in the context of the correction of the profits from the intra-group transactions entered into between the two related parties.

EU arbitration through a MAP procedure and through double tax treaties' MAP procedure may be available depending on the tax residency of the counterparties and their eligibility.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

Taxpayers must keep documentation files for a period equal to the statute of limitations for the performance of a tax audit, as specified by the provisions of the general tax provisions applicable for the said financial year.

Open tax years as of 1 January 2025 are, in principle, the financial year 2019 and onward, whereas the statute of limitations is, in principle, six years following year-end.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

In the course of the statutory audit, certified auditors may be required to issue a tax certificate to the companies they audit by performing a special audit of their tax affairs, which takes place at the same time as the statutory audit. Based on this, the transfer pricing documentation file should be available to the certified auditors before the tax certificate is issued. Further, based on our recent experience, local tax authorities tend to scrutinize taxpayers' transfer pricing arrangements in the course of tax audits, focusing especially on the review of the benchmarking studies included in the documentation files.

The likelihood of a tax audit by the local tax authorities, in general, can be considered as high, based on recent experience. Further, in the course of general audits, the possibility that transfer pricing will be reviewed is characterized as certain, based on the audit program followed by the Greek tax authorities. Tax authorities tend to challenge related-party transactions, and there is a clear trend toward increased awareness of transfer pricing issues among local tax auditors

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Yes, the authorities challenge the transfer pricing methodology only if it leads to an adjustment. The Greek tax auditors are focused more on the results of the transfer pricing policy rather than on the policy itself unless they find this as an opportunity to assess differences. Nevertheless, there were few recent cases that the Greek tax auditors challenged the transfer pricing methodology.

There are no specific provisions in the Greek TP rules in terms of the transfer pricing adjustments. Nevertheless, it is a common practice by the Greek tax authorities to request the performance of the TP adjustments to the median of the audited interquartile range.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

There is none specified.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

The Tax Procedures Code, along with implementing decisions, provides the possibility of an APA from 1 January 2014. An APA will cover any relevant criteria used for the intragroup pricing.

These criteria mainly include the transfer pricing method, the comparable data to be used and any relevant adjustments to be made as well as the critical assumptions under which the approved transfer pricing methodology will remain valid.

A taxpayer in Greece may apply for a unilateral, bilateral or multilateral APA.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

An APA term cannot exceed four years and a retroactive effect is possible in the cases of bilateral/multilateral APAs (retractive effect of an APA covers all open Fiscal Years, excluding the ones under tax audit).

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Refer to section tenure for retroactive effect.

d. Is MAP available?

Greece has concluded, so far, 57 deferred tax claims (DTCs), which (except for the DTC with the United Kingdom) contain MAP provisions. In addition, MAP under EU Arbitration Convention (EUAC) is feasible. The submission of a written request (by Greek tax residents) in Greek language is required for the initiation of a MAP by the Greek competent authority. Depending on its content, a MAP request is submitted to and examined by the following tax authorities of the Independent Authority for Public Revenues:

- All MAP requests except for transfer pricing cases should be addressed to the Independent Authority for Public Revenue's International Economic Relations Directorate – Tax Affairs Section, Department A.
- MAP requests for transfer pricing cases should be addressed to the Independent Authority for Public Revenue's General Directorate of Tax Administration, Directorate of Audit Operational Planning – Department D: Transfer Pricing - Multilateral and Special Audits
- A copy of the request, without its accompanying documents, should be also communicated to the Independent Authority for Public Revenue's International Economic Relations Directorate – Department A. A MAP case must be presented within the time limits laid down by the applicable DTC or EUAC from the first notification of the action resulting in taxation not in accordance with the provisions of the DTC. Most of the DTCs that Greece has concluded set a time limit of two or three years. The EUAC sets a limit of three years unless a year is statutorily barred. MAP or judicial appeal procedure can be pursued simultaneously provided the hearing of the case has not taken place upon the filing of the MAP request. There is no suspension of tax collection during the MAP process. Following BEPS Action 14 minimum standard, Greece has adopted part V of the Multilateral Instrument (MLI) on the MAP. Greece has made notification on a number of matters. Additionally, Greece has chosen to apply Part VI of the MLI on Mandatory Binding Arbitration (MBA). Greece reserved the right to set a three-year period limit for MAP, following which a taxpayer may request initiation of the MBA mechanism, instead of a two-year period, provided for in Article par. 1 (b) of the MLI. The MLI has not been ratified yet by the Greek Government in order for the covered agreements to be modified.

Under the GITC (article 49 of L. 4172/ 2013, as amended by article 11 of L. 4607/ 2019), the maximum threshold up to which exceeding borrowing costs are deducted is 30% of taxpayers EBITDA, while the threshold up to which exceeding borrowing costs are fully deductible is EUR 3 million. On the other hand, GITC allows to a taxpayer to carry forward without any time limitation exceeding borrowing costs, that cannot be deducted in the current tax year. It should be noted that the maximum threshold up to which exceeding borrowing costs are deducted does not apply to exceeding borrowing costs incurred on loans used to fund a long-term public infrastructure project, in cases where the project operator, borrowing costs, assets and income are all in the EU. Based on the relevant provisions, the aforementioned EBITDA is defined as the sum of taxable income, tax-adjusted amounts for exceeding borrowing costs as well as tax-adjusted amounts for depreciation and amortization, while tax exempt income is not taken into account for such calculation. For the purposes of applying the above, exceeding borrowing costs are defined as the difference between a taxpayer's taxable interest revenues and other economically equivalent taxable revenues and the deductible borrowing costs of such taxpayer, while the term "borrowing costs" includes interest expenses on all forms of debt as well as expenses incurred in connection with the raising of finance. The interest limitation rule expressly excludes from its scope several types of financial undertakings (e.g. credit institutions, insurance companies, alternative investment funds, UCITS).

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

Yes

b. Name of authority

Ministry of Finance

c. Name of regulations

Law 5066/2023

d. Effective date of applicability

Fiscal years starting after 22 June 2024

e. Section reference from local regulation

Effective date provided in art. 18 of Law 5066/2023

14. PCbCR thresholds and exemptions

a. What is the global consolidated income threshold?

EUR750 million

b. Are there any materiality exemptions?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Additional details

Aggregation is provided for reporting of data relevant for tax jurisdictions that are not part of the EU and/or tax jurisdictions considered as non-cooperative for tax purposes.

15. Contenta. Does PCbCR align with OECD BEPS Action 13 CbCR requirements?

Yes

- Additional details

The Public Report shall include information relating to all the activities of the standalone or ultimate parent enterprise, including those of all affiliates consolidated in the financial statements of the relevant fiscal year. The information to be disclosed consists of:

- Name of the ultimate parent or the standalone enterprise, the financial year concerned, and the currency used
- Nature of activities
- Number of employees
- Total net revenue (incl. revenues from affiliates)
- Profit (loss) before income tax
- Amount of income tax accrued in the country by reason of the profits made in the current year in that country
- Amount of income tax paid on a cash basis during that year
- Accumulated earnings

b. Is aggregation of transactions allowed?

Yes

c. Can you provide data sources and guidance?

Art. 7 par. 6 of Law 5066/2023 provides for the data that need to be reported separately, and data allowed to be aggregated.

16. Lodgment process and requirementsa. Is lodgment possible?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Is lodgment in another jurisdiction possible?

Yes

- Additional details

Currently, the platform for lodgment of the Public CBRR is not available, this is expected to be available closer to the deadline of the first year of application.

c. Is lodgment required in a prescribed form and format?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the lodgment deadline?

Publication should be accomplished within 12 months of the closing date of the financial year for which the Public Report is drawn up and remain publicly accessible indefinitely.

17. Penalties

a. What are the maximum administrative penalties?

Noncompliance can result in fines ranging from EUR10,000 to EUR100,000 for the management and administrative bodies and the legal representatives of branches.

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Is there any risk of criminal prosecution?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Tax Administration Superintendence (Superintendencia de Administración Tributaria – SAT)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Articles 54 to 67 of LAT or Tax Legislation Update (TLU) (Ley de Actualización Tributaria – Decree No. 10- 2012) and Articles 37 to 66 of the TLU Regulations No. 213- 2013. In addition, in October 2016, the tax authorities published transfer pricing technical guidelines that establish parameters related to the presentation, content, calculation formulas and analysis to perform an adequate and standardized transfer pricing analysis. But most importantly, they refer to BEPS initiatives such as the Master File requirement as part of transfer pricing documentation. Regarding the validity of these guidelines, pursuant to Section 3(h) of the Organic Law of the Tax Administration Superintendence, Decree 1- 98 of the Guatemalan Congress, the Guatemalan tax authorities are empowered to issue and implement any sorts of mechanisms or guidance that may enable the taxpayers to comply with their tax obligations more easily. However, the transfer pricing guidelines have not been ratified by the Guatemalan Congress and should not be understood as legally binding to the taxpayer.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no specific requirement for the treatment of domestic transactions.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

No

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Unreliant

▪ Additional details

Guatemala is not a member of the OECD, and there is no specific reference to the OECD Guidelines in the regulations.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

No

▪ Additional details

It has not been formally implemented in the transfer pricing legislation. However, in October 2016, the tax authorities published transfer pricing technical guidelines that refer to BEPS initiatives such as the Master File requirement as part of the transfer pricing documentation.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

No

▪ Coverage

Not applicable

- Effective or expected date of commencement

Not applicable

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

Not applicable

- Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

- Coverage

It has not been formally implemented in the transfer pricing legislation. However, in October 2016, the tax authorities published transfer pricing technical guidelines that refer to BEPS initiatives such as the Master File requirement as part of the transfer pricing documentation. In such guidelines, the tax authorities indicate that the transfer pricing documentation must contain information related to the MNE group listing the information to be included.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The Master File requirement on the transfer pricing technical guidelines is applicable for transactions from fiscal year 2016 onward.

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

No

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

- a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes, and the transfer pricing documentation needs to be prepared annually.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing report and return must be prepared annually, updating all the information that allows to a correct transfer pricing analysis. The local tax authorities require use of the most recent available financial information for the comparables and the tested party.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

▪ TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

No

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

According to Article 369 of the Guatemalan Commerce Code, accounting must be kept in Spanish. In addition, even when the transfer pricing regulations do not expressly state this as mandatory, the Law of the Judicial Branch, in its Article 37, provides that all documents proceeding from abroad that have been prepared in a foreign language should be translated to be fully effective in Guatemala prior to being filed before any governmental entity.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Unspecified

- Additional details

There is no specific requirement for safe harbor availability.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

- Additional details

Individual testing of transactions is preferred, if possible.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

Taxpayers are required to file a transfer pricing information return in the form of an appendix to the annual income tax return, which must be submitted by 31 March each year. Such appendix is a separate form from the income tax return.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

Taxpayers are required to attach their audited financial statements that must be prepared according to “generally accepted accounting principles.” No mandatory provisions regarding the inclusion of intercompany transactions are in force; however, it is common practice for external auditors to include a section on intercompany transactions.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes. Usually, information of type of intercompany transactions, amount and name of the related party is included in the audited financial statements. This information must be consistent with the information disclosed in the rest of the TP disclosures of information.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

31 March

- Additional details

The documentation should be submitted on or before 31 March.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

31 March

- Additional details

Transfer pricing informative return should be submitted on or before 31 March.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

By tax return lodgment date

- Additional details

The documentation should be prepared annually by the time of lodging the tax return, to be submitted upon request.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

Not specified

- Additional details

There is none specified.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Not specified

- Additional details

There is none specified.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By tax return lodgment date

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation needs to be prepared by the time of lodging the tax return.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

None

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The taxpayer needs to submit the transfer pricing documentation within 20 days once requested by the tax authorities.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

- Additional details

Acceptable transfer pricing methods are the CUP, resale price, cost-plus, profit-split, TNMM, and the imports and exports valuation method (the “sixth method”). The CUP, resale price and cost-plus methods take priority over the transactional methods. In addition, the sixth method is preferred for transactions involving imports or exports of goods with well-known prices in international markets.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There is no benchmarking requirement using local comparable companies because of the lack of publicly available financial information.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Multiyear testing is preferred for the comparables; in practice, the number of years is three.

Spreadsheet quartile is preferred, as per common practice.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

The transfer pricing report and return must be prepared annually, updating all the information that allows a correct transfer pricing analysis. Additionally, in practice, local tax authorities expect to see the most recent comparable information and to use the most recent available financial information for the comparables and the tested party.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

The weighted average, as per common practice, is preferred.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

The tax authorities can request the taxpayers to complete information by formal requests since as of today, there are no specific penalties in the Guatemalan Law for incomplete documentation.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

▪ Are there any other penalties?

According to Article 66 of the Regulations to the TLU, penalties for failure to comply with the transfer pricing obligations correspond to the general tax penalties. According to Article 94 (13) of the Tax Code, penalties for failure to present the transfer pricing documentation upon request of the tax authority would be GTQ5,000 for the first time, GTQ10,000 for the second time and GTQ10,000 plus 1% of the taxpayer's gross income from then on. Additionally, if the taxpayer does not comply with the submission of the requested transfer pricing information, the tax authorities generally apply the fine provided in Article 93 of the Tax Code regarding the tax offense involving refusing to cooperate with the requirements performed within a tax audit process. Penalties imposed may consist of fines or eventually lead to closure of the business. In addition, any additional tax generated by price adjustments made by the SAT is subject to surcharges and penalty interest.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

▪ Additional details

Yes, in case of incorrect compliance:

- A fine equivalent to 100% of the tax due
- Late payment interest defined by the SAT
- GTQ100 (approximately USD12.90) as a formal fine for the rectification (applicable for the transfer pricing return)

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

▪ Additional details

- Yes, in case of incorrect compliance:
 - A fine equivalent to 100% of the tax due
 - Late payment interest defined by the SAT
 - GTQ100 (approximately USD12.90) as a formal fine for the rectification (applicable for transfer pricing return)

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

▪ Additional details

Late payment interest defined by the SAT

▪ Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Penalties can be reduced up to 85% for the failure to submit documentation (only for the first time) if the omission is corrected by the taxpayer. When the taxpayer accepts the errors in the determination of tax liability, before the tax authorities pre-grant a hearing, the taxpayer must pay the resulting tax and interest payments with a discount of 40% and penalty for late payment reduced by 80%, provided it makes the payment within the next five days from the date of issue of the administrative record (Section 145 "A" Tax Code). However, upon the letter of determination issued by the tax authorities, the fine equal to 100% of the omitted tax may be reduced as follows (Section 46 Tax Code):

- If the payment is made at the administrative hearing granted by the tax authorities, a 75% discount should be granted.
- If the payment is made before filing for an administrative appeal, a 50% discount should be granted.
- If the payment is made before filing a claim before the Tax Court, a 25% discount should be granted. According to the local tax code, taxpayers may express their disagreement with the position taken by tax authorities. In the first stage, the administrative procedure is available prior to the judicial process.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The statute of limitations on assessments is four years from the date of filing the tax return.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Yes. When transfer pricing is scrutinized, the possibility that the transfer pricing methodology will be challenged may be considered to be high. In practice, the SAT consistently has been questioning the application of transfer pricing methods (i.e., sixth method instead of the CUP method or operating margin methods instead of gross margin methods), comparables with losses, and the formulas and interest rate for capital adjustments to the comparables, among others.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Yes, in most audits where the SAT challenges either the methodology or the comparables, the possibility of an adjustment may be considered to be high.

According to Article 47 of the TLU Regulations, if the results of a controlled transaction fall outside the arm's-length range, the tax authorities will perform an adjustment to the median of such range.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Taxpayers that have not complied with previous transfer pricing obligations, experiencing losses, effective tax rate low or equal to zero, and transactions regarding the import and export of commodities are more likely to be audited.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

APAs are contemplated in Article 63 of the TLU. Taxpayers can request an APA for a maximum of four years. The procedures for establishing an APA are established in Articles 57 to 63 of the Regulations to the TLU.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The term could be as long as four years.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable

d. Is MAP available?

There is none.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

Guinea does not have specific thin capitalization rules, but the following limitations are imposed for the deductibility of interest paid to foreign parties in respect of funds provided to local companies:

- The interest rate must be capped to Central Bank of the Republic of Guinea (Banque Centrale de la République de Guinée – BCRG) interest rate.
- The share capital of the local company must be fully paid.
- The total amount of the loan must not exceed the share capital (limitation not usually applied).
- In addition, under the 2019 Finance Act, the deductibility of loan interest among related companies is now limited to 15% of the borrowing company's restated income. The restated result is the result of the ordinary activities of the entity, to which are added:
 - The deductible interest expense pursuant to Article 97, i.e., compliance with the general conditions for the deductibility of expenses, compliance with the WHT due, compliance with the limit of the normal refinancing rate of the BCRG and release of at least half of the capital
- Tax on industrial or commercial profits, corporation tax and minimum flat tax
- Allowances for depreciation deductible, pursuant to Article 98
- Depreciation allowances deductible, pursuant to Articles 101 and 102 of the tax code

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

An information return on the transactions conducted with related parties should be filed annually, as follows:

- For fiscal years that end December 31, taxpayers must file the transfer pricing return (Declaración Jurada Informativa Anual Sobre Precios de Transferencia) between 1 January and 30 April of the following year.
- For a special fiscal year that does not end December 31, taxpayers must file the transfer pricing return within three months after the fiscal year-end.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

Taxpayers must report on the income tax return whether they conducted transactions with related parties and disclose the total amount of such related-party transactions, indicating whether they are assets, liabilities, income or expense items. However, the transfer pricing return is a separate form from the corporate income tax return.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Usually, information of type of intercompany transactions, amount and name of the related party is included in the audited financial statements. This information must be consistent with the information disclosed in the rest of the TP disclosures of information.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

30 April

- Additional details

The corporate income tax return should be filed annually, as follows:

- For fiscal years that end in December 31, taxpayers must file the return between 1 January and 30 April of the following year.
- For a special fiscal year that does not end in December, taxpayers must file the return within three months after the fiscal year-end.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

The CbCR must be submitted no later than 12 months from the last day of the multinational group's reporting tax year.

▪ Additional details

The reporting tax year is the fiscal year for which financial and operating results are reflected in the CbCR.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

The CbCR notification must be submitted no later than 31 December of the reporting tax year of the multinational group.

▪ Additional details

The legal representative of a constituent entity that resides for tax purposes in Honduras must digitally notify the Executive Director of the Tax Administration: (i) if it enjoys the status of UPE or surrogate parent entity; or (ii) to provide the identity and tax residence of the reporting entity.

The reporting tax year is the fiscal year for which financial and operating results are reflected in the CbCR.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By tax return lodgment date

▪ Additional details

Taxpayers are required to prepare transfer pricing documentation annually by the due date of the income tax return. The documentation should be filed only upon request of the SAR.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

▪ Additional details

The submission is to be done upon request of the tax authorities.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Ten days upon request of the tax authorities

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The provisions require the application of the most appropriate transfer pricing method. The specified methods are the CUP (and the "sixth method" that is considered within the CUP method), resale price, cost-plus, profit-split, TNMM and any other alternative method (as long as it is possible to demonstrate that no other method can be reasonably applied and that it represents what third parties will agree upon under comparable arm's-length circumstances). A taxpayer can use an alternative method when it is in accordance with the international practice and standards and previously approved by the SAR.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There are no benchmarking requirements for local and regional comparables, considering the lack of financial information available on local comparables. Thus, international comparables are accepted by the tax authorities.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Multiple-year testing (up to five years) is acceptable for the comparables. However, in practice the number of years is three.

Interquartile range calculation using spreadsheet quartile formulas is requested by regulations.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

A fresh benchmarking search vs. a financial update needs to be conducted every year. The transfer pricing report and return must be prepared annually, updating all the information that allows a correct transfer pricing analysis. Additionally, in practice, local tax authorities expect to see the most recent comparable information and to use the most recent available financial information for the comparables and the tested party.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Weighted average is preferred, as per common practice.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

If taxpayers fail to provide information or provide false, incomplete or inaccurate information in response to a request by the SAR, a penalty of USD10,000 applies. If taxpayers report taxable income less than it should have been under arm's-length conditions, a penalty of 15% on the corresponding income adjustment applies. If taxpayers fail to provide the correct information and fail to declare a correct taxable income, then the penalties will be the greater of 30% or USD20,000. If taxpayers fail to comply with any other provision of the Transfer Pricing Law, a penalty of USD5,000 applies.

What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

For the CbCR, non-submission, providing false or manifestly incomplete/inaccurate data, or late submission will be sanctioned with a penalty of USD10,000, in accordance with the provisions of Paragraph 1 of Article 19 of the law "Ley de Regulación de Precios de Transferencia" for failing to comply with the provisions of Paragraph 1) of Article 18 of the same Law.

In the case of CbCR notification, non-submission or late submission will be sanctioned in accordance with Article 160 of the Tax Code.

What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

Are there any other penalties?

If taxpayers fail to provide information or provide false, incomplete or inaccurate information in response to a request by the SAR, a penalty of USD10,000 applies. If taxpayers report taxable income less than it should have been under arm's-length conditions, a penalty of 15% on the corresponding income adjustment applies. If taxpayers fail to provide the correct information and fail to declare a correct taxable income, then the penalties will be the greater of 30% or USD20,000. If taxpayers fail to comply with any other provision of the Transfer Pricing Law, a penalty of USD5,000 applies.

b. Penalties post TP audit

Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

Additional details

If taxpayers fail to provide information or provide false, incomplete or inaccurate information in response to a request by the SAR, a penalty of USD10,000 applies. If taxpayers report taxable income less than it should have been under arm's-length conditions, a penalty of 15% on the corresponding income adjustment applies. If taxpayers fail to provide the correct information and fail to declare a correct taxable income, then the penalties will be the greater of 30% or USD20,000. If taxpayers fail to comply with any other provision of the Transfer Pricing Law, a penalty of USD5,000 applies.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

- Additional details

If taxpayers fail to provide information or provide false, incomplete or inaccurate information in response to a request by the SAR, a penalty of USD10,000 applies. If taxpayers report taxable income less than it should have been under arm's-length conditions, a penalty of 15% on the corresponding income adjustment applies. If taxpayers fail to provide the correct information and fail to declare a correct taxable income, then the penalties will be the greater of 30% or USD20,000. If taxpayers fail to comply with any other provision of the Transfer Pricing Law, a penalty of USD5,000 applies.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

In the case of a transfer pricing income adjustment, interest applies (3% monthly, up to 36%), per the general provisions of the Tax Code.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

Article 162 of the Tax Code indicates that taxpayers can benefit from reductions of the surcharges assessed for noncompliance of a formal obligation:

- 50% reduction, if the taxpayer rectifies before any competent authority proceeding
- 30% reduction, if the taxpayer rectifies before the competent authority assesses and notifies the penalty or initiates the collection process and without the taxpayer initiating any reconsideration request process
- 10% reduction, if it rectifies before the collection process of the penalty conducted by the judicial authority. If the taxpayer is categorized as a small taxpayer, it has an additional reduction of 20%. If an adjustment is proposed by the tax authority, dispute resolution options available are:
 - An appeal that has to be filed with the Honduran tax authorities – first administrative instance

- An appeal that has to be filed with the Secretary of Finance – second administrative instance
- An extraordinary review appeal

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The term is five years. It can be extended with the filing of an amended return.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes, as is the possibility of transfer pricing assessments as part of a general tax audit.

- b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Yes. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, the consequences of a successful challenge can include an adjustment.

According to Article 21 of Executive Decree No. 027- 2015, if the margin or price is below the interquartile range, the adjustment should be made to the median of such range.

- d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Any intercompany transaction and any industry and situation. In the past, the SAR has focused its transfer pricing audits on services transactions, questioning whether the services have been rendered, the need of the services, the allocation of the expense, as well as the benefit the services provided.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

APAs are contemplated under the provisions of Decree 232- 2011 and Executive Decree 027- 2015. However, the corresponding regulations have not yet been enacted.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The duration of an APA is a maximum of five years.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable

d. Is MAP available?

There is none specified.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

Not applicable

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Inland Revenue Department (IRD)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

On 13 July 2018, the Government of Hong Kong Special Administrative Region published Inland Revenue (Amendment) (No. 6) Ordinance 2018 (the Amendment Ordinance).

The Amendment Ordinance codifies transfer pricing principles into the Inland Revenue Ordinance (Cap. 112) (IRO). The effective dates for the regulations are staggered across the accounting period beginning on or after 1 January 2018 (for CbCR), 1 April 2018 (for Master File and Local File), and years of assessment beginning on or after 1 April 2018 (for the Fundamental Transfer Pricing Rule (FTPR) and advance pricing agreements (APAs)).

Other relevant sections of the IRO include:

- 16, about deductibility of expenses in arriving at assessable profits
- Section 17, about prohibited deductions
- Section 61A, about transactions designed to avoid tax liability

In addition, the Departmental Interpretation and Practice Notes (DIPN) contain the IRD's interpretation and practices related to the law. These notes are issued as information and guidance and have no legal binding force. The relevant prevailing DIPNs include:

- DIPN 45, Relief from Double Taxation due to Transfer Pricing or Profit Reallocation Adjustments, issued in April 2009
- DIPN 48, Advance Pricing Arrangement, revised in July 2020
- DIPN 51, Profits Tax Exemption for Offshore Private Equity Funds, issued in May 2016
- DIPN 52, Taxation of Corporate Treasury Activity, issued in September 2016
- DIPN 53, Tax Treatment of Regulatory Capital Securities, revised in August 2020
- DIPN 58, Transfer Pricing Documentation and Jurisdiction-by-jurisdiction Reports, issued in July 2019
- DIPN 59, Transfer Pricing Between Associated Persons, issued in July 2019

- DIPN 60, Attribution of Profits to Permanent Establishments in Hong Kong, issued in July 2019

- Local GAAP: Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards (HKFRS), which are largely based on International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS)

c. Effective date of applicability

1 January 2018

d. Section reference from local regulation

Sections under IRO: The key sections that are specific for transfer pricing regulations are Sections 50AAC to 50AAO, Sections 58B to 58O and Schedule 17I.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Domestic related-party transactions are exempted from being adjusted on the basis of the FTPR, which requires transactions to meet the arm's-length principles, to the extent that they meet certain conditions such as not having a Hong Kong tax advantage and not having a tax avoidance purpose, etc.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Hong Kong is a BEPS Associate jurisdiction (announced in June 2016). The Hong Kong transfer pricing framework is largely based on the OECD Guidelines, and the IRD generally will not differ from the transfer pricing methodologies recommended by the OECD Guidelines. The Amendment Ordinance specifically references the 2017 OECD Guidelines within the legislation and indicates that the arm's-length provision (along with other rules) should be consistently determined in accordance with OECD Guidelines.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Yes, the Amendment Ordinance (issued on 13 July 2018) adopts the OECD's recommended three-tiered documentation structure, comprising a Master File, a Local File and the CbCR based on BEPS Action 13.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

The Amendment Ordinance covers the CbCR.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2018.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

The Amendment Ordinance covers the Master File.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective date is the accounting period beginning on or after 1 April 2018 (for Master File).

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

The Amendment Ordinance covers the Local File.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective date is the accounting period beginning on or after 1 April 2018 (for Local File).

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

▪ Additional details

The scale of penalties to be imposed on a person, in relation to transfer pricing examinations, is a function of the nature of transfer pricing treatment and the effort spent to determine the arm's-length amount. The availability of documented transfer pricing treatment and its ability to satisfy the reasonable efforts test in determining the arm's-length amount will be used as a basis to determine whether a person is liable to additional tax and the level of additional tax applicable. Refer to the penalty relief section for further details.

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

▪ Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

▪ If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The Amendment Ordinance issued on 13 July 2018 introduced mandatory transfer pricing documentation requirements and rules in Hong Kong. The documentation is required to be prepared contemporaneously if the Hong Kong entity meets certain thresholds and is to be submitted upon request.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

The Amendment Ordinance assesses the taxpayers' obligation for preparing transfer pricing documentation on an annual basis. Taxpayers that exceed the documentation thresholds in the specific accounting period are required to prepare transfer pricing documentation for that accounting period. Taxpayers that meet the exemption thresholds have no mandatory requirements to prepare the Master File and Local File. However, it is required that their related-party transactions be at arm's length.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

For fiscal years starting on or after 1 April 2018, Hong Kong taxpayers are required to prepare Master File and Local File documentation. Exemptions based on business size and related-party transaction volume have been adopted. A waiver on the requirement to prepare Master File and Local File documentations for specified domestic transactions has also been applied. Specifically, enterprises engaging in transactions with associated enterprises will not be required to prepare Master File and Local File documentation if they can meet either one of the following exemption criteria:

Exemption based on size of business (satisfying any two of the three conditions):

- Total revenue not more than HKD400 million
- Total assets not more than HKD300 million
- Average number of employees not more than 100

Exemption based on related-party transactions (if the amount of a category of related-party transactions, excluding specified domestic transactions, for the relevant accounting period is below the proposed threshold, an enterprise will not be required to prepare a Local File for that particular category of transactions):

- Transfer of properties (other than financial assets and intangibles): HKD220 million
- Transactions in respect of financial assets: HKD110 million
- Transfer of intangibles: HKD110 million
- Any other transaction (e.g., service income and royalty income): HKD44 million

Exemption in respect of domestic transactions: Master and Local Files need not be prepared for specified domestic transactions between associated persons. If an enterprise is fully exempted from preparing a Local File (i.e., its related-party transactions of all categories are below the prescribed thresholds), it will not be required to prepare a Master File either.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

HKD6.8 billion for Hong Kong ultimate parent entities (which is set in accordance with the OECD recommendation, i.e., EUR750 million)

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
Not applicable
 - Master File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?
Not specified
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Other
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
Refer to the requirements on materiality limit and threshold for transfer pricing documentation.
 - Local File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?
Not specified
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Other
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
Refer to the requirements on materiality limit and threshold for transfer pricing documentation.
 - Economic analysis
 - Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?
Yes
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Other
No materiality threshold
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
Refer to the requirements on materiality limit and threshold for transfer pricing documentation.
- c. Specific requirements
- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?
No
 - Additional details
The transfer pricing documentation may be prepared in either English or Chinese.
 - Is a safe harbor available?
Unspecified
 - Additional details
There are no safe harbor rules due to the FTPR. It means that taxpayers of all sizes engaged in domestic and/or cross-border intercompany transactions of any size will be required to ensure the prices are at arm's length, except for domestic transactions meeting certain conditions such as not having a Hong Kong tax advantage and not having a tax avoidance purpose, etc.
 - Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?
No preference
 - Additional details
The application of aggregation or individual testing is generally consistent with the OECD Guidelines. Therefore, the testing approach should be assessed on a case-by-case basis.
 - Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?
No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Supplementary Form S2 is an additional form to the profits tax return for transfer pricing purposes. In addition, having declared the obligation to prepare Master File and Local File in the Supplementary Form S2 of the profits tax return, selected taxpayers may be requested to complete Form IR 1475, Transfer Pricing Documentation – Master File and Local File, electronically and submit it to the IRD within one month upon receipt of the request.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

▪ Additional details

IRD announced on 23 January 2019 a revised profits tax return for corporations (i.e., BIR 51 and a set of new Supplementary Forms S 1 to S 10). With effect from the year of assessment 2018-19, Hong Kong taxpayers are required to disclose certain related-party information (i.e., the location of the non-resident associated persons) and confirm their transfer pricing documentation compliance in the BIR 51 and Supplementary Form S 2, Transfer Pricing.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes, related-party transactions are required to be disclosed in the annual financial statement. Please refer to HKAS 24 (Revised), Related Party Disclosures.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

The CbCR notification is separately filed. However, Hong Kong taxpayers are required to confirm their CbCR compliance in the revised tax returns, which are effective from the year of assessment 2018-19.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

One month from profits tax return issue date (extensions available)

▪ Additional details

- Tax returns are normally due for filing within one month from the date of issue of the profits tax return, but an extension of time may be granted if a reasonable request is filed with the IRD.
- Tax representatives can apply for an extension under the Block Extension Scheme; the due date is normally extended as follows. The Block Extension Scheme for lodgment of 2024-25 tax returns by tax representatives can be found via <https://www.ird.gov.hk/eng/ese/bes.htm>

Accounting date	Extended due date	Electronic filing extended due date
For N Code Return (accounting date between 1 April and 30 November)	No extension	1 month after the normal due date
For D Code Return (accounting date between 1 and 31 December)	15 August 2025	15 September 2025
For M Code Return (accounting date between 1 January and 31 March)	15 November 2025	15 December 2025
For M Code Return and current year loss cases	31 January 2026	31 January 2026

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

One month from profits tax return issue date

▪ Additional details

It is included within the profits tax return (i.e., Supplementary Form S2), and therefore, the same dates apply.

If the taxpayer is selected to complete the Form IR 1475 as mentioned above, the form is required to be submitted within one month upon receipt of the request.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

There is no submission deadline.

▪ Additional details

Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared): A Master File has to be prepared within nine months after the end of the Hong Kong entity's accounting period. There is no specific date as the end date of the accounting year for Hong Kong entities might be different.

Submission/filing date There is no submission deadline. The Master File should be ready for submission upon request by the IRD.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

Within 12 months after the end of the ultimate parent entity's accounting period

▪ Additional details

A CbCR has to be prepared and submitted within 12 months after the end of the ultimate parent entity's accounting period when there is a CbCR filing obligation for the Hong Kong ultimate parent entity or a local filing requirement.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Within three months after the end of the ultimate parent entity's accounting period

▪ Additional details

CbCR notifications are due within three months after the end of the ultimate parent entity's accounting period. There is no specific date as the end date of the accounting year for the ultimate parent entities might be different. CbCR notifications are required to be submitted on a yearly basis. If an MNE has more than one entity in Hong Kong, one entity can act as the reporting entity and file on behalf of all other entities.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

Nine months after the end of the Hong Kong entity's accounting period.

▪ Additional details

The Master File and Local File must be prepared within nine months after the end of the Hong Kong entity's accounting period.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no statutory deadline for the submission of transfer pricing documentation.

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

There is no specific guidance on the time to submit transfer pricing documentation. However, typically, in an audit or inquiry, a taxpayer is given 30 days (extensions are available) to reply to the tax authorities.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The most appropriate method should be selected. Although traditional transaction methods may be preferred, as they are considered to be the most direct means of establishing the arm's-length price, the profit methods are accepted in circumstances where traditional methods are not comparable or reliable.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

The quality of comparable data is more important than the number of comparables identified. DIPN 59 suggests that Hong Kong comparables should be considered in the first instance. If there are no Hong Kong comparables, or the potential Hong Kong comparable companies identified are Not applicable, then it may be necessary to consider using comparables from other jurisdictions. Appropriately selected overseas data is accepted by the IRD. The same or similar market principle is important. Jurisdictions recognized as Hong Kong's closest reference jurisdictions in terms of demographics, size of economy and stage of economic development should be considered.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Multiple-year data is considered useful in providing information about the relevant business and product lifecycles of the comparables.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

The use of ranges, such as an interquartile range, would be accepted.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

Financials should be updated every year, and new searches should be performed every three years.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Weighted average data for each comparable, computed based on the most recently available three to five years of data, is considered to be typically reflective of a normal product lifecycle.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

According to the Amendment Ordinance, penalties in relation to Master File and Local File will be a fine at level 5 (i.e., HKD50,000), along with a court order due to failure to comply without reasonable excuse. A fine will be escalated to level 6 (i.e., HKD100,000) when there is a failure to comply with the court order. There is none specified for CbCR.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

HKD50,000

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

HKD50,000

▪ Are there any other penalties?

According to the Amendment Ordinance, penalties in relation to Master File and Local File will be a fine at level 5 (i.e., HKD50,000), along with a court order due to failure to comply without reasonable excuse. A fine will be escalated to level 6 (i.e., HKD100,000) when there is a failure to comply with the court order. In addition, a failure to file or notify CbCR without a reasonable excuse will trigger a fine at level 5 (i.e., HKD50,000), with a further fine of HKD500 for every day thereafter under certain conditions, along with a court order. On failure to comply with the court order, the fine will be at level 6 (i.e., HKD100,000). For filing misleading, false or inaccurate information, the fine will be at level 5 (i.e., HKD50,000). If such misleading, false or inaccurate information is filed with willful intent, penalties will be either on summary conviction (i.e., a fine at HKD10,000 and imprisonment for six months) or on conviction on indictment (i.e., a fine at HKD50,000 and imprisonment for three years). These penalties related to CbCR apply to directors and key officers as well as service providers engaged by the reporting entity. In addition to the transfer pricing penalties stated above, the IRD can impose penalties for the broader corporate tax-related issues.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

▪ Additional details

For transfer pricing-specific adjustments, penalties assessed will be limited to the amount of tax undercharged.

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

▪ Additional details

For transfer pricing-specific adjustments, penalties assessed will be limited to the amount of tax undercharged.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

It is Not applicable on penalties. However, there may be interest charges under unconditional holdover of the tax in dispute. Tax reserve certificates can be purchased to address this.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

The scale of penalty to be imposed on a person is a function of the nature of transfer pricing treatment and the effort spent to determine the arm's-length amount. To have a documented transfer pricing treatment, a person must have records that are prepared within nine months after the year-end of the relevant accounting period of the person. Such records should also sufficiently explain the applicability of the arm's-length nature of the transactions. For the purpose of maintaining consistency in penalty calculation and in the generality of cases, the following penalty loading table is used. The domestic objection and appeal process for income tax is available to the taxpayer. In addition, the taxpayer may request to resolve the issue through an MAP if the counterparty to the transaction is a resident of a jurisdiction that has a tax treaty with Hong Kong.

Transfer pricing treatment	Normal loading	Maximum with commercial restitution
No documented transfer pricing treatment	50%	75%
Documented transfer pricing treatment without reasonable efforts	25%	50%
Documented transfer pricing treatment with reasonable efforts	Nil	Nil

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

It will be six years after the end of the assessment year. In the case of fraud or willful evasion, the statute of limitations is extended to 10 years from the end of the assessment year.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

The IRD has increased its attention on related-party transactions. While there are no transfer pricing-specific field auditors, and there is no separate division within the IRD that deals specifically with transfer pricing cases, transfer pricing may be reviewed as part of an audit if the IRD suspects that transactions have not been carried out on an arm's-length basis (e.g., goods are sold or purchased at a deflated or inflated price, service or royalty fees are not commensurate with the benefits received, or transactions are with tax-haven locations). An audit related to transfer pricing will be aimed at reviewing the intercompany pricing policies and any analysis prepared to support the pricing, considering the facts of the business and the transactions. Transfer pricing inquiries typically arise as part of general field audits, with the deductibility of expenses or payments to related parties being a common line of inquiry. Specifically, tax adjustments in such cases arise when the taxpayer claims that a percentage of revenue is non-Hong Kong sourced. The IRD expects that a similar percentage of costs associated with that activity is also non-Hong Kong sourced.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

It depends on the complexity of the related-party transactions. This is because transfer pricing-associated audits or inquiries typically arise as part of general field audits, with the deductibility of expenses or payments to related parties being a common line of inquiry. Therefore, when viewed from a corporate tax perspective, there is often a focus on transactional- and product-level pricing without fully recognizing the transfer pricing structure and methodology. The possibility of an adjustment may be considered to be medium to high if a transfer pricing methodology is challenged, if the case under review has been ongoing for a lengthy period and if it involves material tax assessments. The risk is also high if the taxpayer is unable to provide sufficient information, on a timely basis, to support its tax positions and if the responses do not adequately address the information being requested as part of the audit.

Only an upward adjustment may be made to increase assessable profits or to decrease the allowable losses in Hong Kong. A downward adjustment may only be claimed in Hong Kong under corresponding relief provisions or through a mutual agreement procedure solution agreed with a double taxation agreement partner. There is no specific guidance on how an upward adjustment will be made or which data point will be used by the IRD.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

The possibility of a tax audit in Hong Kong may be triggered by a variety of situations, such as fluctuating profit margins, if the accounts of a business are heavily qualified, profits or turnover are deemed unreasonably low, filing of tax returns is persistently delayed or omitted, business records are not properly maintained, or requested information is not provided.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

There is an APA program available in Hong Kong. The APA program will cover unilateral, bilateral and multilateral agreements.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

In general, an APA will apply for three to five years.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Yes, Roll-back may be considered, subject to certain conditions.

d. Is MAP available?

Yes, MAP should be initiated within the time limit from the first notification of the actions giving rise to taxation not in accordance with the provisions of the double taxation treaties (DTTs). In general, the time limit is specified in the MAP article of the relevant DTT (e.g., three years). Failure to observe the time limit may result in the rejection of MAP request by the IRD.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

There is no thin capitalization rule in Hong Kong.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

National Tax and Customs Administration (Nemzeti Adó- és Vámhivatal – NTCA)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Section 18 of the Act on Corporate Tax and Dividend Tax, Correction of Prices Applied Among Affiliated Companies, has been applicable since 1996.

c. Effective date of applicability

1996

d. Section reference from local regulation

Based on Section 4. 23 of the Act on Corporate Tax and Dividend Tax, “affiliated company” shall mean: a. The taxpayer and the person in which the taxpayer has a majority control – whether directly or indirectly – according to the provisions of the Civil Code; b. The taxpayer and the person that has majority control in the taxpayer – whether directly or indirectly – according to the provisions of the Civil Code; c. The taxpayer and another person if a third party has majority control in both the taxpayer and such other person – whether directly or indirectly – according to the provisions of the Civil Code, where any close relative holding a majority control in the taxpayer and the other person shall be recognized as third parties; d. A non-resident entrepreneur and its domestic place of business and the business establishments of the non-resident entrepreneur, furthermore, the domestic place of business of a non-resident entrepreneur and the person who maintains the relationship defined under Paragraphs a)-c) with the non-resident entrepreneur; e. The taxpayer and its foreign branch and the taxpayer’s foreign branch and the person who maintains the relationship defined under Paragraphs a)-c) with the taxpayer; f. The taxpayer and other person if between them dominating influence is exercised relating to business and financial policy having regard to the equivalence of management; g. Paragraphs a)-c) notwithstanding, affiliation shall be considered to exist:

- For the purposes of Point 11, Point 53, Paragraph f) of Subsection (1) of Section 8 and Section 16/A even if the taxpayer holds directly or indirectly a participation in terms of voting rights or capital ownership of 25% or more or is entitled to receive 25% or more of the profits in an entity, with the proviso that for the purposes of these provisions compliance with Paragraph f) shall not be taken into account

- For the purposes of Section 16/B even if the taxpayer holds directly or indirectly a participation in terms of voting rights or capital ownership of 50% or more or is entitled to receive 50% or more of the profits in an entity, with the proviso that having regard to participation in terms of voting rights or capital ownership the influence of persons acting in concert shall count together and in the case of taxpayers within a consolidated group of companies for financial accounting purposes Paragraph f) shall be taken into account

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

Additional details

There is no specific requirement for the treatment of domestic transactions. The obligation and requirements are the same as for international transactions.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

Additional details

The Act on CIT contains specific reference to the OECD Guidelines. If the Hungarian tax laws do not include regulations on specific issues, the OECD Guidelines may be used as a primary reference. A new decree (i.e., Decree No. 32/ 2017 (X. 18.) of the Minister of Finance on the documentation requirements related to transfer pricing was published in Hungary, which follows the recommendations of OECD BEPS Action 13 and implements the three-tiered approach pertaining to BEPS Action 13 (i.e., Master File, Local File and CbCR).

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

- Additional details

BEPS Action 13 has been implemented for transfer pricing documentation in Hungary.

- Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

- Coverage

CbCR has to be prepared and filed according to OECD standards for all Hungarian tax resident entities that are members of an MNE group with annual reports that show consolidated group revenue of at least EUR750 million.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2018.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

- Coverage

Master File is covered.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The documentation requirements under Action 13 are in place in accordance with the new Hungarian transfer pricing decree. It is mandatory to prepare the transfer pricing documentation with the structure regulated by the new decree for financial years starting on or after 1 January 2018.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

There are material differences between the formats of the OECD report template and the local jurisdiction regulations in the context of the Master File, which are: administrative data of the related parties (i.e., name, registered seat (official location), tax number or company registration number, the name and seat of the registering authority) and the relationship between associated parties; the date of the preparation of the Master File; the justification and reasons for consolidation (if such a report was prepared); the details of court or other official procedures (in progress or finished) related to the arm's-length price.

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

- Coverage

Local File is covered.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The documentation requirements under Action 13 are in place in accordance with the new Hungarian transfer pricing decree. It is mandatory to prepare the transfer pricing documentation with the structure regulated by the new decree for financial years starting on or after 1 January 2018

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

There are material differences between the formats of the OECD report template and the local jurisdiction regulations in the context of the Local File, which are: administrative data of the related parties (i.e., name, registered seat (official location), tax number or company registration number, the name and seat of the registering authority) and the relationship between associated parties; the date of the preparation of the Local File; the justification and reasons for consolidation (if such a report was prepared); the details of court or other official procedures (in progress or finished) related to the arm's-length price.

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

- Additional details

A BEPS Action 13 format report typically would not be sufficient to achieve penalty protection. See the section above.

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes, contemporaneous requirement

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

Transactions have to be documented for each year that falls under the documentation obligation. Even if the main terms and conditions of the transaction did not change significantly compared to the previous year, it is mandatory to prepare new transfer pricing report covering the relevant financial year, for financial years starting on or after 1 January 2018. Updating the benchmarking analysis is required.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Additional details: The materiality limit is HUF100 million (approximately EUR250,000) based on the volume of intercompany transactions (domestic or international) with similar terms and conditions per financial year.

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is a materiality limit for the preparation of the transfer pricing documentation (i.e., Local Files and Master File). The materiality limit is HUF100 million (approximately EUR250,000). When determining whether a transaction falls under the documentation obligation, the rules of consolidation also have to be considered (i.e., the transactional value of the transactions with similar terms and conditions has to be summed up when tested against the documentation threshold).

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

EUR750 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

CbCR has to be prepared and filed according to OECD standards for all Hungarian tax resident entities that are members of an MNE group with annual reports that show consolidated group revenue of at least EUR750 million.

- Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

HUF100 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

If a transaction reaches the documentation threshold of HUF 100 million, a Master File has to be prepared. The Master File and the related Local File(s) together form the transfer pricing documentation.

- Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

HUF100 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

The Local File has to be prepared for intercompany transactions exceeding HUF100 million in a given tax year.

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

Yes

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is a materiality limit for the preparation of Economic analysis. If a transaction is considered to be a low value-adding service, no Economic analysis has to be prepared.

In every other case, Economic analysis has to be prepared for the specific transaction.

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

There is no requirement for the transfer pricing documentation to be prepared exclusively in the local language. In Hungary, the Master File and the Local File can be prepared in languages other than Hungarian. If the transfer pricing documentation is prepared in other languages (except English, German and French), the Hungarian Tax Authority can request for an attested Hungarian translation of the documents. However, in line with the current expectation of the Hungarian Tax Authority, the transfer pricing documentation should be prepared in Hungarian, English, German or French.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Yes

- Additional details

No safe harbors are applicable except for guidance on low value-added services.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

There is none specified.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Within 15 days of concluding its first contract with a related party, the taxpayer must report the name, registered seat and tax number of the contracting party to the NTCA. The cessation of the related-party status must also be reported. In the corporate income tax (CIT) return, the tax base should be adjusted if the price used in the related-party transaction differs from the fair market price. In their year-end corporate tax returns, taxpayers must declare the type of transfer pricing documentation they have elected to prepare. According to Hungarian transfer pricing regulations, the taxpayer is not required to file the transfer pricing documentation with the NTCA; however, the taxpayer needs to present the documentation during a tax audit upon request.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Companies' financial statements include certain compulsory disclosures about related-party transactions (e.g., interest income and expense received or paid to related parties).

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No, Hungarian constituent entities (CEs) will need to submit a notification to the tax authority by the last day of the reporting fiscal year.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No.

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

31 May

▪ Additional details

The CIT return deadline is 31 May. The general rule is as follows: "Taxpayers shall satisfy their obligation to file tax returns concerning corporate tax and dividend tax by the last day of the fifth month following the last day of the tax year to which it pertains."

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

31 May

▪ Additional details

CIT returns submitted after 31 December 2022 will also include a new transfer pricing data reporting obligation regarding intercompany transactions. Taxpayers will be required to declare the following information:

- Name/type of the transaction from a predefined nomenclature, with characterization
- Most typical NACE Rev. 2. 1 code
- Data of other related companies involved in the transaction (company name, tax ID or registration number, state of tax residence)
- Amount of any TP adjustment (broken down by related party)
- Transaction amounts in given financial year
- The reason for the consolidation of transactions, if applicable
- Transfer pricing method and profit level indicator applied
- Accounting standard applied by the tested party
- Arm's-length range
- Profitability actually realized by the tested party

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

31 May

▪ Additional details

The deadline for preparing the Master File is the date specified in the regulations applicable to the ultimate parent company of the group. However, the Master File must be prepared no later than 12 months after the last day of the tax year in question. Additionally, if no Master File is being prepared within the group, or the ultimate parent company is a Hungarian tax resident, the deadline to prepare the Master File in this case is the same as the Local File preparation deadline, i.e., five months after the last day of the fiscal year.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

CbCR for locally headquartered companies: Reporting entities have to file the CbCR with the Hungarian Tax Authority within 12 months of the last day of the reporting fiscal year.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

The Hungarian subsidiaries of MNEs should notify the Hungarian Tax Authority about the following information until the last day of the relevant reporting financial year, i.e., 31 December: the name of the reporting entity, the tax residence of the reporting entity, the name of the MNE group, and the reporting fiscal period of the MNE group or the last day of the reporting FY of the MNE group. Every entity should prepare a CbCR notification on their behalf.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

31 May

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation (i.e., the Local File together with the Master File) needs to be prepared by the time of filing the tax return to achieve penalty protection (e.g., if required). The deadline for the preparation of the Local File is the same as the deadline for the submission of the CIT return. As an extension from the general rules, the deadline for preparing the Master File is the date specified in the legal regulations applicable to the ultimate parent company of the group. However, the Master File must be prepared no later than 12 months from the end of the fiscal year.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The Local File (together with the Master File) has to be readily available by the documentation deadline. Upon request of the Hungarian Tax Authority, no extra time is provided for taxpayers after the CIT return's submission deadline. If the transfer pricing documentation is not available upon request, default penalties for noncompliance can be levied. The documentation will also have to be prepared regardless of the fact that penalties are levied. Repeated and higher penalties may be levied in the case of continued non-compliance.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

- Additional details

The traditional methods (i.e., CUP, resale price and cost plus) and the profit-based methods recommended by the OECD (i.e., TNMM and profit split) are acceptable. Other methods can also be used, but only after the five major methods have been rejected. As an important requirement in a relatively wide array of cases, the application of the interquartile range is mandatory since 2015. As a result, taxpayers are required by law to apply the interquartile range in their pricing and assess their Hungarian tax liabilities accordingly. If the pricing of the taxpayers' related party transactions fall out of the interquartile range, a correction to the median value of the arm's-length range has to be made.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Local comparables are preferred in the Hungarian unilateral APA practice, but otherwise not mandated by law. The Hungarian Tax Authority expects to apply Hungarian comparables as a first step. As a result, the authority challenges accepted comparables other than the local comparables based on the general practice. Furthermore, if setting the geographic criteria only to Hungary does not result in sufficient comparable companies, the criteria can be extended to V 4 countries (Czech Republic, Hungary, Poland and Slovakia). If this still does not provide a sufficient number of companies, then the geographic criteria can be extended to Eastern Europe and EU 27 countries.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

A multiyear analysis is preferred in testing the arm's-length analysis in terms of the PLI of the comparable entities.

Based on Section 18. 9 of the Act on Corporate Tax and Dividend Tax, in applying the transfer pricing methods, "the data related to comparable products, services or business entities applied by the taxpayer are available publicly or stored by the tax authority in a transparent database or can be obtained from other sources, publicly available or can be verified by the tax authority, the taxpayer shall apply additional filters relying on the median range covering half of the sample components (interquartile range)."

There is no specific formula that must be used for the calculation of the interquartile range. Calculating the interquartile range using the 'quartile' function in Excel is accepted by the Hungarian Tax Authority.

In line with the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines, a new search has to be prepared every three years. For the two years not covered by a new comparable search, the financial update of the sample is required. With respect to financing transactions, a new search is expected to be prepared for each year. These requirements are derived from the practices of the Hungarian Tax Authority, and they are enforced rigorously. Furthermore, according to the new Hungarian transfer pricing decree, the former practice of the Hungarian Tax Authority is supported by legislation in this respect.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

The simple average is preferred, but is not mandated by law; a pooled method is preferred (every data is a separate observation).

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

A default penalty of up to HUF5 million (approximately EUR13,000) may be levied for not fulfilling the transfer pricing documentation requirements. Repeated infringement of the documentation requirement may trigger a default penalty of up to HUF10 million (approximately EUR26,000). Repeated default on fulfilling the documentation requirement on the same transfer pricing documentation may trigger a default penalty four times higher than the default penalty levied when levying the penalty for the first infringement. As a general rule, the default penalty can be levied for each missing or incomplete set of transfer pricing documentation per fiscal year.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Failure to report CbCR data can result in a maximum fine of up to HUF20 million.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Failure to furnish Master File can result in the same penalty as the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of transfer pricing documentation (i.e. default penalty of up to HUF5 million (approximately EUR13,000) may be levied for not fulfilling the transfer pricing documentation requirements. Repeated infringement of the documentation requirement may trigger a default penalty of up to HUF10 million (approximately EUR26,000). Repeated default on fulfilling the documentation requirement on the same transfer pricing documentation may trigger a default penalty four times higher than the default penalty levied when levying the penalty for the first infringement. As a general rule, the default penalty can be levied for each missing or incomplete set of transfer pricing documentation per fiscal year).

▪ Are there any other penalties?

Not applicable

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

If a transfer pricing adjustment is assessed, the Hungarian Tax Authority can levy tax penalty (generally, 50% of the tax shortage) along with late payment interest (the Hungarian National Bank (Magyar Nemzeti Bank – MNB) base rate plus five percentage points from 2019).

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

If a transfer pricing adjustment is assessed, the Hungarian Tax Authority can levy tax penalty (generally, 50% of the tax shortage) along with late payment interest (the Hungarian National Bank base rate plus five percentage points from 2019).

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Yes, it is charged at the prime rate of the Hungarian National Bank plus five percentage points. No late payment interest shall be charged on late payment interest.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

If taxpayers waive their right to appeal against the resolution issued at the first instance on posterior tax assessment, and pay the tax difference imposed in the resolution by the due date, the taxpayers should be exempt from paying 50% of the tax penalty imposed.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

In the absence of a tax return or appropriate reporting, the statute of limitations lapses on the last day of the fifth calendar year calculated from the tax year in which taxes should have been declared, reported or paid. However, within the framework of the Arbitration Convention, it is possible to request a tax base adjustment even after the statute of limitations has expired.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

The risk of transfer pricing issues being scrutinized during an NTCA audit is steadily growing. The NTCA now routinely checks the existence and completeness of the documentation (i.e., whether all transactions are covered). For larger transactions, the NTCA usually inspects whether the content and formal requirements are fulfilled in the documentation. Since the beginning of 2007, the NTCA has started to train transfer pricing specialists. Consequently, the NTCA's knowledge of the application of transfer pricing methods has increased significantly. Since 2009, targeted transfer pricing audits have been commonplace; the number of audits and the amount of assessments are growing at a rate of roughly 50% each year. Since 2012, there have been two groups within the NTCA dedicated to transfer pricing issues. One group has specialized mainly in transfer pricing audits of large taxpayers, while the other deals solely with APA and transfer pricing-related MAP requests. Another specialist group was set up in late 2017 with the intention to double transfer pricing audit capacity nationwide. As of 1 October 2021, the group dedicated solely to APA and transfer pricing-related MAP requests, works under the Ministry of Finance. For medium and large taxpayers, however, the risk of an audit with a transfer pricing focus can be characterized as high. Large taxpayers are likely to be reviewed every two to three years. In particular, the NTCA places significant focus on loss-making taxpayers and the enforcement of the interquartile range, especially at limited-risk entities. In line with the new tax procedural rules implemented in Hungary effective from 1 January 2018, the tax audit processes will take shorter duration, which will result in the taxpayers having limited time available for providing information during tax audit processes compared with the former rules.

The NTCA has also undergone structural changes. From March 2025, new expert departments with national jurisdiction have been established. We expect the following effects:

- Dedicated expert teams for transfer pricing and global minimum tax audits
- Increased number of tax audits
- More detailed, in-depth tax audits than before

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The NTCA habitually challenges the transfer pricing methodology, especially for situations in which:

- The profitability of the Hungarian party is not tested in the documentation.
- The taxpayer came to an unusual conclusion regarding the transfer prices.
- The pricing method is unusual (i.e., not TNMM).

The transactions themselves can be regarded as unusual or unique (especially hybrids, CCAs and certain royalty arrangements). The NTCA continuously cooperates with other countries' tax authorities and follows the international transfer pricing auditing practices as well, through which it constantly develops its dedicated transfer pricing experts and their auditing practices. Based on experience, the NTCA is now rather knowledgeable about matters concerning method selection; therefore, the risk of the taxpayer's application of a particular transfer pricing methodology being challenged is characterized as medium to high. Such a possibility may be considered to be medium to high. Whenever the NTCA challenges the methodology, it will almost certainly also prepare an alternative financial analysis that implies an adjustment.

From 2022, if the actual return of a company falls outside the interquartile range, TP adjustment to the median has to be made in its CIT return.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

The Hungarian tax authority has been devoting special attention and many resources to tax audits of companies in the automotive sector for years, and this trend is not expected to change in the near future. Special attention is also given to businesses engaged in high-risk transactions or reporting losses/minimal profits in low-risk (routine) manufacturing, distribution, or service activities.

The Hungarian tax authority often challenges the centrally prepared TP documentation and benchmarking analysis. If the centrally prepared benchmarking analysis shows that the pricing applied between the related parties falls within the interquartile range, thus indicating that the transaction is in line with the arm's length principle, but the search steps do not comply with the expectations of the Hungarian tax authority, they will reject the results of the comparable search and will prepare an analysis based on local regulation. If the pricing applied by the related parties falls outside the interquartile range of the tax authority's comparable search, the Hungarian transfer pricing regulation requires the tax base of the Hungarian entity to be adjusted to the median value of the interquartile range.

Recently, the tax authority have started to investigate related party loans, particularly in cases where a Hungarian company pays interest to a foreign affiliate. In cases where the purpose of the loan is questionable, for example, if a company's financial situation is poor and therefore it could not have secured a loan on the market or the loan is only necessary to finance unpaid related party receivables, the tax authority may reclassify the transaction as an equity contribution and reject the deductibility of interest payment by the Hungarian company.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

On 1 January 2007, a formal APA regime was introduced in Hungary. Unilateral, bilateral and multilateral APAs are available according to the provision.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Anonymous pre-filing consultation with the Ministry of Finance APA team is free. APAs may be requested for ongoing and future transactions, can be relied on for three to five years and can be extended for a further three years. Starting from the date of filing a valid APA request, the taxpayer does not have to prepare transfer pricing documentation for the transactions covered by the APA.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

There is no roll-back provision provided by the law.

d. Is MAP available?

Yes, taxpayers may request an MAP if taxation has or is likely to occur that is not in accordance with the provisions of a double taxation treaty (DTT) to which Hungary is a signatory. Most of Hungary's DTTs permit taxpayers to present a case to the Hungarian Tax Authority within three years from the first notification to the taxpayer of the actions giving rise to taxation not in accordance with the DTT. However, time limits may vary, and the relevant DTT should be consulted for the applicable time limit. Taxpayers have three years to present a case to the Hungarian Tax Authority under the EU Arbitration Convention (90/ 436/EEC).

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

Interest limitation rules for Hungarian CIT purposes are harmonized with the respective legislation of the European Union (Council Directive (EU) 2016/1164). Under the rules net financing costs should be deductible for corporate income tax purposes only up to the higher amount of either 30% of a taxpayer's EBITDA (calculated for tax purposes) or a nominal threshold of HUF939,810,000 (approximately USD2.6 million). If the annual net financing costs are lower than 30% of the tax-EBITDA, the difference can be carried forward as interest deduction capacity for five years.

The EBITDA (Earnings Before Interest, Tax, Depreciation and Amortization) for tax purposes (also known as tax-EBITDA) is calculated based on the corporate income tax base of the company, increased with the net financing costs, tax depreciation, tax amortization, and excluding the modifying items related to the interest limitation rule, income derived in connection with long-term public infrastructure projects, and tax exempt income.

Transitional rules: a taxpayer may choose to apply the thin capitalisation provisions under contracts concluded before 17 June 2016 on the basis of which the financing charge was incurred, until such time as the amount of financing under that contract is increased or the maturity is extended. By election, the new interest deduction limitation rules may already apply for the period prior to the amendment.

The Act on Corporate Tax and Dividend Tax exempts from the application: financial institutions, investment firms, alternative investment fund managers, management companies of collective investment undertakings dealing in transferable securities, insurance and reinsurance.

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

Yes

b. Name of authority

Hungarian Parliament

c. Name of regulations

Chapter VI/B of Act C of 2000 on Accounting

d. Effective date of applicability

For financial years starting on or after 22 June 2024

e. Section reference from local regulation

Paragraph (88) of Section 177 of Act C of 2000 on Accounting: "Chapter VI/B of this Act, as established by Act XLV of 2022 on the Amendment of Tax Laws, shall for the first time apply to the financial year beginning on or after 22 June 2024."

14. PCbCR thresholds and exemptions

a. What is the global consolidated income threshold?

Hungarian-based (headquartered) MNEs with total (global) consolidated revenue exceeding HUF275 billion (approx. EUR690 million at current exchange rates) for each of the last two financial years and that is active in more than one jurisdiction.

Non-Hungarian-based MNEs with total (global) consolidated revenue exceeding EUR750 million for each of the last two financial years and controlling: (i) a qualifying subsidiary governed by the national laws of Hungary; or (ii) a qualifying branch in Hungary (if certain conditions are met).

b. Are there any materiality exemptions?

Yes

- Additional details

The obligation shall not apply to any ultimate parent company or standalone company whose total revenue on its balance sheet date falls below HUF275 million for each of the last two consecutive financial years as reflected in its financial statements.

15. Content

a. Does PCbCR align with OECD BEPS Action 13 CbCR requirements?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Is aggregation of transactions allowed?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Can you provide data sources and guidance?

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Income Tax Department under the Central Board of Direct Taxes (Department of Revenue of the Ministry of Finance)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Transfer pricing legislation in India is contained in Chapter X of the Income Tax Act, 1961 (the Act). Further, the rules for interpretation and implementation of the provisions are contained in the Income Tax Rules, 1962 (the Rules). Transfer pricing legislation in India is effective from financial year ended 31 March 2002 (FY 2001-02) for international transactions and from FY 2012-13 for specified domestic transactions (SDTs).

c. Effective date of applicability

31 Mar 2002

d. Section reference from local regulation

In the Act, Sections 92 to 92F and Section 286 govern and regulate the transfer pricing provisions, including Master File and Country-by-Country Reporting (CbCR) in India. Further, Sections 270A, 271(1)(c), 271AA, 271AAD, 271BA, 271G and 271GB provide for various types of penalties in cases of noncompliance with the prescribed transfer pricing provisions. The rules for interpretation and implementation of the provisions are rules 10A to 10THD, 44G and 44GA of the Rules.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The Indian transfer pricing regulations apply to certain domestic related-party transactions where one of the entities involved enjoys a tax holiday. However, the aggregate value of such transactions should exceed INR200 million (approximately USD2.4 million).

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Indian transfer pricing legislation is broadly based on the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and Tax Administrations (OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines). Even though India is not a member of the OECD, the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines have been recognized as providing useful aid in applying the Indian transfer pricing rules to the extent they are not inconsistent with the income tax law. During the examination process, transfer pricing officers (TPOs) have generally acknowledged and placed reliance on the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines, UN Practical Manual on Transfer Pricing for Developing Countries (UN transfer pricing manual) as well as other foreign jurisdiction transfer pricing rules, case law and practices when applying domestic transfer pricing rules, as long as these are not inconsistent with any specific provision contained in the Indian transfer pricing rules. Similarly, courts in India have acknowledged the relevance of the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines for understanding Indian transfer pricing rules. However, in certain situations where the Indian rules specifically deviate from the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines the courts have held that specific Indian rules take precedence over the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines. Like the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines, the UN tax manual and EU Joint Transfer Pricing Forum may also be referred to for guidance to the extent they are not inconsistent with the income tax law. However, the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines are the most referred among all international literature/guidelines on transfer pricing.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

No

▪ Additional details

BEPS Action 13 requires countries to adopt a standardized three-tiered approach to documentation that includes Master File, Local File and CbCR. India has not formally adopted the Action 13 Local File template. However, the Indian transfer pricing regulations have specifically prescribed contemporaneous documentation requirements since the introduction of the transfer pricing regime in India. The contents are largely in line with the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines but with certain modifications. Master File and CbCR were introduced in the Indian transfer pricing legislation with effect from FY 2016-17.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Applicable to an international group with consolidated group revenues exceeding INR64 billion (approx. USD750 million) as on the last day of the preceding accounting year. CbCR provisions are applicable if the consolidated group revenue as reflected in the consolidated financial statement for the preceding accounting year exceeds INR64 billion (approx. USD750 million). The OECD CbCR Peer Review Report 2024 noted that the annual consolidated group revenue threshold calculation rule applies in a manner that is inconsistent with the OECD guidance on currency fluctuations in respect of an MNE group whose ultimate parent entity (UPE) is located in a jurisdiction other than India. This is an exception to the OECD guidance since the 2017/2018 peer review.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is FY 2016-17.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Applicable to an international group with consolidated group revenues exceeding INR5 billion crores and aggregated value of international transactions exceeds INR500 million or aggregated value of international transactions pursuant to intangible property exceeds INR100 million. The Master File requirements as per Indian regulations are largely in line with the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines but with certain modifications. Indian regulations also require additional information and disclosures in the Master File, over and above the recommendations as per BEPS Action 13.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

Master File applicable from FY 2016-17.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

The Master File content as required under the Indian Master File rule is largely in line with the contents as prescribed under the Action 13 report barring a few additional requirements provided as follows: Maintenance of a list of all the entities of the international group along with their addresses – this information does not form part of Action 13 report. A description of the functions performed, assets employed and risks assumed by the constituent entities of the international group that contribute at least 10% of the revenues or assets or profits of the group – the Action 13 report requires a brief written functional analysis describing the principal contributions to value creation by individual entities within the group. A list of all the entities of the international group engaged in development and management of intangibles along with their addresses – the Action 13 report requires a general description of location of principal research and development (R&D) facilities and location of R&D management. A detailed description of the financing arrangements of the international group, including the names and addresses of the top 10 unrelated lenders – the Action 13 report requires a general description of group financing activities, including financing arrangements with unrelated lenders. In a number of instances, Master File rule requires a “detailed description,” instead of a “general description” mentioned in the Action 13 report, particularly with respect to transfer pricing policies relating to research and development (R&D), intellectual property (IP) and financing arrangements.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

BEPS Action 13 requires countries to adopt a standardized three-tiered approach to documentation that includes Master File, Local File and CbCR. India has not formally adopted the Action 13 Local File template. However, the Indian transfer pricing regulations have specifically prescribed contemporaneous documentation requirements since the introduction of the transfer pricing regime in India. The contents are largely in line with the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines but with certain modifications.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

Transfer pricing documentation requirement is in place from FY 2001-02.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

As provided above, India has not formally adopted the Action 13 Local File template; however, the Indian transfer pricing regulations have specifically prescribed contemporaneous documentation requirements since the introduction of transfer pricing regime in India. The contents are largely in line with the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines but with certain modifications.

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

- Additional details

Rule 10D prescribes the contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation rules. Accordingly, the expectation is to align the documentation in line with the Rule 10D requirement to reduce penalty risk.

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

- a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

Contemporaneous local documentation needs to be maintained by the taxpayer in respect of the international transactions if the aggregate value of international transactions during the year exceeds INR10 million (approx. USD120,482) and/or aggregate value of Specified Domestic Transactions (SDTs) exceeds INR200 million (approx. USD2,409,639). However, basic documents and information justifying the intercompany transfer prices must be maintained in all cases.

Indian transfer pricing regulations provide that the documentation should be prepared contemporaneously and should exist no later than one month prior the due date for filing return of the income for the relevant financial year. Accordingly, the documentation should be maintained and finalized by the taxpayer by 31 October of the following financial year in which such international transactions or SDTs take place. Further, please note that the taxpayer should obtain a certificate from an independent accountant in the prescribed form (i.e., Form 3CEB) in respect of the international transactions or SDTs and furnish such certificate on or before the said due date. Therefore, maintaining the local transfer pricing documentation by such due date is critical since it ensures that taxpayers give appropriate consideration to transfer pricing requirements in establishing prices and other conditions for transactions between associated enterprises (AEs) and in reporting the income derived from such transactions in their tax returns.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

- b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Value of international transactions

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Contemporaneous local documentation needs to be maintained by the taxpayer in respect of the international transactions if the aggregate value of international transactions during the year exceeds INR10 million (approx. USD120,482) and/or aggregate value of Specified Domestic Transactions (SDTs) exceeds INR200 million (approx. USD2,409,639). However, basic documents and information justifying the intercompany transfer prices must be maintained in all cases. Further, Form 3CEB needs to be filed for all international transactions irrespective of their quantum but for SDTs only if their aggregate value exceeds INR200 million (approx. USD2,409,639).

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

INR64 billion

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Applicable to an international group with consolidated group revenues exceeding INR64 billion (approx. USD750 million) as on the last day of the preceding accounting year. CbCR provisions are applicable if the consolidated group revenue as reflected in the consolidated financial statement for the preceding accounting year exceeds INR64 billion (approx. USD750 million). The OECD CbCR Peer Review Report 2024 noted that the annual consolidated group revenue threshold calculation rule applies in a manner that is inconsistent with the OECD guidance on currency fluctuations in respect of an MNE group whose ultimate parent entity (UPE) is located in a jurisdiction other than India. This is an exception to the OECD guidance since 2017/2018.

- Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

INR5 billion/INR500 million/INR 100 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

Master File requirements apply to every taxpayer being a constituent entity of an international group if the following two conditions are satisfied:

The consolidated revenue as reflected in the consolidated financial statement of the international group for the accounting year exceeds INR5 billion (approx. USD60 million).

Either of the below transactional thresholds is achieved for the accounting year:

The aggregate value of international transactions as per the books of accounts maintained by the taxpayer exceeds INR500 million (approx. USD6 million).

Or

The purchase, sale, transfer, lease or use of IP as per the books of accounts maintained by the taxpayer exceeds INR100 million (approx. USD1.2 million).

- Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

INR10 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Total international related-party transactions

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

As mentioned earlier, the Indian transfer pricing regulations have specifically prescribed contemporaneous documentation requirements since the introduction of the transfer pricing regime in India. The contents are largely in line with the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines but with certain modifications.

Contemporaneous local documentation also needs to be maintained by the taxpayer in respect of SDTs if the aggregate value of SDTs exceeds INR200 million (approx. USD2,409,639). However, basic documents and information justifying the intercompany transfer prices must be maintained in all cases. Further, Form 3CEB needs to be filed for all international transactions irrespective of their quantum but for SDTs only if their aggregate value exceeds INR200 million (approx. USD2,409,639).

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

Contemporaneous local documentation also needs to be maintained by the taxpayer in respect of SDTs if the aggregate value of SDTs exceeds INR200 million (approx. USD2,409,639).

Law requires that the prescribed information and document forming part of the transfer pricing documentation need to be contemporaneous and to exist by the specified date.

- c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

There is no requirement to maintain transfer pricing documentation in local Indian languages. The Indian Income Tax Department readily accepts transfer pricing documentation in English but does not accept Local Files in other foreign languages.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Yes

- Additional details

The income tax law already incorporates some administrative safe harbors, such as alleviation of documentation requirements and examination or scrutiny procedures for small taxpayers. To further provide administrative simplicity for small taxpayers and allocate more resources to the examination of larger transactions and taxpayers, safe harbor rules were introduced to provide for circumstances under which the income tax authorities will accept the transfer pricing declared by the taxpayer. The Central Board of Direct Taxes (CBDT) issued transfer pricing safe harbor rules on 18 September 2013, applicable for five years beginning from FY 2012-13. The safe harbor rules have since been regularly amended to extend their applicability to subsequent financial years. As of now, the CBDT has extended the safe harbor rules till FY 2025-26. The safe harbor rules cover the following international transactions: Provision of software development services other than contract R&D services, information technology-enabled services and knowledge process outsourcing services all with insignificant risks, Advancing of intragroup loan to a nonresident wholly owned subsidiary, Provision of corporate guarantee to wholly owned subsidiary, Provision of specified contract R&D services wholly or partly relating to software development with insignificant risks, Provision of specified contract R&D services wholly or partly relating to generic pharmaceutical drugs with insignificant risks, Manufacture and export of core auto components including lithium ion batteries for use in electric or hybrid electric vehicles, Receipt of low-value-adding intragroup services, Certain Specified Domestic transaction, The Finance Act 2020 has expanded the scope of safe harbor rules to specifically cover determination of profit/income attributable to a business connection (i.e., a concept under the Indian domestic tax law that is perceived to be much wider than the permanent establishment (PE) rule under applicable tax treaty) or a PE (under the tax treaty) of a nonresident company in India. Taxpayers that formally concede a business connection or PE in India can opt for safe harbor rules for obtaining certainty on profit attribution to PE in India. The amended scope of safe harbor is effective from financial years starting from 1 April 2020. However, no specific safe harbor rate/margin is yet prescribed by the Indian Tax Administration for profit attribution cases. Any taxpayer that has entered into an eligible international transaction and that wishes to exercise the option to be governed by the safe harbor rules is required to file Form 3CEFA and furnish it before the due date for filing the tax return for either: The relevant financial year (1 April to 31 March), in case the option is exercised only for that financial year The first of the financial years, in case the option is exercised for more than one financial year The form is in the nature of a self-declaration and needs to be signed by the person who is authorized to sign the tax return.

▪ Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

▪ Additional details

The Indian Income Tax Law does not have any preference about how to test these transactions.

▪ Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

Yes

Form 3CEB needs to be filed for all international transactions irrespective of their quantum but for SDTs only if their aggregate value exceeds INR200 million (approx. USD2,409,639).

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Taxpayers should obtain a certificate from an accountant in the prescribed form (i.e., Form 3CEB) in respect of the international transactions or SDTs. Form 3CEB contains list of AEs, nature and value of international transactions, most appropriate method, voluntary transfer pricing adjustment, if any, etc. The form needs to be filed online. Form 3CEFA is provided in the safe harbor section, if the taxpayer wishes to opt for safe harbor.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Taxpayers should obtain a certificate from an accountant in the prescribed form (i.e., Form 3CEB) in respect of the international transactions or SDTs. Form 3CEB contains list of AEs, nature and value of international transactions, most appropriate method, voluntary transfer pricing adjustment, if any, etc. The contemporaneous local documentation contains all the disclosures and transfer pricing-related appendices.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Disclosure as per the Indian GAAP

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No, a separate form is prescribed for CbCR notification (Form 3CEAC).

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

The filing of the Master File is done in Form 3CEAA. Where there is more than one designated entity resident in India, the notification by a designated constituent entity of an international group with respect to single filing of Master File should be done in Form 3CEAB. CbCR filing is to be done in Form 3CEAD where the parent entity or ARE is resident in India or in case where a secondary CbCR filing obligation is triggered in India. Designation of a constituent entity for single filing of CbCR shall be done through Form 3CEAE.

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

30 November

▪ Additional details

The deadline is 30 November following the relevant financial year for taxpayers where transfer pricing provisions are applicable.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

31 October

- Additional details

Taxpayers should obtain a certificate from an independent accountant in the prescribed form (i.e., Form 3CEB) in respect of the international transactions or SDTs and furnish such certificate on or before 31 October of the following financial year in which such international transactions or SDTs take place. The contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation also needs to be prepared by this date.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

30 November

- Additional details

Master File in Form 3CEAA should be filed on or before

30 November following the relevant financial year.

Notification for designation of constituent entity for single filing of Master File in Form 3CEAB should be filed on or before 31 October following the relevant financial year.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

12 months from the end of the preceding reporting accounting year followed by the MNE

- Additional details

Primary filing requirement:

Where the ultimate parent entity (UPE) or the alternate reporting entity (ARE) is resident in India.

Scenario	Entity responsible	Filing obligation	Accounting period	Due Date
UPE or ARE resident in India	UPE or ARE resident in India	CbCR in Form 3CEAD	April to March	12 months from end of reporting accounting year 3 (31 March 2025 for accounting year ended 31 March 2024)
UPE or ARE not resident in India and no trigger for secondary filing	Constituent entity	Notification in Form 3CEAC	Accounting period followed by the UPE	At least two months prior to the due date for furnishing CbCR by UPE or ARE in India (31 January 2025 for accounting year ended 31 March 2024)

Secondary filing requirement or trigger for local filing (one or more of the below):

- The UPE is not obligated to file a CbCR in its own jurisdiction; or
- India does not have an arrangement for the exchange of CbCR or the jurisdiction; or
- The tax jurisdiction is not exchanging information with India even though there is an agreement for exchange and this fact has been communicated to the constituent entity by the Indian Tax Administration (systemic failure).

According to the amendments, in such cases, the due date for the filing of an Indian CbC report would 12 months from the end of the reporting accounting year followed by the MNE. In case of systemic failure, the Indian constituent entity is required to file CbC report within six months from the end of the month in which constituent entity is intimated of such systemic failure by the Income Tax Department.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

At least two months prior to the due date for furnishing CbCR by UPE or ARE in India

- Additional details

CbCR notification in Form 3CEAC should be filed at least two months prior to the due date for furnishing CbCR in the UPE or ARE jurisdiction. Annual submission is required. And one entity cannot file on behalf of others.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

31 October

- Additional details

Contemporaneous local transfer pricing documentation should be maintained and finalized by the taxpayer by 31 October of the following Fiscal Year in which such international transactions or SDTs take place. Under the Act, the prescribed documentation or information maintained by the taxpayer in respect of its transfer pricing arrangements would have to be produced before the tax authorities during the course of audit proceedings within 10 days after such request has been made. The period of 10 days can be further extended up to 30 days based on the discretion of the tax officer.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Contemporaneous local transfer pricing documentation should be maintained and finalized by the taxpayer by 31 October of the following fiscal year in which such international transactions or SDTs take place.

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Under the Act, the prescribed documentation or information maintained by the taxpayer in respect of its transfer pricing arrangements would have to be produced before the tax authorities during the course of audit proceedings within 10 days after such request has been made. The period of 10 days can be further extended up to 30 days based on the discretion of the tax officer.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

▪ Additional details

In addition to five methods provided in the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines, the Indian transfer pricing legislation has prescribed the sixth method as "other method" in determination of arm's-length price. There is no hierarchy for selection of methods. The most appropriate method for a transaction will be adopted based on the facts and circumstances of the case.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Where the tested party is India, preference is given to Indian comparables. Also, it has been held in a few notable tax court rulings that selecting an overseas entity as the tested party may not be appropriate because it is difficult to obtain all relevant facts and data required for undertaking a proper analysis of functions, assets and risks, as well as to make the requisite adjustments. In case there are no local Indian comparables, foreign comparables may be used. However, generally, acceptance of foreign comparables is highly litigative in India. Use of foreign comparables is generally not acceptable, unless the tested party is located overseas. Based on experience, the tax authorities tend to take the Indian entity as the tested party and accordingly use Indian comparable companies.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Multiple-year testing specifically, three years (including the current year)

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

Interquartile range is not recognized under the existing regulations. Where there is a minimum of six comparables, the 35th percentile to the 65th percentile is applied. In other cases, the arithmetic mean is applicable along with some tolerance range prescribed each year.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

A fresh benchmarking is required every year.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Weighted average

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

It is not specifically provided in the law. However certain qualitative and quantitative filters for selection of comparables are followed at the time of preparation of transfer pricing documentation as well as during transfer pricing audits.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

A penalty of 2% of the value of the international transaction or specified domestic transaction entered into applies.

A penalty of INR100,000 for failure to furnish accountant's report

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

A penalty of INR5,000 for every day for which the failure continues, if the period of failure does not exceed one month

A penalty of INR15,000 per day beyond one month

A penalty of INR50,000 per day for continuing to default after being served notice

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

INR500,000

- Are there any other penalties?

Penalty of INR500,000 for furnishing inaccurate particulars in the CbCR (subject to certain conditions)

For failure to respond within 30 days to CbCR-related queries (extendable by maximum 30 days): INR5,000 per day up to service of penalty order; INR50,000 per day for default beyond date of service of penalty order

In case of a post-inquiry adjustment deemed to have been underreporting or misreporting of income:

No penalty, where transfer pricing documentation maintained, transactions declared and material facts disclosed

50% of tax on transfer pricing adjustment, where transfer pricing documentation has not been maintained

200% of tax on transfer pricing adjustment, where the same is in consequence of not reporting an international transaction

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes; however, penalty proceedings are separate from regular audit and assessment proceedings. Accordingly, the taxpayer has a separate right to appeal for penalty cases.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes; however, penalty proceedings are separate from regular audit and assessment proceedings. Accordingly, the taxpayer has a separate right to appeal for penalty cases.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

No, interest is not charged on penalties. Further, interest is payable on refunds.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

In the case of underreporting or misreporting of income, the taxpayer may make an application to the assessing officer to grant immunity from imposition of penalty upon satisfaction of certain conditions and within specified time limit.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The time limit for an order to be passed in relation to a tax audit (comprising a transfer pricing assessment) is 36 months from the close of the relevant financial year (31 March). The order pertaining to specifically the transfer pricing assessment should be passed 60 days before this time limit.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The CBDT provides internal instructions on selection of cases for transfer pricing audits. Earlier, the selection criteria were based on monetary threshold of the value of the international transactions entered into during a particular Fiscal Year. Currently, the selection is based on “transfer pricing risk parameters” under the computer-assisted scrutiny selection (CASS) system. It also indicates circumstances under which cases can be selected for audits manually. While the “risk parameters” are not defined, the same is available internally with the tax authority. The primary responsibility for undertaking transfer pricing audits lies with specialized TPOs. The current selection of cases for transfer pricing audits can be expected to result in more targeted and more cost-effective use of limited resources from the tax administration's perspective. Accordingly, disclosures or reporting in Form 3CEB would not only be relevant from a penalty perspective, but also from an audit risk perspective, in light of the current process for selection of cases.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Yes. Among other things, the BEPS principles are being applied during transfer pricing audits by the Indian tax authorities. Detailed information on the functional aspects of the Indian entity, the ability of the Indian affiliate to exercise control over operational and other risks, etc., are being asked for thorough evaluation. Therefore, deciding on appropriate characterization and accurate delineation of transaction for transfer pricing purpose is of paramount importance. Further, it is often noticed that the tax authorities, while undertaking a comparability analysis, apply varying quantitative criteria to re-determine the arm's-length price. Moreover, issues, such as location savings or location-specific advantages, credit period, treatment of foreign exchange gain or loss, appropriateness of cost base and allocation of common costs are triggering specific attention of the tax authorities.

Refer to earlier sections, no reference can be made.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Payment of Royalty and management fee:

- Payment for the use of intangible property, such as trademarks, know-how and brand names, by Indian taxpayers is being scrutinized in great detail by the TPOs. The underlying assumption is that these payments are base-eroding in nature. TPOs often issue detailed notices to taxpayers requiring them to demonstrate the benefit received from the intangible property in order to justify the payment of royalties.
- Detailed information is sought on the type of intangible, similar arrangements within the multinational group and the methodology adopted by the taxpayer to arrive at the arm's-length price. TPOs typically expect the intercompany agreements and transfer pricing documentation to provide a detailed description of the intangible.
- In most cases, the TPOs reject the taxpayer's analysis and disallow the payment of royalties on the grounds that the taxpayer has not substantiated the benefit received from the intangible. Another reason for disallowance of the royalty payments is the unavailability of organized information on intangible property arrangements in India. In the absence of good comparables and due to the reluctance of TPOs to rely on foreign databases, TPOs tend to disallow the payments.
- Taxpayers face similar challenges for management fee allocations from their affiliates. TPOs tend to scrutinize such allocations in detail to assess whether they provide a benefit to the Indian entity, whether the benefit is remote or incidental and whether any of these charges relate to shareholder activities or are duplicative.

- Therefore, TPOs would examine the approach to allocation and whether the costs have been marked up. Detailed information is sought on the nature of the services, the organizational structure of the Indian entity, the value of the services, the determination of costs, the benefit received by the Indian affiliate, the allocation key adopted and the methodology chosen to defend the payment.
- Taxpayers are typically asked to describe the activities undertaken by the foreign affiliates and are also asked to quantify the time spent in India. In most cases, TPOs reject the taxpayer's analysis and disallow the deduction for payment of management fees on the grounds that the taxpayer has not substantiated the benefit received or that the services are duplicative in nature.

Marketing intangibles:

- Transfer pricing aspects of marketing intangibles have been a focus area for the Indian transfer pricing administration. The issue is particularly relevant to India due to its unique market-specific characteristics such as location advantages, market accessibility, large customer base, market premium and spending power of Indian customers.
- The Indian market has witnessed substantial marketing activities by the subsidiaries or related parties of MNE groups in the recent past, which have resulted in the creation of local marketing intangibles.
- The present approach of the Indian tax administration for carrying out transfer pricing reviews is in line with the judicial rulings as well as the recommendations contained in the BEPS Action Plans 8-10.
- The approach of the Indian tax authorities is to carry out a detailed functional analysis to identify all the functions of the taxpayer and the AEs pertaining to the international transactions as well as to determine the development, enhancement, maintenance, protection and enhancement (DEMPE) functions.
- The issue on whether advertisement, marketing and promotion expense is an international transaction or not is currently pending before the Apex Court of India.

Contract R&D centers:

- Generally, the Indian affiliates providing services operate as "captive service providers" and are insulated from business risks. Audit experience indicates that tax authorities expect the service providers to earn a margin in the range of 25% to 30% on operating costs, as compared with the margins determined by taxpayers, which are in the range of 10% to 15% on costs.

- While the approach adopted by the tax authorities to justify these margins is by adopting a different approach to accepting or rejecting comparable data as compared with that adopted by the taxpayer, the underlying rationale appears to be to try to shift some of the location savings generated from the multinational enterprise to India.
- Further, the CBDT has issued Circular (6/ 2013), which lays down the guidelines for identifying a development center as a contract R&D service provider with insignificant risk. Other key areas of focus include treatment of excess outstanding receivables as a loan to AE, treatment of notional cost and pass-through cost (free-of-cost assets or services), transfer pricing concerning financial transactions, remuneration model in case of procurement structures, and aggregation vs. transaction-by-transaction approach.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

The Finance Act 2012 introduced provisions to enable APAs in the income tax law with effect from 1 July 2012. It empowered the board to enter into an APA with any person, determining the arm's-length price or specifying the manner in which the arm's-length price is to be determined, in relation to an international transaction to be entered into by that person. The Indian APA program provides an option to seek a unilateral, bilateral, or multilateral APA. The Finance Act 2020 has expanded the scope of APA provisions to specifically cover determination of profit/income attributable to a business connection (i.e., a concept under the Indian domestic tax law that is perceived to be much wider than the PE rule under applicable tax treaty) or a PE (under the tax treaty) of a nonresident company in India. Taxpayers that formally concede a business connection or PE in India can opt for an APA (unilateral/bilateral) for obtaining certainty on profit attribution to PE in India. The manner of determination may include any methods as provided under the Indian domestic tax law including transfer pricing methods. The amendment is effective from the financial year starting from 1 April 2020. A formal APA application needs to be filed before the beginning of the financial year (i.e., on or before 31 March) for which the taxpayer intends to cover the profit attribution issue or before undertaking any transactions due to which there would exist a PE.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The APA can be opted for up to five years, along with a Roll-back up to four consecutive years prior to the APA period, effectively covering nine years.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

A Roll-back would be available to taxpayers that have opted for an APA up to four consecutive years prior to the APA period. The income tax law also contains rules on Roll-back of APAs.

d. Is MAP available?

It is available. The MAP article contained in India's Double Taxation Avoidance Agreement (DTAA) – largely based on Article 25 of the OECD Model Tax Convention – provides a mechanism independent from the ordinary legal remedies available under the domestic tax law. While MAP is of fundamental importance to the proper application or interpretation of DTAAAs, it has particularly emerged as a widely used mechanism for resolving transfer pricing disputes. The procedures for invoking MAP and giving effect to the MAP resolution for granting of relief in respect of double taxation or for avoidance of double taxation are contained in Rule 44G. Most of the Indian DTAAAs provide for invoking MAP within a period of three years from taxation not in accordance with the respective DTAAAs. Further, MAP may be invoked even in case where the DTAA does not contain a provision similar to Article 9(2) of the OECD Model Tax Convention providing for correlative relief. The recent OECD Peer Review report relation to implementation of BEPS Action 14 noted that India met half of the elements of Action 14 minimum standard. To be fully compliant with all four key areas of an effective dispute resolution mechanism under the Action 14 minimum standard, India needs to amend and update a certain number of its tax treaties. This is expected to take place either through the multilateral instrument (MLI) or via bilateral negotiations. The MAP rules provide additional guidance to taxpayers on MAP. Also, it provided that the Indian competent authorities will attempt to resolve the tax disputes arising from the actions of the tax authorities, within an average time of 24 months.

There is no prescribed debt-to-equity ratio or thin capitalization rule under the income tax law. While, historically, determination of arm's-length interest rate with respect to intercompany financing arrangement was the only challenge. The focus of current transfer pricing scrutiny has shifted to determination of "arm's-length" quantum, i.e., whether the extent of debt or capital structure of the borrower is itself "arm's length." Hence the benchmarking of intercompany financing transactions involves two aspects (i) determination of arm's-length capital structure and (ii) determination of arm's-length interest rate. This also finds support from the recent OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines on financial transactions as well as the UN discussion. Further, the need to assess the arm's-length debt level also arises on account of General Anti-Avoidance Rules (GAAR) in India, which are applicable with effect from 1 April 2017. GAAR has introduced a concept of "arm's-length dealing test" (ALDT) as distinguished from determination of arm's-length price under the transfer pricing provisions. Where an arrangement creates rights or obligations which are not ordinarily created between people dealing at arm's length, the same would be regarded as an "impermissible avoidance arrangement (IAA)" and may be recharacterized as equity in case of a loan arrangement. Also, in line with the recommendations of the BEPS Action 4 Final Report, the Finance Act 2017 introduced an interest limitation rule in the ITA, even though Action 4, dealing with limiting base erosion through interest and other financial payments, does not constitute a minimum standard. The said provisions are applicable to an Indian company or a PE of a foreign company in India (collectively referred to as "borrower") if the following conditions are met:

- The borrower is engaged in any business or profession other than banking or insurance.
- The borrower incurs expenditure in the nature of interest or similar consideration exceeding INR10 million (approx. USD150, 000) in a financial year.

Such interest expense or similar consideration is deductible in computing the taxable income of the business or profession. The debt is issued by a nonresident AE of the borrower or by a third-party lender but an AE either provides an implicit or explicit guarantee to such lender or deposits corresponding to and matching amount of funds with the lender. The term "debt" has been defined to mean any loan, financial instrument, finance lease, financial derivative or any arrangement that gives rise to interest, discounts or other finance charges. If the above conditions are satisfied, the "excess interest" shall not be deductible in computing the taxable income of the taxpayer. The "excess interest" is computed as the excess of 30% of EBITDA of the borrower for the relevant financial year, or interest paid or payable to the AE, whichever is less. In other words, the interest deduction is limited to the lower of the borrower's 30% of EBITDA, or interest actually paid or payable to the AE. For any financial year, if the interest expenditure is disallowed for being in excess of the limitation prescribed, the provisions allow for carry forward of such excess interest expense. Accordingly, such portion of the interest expense can be carried forward up to the following eight FYs immediately succeeding the financial year for which such disallowance was first made. Further, the deduction for such carried forward excess interest would be allowed against the future taxable income as long as the interest expenditure is within the prescribed ceiling.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Directorate General of Taxes (DGT)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

- Law Number 7 Year 1983 regarding Income Tax (as lastly amended by Law Number 6 Year 2023) (PPh Law)
- Law Number 6 Year 1983 regarding General Taxation Provisions and Procedures (as lastly amended by Law Number 6 Year 2023) (KUP Law)
- Law Number 8 Year 1983 regarding Value-Added Tax of Goods and Services and Sales Tax on Luxury Goods (as lastly amended by Law Number 6 Year 2023) (PPN Law)
- Minister of Finance Regulation Number PMK 15/ 2025 dated 10 February 2025 (PMK- 15) regarding Tax Audit.
- Minister of Finance Regulation Number PMK 172/ 2023 dated 29 December 2023 (PMK- 172) regarding implementation of the arm's length principle in transactions affected by special relationship.
- PMK 172 addresses topics including application of the arm's length principle, transfer pricing documentation requirements, Advanced Pricing Agreements (APAs) and the Mutual Agreement Procedure (MAP). PMK 172 entered into force on 29 December 2023.
- PMK 172 revoked the following transfer pricing regulations:
 - The transfer pricing documentation regulation - PMK 213/ PMK.03/2016
 - The Mutual Agreement Procedure (MAP) regulation - PMK 49/PMK.03/2019
 - The Advanced Pricing Agreement Regulation - PMK 22/ PMK.03/2020
- PMK 172 contains changes to both the: (a) obligation to prepare, maintain and submit transfer pricing documentation (TPD requirements); and (b) steps to apply the arm's length principle. Under the transitional provisions contained within PMK 172, the changes to TPD requirements are Not applicable for tax year 2023 (and prior years) transfer pricing documentation and will only need to be addressed in tax year 2024 transfer pricing documentation. However, changes in the steps to apply the arm's-length principle will need to be addressed in a taxpayer's tax year 2023 transfer pricing documentation.
- PMK 172 requires taxpayers to prepare a three-tiered structure to transfer pricing documentation: Master File, Local File, CbC report.
- PMK 172 makes material changes to the required content of a Local File beginning tax year 2024 including additional certifications regarding certain categories of transactions such as transactions relating to services, intangible property, loans and financial transactions. Master File requirements, however, have not changed.
- Specific guidance on arm's-length pricing for financial transactions, business restructuring and cost contribution agreements
- PMK 172 provides specific guidance regarding loan transactions, business restructuring and cost contribution agreements. There is also additional guidance provided for taxpayers in other areas, such as application of the profit split method.
- There is new guidance on secondary adjustments.
- While PMK 172 reiterates that transfer pricing audit adjustments can be subject to penalties, secondary adjustments and VAT adjustments, PMK 172 provides the opportunity for taxpayers to minimize the application of secondary adjustments where cash or cash equivalent transfers are made or where the taxpayer agrees to the adjustment made by the tax auditor during the tax audit process.
- Domestic corresponding adjustments are now available.
- PMK 172 has introduced guidance on corresponding adjustments including the process for making corresponding adjustments relating to a transfer pricing adjustment made on a transactions between domestic related parties. The prerequisite to make these adjustments include that the taxpayer subject to the transfer pricing adjustment agrees with the transfer pricing adjustment made and does not challenge the tax assessment at higher levels of appeal.
- Preliminary stages
- PMK 172 has introduced a new requirement called the Preliminary Stages that taxpayers need to comply with to defend the arm's-length nature of the following types of related party transactions (the "Related Party Transactions"):
 - Service transactions

- The use of or right to use intangible assets
- Funding transactions
- Other financial transactions
- Transfer of assets
- Business restructuring
- Cost contribution arrangements

The Preliminary Stages involve gathering certain types of “proof” with regards to a Related Party Transaction.

The Preliminary Stages for service transaction [...] include proof that the service:

- Has actually been rendered by the service provider and received by the service recipient
- Is required by the service recipient
- Provides economic benefits to service recipients
- Is not an activity for the benefit of shareholders or shareholder activity
- Is not an activity that provide benefits to a party solely because the party is part of a business group (passive association)
- Is not a duplication of activities that have been carried out by the taxpayer themselves
- Is not a service that provides incidental benefits
- In the case of on-call services, is not a service that can be obtained immediately from an independent party without an on-call contract in advance

There are also additional requirements for service transactions relating to the cost base used in calculating the service charge.

The Preliminary Stages for transactions related to the use of or right to use intangible assets [...] include proof regarding:

- The existence of intangible assets
- Types of intangible assets
- Value of intangible assets
- Parties who legally possess the intangible assets
- Parties who economically possess the intangible assets
- The use of or right to use intangible property

- The parties who contribute and carry out development, enhancement, maintenance, protection and exploitation activities of intangible assets
- Economic benefits obtained by the parties who use the intangible asset

PMK 172 contains guidance on the proof required for each type of Related Party Transaction.

c. Effective date of applicability

29 December 2023

d. Section reference from local regulation

Refer to section 1b.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

PMK 172 requirements are applicable for both domestic and overseas transactions.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Indonesia is not a member of the OECD, although it has been granted “enhanced participation” status. The DGT broadly endorses the principles of the OECD Guidelines in its regulations. However, the DGT’s practical application of the arm’s-length principle in an audit context regularly diverges from the principles endorsed by the OECD Guidelines.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

- Additional details
Not applicable
 - Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?
Yes
 - Coverage
Foreign-parented groups would follow the turnover threshold in their jurisdiction or in the absence of CbCR rules in the parent jurisdiction, i.e., EUR750 million. The threshold for Indonesian-parented groups is IDR11 trillion.
 - Effective or expected date of commencement
The effective commencement date is 30 December 2016.
 - Material differences from OECD report template or format
No material differences from OECD format
 - Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?
Yes
 - Coverage
The respective "Business Group"
 - Effective or expected date of commencement
The commencement date was 30 December 2016.
 - Material differences from OECD report template or format
There are material differences between the OECD format and the Indonesian jurisdiction format.
 - Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?
Yes
 - Coverage
The Indonesian entity subject to Local File requirements
 - Effective or expected date of commencement
The commencement date was 30 December 2016.
 - Material differences from OECD report template or format
There are material differences between the OECD format and the Indonesian jurisdiction format.
- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?
No
- Additional details
No penalty protection is applied for the BEPS Action 13 report.
- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?
Yes
-
- ### 3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements
-
- a. Applicability
- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?
Yes
 - If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?
Yes
 - Additional details
The transfer pricing documentation guidelines and rules for Indonesia fall under PMK 172. The transfer pricing documentation needs to be submitted to the tax office upon request within 30 days.

However, the transfer pricing documentation must be prepared contemporaneously.
 - Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?
Yes

▪ Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The documentation needs to be prepared annually under Indonesia's local jurisdiction regulations. At a minimum, the contents of the transfer pricing documentation must be contemporaneous for each year.

▪ For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

▪ TP documentation

▪ Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

No

▪ If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

▪ Is there any other threshold?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Based on PMK 172, there is no materiality limit for preparing transfer pricing documentation. If the taxpayer conducts a related-party transaction and:

Has gross revenues of more than IDR50 billion (approx. USD3.7 million) in the prior fiscal year

Or

Conducts transactions with related parties that are located in countries or jurisdictions with income tax rates lower than the Indonesian corporate income tax rate, as specified in Article 17 of Income Tax Law No. 7 of 1983 as last amended by Law No. 36 of 2008

However, if the taxpayer gross revenue in the prior fiscal year is less than IDR50 billion, there are materiality limits for preparing transfer pricing documentation if the taxpayer conducts related-party transactions in the prior fiscal year with a value of:

More than IDR20 billion (approx. USD1.4 million) for tangible goods transactions

More than IDR5 billion (approx. USD372,000) for each service, interest payment, utilization of intangible properties or other affiliated transactions

▪ CbCR

▪ What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

EUR750 million/IDR11 trillion

▪ What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

▪ Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

Foreign-parented groups would follow the turnover threshold in their jurisdiction or in the absence of CbCR rules in the parent jurisdiction, i.e., EUR750 million in prior year. The threshold for Indonesian-parented groups is IDR11 trillion in prior year.

▪ Master File

▪ What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

If a taxpayer meets the thresholds above to prepare transfer pricing documentation they must prepare both a Local File and a Master File.

▪ What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

▪ Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no threshold applied for preparation of Master File once the taxpayer has met the requirements to prepare transfer pricing documentation.

- Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

If a taxpayer meets the thresholds above to prepare transfer pricing documentation they must prepare both a Local File and a Master File.

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

None

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is no materiality limit for preparing Economic analysis once the taxpayer has met the requirements to prepare transfer pricing documentation.

- Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

Article 32 paragraph 1 of PMK 172 states that the Local File and the Master File should be prepared by the taxpayer in Bahasa Indonesia (Indonesian).

- Is a safe harbor available?

No

- Additional details

There are no specific requirements for safe harbor availability.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

- Additional details

Individual testing is preferred although aggregate testing may also be applied in certain circumstances.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

Yes

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

There are no transfer pricing-specific returns required in Indonesia.

- Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

The disclosure of domestic and international related-party transactions with the corporate income tax return (CITR) is required in Form 3A/3B. The information required includes the counterparty, the type of transaction, the value of the transaction, the transfer pricing method applied and the reason for the application of the method. Taxpayers are also required to disclose whether they have transfer pricing documentation prepared.

Taxpayers are also required to submit the Summary Form in a given format with the CITR for the relevant fiscal year. The Summary Form requires the taxpayer to indicate that the content of the Master File and Local File has conformed to the regulations as well as the exact date the files have been made available.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Related-party disclosures are required to be disclosed in the financial statements as part of Indonesia GAAP requirements only. These disclosures are based on Indonesian GAAP guidance.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Notification is required to be included in the CITR.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

30 April for companies with a 31 December year-end.

▪ Additional details

The CITR filing deadline is four months after the fiscal year-end.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

30 April for companies with a 31 December year-end

▪ Additional details

The disclosure forms related to transfer pricing must be attached to the CITR (Form 3A/3B and Summary Form).

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

30 April for companies with a 31 December year-end

▪ Additional details

Master File must be available within four months after the fiscal year-end and needs to be submitted along with Local File upon request from tax office.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December for companies with a 31 December year-end

▪ Additional details

The deadline is 12 months after the year-end. The receipt from the CbCR filing must be attached to the CITR for the subsequent fiscal year.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

The deadline is 12 months after the year-end

▪ Additional details

The receipt from the notification filing must be attached to the CITR for the subsequent fiscal year.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

30 April for companies with a 31 December year-end

▪ Additional details

The Master and Local Files must be available no later than four months after the taxpayer's fiscal year-end. The CbCR report must be available within 12 months after the year-end.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no statutory deadline for submitting transfer pricing documentation.

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The taxpayer is required to provide Local File within 30 days upon tax authority request.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

▪ Additional details

PMK 172 applies a hierarchy for the selection of Transfer Pricing methods.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Companies in the same location as the tested party are preferred.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Single-year is preferred; however, multiyear analyses are accepted if there is specific support available for the use of a multiyear analysis.

Whether a point, full range or interquartile range is required to be applied will depend on the number of comparable companies selected.

A Microsoft Excel interquartile range calculation is commonly used.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is a need to perform fresh benchmarking every year. According to Article 17 paragraph 1 of PMK 172, transfer pricing documentation as stipulated in Article 16 paragraph (2) letters "a" and "b" must be organized based on data and information available at the time the related-party transaction is conducted.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

A weighted average is preferred if using multiyear analysis.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

Equity ownership of less than 25% is required. Other criteria are also applied based on common practice.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Transfer pricing documentation compliance penalties comprise one or more of the following: deemed arm's-length outcomes, interest penalties on unpaid taxes arising from adjustments to arm's-length outcomes, administrative penalties on incorrect disclosures in the CITR, secondary adjustments and VAT adjustments.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

- Are there any other penalties?

Not applicable

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

- Additional details

There will be penalties based on interest rate per month according to referenced interest rate (maximum 24 months) on any tax underpayment arising from adjustments to income and costs corresponding to related-party transactions as a result of the tax audit process as well as the abovementioned documentation-related penalties. In certain conditions, an uplift factor of 20% can be imposed on such interest rate.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

- Additional details

There will be penalties based on interest rate per month according to referenced interest rate (maximum 24 months) on any tax underpayment arising from adjustments to income and costs corresponding to related-party transactions as a result of the tax audit process as well as the abovementioned documentation-related penalties. In certain conditions, an uplift factor of 20% can be imposed on such interest rate.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

Yes

- Additional details

There will be penalties based on interest rate per month according to referenced interest rate (maximum 24 months) on any tax underpayment arising from adjustments to income and costs corresponding to related-party transactions as a result of the tax audit process as well as the abovementioned documentation-related penalties. In certain conditions, an uplift factor of 20% can be imposed on such interest rate.

Taxpayers may be granted interest compensation under the following conditions:

- Delay in the refund of excess tax payments.
- Delay in the issuance of the Tax Overpayment Assessment Letter.
- Delay in the issuance of the Tax Overpayment Assessment Letter.
- Excess tax payments due to objections, appeals, or requests for judicial review that are granted in part or in full.
- Excess tax payments due to Correction Decrees, decrees for reduction or cancellation of tax assessment letters, or decrees for reduction or cancellation of Tax Bills that grant part or all of the taxpayer's requests.

The applicable Interest rate will be based on interest rate per month according to referenced interest rate (maximum 24 months)

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

There are provisions that potentially provide relief from secondary adjustments but not the primary penalty regime.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

There is no separate statute of limitations for transfer pricing. The statute of limitations for transfer pricing assessments will follow the statute of limitations for tax generally. Under Indonesian tax law, the DGT is permitted to conduct a tax audit and issue an underpayment tax assessment of the arm's-length nature of related-party transactions, within five years of the relevant Fiscal Year. The statute of limitation will be extended to 10 years in the case of a conduct of a tax fraud/tax crime.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes. A taxpayer's application for a tax refund will trigger an automatic tax audit, which must be finished within one year after the submission of the tax return. The possibility that transfer pricing will be reviewed as part of a regular and special tax audit may be considered to be high. Tax audit cases are typically commenced in the taxpayer's relevant tax office, with the exception of the special audit cases. A transfer pricing audit, unless it is a special audit, will occur as a part of an all-taxes audit. The DGT has a central transfer pricing team or a valuations team that is assigned to cases as needed. The central transfer pricing team or valuations team might also be involved in assisting a tax auditor team in their respective tax office in performing transfer pricing audits. In practice, in addition to taxpayers that are subject to an automatic tax audit as a part of the tax overpayment process, taxpayers that exhibit the following characteristics are at a higher risk of a transfer pricing audit:

A large number of related-party transactions with offshore entities

A multinational company that has continuous operating losses or significant related-party transactions

Lower net profit in comparison with other similar enterprises or with the industry average

Increasing gross revenue and receipts but no change or decrease in net profit

Related parties in tax havens: Each taxpayer is assigned an account representative (AR) to assist with its tax matters. The AR's role has increased this year with regard to confirming transfer pricing compliance. ARs have been actively risk-profiling taxpayers' transfer pricing audits by audit teams. In undertaking transfer pricing audits, tax auditors will follow guidance contained in PMK-15.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

Based on PMK 172, adjustment can be made to any point in the interquartile range; however, if it is difficult to justify the median level will be used as the basis of the adjustment.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

No

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Yes

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The term could be as long as five years forward with a five-year roll-back for both unilateral and bilateral APAs.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Yes

d. Is MAP available?

Yes

Under the tax law, the Minister of Finance may determine an acceptable debt-to-equity ratio. In September 2015, the Minister prescribed a maximum debt-to-equity ratio of 4:1, effective from tax year 2016. This rule applies only to Indonesian-resident companies, which are companies that are established or incorporated in Indonesia or domiciled in Indonesia and that have their equity made up of shares. It does not apply to permanent establishments. Certain taxpayers are exempted from the rule. Under the Minister of Finance Regulation regarding the debt-to-equity ratio, if a taxpayer breaches the ratio limit, the DGT is entitled to adjust the taxpayer's borrowing costs based on the debt-to-equity ratio limit. For a taxpayer that has nil or negative equity, all costs related to the borrowing are treated as nondeductible for corporate tax purposes. Foreign loans must be reported to the DGT. Non-reporting of foreign loans results in the forfeiting of the deductibility of the interest. Interest rates on related-party loans must be at arm's length.

In addition with regards to Intercompany loan transactions, Income tax law also requires Taxpayer to ensure the debt to equity ratio is consistent with the arm's length principle (compared to debt to equity ratio of independent parties). However until now there is no implementation regulation about this requirement.

- 835F Small or medium-sized enterprises
- 835G Documentation and enquiries
- 835H Elimination of double counting
- 835HA Interaction with capital allowances provisions
- 835HB Interaction with provisions dealing with chargeable gains

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Ireland's transfer pricing rules were extended to transactions that are of a non-trading nature for the purposes of Irish corporate tax. The intention was that the rules should not create deemed income taxable at the 25% rate of corporate tax for which deductions were available only at the 12.5% rate of corporate tax. Finance Act 2021 applies for chargeable periods commencing on or after 1 January 2022. Finance Act 2021 provides for an exclusion from the application of s 835C TCA 1997 for the party to an arrangement who meets the conditions of being an eligible person within the meaning of the legislation and where the eligible person is one party to a transaction involving two qualifying persons. In determining whether the exemption available under s 835E apply to a specific arrangement involving two Irish related parties, several tests must be satisfied. Documentation evidencing the applicability of this exemption must be maintained and submitted together with transfer pricing documentation if requested by the Revenue Commissioners.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Ireland is a member of the OECD. Irish regulations follow the arm's-length principle and adopt the 2022 OECD Guidelines into the domestic legislation for accounting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2023.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Yes. Master File and Local File regulations are in place in Ireland. Section 835G of Taxes Consolidation Act (TCA)

1997, Part 35A, sets out the documentation requirements in Ireland. Master File and Local File requirements are in scope:

The requirement to prepare a Master File (in accordance with the 2022 OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines) is for Irish taxpayers that are engaged in transactions with associated persons and are members of a group with annual consolidated revenues in excess of EUR250 million.

The requirement to prepare a Local File (in accordance with the 2022 OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines) is for Irish taxpayers that are engaged in transactions with associated persons and are members of a group with annual consolidated revenues in excess of EUR50 million. Note that both Master File and Local File thresholds are based on the annual consolidated group revenue figure, and not the local Irish entity's/entities' financial results. The statutory deadline for preparing the Master File and Local File reports is in line with the corporate tax return filing deadline (i.e., 23rd day of the ninth month after a company's accounting year-end). As an example, for a company with an accounting year ending 31 December 2022, it is expected that transfer pricing documentation would be in place by 23 September 2023.

CbC Reporting: An Irish resident ultimate parent entity of an MNE group (one with annual consolidated revenue in excess of EUR750 million in the immediately preceding accounting period) will be required to file a group CbC report with Irish Revenue. For foreign-parented groups, Irish domestic constituent entities can file the CbCR notification. The filing deadline for the CbC report or equivalent CbC report is 12 months after the last day of the accounting period (full-year estimate plus one year on 31 December). The filing deadline for the CbCR notification is the last day of the financial year to which it pertains (e.g., for a taxpayer with a financial year ending 31 December 2022, the deadline for the notification is 31 December 2022).

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

This applies if an Irish company is an Ultimate Parent Entity, Surrogate Parent Entity, or an EU Designated Entity, and a member of an MNE Group with annual consolidated revenues equal to or exceeding EUR750 million in the previous year.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2016.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

The requirement to prepare a Master File (in accordance with the 2022 OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines) is for Irish taxpayers that are (i) engaged in transactions with associated persons and (ii) are members of a group with annual consolidated revenues in excess of EUR250 million. Note that the Master File threshold is based on the annual consolidated group revenue figure, and not the local Irish entity's/entities' financial results. The statutory deadline for preparing the Master File report is in line with the corporate tax return filing deadline (i.e., 23rd day of the ninth month after a company's accounting year-end). As an example, for a company with an accounting year ending 31 December 2022, it is expected that transfer pricing documentation would be in place by 23 September 2023.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

BEPS Action 13 Master File requirements have been legislated with effect for chargeable periods beginning on or after 1 January 2020.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

The requirement to prepare a Local File (in accordance with the 2022 OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines) is for Irish taxpayers that are (i) engaged in transactions with associated persons and (ii) are members of a group with annual consolidated revenues in excess of EUR50 million. Note that Local File threshold is based on the annual consolidated group revenue figure, and not the local Irish entity's/entities' financial results. The statutory deadline for preparing the Local File report is in line with the corporate tax return filing deadline (i.e., 23rd day of the ninth month after a company's accounting year-end). As an example, for a company with an accounting year ending 31 December 2022, it is expected that transfer pricing documentation would be in place by 23 September 2023.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

BEPS Action 13 Local File requirements have been legislated with effect for chargeable periods beginning on or after 1 January 2020.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

Yes

- Additional details

Partially. BEPS Action 13 format is a requirement for penalty protection. The requirements for penalty protection are: (i) the transfer pricing documentation has been prepared within the deadline; (ii) the transfer pricing documentation is submitted with 30 days if requested; and (iii) the transfer pricing documentation is complete, and show that, notwithstanding any transfer pricing adjustment, the taxpayer has made reasonable efforts to comply with Ireland's transfer pricing rules.

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

No

- Additional details

The 2022 OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines have been adopted into Irish legislation for chargeable periods beginning on or after 1 January 2023. Guidance on the Irish rules are contained in the Tax and Duty Manual, Transfer Pricing, Part 35A- 01- 01. Documentation should exist no later than the time the tax return for the period is due to be made for the taxpayer to be able to make a correct and complete tax return. It does not need to be submitted to the Revenue Commissioner unless requested. In addition, the following is applicable:

A penalty protection regime has been established in the case of timely documentation (Refer to section 2d) and demonstration of reasonable efforts to comply with those regulations.

Chapter V, D. 7 of the 2022 OECD Guidelines recommends that where transfer pricing documentation requirements are satisfied and submitted on time, the relevant person may be exempt from penalties or subject to a lower penalty where a transfer pricing adjustment is made.

Section 835G(7)(c)(iii) requires the relevant person to demonstrate "reasonable efforts to comply with this Part" as part of the criteria for penalty protection. Reasonable efforts may be demonstrated by including a description of the work actually undertaken when preparing the transfer pricing documentation.

An important exemption for domestic non-trading transactions, subject to certain anti-avoidance rules. Finance Act 2021 applies for chargeable periods commencing on or after 1 January 2022 (a similar exemption was in place for chargeable periods commencing on or after 1 January 2020. Finance Act 2021 provides for an exclusion from the application of s 835C TCA 1997 for the party to an arrangement who meets the conditions of being an eligible person within the meaning of the legislation and where the eligible person is one party to a transaction involving two qualifying persons. In determining whether the exemption available under s 835E apply to a specific arrangement involving two Irish related parties, there are several tests that must be satisfied. Documentation evidencing the applicability of this exemption must be maintained and submitted together with transfer pricing documentation if requested by the Revenue Commissioners.

Extension of transfer pricing rules to capital transactions, applying to capital expenditure incurred on or after 1 January 2020:

For assets where capital allowances are being claimed, transfer pricing is applicable where the amount of expenditure on acquisition exceeds EUR25 million, specifically including intangible assets.

Transfer pricing is also applicable on the disposal of assets where the value of the asset on disposal is more than EUR25 million.

Removal of the exemption for transactions that are grandfathered (i.e., transactions that are outside the scope of Irish transfer pricing rules if entered into before 1 July 2010); it should be noted, however, that the new Master File and Local File documentation requirements are Not applicable to grandfathered arrangements.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

The Master File and/or Local File should be prepared no later than the due date for the tax return for the accounting period in question.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

No. The Revenue Commissioner provide for the preparation of a single report covering all Irish taxpayers. This report should include all Irish taxpayers within the Group that are engaged in transactions with associated persons.

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Turnover

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

There are three thresholds that are relevant for Irish transfer pricing rules in the. The first is the small- to medium-sized enterprises (SME) exemption from transfer pricing rules in their totality and the second and third are the threshold for preparation of the local file and master file reports.

The exemption for SMEs is provided for under s 835EA Taxes Consolidation Act 1997, and draws its definition of an SME from an amended version of the Commission Recommendation of 6 May 2003, published by the European Commission. The definition includes enterprises that have fewer than 250 employees (pro-rating is permitted), and either less than EUR50 million in revenue or EUR43 million balance sheet. While, for practical purposes, this test can, in many circumstances, be applied to consolidated financial statements, the definition of "enterprise" provided for in the Commission Recommendation is broad, and potentially includes minority investors, minority holdings and joint ventures. As such, in these cases, it is recommended that advice is taken to establish the applicability of the exemption.

The thresholds for the preparation of a local file and a master file report are EUR50 million and EUR250 million, respectively. These are based on the group turnover as recorded in the consolidated financial statements of the ultimate parent company.

It is, therefore, possible that a taxpayer that has entered into transactions with associated persons may not be able to avail of the SME exemption and therefore must be compliant with the transfer pricing rules, but may not have breached the threshold for the preparation of the local file report. In this instance, the taxpayer is required to maintain such records as are necessary as to demonstrate compliance with Irish transfer pricing rules. This is, in practical terms, substantially the same as the local file report.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

EUR750 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details
This applies if MNE annual consolidated revenues are equal to or exceed EUR750 million in the previous year.
 - Master File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?
EUR250 million
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Annual global income
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
There is a requirement to prepare Master File documentation subject to an EUR250 million annual group consolidated revenue threshold.
 - Local File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?
EUR50 million
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Annual global income
 - Is there any other threshold?
Yes
 - Additional details
There is a requirement to prepare Local File documentation subject to an EUR50 million annual group consolidated revenue threshold.
 - Economic analysis
 - Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?
No
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Not applicable
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
There is no materiality limit.
- c. Specific requirements
- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?
No
 - Additional details
The transfer pricing documentation needs to be submitted in the local language, meaning Irish or English.
 - Is a safe harbor available?
Yes
 - Additional details
As the 2022 OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines are adopted into Irish legislation, the pricing of low-value-adding services is included therein (Section 7. 43). There are currently no safe harbors for financial transactions.
 - Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?
Individual testing
 - Additional details
There is none specified.
 - Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?
Yes
- 4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures
-
- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?
No

- Additional details

No transfer pricing-specific forms are required to be filed in Ireland.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

Tax returns in Ireland are generally due to be filed within nine months after the end of the taxpayer's accounting period. The tax return contains the following three transfer pricing related questions:

- Does the company qualify for the SME exemption under 835EA?
- Is the company required to prepare a Local File?
- Is the company required to prepare a Master File?

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes, related-party disclosures are set out in financial statements outlining the related parties and intercompany transactions.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

23rd day of the ninth month after year-end. For example, a taxpayer with a 31 December 2023 year-end is required to file a corporate income tax return by 23rd September.

- Additional details

A company generally must file its return and pay any tax due nine months after the end of the accounting period. The company must make this payment on or before the 23rd day of the ninth month. Companies that fail to pay and file electronically must submit their return and pay any associated tax. These companies must pay this tax on or before the 23rd day of the month.

- Submission/filing date The deadline is the 23rd day of the ninth month after the end of the accounting period.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

Not applicable. There is no separate transfer pricing return.

- Additional details

The corporate income tax return contains the following four transfer pricing related questions:

- Does the company qualify for the SME exemption under 835EA?
- Is the company required to prepare a Local File?
- Is the company required to prepare a Master File?

Is the company part of a multinational group that is required, whether in Ireland or elsewhere, to file a country-by-country report?

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

There is no requirement to submit the Master File to Irish Revenue unless such documentation is requested by them. Master File documentation requested by Irish Revenue must be delivered to them within 30 days of such request. Where a Master File is requested by Irish Revenue and not provided within the 30-day statutory timeline, a penalty of EUR25,000 will apply, along with a further penalty of EUR100 per day until the documentation is provided.

- Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared) The deadline is the 23rd day of the ninth month after the end of the accounting period.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

One year after the year-end date. For example, a company with a 31 December 2023 year-end must file the CbCR by 31 December 2024.

- Additional details

The filing deadline for the CbC report or equivalent CbC report is 12 months after the last day of the accounting period (full-year estimate plus one year on 31 December). As an example, for the report relating to the fiscal year ended 31 December 2022, this will be submitted on or before 31 December 2023.

Submission/filing date The deadline is 12 months after the last day of the accounting period.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

The last day of the financial year to which it relates. For example, a company with a 31 December 2023 year-end must file the CbCR notification by 31 December 2023.

▪ Additional details

All notifications must be made no later than the last day of the fiscal year to which the CbC report or equivalent CbC report relates. The notification deadline follows that of the ultimate parent entity year-end, and not the domestic constituent entity. For example, for CbC reports or equivalent CbC reports relating to the fiscal year ended 31 December 2023, notifications must be made to Irish Revenue no later than 31 December 2023. Notification deadline is the year-end of the ultimate parent entity. The submission of the CbCR notification needs to be filed annually to IRC. It is possible for one entity (ultimate parent entity, surrogate parent entity, EU-designated entity or domestic constituent entity) to make the CbC reporting notification on behalf of all Irish entities in an MNE group.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

The same deadline as for the filing of the corporate income tax return.

▪ Additional details

The statutory deadline for preparing the Local File is in line with the corporate tax return filing deadline (i.e., the 23rd day of the ninth month after the end of the chargeable period. As an example, a company with a chargeable period of 31 December 2022 is expected to have transfer pricing documentation in place by 23 September 2023.)

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no requirement to submit the Local File to Irish Revenue unless such documentation is requested by them.

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Master File and Local File documentation must be made available upon request by Irish Revenue within 30 days. Where a Master File and/or Local File is requested by Irish Revenue and not provided within the 30-day statutory timeline, a penalty of EUR25,000 will apply, along with a further penalty of EUR100 per day until the documentation is provided.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

▪ Additional details

The Irish transfer pricing rules apply to both cross-border and domestic transactions. To establish an arm's-length price, the 2022 OECD Guidelines will be referenced. The arm's-length principle asserts that intragroup transfer prices should be equivalent to those that would be charged between independent persons dealing at arm's length in otherwise similar circumstances.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There is no legal requirement for local jurisdiction comparables; pan-European comparables are accepted. Common practice is to include the EU27, other countries that have access to the Single Market and the UK.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Three-year testing is a common practice in Ireland for benchmarking purposes; however, the tested party will be tested upon single-year results.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

The full range may be potentially acceptable under specific circumstances. However, the interquartile range is commonly used, and justification to use the full range would be expected by the Revenue Commissioners.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

For a TNMM benchmarking, in general, Irish Revenue will expect a full benchmarking study every three years and for the financials of the accepted comparables to be updated or refreshed on an annual basis.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Based on experience, there is a preference for the weighted average for arm's-length analysis.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

The usual pan-European criteria are accepted; companies with unknown ownership are generally not accepted.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Penalty protection would not be available, and penalties mentioned below would apply.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

The penalty for failure to file a CbCR is EUR19,045, increasing by EUR2,535 each day the report remains outstanding. This includes the filing.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

EUR25,000, plus EUR100 each day it remains outstanding.

▪ Are there any other penalties?

Where a Master File and/or Local File is requested by the Revenue Commissioners and not provided within the 30-day statutory timeline, a penalty of EUR 25,000 will apply, along with a further penalty of EUR100 per day until the documentation is provided.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Where a submitted local file has material deficiencies, there is a risk that the Revenue Commissioners may conclude that the requirement to submit a local file has not been met and they may, therefore, decide to impose a fine as set out above.

Additionally, where the local file documentation is incomplete, there is a question as to whether the penalty protection requirement of maintaining the required documentation and making a reasonable effort to be compliant with the Irish transfer pricing rules has been met. If this is the case, and where a transfer pricing adjustment results in additional tax due, a relevant person will be protected from a tax-geared penalty that may otherwise apply under Section 1077E(5): "Penalty for deliberately or carelessly making incorrect returns, etc.," which relates to careless but not deliberate behavior, where:

The relevant person has fulfilled the requirements of the section to prepare, and provide upon request, transfer pricing documentation within the specified time frame. And

The records provided are accurate and demonstrate that notwithstanding the transfer pricing adjustment, the relevant person has made reasonable efforts to comply with the requirements of Part 35A in setting the actual consideration payable or receivable under an arrangement.

Protection from tax-geared penalties only applies to transfer pricing adjustments that fall within the careless behavior category of default. Where the additional tax due relates to deliberate behavior category of default, the relevant tax-geared penalty will apply even where transfer pricing documentation is provided within 30 days of a written request from an Irish Revenue officer. Where the conditions set out in Section 835G(7) are not satisfied, then penalties provided for in Section 1077E will apply in the normal manner

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

- Additional details

While there is no direct penalty for non-contemporaneous preparation of transfer pricing documentation, contemporaneous preparation is one of the requirements to avail of the penalty protection regime.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Under the general corporate tax penalty provisions, (Section 1080, "Interest on overdue income tax, corporation tax and capital gains tax"), interest arises on underpaid tax at a daily rate of 0.0219%, which is 7.994% per year. The interest is calculated by multiplying together the:

- Amount of tax a company has underpaid
- Number of days the tax is late
- Interest rate

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

Please refer to section 2(d), above.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The statute of limitations is currently four years after the end of the tax year or the accounting period in which the return is made.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

There are a number of transfer pricing audits ongoing in Ireland, and one of the Revenue Commissioners' lines of inquiry is methodology selection, including whether a two-sided study was considered.

- b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

Adjustments will ultimately depend on the merits and economic circumstances of the transaction.

The Revenue Commissioners generally accept a point within the interquartile range; however, a point within the full range may be accepted under certain circumstances.

- d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

The Revenue Commissioners are interested in relatively low people substance and principal company structures. Modifying a tax return or requiring a tax refund may also trigger an IRC query. We are also seeing an increase in audits in a range of industries and sectors.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

- a. Are APAs available?

There is an APA program available in Ireland. The Revenue Commissioners have formally introduced a bilateral APA program (unilateral APAs are not available) with the publication of guidelines on 23 June 2016 – Revenue eBrief No. 60/ 16. Multilateral (or coordinated series of bilateral) APAs are also available. The guidelines are effective for new APAs requested from 1 July 2016. The Revenue Commissioners are generally only open to APAs where there is a possibility of double tax arising or where the transactions are significantly complex enough.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

An Irish bilateral APA agreed upon under the new program will likely have a fixed term of three to five years.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

After the three to five years mentioned above, there is an opportunity to roll back the agreement to open tax periods in certain cases as well as to renew the agreement upon the expiration of the initial term. Therefore, a bilateral APA can provide in excess of five years of tax certainty and audit risk mitigation in the two relevant jurisdictions. The relevant facts and circumstances in the roll-back period must be the same, and this will be subject to verification by the Revenue Commissioners. Other factors that will be considered include the following:

- Whether there are any ongoing audits or examinations in respect of the period(s) or transaction(s) that are to be covered by the roll-back
- Whether there are any appeal or judicial proceedings underway in either jurisdiction concerning the prior periods concerned

d. Is MAP available?

Yes, taxpayers may request an MAP if taxation has or is likely to occur that is not in accordance with the provisions of a double tax treaty (DTT) to which Ireland is a signatory. Most of Ireland's DTTs permit taxpayers to present a case to the Revenue Commissioners within three years from the first notification to the taxpayer of the actions giving rise to taxation not in accordance with the DTT. However, time limits may vary, and the relevant DTT should be consulted for the applicable time limit. Additionally, the Multilateral Convention to Implement Tax Treaty Related Measures to Prevent Base Erosion and Profit Shifting (MLI) should also be consulted to ensure that the relevant DTT is being read as currently in force.

Taxpayers have three years to present a case to the Revenue Commissioners under the EU Arbitration Convention (90/436/EEC). The EU Arbitration Convention establishes a procedure to resolve disputes where double taxation occurs between enterprises of different Member States because of an upward adjustment of profits of an enterprise of one Member State. The Convention provides for the elimination of double taxation by agreement between the contracting states including, if necessary, by reference to the opinion of an independent advisory body.

Following the introduction of new transfer pricing legislation in Ireland (effective for accounting periods commencing on or after 1 January 2020), there is additional requirement under Irish transfer pricing rules to consider whether the legal form of a transaction (including its capital structure) is aligned with the substance of the transaction. Where a taxpayer has obtained related-party debt (and as a result is claiming interest deductions), they need to be able to demonstrate that those interest charges do not exceed those which it would have claimed had it been funded entirely by third-party debt (at arm's length). Where a company is very highly leveraged, the Revenue Commissioners may seek to disallow interest deductions. The debt capacity of a borrower in relation to a related-party loan arrangement should be considered at the time the arrangement was entered into. Hence, this includes any loan arrangements in place prior to 1 January 2020.

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

Yes

b. Name of authority

Revenue Commissioners

c. Name of regulations

S.I. No. 322/2023 - European Union (Disclosure of Income Tax Information by Certain Undertakings and Branches) regulations 2023, which is the Irish statutory instrument (i.e., secondary legislation) that introduced PCbCR in Ireland following EU Directive: Directive (EU) 2021/2101 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 24 November 2021 amending Directive 2013/34/EU as regards disclosure of income tax information by certain undertakings and branches.

d. Effective date of applicability

This is applicable for financial years commencing on or after 22 June 2024.

e. Section reference from local regulation

S.I. 322/2023

14. PCbCR thresholds and exemptions

a. What is the global consolidated income threshold?

EUR750 million

b. Are there any materiality exemptions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

An Irish taxpayer that is not a medium or large undertaking and is a subsidiary of an ultimate parent undertaking that is not constituted, or otherwise governed by, the laws of a Member State of the European Union, is not required to publish a PCbCR. An undertaking that is neither a medium nor large undertaking is a small undertaking as is one which does not exceed at least two of the following three thresholds:

- I. Balance sheet total: EUR7,500,000
- II. Net turnover: EUR15,000,000
- III. Average employees during the financial year: 50

15. Content

a. Does PCbCR align with OECD BEPS Action 13 CbCR requirements?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

b. Is aggregation of transactions allowed?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The PCbCR provides information on an entity/jurisdiction level and so there may be a degree of aggregation that is necessary to comply with the format of the report. For example, if an Irish taxpayer sells to numerous affiliate distributors in several jurisdictions, this would not be disaggregated for the PCbCR.

c. Can you provide data sources and guidance?

The publication of a report in line with the general CbCR requirements, as set out in Annex III to Directive 2011/16/EU is permitted. This provides for the following sources of data: consolidation reporting packages, separate entity statutory financial statements, regulatory financial statements, or internal management accounts. Sources of data should be consistent between years.

16. Lodgment process and requirements

a. Is lodgment possible?

Yes

▪ Additional details

A taxpayer may elect to have the report published on the website of the Registrar of Companies no later than 12 months after the last day of the financial year to which the report pertains. The company must, however, publish a notice on its website that the report is available free of charge on the website of the Registrar of Companies, and provide a link to the report on its own website. The report must be in a machine readable format.

b. Is lodgment in another jurisdiction possible?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

c. Is lodgment required in a prescribed form and format?

Yes

▪ Additional details

If a company elects to publish the report with the registrar of companies, the report must be published in a machine readable format.

d. What is the lodgment deadline?

A taxpayer may elect to have the report published on the website of the Registrar of Companies no later than 12 months after the last day of the financial year to which the report pertains. The company must, however, publish a notice on its website that the report is available free of charge on the website of the Registrar of Companies, and provide a link to the report on its own website. The report must be in a machine readable format.

17. Penalties

a. What are the maximum administrative penalties?

A person who fails to comply with the Irish PCbCR Regulations shall be guilty of an offense and shall be liable on summary conviction to a class A fine (i.e., a fine of up to EUR5,000) or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months, or to both.

Where an offense under these regulations is committed by a body corporate and is proved to have been so committed with the consent or connivance of or to be attributable to any neglect on the part of:

- a. Any person, being a director, manager, secretary or other officer of the body corporate
- b. A relevant person (within the meaning of Regulation 16)

Or

- c. A person who was purporting to act in a capacity referred to in subparagraphs (a) or (b)

that person shall, as well as the body corporate, be guilty of an offense and shall be liable to be proceeded against and punished as if the person were guilty of the first-mentioned offense.

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

b. Is there any risk of criminal prosecution?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Where an offense under these Regulations is committed by a body corporate and is proved to have been so committed with the consent or connivance of or to be attributable to any neglect on the part of:

- a. Any person, being a director, manager, secretary or other officer of the body corporate
- b. A relevant person (within the meaning of Regulation 16)

Or

- c. A person who was purporting to act in a capacity referred to in subparagraphs (a) or (b) that person shall, as well as the body corporate, be guilty of an offense and shall be liable to be proceeded against and punished as if the person were guilty of the first-mentioned offense.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Israeli Tax Authority (ITA)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Sections 85a, 85b, 85c of the Israeli Tax Ordinance (ITO) and the provisions thereunder include a description of the documentation required; it applies to Fiscal Years starting January 2007. In September 2022, Israel enacted legislation and promulgated an amendment to the transfer pricing regulations, to align its transfer pricing rules with the OECD BEPS Action 13 requirements (Local File, Master File, and Country-by-Country Reporting). New Section 85b of the ITO and regulations were introduced to stipulate TP documentation obligations that should be prepared for each international transaction, to be provided to the tax assessing officer upon request. New Section 85c sets forth the obligation of a UPE that is a resident of Israel whose turnover exceeds ILS3.4 billion (or a lower threshold if stipulated so by the Minister of Finance), to declare and submit a CbC report on the group and its activities in each jurisdiction.

c. Effective date of applicability

January 2007

d. Section reference from local regulation

Section 76d of the ITO and the provisions thereunder include a description of the documentation.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

No

▪ Additional details

There are no specific requirements for the treatment of domestic transactions.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Israel is an OECD member jurisdiction. The ITA considers its TP rules and regulations to be consistent with the OECD Guidelines. However, usually a local adaptation is necessary, mainly with respect to the interquartile range when the CUP method is used and the decision of whether to use local, European or US comparables.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Enacted in 2022, Sections 85b and 85c include local reference to the BEPS Action Plan.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

An Israeli UPE in an MNE group whose revenue exceeds ILS3.4 billion.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2022.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

The requirement with respect to coverage of Master File aligns with the 2022 OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

Tax year 2022

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

- Coverage

The requirement with respect to coverage of Local File aligns with the 2022 OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

Tax year 2022

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

- Additional details

There is no penalty protection.

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

To meet the local compliance requirements the TP documentation needs to be prepared annually. Sections 85a and 85c of the ITO and the provisions thereunder include a description of the documentation required. The amended Form 1385 requires the taxpayer to disclose whether it has a contemporaneous TP report. The report should support the disclosed intercompany transactions, at the time of filing of the tax return, to meet all local TP documentation requirements, on an annual basis.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

To meet the local compliance requirements the TP documentation needs to be prepared annually. Sections 85a and 85c of the ITO and the provisions thereunder include a description of the documentation required. The amended Form 1385 requires the taxpayer to disclose whether it has a contemporaneous TP report. The report should support the disclosed intercompany transactions, at the time of filing of the tax return, to meet all local TP documentation requirements, on an annual basis.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

No

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

No

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?
No
- Additional details
There is no materiality limit.
- CbCR
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?
ILS3.4 billion
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Annual global income
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
Yes, an Israeli UPE in an MNE group whose revenue exceeds ILS3.4 billion.
- Master File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?
ILS150 million
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Annual global income
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
Yes, Israeli taxpayers that are members in an MNE group whose revenue exceeded ILS150 million in the preceding year will be required to prepare and file a Master File.
- Local File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?
Not specified
- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Not applicable
No materiality threshold
- Is there any other threshold?
No
- Additional details
There is no threshold limit.
- Economic analysis
 - Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?
No
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Not applicable
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
There is no materiality limit.
- c. Specific requirements
 - Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?
No
 - Additional details
There are no requirements for TP documentation to be submitted in the local language.
 - Is a safe harbor available?
Yes
 - Additional details
On 5 September 2018, the ITA published a circular providing safe harbor provisions for certain intercompany transactions: 1) Low-level services (following the OECD

Guidelines definitions) with a markup on total costs of 5%; 2) Marketing services with a markup on total costs of between 10% and 12% (assuming it has been clarified that the activity is not classified as sales activity, as discussed under a separate ITA circular); 3) Distribution activity under a low-risk profile with an operating margin between 3% and 4%. Taxpayers that exhibit these results are exempt from attaching a benchmarking exercise attesting the arm's-length range into their TP documentation.

▪ Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

▪ Additional details

There is none specified.

▪ Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

Yes. The ITA published a new notification form (Form 1585) on the disclosure of information related to CbCR, including group revenues, identification of the UPE, and indication of the location of the CbCR submission, where applicable. The notification should be filed as part of the tax return for the same fiscal year.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Commencing from the financial year 2007, taxpayers must attach to the annual tax returns a specific TP form (1385 amended as of December 2022), in which the following should be disclosed:

- A short description of the intercompany transaction details of the other party and its residency
- Transaction volume and residency of the other party
- Signatures on all declarations (forms) that the international transactions were conducted at arm's length; according to the taxing authority, such declarations must be supported by documentation that meets the requirements. Updated Form 1385 in 2019: On 3 July 2019, the ITA published an updated Form 1385, taking effect for 2019 tax returns and onward. For tax year 2018, companies may choose to file the updated or the original form. The updated form features additional details regarding intercompany transactions. New elements indicated on the form include:

- The pricing method – to be accurately defined, specifying the profit-loss indicator (PLI) used and the amount of money transferred
- Information about the party with whom the transactions were conducted, possibly to cross-check with the tax authority in the jurisdiction of the related party
- Signature of an individual with a defined position in the company, whereas in the past it was possible to sign on behalf of the company
- Notification on whether safe harbors were used, as per Income Tax Circular 12/ 2018. 1 Updated Form 1385 in December 2022
- The amended Form 1385 requires the disclosure of whether the taxpayer has at its disposal an available contemporaneous TP report supporting the disclosed intercompany transaction, at the time of filing of the tax return, to meet local TP documentation requirements, on an annual basis.
- Form 1485 relates to intercompany capital notes that are provided under certain specific terms, as discussed in Section 85 a (6) of the ITO, thereby qualifying as interest-free loans for Israeli tax purposes. Taxpayers are required to provide details on such capital notes, including the identity and location of the related party, the denomination and amount of the loan, and its duration.
- Form 1585 provides information on the UPE of the MNE group and the whereabouts of the CbCR filing within such MNE group at the time of filing of the tax return on an annual basis.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Form 1385, Form 1485 and Form 1585 included in corporate tax return require the inclusion of the details with respect to the related-party disclosures.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

There is none.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Form 1585 provides information on the UPE of the MNE group and the whereabouts of the CbCR filing within such MNE group at the time of filing of the tax return on an annual basis.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

31 May (extensions common)

▪ Additional details

The deadline is 31 May (the extension duration is dependent on approval provided to specific taxpayer; extensions are very common).

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

31 May

▪ Additional details

The deadline is 31 May (the extension duration is dependent on approval provided to specific taxpayer, extensions are very common), as Form 1385 and Form 1585 must be attached to the corporate income tax return. TP documentation is not required to be submitted unless requested by tax authority.

- Submission/filing date The requirement for submission of TP documentation has been reduced to 30 days. (There is no need to submit TP documentation, unless requested by the tax authority.)

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

31 May

▪ Additional details

The deadline is 31 May (the extension duration is dependent on approval provided to specific taxpayer).

Form 1585 must be attached to the corporate income tax return. TP documentation is not required to be submitted unless requested by the tax authority. The requirement for submission of TP documentation has been reduced to 30 days. (There is no need to submit TP documentation, unless requested by the tax authority.)

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

▪ Additional details

New Section 85c sets forth the obligation of a UPE that is a resident of Israel whose turnover exceeds ILS3.4 billion (or a lower threshold if stipulated so by the Minister of Finance) to declare and submit a CbC report on the group and its activities in each jurisdiction.

Submission/filing date: The obligation to file applies for every tax year, within one year from the end of the tax year.

ITA published Income Tax Circular 01/2025 that provides additional details on submission process.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

31 December

▪ Additional details

Form 1585 provides information on the UPE of the MNE group and the whereabouts of the CbCR filing within such MNE group at the time of filing of the tax return on an annual basis. Israeli UPEs that plan on filling through a surrogate parent should provide the notification by the end of the Fiscal Year directly to the ITA's portal. The members of MNEs that non-Israeli UPEs filing CbCR in jurisdiction other than Israel should file Form 1585 and notify the ITA via designated email by the end of Fiscal Year. The submission of the CbCR notification needs to be filed annually to ITA. Form 1585 provides information on the UPE of the MNE group and the whereabouts of the CbCR filing within such MNE group at the time of filing of the tax return on an annual basis. Israeli UPEs that plan on filling through a surrogate parent should provide the notification by the end of the Fiscal Year directly to the ITA's portal. The members of MNEs that non-Israeli UPEs filing CbCR in jurisdiction other than Israel should file Form 1585 and notify the ITA via designated email by the end of Fiscal Year.

ITA published Income Tax Circular 01/2025 that provides additional details including the notification of the Authority when the CbCR report is submitted in another country. For an Israeli UPE that chooses to submit in another country, the group must notify ITA via the CbCR portal (subject to conditions in Circular and administrator's approval) Each Israeli taxpayer that is a part of a foreign MNE is obligated to notify the authority by means of a designated email (in addition to reporting in the tax return on Form 1585).

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

Annually, by tax return lodgment date

▪ Additional details

To meet the local compliance requirements the TP documentation needs to be prepared annually. Sections 85a and 85c of the ITO and the provisions thereunder include a description of the documentation required. The amended Form 1385 requires the taxpayer to disclose whether it has a contemporaneous TP report. The report should support the disclosed intercompany transactions at the time of filing of the tax return, to meet all local TP documentation requirements, on an annual basis. The TP documentation would be expected to be submitted within 30 days upon request of tax the authority.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no statutory deadline for the submission of TP documentation.

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Taxpayers in Israel must provide the documentation within 30 days of a tax-assessing officer's request.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

▪ Additional details

To determine whether an international transaction is at arm's length, the Israeli TP regulations require the taxpayer to apply one of the following methods, in order of preference:

▪ CUP or comparable uncontrolled transaction (CUT)

▪ Comparable profitability

▪ Cost-plus or resale price

▪ CPM or TNMM

▪ Profit-split

▪ Other methods: An international transaction is at arm's length if, through the application of the selected method, the result falls within a defined interquartile range. As an exception, the entire range of values will apply when the TP method applicable is CUP or CUT and no adjustments are performed. If the international transaction's result is outside the range, the median should be applied as the arm's-length price for the transaction. Additionally, the Israeli TP regulations stipulate the use of several PLIs, depending on the particular industry and environment. On 5 September 2018, the ITA finalized two draft circulars. One circular focuses on appropriate TP methods related to distribution, marketing and sales by MNEs in the Israeli market, while the other focuses on specific profitability ranges for certain transactions. The circulars provide the ITA's position regarding the methodology and profitability of various types of transactions, while facilitating documentation and reporting requirements.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There is benchmarking requirement using local comparables, the tax authorities expect an effort to find local Israeli comparables.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

A single-year analysis of the tested party vs. three years of comparable companies

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

Yes, interquartile range calculation using spreadsheet quartile formulas is acceptable.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

A fresh benchmarking study vs. a financial update needs to be performed every year. This requirement is implicit given that an appendix to the annual tax return (Form 1385) needs to be completed for each international intercompany transaction, stating it has been performed at arm's length.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

The weighted average is preferred.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

that a failure to submit a report, whether in full or in part, is regarded as noncompliance act under Ordinance Section 131

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

▪ Are there any other penalties?

Though no TP specific penalties are mentioned, there are general penalties that might apply also to the TP. The submission of TP documentation is upon request only and should be done within 30 days of the request. ITA published, on 2 June 2020, a tax circular that sets forth the situations in which a TP study that is filed by a taxpayer will be considered as meeting the Israeli TP standards in accordance with Section 85A of the Income Tax Ordinance (ITO) and its Regulations (the Circular). According to the Circular, if the taxpayer did not file a TP study, or where the TP study that was filed does not meet the relevant requirements, the tax assessor will not be required to perform a comprehensive study, but may issue an adjustment based on "estimations, assessments, and personal experience." For this purpose, the documents filed by the taxpayer can be used by the tax assessor.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Though no TP specific penalties are mentioned, there are general penalties that might apply also to the TP. The submission of TP documentation is upon request only and should be done within 30 days of the request. ITA published, on 2 June 2020, a tax circular that sets forth the situations in which a TP study that is filed by a taxpayer will be considered as meeting the Israeli TP standards in accordance with Section 85A of the Income Tax Ordinance (ITO) and its Regulations (the Circular). According to the Circular, if the taxpayer did not file a TP study, or where the TP study that was filed does not meet the relevant requirements, the tax assessor will not be required to perform a comprehensive study, but may issue an adjustment based on "estimations, assessments, and personal experience." For this purpose, the documents filed by the taxpayer can be used by the tax assessor.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

ITA published Income Tax Circular 01/2025 that stipulates

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

▪ Additional details

General tax-related penalties under Section 191 of the ITO include a penalty of 15% (may be increased to 30% in certain cases) of the deficit when the taxable income under audit is higher by 50% or more than the reported taxable income. We note that the tax inspector has the discretion to avoid a penalty when reaching a settlement.

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

▪ Additional details

No

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

Yes

- Additional details

Penalties are considered an addition to the taxpayer's tax debt. Therefore, they are linked to the index and carry 4% interest.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

There is no penalty relief regime applicable in Israel. The company may dispute and begin the stage A process. Based on stage A, the sides may reach an agreement. If not, stage B will begin the same as under stage A. If the sides do not reach an agreement, the assessment will be filed as a dispute and the matter will move to court.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The Israeli Income Tax Ordinance has general rules for auditing a tax return. As such, the statute of limitations usually is three years (or four if the commissioner extends the time period), beginning at the end of the Fiscal Year in which the tax return was filed.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes. Traditionally, taxpayers operating in the international arena or subsidiaries of foreign companies have a higher possibility of being audited. In the past, the possibility that the TP methodology would be challenged in a TP review had been moderate, if supported by robust TP documentation. Recently, a growing trend of challenged TP methodology has been seen as well. When no documentation exists, the methodology is even more likely to be challenged. Following the recent circulars on restructuring, stock option expenses and the digital economy, these issues are more likely to be challenged, as well as financial transactions. In addition, considering Israel's start-up ecosystem, another focus point of tax audits is intellectual property migrations and business restructurings. There are currently several such cases being debated in court.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

TP adjustment is to the median.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

There are no specifications; the ITA challenges all TP transactions, industries and situations.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Section 85A of the Israeli Income Tax Ordinance, which governs the Israeli TP regulations, stipulates in Article 85A(d) the conditions under which an APA may be concluded and delineates the scope of an APA. The process starts with a detailed application that includes all of the relevant details. Under the APA process, the ITA must respond to the taxpayer's application within 120 days (though the time can be extended up to 180 days); otherwise, the application will be approved automatically and the intercompany policy will be deemed as providing reasonable arm's-length prices. In practice, a complete APA procedure may take 12 months. Bilateral and multilateral APA opportunities are available.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

There is none specified.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable

d. Is MAP available?

Yes. Taxpayers may request an MAP if taxation has or is likely to occur that is not in accordance with the provisions of a double taxation treaty (DTT) to which Israel is a signatory. Most of Israel's DTTs permit taxpayers to present a case to the ITA within three years from the first notification to the taxpayer of the actions giving rise to taxation not in accordance with the DTT. However, time limits may vary, and the relevant DTT should be consulted for the applicable time limit.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

Not applicable

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

No

b. Name of authority

Not applicable

c. Name of regulations

Not applicable

d. Effective date of applicability

14. PCbCR thresholds and exemptions

a. What is the global consolidated income threshold?

Not applicable

b. Are there any materiality exemptions?

No

- Additional details

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Italian Revenue Agency (Agenzia delle Entrate – AdE)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Article 110(7) of the Italian Income Tax Code (IIRC) is the historical Italian reference for the definition of the arm's-length principle for transfer pricing purposes. On 14 May 2018, the Italian Ministry of Economy and Finance (MEF) released the final version of a decree setting out the general guidance for the correct application of the arm's-length principle (the Decree). Paragraph 7 of Article 110 of the IIRC (Article 110(7)) was amended by the Law Decree of 24 April 2017, No. 50 (the Law Decree) to explicitly incorporate into the law the arm's-length principle set forth by both the OECD Model Tax Convention (OECD Model) and the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and Tax Administrations (OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines) in their most updated version. While the previous version of Article 110(7) established that the prices for intercompany cross-border transactions should be determined on the basis of the so-called normal value, the new rule generally refers to the "conditions and prices that would have been agreed upon between independent parties acting on an arm's-length basis and in comparable circumstances." On 23 November 2020, the Italian Revenue Agency issued the Decision of the Commissioner of the Italian Revenue Agency prot. n. 0360494 (New Instructions) regarding the content and validity of the elective transfer pricing (TP) documentation available to Italian resident enterprises and Italian permanent establishments (PE) of foreign entities to provide administrative penalty protection in the case of a transfer pricing assessment. The New Instructions introduce significant changes to the mandatory contents of the transfer pricing documentation as defined under the previous instructions (2010 Instructions), in order to adopt the Base Erosion and Profit Shifting (BEPS) Action 13 deliverable and the associated revisions to the OECD transfer pricing Guidelines on documentation. On 26 November 2021, the Italian Revenue Agency issued a Circular Letter (Circular Letter) providing clarifications to increase the level of certainty in the interpretation of the New Instructions.

c. Effective date of applicability

No date specified

d. Section reference from local regulation

In Italy, there are several definitions of related parties.

Historically, from a transfer pricing viewpoint, reference can be made to Circular Letter No. 32 (prot. 9/ 2267), dated 22 September 1980 (1980 Circular Letter), which defines the concept of "control" as "all instances of potential or effective economic influence." Therefore, the notion of control should be extended to cover all hypotheses of economic influence. Then, following the Law Decree, the concept of control could appear to be restricted to the majority shareholding and the existence of a contractual relationship, although no definitive guidance exists. The Decree provides for the following notions:

- "Associated enterprise" means an enterprise resident in the Italian territory as well as nonresident companies where either:
 - One of them participates directly or indirectly in the management, control or capital of the other.
 - The same person participates directly or indirectly in the management, control or capital of both enterprises.
 - "Participation in the management, control or capital" means either:
 - A participation of more than 50% in the capital, voting rights or profits of another enterprise

OR

- The dominant influence over the management of another enterprise, based on equity or contractual constraints

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no documentation obligation for domestic transactions.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

- Additional details

Italy is an OECD member. Italian transfer pricing rules are largely consistent with the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines. After the amendments by the Law Decree, Article 110(7) of the IITC and the related implementing regulations found in the Ministerial Decree of 14 May 2018 now make reference to the arm's-length principle, with the declared purpose of aligning the domestic provision to the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

- Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

- Coverage

Tax year 2016 was the first year subject to CbCR requirements. According to qualification or situation, Italian taxpayers are required to file the CbCR in Italy or to make the proper notification in the yearly tax return. Noncompliance with such requirements is subject to penalties ranging from EUR10,000 to EUR50,000.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is FY 2016.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

- Coverage

Italian laws follow the three-tiered approach recommended by BEPS Action 13 and the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines (i.e., Master File, Local File and Country-by-Country Report).

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The new measures related to the transfer pricing documentation are applicable from fiscal year 2020 onward.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

There are material differences between the OECD format and Italy's regulations. Italy requires a specific format in terms of chapters, paragraphs and subparagraphs for both the Master File and Local File for penalty protection purposes. The structure, in terms of format and contents, is mandatory.

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

- Coverage

Italian laws follow the three-tiered approach recommended by BEPS Action 13 and the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines (i.e., Master File, Local File and Country-by-Country Report).

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The new measures related to the transfer pricing documentation are applicable from fiscal year 2020 onward.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

There are material differences between the OECD format and Italy's regulations. Italy requires a specific format in terms of chapters, paragraphs and subparagraphs for both the Master File and Local File for penalty protection purposes. The structure, in terms of format and contents, is mandatory.

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

- Additional details

No, as Italy requires a specific format and/or specific information.

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

The New Instructions, which repealed the 2010 regulation, require transfer pricing documentation that consists of a Master File and a Local File. Therefore, Italian taxpayers (including permanent establishments of non-Italian resident entities) wishing to benefit from the penalty protection regime are obliged to prepare on a yearly basis both the Master File and Local File. The New Instructions provide that these files must be drafted following a specific structure, which substantially mirrors BEPS Action 13 and the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines, except for some specific requirements. The transfer pricing documentation needs to be prepared contemporaneously and submitted within 20 days upon request during tax audits.

In August 2024, with the Legislative Decree 108/2024, Italy amended the Legislative Decree 1/2024 providing for new deadline for submitting the corporate income tax return, which has impact on the transfer pricing deadline for penalty protection purposes. The Legislative Decree 108/2024 requires taxpayers to submit the income tax return by the 10th month following the fiscal year end.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

If a taxpayer opts for such regime, the complete transfer pricing documentation needs to be drafted annually with respect to the fiscal year to be covered.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

No

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is no materiality limit or threshold for transfer pricing documentation.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

EUR750 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Tax year 2016 was the first year subject to CbCR requirements. According to qualification or situation, Italian taxpayers are required either to file the CbCR in Italy or to make the proper notification in the yearly tax return. Noncompliance with such requirements is subject to penalties ranging from EUR10,000 to EUR50,000.

- Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

Not specified

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is no materiality limit or threshold for Master File.

- Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

Not specified

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is no materiality limit or threshold for Local File.

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

All intercompany transactions need to be disclosed (but not necessarily documented) and reconciled with the data to be provided in the annual tax return. The New Instructions explicitly introduce the possibility of limiting the operations covered by the documentation to be prepared to achieve administrative penalty protection in the case of a transfer pricing assessment. In such case, the penalty protection will be granted exclusively with reference to the transactions described and for which the information provided is considered compliant with the requirements. Marginal transactions are those for which the amount does not exceed 5% of the total in absolute value of the intercompany transactions indicated in the income tax return. These marginal transactions must be analyzed thoroughly to benefit from the penalty protection.

Any “omissions or partial inaccuracies” that are not likely to compromise the analysis of the tax auditors do not jeopardize the application of the penalty protection.

From a benchmarking analysis perspective, a simplification is provided for small and medium-sized enterprises (taxpayers with an annual turnover not exceeding EUR50 million for the fiscal year covered by the transfer pricing documentation and that are not directly or indirectly controlled by, or in control of, entities exceeding the annual turnover). They are not required to update the benchmarking analysis regarding the intercompany transactions in the Local File during the following two fiscal years, provided that the comparability factors do not change significantly and the comparability analysis is based on publicly available sources.

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation for penalty protection purposes needs to be submitted in the local language; however, the Master File may still be drafted in English.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Yes

- Additional details

The Decree and the New Instructions embody the recent updates brought by BEPS Actions 8-10 (as reflected in the 2017 version of the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines) with reference to low-value-adding intercompany services. In particular, the Decree and the New Instructions provide that taxpayers, subject to the preparation of specific documentation, may evaluate such services by aggregating all the direct and indirect costs related to the provision of the same, adding a profit markup equal to 5%. Article 7 defines “low-value-adding services” as those that (i) are of a supportive nature, (ii) are not part of the core business of the multinational group, (iii) do not require the use of unique and valuable intangibles and do not contribute to the creation of the same, and (iv) do not involve the assumption or control of any significant risks by the service provider. The description of such services can also be included in the Local File and described in line with the provisions of the New Instructions.

▪ Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

▪ Additional details

There is none specified, though the Italian tax authority tends to apply a transaction-by-transaction analysis rather than an overall-entity analysis. Similar transactions can be aggregated.

▪ Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

Yes. With the implementation of Directive 2018/ 822 of 25 May 2018 (DAC 6), cross-border arrangements within the EU, as well as between Member States and third countries (as of 1 July 2020), involving the use of unilateral safe harbor rules will be reportable and subject to automatic exchange of information. Italy has implemented the DAC 6 rules through Legislative Decree 30 July 2020 no. 100, which was integrated with the publication of the Decree of the Ministry of Economy and Finance of 20 November 2020 and Ruling No. 364425 of 26 November 2020, containing guidelines on the procedures for the communication of reportable cross-border arrangements. The domestic regulatory framework was completed by Circular Letter No. 2/E of 10 February 2021 issued by the Italian Revenue Agency.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

▪ Additional details

In Italy, there are no specific transfer pricing returns. The IITC includes a dedicated section (section RS 106) that must be completed with the following information:

- The kind of control relationship existing with non-resident related parties
- The amount of costs and revenues from cross-border intragroup transactions.

As already mentioned, for purposes of the optional penalty protection regime, taxpayers that intend to adhere to such regime shall communicate the availability of proper documentation on the annual income tax return (i.e., in a dedicated box in the mentioned Section RS 106).

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Italian companies must officially communicate whether they are managed and controlled by another company, as well as the name of the related company (Article 2497-bis of the Italian Civil Code). Financial statements should include essential data from the managing or controlling company’s financial statements and relations with related parties (Articles 2424, 2427, 2428 and 2497-bis of the Italian Civil Code).

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Yes, the information is provided in Section RS 268 of the annual income tax return.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

31 October for companies with fiscal year ended 31 December

- Additional details

The tax return is due by the end of the 10th month following the fiscal year-end. The transfer pricing documentation needs to be prepared contemporaneously as the taxpayer's possession of it must be declared in the relevant CIT return. Transfer pricing documentation must be submitted within 20 days upon request during a tax audit. For further details, please refer to section 3a of this guide.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

20 days upon request during a tax audit

- Additional details

The Master File must be submitted in an electronic format within 20 days of the tax auditors' request. Any additional related documents required by the tax authorities should generally be provided within seven days of the relevant request.

- Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared) The taxpayer's possession of the transfer pricing documentation must be declared in the relevant CIT return. The tax return is due by the end of the ninth month following the fiscal year-end. For further details, please refer to section 3a) of this guide.
- Submission/filing date: Transfer pricing documentation (including the Master File) must be submitted within 20 days upon request during a tax audit.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

For FY 2016, the deadline for submitting the CbCR for companies with a calendar-year fiscal year was set as 9 February 2018. For the following FYs, the deadline is in principle at the end of the following fiscal year.

CbCR for locally headquartered companies: Italian-headquartered companies meeting the thresholds must file CbCR on a yearly basis.

Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared): end of the following fiscal year.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

A notification disclosing the company name and general details of the reporting entity has to be made in the tax return. Notification is included in a specific section of the CIT return and is required on an annual and company-by-company basis.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By tax return lodgment date

- Additional details

In the yearly tax return, taxpayers that want to apply for the optional penalty protection regime are expected to flag a dedicated box stating that transfer pricing documentation is already available, but it does not have to be submitted until a formal request comes from the tax inspector. Both the Master File and the Local File and relevant attachments must be signed by the Italian entity's legal representative or a delegated person by means of an electronic signature and a time stamp (marca temporale) no later than the date of filing of the relevant tax return.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

No

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Submitted in an electronic format and delivered within 20 days from the tax auditors' request.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Reference is generally made to the transfer pricing methods as provided by the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines. Traditional methods, such as CUP, resale price and cost-plus, are preferred over profit-based methods. The selection of the transfer pricing method entails an explanation of the reasons for using a particular method that produces results consistent with the arm's-length standard. Should a profit method be selected, when a traditional transactional method could be applied in an equally reliable manner, the taxpayer should explain why the latter had been excluded. The same explanation applies when a method other than the CUP method is selected, in the event that it could have been applied to achieve equally reliable results. An accurate description of the taxpayer's procedure for selecting comparable transactions will have to be provided (including a detailed comparability analysis), as well as a clear description of the underlying steps in arriving at an arm's-length range, if needed. Article 4 of the Decree refers to the transfer pricing methods to be used to evaluate a controlled transaction on the basis of the arm's-length principle. The five methods identified by Article 4, which correspond to those listed by the OECD Guidelines, are the comparable uncontrolled price method (CUP), the resale price method (RPM), the cost-plus method (CPM), the transactional net margin method (TNMM) and the transactional profit-split method (PSM).

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There are no explicit benchmarking requirements for local comparables.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

The use of multiple-year data for testing a single year of the taxpayer is the common standard used when testing an arm's-length analysis.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

Interquartile range calculation using spreadsheet quartile formulas is acceptable.

The Italian transfer pricing rules do not clarify whether the update of benchmark studies needs to be a new search or a simple financial update. Financial updates for a limited number of years (e.g., two) are generally accepted. For companies with an annual turnover lower than EUR50 million that are not, directly or indirectly, controlled by or in control of entities exceeding the annual turnover, the law provides for the possibility to update benchmarks on a three-year basis (rather than annually) if there are no changes in the relevant comparability factors.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

The weighted average is preferred for testing arm's-length analysis.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

The independence criterion is generally set at 50%.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Not applicable

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Noncompliance with CbCR requirements is subject to penalties ranging from EUR10,000 to EUR50,000.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

▪ Are there any other penalties?

Incomplete documentation (e.g., incomplete local file or the absence of a Master File) jeopardizes the access to the penalty protection regime. If and when the abovementioned optional transfer pricing documentation regime for penalty protection purposes is deemed inapplicable (with various degrees of judgment), ordinary administrative penalties apply.

According to Circular Letter 58/E, higher penalties may be applicable, in principle, when the documentation is not deemed complete and appropriate.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

- Additional details

Incomplete documentation jeopardizes the access to the penalty protection regime.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

- Additional details

Non-contemporaneous documentation (e.g., Master File and Local File not time stamped and e-signed properly) jeopardizes the access to the penalty protection regime.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Interest on penalties is Not applicable.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

As mentioned, in the case of a transfer pricing adjustment and non-applicability of the optional penalty protection regime, standard penalties apply. There are cases in which penalties can be reduced by the law (e.g., through a settlement procedure in case an agreement is reached, they are reduced to one-third of the minimum amount).

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

There is no specific statute of limitations on an assessment for transfer pricing. The general statute-of-limitations period for tax purposes applies. Up to FY 2015 included, taxpayers must receive a notice of tax assessments by 31 December of the fourth year following the year for which the tax return has been filed. If the tax return has been omitted or is treated as null and void, the assessment period for the relevant year is extended by an additional year. In the case of criminal ramifications, terms for assessments can be doubled, but only if the criminal offense has been communicated by the tax authorities to the criminal authorities within the standard statute of limitations. From FY 2016 onward, taxpayers may be subject to a tax assessment up to the end of the fifth year following the year of filing of the relevant tax return. In addition, the statute of limitations is extended to seven years for a failure to file any tax. The 2016 Budget Law repealed the doubling of the statute of limitations in the case of criminal tax investigations.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

The Italian Revenue Agency, commenting on the Decree, issued in transfer pricing Circular Letter no. 16/E of May 2022 more detailed guidelines regarding the interpretation of the range of results. In principle, in case of very high and equal comparability with the third-party reference points, each point in the range can be a reference for a comparable price. However, the interquartile range tends to be preferred by the Italian tax authorities. Therefore, in case the price/margin is not within the interquartile range, the approach generally adopted is to adjust to the median unless the tax authorities or the taxpayer proves that the circumstances of the case ensure adjustment to a different point in the range.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Generally, all intercompany relationships are deeply scrutinized. Recently, specific areas of attention can be identified in management fees, intellectual property-related transactions, financial transactions and service provider structures.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Although formally introduced in the Italian law in 2003, the Italian APA discipline has been updated by Legislative Decree No. 147 of 2015, dated 22 September 2015 (Internationalization Decree). The Internationalization Decree revises and expands the scope of a specific type of tax agreement available for companies with international operations. The International Ruling was already available to reach agreements with the tax authorities on:

- Transfer pricing issues by concluding APAs
- Cross-border flow matters
- Attribution of profits to domestic and foreign permanent establishments
- Existence of permanent establishments

Under the revised version, the procedure is renamed advance agreements for enterprises with international activities (Advance Tax Agreement), and its scope is extended to the following:

- Agreements on asset bases in the case of inbound and outbound migrations
- For companies that participate in the Cooperative Compliance Program (CCP), agreements on the fair market value of costs incurred with prohibited list entities (blacklist costs) for deduction purposes.

The advance pricing agreement is, in principle, valid for five years (i.e., from the year in which it is signed and the following four), to the extent that the underlying factual and legal circumstances remain unchanged. Through the validity of the agreement, the tax authorities may exercise their power of scrutiny only in relation to matters other than those agreed upon in the Advance Tax Agreement.

The Italian Budget Law for 2021 introduces an extension of the roll-back of APAs available to international enterprises for managing in advance selected tax risks.

An APA may cover all the previous fiscal years for which the statute of limitations has not yet expired. However, the law requires that the circumstances under which the APA was reached are likewise applicable to the previous fiscal years and that no investigations were started, or tax assessments were noticed for the same fiscal years with respect to the issues subject to the APA.

In addition, in the context of a bilateral or multilateral APA, this "extended roll-back" is allowed, provided that the foreign competent authorities agree to extend the APA to the previous fiscal years.

Moreover, for filing a bilateral and multilateral APA ruling request before the Italian tax authorities the enterprise shall pay a fee equal to:

- EUR10,000 where the overall turnover of the group is lower than EUR100 million
- EUR30,000 where the overall turnover of the group is higher than EUR100 million and lower than EUR750 million
- EUR50,000 where the overall turnover of the group is higher than EUR750 million

The fees above are reduced by half if the agreement is renewed.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The advance pricing agreement is, in principle, valid for five years (i.e., from the year in which it is signed and the following four), to the extent that the underlying factual and legal circumstances remain unchanged.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Available. In case of unilateral APA, roll-back is available up to the year of filing of the APA request. In case of bilateral and multilateral APA, based on the related terms and conditions.

d. Is MAP available?

There are no specific provisions for the MAP procedure in domestic law. Taxpayers must rely on the MAP provisions under double taxation treaties or under the European Arbitration Convention (EAC) (90/ 436/EEC).

In addition, a new procedure allows Italian taxpayers to obtain within 180 days a unilateral downward adjustment on their taxable income as a result of a transfer pricing adjustment (made by foreign tax authorities) after a negotiation phase with the Italian tax authorities. If the outcome of the procedure denies the corresponding unilateral adjustment, relief from double taxation may be in any case possible under MAP and EAC (in case the timing allows the filing of the request).

EU Directive 2017/ 1852 lays down innovative resolution mechanisms with the goal of tackling international double taxation issues between EU Member States. The EU Directive has been implemented in Italy through Legislative Decree No. 49 of 10 June 2020 (the Decree), which provides for the domestic rules to apply the new procedures. The provisions of the Decree apply to procedures submitted starting from 1 July 2019 on questions in dispute relating to Fiscal Year starting on or after 1 January 2018.

Further, the Italian Revenue Agency published the Act No. 381176 dated 16 December 2020 setting forth the operational rules to start, conduct and settle the international disputes governed by the Decree.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

Italy does not have any specific regulations or rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity. It follows the OECD principles. Legislative Decree No. 142 of 29 November 2018 replaced Article 96 of the IITC, bringing the already existing interest limitation rule in line with the Anti-Tax Avoidance Directive (ATAD).

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

Yes

b. Name of authority

PCbCR must be lodged with the Company's Register (Registro delle Imprese in Italian) of the Italian Chamber of Commerce.

c. Name of regulations

Italy has implemented the EU Public Country-by-Country Reporting Directive (Directive) through the implementing Legislative Decree No. 128 of 4 September 2024, published on the Official Gazette No. 214 of 12 September 2024 (the Decree).

d. Effective date of applicability

PCbCR legislation is applicable for reporting periods starting on or after 22 June 2024.

e. Section reference from local regulation

Italy has implemented Directive through the implementing Decree that, as of today, is the sole domestic reference. In particular:

- The regulation applies to PCbCRs prepared for fiscal years beginning on or after 22 June 2024 (Article 3 of the Decree).
- The PCbCR shall be made public within 12 months after the end of the financial year, by filing it with the Company's Register (Registro delle Imprese in Italian) of the Italian Chamber of Commerce and making it available on the website (Article 1, lett. c), of the Decree, which amended Legislative Decree No. 139/2015 and introduced, inter alia, Article 5-sexies).
- The PCbCR shall remain publicly accessible for at least five consecutive years (Article 1, lett. c), of the Decree, which amended Legislative Decree No. 139/2015 and introduced, inter alia, Article 5-sexies).
- The PCbCR shall have to be prepared in Italian or in the language commonly used in the context of international finance (Article 1, lett. c), of the Decree, which amended Legislative Decree No. 139/2015 and introduced, inter alia, Article 5-sexies).

Further implementing provisions/regulations are expected for the actual/practical implementation of the PCbCR obligations.

14. PCbCR thresholds and exemptions

a. What is the global consolidated income threshold?

Total consolidated (group) revenues exceeding EUR750 million for each of the last two consecutive financial years

b. Are there any materiality exemptions?

Yes

- Additional details

The reporting obligation generally applies to: (i) Italian parents of groups with consolidated revenue exceeding EUR750 million for each of the last two consecutive financial years; (ii) Italian companies that exceed the revenue threshold on a stand-alone basis; (iii) Italian companies that do not exceed the revenue threshold but belong to consolidated groups not established in a Member State that does meet the threshold; and, under certain circumstances (iv) Italian permanent establishments (PEs).

With regard to Italian PEs, the Italian regulation expressly provides for a revenue threshold applicable to branches/ PEs. In particular, a PE is in-scope as long as its revenues (as resulting from the latest approved financials) exceed the threshold set forth under Article 2435-bis of the Italian Civil Code. The Italian PCbCR Decree does not expressly provide guidelines in relation to such revenue computation.

In the lack of official guidance and still pending the issuance of further implementing provisions, there seems to be still uncertainty in respect to small enterprises and to what extent the reporting obligation at hand will be required (or not) also for such entities.

disclose a PCbCR with all available information, including a statement indicating the failure of the UPE to provide the necessary data.

Finally, it's worth noting that the Italian implementing Decree did not adopt the so-called "safeguard clause" option from the Directive (which generally allows for the omission of one or more items of information required to be disclosed in the PCbCR if the disclosure harms the company's competitive position)

b. Is aggregation of transactions allowed?

Yes

- Additional details

The information in the PCbCR must be reflected separately for each EU Member State, each EEA country, and each jurisdiction listed in the EU list of noncooperative jurisdictions for tax purposes (EU blacklist and EU gray list). For all other jurisdictions (rest of world), there seems to be the chance to provide information an aggregated basis.

c. Can you provide data sources and guidance?

The Italian reporting entity (subject to the domestic reporting obligations) may opt for either reporting the PCbCR information in line with the methodologies provided in the implementing Decree or according to the CbCR methodologies/implementing rules (i.e., Article 4 of Ministerial Decree of 23 February 2017, issued according to Art. 1 of Law No. 208/2015, as well as subsequent CbCR implementing provisions).

15. Content

a. Does PCbCR align with OECD BEPS Action 13 CbCR requirements?

Yes

- Additional details

Based on the implementing Decree, the required content and data to be reflected in the PCbCR are consistent with the Directive requirements. However, the information to be disclosed in the PCbCR under the Directive is more limited than in the BEPS Action 13 CbCR.

The Italian reporting entity (subject to the domestic reporting obligations) may opt for either reporting the PCbCR information in line with the methodologies provided in the implementing Decree or according to the CbCR methodologies/implementing rules (i.e., Article 4 of Ministerial Decree of 23 February 2017, issued according to Art. 1 of Law No. 208/2015, as well as subsequent CbCR implementing provisions).

If a non-EU UPE fails to provide all required information, the reporting entity in Italy must compile and publicly

16. Lodgment process and requirements

a. Is lodgment possible?

Yes

- Additional details

As mentioned above. The PCbCR shall be made public within 12 months after the end of the financial year, by filing it with the Company's Register (Registro delle Imprese in Italian) of the Italian Chamber of Commerce and making it available on the website. The PCbCR shall remain accessible on the website for at least five consecutive years.

b. Is lodgment in another jurisdiction possible?

Yes

- Additional details

In the absence of official clarifications and subject to certain conditions to be analyzed. Subject to certain conditions, an exemption should apply if the non-EU UPE voluntarily publishes its PCbCR on its website and appoints the reporting entity to publish and make the PCbCR publicly available according to the methodologies provided by the Decree.

c. Is lodgment required in a prescribed form and format?

Yes

- Additional details

In the EU context, a regulation was adopted on 29 November 2024 and applies to reports corresponding to financial years starting on or after 1 January 2025.

As of today, Italy has not issued any related implementing provision or official clarification on this topic.

d. What is the lodgment deadline?

Publication must take place within 12 months from the end of the reporting financial year.

17. Penalties

a. What are the maximum administrative penalties?

EUR100,000

- Additional details

Directors of Reporting Entities failing to comply with the relevant obligations (either by not respecting the relevant deadline or by neglecting to include relevant data) are subject to administrative penalties ranging from EUR10,000 to EUR50,000. Under certain circumstances, these penalties may be halved or doubled.

b. Is there any risk of criminal prosecution?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

Effective for the taxable year starting on 1 April 1986 and thereafter and as amended. Commissioner's Directive on the administration of transfer pricing matters (administrative guidelines) and Commissioner's Directive on the mutual agreement procedure. Effective on 1 June 2001 and thereafter and as amended. In March 2019, Japanese legislation on transfer pricing was amended. In June 2022, the administrative guidance on transfer pricing was also updated, and these revisions bring Japan's transfer pricing legislation further into alignment with the OECD Guidelines.

c. Effective date of applicability

1 April 1986

d. Section reference from local regulation

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no documentation obligation for domestic transactions.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Japan is an OECD member jurisdiction, and Japanese TP rules are generally consistent with the OECD Guidelines.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Japan has adopted BEPS Action 13 for TP documentation in the local laws and regulations.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

MNE groups with a consolidated total revenue for the ultimate parent entity's preceding fiscal year of less than JPY100 billion are exempt from the CbCR filing requirement.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 April 2016.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

- Coverage

It covers the Master File.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

CbCR and Master File requirements are effective for fiscal years commencing on or after 1 April 2016.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

Not applicable

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

- Coverage

It covers the Local File.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

Contemporaneous Local File requirements are effective for fiscal years commencing on or after 1 April 2017. For fiscal years beginning prior to 1 April 2017, companies are still required to maintain documents considered necessary to calculate arm's-length prices for controlled transactions (i.e., TP documentation).

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

There are some differences between the OECD report template or format and Japan's Local File regulations. Article 22-10-5(1) of STML Ministerial Order contains the documentation requirements. Key additional points are the requirement for segmented profit and loss information for the tested party and the counterparty to the transaction (including the counterparty's profit and loss segmented for its transactions with Japan).

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

- Additional details

In Japan, there is no penalty protection by preparing a contemporaneous Local File. Instead, being able to submit the Local File by the requested deadline during an audit may reduce the possibility of presumptive taxation (see Section 9a below).

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

- a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

Japan has TP documentation rules. Yes, TP reports are required to be prepared contemporaneously if intercompany transaction amounts meet the thresholds (see Section 3b below).

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

For fiscal years beginning on or after 1 April 2017, companies are required to prepare a contemporaneous

Local File by the time of filing the corporate income tax return (i.e., annually). See b) below for the materiality limit or thresholds to prepare a contemporaneous Local File. Companies that are not subject to a contemporaneous Local File are encouraged to prepare a Local File annually, but not required by the local laws and regulations. For fiscal years beginning prior to 1 April 2017, Japan has a de facto documentation requirement, as taxpayers are expected to maintain documents in support of any tax return (i.e., the results of the tested transactions need to be arm's length).

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

▪ TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

No

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is none specified.

▪ CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

JPY100 billion

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

MNE groups with a consolidated total revenue for the ultimate parent entity's preceding fiscal year of less than JPY100 billion are exempt from the CbCR filing requirement.

▪ Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

JPY100 billion

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Companies with global consolidated sales of less than JPY100 billion in the most recent financial year are exempt from the requirement to submit a Master File.

▪ Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

JPY5 billion/JPY300 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Total international related-party transactions

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Companies with transactions with a single overseas entity of less than JPY5 billion (all transactions including intangible transactions) and intangible transactions less than JPY300 million (again with a single overseas counterparty) in the most recent financial year are exempt from the contemporaneous Local File requirement. Companies exempt from the contemporaneous rule are still required to submit, upon request by an examiner, documents considered necessary to calculate arm's-length prices for controlled transactions (which are usually contained in a Local File).

▪ Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is none specified.

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

The Local File need not be submitted in the local language. The CbCR must be prepared in English, and the Master File can be prepared in English or Japanese. However, for the Master File and Local File, the tax examiner may request translation of all or part of the documentation when not in Japanese.

- Is a safe harbor available?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

Schedule 17- 4.

- b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

Schedule 17- 4 must be attached to the regular annual tax return when the taxpayer has foreign related-party transactions during the fiscal year. This contains the following:

- The name and address of the foreign related party
- The description of the main business of the foreign related party
- The number of employees of the foreign related party
- The amount of capital of the foreign related party
- The legal ownership relationship
- The fiscal year of the foreign related party
- The revenue; cost of sales; selling, general and administrative expenses; operating profit; earnings before tax; and retained earnings of the foreign related party for the preceding year
- The number of intercompany transactions by type (the inventory transaction, the provision of services, tangible fixed asset transaction, intangible transaction and interest, etc.) and the TP methodology applied to each type of intercompany transaction
- Whether an APA exists covering the transactions between the taxpayer and its foreign related party or parties

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Japan Accounting Standard Paragraph 6 provides that in the consolidated financial statements, transactions between consolidated companies and related parties are subject to disclosure, and transactions between consolidated subsidiaries and related parties are also subject to disclosure.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

31 March

- Additional details
 - Submission/filing date: This should be filed within three months after year-end including an extension.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

31 March

Additional details

- Submission/filing date: Schedule 17- 4 should be filed within three months after year-end including an extension by attaching to a corporate income tax return.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

31 March

- Additional details
 - The Master File should be submitted within one year of the day following the one when the ultimate parent's fiscal year ends.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

▪ Additional details

The CbCR must be submitted within one year of the day following the one when the ultimate parent entity's fiscal year ends.

CbCR for locally headquartered companies: The CbCR for locally headquartered companies must be submitted within one year of the day following the one when the ultimate parent entity's fiscal year ends.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

31 December

▪ Additional details

Notification must be submitted by the end of the ultimate parent's fiscal year-end. Annual submission is required.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By tax return lodgment date

▪ Additional details

The contemporaneous Local File must be prepared by the time of lodging the tax return (i.e., where there is a contemporaneous requirement).

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no statutory deadline for submission of TP documentation (other than the Master File, which is required to be submitted within one year of the year-end of the ultimate parent as mentioned above). The deadline for submission of a Local File depends on whether transactions covered require contemporaneous documentation. If transactions require a contemporaneous Local File, it should be submitted by the date designated by the tax examiner, which can be a maximum of 45 days from the date of the request during a corporate or TP examination. If transactions are exempt from the contemporaneous Local File requirement, documents considered as important to calculate arm's-length prices (documents equivalent to the Local File) should be submitted to an examiner by the day designated by the tax examiner, which can be a maximum of 60 days from the date of the request in the course of a corporate or TP examination.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

If transactions require a contemporaneous Local File, it should be submitted by the date designated by the tax examiner, which can be a maximum of 45 days from the date of the request during a corporate or TP examination. If transactions are exempt from the contemporaneous Local File requirement, documents considered as important to calculate arm's-length prices (documents equivalent to the Local File) should be submitted to an examiner by the day designated by the tax examiner, which can be a maximum of 60 days from the date of the request in the course of a corporate or TP examination.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

- a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

Historically, the Japanese tax authorities have required that the CUP, resale-price and cost-plus methods be used whenever possible, allowing the use of other methods (e.g., profit-split method and TNMM) only after the first three have been discounted. STML Articles 66-4 and 66-4-2 were amended to eliminate the hierarchy of methods in favor of the most-appropriate-method approach for tax years beginning on or after 1 October 2011.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

- a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There is a requirement for local jurisdiction comparables in practice for Japan benchmarks (unless the tested party is outside Japan). In practice, non-Japanese comparables are rejected by the Japanese tax authorities because of market differences when the examiner assesses a TP adjustment.

- b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

For a TP assessment, a single-year analysis is applied. For a Local File or APAs, multiple-year analyses are common.

The Administrative Guidelines provide that a TP assessment using the median of an interquartile range can be made in instances where comparability adjustments are made, differences that are difficult to quantify remain, and it is recognized that the effect of the said differences in the adjusted ratio is insignificant. The Administrative Guidelines provide that an interquartile range can be used under the profit-split method, the residual profit-split method and the transactional net margin method. The interquartile range is recognized in practice and commonly used in Local Files and APAs.

- d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

TP examiners would match the year of the taxpayer to the same Fiscal Year of the comparable companies selected for the purpose of a TP assessment. Pragmatically, many taxpayers use the most up-to-date information, as it may not be possible to match years when preparing the Local File because up-to-date financial data of comparable companies is not available by the time of filing a corporate tax return (i.e., the due date to prepare a Local File).

- e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

For a Local File or APAs, there is a preference for the weighted average for arm's-length analysis.

- f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

- a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

There is none specified.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

JPY300,000

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

JPY300,000

- Are there any other penalties?

A fine of up to JPY300, 000 will be imposed if corporations fail to submit a CbCR or a Master File to the District Director by the deadline without good reason. There is no separate penalty for failure to prepare and maintain a Local File.

- b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

In general, no interest is accrued on a refund as a result of a correlative adjustment.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

As mentioned in (a) above, there are no specific penalties for failure to prepare and submit TP documentation on time (only the possibility of presumptive taxation if a taxpayer fails to submit the Local File by the requested deadline in an audit; see Section 9a). TP assessments by the tax authority are subject to the same penalties as any other corporate tax assessment, and there are no specific provisions for reductions of underpayment penalties. Grace period of the payment of tax and penalty The 2007 tax reforms allowed for the provision of a grace period for the payment of assessed taxes – including penalty taxes – for taxpayers submitting an application for an MAP. The taxpayer must submit a separate application to be entitled to the grace period. The grace period is the period starting on the initial payment due date of assessed taxes (if the application submission date is later than the initial payment due date, the submission date is applicable) and ending one month after the day on which the “correction,” based on the mutual agreement, has been made (or the day on which a notification was issued that an agreement could not be reached). Any delinquency taxes accrued during the grace period will be exempted. However, under STML Article 66- 4- 2 (2), which grants a postponement of tax payment, the tax authority requires the taxpayer to provide security equivalent to the amount of the tax payment (i.e., collateral). This new TP rule applies to applications for a grace period made on or after 1 April 2007:

- After receiving an assessment notice, the taxpayer can take domestic measures to be relieved from economic double taxation.
- After receiving assessment notices, the taxpayer can file a request for reinvestigation with the Regional Commissioner or District Director within three months.
- After the decision by the Regional Commissioner, the taxpayer can file a request for a reconsideration with the President of the National Tax Tribunal within one month, or no decision is made within three months.
- After receiving assessment notices, blue tax return taxpayers can directly file a request for reconsideration with the President of the National Tax Tribunal within three months.
- After the decision or when no decision is made by the National Tax Tribunal, the taxpayer can file a litigation. There are three court instances for litigation against tax assessments in Japan:
 - District court
 - Courts of appeal
 - Supreme court

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The statute of limitations in Japan on TP assessments is six years from the deadline for filing tax returns for a fiscal year (STML Article 66- 4(21)) until 31 March 2020. As a result of the tax reform effective from 1 April 2020, the statute of limitations in Japan on TP assessment is seven years from the deadline for filing tax returns for a fiscal year (STML Article 66- 4(26)).

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The possibility may be considered to be medium to high, as tax examinations usually include a review of TP issues, even if the examination team lacks experienced TP professional. A tax examiner may challenge TP directly or may refer the file to a experienced TP team for follow-up.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The possibility of an adjustment may be considered to be high, if the taxpayer appears unprepared to discuss its TP policies and methods

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

The Administrative Guidelines provide that if multiple results of comparable transactions are available, an average of such results should in principle be applied to compute a TP assessment. However, a median or any point in the interquartile range could also be applied if it provides a reasonable arm's-length result.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Scrutiny may be increased for taxpayers that meet any of the following criteria:

- The local entity has incurred losses or posts low profit levels.
- The profits of foreign related parties are high.
- Changing the structure of transactions by transferring or otherwise shifting functions to foreign related parties resulted in inappropriate compensation, or the posting of high retained earnings by foreign related parties in low-tax jurisdictions leads to the presumption that income is being shifted to those parties.
- Tax assessment is conducted with the objective of shifting income to foreign related parties.
- There may be compliance issues such as the lack of any change in profit levels despite the fact that TP adjustments were imposed in the past.
- Multilevel transactions are being conducted between the local entity and multiple foreign related parties, and the profit allocation and foreign related-party functions, etc., are not able to be clarified in the tax return or verification is required.
- Inappropriate TP having caused the local entity's higher profit than arm's length was corrected to reflect the arm's-length principle without sufficient TP analysis.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

There is an APA program available in Japan. Unilateral, bilateral and multilateral APAs are available and very common; however, the NTA prefers bilateral APAs.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

In general, the tenure could be up to five years.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

A roll-back of up to six years is possible in the case of a bilateral APA, but a roll-back of three years is common; however, a Roll-back is not permitted in unilateral cases.

d. Is MAP available?

Yes, taxpayers may request an MAP if taxation has or is likely to occur that is not in accordance with the provisions of a double taxation treaty (DTT) to which Japan is signatory. Most of Japan's DTTs permit taxpayers to present a case to the tax authorities within three years from the first notification to the taxpayer of the actions giving rise to taxation not in accordance with the DTT. However, time limits may vary, and the relevant DTT should be consulted for the applicable time limit.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

Japanese thin capitalization rules restrict the deductibility of interest expense on foreign related loans exceeding the 3:1 foreign related loans-to-equity ratio. Interest disallowed under thin capitalization rules cannot be carried forward. Japanese earnings stripping rules also restrict the deductibility of interest expense on foreign related loans if net foreign interest expense exceeds 20% of adjusted taxable income (EBITDA with adjustments). Interest disallowed under earnings stripping rules can be carried forward for seven years. The Japanese taxpayer must apply both sets of rules outlined above. The taxpayer must disallow the higher amount in the corporate tax return. More details can be found in:

- STML Article 66- 5(1) and related provisions stipulate the thin capitalization rules.
- STML Article 66- 5(2) and related provisions stipulate the earnings stripping rules.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Income and Sales Tax Department (ISTD)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Regulation No. (40) of 2021 (Transfer Pricing or TP Regulations) published in the Official Gazette on 7 June 2021 and its Executive Instructions No. (3) of 2021 (Executive Instructions) published in the Official Gazette on 16 September 2021. The Regulations and Executive Instructions apply to any reporting period ending after 7 July 2021.

c. Effective date of applicability

7 June 2021

d. Section reference from local regulation

- Income Tax Law No. (34) of 2014 (as amended) -
 - Article 20(d) defines arm's-length principle (language similar to Article (9)(1) of the OECD).
- Regulations No. (40) of 2021 (Regulation on Transfer Pricing for Income Tax Purposes) -
 - Articles 5 and 6 and 11(C) provide definitions for related party and permanent establishment for TP purposes.
 - Articles 8, 9, 10, and 11 adopt the three-tiered TP documentations and introduce additional local TP compliance requirements.
 - Articles 3 and 4 emphasize the burden of proof (taxpayer vs. ISTD).
 - Article 17 levies non-compliance penalties in line with the Income Tax Law No. (34) of 2014 (as amended).
- Executive Instructions No. (3) of 2021 (Executive Instructions on Transfer Pricing for Income Tax Purposes) -
 - Articles 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8 detail the components of the transfer pricing documentations and filing deadlines and prescribes the forms (where applicable).
 - Article 10 provides the approved transfer pricing methods (apply one of the five prescribed OECD transfer pricing methods) or an alternative approach if it provides an arm's-length outcome.
 - Article 10 (D) requires affected taxpayers to submit a disclosure from a chartered accountant explaining the taxpayer's compliance with the group's transfer pricing policy and its impact on the final financial statements.

However, the TP Regulations and Executive Instructions do not provide any details on the specific nature of the disclosure from the chartered accountant and the applicable statutory deadline.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Domestic transactions are not excluded from the scope of transfer pricing provisions as per the Jordan TP Regulations.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Jordan is not a member of the OECD. As of October 2019, Jordan is a member of the OECD/G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS. Jordan's TP Regulations and Executive Instructions are based on the OECD's BEPS Action 13. However there is no specific reference to the OECD TP Guidelines.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

- Coverage

CbCR requirements are covered under Jordan's TP Regulations and Executive Instructions. Members of an MNE group also need to submit a Country-by-Country (CbC) Report and notification if the total consolidated revenue of the MNE group exceeds JOD600 million (approximately USD846 million) in the year immediately preceding the current reporting year.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The TP Regulations and Executive Instructions apply to any reporting period ending after 7 July 2021.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

- Coverage

Master File requirements are covered under Jordan's TP Regulations and Executive Instructions. Jordanian entities that engage in related-party transactions with an annual value exceeding JOD500,000 (approximately USD705,000) for any reporting period ending after 7 July 2021 are required to prepare and submit the Master File.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The Regulations and Executive Instructions apply to any reporting period ending after 7 July 2021.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

Based on Article 7 of the Executive Instructions, in addition to the OECD Master File template, the Executive Instructions require a comprehensive industry analysis. The TP Regulations also indicate a preference for domestic comparables.

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

- Coverage

Local File requirements are covered under Jordan's TP Regulations and Executive Instructions. Jordanian entities that engage in related-party transactions with an annual value exceeding JOD500,000 (approximately USD705,000) for any reporting period ending after 7 July 2021 are required to prepare and submit the local file.

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

Yes

- Additional details

The BEPS Action 13 format should be sufficient.

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

No

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

- a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

On 7 June 2021, Jordan introduced transfer pricing rules that adopt the arm's-length principle reflected in the Associated Enterprise Article of Jordan's tax treaties and in the OECD TP Guidelines for multinational enterprises (MNEs). The rules also introduce new compliance requirements for Jordanian entities that engage in related-party transactions with an annual value exceeding JOD500,000 (approximately USD705,000) for any reporting period ending after 7 July 2021. The specific requirements are:

- A transfer pricing disclosure form to be submitted with the annual income tax return (i.e., within four months after the end of the Fiscal Year of the taxpayer)
- A Master File on the global business operations and transfer pricing policies of the taxpayer's MNE group to be submitted within a period not exceeding 12 months following the tax period
- A Local File containing information on all transactions with related parties to be submitted within a period not exceeding 12 months following the tax period
- A signed disclosure from the taxpayer's appointed chartered accountant confirming the taxpayer's compliance with the group's transfer pricing policy and detailing the impact of said policy on its financial statements; to be submitted within a period not exceeding 12 months following the tax period

Members of an MNE group also need to submit a Country-by-Country (CbC) Report and notification if the total consolidated revenue of the MNE group exceeds JOD600 million (approximately USD846 million) in the year immediately preceding the current reporting year, as follows:

- The CbC notification to be submitted within the statutory period for submitting tax returns
 - The CbC report to be submitted within 12 months following the end of the group's tax period.
- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

Controlled transactions exceeding JOD500,000 (approximately USD705,000) annually

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

Consolidated revenue of the MNE group exceeds JOD600 million (approximately USD846 million) in the year immediately preceding the current reporting year.

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details
Not applicable
 - Master File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?
Controlled transactions exceeding JOD500,000 (approximately USD705,000) annually

No
 - Additional details
Not applicable
 - Local File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?
Controlled transactions (both domestic and international) exceeding JOD500,000 (approximately USD705,000) annually
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Other
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
 - Economic analysis
 - Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?
No
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Not applicable
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
There is no material threshold for Economic analysis.
 - c. Specific requirements
 - Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?
No
 - Additional details
This is not specified; however, ISTD typically requests documents to be submitted in Arabic.
 - Is a safe harbor available?
Unspecified
 - Additional details
This is not specified.
 - Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?
Aggregation
 - Additional details
If a taxpayer carries out, under the same or similar circumstances, two or more controlled transactions that are economically closely linked to one another or that form a continuum such that they cannot reliably be analyzed separately, those controlled transactions may be combined to perform the comparability analysis to apply the transfer pricing methods.
 - Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?
No
-
- #### 4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures
-
- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?
Yes
 - Additional details
Disclosure form (as explained above)

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Jordan entities that engage in related-party transactions (including notional transactions between a branch and its head office) for 2021 with an annual value exceeding JOD500,000 (approximately USD705,000) must submit a TP disclosure form together with the annual income tax return due within four months from the end of the taxpayer's year-end.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Jordan follows IFRS for financial statement preparation. Under IFRS, related-party disclosure is required. However, the definition of related parties varies between standard accounting principles and tax. The final audited stand-alone financial statements also form part of the corporate income tax filing package due within four months after the end of the fiscal year of the taxpayer.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

A CbCR notification in the format published by the ISTD is to be submitted along with the annual income tax return.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

The Jordan TP Regulations also require a disclosure from a chartered accountant detailing the taxpayer's compliance with the group's transfer pricing policy.

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

Four months from the end of the fiscal year of the taxpayer

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

The TP disclosure form is to be filed along with the corporate income tax return, i.e., within four months after the end of the fiscal year of the taxpayer.

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

The Master File and Local File are to be submitted within 12 months following the end of the tax reporting period.

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

The compliance requirements associated with CbCR require the CbC Report to be submitted within 12 months of the annual reporting year of the MNE group.

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

CbCR notification is required to be submitted in the ISTD prescribed format along with the corporate income tax return, i.e., within four months after the end of the fiscal year of the taxpayer.

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

The transfer pricing Master File and Local File are to be submitted within 12 months following the end of the tax reporting year of the taxpayer.

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The Local File is required to be submitted within 12 months following the end of the tax reporting year of the taxpayer.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Not applicable

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

Article 12 (C) of the Jordan TP Regulations provides that there is no order of preference for the five approved methods. However, the other methods provided under Article 9 can be applied only if the five approved methods cannot be applied.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Local comparables are preferred over foreign comparables. The ISTD should accept foreign comparables, provided no local comparables are available.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

This is not specified.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

This is not specified.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

This is not specified.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

This is not specified.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

This is not specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

This is not specified. In practice, however, the ISTD may consider an incomplete documentation as a failure to submit, therefore attracting a penalty of JOD300 to JOD1,000 (approximately USD423 to USD1,410).

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

- Are there any other penalties?

Noncompliance with TP documentation submission may result in a late filing penalty of JOD300 to JOD1,000 (approximately USD423 to USD1,410).

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The general rules regarding the statute of limitations apply to transfer pricing assessments. Therefore, the tax authority is entitled to make additional assessments for a period of four years, starting from the date of submission of the return.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

The Jordan TP Regulations are relatively new, and there is limited audit experience currently.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

Article 14 (B) of the Jordan TP Regulations states that where the relevant transfer pricing derived from a controlled transaction or from a set of transactions that are combined falls outside the arm's-length range, the department may adjust the transfer pricing to a point within the arm's-length range that best reflects the facts and circumstances of the case.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Not applicable

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

No

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Not applicable

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable

d. Is MAP available?

Yes

The thin capitalization rule in Jordan is 3: 1 (debt-to-equity ratio), which will apply to related-party debt. Interest paid on related-party debt exceeding this ratio will not be deductible for tax purposes.

- Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared): The Master File has to be filed within 12 months following the reporting year and provided to the tax authorities within 30 days from the date of request.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

CbCR for locally headquartered companies CbCR has to be filed annually within 12 months following the reporting period or provided within 12 months upon request of the tax authorities (depending on the type of taxpayer), if applicable.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

1 September

- Additional details

Notification on participation in an MNE group should be submitted by 1 September of the year following the reporting period. Should be submitted annually. If there are multiple entities in Kazakhstan, the CbCR notification applies to all the entities.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

The Local File has to be prepared and submitted annually within 12 months following the reporting financial year. Transfer pricing documentation has to be prepared upon request of the tax authorities within 90 calendar days (or within 30 business days in case it was requested during a tax audit).

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

- Additional details

The Local File has to be filed annually within 12 months following the reporting period. The deadline is 31 December of the year following the reporting year. Transfer pricing documentation has to be provided upon request of the tax authorities within 90 calendar days (or within 30 business days in case it was requested during a tax audit).

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Transfer pricing documentation has to be filed within 90 calendar days upon request of the tax authorities (or within 30 business days in case it was requested during a tax audit).

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

- Additional details

The Transfer Pricing Law provides for five transfer pricing methods that should be applied in the following order: CUP, cost-plus, resale price, profit-split and TNMM.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

This is not specified.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Multiple year analysis should be conducted (three years preceding to the reporting year).

Yes, interquartile range should be used and determined as the range between the 25th and 75th percentiles, inclusive, calculated on the basis of the market price or profitability (margin) values used.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

This is not specified.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

This is not specified.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

A 10% independence threshold

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

Incomplete CbCR, a Master File or a Local File is subject to penalties with a maximum penalty of 500 monthly calculation index (approx. USD3,870).

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the Master File?

Not applicable

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish CbCR?

Not applicable

▪ Are there any other penalties?

Special penalties are in place for failure to comply with the transfer pricing monitoring reporting requirements and failure to provide documents required to perform transfer pricing control. The maximum penalty is set at 350 monthly calculation index (approx. USD2,700). Non-submission of CbCR, a Master File or a Local File is subject to penalties with a maximum penalty of 500 monthly calculation index (approx. USD3,870).

b. Penalties post-TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

▪ Additional details

The penalty resulting from a transfer pricing adjustment is up to 80% of unpaid tax amount. In case of understatement of taxes as a result of a tax audit, Kazakhstan state authorities automatically initiate a criminal investigation in case the amount of assessed and unpaid taxes or other obligatory payments exceeds (a) 10% of the amount of all taxes and other mandatory payments to the budget calculated by the taxpayer for the calendar year, or (b) 50,000 or 75,000 monthly calculation index for the audited period (approx. USD380,000 or USD580,000).

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

▪ Additional details

This is not specified.

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

▪ Additional details

Interest for late payment of tax resulting from a transfer pricing adjustment is calculated as 1.25 times the Kazakhstan National Bank refinancing rate (approx. 9.5%).

▪ Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The legislation in Kazakhstan considers cases for penalty relief when an entity may be exempt from administrative liability. These cases, among others, include expiration of the statute of limitations, exemption on the basis of an act of amnesty and reconciliation of the parties. Despite legal provisions allowing for exemption, implementation is quite rare in practice.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The general statute of limitation period for tax purposes is three years after the end of a respective tax period (but it may be extended to seven years in certain cases for transfer pricing).

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

It depends on the industry (high for export of commodities).

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

Not explicitly stated in the legislation. However, in certain cases the adjustment should be done to median point.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Exports of commodities are under higher scrutiny.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Bilateral and unilateral APAs are available for all types of transactions. Transaction participants have the right to conclude a unilateral APA. The procedure for requesting such an agreement is included in the rules for concluding agreements on the application of transfer pricing.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

An APA may be concluded for a three-year period.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

This is not available.

d. Is MAP available?

MAP opportunities are available under double tax treaties.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

The deduction of interest is generally limited by a specific complex formula set by the tax legislation (the thin capitalization rule) that includes, inter alia, the marginal coefficient - seven for financial institutions and four for other taxpayers.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Kenya Revenue Authority (KRA)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

- Section 18 (3) of the Income Tax Act (ITA), effective 1 January 2015
- Section 18A of the ITA, effective 1 January 2023
- Section 18B-F of the ITA, effective 1 July 2022
- Section 18D (1- 3) of the ITA, effective 1 July 2023
- Income Tax (Transfer Pricing) Rules, 2006

c. Effective date of applicability

1 January 2015

d. Section reference from local regulation

Section 18 (3) and 18A of the ITA and the Income Tax (Transfer Pricing) Rules, 2006, (amended rules 2012) articulate the arm's-length principle. Section 18 (6) of the ITA provides guidance on the definition of related persons. Paragraph 10 of the Income Tax (Transfer Pricing) Rules requires a taxpayer to prepare transfer pricing documentation where there are related-party transactions. Section 18A (2) provides a description of preferential tax regimes and 18A (1) (b)(iii) includes a permanent establishment of a nonresident entity located in preferential tax regimes, operating in Kenya, within the scope of TP. Section 18B-F introduces the Country-by-Country Reporting Standard in Kenya.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There are documentation obligations for two specific domestic transactions. Effective 1 January 2023, the arm's-length principle will apply when: A resident person transacts with a related resident person operating in a preferential tax regime. A resident person carries on business with a permanent establishment of a nonresident person operating in Kenya where the nonresident person is located in a preferential tax regime.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Limited

▪ Additional details

Kenya is not a member of the OECD. In practice, the OECD Guidelines are referred to by the KRA for guidance as best practice.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The Country-by-Country Reporting standard was introduced under Sections 18B to 18F of the Income Tax Act. A Kenyan resident ultimate parent entity or eligible resident constituent entity of an MNE with a total consolidated group turnover of at least KES95 billion, including extraordinary or investment income reported in the consolidated financial statements of the year prior to the reporting financial year, will be required to file a CbC Report with the KRA. Certain entities are exempted from filing the CbC Report.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Total consolidated group turnover of at least KES95 billion, including extraordinary or investment income reported in the consolidated financial statements of the year prior to the reporting financial year.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 July 2022.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

- Coverage

Master File requirements are set out in Section 18D (6) of the ITA.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

1 July 2022

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

- Coverage

Master File and Local file Section 18D (6) and (7) of the ITA sets out the documentation requirements for the Local File in Kenya.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

1 July 2022

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format.

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

Yes

- Additional details

BEPS Action 13 format aligned with local filing and submission requirements will provide penalty protection.

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

However, there is no contemporaneous documentation requirements. Submission is upon request by the tax authority. However, contemporaneous submission will be required where CbCR regulations apply.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

No

- Additional details

However, annual submissions of the Local File and Master File will be required where CbCR regulations apply.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

There are no transfer pricing-specific returns for taxpayers in Kenya.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

In corporate tax return format, the taxpayer is required to declare transactions with related parties outside Kenya. The disclosure includes the financial performance and information on borrowings and current accounts.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

A taxpayer is required to declare all related-party transactions reported in the audited financial statements, which then feed into the corporate income tax return.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No. This is submitted separately as highlighted above.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

There is no other transfer pricing information to be filed.

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

The return should be filed at the end of the sixth month following the company's financial year-end.

- Additional details

- Additional details

Not applicable

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

On or before the last day of the group's fiscal year-end. Annual submission is required and every constituent entity will be required to submit a notification.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

A Local File must be submitted six months after the last day of the group's fiscal year-end.

- Additional details

30 June for a December year-end and 31 March for a September year-end.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

- Additional details

Six months after the last day of the group's fiscal year-end.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

No specific timeline provided.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Multiyear analysis is preferred.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

Interquartile range is acceptable.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no legal requirement to conduct a fresh benchmarking search every year. However, in practice, an update is considered after a three-year period.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is a preference for the weighted average for arm's-length analysis.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

Rule 4 of the transfer pricing rules states that a taxpayer may choose the most appropriate from among six methods when determining the arm's-length price: CUP, resale price, cost-plus, profit-split, TNMM and any other method that the Commissioner for Domestic Taxes may prescribe. In 2012, the transfer pricing rules were amended to give the Commissioner for Domestic Taxes power to prescribe the application of the abovementioned methods. However, the KRA has yet to issue any practice notes regarding the application of the methods. In practice, the most appropriate method, based on the facts and circumstances of the transaction, is applied.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There is no legal requirement for local jurisdiction comparables. Regional comparables can therefore be used.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Not applicable

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

- Are there any other penalties?

The Commissioner for Domestic Taxes may adjust the taxable profits and demand additional corporate tax and the resultant penalties and interest. Additional taxable income or reduced assessed loss because of adjustments relating to transaction with shareholder or related person is deemed as dividend distribution. This could have withholding tax (WHT) implications. Failure to keep a document attracts penalty equal to 10% of tax payable under the tax law to which the document relates for the reporting period to which the failure relates to a minimum of KES100,000 (approximately USD1,000). Failure to comply with the CbCR reporting and filing requirements will be an offense subject to a fine not exceeding KES1 million, a prison term not exceeding three years, or both, upon conviction.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

Transfer pricing adjustments resulting to additional taxable corporate income attracts late payment penalty at the rate of 5% of the tax due and interest at the rate of 1% per month for the period under default. Transfer pricing adjustments resulting in an increase in customs value of goods will have an impact on customs duty payable. Tax avoidance penalty applies at an amount equal to double the amount of tax that would have been avoided, save for the application of the tax avoidance provision

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Interest is charged on the principal tax liability due, subject to the in duplum rule.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

It is five years. However, there is no time limit in case of fraud, evasion, or gross or willful neglect by taxpayer.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

The possibility of tax audits may be considered to be high because the KRA has taken a firm stand toward audits and is now selecting multiple taxpayers across all sectors. Consequently, the possibility of a transfer pricing review as part of a general tax audit is also high.

- b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

If a transfer pricing methodology is challenged, then the possibility of an adjustment may be considered to be high. This is based on our experience in handling transfer pricing controversy issues. In most cases, when the tax authorities are not in agreement with the methodology adopted by a taxpayer, this results in an additional assessment. The taxpayer has the option to challenge this.

Where proper TP documentation is not maintained or where intercompany pricing does not fall within the interquartile range, the tax authority is at liberty to make TP adjustments to these transactions to reflect arm's-length pricing. The KRA can make a secondary adjustment where deemed dividends arise from the primary adjustment.

- d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Generally, all related-party transactions are viable for auditing;

however, intragroup services and intangibles are a common area of scrutiny.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Not applicable

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Not applicable

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

 - Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?
Yes
 - Additional details
The transfer pricing documentation needs to be submitted in one of the official languages of Kosovo (Albanian or Serbian). Paragraph 29. 11 of Administrative Instruction No. 02/ 2017 on transfer pricing mandates the use of local language in transfer pricing documentation. In consultation with the Kosovo tax authorities, the documentation may be submitted in English as well; however, such cases are not specifically defined in the legislation.
 - Is a safe harbor available?
No
 - Additional details
There are no safe harbor options in Kosovo. However, a simplified approach is available for low-value-adding intragroup services. Under this simplified approach, the service provider should apply a 7% markup on costs incurred for the provision of low-value-adding intragroup services. The simplified approach does not need to be supported by a benchmark analysis. However, the tax administration is not obliged to accept the simplified approach if the 7% markup is exceeded, and it may require a full functional and comparability analysis.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

Unspecified

- Additional details

There is no preference between aggregation or individual testing, and both are allowed under the local TP legislation.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

Taxpayers are required to report all controlled transactions annually by filing an Annual Controlled Transaction Notice if the aggregate value of their controlled transactions, including loan balances, exceeds EUR300,000. The Annual Controlled Transaction Notice should be submitted by 31 March of the following year. When determining the annual aggregate transaction value, taxpayers should take into account all intercompany transaction amounts (i.e., without offsetting credit and debit values).

- b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Related-party disclosures are included in the financial statements of the taxpayer pursuant to IFRS requirements. There are no other related-party disclosures or additional forms required by the legislation.

- d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable

- e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

- a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

31 March

- Additional details

The CIT return should be submitted by 31 March of the following year.

- b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

31 March

- Additional details

The Annual Controlled Transaction Notice should be submitted by 31 March of the following year.

- c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

- d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

- e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

31 March

▪ Additional details

There is no statutory deadline for the preparation of the transfer pricing documentation. However, since the documentation must be submitted within 30 days upon the tax authorities' request, it is recommended that it should be prepared by the CIT return deadline, i.e., 31 March of the following year.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no specific deadline for the submission of transfer pricing documentation.

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Transfer pricing documentation must be submitted within 30 days once requested by the tax authorities in an audit or inquiry.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The CUP method must first be attempted pursuant to Kosovo's legislation, and if CUP cannot be applied, the other traditional methods of resale price and cost-plus are favored. In certain circumstances, the taxpayer may apply traditional profit methods as follows: TNMM and profit-split. The taxpayer has the right to mix or support the implementation of the most appropriate method by implementing one or more of the other transfer pricing methods.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Article 15, Paragraph 5 of Administrative Instruction No. 02/ 2017 states that in the absence of domestic comparable uncontrolled transactions, Kosovo's tax authorities recognize the use of foreign comparable uncontrolled transactions, provided that the geographical and other influencing factors are analyzed and appropriate comparable adjustments are carried out, if necessary. In practice, local comparables should be first attempted, and if not available, the search can be extended in the following order: Balkans, Eastern Europe, EU.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Preference is given to uncontrolled comparables belonging to the same year as the controlled transaction. However, the taxpayer can rely on immediate previous-year comparables, provided that the comparability criteria is met. It is an EY jurisdictional practice to use a multiyear analysis for testing arm's length.

Transfer pricing rules define the market range as a range that includes all the values of the financial indicators, such as price, markup, or any other indicator used for the application of the most suitable transfer pricing method for a number of uncontrolled transactions in which each is almost equally comparable with the controlled transaction based on a comparability analysis. Transfer pricing rules do not specifically provide for the interquartile range. However, they stipulate that in the case of adjustments by the tax authorities, the financial indicator is adjusted to the median unless the tax authorities or the taxpayer proves that the circumstances of the case ensure adjustment to a different point in the market range. It is an EY jurisdictional practice to use the interquartile range (from Q1 to Q3) as the acceptable range.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no requirement to conduct a fresh benchmarking search every year. Provided that business operating conditions remain the same, database searches for comparable external transactions should be updated every three years. Financial updates of the comparable searches should be performed annually.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Transfer pricing rules do not provide any specific provision regarding the use of a simple or a weighted average. In the examples provided in Administrative Instruction No. 02/ 2017, the simple average is used. However, it is an EY jurisdictional practice to use both the weighted average and the simple average.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Not applicable

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

▪ Are there any other penalties?

Failure to prepare and timely submit transfer pricing documentation or to fulfill the requirements provided in Administrative Instruction No. 02/ 2017 is subject to a penalty of EUR125 up to a maximum of EUR2,500. Failure to file the Annual Controlled Transaction Notice is subject to a penalty of EUR125, up to a maximum of EUR2,500.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

▪ Additional details

The legislation does not provide for specific penalties in case of transfer pricing adjustments. Therefore, in case of an adjustment, the general tax penalties would apply as follows:

Understatement of tax is subject to a penalty of 15% of the undeclared tax liability if such understatement is 10% or less of such tax or to a 25% penalty if the understatement is more than 10% of such tax.

In case the adjustment is made by the taxpayer voluntarily before such taxpayer receives a tax audit notification, such penalty is capped at 25% of the penalty that would otherwise apply.

In case the adjustment is made by the taxpayer after such taxpayer receives a tax audit notification but before the tax audit commences, such penalty is capped at 50% of the penalty that would otherwise apply. Moreover, a penalty for late payment of the tax liability will apply at 1% thereof for each month of delay, capped at 12%.

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

▪ Additional details

There are no requirements for contemporaneous documentation.

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no interest charged on penalties for erroneous completion of a tax filing.

▪ Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

▪ Additional details

Currently, no penalty relief is applicable.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments is six years from the CIT return filing due date, i.e., 31 March of the following year.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

In light of the transfer pricing rules that entered into force in July 2017, the Kosovo tax authorities have initiated several transfer pricing audits, and transfer pricing is expected to continue to attract significant attention.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

No

▪ Additional details

The tax administration is unlikely to challenge the methodology applied. In principle, in examining the arm's-length character of a transaction, the tax administration should use the same transfer pricing method applied by the taxpayer, to the extent that it is the most appropriate one for that transaction.

In cases when the profit-level indicator falls below the interquartile range, the tax authorities adjust the profit-level indicator to the median of the market range.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

There are no differences.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Kosovo's current transfer pricing legislation does not express or have provisions for APA. However, this might be subject to change.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Not applicable

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable

d. Is MAP available?

MAPs are generally available under the double tax treaties that Kosovo has with its treaty partners. In November 2022, the TAK introduced an instruction on the MAPs designated to resolve international tax disputes arising from the application of the double tax treaties.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

There are no thin capitalization rules in Kosovo.

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

No

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

No

- Additional details

Kuwait does not have specific transfer pricing documentation requirements. However, it may be prudent to prepare TP documentation to support the arm's length nature of the intercompany transactions. The TP documentation may provide support as part of the regular corporate tax audit when related party transactions are challenged.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

No

- Additional details

There is no specific transfer pricing documentation requirement in the law but it is recommended to be prepared and updated annually to reduce the risk of controversy.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

No

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation need not be submitted in the local language.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Unspecified

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

There is none specified.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

There are no specific transfer pricing returns in Kuwait. A specific template covering selected related- and non-related-party transactions must be disclosed, together with the annual tax return.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

General disclosure obligations apply to the taxpayer's transactions, including related-party transactions, and this relates to their tax retention obligations. Taxpayers are obliged to disclose certain related-party transactions as part of the annual corporate income tax return. These transactions include material costs, design and consultancy fees incurred, related-party leases, intragroup financing, intellectual property, and other items.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Related-party disclosures are included in the taxpayer's financial statements.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

The 15th day of the fourth month from the end of the fiscal year

▪ Additional details

A specific template covering selected related- and non-related-party transactions must be disclosed, together with the annual tax return. A tax declaration must be filed on or before the 15th day of the fourth month following the end of the tax period.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

No specific deadline

▪ Additional details

There is no statutory deadline or recommendation for preparing transfer pricing documentation.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

▪ Additional details

In practice, it is advisable to prepare and update an OECD compliant TP documentation before the annual inspection. This allows for the documentation to be submitted as evidence in proceedings in a timely manner.

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

If TP documentation is requested by the tax authorities, based on the practice, taxpayers may be given one to two weeks to submit it.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

▪ Additional details

In practice, it may be useful for the taxpayer to explain the transfer pricing policy as it applies to their related-party transactions when in discussions with the DIT, especially if the transfer pricing method used is based on internationally accepted principles and standards.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Even though there is no specific regulation around this, local comparables are typically preferred over regional comparables in the event of a tax authority audit. A regional search covering countries in the Gulf Cooperation Council or the Middle East and North Africa region is likely to be more acceptable.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

There is none specified.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

There is none specified.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no specific requirement to conduct a fresh benchmarking search every year. However, it is recommended to conduct a fresh search once every three years and update financial data for the years in between.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is none specified.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

There is none specified.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

There is none specified.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Penalty interest (1% per month) is imposed in the case of transfer pricing adjustments resulting in an assessment of additional income.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

Kuwaiti tax regulations do not offer any penalty relief mechanisms.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

General regulations apply. Law No. 2 of 2008 provides a statute-of-limitations period of five years. This is generally calculated from the date the annual tax return is filed, unless a tolling or discovery rule applies.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The tax authority typically scrutinizes intercompany transactions relating to material supply costs, design and consultancy fees incurred abroad, related-party leases, intragroup financing, and intellectual property transactions.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The tax authorities usually request substantial documentation to satisfy themselves that the related-party transactions were entered into at arm's length. If a transfer pricing methodology is challenged, then the possibility of an adjustment is typically high. Where the local tax authorities are not in agreement with the methodology adopted by taxpayer, they can make an adjustment through additional assessment. The taxpayer has the option to challenge such adjustment.

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

Not applicable

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

There is none specified.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

State Revenue Service (Valsts ieņēmumu Dienests – SRS)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

The arm's-length principle is established in the Corporate Income Tax (CIT) law. Article 4 of the CIT law determines that the taxable income base shall be increased by the income that the taxpayer would have obtained, or the expense that the taxpayer would not have incurred while engaging in transactions with its related parties, if the related-party transactions were performed at arm's length. Transfer pricing documentation requirements are laid down in Article 15.2 of the Law on Taxes and Duties. Cabinet Regulation No. 677, promulgated on 14 November 2017, set the transfer pricing methods applicable for determining arm's-length prices in related-party transactions. Additionally, Cabinet Regulation No. 802, promulgated on 18 December 2018, set requirements regarding the content of transfer pricing documentation and conclusion of APAs

c. Effective date of applicability

No date specified

d. Section reference from local regulation

"Related party" is defined in Section 1, paragraph 18 of the Law on Taxes and Duties.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

In general, there is no need to cover local related party controlled transactions in transfer pricing documentation. The Master File and Local File documentation requirements apply to domestic transactions closely linked to cross-border transactions in the supply chain. However, all controlled transactions should be carried out on an arm's-length basis. Upon request, taxpayers should be able to provide evidence to the tax authority on transaction's arm's-length nature.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Latvian transfer pricing legislative acts contain a reference to the OECD Guidelines in applying the transfer pricing methods, as long as they do not contradict the local transfer pricing laws. In most cases, the SRS accepts the principles stipulated in the OECD Guidelines regarding the structure of transfer pricing documentation. The principle of supremacy of law does not provide application of the OECD Guidelines directly; however, the SRS is following the recommendations of the Council of the OECD (C(95)126/Final), which was a base in the drafting of current legislation.

If the threshold for preparing transfer pricing documentation is reached, Economic analysis should be prepared for all cross border related-party transactions exceeding EUR20,000 annually with relevant partner.

- c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

Section 8, paragraph 4 of the Official Language Law states that statistical summaries, annual accounts, accounting documents and other documents that are to be submitted to state or local government institutions on the basis of laws or other regulatory enactments shall be prepared in the official language, i.e., Latvian. Local File transfer pricing documentation should be prepared in Latvian, while the Master File might be prepared in English or Latvian. The tax authority has the right to require translation of the entire Master File or relevant sections of the Master File into Latvian. The translation should be prepared within 30 days upon such request.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Yes

- Additional details

Safe harbor is available regarding low value-adding intragroup services. The OECD-based simplified approach for determining the arm's-length nature of transfer prices applied for low-value-adding intragroup services is established in Cabinet Regulation No. 677, paragraphs 18.1 to 18.9.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

- Additional details

Individual testing of transactions is preferred.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

There are no transfer pricing-specific returns in Latvia; however, information regarding related-party transactions (specified above) must be disclosed in the annual CIT return.

- b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

The taxpayer must identify all related-party transactions by disclosing the total sum of all related-party transactions (both cross-border and domestic) in the annual CIT return of the respective reporting year (Row 6.5.1 of CIT declaration). In case the taxpayer has made transfer pricing adjustments, the taxpayer must disclose the income it would have received or the expenditure a taxpayer would have not incurred if commercial and financial relationships were created or established under valid conditions between two independent persons. It should also indicate the applied transfer pricing method in the annual CIT return of the respective reporting year (row 6.5 of CIT declaration).

- c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

In accordance with the Law on the Annual Financial Statements and Consolidated Financial Statements, Section 53, a company must disclose its parent entity and its legal address, as well as the transaction amounts with related parties if such transactions are significant and do not conform to normal market conditions. This is for companies whose financials on the balance sheet date exceed at least two of below:

- Balance sheet total: EUR4 million
- Net turnover: EUR8 million
- Average number of employees during the reporting year: 50

- d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

20 January

- Additional details

Transfer pricing adjustments must be disclosed in the last month's CIT return of the financial year, which should be filed by the 20th date of the following month. The last month's CIT return may be adjusted without late payment penalties until the statutory deadline for filing of the annual accounts for the respective financial year.

- Submission/filing date: 20th date of the following month.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

20 January

- Additional details

Preparation and submission to the tax authority within 12 months after the end of the financial year (without request) is required if:

- The annual controlled transaction amount of the local entity exceeds EUR15 million

Or

- The annual net turnover exceeds EUR50 million and the controlled transaction amount of the local entity does not exceed EUR15 million but exceeds EUR5 million. Preparation within 12 months after the end of the financial year and submission to the tax authority within 30 days after request is required if the annual net turnover does not exceed EUR50 million and the controlled transaction amount of the local entity does not exceed EUR15 million but exceeds EUR5 million.

- Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared): Within 12 months following the end of the respective financial year.
- Submission/filing date: Within 12 months following the end of the respective financial year or within 30 days upon tax authority request if certain turnover and controlled transaction amount thresholds are met.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

The CbCR should be prepared and submitted within 12 months after the last date of the respective financial year.

CbCR for locally headquartered companies

Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared): The CbCR should be prepared and submitted within 12 months after the last date of the respective financial year.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

There is a CbCR notification requirement in Latvia. Notification submission deadline is the last date of the financial year. The notification requirement applies to any resident entity that is part of a qualifying group (the threshold is EUR750 million). It should inform the tax authority that it is a UPE or SPE or that the report will be filed by the UPE or SPE in another jurisdiction that will exchange the CbCR with Latvia. In the notification, that entity and its residence should be identified within 12 months after the last date of the respective financial year. One entity can file on behalf of all entities in the jurisdiction. In that case, upon filing, the entity has to inform the SRS that the filing is done to fulfill the filing requirements of all MNE members in this jurisdiction.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

20 January

- Additional details

Within 12 months following the end of the relevant financial year

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

- Additional details

Preparation and submission to the tax authority within 12 months after the end of the financial year (without request) is required if the annual controlled transaction amount of the local entity with its related parties exceeds EUR5 million. Preparation within 12 months after the end of the financial year and submission to the tax authority within 30 days after request is required if the annual controlled transaction amount of the local entity exceeds EUR250,000 but does not exceed EUR5 million.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Within 30 days after receiving the request. Additionally, transfer pricing documentation for local transactions closely linked to cross-border transactions in the supply chain must be prepared and submitted to the tax authority within 90 days after request. The submission deadline can be extended for an additional 30 days if a deadline extension is requested to the tax authority.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

Five methods are accepted: CUP, resale price, cost-plus, profit-split and TNMM. Domestic legislation indicates that the most appropriate method that provides the most reliable results should be used.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Domestic comparables, if available, are preferred. However, in practice, foreign comparables are used in combination with domestic comparables.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Both are acceptable, while the application of single or multiple year analysis should be justified.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

There is no specific guidance on the use of the interquartile range. The Latvian tax authority accepts application of the interquartile range.

A new benchmarking study has to be prepared every year if the total amount of cross-border controlled transactions in the fiscal year exceeds EUR5 million. Rollforward of comparable companies in combination with update of the financials is accepted if the total amount of cross-border controlled transactions in the fiscal year is between EUR250,000 and EUR5 million. The category of taxpayers eligible for this relief have to update the financial data of the comparable companies identified earlier, with a new benchmarking study required every three years.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

No preferences; all are accepted.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

Regarding independence criteria, Latvian statutory rules stipulate that companies are considered to be related parties if the ownership share is equal to or greater than 20%; such companies should be excluded from the comparables search.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Submitting transfer pricing documentation that is noncompliant and lacks key information—making it impossible to assess whether controlled transactions meet the arm's length standard—may lead to an administrative penalty of up to 1% of the total value of the controlled transactions, with a maximum limit of EUR 100,000.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

EUR100,000

- Are there any other penalties?

Failure to submit or late submission of transfer pricing documentation may result in an administrative penalty of up to 1% of the total amount of controlled transactions, capped at EUR100,000.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

- Additional details

There is a separate administrative penalty for noncompliant transfer pricing documentation (or failure to prepare and submit documentation). The penalty is not linked to compliance with the arm's-length principle and/or transfer pricing adjustments.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

There is a separate administrative penalty for noncompliant documentation (or failure to prepare and submit transfer pricing documentation). The penalty is not linked to compliance with the arm's-length principle and/or transfer pricing adjustments.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

There is no specific penalty relief with respect to transfer pricing adjustments. Per ordinary procedure, a penalty imposed as the result of a tax audit may be reduced by 50%. In practice, having proper transfer pricing documentation reduces the risk of transfer pricing adjustments.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The SRS has the right to assess compliance with the arm's-length principle for five years after the submission of the annual financial statement for the respective financial year.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

No specific regulations

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Not applicable

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

A taxpayer has an opportunity to conclude an APA with the SRS for cross-border transactions with a related foreign company if the transaction exceeds EUR1.43 million during a period of 12 months. Cabinet regulations regarding an APA specify the information to be included in an APA application, describe the procedure and time frame for concluding an APA, and set the fee for filing an APA. The regulation provides the option of unilateral and bilateral APA only.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The regulation states that APA may be concluded for a term that does not exceed five years from the date of conclusion. The APA may also be concluded regarding past periods.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

A five-year period with roll-back is available.

d. Is MAP available?

The tax administration must engage in conducting MAPs in accordance with international treaties that are binding to the Republic of Latvia, i.e., 90/436/EEC: Convention on the elimination of double taxation in connection with the adjustment of profits of associated enterprises.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

CIT taxable base should include:

- Interest payments in proportion to the degree to which the average debt amount exceeds the amount equal to four times the equity (4:1 ratio)
- If the interest expenses exceed EUR3 million in the reporting year, the taxable base shall include the amount of interest payments exceeding 30% of EBITDA. The rules are not applied to the loans received from credit institutions (in Latvia, EEA or double tax treaty jurisdiction) and other financing received from specialized finance institutions. The 4:1 debt-to-equity rule should not be applied to interest payments on loans received from a financial institution that meets both criteria below: It is a resident of Latvia, another EU, EEA member state, or a resident of a jurisdiction with which Latvia has concluded DTT (should be in force); it provides lending or financial leasing services; and its supervision is carried out by the credit institution or financial supervision institution of the respective jurisdiction

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Lithuania is a member of the OECD. Lithuanian TP rules are generally consistent with the OECD Guidelines. In local legislation, there is direct reference to OECD Guidelines. Moreover, Lithuania is closely following BEPS developments. Other OECD papers, such as those regarding business restructurings and profit allocation to permanent establishments, are not explicitly implemented in the Lithuanian legislation.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Lithuania has adopted or implemented BEPS Action 13 for TP documentation in the local regulations.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

CbCR is mandatory for the following companies if: The company belongs to an international group of companies. Consolidated income of such a group of companies exceeds EUR750 million.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2019.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Master File is covered.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

Based on local regulations, the BEPS Master Files are required to document the transactions in fiscal years starting on or after 1 January 2019.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

There are material differences between the OECD report template and Lithuania's regulations. Master File: It is a description of the supply chain for the group's five largest products and service offerings by turnover plus any other products and services amounting to more than 5% of group turnover. The required description could take the form of a chart or a diagram.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Local File is covered.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

Based on local regulations, the BEPS Local Files are required to document the transactions in Fiscal Years starting on or after 1 January 2019.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

There are material differences between the OECD report template and Lithuania's regulations. Local File: Additionally, in the Local File, companies have to provide TP documentation preparation and update dates.

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

▪ Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

No

▪ Additional details

TP rules are in place. TP documentation must be submitted upon request. TP documentation should be updated annually regarding actual pricing applied in the respective year until the deadline for CIT return submission (which is six months and 15 days after the end of fiscal year).

▪ Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

▪ Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Based on local legislation, the information related to the transaction under review (transaction values and the transfer price actually applied) has to be updated in the TP documentation for each tax period. In addition, the benchmarking study has to be updated at least every three years.

No

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

▪ TP documentation

▪ Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

▪ If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Turnover

- Is there any other threshold?
 - Yes
- Additional details

There is a materiality limit for TP documentation:

If sales revenues of a certain company exceeded EUR3 million in a previous year, then the company has to prepare a TP documentation Local File.

If the sales revenue of a company that belongs to an international group exceeded EUR15 million in a previous year, then the company has to prepare a TP documentation Master File. However, regardless of sales revenues, the following companies have to prepare TP documentation Local File:

Financial companies and credit institutions, the activities of which are regulated by the Law on Financial Institutions of the Republic of Lithuania.

Insurance companies, the activities of which are regulated by the Law on Insurance of the Republic of Lithuania. But it is not necessary to prepare a Local File when controlled transactions are carried out between Lithuanian taxpayers and are related activities carried out in Lithuania.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

The rules for completing Form FR0528, Report on Transactions or Economic operations Between Associated Parties, are set forth in the Order of the Head of the State Tax Inspectorate No. VA- 27 as of 22 March 2005. Form FR0528 must be submitted within six months and 15 days after the end of each fiscal year. No other specific TP returns shall be provided to the Lithuanian tax authorities.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

An associated-party disclosure annex (Form FR0528) to the annual CIT return has to be submitted when the taxpayer's associated-party transactions exceed an annual value of approximately EUR90,000. On Form FR0528, taxpayers are required to provide information about the transactions between associated parties related to fixed tangible and intangible assets, stocks and goods, financial and other services, securities and derivatives, and rent of property and loans. The taxpayers are also required to inform the tax authorities whether any TP method prescribed in the TP rules has been used in the transactions disclosed.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Names, activities and controlled party of the parent company or companies that may have a significant impact on the company must be disclosed in the company's annual financial statement explanatory notes. Irrespective of whether the entity has any transactions with related parties, it shall provide general information about subsidiaries, associates, joint ventures, and its shareholders or partners that may have a significant influence over the entity.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

Disclosures related to TP (Form FR0528 for declaring transactions with related parties) must be submitted to the tax authorities with the annual CIT return. The rules for completing this form are set forth in the Order of the Head of the State Tax Inspectorate No. V-27 as of 22 March 2005.

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

15 July

- Additional details

CIT return must be submitted within six months and 15 days after the end of each tax year.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

15 July

- Additional details

Form FR0528 (transaction with associated entities) must be submitted within six months and 15 days after the end of each tax year.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

15 July

- Additional details

- Additional details

The CbCR must be submitted within 12 months from the end of the reporting fiscal year of the MNE group.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

CbCR notification should be submitted by the end of the reporting financial year of the MNE group. Requirement for multiple entities in jurisdiction if all respective local entities are identified in the notification.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

15 July

- Additional details

Based on new legislation for transactions carried out on 1 January 2019, the following deadlines to prepare the documentation apply:

- TP documentation should be prepared within six months and 15 days after the end of each tax year. However, taxpayers have to submit the TP documentation within 30 days from the corresponding notice by the tax authorities in an audit or an inquiry.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

There is no statutory deadline for the submission of TP documentation.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The taxpayer has to submit the TP documentation within 30 days from the corresponding notice by the tax authorities in an audit or an inquiry.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

- Additional details

Based on local legislation, preference is given to traditional TP methods (specifically the CUP method). However, the taxpayer must choose the most appropriate TP method, taking into account transaction characteristics, reliability of available data, etc. Taxpayers are encouraged to use profit-based methods only if transaction-based methods are not sufficient. Taxpayers are not required to use more than one method; however, a combination of methods may be used in all cases, provided the decision to apply any particular method is adequately supported.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Local requirements follow the OECD Guidelines. There is a preference for domestic comparables over foreign comparables (if no local comparables are found, foreign may be used).

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

The preference is given to the multiyear analysis (based on jurisdiction practice).

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

The use of the interquartile range is preferred (based on jurisdiction practice).

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

The benchmarking results have to be updated once every three years.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is a preference for a simple average (based on jurisdiction practice).

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Non-compliance with TP documentation regulations exposes a taxpayer to a penalty that may vary from EUR1,820 to EUR5,590. If the company fails to comply with the TP documentation regulations repeatedly, the penalty increases and may vary from EUR3,770 to EUR6,000.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

- Are there any other penalties?

Noncompliance with TP documentation regulations exposes a taxpayer to a penalty that may vary from EUR1,820 to EUR5,590. If the company fails to comply with the TP documentation regulations repeatedly, a penalty increases and may vary from EUR3,770 to EUR6,000.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

General tax penalties of 10% to 100% of the additional tax apply in the case of taxable income adjustments.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

General tax penalties of 10% to 100% of the additional tax apply in the case of taxable income adjustments.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

TP penalties are subject to general penalty relief rules. The penalties can be reduced by up to 10% of the outstanding CIT if the taxpayer properly communicates with the tax authorities and presents all requested documents and explanations.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

TP assessments may apply to the five years prior to the year in which the assessment takes place.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

The TP audit is part of the general tax audit, which is subject to internal risk identification procedures set by the tax authorities. Cross-border transactions with related parties should be treated as having increased potential risk.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

Adjustments are possible.

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

Median value is usually applied by the tax authorities in case additional tax liability is being calculated during a tax audit.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

There is none specified.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

As of 1 January 2012, taxpayers may conclude unilateral

APAs with the Lithuanian tax authorities on prospective transactions. Bilateral or multilateral APAs may be concluded on the basis of existing tax treaties for avoiding double taxation.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Five years with rollover possibility

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

There is none specified.

d. Is MAP available?

The Lithuanian tax authorities do enter into MAPs.

Thin capitalization restrictions apply to interest paid to controlling entities. A creditor qualifies as a controlling entity if it owns more than 50% of the shares in the company paying the interest (or more than 50% of the shares are owned together with associated persons and the creditor's "own" holding is 10% or more). A group company also qualifies as a controlling entity. A debt-to-equity ratio of 4:1 applies, and any interest attributable to the debt in excess of this ratio is nondeductible. In addition, interest deduction limitation rules apply. These rules are not limited to interest expenses incurred due to loans received from related parties and, therefore, will be applied in respect of interest expenses incurred due to the acquisition of bank loans as well. Entities are allowed to fully deduct interest expenses that do not exceed interest income and to deduct any excess amount of interest expense that does not exceed 30% of EBITDA or up to EUR3 million. Entities also are allowed to fully deduct interest expenses if they are members of a consolidated group for financial accounting purposes and if they can demonstrate that the ratio of their equity over their total assets is not more than 2 percentage points lower than the equivalent ratio of the group and all assets and liabilities are valued using the same method as in the consolidated financial statements. EBITDA and the deductible amount of interest expenses are calculated on a group level. A group of entities includes entities in respect of which the controlling person holds directly or indirectly more than 25% of the shares (interests, member shares), voting rights or other rights to a portion of the distributable profits or exclusive rights to the acquisition thereof. Interest expenses that are nondeductible in a year under the interest deduction limitation rules may be carried forward for an unlimited period of time.

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

Yes

b. Name of authority

Ministry of Finance of the Republic of Lithuania

c. Name of regulations

Order of the Minister of Finance No. 1K-233 as of 15 July 2023 regarding approving the description of the procedure for drawing up the report on income tax information

d. Effective date of applicability

For financial years starting on or after 22 June 2024

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Luxembourg Tax Authority (Administration des Contributions Directes – ACD)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

The Luxembourg Income Tax Law (ITL) contains three articles related to transfer pricing: Articles 56 and 56bis are dedicated to the arm's-length principle and Article 164(3) is dedicated to hidden profit distribution. These articles provide for the application of the arm's-length standard for transactions between related parties. Applicable from 1 January 2015, Article 56 of the ITL provides that profits of associated enterprises entering into transactions that do not meet the arm's-length principle will be determined according to normal market conditions and taxed accordingly. Based on this wording, both upward and downward adjustments are possible. Furthermore, this provision applies to domestic and cross-border transactions. Article 56 of the ITL covers any "enterprise," which means any person carrying out a commercial activity. As such, under this article, company types, such as S.A.s, S.à.r.l.s and risk capital investment companies (sociétés d'investissement en capital à risque – SICARs), and individuals that have a commercial business are considered to be included in the definition of "enterprise." However, non-Luxembourg residents (unless they have a permanent establishment in Luxembourg) or transparent entities (such as FCP, SCS and SCSp, unless they exercise a commercial activity) would likely not be included under the scope of Article 56 of the ITL. Investment companies with variable capital (sociétés d'investissement à capital variable – SICAVs) in corporate form have a commercial business and are considered to be enterprises; however, they benefit from a subjective tax exemption. The commentaries of the law specify that the arm's-length principle is applicable to any taxpayer, regardless of the legal form under which it exercises its activities in Luxembourg.

Therefore, this provision will cover not only tax-opaque collective undertakings and tax-transparent partnerships but also individual and collective undertakings without legal form. Since Article 56 of the ITL grants the possibility to adjust the profits declared by a taxpayer, it is necessary to determine whether the conditions of a controlled transaction (i.e., a transaction between associated enterprises) are consistent with the arm's-length principle and what quantum of adjustment has to be made to achieve the arm's-length principle. To assess this, a comprehensive economic comparability analysis or benchmark, which consists of comparing controlled transactions with uncontrolled transactions (i.e., transactions between independent parties), should in principle be realized to sustain the arm's-length character of the intragroup transaction.

Article 56bis of the ITL, applicable from 1 January 2017, contains the basic principles that must be respected in the context of a transfer pricing analysis, including the tool to be used and the methodology to be selected for implementing the arm's-length principle. Article 56bis of the ITL first provides for definitions aiming to clarify some fundamental terms in the area of transfer pricing. The article then states that companies have to apply the arm's-length principle to all controlled transactions and specifies that the mere fact that a transaction may not be found between independent parties does not itself mean that it is not at arm's length. As per the mechanism to be applied, this article particularly focuses on the comparability analysis, which is at the heart of the application of the arm's-length principle. This comparability analysis is based on the following two aspects:

- The identification of the commercial or financial relations between related entities and the determination of the conditions and economically relevant circumstances linked to those relations in order to accurately delineate the controlled transaction
- The comparison of the conditions and economically relevant circumstances of the accurately delineated controlled transaction with those of comparable transactions on the free market Article 56bis of the ITL further states that the economically relevant conditions and circumstances or comparability factors that have to be identified broadly include the following:
 - The contractual terms of the transaction
 - The functions performed by each of the parties to the transaction, taking into account the assets used and the risks assumed and managed
 - The characteristics of the asset transferred, the service rendered or the engagement concluded
 - The economic circumstances of the parties and the market on which the parties exercise their activities
 - The business strategies pursued by the parties' Article 56bis of the ITL also specifies that the methods to be used for determining the appropriate arm's-length price must take into account the factors of comparability identified and be coherent with the nature of the accurately delineated transaction. The most suitable method for the transaction has to be used. The Luxembourg Tax Authority issued an administrative circular on 27 December 2016 (Circular LIR No. 56/ 1- 56bis/ 1) regarding the tax treatment applicable to companies carrying out intragroup financing activities. This new circular replaces the administrative circulars No. 164/ 2 of 28 January 2011 and No. 164/ 2bis of 8 April 2011 and is effective as of 1 January 2017. The circular provides substantial guidance on the comparability analysis, the functional analysis and the substance requirements. In line with Article 56bis of the ITL, the circular mentions that the comparability analysis should contain:

- An identification of the commercial or financial relations existing between related parties and determination of the conditions and significant economic circumstances attached to the controlled transaction in order to precisely delineate the controlled transaction
- A comparison of the conditions and significant economic circumstances of the controlled transaction, accurately delineated, with comparable transactions between independent parties. The circular provides substantial details on the approach to be taken in order to conduct a functional analysis, stressing the importance of identifying functions performed and assets used to determine the risk related to a financing transaction. Furthermore, the circular requires the performance of a comprehensive risk analysis in order to determine the adequate level of equity. In that respect, it refers to the need to estimate – based on the facts and circumstances of each situation – the economically significant specific risks in relation to a financing transaction. The circular also explains the substance requirements to be met by a group financing entity. The Law of 23 December 2016 in relation to CbCR rules was adopted by Luxembourg's Parliament on 27 December 2016. This law aims at transposing Directive 2016/ 881/EU of 25 May 2016, which amends Directive 2011/ 16/EU as it regards the mandatory automatic exchange of information in the field of taxation to include the CbCR rules for global MNEs.

c. Effective date of applicability

1 January 2015

d. Section reference from local regulation

Related parties are defined by Article 56 of the ITL as follows: "When an enterprise participates, directly or indirectly, in the management, control or capital of another enterprise, or where the same persons participate, directly or indirectly, in the management, control or capital of two enterprises."

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There is a documentation obligation for domestic transactions.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Luxembourg has been a member of the OECD since 7 December 1961. The OECD Guidelines are not officially incorporated into Luxembourg tax law. Nevertheless, the commentaries to the 2015 Budget Law modifying Article 56 of the ITL refer to the OECD Guidelines as being designed to be observed by multinationals. More importantly, Article 56bis, introduced into Luxembourg law by the 2016 Budget Law, clearly aims to incorporate the concept of the arm's-length principle, based on the OECD principles as revised by Actions 8 to 10 of the OECD BEPS Action Plan, which is now also reflected in the last version of the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines released in July 2017. The commentaries to Article 56bis refer directly to chapters 1 to 3 of the OECD Guidelines. Furthermore, Circular No. 56/ 1- 56bis/ 1, issued by the tax authorities on 27 December 2016 and effective from 1 January 2017, provides substantial guidance on the comparability analysis and, more specifically, on how to conduct it consistently with OECD principles. It also states that economic reality should prevail over the contractual terms of an agreement, thus reinforcing the application of the substance-over-form concept in the application of OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

- Additional details

Luxembourg has adopted BEPS Action 13 for transfer pricing documentation in the local regulations only in terms of CbCR.

- Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

- Coverage

The threshold is set at EUR750 million (consolidated annual group turnover).

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is financial year 2016 for CbCR, hence the first filing obligation applies to fiscal years beginning on or after 1 January 2016.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

No

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

- Additional details

Since Luxembourg legislation does not include specific documentation requirements, BEPS Action 13 format would be acceptable for local purposes.

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

No

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

No

- Additional details

Luxembourg tax law includes general documentation requirements but does not provide specific transfer pricing documentation regulations. The General Tax Law has been amended to extend the existing general obligation of taxpayers so they can justify the data contained in their tax returns with appropriate information and documentation (codified in Section 171 of the General Tax Law) for transfer pricing matters. This provision is reinforced by a third paragraph clarifying that the general documentation requirements set forth by this provision also apply to transactions between associated enterprises. In the absence of further guidance, one could rely on the 2022 edition of the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines and the Practical Manual on Transfer Pricing for Developing Countries issued by the United Nations to get additional information on what types of documentation a taxpayer may be required to provide. Reference is also made to the European Council's Code of Conduct on transfer pricing documentation for associated enterprises in the EU, dated 2006, aimed at harmonizing the transfer pricing documentation that multinationals have to provide to tax authorities. As a rule, contemporaneous documentation should exist when transactions are carried out. The Luxembourg tax authorities may request such documentation upon review of the tax return or in the context of a tax audit.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

No

- Additional details

As a rule, contemporaneous documentation should exist when transactions are carried out.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

No

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

No

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is no materiality limit.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

EUR750 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

The threshold is set at EUR750 million (consolidated annual group turnover).

- Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

Not applicable

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

Not applicable

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is no materiality limit.

- c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation need not be submitted in the local language (English is acceptable).

- Is a safe harbor available?

Yes

- Additional details

For group companies exercising a purely intermediary financing activity and meeting substance requirements listed in Circular LIR No. 56/ 1- 56bis/ 1, the transactions entered into by such group financing companies will be considered as compliant with the arm's-length principle if a minimum return on the assets financed of at least 2% after tax is achieved. The percentage of 2% after tax could not be used for controlled transactions to be entered into by group financing companies exercising a purely intermediary financing activity and having limited functional profile. A specific transfer pricing analysis documenting the remuneration to be applied on those controlled transactions should be performed in such a case. Reliance on the simplified measure needs to be disclosed (when applied) in the tax return of the company and could be subject to exchange of information. A deviation to the above 2% minimum return is acceptable on an exceptional basis when duly justified in a transfer pricing analysis. Simplified measures are also introduced to determine the arm's-length return on equity for a company having a functional profile comparable to the one of certain regulated entities (reference is made to financial institutions). In such a case, a return on equity of 10% would be considered as compliant with the arm's-length principle.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

- Additional details

The preferred approach is individual transaction testing.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

Currently, there are no transfer pricing-specific returns to be filed separately or with the corporate income tax return.

- b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

It is a common practice that transactions with related parties are detailed by nature and by related party in a schedule attached to the tax returns. Moreover, a taxpayer is requested to disclose in the tax return, inter alia, whether it has engaged into any transactions with related parties during the year and whether it has opted for the simplification measure provided in the Circular LIR No 56/ 1 56bis/ 1 on intragroup financing.

- c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes, it is in line with local accounting requirements.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

31 May

- Additional details

There is no specific submission requirement, but the transfer pricing documentation should be available upon tax return submission, i.e., 31 May.

- Submission/filing date: 31 May of the following year

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

31 May

- Additional details

There is no specific requirement, but the transfer pricing documentation should be available upon tax return submission, i.e., 31 May.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

The deadline is 12 months after the last day of the reporting fiscal year of the MNE group.

CbCR for locally headquartered companies

Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared): The CbC Report must be prepared within 12 months from the last day of the financial year subject to the report.

Submission/filing date: The CbCR must be submitted to the Luxembourg tax authorities within 12 months from the last day of the financial year subject to the report.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

The deadline is by the end of the reporting fiscal year. A Luxembourg group entity will be required to file a CbCR notification annually even if there is no change in the information notified. Each Luxembourg group entity has to file a separate CbCR notification annually.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

Contemporaneously with transactions

- Additional details

There is no statutory deadline for the preparation of transfer pricing documentation, but transfer pricing documentation should be available to support the information in the tax return. As a general rule, contemporaneous documentation should exist when transactions are carried out.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

Luxembourg's tax law does not include a deadline to produce transfer pricing documentation. However, taxpayers must be able to justify the data contained in their tax returns with appropriate information and transfer pricing documentation.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Luxembourg's tax law contains neither specific transfer pricing documentation regulations nor a deadline to produce transfer pricing documentation. Taxpayers must be able to justify the data contained in their tax returns with appropriate information and documentation. The tax authorities may request, in the context of assessing the tax return or in the context of a tax audit, that transfer pricing documentation be provided within a certain time frame. This time frame may be as short as 14 days but may be extended upon request.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

▪ Additional details

Although there are no specific pricing methods mentioned in the ITL, the draft law introduced on 12 October 2016 reinforces that the methods to be used in determining the appropriate arm's-length compensation must take into account the OECD comparability factors and be coherent with the nature of the accurately delineated transactions. All methods advocated by the OECD are acceptable under the current administrative practice, such as the CUP, resale price, cost-plus, TNMM and profit-split methods. There are no priorities established among the different methods.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

OECD guidance should be followed.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

OECD guidance should be followed.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

OECD guidance should be followed.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

OECD guidance should be followed.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

OECD guidance should be followed.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

As a rule (not specific but also applicable to transfer pricing matters), any tax return that is intentionally incomplete or has inexact information, or any non-declaration, can result in a fine. Furthermore, administrative penalties may be applied to enforce a taxpayer's delivery of general documentation within the assessment. Finally, to the extent that the arm's-length standard is not respected, the tax authority may reassess or adjust the taxable result.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

▪ Are there any other penalties?

Not applicable

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

▪ Additional details

A tax return that is intentionally incomplete or has inexact information, or any non-declaration, can result in a fine not exceeding 25% of the taxes avoided or unduly reimbursed but not less than 5% of the taxes avoided or unduly reimbursed. With regard to the CbCR rules, in the cases of failure on filing, late filing, inclusion of incomplete or inexact information, or in the case of not respecting any of the obligations included in the mentioned draft law, a penalty of up to EUR250,000 can be imposed on the declaring entity. This penalty is imposed at the discretion of the competent tax authority. The declaring entity can appeal the decision to the Administrative Court.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

An appeal before the Director of Direct Tax Administration can be lodged against penalties within three months. The adjustment will be materialized within the tax assessment. Again, an appeal can be filed against this tax assessment.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

There are no specific limitations on transfer pricing adjustments; rather, the general rules apply. The statute of limitations is, in principle, five years starting from 1 January of the calendar year following the relevant tax year. In cases where no tax return or an incomplete tax return is filed, as well as in cases of fraud, the statute of limitations is extended to 10 years. Moreover, once a Luxembourg company has been assessed for income and net wealth tax purposes for a particular year, the tax authorities may not reassess the relevant tax year unless they have obtained new information and the statute of limitations has not yet expired. As long as the tax authorities have issued a provisional tax assessment, the taxable base may still be adjusted after the provisional assessment is issued, until the statute of limitations has expired.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

Transfer pricing methodologies could be the subject of scrutiny by the Luxembourg tax authorities. There are no specific rules regarding transfer pricing audits in Luxembourg. Transfer pricing normally should be reviewed as part of a regular tax audit, when assessing the tax return for a specific year. The risk of transfer pricing being reviewed under a tax audit is characterized as medium. The tax authority has the right to carry out an audit during the statute-of-limitations period until final income tax assessments are issued. The statute of limitations is five years, but this period may be extended up to 10 years where the tax return is not filed, incomplete or inexact, and in case of fraud. The Luxembourg tax authorities have a clear focus on transfer pricing and requests for transfer pricing documentation have increased in the last years. The time frame for the request of transfer pricing documentation may be as short as 14 days but may be extended upon request.

- b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

An adjustment could follow from a challenge of the transfer pricing methodology.

- c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

OECD guidance should be followed.

- d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

There is none specified.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

The General Tax Law (Abgabenordnung) includes a provision (Paragraph 29a) dedicated to the tax ruling practice (procedure des décisions anticipées). This provision, which has been further completed by a grand-ducal regulation, reflects and formalizes the administrative practice applied in the past, enabling taxpayers to obtain up-front legal certainty. The aim is also to provide a harmonized and uniform application of the tax laws across the various taxation offices and increased transparency toward foreign tax authorities. This provision also applies to APAs. Circular Letter LIR No. 164/ 2, dated 28 January 2011, further formalizes the issuance of APAs for intragroup financing transactions (i.e., activities consisting of granting loans or advances to associated enterprises funded through the issuance of public or private loans, advances or bank loans). To further enhance tax transparency, the law on automatic exchange of information on tax rulings and APAs (transposing EU Council Directive 2015/ 2376 of 8 December 2015) was introduced into Luxembourg legislation on 23 July 2016. The law foresees the mandatory and automatic exchange of information on cross-border tax rulings and APAs with all other EU members. The law is applicable from 1 January 2017. However, retroactive effect of up to 1 January 2012 is provided for certain rulings issued before 1 January 2017.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The tenure is five years.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Roll-back to prior years is available on a case-by-case basis.

d. Is MAP available?

On 11 March 2021, the Luxembourg Tax Authorities (LTA) issued the circular L.G. - conv. D. I. n° 60 (Circular) regarding the mutual agreement procedure provided by double tax treaties signed by Luxembourg. This Circular replaces the circular L.G. - conv. D. I. n° 60 issued on 28 August 2017. The Circular details the mechanism of the MAP from the request to initiate the procedure to the termination of the MAP and explains the interaction with other procedures and legal remedies.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

There are no specific local transfer pricing regulations at this stage, but further developments after the issuance of the OECD transfer pricing guidance on financial transactions are to be monitored. Certain changes in the approach are already observed, e.g., the debt-to-equity ratio and commercial rationale need to be supported by appropriate documentation.

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

Yes

b. Name of authority

ACD

c. Name of regulations

On 19 July 2023, the Luxembourg Parliament adopted the law transposing the public CbCR Directive (Directive (EU) 2021/2101 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 24 November 2021 amending Directive 2013/34/EU as regards disclosure of income tax information by certain undertakings and branches).

d. Effective date of applicability

The obligation of drawing up, publishing and making accessible the public CbCR applies to financial years starting on or after 22 June 2024. For undertakings with a calendar financial year, the reporting obligation will apply for the first time to financial year 2025. The report must be lodged in the Luxembourg Trade and Companies Register (Registre de commerce et des Sociétés), and information about this filing must be published in the Luxembourg Electronic Compendium of Companies and Associations (Recueil électronique des Sociétés et associations) and on the website of the undertaking during calendar year 2026.

e. Section reference from local regulation

Not applicable

14. PCbCR thresholds and exemptions

a. What is the global consolidated income threshold?

Luxembourg-based ultimate parent undertakings (i.e., an undertaking governed by the laws of Luxembourg that draws up the consolidated financial statements of the largest body of legal entities and consequently heads the entire group) with consolidated revenue reflected in their consolidated financial statements, as of their balance sheet date, exceeding €750 million for each of the last two financial years, unless the group operates in only one Member State.

Luxembourg-based stand-alone undertakings (i.e., an undertaking governed by the laws of Luxembourg that is not part of a group) with annual net turnover exceeding a total of €750 million for each of the last two consecutive financial years, unless they operate in only one Member State.

Luxembourg-based large¹ and medium-sized undertakings controlled by a non-EU ultimate parent undertaking (subsidiary undertakings) if the consolidated turnover of the ultimate parent undertaking exceeds a total of €750 million for each of the last two consecutive financial years. Where the subsidiary does not have the relevant information at its disposal, it must request from the ultimate parent undertaking all the necessary information to be able to comply. If the parent does not provide this information, the subsidiary must prepare and publish a report with the available information, indicating that its ultimate parent undertaking did not provide the necessary information.

Luxembourg branches of undertakings that are not governed by the laws of a Member State with annual net turnover exceeding €8.8 million for each of the last two financial years, provided (i) the undertaking is related to a non-EU ultimate parent undertaking or is a stand-alone undertaking, (ii) the annual (consolidated) turnover of the ultimate parent undertaking or stand-alone undertaking exceeds a total of €750 million for each of the last two financial years and (iii) the

A medium-sized undertaking is an undertaking that, on its balance sheet date, exceeds at least two of the three following criteria during two consecutive financial years: (i) balance sheet total of €4.4 million, (ii) net turnover of €8.8 million, (iii) average number of full-time staff employed during the financial year of 50, without however exceeding more than one of the criteria that apply to qualify as large undertaking (see above) during two consecutive financial years.

ultimate parent undertaking does not control a Luxembourg-based large or medium-sized undertaking. In such case, the branch must publish the information for the entire group or for the stand-alone undertaking that opened the branch.

16. Lodgment process and requirements

a. Is lodgment possible?

Yes

- Additional details

The report must be lodged with the Luxembourg Trade and Companies Register (Registre de commerce et des Sociétés (RCS)) and information about this filing must be published with a filing notification in the Luxembourg Electronic Compendium of Companies and Associations (Recueil électronique des Sociétés et associations (RESA)) within 12 months of the balance sheet date of the financial year for which the report is drawn up.

Luxembourg also has opted to exempt undertakings from the obligation to publish the report on their website

if the report has been published in accordance with the aforementioned rules (lodging with the RCS and publication with a filing notification in the RESA) and is publicly available in a machine-readable electronic reporting format on the RCS website and free of charge to any third party located in the EU. The undertakings must include a notice on their websites explaining the exemption and referring interested parties to the RCS website.

b. Is lodgment in another jurisdiction possible?

Yes

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Inland Revenue Board (IRB) of Malaysia (Lembaga Hasil Dalam Negeri Malaysia – IRB)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Transfer pricing is legislated under Section 140A of the Income Tax Act (ITA), 1967 (effective from 1 January 2009) and under Section 17D of the Labuan Business Activity Act 1990 (LABATA) (effective from the year of assessment 2020). The Malaysian Transfer Pricing Rules and Guidelines were introduced in 2012 (effective from 1 January 2009) and updated Malaysian Transfer Pricing Rules and Guidelines were released on 15 July 2017 (applicable where transfer pricing documentation is prepared after 15 July 2017 for any financial year (FY)). From FY 2023 onward, the new Malaysia Transfer Pricing Rules, cited as the Income Tax (Transfer Pricing) Rules 2023 [P.U.(A) 165], dated 29 May 2023, are applicable. Consequently, the Income Tax (Transfer Pricing) Rules 2012 [P.U. (A) 132/ 2012] are revoked. On 24 December 2024, the IRB released a new Malaysia Transfer Pricing Guidelines, cited as the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Guidelines 2024 and a new Transfer Pricing Tax Audit Framework. The new releases by the IRB serve to provide clarity and educate taxpayers on TP encouraging compliance with tax laws and regulations. The Guidelines have effect from the year of assessment 2023 and subsequent years.

c. Effective date of applicability

1 January 2009 and the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Rules 2023 and Malaysia TP Guidelines 2024 have effect from 2023 and subsequent years.

d. Section reference from local regulation

- Section 140A of the ITA and Section 17D of the LABATA: Power to substitute the price and disallowance of interest on certain transactions
- Section 138C of the ITA: Advance pricing arrangement
- Income Tax (Transfer Pricing) Rules 2012 (P.U. [A] 132) (2012 TP Rules) (effective for FY 2022 and earlier years)
- Income Tax (Transfer Pricing) Rules 2023 [P.U.(A) 165] (2023 TP Rules), dated 29 May 2023 (effective from FY 2023 onward). With this, the Income Tax (Transfer Pricing) Rules 2012 [P.U. (A) 132/ 2012] are revoked.

- Income Tax (Advance Pricing Arrangement) Rules 2012 (P.U. [A] 133) (effective for FY 2022 and earlier years)
- Income Tax (Advance Pricing Arrangement) Rules 2023 [P.U.(A) 166] (new APA Rules), dated 29 May 2023 (2023 APA Rules) (effective for FY 2023 and onward). With this, the Income Tax (Advance Pricing Arrangement) Rules 2012 [P.U. (A) 133/ 2012] are revoked.
- Income Tax CbCR Rules 2016 [P.U. (A) 357] (CbCR Rules)
- Income Tax (CbCR) (Amendment) Rules 2017 (P.U. [A] 416)

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The Malaysian contemporaneous TP documentation obligation for domestic transactions where the arm's-length principle would apply and be covered in the TP documentation.

Under Paragraph 1.5 of the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Guidelines 2024, to ease the compliance burden, the following persons are not required to prepare a Contemporaneous Transfer Pricing Documentation (CTPD):

- a. Individuals not carrying on a business
 - b. Individuals carrying on a business (including partnerships) who only engage in domestic controlled transactions
 - c. Person who entered controlled transactions with a total amounting to not more than RM1 million
- Or
- d. Person who entered solely into domestic controlled transactions with another person where both parties:
 - Do not enjoy tax incentives
 - Are taxed at the same headline tax rate

Or

- Do not suffer losses for two consecutive years prior to the controlled transactions

However, persons who are exempted in paragraph 1.5 of the Guidelines must still comply with the arm's-length principle for all controlled transactions entered into and must keep all relevant documents that are related to the controlled transactions, including documentation to support and prove the determination of the arm's-length price.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

The Malaysia Transfer Pricing Rules 2023 and the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Guidelines 2024 are largely based on the governing standard for transfer pricing, which is the arm's-length principle as established in the OECD Guidelines. The IRB respects the general principles of the OECD Guidelines. However, there is a set of requirements as stipulated under Rule 4 of the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Rule 2023 that taxpayers need to comply with.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Malaysia adopted and implemented BEPS Action 13 effective from 1 January 2017 for CbCR in its local regulations.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

- Malaysia introduced CbCR rules effective from 1 January 2017. The CbCR applies to MNEs for which: The consolidated revenue of the MNE group is at least MYR3 billion in the fiscal year preceding the reporting fiscal year.
- Any of its Constituent Entities (CEs):
 - Is an ultimate holding entity that is incorporated, registered or established, or deemed to be incorporated, registered or established, under the Companies Act 2016 (Act 777) or under any written law and resident in Malaysia
 - Is incorporated, registered or established, or deemed to be incorporated, registered or established, under the Companies Act 2016 or under written law or under the laws of a territory outside Malaysia and resident in Malaysia
 - Is a surrogate holding entity that is incorporated, registered or established, or deemed to be incorporated, registered or established, under the Companies Act 2016 or under any written law and resident in Malaysia
 - Is a permanent establishment in Malaysia
- Effective or expected date of commencement
- The effective commencement date is 1 January 2017.
- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

No

▪ Coverage

There is no separate requirement for a Master File effective 2023, according to the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Guidelines 2024. However, the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Rules 2023 and the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Guidelines 2024 require taxpayers to include additional information as specified in Schedule 1 of the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Rules 2023 as part of CTPD, which mirrors the information required under the OECD Masterfile.

- Additional details

Malaysia requires preparation of TP documentation annually under its local jurisdiction regulations. Preparation of TP documentation should be based on the most current, reliable data that is reasonably available at the time of determination. However, taxpayers should review the price based on data available at the end of the relevant year of assessment and update the documentation accordingly. As long as the operational conditions remain unchanged, the comparable searches in databases supporting part of the TP documentation should be updated every three years rather than annually. However, financial data and suitability of the existing comparable should be reviewed and updated every year in order to apply the arm's-length principle reliably.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Turnover

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

The new Malaysia Transfer Pricing Guideline 2024 provide for de minimis rules and exceptions whereby taxpayers with the following threshold may opt for minimal transfer pricing documentation or prepare/maintain full transfer pricing documentation as applicable to other taxpayers:

- Gross income (less than MYR 30 million) and cross-border related party transactions (less than MYR 10 million)
- Provide/receive financial assistance exceeding RM50 million

The IRB guidelines state that any person who falls within the above threshold criteria may opt to fully apply all relevant guidance as well as fulfill all transfer pricing documentation requirements in the IRB guidelines. Alternatively, the person may opt to comply with maintaining the minimum transfer pricing documentation, which consists of the following four components:

- Worldwide group structure
- Organizational structure
- Controlled transactions
- Pricing policies

In this regard, the person is allowed to apply any method other than the five methods described in the IRB guidelines provided it results in, or best approximates, arm's-length outcomes. The de minimis rules do not apply to transactions between permanent establishment and its head office or other related branches.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

MYR3 billion

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Malaysia introduced CbCR rules effective from 1 January 2017. The CbCR applies to MNEs for which:

- The consolidated revenue of the MNE group is at least MYR3 billion in the fiscal year preceding the reporting fiscal year.
- Any of its Constituent Entities (CEs):
 - Is an ultimate holding entity that is incorporated, registered or established, or deemed to be incorporated, registered or established, under the Companies Act 2016 (Act 777) or under any written law and resident in Malaysia
 - Is incorporated, registered or established, or deemed to be incorporated, registered or established, under the Companies Act 2016 or under written law or under the laws of a territory outside Malaysia and resident in Malaysia

- Is a surrogate holding entity that is incorporated, registered or established, or deemed to be incorporated, registered or established, under the Companies Act 2016 or under any written law and resident in Malaysia
- Is a permanent establishment in Malaysia

▪ Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

Not applicable effective 2023.

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is no separate requirement for a Master File effective 2023, according to the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Guidelines 2024. However, the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Rules 2023 and the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Guidelines 2024 require taxpayers to include additional information as specified in Schedule 1 of the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Rules 2023 as part of CTPD, which mirrors the information required under the OECD Masterfile.

▪ Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

Under Paragraph 1.5 of the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Guidelines 2024, to ease the compliance burden, the following persons are not required to prepare a CTPD:

- a. Individuals not carrying on a business
- b. Individuals carrying on a business (including partnerships) who only engage in domestic controlled transactions
- c. Person who entered controlled transactions with a total amounting to not more than RM1 million

Or

d. Person who entered solely into domestic controlled transactions with another person where both parties:

- Do not enjoy tax incentives
- Are taxed at the same headline tax rate

Or

- Do not suffer losses for two consecutive years prior to the controlled transactions

However, persons who are exempted in paragraph 1.5 of the Guidelines must still comply with the arm's-length principle for all controlled transactions entered into and must keep all relevant documents that are related to the controlled transactions, including documentation to support and prove the determination of the arm's-length price.

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

The IRB has not adopted the application of the OECD Local File concepts as separate documents. The Local File refers to the TP Documentation prepared in accordance with the specific requirements under Malaysia Transfer Pricing Rules 2023 and Malaysia Transfer Pricing Guidelines 2024 issued by the IRB. Taxpayers can opt to prepare minimal transfer pricing documentation in the event that they fall under the de minimis rules.

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Under the de minimis rules, there is no materiality threshold for Economic analysis. The person is allowed to apply any method other than the five methods described in the IRB guidelines provided it results in, or best approximates, arm's-length outcomes. However, taxpayers may need to prepare a comparability analysis/benchmarking study upon request from IRB to justify the transfer price. Nevertheless, this request will not make the original minimum CTPD non-contemporaneous.

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

TP documentation can be submitted in either English or Bahasa Malaysia.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Yes

- Additional details

Based on the the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Guidelines 2024, the concept of low value added services (LVAS)/ safe harbor rule was introduced. The LVAS is available for routine services if conditions are met under Paragraph 6.19 to 6.26 of the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Guidelines 2024.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

- Additional details

Ideally, in arriving at the most precise approximation of fair market value, the arm's-length principle should be applied on a transaction-by-transaction basis. However, the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Guidelines 2024 recognize that a combination of controlled transactions are sometimes so closely linked or continuous that they cannot be evaluated adequately on a separate basis and that there may be instances for normal industry practices to set one transfer price for those transactions.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

The information on related party transactions is part of the Form C requirement, and taxpayers does not need to file a separate MNE form.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

Taxpayers are required to disclose in a tax return if TP documentation has been prepared for the relevant year of assessment. This compliance requirement is effective from the year of assessment in 2014. In addition, as mentioned above, the taxpayer needs to complete the information on related party transactions as part of the information required under Form C.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Taxpayers are required to disclose all related-party transactions in their financial statements. However, the auditor applies specific thresholds on which related party transactions must be disclosed; therefore, sometimes not all related party transactions are disclosed in the financial statements.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Starting YA 2021, constituent entities can now furnish the CbCR notification using the Form C. Constituent entities filing other forms should continue furnishing the notification using the existing method.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

CbCR notification filed as a reporting entity or non-reporting entity

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

Depending on the fiscal year end of entity, seven or eight months after the fiscal year-end of an entity.

- Additional details

The CIT return has to be filed within seven months from the end of the relevant fiscal year, e.g., 31 December 2024 year-ending companies would file the corporate tax return by 31 July 2025. However, there is a one-month grace period given by the IRB for the e-filing program during which taxpayers can file their tax returns by 31 August 2025.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

By the time of filing of the tax return, seven or eight months after the fiscal year-end of an entity.

- Additional details

- In 2014, the IRB introduced a section in Form C asking taxpayers to declare if they have maintained a TP report for the year of assessment they are filing the tax returns. Taxpayers that do not have a transfer pricing report must select "No" and make a disclosure on Form C.
- Malaysia Transfer Pricing Rules 2023 require taxpayers to state the date on which the contemporaneous TP documentation is completed. The documentation must be brought into existence prior to the due date for furnishing the tax return.
- Taxpayers are required to prepare contemporaneous TP documentation and submit within 14 days upon request by the tax authorities.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not applicable effective 2023

- Additional details

There is no separate requirement for a Master File effective 2023, according to the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Guidelines 2024. However, the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Rules 2023 and the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Guidelines 2024 require taxpayers to include additional information as specified in Schedule 1 of the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Rules 2023 as part of the CTPD, which mirrors the information required under the OECD Masterfile.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

Depending upon the fiscal year-end of the entity, 12 months after the last day of the reporting fiscal year of the MNE Group.

- Additional details

The CbCR must be filed no later than 12 months after the last day of the reporting Fiscal Year of the MNE group (e.g., MNE groups with Fiscal Year ending on 31 December 2024 will be required to file the CbCR by 31 December 2025 at the latest).

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Depending upon the fiscal year end of the entity. To be furnished using Form C. Hence, the deadline is similar to the filing of the tax return, seven or eight months after the fiscal year-end of an entity.

- Additional details

Starting YA 2021, constituent entities can now furnish the CbCR notification using Form C. Constituent entities filing other forms should continue furnishing the notification using the existing method. Notification (except for constituent entities submitting other than Form C) should be made on or before the due date to file Form C.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By tax return lodgment date

- Additional details

Based on the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Rules 2023, a person who enters into a controlled transaction shall prepare contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation prior to the due date for furnishing a return in the basis period for a year of assessment in which a controlled transaction is entered into. The Malaysia Transfer Pricing Rules 2023 also require taxpayers to state the date on which the contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation is completed.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

No

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Taxpayers are required to submit TP documentation within 14 days upon request of the tax authorities.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

▪ Additional details

The IRB accepts CUP, resale price, cost-plus, profit-split and TNMM. Under the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Rules 2023, a person shall determine the arm's-length price for a controlled transaction by applying the most appropriate method as follows:

- The traditional transactional method
- The transactional profit method
- Any other method allowed by the Director General that provides the highest degree of comparability between the transactions Further the basis for the method selected should be supported by an explanation and reasons that the method selected and the profit-level indicator are appropriate as a better approximation to determine the arm's-length price and be based on the facts and circumstances, including the economically relevant characteristics of the controlled transaction that has been accurately delineated. The IRB may make a review of the method selected and then replace the selected method with the other most appropriate method if IRB has reason to believe that the person's selected method is not the most appropriate method in determining the arm's-length price.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

The IRB gives priority to the available sufficient and verifiable information on both tested party and comparables (paragraph 4.4 of the Malaysian Transfer Pricing Guidelines). The IRB prefers using a local benchmarking study (i.e., local Malaysian comparable companies). If a foreign-tested party is used, taxpayer needs to provide the IRB sufficient and verifiable documents for both tested party and comparables. The information may include (but not limited to):

- Transfer pricing documentation of the foreign-tested party
- Financial statements and detailed accounts of the tested party
- Financial statements of comparables used in the TP documentation or screenshot of the financial and background information extracted from the database used
- Foreign comparables that can be similarly considered if annual reports, financial statements and background information of the comparables can be provided for verification by the IRB

Any selection of foreign tested parties and comparables that do not have sufficient and verifiable information would not be accepted.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

The arm's-length price should be determined by comparing the results of a controlled transaction with the results of uncontrolled transactions that were undertaken or carried out during the same year. The IRB reviews the transfer price on a year-by-year basis and relies on the information of the comparable companies reasonably available at the time of preparation of the transfer pricing study. The above is also similarly spelled out in the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Rules 2023, which state that in preparing a contemporaneous TP documentation, a person shall determine an arm's-length price based on the most current reliable information, data or documents that are reasonably available at the time of determination. Further the multiple-year data (data from the year under examination and prior years) shall only be used to assist in the selection of the comparable and not for the use of multiple year averages.

The Malaysia Transfer Pricing Rules 2023 have tightened the arm's-length range by introducing a range of figures or a single figure falling between the value of the 37.5th percentile to the 62.5th percentile of the data set as acceptable by the IRB to determine whether the arm's-length price has been applied in a controlled transaction. That said, the IRB may still adjust the price of a controlled transaction to the median or any point above the median, due to comparability defects that cannot be quantified, identified or adjusted or if the comparable has lesser degree of comparability. Further, the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Rules 2023 explain that if the price of a controlled transaction is outside the arm's-length range, the arm's-length price shall be taken to be the median.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

As long as operational conditions remain unchanged, the comparable searches in databases supporting part of the TP documentation should be updated every three years rather than annually. However, financial data and suitability of the existing comparable should be reviewed and updated every year in order to apply the arm's-length principle reliably.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

The Malaysian TP Guidelines and 2023 TP Rules do not advocate using weighted average to ascertain the arm's-length price of the intercompany transactions.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

The IRB prefers the use of a local benchmarking study (i.e., local Malaysian comparable companies). Based on the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Guidelines 2024, the Guidelines require the selection of comparables that align with the economically relevant characteristics as prescribed by the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Rules 2023. To facilitate the selection of high quality comparables, the Guidelines provide a list of qualitative and quantitative criteria to be considered.

Qualitative criteria

- Functional comparability
- Product portfolio
- Business strategies
- Geographical markets
- Business activities

Quantitative criteria

Size criteria, such as sales (not less than 10% of tested party's revenue), assets or number of employees

- Intangible-related criteria such as ratio of intangible assets to net assets, or ratio of research and development (R&D) expenditure to sales
- Criteria related to export sales
- Criteria related to inventories

- Additional criteria to exclude third-parties in special circumstances, such as start-up companies, companies in bankruptcy, etc.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

In accordance with Section 113B of the ITA, if convicted, the taxpayer may be fined not less than RM20,000.00 and not more than RM100,000.00 or imprisonment for not more than six months or both in the event of following events:

- Failure to submit TPD within 14 days from the date of the IRBM's written notice
- Non-compliance with the TPD requirements under P.U.(A) 165/2023 and the Malaysia TP Guidelines 2024
- The CTPD not dated or completed by the time of furnishing the tax return

However, penalty concession may apply for taxpayers who has an accounting period which begins before 29 May 2023 (Gazette order of P.U.(A) 165/2023)

What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Information furnished in the CbCR must be complete and correct. Incomplete and/or incorrect information provided may lead to a penalty imposed under Section 113A of the Income Tax Act 1967 (ITA). The penalty will be a fine of not less than RM20,000 and not more than RM100,000 or imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or both. Under the Labuan Regulations, the penalty for the same offence is a fine not exceeding RM1,000,000 or imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or both may be imposed.

The penalty may also be imposed under Section 112A of the ITA or Regulation 9 of the Labuan Regulations for failure to submit the CbCR. The penalty will be a fine of not less than RM20,000 and not more than RM100,000 or imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or both if convicted under the ITA, or a fine not exceeding RM1,000,000 or imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or both if convicted under the Labuan Regulations.

What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable. The previous 2012 Malaysia Transfer Pricing

Guidelines (updated in 2017) stated that taxpayers obligated under the Income Tax (Country-by-Country Reporting) Rules 2016 to prepare the Country-by-Country Report are also required to prepare the Master File and submit it along with the Transfer Pricing Documentation upon request. However, the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Guidelines 2024 are silent on the Master File requirement, as the relevant paragraph has been removed.

Effective 2021, surcharge will be applicable for transfer pricing audit cases that commence on or after January 1, 2021, regardless of the assessment years. In the event of any transfer pricing adjustment, a penalty under Section 140A (3C) of the ITA may impose a surcharge of up to 5% on the amount of any increase in income or reduction in any deduction or loss arising from a transfer pricing adjustment. Any surcharge imposed shall be collected as if it were tax payable by the taxpayer. A surcharge may still be imposed even if no assessment or additional assessment is raised because the surcharge rate is imposed on the amount of the transfer price adjustment.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

▪ Additional details

In the event that the CTPD is non-compliance with the TPD requirements under P.U.(A) 165/2023 and the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Guidelines 2024 if convicted, the taxpayer may be fined not less than RM20,000.00 and not more than RM100,000.00 or imprisonment for not more than six months or both in the event of following events.

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Based on the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Rules 2023, TPD is considered contemporaneous:

I. A person who enters into a controlled transaction shall prepare a contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation which is brought into existence prior to the due date for furnishing a return in the basis period for a year of assessment in which a controlled transaction is entered into.

II. The contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation shall contain information required under Section 4 of the Malaysia Transfer Pricing Rules 2023.

In the event that the CTPD is deemed non-contemporaneous, the taxpayer may be fined not less than RM20,000.00 and not more than RM100,000.00 or imprisonment for not more than six months or both in the event of following events.

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

▪ Additional details

No

▪ Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

▪ Additional details

- A concession for the imposition of penalties under section 113B of the ITA may be given to a taxpayer who has an accounting period that begins before 29th May 2023 which is the date gazette of the P.U.(A) 165/2023.
- Taxpayer can apply for voluntary disclosure and the surcharge rate under subsection 140A(3C) of the ITA for a voluntary disclosure is 0% to 4%
- If the tax authorities make an adjustment, the taxpayer would need to appeal against the tax assessment by lodging a Form Q, Notice of Appeal to the Special Commissioners of Income Tax, to seek any relief.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

There is a seven-year statute of limitations for additional assessments issued pursuant to TP adjustments, and documentation must be kept for seven years. There is no statute of limitations in instances of fraud, willful default or negligence.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

For companies with significant related-party transactions, the possibility of a transfer pricing audit may be characterized as high. Every MNE that was audited during the last 12 months had its transfer pricing policy scrutinized.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The risk of an adjustment may be reduced through contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

The Malaysia Transfer Pricing Rules 2023 have tightened the arm's length range by introducing a range of figures or a single figure falling between the value of the 37.5th percentile to the 62.5th percentile of the data set as acceptable by the IRB to determine whether the arm's length price has been applied in a controlled transaction.

c. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

The IRB during a transfer pricing audit would focus on the following:

- Companies with high value of related-party transactions
- Companies that are having significant intragroup transactions, e.g., royalties paid, management fee paid, technical services fee paid and commission paid
- Companies having related-party transactions and reporting losses
- Related-party transactions between two Malaysian entities, where one of the Malaysian entities is availing a tax incentive or is reporting losses

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

The introduction of Section 138C of the ITA effectively formalizes the availability of unilateral and bilateral APAs in Malaysia. Additionally, formal APA rules (along with 2023 APA rules) and guidelines in relation to APAs have been issued, and a specific unit has been established in the IRB to oversee the APA applications and negotiations. MAP: As per Malaysian MAP guidelines, the purpose of the guidelines is to provide guidance on obtaining assistance from the Malaysian competent authority (CA) to persons that fall within the scope of an effective tax treaty that Malaysia has with its treaty partners. The assistance is provided to taxpayers in order to resolve international tax disputes involving double taxation and inconsistencies in the interpretation and application of a tax treaty.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The Malaysian APA rules allow the APA for a minimum of three years and a maximum of five years. This comes with an option to roll back the outcome of the APA if it is demonstrated that the TP methodology applied is appropriate, provided that the fact

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

The Malaysian APA rules allow the APA for a minimum of three years and a maximum of five years. This comes with an option to roll back the outcome of the APA if it is demonstrated that the TP methodology applied is appropriate, provided that the facts and circumstances surrounding those years are substantially the same as that of the covered period under the APA subject to verification on audit. As per 2023 APA rules, a Roll-back shall be allowed for not more than three years of assessment immediately preceding the covered period.

d. Is MAP available?

MAP applications are accepted by Malaysian CA.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

With effect from 1 January 2019, Malaysia introduced earning stripping rules (ESR) to restrict the deductibility of interest expenses incurred in connection with or on any financial assistance in a controlled transaction in relation to cross-border transactions. The relevant regulations and guidelines are outlined as follows:

- Section 140C of the ITA: Restriction on the deductibility of interest (effective from 1 January 2019)
- Income tax (restriction on deductibility of interest) rules 2019 (effective from 1 July 2019)
- Restriction on deductibility of interest guidelines (effective from 1 July 2019)

 - 4/ISR/NV: royalties paid to foreign related parties for intangible assets originated in Mexico
 - 39/ISR/NV: recognition of unique and valuable contributions
 - 40/ISR/NV: modification of transfer prices when the results of the tested party are within the interquartile range In addition, as a result of Mexico's energy reform, the Hydrocarbons Revenue Law (HRL) was created in 2014 to regulate the revenues to be generated as a result of hydrocarbon exploration and extraction activities. The regulation included in the HRL examines the relevant transfer pricing aspects that should be considered by every contractor in addition to specific transfer pricing regulations included in the contracts awarded by the National Hydrocarbons Commission (CNH):
 - HRL, Article 30: applicability of the OECD Guidelines to analyze transactions performed with related parties
 - HRL, Article 51: obligations for arm's-length pricing and method application

c. Effective date of applicability

1997

d. Section reference from local regulation

The ITL, Article 179, states the "related party" definition as follows: two or more entities are considered to be related parties when one of them participates, directly or indirectly, in the administration, control or equity of the other or when an entity or group of entities participates, directly or indirectly, in the administration, control or equity of said entities. Members of partnerships are considered to be related, as are the persons who are considered related parties of said members.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There is a transfer pricing documentation obligation for domestic transactions. Intercompany transactions with local related parties must be documented (Article 76, Sections IX and XII, of the ITL).

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Mexico is a member of the OECD. The ITL, Article 180, states that the OECD Guidelines can be relied upon for interpretation of the rules as long as they do not contradict the ITL or international tax treaties.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Action 13 for transfer pricing documentation in the local regulations. Legislation was passed on 29 October 2015 and came into effect from 1 January 2016.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

The CbCR has to be filed by Mexican MNE-controlling entities with consolidated income equal to or greater than MXN12,000 million.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is FY 2016.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Mexican regulations require the filing of the Master File for certain taxpayers.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

BEPS Action 13 implementation is effective from FY 2016, and the due date for compliance is 31 December of the following fiscal year from the fiscal year under analysis. Taxpayers required to submit the Master File and Local File informative returns should do it through the technological platform, as well as the digital formats for filing such informative returns, available on the SAT website for consultation and filing.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

On 15 May 2017, the SAT published the final transfer pricing regulations listing the specific requirements to comply with Article 76-A of the ITL. There are differences between the OECD report template or format and Mexico's regulations: Master File: specific differences in the description of the requirements for the general description of the MNE's business activities, as well as on the information related to financial activities of the MNE. These transfer pricing informative returns are an additional obligation to the contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation that must be maintained by the taxpayers in Mexico.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Mexican regulations require the filing of the Local File for certain taxpayers.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

BEPS Action 13 implementation is effective from FY 2016, and the due date for compliance is 31 December of the following fiscal year from the fiscal year under analysis. Taxpayers required to submit the Master File and Local File informative returns should do it through the technological platform, as well as the digital formats for filing such informative returns, available on the SAT website for consultation and filing.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

On 15 May 2017, the SAT published the final transfer pricing regulations listing the specific requirements to comply with Article 76-A of the ITL. There are differences between the OECD report template or format and Mexico's regulations: Local File: material differences with additional requirements, compared with the OECD report template, such as the requirement of a comprehensive description and taxpayer's participation on the MNE's value chain; detailed description of transfer pricing policies; development, enhancement, maintenance, protection and exploitation of intangibles (DEMPE) analysis and functional analysis per evaluated transaction and segmented financial information requirements; and, importantly, financial statements for the taxpayer and the tested parties as well as financial information of all the related parties that are counterparties in the evaluated transactions. These transfer pricing informative returns are an additional obligation to the contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation that must be maintained by the taxpayers in Mexico.

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

▪ Additional details

Prior FY 2021 contemporaneous documentation might reduce tax penalties by 50%, if the taxpayer complies with the formal requirements established in Article 76 (IX) of the ITL. However, from FY 2021 going forward, this reduction in penalties is no longer applicable.

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

▪ Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

▪ If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Mexico has transfer pricing documentation rules. Although transfer pricing report should not be filed on a yearly basis, Article 76 of ITL, Sections IX and XII (it should be kept at taxpayers' office), the Exhibit 9 (transfer pricing informative return) of Multiple Informative Return (Declaración Informativa Múltiple – DIM), which disclose the information of the transfer pricing report, must be filed before tax authorities. Depending on the taxpayer, Master File, Local File and CbCR (Article 76-A, Sections I, II and III, respectively) must also be filed. Please note that even though some companies are not obligated to prepare and file a Local File and Master File, they are obligated to prepare and keep a transfer pricing report, as well as to file the Exhibit 9 previously mentioned. Transfer pricing report and/or Local File must be prepared on a yearly basis taking into consideration the requirements established in Article 76, section IX, of the MITL, and must include contemporary data of comparable companies, i.e., financial information of comparable companies of the year under analysis.

▪ Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

▪ Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation must be prepared annually under Mexico's local regulations. Documentation must include the name, address and tax residency of the related parties with which transactions are carried out, as well as evidence of direct and indirect participation between related parties and correct application of a method as stated in Article 180 of the ITL, following the hierarchy established therein. It is necessary to include information regarding the functions performed, assets used, and risks borne by the taxpayer and its related parties involved in each transaction. Information and documentation of comparable transactions or companies by type of transaction must also be included. Therefore, this information must be updated, usually through a comprehensive annual update on the transfer pricing documentation. Financial information of comparable companies must consider financial information of the year under analysis.

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

▪ TP documentation

▪ Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

▪ If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Turnover

▪ Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

Mexican taxpayers conducting intercompany transactions with prior-year income exceeding MXN13 million in regular business activities or exceeding MXN3 million for the provision of professional services are required to prepare and maintain annual transfer pricing documentation. Taxpayers conducting transactions with residents in low-tax jurisdictions are not included in this exception, nor are the contractors or assignees according to the HRL.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

MXN12,000 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

The CbCR has to be filed by Mexican MNE-controlling entities with consolidated income equal to or greater than MXN12,000 million. There are no specific CbCR notification requirements in Mexico regarding the CbCR filing process of the MNE's ultimate parent entity. However, in the ISSIF (along with the annual tax return) or in the Tax Report, it must be disclosed whether the local entity is aware of if the ultimate parent holding is obliged to file a CbCR. It is also relevant to consider that the Mexican regulations establish that the SAT may require the legal entities residing in Mexico to provide the CbCR filed by the ultimate parent entity, when the SAT could not obtain the information corresponding to such return through the information exchange methods set forth in the international treaties currently in force by Mexico. To such end, the taxpayers shall have a maximum of 120 business days from the date when the request is made to provide such CbCR.

- Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

MXN1,016,759,000

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

Starting fiscal year 2016, Mexican taxpayers with entities that conducted transactions with related parties that surpass a certain threshold in the previous fiscal year or that conducted transactions with related parties and were listed in a public stock market in the previous fiscal year are required to file the Master File and Local File. The threshold for FY 2024 is to have reported accruable income equal or above MXN1,016,759,000 in the previous fiscal year, i.e., FY 2023, while for FY 2023's obligation was triggered with an accruable income equal or above MXN974, 653,950 in the previous fiscal year, i.e., FY 2022. In addition, public companies in the previous fiscal year are required to file the master as well, even though they do not meet the applicable threshold. Other entities obligated to file the master informative return include legal entities within the optional tax regime (integration system), government-controlled corporations and residents abroad with permanent establishment in Mexico. Additionally, due to the FY 22 Tax Reform, Article 32-H of the FTC incorporates section VI, which establishes that the related parties of taxpayers required to submit a Tax Report are also required to submit the Master File Informative Return. It is important to specify that the taxpayers that are required to submit a Tax Opinion for fiscal year 2024 are those with taxable income higher than MXN1,855,919,380 in fiscal year 2023, as well as public companies.

- Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

MXN1,016,759,000

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

The same thresholds as in the "Master File" section above should be considered.

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

The obligation to conduct transactions with related parties (foreign and domestic) at arm's-length values applies to all intercompany transactions with no minimum thresholds applicable.

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

As mentioned before, transfer pricing documentation is prepared and kept in the taxpayers' facilities; however, if it is requested by tax authorities, the transfer pricing documentation must be submitted in local language. That is, in the case of a review, all information that is intended to be presented to the tax authorities to clarify the tax position of the company, including the transfer pricing documentation, must be presented in Spanish. Taxpayers obligated to submit the Master File informative return can file such information prepared by a foreign entity of the MNE as long as it is aligned with BEPS Action 13. This information (BEPS Master File) can be filed by the taxpayer either in Spanish or English (Temporary Rule 3.9.12 of MTR for 2023) through the specific software tools provided by the SAT. BEPS Local File must be filed in Spanish based on the Mexican regulations (Temporary Rule 3.9.13 of MTR for 2023).

- Is a safe harbor available?

Yes

- Additional details

Starting in 2014, the self-assessment option for maquiladoras is no longer available. As such, Mexican contract manufacturers with a maquiladora manufacturing and export services industry (Industria Manufacturera, Maquiladora y de Servicios de Exportación – IMMEX) program have to apply safe harbor rules (with taxable profit being the greater of applying a 6.5% return over total costs or a 6.9% return over total assets, including assets and inventories of consignment property of foreign parties, but used in the manufacturing activity). Safe harbor for financial transactions is not covered by the Mexican regulations.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

- Additional details

Individual testing should be performed. Since OECD Guidelines are applicable for interpretation purposes, based on OECD Guidelines, there might be some cases where an aggregated analysis is appropriate.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

Yes

Reportable transactions In line with Action 12 of the BEPS action plan, Tax Reform 2020, Article 197 of the FFC, requires tax advisors to disclose reportable transactions. Transactions are reportable to the extent there is a tax benefit in Mexico, regardless of the residence of the taxpayer receiving the benefit. The new FFC articles further provide that, in certain instances, the taxpayer is required to report the transaction. This requirement applies from 1 January 2021; transactions that would have to be disclosed are reportable transactions with effects in 2020, beginning in 2021. The primary responsibility to disclose a reportable transaction lies with the tax advisor and, at a secondary level, the taxpayers. Reportable transactions include among others:

- Those that prevent foreign authorities from exchanging tax or financial information with Mexican tax authorities, including Common Reporting Standard reports
- Those that avoid the application of low-tax jurisdiction (régimen fiscal preferente – REFIPRE)
- Those that involve transactions with related parties, where:
 - Hard-to-value intangibles are transferred, in accordance with OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines.
 - Involving entrepreneurial reorganizations where no consideration has been paid for the transfer of assets, functions and risks or where as a result of such reorganization, the taxpayers experience a reduction in operating profits of more than 20%.

- Goods and rights are transmitted, or the temporary use and enjoyment thereof is granted for no consideration, or unremunerated services are rendered, or functions are performed.
- There are no reliable comparables as the transactions involve unique and valuable functions or assets.
- A unilateral protection regime afforded by foreign law is used, in accordance with OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines.
- The transfer of tax losses
- Those that prevent the application of the permanent establishment provisions
- The use of hybrid mechanisms
- The grant or temporary enjoyment of goods and rights without consideration or the rendering of services without payment The new reporting requirements include penalties for non-compliance. These penalties may apply to taxpayers and tax advisors. The penalties for not disclosing a reportable transaction or disclosing it incompletely or with errors could be as high as 50%-75% of the tax benefits that were obtained or expected to be obtained in all tax years plus the loss of the tax benefit itself, if the obligation remains on the taxpayer. On the other hand, the SAT also could impose penalties up to MXN20 million (approximately USD1 million) for advisors missing to report.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Exhibit 9 of the Multiple Informative Return (DIM) (transfer pricing informative return) for transactions carried out with related parties, foreign and local.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

▪ Additional details

In addition to the above, related-party disclosures of information include the following:

- Manufacturing, Maquiladoras and Export Services' Informative Return (Declaración Informativa de Empresas Manufactureras, Maquiladoras y de Servicios de Exportación – DIEMSE) for transactions carried out under the maquiladora regime
- Transfer pricing exhibits and questionnaires as part of the Tax Report or the ISSIF – as part of these exhibits, the tax ID of the individual (not the firm tax ID) that prepared the transfer pricing documentation or BEPS Local File to be disclosed
- Relevant Operations Disclosure Return (Formato 76)
- BEPS transfer pricing informative returns: CbCR, Master File and Local File informative returns

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Usually, information of type of intercompany transactions, amount and name of the related party is included in the audited financial statements. This information must be consistent with the information disclosed in the rest of the TP disclosures of information.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Yes, either in the tax situation informative return (ISSIF, due date 31 March of the following fiscal year) that must be filed along with the annual tax return or in the statutory tax audit report (Tax Report, due date 15 May), taxpayers must disclose whether the Mexican taxpayer has knowledge of the ultimate parent entity to which the taxpayer belongs is obligated to file, directly or through any surrogate entity, the Master File as well as the CbCR.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

As part of the ISSIF and the Tax Report, both of which are filed before tax authorities on an annual basis, the tax ID of the individual (not the firm tax ID) that prepared the transfer pricing documentation or BEPS Local File must be disclosed. Please also refer to Reportable Transactions section.

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

31 March

- Additional details

31 March of the following fiscal year

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

31 March

- Additional details

Transfer pricing exhibits and questionnaires as part of the ISSIF along with the corporate income tax return, i.e., 31 March of the following year. Exhibit 9 of the DIM by 15 May of the following year. Transfer pricing exhibits and questionnaires as part of the Tax Report by 15 May of the following year. Local File by 15 May of the following year. DIEMSE by 30 June of the following year. Master File by 31 December of the following year. Formato 76 within the following three months after the relevant transaction took place. For those companies that are required or chose to have a Tax Report (Dictamen Fiscal) based on their financial statements prepared by an external auditor, the taxpayer's external auditor is required to disclose the company's compliance with all tax obligations, including those related to transfer pricing. This disclosure is made through the Tax Report, which must be completed by 15 May every year. As of 2014, taxpayers are obligated to file the ISSIF or may choose to have a Tax Report conducted by an external auditor if they do not want to file the ISSIF themselves. According to the FFC, the Tax Report is due no later than 15 May of the following year of the fiscal year reported, while the ISSIF must be submitted together with the annual tax return by 31 March of the following year. These deadlines have a direct impact on the taxpayer's transfer pricing obligations because the contemporary transfer pricing documentation must be prepared by no later than the corresponding due date of the Tax Report or ISSIF as applicable.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

Master File must be filed by 31 December of the following year.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

The report has to be filed on 31 December of the following year, except for certain cases in which the MNE has a fiscal year closing date (up to May) different from 31 December (only applicable to the CbCR and Master File deadline).

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

No later than 31 December of the following fiscal year after the last day of the reporting fiscal year of the MNE group (for surrogate Mexican parent entities whose holding company's or reporting entity's fiscal year ends between June and November). Even though there is not a separate notification related to the CbCR, in the Tax Report (Dictamen Fiscal)/ISSIF must be disclosed whether the Ultimate Parent Entity is obliged to prepare and file a CbCR. Even though there are not changes of the information of the reporting entity (filer of CbCR), the CbCR must be filed on an annual basis. The CbCR is only filed by the filer entity.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

15 May

- Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation must be in place when the company files its annual income tax return (by the end of March of the following year) and must be kept, along with the company's accounting records, for at least five years after the filing of the last tax return for each year. If the taxpayer is obliged to file a Tax Report or opts to file it, transfer pricing documentation could be prepared by 15 May of the following year. If the taxpayer does not file a Tax Report and it is not obliged to file Local File, the obligation is to have prepared the transfer pricing documentation by 31 March of the following fiscal year.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

- Additional details

There is no formal statutory deadline for the submission of contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation, since it is not filed before the tax authorities; however, either in the ISSIF (31 March of the following fiscal year) or in the Tax Report (15 May of the following fiscal year), the taxpayer must disclose if transfer pricing contemporaneous documentation was prepared, as well as if transfer pricing adjustments were suggested in such documentation, among others. Moreover, in the Exhibit 9 (formal deadline 15 May of the following fiscal year), the information of the transfer pricing documentation must be included. In addition, taxpayers obligated to file a BEPS Local File usually file the corresponding fiscal year's transfer pricing documentation as part of the BEPS Local File informative return by 15 May of the following year (deadline to file Local File).

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Visita Domiciliaria: The time could vary from an immediate request (for documents that are part of the taxpayer's accounting records) to six working days (other information that is in possession of the taxpayer). Gabinete: The time is 15 working days, plus an extension of 10 working days if requested in writing by the taxpayer. In both cases (Visita Domiciliaria and Gabinete), if the company filed a Tax Report, the audit would initiate through a first request to the tax auditor. In this case, the auditor deadline goes from six working days (when it is related to the workpapers developed during the audit procedure) to 15 working days if it is other documentation or information related to the annual Tax Report, but it is in possession of the taxpayer.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

- Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing methods in Mexico, established in Article 180 of the ITL, are the CUP, resale price, cost-plus, profit-split, residual profit-split and TNMM. Effective since 2006, the ITL specifically requires a hierarchical consideration of transfer pricing methods, with a particular preference for the CUP method, and then the traditional transactional methods over the transactional profit methods.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

- Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

In principle, there is a preference for regional comparables. There is no legal requirement for local jurisdiction comparables. Regional comparable companies (i.e., Canadian, US and Latin-American companies) can be accepted in the benchmarking analysis as long as the circumstances of the comparable companies are similar to those of the tested party or specific comparability adjustments are applied.

- Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Although a common approach in Mexican practice was to estimate the arm's-length range based on the last three years of available financial information of comparable companies (i.e., multiyear analysis), based on audits performed by the SAT and a recent tax reform, further arguments are required in order to support the multiyear analysis. Hence, further support for the multiyear analysis is mandatory, and would only be applicable in cases when the business cycle of the Mexican taxpayer is of more than one year and this can be properly demonstrated.

- Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

Interquartile range is calculated according to Article 302 of the Regulations of the ITL. As of FY 2022 ITL states the use of the interquartile range as the only statistic method for the application of any transfer pricing methods.

- Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

In practice, the SAT preference is for fresh benchmarking searches to be conducted each year. This is also stated as a requirement in Article 179 of the ITL starting FY 2022.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is a preference for the weighted average for transfer pricing analysis. This only applies for those cases in which the multiyear analysis can be supported,

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

A penalty of MXN99,590 to MXN199,190 can be imposed if the transfer pricing informative return is not filed or is incomplete or incorrect. Also, failure to comply entirely with the CbCR, Master File and Local File informative returns triggers penalties ranging from MXN199,6300 to MXN284,220, disqualification from entering into contracts with the Mexican public sector, and cancellation on the importers' and exporters' registry. There are no penalties if the taxpayer self-corrects its tax results before an audit, and reduced penalties apply if self-correction is made during the audit but before the tax assessment. Waivers and abatements are possible under limited circumstances. Effective from FY 2017, specific definitions for transfer pricing adjustments and rules to follow as to the effects and deductibility of such adjustments when self-applied by taxpayers were incorporated in temporary Rules 3. 9. 1. 1, 3. 9. 1. 2, 3. 9. 1. 3, 3. 9. 1. 4 and 3. 9. 1. 5 of the MTR. In particular, in case of ex-ante and ex-post transfer pricing adjustments that lead to higher deductions for the taxpayer or lower accruable income, several requirements must be met for deductibility purposes. These requirements include several tax compliance items such as filing the regular or amended returns to reflect the adjustment in the corresponding fiscal year, securing an invoice to support the adjustment, and verifying consistency between accounting and tax records. Furthermore, detailed transfer pricing support documentation must be prepared to demonstrate the requirement to implement the transfer pricing adjustment to facilitate arm's-length compliance.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

▪ Are there any other penalties?

The same consequences stated above would be applicable.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

▪ Additional details

If the SAT decides that a transfer pricing adjustment is needed, and unpaid contributions are determined as a consequence, penalties could vary from 55% to 75% of the omitted taxes, plus surcharges and inflation adjustments. Also, if a transfer pricing adjustment reduces the NOL, the penalty ranges from 30% to 40% of the difference between the determined NOL and the NOL in the tax return, plus surcharges and inflation adjustments

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The deduction of the adjustment could be totally denied if supporting information is not contemporaneous or if it is incomplete, based on transfer pricing adjustments rules priorly mentioned.

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

▪ Additional details

Penalties usually include a portion of the omitted taxes, plus surcharges and inflation adjustments. Surcharge rates from 2004 to 2017 vary from 0.75% to 1.13%, while the surcharge rates for 2018 going forward vary from 0.98% to 1.47%.

▪ Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The statute of limitations for an assessment in Mexico is five years from the date of filing the tax return. The term is affected by amended returns with respect to items changed, and it is suspended by an audit. The SAT has two years to complete a transfer pricing audit.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

Considering a broader transfer pricing team within the SAT and the transfer pricing controversy trends derived from BEPS in Mexico. There is usually a preliminary analysis already conducted by the SAT before an audit is initiated.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

If the focus of such audit is on the stage of challenging the overall transfer pricing methodology, then the possibility of an adjustment tends to be high.

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

Not applicable

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

There is a high audit risk focusing on business restructuring (limited risk structures, migration of intangible property, and centralization of functions and risks in favorable tax jurisdictions), highly leveraged structures, client segregated accounts (CSAs) and pro rata-based charges in general, including management fees, as well as on foreign payments such as royalties and interest expenses. Further scrutiny is expected from the SAT in terms of transfer pricing derived from the anti-BEPS environment moving toward transparency, substance, and increased compliance disclosure. It is relevant to note that Mexico signed the Multilateral Convention to Implement Tax Treaty Related Measures to Prevent BEPS on 7 June 2017. Industries, such as hydrocarbons, life science and automotive, are currently under special attention of transfer pricing authorities.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Unilateral and bilateral APAs are available under Article 34-A of the FFC and Mexico's tax treaties, respectively. Unilateral APAs can cover the fiscal year of the application, the three subsequent fiscal years and a one-year roll-back. Recent changes to Articles 182 and 183 Bis of the ITL eliminate the option for maquiladoras to apply for an APA; as a result, taxpayers operating under maquiladora schemes will only be able to apply the Safe Harbor to comply with transfer pricing rules for its maquila operations. Temporary Rule 2. 9. 8 of the MTR allowed the SAT to perform a functional analysis as part of the study and evaluation processes of the information, data and documentation for purposes of identifying and specifying performed functions, assets used and risks borne in transactions under consultation. Specifically, in APA requests, there are measures aligned to the BEPS action plan that have been incorporated into domestic legislation. These include temporary Rule 2. 9. 8 of MTR, with a requirement of an extensive list of minimum information that shall be included in transfer pricing inquiries made by the taxpayers, including a description of the relevant factors that generate profits for the MNE; transfer pricing policies; the MNE's consolidated financial statements; global funding schemes; description, financial and accounting information of intangibles; organizational chart; financial information projected in the filing of the transfer pricing methodology subject to analysis; and support transfer pricing documentation for the fiscal year at issue and the previous three fiscal years.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Unilateral APAs can cover the fiscal year of the application, the three subsequent fiscal years and a one-year roll-back. A bilateral APA could include more than five years, depending on competent authorities' agreement.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Unilateral APAs can cover the fiscal year of the application, the three subsequent fiscal years and a one-year roll-back.

d. Is MAP available?

There is no specific guidance related to provision. However, MAPs could be requested based on the relevant double tax treaty.

Thin capitalization Interest on a taxpayer's debts that exceed the equivalent of three times its shareholders' equity and that comes from debts entered with foreign-resident related parties, pursuant to Article 179 of the Law, are considered as a nondeductible expense. Interest expense deduction limitation Tax Reform 2020 applies to taxpayers with interest expense over MXN 20 million to a net interest expense deduction up to 30% of "adjusted taxable income." Non-deductible interest expense for each year may be carried forward for 10 years. The exceptions to the limitation for financial institutions, as well as interest on debt used to finance, are (i) public infrastructure projects; (ii) construction in Mexican territory; and (iii) projects related to the exploration, extraction, transport, storage or distribution of hydrocarbons, electricity, or water.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Domestic transactions that fall under the transfer pricing documentation requirements are those transactions carried out between resident taxpayers in the Republic of Moldova, where one or both taxpayers are residents of free economic zones/IT parks or apply different tax rates and/or have a different taxable base for corporate income tax purpose. Domestic transactions undertaken between taxpayers applying the same corporate income tax regime are not subject to transfer pricing regulations.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Moldova is not a member of the OECD. However, the Moldovan Fiscal Code and the related norms provide that the tax authority should also consider the OECD TP Guidelines when analyzing the transfer prices applied in related-party transactions. No reference to the UN tax manual is made under the Moldovan transfer pricing legislation.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

No

▪ Coverage

Currently, the Moldovan tax legislation does not provide for CbC Reporting requirements as per BEPS Action 13.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

Not applicable

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

Not applicable

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

No

▪ Coverage

Not applicable

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

Not applicable

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

Not applicable

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes, although a three-tiered documentation format as per BEPS Action 13 (Master File, Local File and CbCR) has not been formally prescribed in the local legislation.

▪ Coverage

The transfer pricing regulations establish the transfer pricing documentation (i.e., Local File) requirements for Moldovan taxpayers based on specific transaction value thresholds. The value of the transactions during a fiscal period is calculated by summing up the value of the transactions undertaken with all affiliated parties, excluding VAT.

Taxpayers with an annual transaction value of at least MDL20 million (but less than MDL50 million) are required to prepare and present the Transfer Pricing Report upon request by the State Tax Service (SFS), within 60 days of the request.

Taxpayers with an annual transactions value of at least MDL50 million are required to annually prepare and submit to the tax authorities the Transfer Pricing File, within six months from the end of the tax period (mandatory annual preparation and presentation).

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The transfer pricing documentation should be prepared and submitted to the tax authorities for the periods starting with 1 January 2024.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format. Moldovan transfer pricing regulations do not prescribe the use of a specific format, whereas content-wise, the requirements are generally aligned in terms of Local File.

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

No practice/experience with penalties yet

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

No

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

▪ Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

Yes

▪ Additional details

Taxpayers with an annual transaction value of at least MDL20 million (but less than MDL50 million) are required to prepare and present the Transfer Pricing Report upon request by the State Tax Service (SFS), within 60 days of the request.

Taxpayers with an annual transactions value of at least MDL50 million are required to annually prepare and submit to the tax authorities the Transfer Pricing File, within six months from the end of the tax period (mandatory annual preparation and presentation).

Taxpayers that entered into APAs for related-party transactions are not required to prepare and submit a Transfer Pricing Report for the periods and transactions covered by the APA.

▪ Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes, for taxpayers with transactions above certain thresholds - see above point ii.

- Additional details

Not applicable

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

For establishing thresholds and documenting transactions to prepare and file the Transfer Pricing Information form and/or the Transfer Pricing Report, the total value of transactions refers to the revenues and/or expenses recognized in the statutory books that arise from in-scope transactions with all related parties. Domestic transactions between taxpayers applying the same corporate income tax regime are exempt from transfer pricing requirements.

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation should be presented to the tax authorities in Romanian language. If the copies of agreements/contracts related to controlled transactions and also copies of the information, legal documents, and documents that were the basis for carrying out controlled transactions are prepared in a foreign language, these must be presented in Romanian, translated by a certified translator, except for those drafted in English or Russian (Order of the Ministry of Finance no. 9 dated on 16 September 2024 regarding the approval of the rules for the implementation of transfer pricing).

- Is a safe harbor available?

Unspecified

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

- Additional details

This is not specified.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

Yes

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

Taxpayers with an annual transaction value of at least MDL20 million are required to annually prepare and submit the Transfer Pricing Information form - to be presented no later than the 25th of the third month following the end of the tax period.

- b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

For statutory accounting reporting purposes, Moldovan companies are required to disclose the transactions undertaken with related parties in financial statements.

- d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No

- e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

By 25th of the third month following the end of the tax period

- Additional details

By 25 March of the year following the end of the tax period (in the case of taxpayers with calendar tax year)

By 25th of the third month following the end of the tax period (in the case of taxpayers with a tax year different from calendar tax year)

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The taxpayers who do not exceed the mandatory thresholds for annual submission of the local Transfer Pricing File are required to submit the respective document within 60 days upon the tax authority request.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

- Additional details

Under the law, the following methods can be applied by the taxpayers: the comparable uncontrolled prices method; the resale price method; the cost-plus method; the transactional net margin method; the profit split method and any other method recognized under the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines.

When determining the most appropriate method, the following criteria are used:

- The method is established based on the content of the controlled transaction, as well as on the results of the functional analysis of the controlled transaction, including taking into account the functions performed, the assets used, and the risks borne.

- b. The method is established based on information from reliable sources, including information related to transactions between independent parties.
- c. The method is established taking into account the documents presented by the taxpayer.
- d. The method is established based on the degree of comparability between the controlled transactions and the transactions between independent parties.
- e. The method is established based on the individual circumstances of the case.

circumstances of the case.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

No preference is indicated based on the Moldovan transfer pricing regulations.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

The search strategy should incorporate the independence criteria as provided by the Moldovan legislation currently in force. The current definition as per the Moldovan Tax Code states that a person is considered a related party, including one that is in insolvency proceedings, if the relationship between them is defined by at least one of the following cases:

- a. An individual is related to another individual if they are spouses or relatives up to the second degree, inclusive.
- b. An individual is related to a legal entity if the individual holds, directly or indirectly, including holdings of related persons, at least 25% of the voting shares or if they effectively control the legal entity.
- c. A legal entity is related to another legal entity if it holds, directly or indirectly, including holdings of related persons, at least 25% of the voting shares or if it effectively controls that legal entity.
- d. A legal entity is related to another legal entity if a third party holds, directly or indirectly, including holdings of related persons, at least 25% of the voting shares in the first legal entity, as well as in the second if they effectively control them.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

According to the provisions of Ministry of Finance Order No. 9 of 26 January 2024, in the case of a benchmarking analysis performed to determine the arm's-length nature of the related-party transactions, the economic circumstances and the geographical criterion of the market where the related parties conduct their transactions/activities must be taken into account, and the geographical area where data related to comparable uncontrolled transactions are identified is prioritized.

In the case where a different geographical criterion of the market is selected where the related parties do not conduct their transactions/activities, the taxpayer must support this selection.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

No specific indication

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

The Moldovan transfer pricing documentation regulations prescribe the use of the interquartile range for transfer pricing analyses.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

No specific indication. However, considering specific reference in the local legislation to the OECD TP Guidelines, a roll-forward or update of financial results of a prior study might also be acceptable for a certain period, depending on the

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

- a. The late submission of the transfer pricing information report and of the transfer pricing file is penalized with a fine from MDL30,000 to MDL50,000.
- b. Failure to submit the transfer pricing information report is penalized with a fine from MDL100,000 to MDL150,000.
- c. Failure to submit the transfer pricing file is penalized with a fine from MDL300,000 to MDL500,000.
- d. Filing the transfer pricing Information report with untruthful information that resulted in the understatement or evasion of tax obligations is penalized with a fine from MDL60,000 to MDL90,000.

e. Filing the Transfer Pricing File with untruthful information that resulted in the understatement or evasion of tax obligations is penalized with fine from MDL150,000 to MDL200,000.

The fines for the infringements specified in points (d) and (e) above will be imposed during tax audits initiated by the State Tax Service for fiscal periods starting with 2028.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

▪ Are there any other penalties?

Not applicable

b. Penalties post-TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

▪ Additional details

In addition to the above, in the case of a transaction between related parties, the tax authority may adjust or estimate the amount of the respective income or expenses of either party as necessary to the level considered to reflect the central tendency of the market (i.e., median). This is done either in the case that the tax authority determines that the arm's-length principle is not observed for the respective transaction or that the taxpayer does not provide to the tax authority sufficient evidence to establish if the arm's-length principle was observed. The resulting adjustments or estimation would trigger a profits tax liability of 12% (the standard profits tax rate) and late-payment interest and penalties according to the provisions of the legislation. Currently, the annual late-payment interest rate is 9%. In addition, a fine from 20% to 30% of understated tax liability may be imposed by the tax authority. However, if the tax liabilities are the result of tax evasion, then a fine from 80% to 100% may be imposed instead by the tax authority.

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

▪ Additional details

For those taxpayers for which annual mandatory preparation and submission of the Transfer Pricing Report is required, the following sanctions apply for noncompliance:

- The late submission of the Transfer Pricing Report is penalized with a fine from MDL30,000 to MDL50,000.
- Failure to submit the Transfer Pricing Report is penalized with a fine from MDL300,000 to MDL500,000.

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

▪ No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

▪ Additional details

If the imposed fine is paid within three days, a 50% reduction will be applied.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

Under the current law, the tax authorities may normally review tax-related matters retroactively for four years. If the taxpayer does not file the required tax return or if it applied for a tax refund the reviewed period is extended to six years.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

No

▪ Additional details

Since the year 2024 is the first year when Moldova introduced transfer pricing documentation requirements, there is no tax audit practice in this respect yet.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Yes, based on the current legislation, if the transfer pricing methodology is challenged and it is proven that the method used by the taxpayer does not comply with the arm's-length principle, the tax authority has the right to apply other transfer pricing methods provided under the transfer pricing regulations and impose transfer pricing adjustments.

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

Yes, in the case of a transaction between related parties, the tax authority may adjust or estimate the amount of the respective income or expenses of either party as necessary to the level considered to reflect the central tendency of the market (i.e., median).

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

There are no such specific transactions and industries.

- It can be issued for ongoing or future controlled transactions and cannot exceed five fiscal periods, including the fiscal period in which the request is filed.
- It can also be issued for controlled transactions that have been completed in the last two fiscal periods, not covering the fiscal period in which the request is filed.
- The taxpayer concluding an APA will be required to prepare and file an annual report on the compliance and execution of the APA for each fiscal period covered by it, that must be filed by the deadline established for the corporate income tax return filing.
- The fee for issuing/amending the APA will be as follows:
 - In case of unilateral APA: MDL30,000 per transaction
 - In case of bilateral/multilateral APA: MDL50,000 per transaction

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

As a general rule, APAs are issued for a period of up to five years.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Yes

d. Is MAP available?

No specific Moldovan MAP application procedure has been released by the Moldovan tax authorities, although double tax treaties generally comprise relevant articles regarding MAP.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

The concept of Advance Pricing Agreement (APA) has been introduced in Moldova starting with 1 January 2025, which represents a decision issued by the State Tax Service that establishes and justifies the conditions and methods for determining transfer prices over a specified period for controlled transactions performed between related parties. The APA has inter alia the following main particularities:

- It can be concluded unilaterally (issued by the State Tax Service), as well as bilaterally/multilaterally (issued by the State Tax Service and the competent foreign authorities of the states in whose jurisdiction the related parties of the applicant are located).
- The bilateral/multilateral APA can only be issued if there is a double taxation treaty concluded between the state of the non-resident related person and the Republic of Moldova.

14. PCbCR thresholds and exemptions

a. What is the global consolidated income threshold?

Global consolidated income of MDL15,750,000,000, for the last two financial years

b. Are there any materiality exemptions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

PCbCR requirements are applicable to (i) stand-alone entities exceeding the global consolidated income threshold, (ii) large and medium subsidiaries in Moldova of MNE Groups exceeding the global consolidated income threshold and (iii) branches in Moldova of MNE Groups exceeding the global consolidated income threshold that do not have a large or medium subsidiary in Moldova, with sales revenues above MDL127,200,000 in the last two financial years.

Certain simplified PCbCR requirements were introduced for years starting on or after 1 January 2025, under which local entities (that meet certain conditions) are obliged to disclose some specific corporate income tax information in the management report, that will be prepared and submitted annually along with Financial Statements to the Moldovan statistical authorities. These authorities will publish the respective documents on their official website.

In addition, there may be circumstances for unrelated parties to be treated as related parties in case they have entered into an arrangement on which parties have agreed a common position or common interest with their decision for a particular transaction.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation is required for domestic transactions in the same manner as for a cross-border transaction.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Mongolia is not a member of the OECD. Under the transfer pricing regulations, taxpayers are required to maintain contemporaneous documentation to comply with the arm's-length standard. Part of that documentation must substantiate the most reliable measure of an arm's-length result, given the transfer pricing methods and data available. Consistent with the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines, Mongolia requires taxpayers with related-party transactions to adopt the internationally standardized Master File, Local File and CbCR three-tiered approach to transfer pricing documentation. The main objectives of the updated transfer pricing documentation requirements are to confirm that taxpayers give appropriate consideration to transfer pricing requirements in establishing prices between related parties, to provide tax administrations with the information necessary to conduct an informed transfer pricing risk assessment and to provide tax administrations with useful information to conduct an appropriately thorough audit of the transfer pricing practices of entities subject to tax in their jurisdiction. The GDNT further introduced detailed transfer pricing reporting forms on the above transfer pricing reports.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

The taxpayer is required to select the most appropriate method for determining that the transaction price is at arm's length. To determine the arm's-length price of a transaction, the regulations prescribe the following methods: CUP, resale minus, cost-plus, TNMM and profit-split. The taxpayer is also allowed to use any other unspecified method that is reasonable to apply in a given circumstance, assuming that the above-specified methods cannot be applied. Foreign comparables are accepted for the purpose of a benchmark analysis if no local comparables can be identified. There is no priority in the selection of methods.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Foreign comparables are accepted for the purpose of a benchmark analysis if no local comparables can be identified.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Use of a multiyear analysis is mandatory.

Use of the interquartile range is mandatory.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

This is not explicitly prescribed. In practice, some taxpayers prepare a roll-forward and some fresh benchmark analyses each year. There is no practice in disputing each approach by Tax Authorities yet. Furthermore, financials of a taxpayer should be updated every year in accordance with financial statements for that year.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Application of the weighted average for arm's-length analysis is mandatory.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

Independence of a company is evaluated by related-party rules stating that an entity shall be considered a related party if it has 25% of shares or votes of the taxpayer. Also, a related party is considered to be a person closely related to the taxpayer.

Portuguese
 - Is a safe harbor available?
 - Unspecified
 - Additional details
Not applicable
 - Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?
Individual testing
 - Additional details
Individual testing is preferred. Aggregation is allowed only if certain conditions are met.
 - Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?
No
-
- #### 4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures
-
- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?
Yes
 - Additional details
Taxpayers will have to include the following with the return on tax and accounting information (Privileged and Thin Capitalization Regime) – Form M/ 20 Appendix I, related to transactions with related parties:
 - Identification of the parties
 - Transaction value per product or service
 - Transfer pricing method selected per transaction
 - b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?
No
 - Additional details
Although the related-party disclosures are not required to be filed along with corporate income tax, if there are any TP adjustments, the same must be made in the corporate income tax return, which is due by the fifth month after the year-end.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

31 May or fifth month after year-end.

▪ Additional details

Tax return is due by the last day of the fifth month subsequent to the respective year-end.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

30 June or sixth month after year-end

▪ Additional details

Submission/filing date in the sixth month after year-end, along with the annual return on the tax and accounting information

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

30 June

▪ Additional details

Six months after year-end

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The Transfer Pricing Regime does not foresee any deadline for submission of the TP File. However, as a general rule, the tax authorities provide five to 15 days for submission upon request.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

The best method rule applies.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Not applicable

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

The tested party's single-year results are usually tested against multiple-year interquartile ranges.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

Yes

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no clear requirement in the law; therefore, a financial update may potentially fulfill the requirement.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Weighted

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

Not applicable

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

None has been specified.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

- Are there any other penalties?

No specific penalties are provided in the regulations – generally from MZN6,000 to MZN600,000 (nonexistence of documentation) or MZN13,000 to MZN700,000 (omissions or inaccuracies).

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

- Additional details

Penalties and interest

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

Nothing has been specified.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

Yes

- Additional details

It is charged on penalties and, in theory, payable on refund.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

With voluntary disclosure only

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

Five years

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

The TP methodology will be challenged if TP is reviewed as part of the audit and an adjustment may occur.

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

Not applicable

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Yes, mining and oil and gas sectors

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Not applicable

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Not applicable

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable

d. Is MAP available?

Only if available in the specific context of a convention to avoid double taxation

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

Thin capitalization rules are generally applicable to credits and loans granted by a related nonresident entity to a Mozambican taxpayer. Thin capitalization rules are established by Article 52 of the CIT code. Accordingly, thin capitalization occurs where there is a special relationship between a resident entity that is subject to CIT and a foreign entity to which it is excessively indebted, i.e., exceeds the debt-to-equity ratio of 2:1. In such a case, the interest charged on the excess portion is not allowed as a cost for tax purposes. Special relations between a resident entity and nonresident entity exist when:

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Namibia Revenue Agency (NamRA)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Section 95A of the Income Tax Act 24 of 1981 (Income Tax Act) authorizes NamRA to adjust the consideration for goods or services to an arm's-length price for the purpose of calculating the Namibian taxable income of a person.

c. Effective date of applicability

14 May 2005

d. Section reference from local regulation

With effect from years of assessment commencing on or after 1 January 2024, a definition of the term connected person was introduced. In the context of a company the term includes:

- I. Any other company that is part of the same group of companies as that company
- II. Any person, other than a company as defined in section 1 of the Companies Act 28 of 2004, that alone or together with any other connected person or persons, directly or indirectly controls at least 20% of the voting power or equity share capital in that other company or the beneficial interest in that other company
- III. Any other company if at least 20% of the equity shares or voting rights in the company are held by that other company, and no holder of shares holds the majority voting rights in such company
- IV. Any other company in which the person referred to in (ii), directly or indirectly, controls at least 20% of the equity share capital or voting rights in that other company or the beneficial interest in that other company, or
- V. Any other company that is managed or controlled by the same person, either alone or together with other connected persons

Importantly, the term also includes persons not generally regarded as being connected persons by virtue of ownership or common ownership but also persons who, based on the relevant facts and circumstances, may be regarded as having control over another person or where two persons are under the control of the same person. Examples include:

- A person who advanced a loan to another that constitutes at least 70% of the book value of the total assets of the other person
- A person who has ownership of, or exclusive rights over, the know-how, patent, copyright, trademark, license, franchise or any other business or commercial right of a similar nature, or any data, invention, model, design, secret formula or process on which another person is wholly dependent for the manufacturing or processing of goods or articles, or business carried on by such other person

- Any person, including a person designated by that person, who supplies at least 80% of the purchases of another person or purchases at least 80% of the sales of another person

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no documentation obligation for domestic transactions, which are not subject to transfer pricing legislation.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Namibia is not a member of the OECD; however, NamRA accepts the OECD Guidelines and has largely based its practices on them.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

- Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

No

- Additional details

Namibia joined the BEPS Inclusive Framework on 9 August 2019. BEPS Action 13 has, however, not been implemented in local regulations.

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

No

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

No

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

No

- Additional details

Namibia does not have guidelines or rules in terms of which TP documentation is required to be submitted. That said, Income Tax Practice Note 2/ 2006 states that it is in the taxpayer's interest to prepare TP documentation to demonstrate that it has developed sound transfer pricing policies. By such policies, the taxpayer should demonstrate that the transfer prices are determined in accordance with the arm's-length principle – and the policies and procedures for determining those prices must be documented. Refer to transfer pricing-specific questions included in the corporate income tax return section below.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

No

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

TP documentation must be in English.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Unspecified

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

- Additional details

No established practice exists in Namibia.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

Yes

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

The Integrated Tax Administration system (ITAS) launched the CIT return in the electronic filing system in 2019, for the first time, containing certain transfer pricing-specific disclosures, particularly:

- The identity of related parties with which the taxpayer transacts
- The nature of the transactions
- The amounts involved
- The TP method used to determine the arm's-length nature of the transactions

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

The taxpayer should make disclosure in accordance with IAS 24, Related Party Disclosures, of the IFRS to draw attention to the possibility that its financial position, and profit or loss, may have been affected by the existence of related parties and by transactions and outstanding balances, including commitments, with such parties.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

31 July (extensions available)

- Additional details

The CIT filing deadline is seven months from the year-end. The taxpayer may request an extension for an additional five months.

- Submission/filing date: There is no requirement to submit transfer pricing documentation. The transfer pricing disclosures in the tax return are due with the CIT return, within seven months from the year-end.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

31 July

- Additional details

The annual return that contains certain TP disclosures is due within seven months from the year-end.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not specified

- Additional details

There is no guidance available yet.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Taxpayers must generally deliver the TP documentation within 30 days if requested by NamRA under an enquiry or tax audit scenario.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

NamRA accepts the methods prescribed by the OECD (i.e., CUP, resale price, cost-plus, TNMM and profit-split). According to Practice Note 2/ 2006: "The suitability and reliability of a method will depend on the facts and circumstances of each case. The most reliable method will be the one that requires fewer and more reliable adjustments." Method selection should be based on the characteristics of the transaction under analysis. The selected method should be the one that best reflects the economic reality of the transaction, provides the best information and requires the fewest adjustments.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There is no legal requirement for local jurisdiction comparables, and global and regional comparables will be acceptable, subject to adjustments.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Generally, testing every three years is acceptable.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

Interquartile range calculation using spreadsheet quartile formulas is acceptable.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no need to conduct a fresh benchmarking search every year; financial updates should be acceptable.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Regionally, there is a preference for the weighted average for arm's-length analysis.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Not applicable

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

- Are there any other penalties?

Not applicable

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

There are no specific penalties imposed with respect to documentation.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Interest of 20% per year is charged on late payment of tax. No interest is paid on tax refunds.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

When a taxpayer has made conscientious efforts to establish transfer prices that comply with the arm's-length principle and has prepared documentation to provide evidence of such compliance, NamRA will likely take the view that the taxpayer's TP practices represent a lower tax risk. Such evidence may provide some mitigation against the 200% penalty. No relief is available for interest imposed on the late payment of tax. No formal dispute resolution mechanisms exist, but taxpayers that disagree with additional assessments may object to such assessments and, if unsuccessful, lodge an appeal in terms of the Income Tax Act.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

Namibia does not have a statute of limitations. NamRA may indefinitely conduct reviews and audits. However, in terms of the Income Tax Act, records must be maintained for five years. It is therefore unlikely that periods older than five years will be reviewed.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

NamRA was conducting transfer pricing reviews or audits at the time of this publication and has a dedicated transfer pricing team.

- If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

There are none.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

There is none specified.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Namibia did not have an APA program at the time of this publication.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Not applicable

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable

d. Is MAP available?

Not applicable

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

The tax law included measures that counter thin capitalization by adjusting the interest rate. The fixed 3:1 debt to equity ratio previously applied for thin capitalization purposes to cross-border debt has been deleted. It was replaced by provisions effectively limiting the connected person's tax-deductible net interest expense to 30% of its tax EBITDA. Tax EBITDA refers to taxable income before net interest expense, tax, tax depreciation and tax amortisation.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Dutch Tax and Customs Administration (Belastingdienst – DTCA)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

TP documentation requirements are codified in Article 8b (3) of the Corporate Income Tax Act 1969. Pursuant to the publication of the OECD Action 13 guidance, supplementary TP documentation requirements have been introduced in Articles 29b to 29h of the Corporate Income Tax Act 1969. The supplementary documentation requirements are applicable for Fiscal Years (FYs) starting on or after 1 January 2016. Further, the Dutch Secretary of Finance has published a TP decree outlining how the Dutch Tax and Customs Administration interprets the arm's-length principle in certain cases.

c. Effective date of applicability

1 January 2016

d. Section reference from local regulation

The definitions of related party or associated party are codified in Article 8b (1) and (2) of the Corporate Income Tax Act 1969. Parties can be considered related for the purposes of Dutch transfer pricing rules through common management, control and/or ownership of capital.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There is a documentation obligation for domestic transactions. Domestic transactions are covered by the TP documentation obligations that are codified in Article 8b (3) of the Corporate Income Tax Act 1969. The supplementary TP documentation obligations of Article 29g of the Corporate Income Tax Act 1969 only apply to cross-border transactions.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Netherlands is a member of the OECD. The DTCA generally follows the OECD TP Guidelines. The Dutch TP decree (as published by the Ministry of Finance on 1 July 2022, no. 2022- 16685) provides further guidance regarding how the arm's-length principle is interpreted and applied. According to this decree, the OECD Guidelines leave room for interpretation or require clarification on several issues. The goal of the decree is to provide insight into the position of the DTCA regarding these issues. The Dutch TP decree to a large extent reflects the updates made to the OECD TP Guidelines in 2022 – for example, Chapter X on financial transactions. Furthermore, the TP decree provides specific guidance on transactions involving intangible fixed assets, including hard-to-value intangibles; purchase of shares in a non-related party followed by a business restructuring; intragroup services and shareholder activities, including low-value-added services; contract research; cost contribution arrangements (CCAs); financial transactions; captive insurance companies; and centralized purchasing companies. With respect to business restructurings, no specific guidance has been issued to date except for the guidance referred to above. However, the DTCA generally follows the OECD guidance on business restructurings.

Effective 1 January 2022, new TP legislation has been introduced in the Netherlands that is intended to avoid double non-taxation resulting from the unilateral application of the arm's-length principle in the Netherlands. The Netherlands' transfer pricing rules require a unilateral upward or downward correction of the commercially applied transfer prices between related parties to ensure the recognition of an arm's-length profit for Dutch tax purposes. Under the new legislation, if a transaction between a Dutch corporate taxpayer and a foreign related party is not at arm's length, a downward adjustment of the taxable income of the Dutch taxpayer (either as a payer or payee) is denied to the extent a corresponding upward adjustment is not included in the taxable basis of a profit tax in the jurisdiction of the foreign counterparty. The burden of proof for such inclusion lies with the Dutch taxpayer.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The Netherlands has adopted and implemented BEPS Action 13 for TP documentation in Articles 29b to 29h of the Corporate Income Tax Act 1969.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

The requirement to prepare a CbCR is in line with BEPS Action 13. It is applicable to Dutch tax resident entities and PEs that are members of a multinational group with consolidated group turnover equal to or exceeding EUR 750 million in the FY preceding the FY to which the CbCR applies.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2016.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

The BEPS Action 13 TP documentation regulations that were implemented in the Netherlands cover Master File.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The law is applicable for FYs starting on or after 1 January 2016.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

The BEPS Action 13 TP documentation regulations that were implemented in the Netherlands cover Local File.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The law is applicable for FYs starting on or after 1 January 2016.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There is no specific penalty protection regime. However, a BEPS Action 13 format report with adequate content is sufficient to achieve penalty protection. No additional items are needed to achieve protection against penalties for having noncompliant TP documentation in place if the BEPS Action 13 or Article 8b (3) regulations are being complied with.

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

▪ Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

TP documentation requirements are codified in Article 8b (3) of the Corporate Income Tax Act 1969. Pursuant to the publication of the OECD Action 13 guidance, supplementary TP documentation requirements have been introduced in Articles 29b to 29h of the Corporate Income Tax Act 1969. TP documentation has to be contemporaneous. Master File and Local File submission is not required, unless requested by the DTCA. Submission of CbCR is required for taxpayers subject to the CbCR requirements.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

Taxpayers are obligated to prepare documentation that describes how the transfer prices have been established, and this must be included in the administration. Furthermore, the documentation needs to include sufficient information that would enable the DTCA to evaluate the arm's-length nature of the transfer prices applied between associated enterprises. The parliamentary explanations to Article 8b do not provide an exhaustive list of information that should be documented. TP documentation could include:

Information about the associated enterprises involved

Information about the intercompany transactions between these associated enterprises

A comparability analysis describing the five comparability factors as set forth in Chapter I of the OECD Guidelines

A substantiation of the choice of the TP method applied

A substantiation of the transfer price charged

Other documents, such as management accounts, budgets and minutes of shareholder and board meetings

In the event that the supplementary documentation requirements are applicable (i.e., the taxpayer is part of an MNE with a global consolidated turnover of EUR50 million or more), specific content and format requirements have to be met. These requirements are specified in the Ministerial Regulation dated 30 December 2015, No. DB 2015/ 462M, and are largely in line with the BEPS Action 13 requirements. With respect to benchmarks, common practice is to update the financials yearly, whereas a new benchmark is conducted every three years.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

No

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

No

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

No

- Additional details

The requirement to prepare a CbCR is in line with BEPS

Action 13. It is applicable to Dutch tax resident entities and PEs that are members of a multinational group with consolidated group revenue equal to or exceeding EUR750 million in the FY preceding the FY to which the CbCR applies.

- Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

EUR50 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Dutch tax resident entities of a multinational group having a consolidated group revenue equal to or exceeding EUR50 million in the FY preceding the year for which the tax return applies will have to prepare master and Local Files. If a taxpayer does not meet the consolidated group revenue threshold, then only the Dutch TP documentation requirements under Article 8b (3) of the Corporate Income Tax Act 1969 are applicable. Entities that comply with the documentation requirements set out in Article 29g of the Corporate Income Tax Act 1969 in terms of content also comply with the obligation set out in Article 8b (3) in so far as it concerns cross-border transactions.

- c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

The TP documentation does not need to be prepared in the local language. In practice, a common language such as English will be accepted. The Master File, Local File and CbCR can be submitted in Dutch or in English.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Unspecified

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

- Additional details

On the basis of the OECD Guidelines, the arm's-length remuneration should in principle be determined on transaction-by-transaction basis. If that is not possible, for example because there are a large number of similar transactions, the transactions can be assessed jointly for the purpose of determining the arm's-length nature. In that situation, the taxpayer is expected to be in a position to substantiate that the transfer price taken into account in respect of the aggregated transactions as a whole complies with the arm's-length principle.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

Dutch corporate income taxpayers are not required to file a specific TP return in addition to the regular corporate income tax return in which TP related information is asked (see below).

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

Dutch corporate income taxpayers are required to confirm in the CIT return (by checking a separate box) whether they have been involved in cross-border related-party transactions involving tangible and intangible fixed assets during the FY. Furthermore, Dutch corporate income taxpayers are required to confirm in a separate appendix whether they have conducted financial services on a group level without having any substance in the Netherlands or without assuming any risks during the FY. It also needs to be confirmed if any downward adjustments have been applied. In addition, entities need to file a report if one of the DAC 6 TP hallmarks are met. Lastly, Dutch constituent entities need to file an annual CbCR notification in a separate form via a dedicated website.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

31 May (extensions possible)

- Additional details

The return should be filed within five months after the end of the FY, but this can be extended. Taxpayers can request an extension either themselves (for an additional five months) or through their advisor (for an additional 11 months).

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

31 May

- Additional details

The Master File and Local File should be available in the records of the taxpayer by the end of the period within which the CIT return for the FY has to be submitted.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

The CbCR should be filed within 12 months after the end of the FY of the MNE group.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

Notification should be done by the last day of the FY of the MNE group annual submission is required. One entity can file on behalf of multiple entities in the Netherlands.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

Contemporaneously with transactions

- Additional details

TP documentation has to be contemporaneous. There is no specific penalty protection regime. However, a BEPS Action 13 format report with adequate content is sufficient to achieve penalty protection. Documentation is generally expected to be complete when the taxpayer enters into a transaction. Dutch tax resident entities of a multinational group that will have to prepare a Master File and a Local File should have included these files in their records within the term set for submitting their respective corporate income tax returns. Dutch tax resident entities of a multinational group that do not qualify for the documentation rules under Articles 29b to 29h of the Corporate Income Tax Act 1969 are granted four weeks to prepare the TP documentation if such documentation is not available upon the request of the tax authority. This period may be extended up to three months, depending on the complexity of the intercompany transactions.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Documentation is generally expected to be complete when the taxpayer enters into a transaction. Dutch tax resident entities of a multinational companies group that will have to prepare a Master File and a Local File should have included these files in their records within the term set for submitting their respective corporate income tax returns.

As such, documentation is expected to be available when an inquiry or audit is undertaken, and no grace period is available. Dutch tax resident entities of a multinational group that do not qualify for the documentation rules under Articles 29b to 29h of the Corporate Income Tax Act 1969 are granted four weeks to prepare the TP documentation if such documentation is not available upon the request of the tax authority. This period may be extended up to three months, depending on the complexity of the intercompany transactions.

6. Transfer Pricing methodsa. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

- Additional details

There is no best method rule. Taxpayers are, in principle, free to choose any OECD TP method, as long as the method chosen results in arm's-length pricing for the transaction. Since the 2010 revision of the OECD Guidelines, which establishes the "most-appropriate method" rule for selecting the TP method, there is no longer a hierarchy among the methods. Nevertheless, the OECD Guidelines do state that when the CUP method and another TP method can be applied in an equally reliable manner, the CUP method is preferred. Taxpayers are not obligated to test all of the methods, though they must substantiate the method chosen.

7. Benchmarking Requirementsa. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Pan-European benchmarks are accepted.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Multiple-year analysis is preferred, as per common practice.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

Interquartile range is preferred, as per common practice. Moreover, the Dutch TP decree describes full range can be applied if all the comparables are highly comparable.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

In line with the OECD TP Guidelines, a new benchmarking search is to be conducted every three years, with a financial update in the other two years. This is not specifically codified in Dutch regulations but, instead, follows from the general principle to substantiate the arm's-length nature of the intercompany transaction. Further, the benchmarking practice is prescribed in the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines, which are generally followed in practice by the Dutch Tax and Customs Administration as well as taxpayers.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

The weighted average is preferred, as per common practice.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

Independence* (not mandated but best practice) Industry classification Financial data:

- Turnover criterion
- Availability operating profit or loss
- Rejection of company if consolidated data is available
- Active or inactive

* Companies with at least one shareholder that owns 25% or more of the company's shares and companies owning subsidiaries with a share of 25% or more are excluded.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Noncompliance with the Master File/Local File requirements can be a criminal offense. In certain circumstances, requiring intention or gross negligence, fines can be imposed up to EUR10,300 or even detention for a maximum of six months. In addition, the lack of or incomplete TP documentation will shift the burden of proof regarding the arm's-length nature of the transfer price(s) used by the taxpayer in case of discussions with the Dutch tax authorities.

With respect to CbC reporting, the tax inspector, in case of intention or gross negligence, can impose an offense penalty for not, not timely, incorrectly or incompletely fulfilling the obligation to prepare and submit a CbC report in a timely manner. This penalty amounts to a maximum of currently EUR1,030,000. The amount of the penalty will be determined in consultation with the technical coordinator of formal law.

In case of deliberate noncompliance, criminal prosecution is also provided for. In that case more severe penalties can be either (1) imprisonment for a maximum of four years or (2) a fine of maximum EUR25,750. In case of a felony (e.g., making documentation available in a false or falsified form), the sanctions can be either (1) imprisonment for maximum six years or (2) a fine of EUR103,000.

What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Up to EUR1,030,000

What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Up to EUR10,300

Are there any other penalties?

No other compliance penalties

b. Penalties post TP audit

Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

Additional details

During Parliament's discussions regarding the introduction of the arm's-length principle and TP documentation requirements (i.e., Article 8b) into the Dutch Corporate Income Tax Act 1969, a question was raised regarding the Dutch policy in connection with the levy of administrative penalties in the case of a transfer price adjustment. The Dutch Ministry of Finance declared that penalties in such instances should be limited to cases in which it is plausible that the agreed-upon transfer price is not regarded as arm's length as a result of a purely intentional act. Therefore, an administrative penalty should not be imposed, even in the event of gross negligence or a conditional intentional act. In the case of a purely intentional act, as set forth above, the tax may be increased with a maximum penalty of 100% of the (additional) tax due, plus tax interest. In addition to the above-described penalties, so-called administrative fines might be imposed (e.g., for not filing within the deadline). The lack of TP documentation will shift the burden of proof regarding the arm's-length nature of the transfer price used by the taxpayer in case of discussions with the Dutch tax authorities. The same general penalty regime would be applicable on BEPS Action 13-based requirements (Master and Local Files and CbCR). Noncompliance with the CbCR requirements in principle will be regarded as a criminal offense for which a criminal penalty can be imposed. However, under certain circumstances, as an alternative, an administrative penalty can be imposed. During Parliament's discussion related to this proposal, it was mentioned that criminal charges will be reserved for the most severe cases.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

The same may apply as described above.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Collection interest may be due in case penalties are not paid in time. Tax interest is typically due on the extra tax due resulting from TP adjustments.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

The imposition of penalties related to TP corrections is unlikely provided that the taxpayer prepares proper TP documentation that adequately substantiates the arm's-length nature of the taxpayer's intercompany transactions. If an adjustment is proposed by the tax authority, the following dispute resolution options are available:

- Domestic litigation
- MAP, under applicable bilateral tax treaty
- MAP with binding arbitration, under EU Arbitration Convention and applicable bilateral tax treaties
- MAP with binding arbitration under the Tax Arbitration Act (wet op fiscale arbitrage, implementation in Dutch legislation of EU Directive on tax dispute resolution mechanisms in the EU (PbEU 2017, L 265))

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The statute of limitations on TP assessments is the same as the statute of limitations on tax assessments (as covered by the General Tax Act). The statute of limitations for imposing an assessment is three years from the end of the taxpayer's FY. If the tax inspector has granted an extension for filing the tax return, the assessment period is extended to the end of the extension period. Once a final assessment for a financial year is imposed, additional assessments relating to that financial year can still be issued for up to five years after the end of the financial year (12 years in the case of foreign-sourced income). Similarly, this period is extended with the extension of the filing period granted to file the Dutch corporate income tax return. However, an additional assessment can be imposed only if either:

- The Dutch tax authority discovers a new fact that it reasonably should not have known at the moment the final assessment was issued.
- The taxpayer acted in bad faith.

In addition, an additional assessment is possible only up to two years after the tax assessment has been issued in the case of a mistake, which is recognized if no tax assessment has been issued at all or the tax assessment is too low, while the taxpayer reasonably should have known that the final tax assessment was incorrect (if the difference amounts to at least 30% of the total taxes due, the taxpayer is deemed to have been aware of the mistake).

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

During an audit, the possibility of TP issues being scrutinized may be considered to be high; consequently, the controversy risk may be considered to be high, as well. Many companies are subject to separate TP audits. It is highly likely that the TP methodology will be assessed relative to the specific facts and circumstances. A functional analysis is incorporated into many of these audits and forms the basis of the TP risk analysis of taxpayers.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

In the event that the compensation falls outside the annual range, it is verified whether the average compensation would fall within a multiple-year range. In the event that the compensation would fall outside the annual range and the multiple-year range, an adjustment will be made.

The Dutch TP Decree provides guidance. If the external comparables are highly reliable, an adjustment to any point within the arm's-length range if it could be supported this point is the most appropriate point within the range. If the external comparables are not considered highly reliable, an adjustment to the median should be made.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

The DTCA, among others, has shown interest in performing head-office audits (which include intragroup services and other activities performed by the head office) and in analyzing the economic substance of transactions, in terms of alignment of functions and risks. Next to head-office activities, intangible transactions are often evaluated, as well as business reorganizations, centralized purchasing companies, captive insurance companies and financial services transactions (including loans and guarantees). During these TP audits, the tax administration appears to have a particular interest in the economic substance of a transaction. The tax administration has also focused, as a natural result of the risk analysis, on transactions with entities in countries with low effective tax rates and on taxpayers with a routine TP characterization reporting recurring losses.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Unilateral, bilateral and multilateral APAs are available. The APA process works very efficiently in the Netherlands. Specific features enable an efficient and transparent process, including the option to hold pre-filing meetings, the opportunity to develop a case management plan with the APA team to agree upon timing and key steps, and even specific support regarding Economic analysis that is available to small taxpayers. There are specific (unilateral) APA options for Dutch financial services entities. Financial services entities consist of both financing (mere receipt and payment of intercompany interest) and licensing (mere receipt and payment of intercompany royalties) companies. The Dutch competent authority has bi-and multilateral APA experience across all continents. On 19 June 2019, a decree was published regarding certainty in advance for activities with an international character. This decree describes the new policy applicable per 1 July 2019. Main changes relate to:

I. Transparency:

- A short anonymous summary of each tax ruling with an international character granted will be published.
- A short anonymous summary will be published for each case discussed that, in the end, did not lead to a tax ruling.

II. Process of granting tax rulings:

- The International Fiscal Security Board (College Internationale Fiscale Zekerheid) is introduced to verify operational consistency and quality. Every tax ruling with an international character will have to be approved by this body.

III. Content of the tax rulings:

- To obtain certainty in advance, the Dutch taxpayer must have sufficient relevant operational activities (economic nexus) taking place in the Netherlands (at group level), which are performed for its own risk and account. The activities must match the function of the Dutch taxpayer within the group.
- Taxpayers will not be able to obtain a tax ruling for activities with an international character in case:
 - The sole or decisive reason for the structure or transactions is to avoid Dutch or foreign taxes (tax savings).
 - The transaction involves a non-cooperative or low-tax jurisdiction. During 2022, it has been further clarified that one of the formal requirements in order to obtain a ruling with an international character, is that insight must be given into who the ultimate beneficial owner(s) (UBOs), of the applicant is(are), with an (in)direct interest of 5% or more.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

In general, the maximum term for an APA is five years. If facts and circumstances justify an exception (e.g., long-term contracts), the maximum term may be 10 years; in such a case, an evaluation will be made when 50% of the term has elapsed.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Roll-back features are available for unilateral, bilateral and multilateral APAs.

d. Is MAP available?

Specific guidance on the Dutch interpretation and approach to MAPs has been outlined in a MAP Decree (decree of 11 June 2020, nr. 2020- 0000101607). The Netherlands has concluded bilateral tax treaties with many countries to protect private individuals and enterprises from double taxation. Furthermore, the Netherlands has ratified the MLI, including the application of mandatory binding arbitration. If double taxation nonetheless occurs, countries can resolve the issue by means of an MAP. If mandatory binding arbitration applies any double taxation should be resolved. Mandatory binding arbitration applies if the MAP procedure is initiated under the EU Arbitration Convention, the Dutch implementation of the EU Directive on tax dispute resolution (wet fiscale arbitrage) or a tax treaty including a mandatory arbitration provision.

The Dutch TP decree (as published by the Ministry of Finance on 1 July 2022, no. 2022- 16685) provides further guidance regarding how the arm's-length principle is interpreted and applied. According to this decree, the OECD TP Guidelines leave room for interpretation or require clarification on several issues. The goal of the decree is to provide insight into the position of the DTCA regarding these issues. Section 9 of the Dutch TP decree focuses more specifically on financial transactions in light of the new Chapter X of the OECD Guidelines.

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

Yes

b. Name of authority

If a publication obligation in the Netherlands exists, the PCbCR must be lodged with the Dutch Chamber of Commerce.

c. Name of regulations

The Netherlands has implemented the EU Public Country-by-Country Reporting Directive (Directive) as part of the Dutch legal framework for financial and nonfinancial corporate reporting. Specifically, this implementation was accomplished through the implementing Law of 6 December 2023 (Implementatiewet Richtlijn openbaarmaking winstbelasting, Stb 2023, 517), published on 29 December 2023, and implementing Decree of 14 February 2024 (Implementatiebesluit Richtlijn openbaarmaking winstbelasting, Stb 2024, 43), published on 1 March 2024.

d. Effective date of applicability

PCbCR legislation is applicable for reporting periods starting on or after 22 June 2024. In line with the deadlines established in the Directive, the first year of reporting in the Netherlands will be the financial year starting on or after 22 June 2024, and publication must take place within 12 months from the end of the reporting financial year.

e. Section reference from local regulation

The Dutch implementing Law rearranges the delegation bases for regulations on the content of management reports and separate reports in Book 2 of the Dutch Civil Code. As a result, only a Decree (an "algemene maatregel van bestuur," in Dutch) is necessary to further implement the Directive as part of the Dutch corporate reporting rules, and to implement other directives such as these more quickly in the future.

The Dutch implementing Decree contains the details of the new PCbCR obligation in the Netherlands and closely follows the content of the Directive. The implementing Decree also includes an explanatory note with more background information, considerations and guidance, article-by-article commentary and a transposition table.

- The implementing Decree applies to PCbCRs prepared for fiscal years beginning on or after 22 June 2024 (article 15 par. 2).
- The PCbCR shall be made public within 12 months after the end of the financial year, by filing it with the company register ("Handelsregister" in Dutch) of the Dutch Chamber of Commerce (article 11, par. 1) and making it available on the website (article 11, par. 1-2).
- The PCbCR shall remain accessible on the website for at least five consecutive years (article 11, par. 3). Note, that the retention period for information filed with the Dutch Chamber of Commerce is seven years, which also applies for the PCbCR.

14. PCbCR thresholds and exemptions

a. What is the global consolidated income threshold?

Total consolidated (group) revenues exceeding EUR750 million in each of the last two consecutive financial years.

b. Are there any materiality exemptions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The implementing Law and Decree require that covered EU MNEs publish their PCbCR for book-years starting on or after 22 June 2024 at the Chamber of Commerce in the Netherlands, and make the PCbCR publicly available on their website, if the groups' ultimate parent entity (UPE) is located in the Netherlands.

The implementing Law and Decree also require that medium- and large-sized subsidiary undertakings and qualifying branches in the Netherlands of covered non-EU MNEs publish their PCbCR for book-years starting on or after 22 June 2024 in the Netherlands and make the PCbCR publicly available on their website. The size criteria to determine if a subsidiary is medium or large sized are provided in articles 2:396 and 2:397 of the Civil Code. The medium-size bottom threshold criteria (2025 amounts) are (a) balance sheet total of EUR7.5 million, (b) revenue of EUR15 million, and (c) 50 employees (having processed the 25% upward inflation adjustment on the size criteria in 2024). An exemption applies if the non-EU UPE voluntarily publishes its PCbCR on its website and appoints one of the covered EU subsidiary undertakings or qualifying branches to publish and make the PCbCR publicly available within the EU.

The Dutch PCbCR obligation applies for:

- A UPE in the Netherlands of an EU MNE that has consolidated (group) revenue on two consecutive balance sheet dates, without interruption subsequently on two consecutive balance sheet dates, according to its consolidated financial statements exceeding EUR750 million (article 2 par. 1a)
- A stand-alone enterprise with total revenue on two consecutive balance sheet dates exceeding EUR750 million (article 2 par. 1b)

- A Dutch medium-sized or large subsidiary undertaking, defined by the Dutch size criteria, controlled by a UPE that is not governed by the laws of an EU or EEA Member State, where the consolidated (group) revenue exceeds €750m on two consecutive balance sheet dates (article 3)
- A Dutch qualifying branch with net turnover on two consecutive balance sheet dates exceeding the Dutch size criterion, established by a UPE that is not governed by the laws of an EU or EEA Member State, where the consolidated (group) revenue exceeds EUR750 million on two consecutive balance sheet dates and there is no medium-sized or large subsidiary undertaking as defined above (article 4 par. 1)

The PCbCR requirements do not apply to a UPE and its group companies or to a stand-alone company if such companies, including their qualifying branches, are exclusively established or have only a permanent establishment or permanent business activity in the Netherlands (article 2 par. 2).

To prevent duplicative reporting, Dutch UPEs or stand-alone enterprises that are banks or investment firms and already report similar information are exempt from publishing a PCbCR under this implementing decree (article 2 par. 3).

15. Content

a. Does PCbCR align with OECD BEPS Action 13 CbCR requirements?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Based on the implementing Decree, the required content and data to be reflected in the PCbCR is consistent with the Directive requirements. The information to be disclosed in the PCbCR under the Directive is more limited than in the BEPS Action 13 CbCR and includes:

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Name of the UPE ▪ Covered financial year ▪ Currency used ▪ Subsidiaries located in the EU (and EEA) or the EU list of noncooperative jurisdictions for tax purposes and nature of the activities 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Number of employees ▪ Revenues ▪ Profit or loss before tax ▪ Income tax paid ▪ Income tax accrued ▪ Accumulated earnings
---	---

The implementing Decree provides some guidance (article 7 par. 3-7), for example on how taxes should be reflected, and it provides some detail on definitions (e.g., for the term “revenue”).

The Dutch reporting entity may opt for either reporting the PCbCR information in line with the definitions provided in the implementing Decree (and in the Directive) or applying the CbCR guidance already included in Annex A and the guidance on Table 1 included in the explanatory note to the Dutch Transfer Pricing documentation decree (article 7 par. 8). The PCbCR must indicate which approach has been followed (article 7 par. 9).

The information in the PCbCR must be reflected separately for each EU Member State, each EEA country (Liechtenstein, Norway and Iceland), and each jurisdiction listed in the EU list of noncooperative jurisdictions for tax purposes (EU blacklist and EU gray list). For all other jurisdictions, information is reflected as an aggregated total for Rest of World (article 8 par. 1 and 2).

If a non-EU UPE fails to provide all required information, the medium-sized or large subsidiary undertaking or qualifying branch in the Netherlands must compile and publicly disclose a PCbCR with all available information, including a statement indicating the failure of the UPE to provide the necessary data (article 6).

The implementing Decree adopts the so-called “safeguard clause” option from the Directive. Article 9 allows the omission of one or more items of information required to be disclosed in the PCbCR if disclosure harms the company's competitive position. These omissions must be clearly marked and justified in the PCbCR. Omitted details must still be disclosed in a PCbCR within five years from the initial omission. The safeguard clause cannot be applied to jurisdictions from the EU list of noncooperative jurisdictions for tax purposes.

The implementing Decree does not adopt the so-called “website publication exemption,” which would allow an exemption from publishing the PCbCR on the company's website if the PCbCR would be made available free of charge on the website of the Chamber of Commerce. The Dutch Chamber of Commerce charges administrative fees for access to commercial register information and the website publication exemption would hence not be consistent with this existing regime.

b. Is aggregation of transactions allowed?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The information in the PCbCR must be reflected separately for each EU Member State, each EEA country (Liechtenstein, Norway and Iceland), and each jurisdiction listed in the EU list of noncooperative jurisdictions for tax purposes (EU blacklist and EU gray list). For all other jurisdictions, information is reflected as an aggregated total for Rest of World (article 8 par. 1 and 2).

c. Can you provide data sources and guidance?

Not applicable.

16. Lodgment process and requirements

a. Is lodgment possible?

Yes

▪ Additional details

As mentioned above. The PCbCR shall be made public within 12 months after the end of the financial year, by filing it with the company register (“Handelsregister” in Dutch) of the Dutch Chamber of Commerce and making it available on the website. The PCbCR shall remain accessible on the website for at least five consecutive years. Note, that the retention period for information filed with the Dutch Chamber of Commerce is seven years, which also applies for the PCbCR.

The lodgment and publication process and requirements are in line with the format and template released by the European Commission in 2024. On 1 August 2024, the European Commission published a public consultation draft for the Implementing Regulation prescribing the common template and electronic format. The Regulation was adopted on 29 November 2024 and applies to reports corresponding to financial years starting on or after 1 January 2025. It provides a fixed reporting format and template, mandatory for UPEs in a Member State, and optional for other reporting entities. The format required by the Regulation is XHTML (Extensible Hypertext Markup Language) combined with iXBRL (inline Extensible Business Reporting Language). The Regulation sets out the common template in Annex I, prescribing the sections to be included and providing instructions on how information is to be reported. Visual presentation and content of the report on income tax information must comply with the specifications provided in Annex I of the Regulation. Description of the activities of an entity should follow either NACE or OECD’s BEPS Action 13 CbCR activity description, depending on which data mapping approach is applied (Directive aligned or BEPS Action 13 aligned). Some guidance is provided for the use of positives or negatives in reporting and for rounding of figures. Non-EU headquartered MNE’s UPEs and subsidiaries or branches are not obliged to follow the fixed reporting format and template requirements but are allowed to use the template and electronic formats specified by this Regulation. Dutch guidance on the timing and implementation of the PCbCR clarifies that the prescribed electronic format and template needs to be processed and set up in the digital system of the Dutch Chamber of Commerce. If such processing is not yet ready by the time PCbCRs need to be lodged, PCbCRs can be lodged in pdf format via email or in hard-copy via regular mail.

b. Is lodgment in another jurisdiction possible?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The Dutch PCbCR implementing Decree is aligned with methodology of the Directive and hence The Netherlands accepts a PCbCR published and made available in another Member State by the UPE of the MNE located in such other Member State, or in another Member State by the appointed covered EU subsidiary undertaking or branch of a non-EU UPE that voluntarily publishes its PCbCR on its website.

The implementing Law and Decree require that covered EU MNEs publish their PCbCR for book-years starting on or after 22 June 2024 at the Chamber of Commerce in the Netherlands, and make the PCbCR publicly available on their website, if the groups’ ultimate parent entity (UPE) is located in the Netherlands.

The implementing Law and Decree also require that medium- and large-sized subsidiary undertakings and qualifying branches in the Netherlands of covered non-EU MNEs publish their PCbCR for book-years starting on or after 22 June 2024 in the Netherlands and make the PCbCR publicly available on their website. An exemption applies if the non-EU UPE voluntarily publishes its PCbCR on its website and appoints one of the covered EU subsidiary undertakings or qualifying branches to publish and make the PCbCR publicly available within the EU.

c. Is lodgment required in a prescribed form and format?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the lodgment deadline?

Publication (through lodgment of the PCbCR in the required format and template with the Dutch Chamber of Commerce and making the PCbCR available on the website) must take place within 12 months from the end of the reporting financial year.

17. Penalties

a. What are the maximum administrative penalties?

EUR25,750

- Additional details

Rules for financial reporting apply and failure to comply with the PCbCR obligation is an economic offence for which a monetary penalty applies of EUR25,750 (or community service or detention). Applicable relevant penalties are further outlined in the Economic Offences Act or "Wet op de economische delicten."

Furthermore, article 11 par. 5 of the implementing Decree states that article 2:394 par.7 of the Dutch Civil Code applies; if a Dutch reporting entity fails to meet its publication requirements, this paragraph allows any stakeholder or interested parties to demand compliance with the publication obligation. Interested parties have access to the "jaarrekeningprocedure" (i.e., accounting procedure) via the Court, by requesting the Ondernemingskamer (Enterprise Chamber) of the Court of Appeal Amsterdam to instruct the entity to fulfil the obligations.

b. Is there any risk of criminal prosecution?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Inland Revenue (Te Tari Taake – IR)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Relevant guidance includes:

- Income Tax Act 2007 (ITA)
- The Tax Administration Act 1994 (TAA)
- New Zealand's double tax agreements

c. Effective date of applicability

No date specified

d. Section reference from local regulation

- Sections YD 5, GB 2 and GC 6 to GC 14 of the ITA
- Sections GC 15 to GC 19 (interest limitation rules) of the ITA
- Subpart YB of the ITA

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

No

▪ Additional details

The New Zealand transfer pricing documentation rules do not apply to domestic transactions.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

New Zealand is a member of the OECD. The OECD's Transfer Pricing Guidelines for multinational enterprises and tax administrations (2022) are legislated in New Zealand's transfer pricing rules. Additionally, the local transfer pricing legislation includes specific rules over and above general transfer pricing rules that could limit the deductibility of interest expense connected to inbound loans from associated parties, which can lead to outcomes that may differ from the OECD Guidelines. These specific rules are unique to New Zealand and are relevant for taxpayers that engage in cross-border associated party financing transactions. These additional rules are known as interest limitation or restricted transfer pricing rules.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

IR endorses OECD's recommendations and believes that the Master File and Local File approach provides a platform through which taxpayers, subject to the local transfer pricing regime, can meaningfully describe their compliance with the arm's-length standard. IR expects New Zealand taxpayers to maintain contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation in two forms:

A Master File providing an overview of the multinational's global business operations and transfer pricing policies

A Local File providing detailed information regarding the operations of the New Zealand taxpayer and main cross-border associated-party transactions, as well as transfer pricing analysis supporting the arm's-length nature of these transactions from a New Zealand perspective.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Only New Zealand-based groups with revenues higher than EUR750 million (approx. NZ$1.3 billion) are required to lodge CbCR in New Zealand.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2016.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

- Coverage

Master File is included.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

It is expected for income years commencing on or after January.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

- Coverage

Local File is included.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

It is expected for income years commencing on or after 1 January 2016.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

- Additional details

Explicit protection is not given simply because a Master File or Local File prepared meets the requirements of BEPS Action 13. However, a BEPS Action 13 Local File prepared with specific and appropriate application to the New Zealand business is more likely to afford penalty protection.

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

IR provides transfer pricing documentation guidelines. TP documentation is expected to be prepared annually to support the annual income tax position. While there is no statutory obligation to maintain documentation, New Zealand's tax system operates on a self-assessment basis, where the taxpayer is expected to keep sufficient contemporaneous records to support its tax position. Accurate and contemporaneous TP documentation supporting that the taxpayer's transfer prices are consistent with the arm's-length principle, in light of the relevant facts and circumstances, is a key element for addressing this requirement. While the New Zealand transfer pricing rules require the application of the OECD Guidelines, IR provides some additional New Zealand-specific guidelines detailing their expectations for producing local TP documentation.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

TP documentation should be prepared annually, as local taxpayers should be able to support their tax positions, which are lodged annually in their income tax returns.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

No

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

▪ TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

No

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no materiality limit for transfer pricing documentation. However, a cost-risk assessment when producing TP documentation is endorsed by IR. The level of documentation prepared should be commensurate with the nature, value and complexity of the covered transactions.

▪ CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

EUR750 million (NZ$1.3 billion)

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

Only New Zealand-based groups with revenues higher than EUR750 million (NZ$1.3 billion) are required to lodge CbCR in New Zealand.

▪ Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

Not specified

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no materiality limit; the Master File is expected to be made available to IR on request.

▪ Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

Not specified

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no materiality limit; the Local File is expected to be made available to IR on request.

▪ Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no materiality limit in connection to Economic analysis.

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

It is expected that local transfer pricing documentation is prepared in local language (English). IR could require that documents in other languages are translated.

- Is a safe harbor available?

No

- Additional details

Although there are no formal safe harbors available, New Zealand taxpayers can apply administrative practices in connection to: Low-value services - taxpayers may apply the OECD Guidelines mark-up of 5% on the cost of providing the services. Small-value loans (i.e., cross-border associated-party loans by groups of companies for up to NZ$10 million principal in total). Small wholesale distributors (for foreign-owned wholesale distributors with an annual turnover of under NZ$30 million, a weighted average earnings-before-interest-tax-and-exceptional-items ratio of 3% or greater is considered broadly indicative of an arm's-length outcome).

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

- Additional details

Each case should be considered on its own merits for aggregated vs. individual testing. IR will typically perform a corroborative whole-of-entity profitability test where transactions have been individually tested.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

Yes

Taxpayers are required to complete a BEPS disclosure form when filing the annual income tax return. Taxpayers must disclose any tax impact arising from any of three distinct parts:

- Hybrid and branch mismatches
- Thin capitalization
- Restricted transfer pricing rules

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

There is no separate TP return required to be filed in New Zealand (notwithstanding the disclosures outlined above). However, IR regularly require that multinational companies and branches complete detailed TP questionnaires as part of their routine transfer pricing risk assessment activities.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

A company's income tax return requires disclosure of:

- Whether the taxpayer made payments to non-residents (such as dividends, interest, management fees, "know-how" payments, royalties or contract payments)
- Whether the taxpayer holds an interest in a controlled foreign company (CFC), when relevant. More detailed disclosures of various financial information and other data are required for interests held in CFCs.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

It is in accordance with the financial reporting disclosure standards.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No CbCR notification is required in New Zealand.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

7 July (for October to March balance dates)/seventh day of fourth month following balance date (for April to September balance dates)

▪ Additional details

For balance dates ending between 1 October and 31 March, the filing deadline is 7 July. For balance dates ending between 1 April and 30 September, the deadline is the seventh day of the fourth month following the balance date. Where the company is on a tax agency list (most common scenario), an extension to the following 31 March is granted.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

There is no specific transfer pricing disclosure or return required to be filed in New Zealand. Inland Revenue may request certain taxpayers to lodge an international tax questionnaire. This is typically due to be filed in May of each year.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Master File should be maintained by the tax return lodgment date.

▪ Additional details

There is no requirement to file the Master File. However, it must be submitted upon request from IR.

- Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared). The Master File should be prepared by the date on which the relevant income tax return is filed.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

Within 12 months of year-end

▪ Additional details

A CbCR, if required, must be filed within 12 months after the relevant balance date. This applies to New Zealand-headquartered groups only.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By tax return lodgment date

▪ Additional details

Although there is no explicit legislative requirement for a taxpayer to document its transfer pricing policies and practices, TP documentation supporting the tax position should be prepared before the date the relevant income tax return is filed. Local taxpayers that prepare and maintain accurate and contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation are less likely to be exposed to penalties. IR will generally request a copy of the TP documentation as part of an income tax audit or transfer pricing risk assessment.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

▪ Additional details

The Local File is only submitted at the request of IR.

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

While each case is different, based on our experience, a taxpayer generally is given 20 working days to submit the documentation upon request.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

▪ Additional details

New Zealand legislation presents five available transfer pricing methods to determine an arm's-length consideration for those cross-border associated-party transactions undertaken by a New Zealand taxpayer. IR accepts the most reliable method (or combination of methods) chosen from among these methods: comparable uncontrolled price, resale price, cost-plus, profit-split and transactional net margin.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Local benchmarking is preferred (Australian comparables are generally the best option if New Zealand benchmarks are not available); however, reliable benchmarks based on other jurisdictions (the UK or North America) are also acceptable. Asia-Pacific (APAC) benchmarks are not accepted by IR based on the dissimilarity of the market compared to New Zealand.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Multiyear benchmarks are acceptable and generally preferred to single year benchmarks.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

IR will typically apply a standard interquartile range when testing a taxpayer's transfer pricing position.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no requirement to conduct a fresh search every year. Best practice in New Zealand is to conduct a fresh search every three years, with financial updates in the interim years.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Generally, weighted average results are used for constructing an arm's-length range. Pooled results are typically not accepted by IR.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

Benchmarks should be independent. That said, there is no guidance related to specific independence criteria when completing benchmarking analysis. Comparability is a key aspect when completing benchmarking analysis, and IR endorses OECD guidance related to this.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Incomplete or inadequate documentation could result in shortfall penalties being applied if an adjustment is sustained.

What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

Are there any other penalties?

Even though there are no specific submission requirements, any failure to provide information or documentation when requested can constitute an offense.

b. Penalties post TP audit

Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

Additional details

Under Sections 141A- 141K of the TAA, the following penalties could potentially be imposed depending on the culpability of the taxpayer:

- 20% penalty for not taking reasonable care
- 20% penalty for an unacceptable tax position
- 40% penalty for gross carelessness
- 100% penalty for an inappropriate tax position
- 150% penalty for evasion or a similar act

Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

Additional details

Penalties are more likely to be assessed if documentation has not been prepared for the tax year under assessment.

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Use of money interest would be applicable for both penalties and refunds based on IR's use-of-money interest rates for the applicable tax period.

▪ Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Tax disputes are usually initiated by IR following a lengthy period of review and audit activity. In some cases, a taxpayer can initiate a dispute. The local tax dispute process is formal and complex, involving seven distinct steps. If, during this process, IR and taxpayers cannot resolve the dispute, they can initiate litigation. Shortfall penalties may be reduced upon voluntary disclosure to the Commissioner of the details of the shortfall, as follows:

- If disclosure occurs before the notification of an investigation, the penalty may be reduced by 100% (only for lack of reasonable care or unacceptable tax position categories) or 75% for other shortfall penalties.
- If disclosure occurs after the notification of an investigation, but before the investigation commences, the penalty may be reduced by 40%. Shortfall penalties may be reduced by a further 50% if a taxpayer has good compliance records.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

IR generally has four years from the end of the tax year in which a taxpayer files an income tax return to investigate and amend the tax position taken by the taxpayer. However, the four-year time bar is extended to seven years for the purposes of transfer pricing tax positions. This extension applies only in cases where IR notifies the taxpayer that a tax audit or investigation has commenced within the standard four-year period.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The methodology being challenged depends on the complexity of the cross-border associated-party transaction. Transactions involving provision of intangibles, financing and intragroup services tend to receive higher scrutiny during a transfer pricing risk review. New Zealand subsidiaries that incur tax losses or have had business restructures can expect a more detailed transfer pricing review.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

If a methodology has been challenged, there is a high risk that an adjustment will be proposed and a dispute process will commence. Disputes have typically been resolved through settlement before litigation.

There are no specific regulations on TP adjustments. Generally, it should be to a point within the interquartile range.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

IR states that it will maintain a special focus on:

- Unexplained tax losses returned by foreign-owned groups
- Loans in excess of NZ$10 million principal and guarantee fees
- Payment of unsustainable levels of royalties and service charges

- Material associated-party transactions with no- or low-tax jurisdictions, including the use of offshore hubs for marketing, logistics and procurement services
- Appropriate booking of income arising from e-commerce transactions
- Supply chain restructures involving the shifting of any major functions, assets or risks away from New Zealand
- Any unusual arrangements or outcomes that may be identified in controlled foreign company disclosures.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Section 91E of the TAA allows a unilateral APA to be issued in the form of a binding ruling. Bilateral or multilateral APAs may be entered into, pursuant to New Zealand's double tax agreements under the MAP provisions. IR has not established any formal process for APAs, as each case is considered to be different, depending on a taxpayer's specific facts and circumstances. IR encourages pre-application conferences to make the APA application process less time-consuming. Unilateral APA's are more common in New Zealand and are actively encouraged by IR.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

APAs are typically agreed upon for five-year periods.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

There are no roll-back provisions in New Zealand for unilateral APAs, although it is possible for bilateral APAs. A unilateral APA can apply to a tax year in which a tax return has not yet been assessed.

d. Is MAP available?

Yes, the taxpayers in New Zealand are allowed to request MAP assistance and at the same time seek to resolve the same dispute via domestically available judicial and administrative remedies. This is applicable only when the dispute involves a treaty partner.

New Zealand's thin capitalization rules limit the amount of debt principle a company can have, rather than directly limiting the amount of interest deduction. The general thin capitalization rules provide that an entity subject to the thin capitalization regime allows for interest deductions equal to the extent to which its New Zealand debt to assets percentage does not exceed the greater of 60% and 110% of the multinationals group worldwide debt to assets percentage. New Zealand also has "restricted transfer pricing rules," which apply to intercompany financing transactions that meet certain conditions and acts to restrict interest deductions to taxpayers where the restricted transfer pricing rules apply. These rules do not align with the current OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines.

From Article 93 to Article 106 of Law No. 822, effective 30 June 2017

c. Effective date of applicability

30 June 17

d. Section reference from local regulation

Refer to section 1b.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There is no documentation obligation for domestic transactions under regular tax regimes. However, documentation obligation exists for related-party transactions between a tax resident under a regular tax regime and an entity operating under a free zone tax regime in Nicaragua.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

No

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Unreliant

▪ Additional details

As it is not a member of the OECD, Nicaragua neither refers to nor follows OECD Guidelines in practice.

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

No

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes. Transfer pricing documentation regulations are stated in Law No. 822, effective 30 June 2017.

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes. It needs to be prepared on an annual basis and submitted upon request of the tax authorities.

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

TP documentation needs to be prepared annually by updating all the information that allows a correct TP analysis, including the use of the most recently available financial information for the comparables and the tested party.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

To date, there are no related appendices or additional forms to disclose related-party transactions.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes. Usually, information of type of intercompany transactions, amount and name of the related party is included in the audited financial statements. This information must be consistent with the information disclosed in the TP documentation report.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

None

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

28 February

▪ Additional details

The tax return should be filed on or before 28 February for fiscal years that end in December; for special periods, two months after the fiscal year-ends.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By tax return lodgment date

▪ Additional details

The TP documentation report must be readily available by the time the tax return is filed.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

▪ Additional details

It should be submitted only upon request by the tax authorities.

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The documentation should be filed within 10 days.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

▪ Additional details

The provisions require the application of the most appropriate TP method. The specified methods are the CUP, resale price, cost-plus, profit-split and TNMM.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Considering the lack of financial information available on local comparables, international comparables are accepted by the tax authorities.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Multiple-year testing is applicable for the comparables only; in practice, the number of years is three.

There is no specific guidance on the use of interquartile range. However, the use of the spreadsheet interquartile range is common practice.

A fresh benchmarking search vs. a financial update needs to be conducted every year. The TP report must be prepared annually, updating all the information that enables a correct TP analysis. Additionally, in practice, local tax authorities expect to see the most recent comparable information and to use the most recent available financial information for the comparables and the tested party.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Weighted average is common practice.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

This is not specified.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

- Are there any other penalties?

Articles 124 and 127 of the Nicaraguan Tax Code (NTC) states that failure to comply with the obligations described in the NTC could result in penalties that range from 70 to 90 fine units, closure of business and loss of tax benefits, among others. Article 8 of the NTC defines each fine unit as the equivalent in national currency to US$1, according to the official exchange rate established by the Central Bank of Nicaragua, in effect on the date of the imposition of the penalty.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

- Additional details

Penalties include 25% of the omitted taxable income.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

This is not specified.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Interest charges are applied to omitted taxable income.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

There is currently no penalty relief regime in place. Administrative procedures are available if an adjustment is proposed by the tax authority.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The statute of limitations is currently four years. In the case of omitted information, the tax authority could extend it for two additional years.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

There is none specified.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

There is none specified.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

There is an APA program available in Nicaragua; however, the corresponding regulations have not yet been enacted.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The term of the program is four years.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

There is none specified.

d. Is MAP available?

Not applicable

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

There are no thin capitalization provisions in place in Nicaragua.

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

No

b. Name of authority

Not applicable

c. Name of regulations

Not applicable

d. Effective date of applicability

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Federal Inland Revenue Service (FIRS)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

The Income Tax (Transfer Pricing) Regulations, 2018 (new Regulations), are effective from 12 March 2018 and will apply to financial years beginning after that date. The new Regulations repealed the Income Tax (Transfer Pricing) Regulations, 2012, which took effect on 2 August 2012.

c. Effective date of applicability

12 March 2018

d. Section reference from local regulation

Regulation 12 of the Nigerian TP Regulations contains the definition of “connected persons,” which is used to determine whether a company can be within the scope of the TP Regulations.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Yes, there is a documentation obligation for domestic transactions.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

No

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Nigeria is not a member of the OECD; however, the Nigerian TP regulations are to be applied in a manner consistent with the OECD Guidelines and the arm’s-length principle in Article 9 of the UN and OECD model tax conventions. Although the OECD Guidelines do not have the force of law, they are persuasive. Based on the Nigerian TP Regulations, the provisions of the relevant domestic laws prevail if there are any inconsistencies with the OECD Guidelines or UN TP manual.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The new regulations incorporate the Master File and Local File as recommended under BEPS Action 13 on TP documentation. Also, there are CbCR Regulations enacted in 2018.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Pursuant to the Income Tax (Country-by-Country Reporting) Regulations 2018 (the CbC Regulations), members of Multinational Enterprises (MNEs) resident in Nigeria for tax purposes and MNE Groups headquartered in Nigeria are required to comply with the provisions of the CbC Regulations. As such, constituent entities of MNEs in Nigeria with consolidated group revenues of EUR750 million and above, as well as MNEs headquartered in Nigeria with consolidated Group revenues of NGN160 billion, have an obligation to notify the FIRS of the identity and tax jurisdiction of the reporting entity of the MNE group. The CbC notification is required to be filed no later than the last day of the MNE group’s accounting year. Furthermore, the CbC Regulations require the local submission of the CbC report in Nigeria when the reporting entity is resident in a jurisdiction that is not a signatory to the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) for automatic exchange of information, such as the US. The deadline for submission of the report is 12 months after the last day of the MNE group’s accounting year. In addition, a member of the group can file the CbC report on behalf of other entities within the group resident in Nigeria.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2018.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

- Coverage

The local TP regulations prescribe relevant information to be covered in the Master File.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The TP Regulations are effective as of 12 March 2018.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

None

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

- Coverage

The local TP regulations prescribe relevant information to be covered in the Local File.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The TP Regulations are effective as of 12 March 2018.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

The TP documentation requirements follow the OECD TP Guidelines. However, there are some notable deviations such as: 1. Royalties for use of intangibles: The tax deductibility of royalties/fees for rights to use intangibles is limited to 5% of the Nigerian company's EBITDA, as per the Nigerian TP Regulations, and not necessarily in line with the arm's-length principle as recommended by the OECD Guidelines. 2. Commodity transactions: For commodity transactions, the Nigerian TP Regulations do not solely rely on the quoted price as recommended by the OECD TP Guidelines. In the case of export, the TP Regulations provides that where commodities are exported from Nigeria to a related party for resale to a third party, the transfer price will be deemed to be the price agreed with the third party if the price is higher than the quoted price. 3. Application of UN Documents: The local TP Regulations reference the application of UN documents (in addition to OECD documents) in the interpretation of arm's-length principle. Accordingly, in certain circumstances where the UN approach preserves more profit for developing nations, the tax authorities show preference for the application of UN Model. As such, the approach in preparing the Local File should not only consider the recommendation of the OECD but also UN particularly where there are differences. 4. Local TP Practices: Based on TP audit experience in Nigeria, the Local file is tailored to manage the TP risks of transactions documented in the report rather than just reflecting information as recommended in the OECD Guidelines to avoid reduce additional assessments, if any as well as applicable penalty and interest.

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

- Additional details

A TP report that is compliant with the BEPS Action 13 format and includes the points reflected in the paragraph above should meet the requirement of the TP Regulations.

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

- a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

Nigeria has a TP documentation guideline specified in the appendices of the TP regulations. Taxpayers need to prepare the TP documentation contemporaneously and it is required to be put in place prior to the due date for filing the income tax return for the year in which the documented transactions occurred. Nonetheless, the TP documentation is only submitted upon request by the FIRS and this should be submitted within 21 days from the date of request. In addition, taxpayers with a total amount of transactions below NGN300 million are exempted from maintaining contemporaneous documentation, provided that, when demanded by the FIRS, the relevant documentation would have to be prepared and submitted to the FIRS not later than 90 days from the date of receipt of the notice.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

We do not have branch taxation in Nigeria. However, the TP Regulation covers Permanent Establishments (PE) of a foreign company. In this case, a TP documentation is also required to be prepared annually for the PE.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

No

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Connected persons with total intercompany transactions of less than NGN300 million may choose not to maintain the contemporaneous TP documentation. However, they must prepare and submit the TP documentation within 90 days from the date of receipt of a notice from the FIRS.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

NGN160 billion for Nigerian-headquartered groups and EUR750 million for MNEs with constituent entities in Nigeria.

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

Group consolidated turnover

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

The federal government of Nigeria released CbCR regulations with an effective date of 1 January 2018, which set out several key obligations for MNEs. MNEs headquartered in Nigeria with consolidated revenues of NGN160 billion or more in the previous reporting period have an obligation to:

- File a notification of their filing obligation with the FIRS no later than the last day of the MNE group's accounting year-end

Prepare and file the annual CbCR based on the prescribed template, within 12 months after the last date of the group's accounting year-end. Subsidiaries of an MNE group resident in Nigeria for tax purposes and permanent establishments with financial statements will be required to notify the FIRS of the identity and tax residence of the entity within the group that has the responsibility to file the CbCR on behalf of the group. Where there is more than one constituent entity (i.e., a subsidiary or permanent establishment) of the same MNE group that is resident for tax purposes in Nigeria, the MNE group may designate one of the constituent entities to file the CbCR and to notify the FIRS that the filing is intended to satisfy the filing requirement of all the constituent entities of such MNE group that are resident for tax purposes in Nigeria.

- Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

Not specified

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

A Master File is currently required. The TP Regulations introduced the obligation for connected persons to prepare a Master File as part of their annual TP documentation. The TP Regulations also include a detailed list of information and analyses to be included in TP documentation. This is mostly consistent with the guidance provided in the OECD's 2022 Transfer Pricing Guidelines.

- Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

Taxpayers with a total amount of transactions below NGN300 million are exempted from maintaining contemporaneous documentation, provided that, when demanded by the FIRS, the relevant documentation would have to be prepared and submitted to the FIRS not later than 90 days from the date of receipt of the notice.

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Total value of controlled transactions is the financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold.

A Local File is currently required. The TP Regulations introduced the obligation for connected persons to prepare a Local File as part of their annual TP documentation. The TP Regulations also include a detailed list of information and analyses to be included in TP documentation. This is mostly consistent with the guidance provided in the OECD's 2022 Transfer Pricing Guidelines.

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is no materiality threshold.

- Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

Regulation 24 provides that English is the official language for submission of the TP documentation.

- Is a safe harbor available?

No

- Additional details

A connected person may be exempted from the requirements of the TP Regulations (16) where the controlled transactions are priced in accordance with specific guidelines that may be published by the service for that purpose from time to time.

▪ Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

▪ Additional details

Individual testing is usually preferred. However, if the transactions are closely linked to one another or form a continuum such that they cannot reliably be analysed separately, then the aggregated approach can be considered.

▪ Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Taxpayers are required to complete the TP declaration and TP disclosure form, which are to be submitted as part of an annual TP return, due at the same time the income tax return is filed. The TP returns will be deemed incomplete without the income tax return. The TP specific returns should consist of the TP disclosure form and the TP declaration form (for the first annual filing only, unless there are material changes to the information disclosed on the first form submitted).

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Taxpayers are required to submit their related-party disclosures alongside their corporate income tax return prepared in a manner consistent with the audited financial statements for the related financial period.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Taxpayers are required to complete and submit their related-party disclosures using annual financial statements prepared in accordance with the IFRS - IAS 24, Related Party Disclosures, which requires the disclosure of all related-party transactions within the related financial period.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

Apart from the TP Disclosure form and TP Declaration form, the other document required is the corporate income tax return (which should consist of a copy of the audited financial statements, a copy of the income tax computation, a copy of the E-self-assessment form and evidence of payment of income tax liability (Companies Income Tax and Tertiary Education Tax liabilities) for the related financial period.

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

Varies depending on the company's year end or business commencement date.

▪ Additional details

The return should be filed no later than six months after the company's year-end (e.g., 30 June for companies with a year-end of 31 December) for an existing company while for a new company the return should be filed no later than six months after the company's year-end or 18 months after the date of incorporation, whichever is earlier.

- Submission/filing date: The submission is done via the FIRS Tax pro max portal. The filing date is six months after the company's year-end while for a new company the return should be filed no later than six months after the company's year-end or 18 months after the date of incorporation, whichever is earlier.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

Varies depending on the company's year-end or business commencement date

▪ Additional details

The filing due date is six months after the company's year-end while for a new company the TP return should be filed no later than six months after the company's year-end or 18 months after the date of incorporation, whichever is earlier.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

21 days upon request

▪ Additional details

All taxpayers with related-party transactions are now required to maintain a Master File and submit it within 21 days upon request. However, taxpayers with a total amount of transactions below NGN300 million are exempted from contemporaneous documentation requirements and are given 90 days to provide the Master File upon request.

- Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared): The file should be in place prior to the due date of filing the TP returns for the year in which the documented transactions occurred.
- Submission/filing date: It is not required to be submitted until requested by the FIRS. Upon request, the taxpayer is given 21 days to submit.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

The deadline depends on the MNE Group's accounting year end

▪ Additional details

The CbCR is required to be filed no later than 12 months after the last day of the MNE group's accounting year-end.

CbCR for locally headquartered companies

Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared): There is no specific provision for contemporaneous preparation date in the CbCR Regulations. However, the CbCR is required to be in place within 12 months after the last date of the group's accounting year-end.

Submission/filing date: For the CbC report, only one entity is required to make the submission of the report on behalf of the other entities. The CbCR is required to be filed no later than 12 months after the last day of the MNE group's accounting year-end.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

The deadline depends on the MNE Group's accounting year-end.

▪ Additional details

The notification should be made to the FIRS no later than the last day of the MNE's accounting year-end. The filing due date of the CbCR notification form is no later than the last day of the MNE's accounting year-end. The CbCR notification form is an annual requirement. The CbCR notification form should be prepared and filed separately by each entity in the jurisdiction.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

Contemporaneously with transactions

▪ Additional details

The TP documentation is required to be prepared contemporaneously. It is required to be in place prior to the due date of filing the TP returns.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

▪ Additional details

However, the TP documentation should be in place prior to the due date of filing the TP returns for the year in which the documented transactions occurred. A confirmation of this and the date of approval by the management are required in the TP disclosure form to be filed annually with the FIRS.

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The TP documentation is required to be submitted to the FIRS within 21 days upon request. Companies with total intercompany transactions of less than NGN300 million must prepare and submit the TP documentation within 90 days from the date of receipt of a notice of request from FIRS.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

- Additional details

The Nigerian TP Regulations do not give preference to a method above others. However, the traditional methods are preferred to the transactional profit methods, as recommended by the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines, if there is reliable information to apply the methods.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

The FIRS prefers comparables from comparable economies, market conditions and sovereign risks as Nigeria, i.e., developing countries of Africa, the Middle East, Asia (excluding Japan, Hong Kong, China Mainland, and Singapore) and Eastern Europe, as Nigeria is faced with a lack of data.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

There is no specific requirement in the law. However, single-year analysis for the tested party and multiple-year analysis for comparables are common in practice.

Interquartile range calculation using spreadsheet quartile formulas is acceptable. As provided in the TP Regulations, the interquartile range will be considered the arm's-length range.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

The common approach to benchmarking is to roll over the result of a study with financial updates for a period of two subsequent years, after which a fresh benchmarking analysis is required.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

The weighted average is acceptable.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

The comparables are required to be independent entities, with no shareholder owning more than 25% of the share capital of the comparable companies.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Failure to submit the documentation within 21 days of receiving a request from the Service attracts an administrative penalty of a sum equal to:

- NGN10 million or 1% of the value of all controlled transactions, whichever is higher
- NGN10 thousand for every day in which the failure continues

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Where a reporting entity fails to file the CbCR to the FIRS on or before the date specified in regulation 9 of the Income Tax (CbCR) Regulations 2018, the FIRS shall impose an administrative penalty of NGN10 million in the first instance and NGN1 million for every month in which the default continues.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Where a connected person fails to furnish the FIRS with the Master File as part of the comprehensive TP documentation, such connected person shall be liable to an administrative penalty of a sum equal to NGN10 million or 1% of the total value of all controlled transactions, whichever is higher and NGN10,000 for every day in which the failure continues.

▪ Are there any other penalties?

Failure to submit TP declaration or notification to the FIRS shall attract an administrative penalty of NGN10 million in addition to NGN10,000 for every day in which the failure continues, except where there is an extension date granted by the FIRS. Failure to make or submit an updated TP declaration form to the FIRS about a change in structure or appointment or retirement of directors shall attract an administrative penalty of NGN 25,000 for each day in which the failure continues, except where there is an extension date granted by the FIRS.

Failure to make a TP disclosure of transactions subject to the Income Tax (Transfer Pricing) Regulations 2018, later than six months after the end of each accounting year or 18 months after the date of incorporation, whichever is earlier, shall attract an administrative penalty of NGN10 million or 1% of the value of controlled transactions not disclosed, whichever is higher, and NGN10,000 for every day in which the failure continues, except where there is an extension date granted by the FIRS.

Filing of incorrect disclosure of transactions shall attract an administrative penalty of NGN10 million or 1% of the value of controlled transactions incorrectly disclosed, whichever is higher, except where there is an extension date granted by the FIRS. Failure to comply with a notice issued under the Income Tax (Transfer Pricing) Regulations 2018 shall attract an administrative penalty NGN10 million or to 1% of the total value of all controlled transaction, whichever is higher, and NGN10,000 for every day in which the failure continues, except where there is an extension date granted by the FIRS. Failure to furnish the FIRS with any information or document required within the time specified in a notice shall attract an administrative penalty of a sum equal to 1% of the value of each controlled transaction for which the information or document was required in addition to NGN10,000 for each day in which the failure continues, except where there is an extension date granted by the FIRS. The FIRS may accept an application for an extension to make a TP declaration, TP disclosures or TP documentation submission on reasonable grounds. However, failure to meet the extended submission date granted shall attract penalties for TP disclosures, declarations, and TP documentation, respectively.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

There are no penalties for incomplete documentation.

Penalties should arise where taxes charged under the assessments are not paid within the prescribed period. The prescribed period for the assessments should be two months (30 days) from the receipt of the assessment notices. The 30- day period applies to assessments that have not been a subject of objection. In practice, the FIRS imposes penalty from the year the tax is due.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

There is no specific penalty provision in this regard. However, where the documentation is requested by the FIRS, the company is required to submit same within 21 days from the date of request. Where this is not submitted, there are applicable penalties prescribed in the TP Regulations.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

The law imposes interest on unpaid taxes based on the Central Bank of Nigeria monetary policy rate plus spread as determined by the Minister of Finance.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

There is no specific penalty relief in the Nigerian TP Regulations. However, the FIRS Establishment Act empowers the FIRS Board to partly or completely waive penalties where a good cause is shown.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The statute of limitation is six years; thus, all supporting documentation for the taxpayer's returns must be retained for six years. In cases of criminal tendencies, such as fraud, negligence or willful default, there is no statute of limitations.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

The possibility may be considered high. This is more likely when the FIRS requests certain information or documents required to fully test the appropriateness of the methodology adopted by the company and the company is unable to provide this – either because the information is not locally available or because the head office or foreign custodian of such information believes that the requested information is not relevant for Nigerian purposes. The FIRS is now very active on audits, especially given the experience and the volume of information at its disposal, which enables the FIRS to perform risk assessments. The authority has also increased its team size recently, so we expect increased intensity on audit. This notwithstanding, the FIRS maximizes its resources on groups with more than one entity operating in Nigeria by extending its audit scope to cover all Nigerian entities within that group.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

In practice, the FIRS reviews the methodology to determine reasonableness and appropriateness. Where they are of the view that the methodology adopted by the Company is not appropriate, then an adjustment will be proposed based on a different TP methodology.

There are no specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments. However, based on experience under audit, the FIRS usually seek to apply an adjustment based on a range between the median and upper quartile unless there are strong arguments to present in support of a median point or a lower point within the interquartile range in rare instances.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

All cross-border receipts of services, payments for use of intangibles, purchases of goods, receipt of loan, etc., are highly scrutinized. Also, industries such as fast-moving consumer goods, shipping, manufacturing, oil and gas exploration, oil servicing and commercial trading are highly scrutinized. Key transactions of interest to the tax authority include:

- Procurement transactions
- Intercompany loans
- intangibles transactions
- Shared services and cost contribution arrangement
- Intragroup services

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

The TP regulations indicate that a connected taxable person may request that the FIRS enter an APA to establish an appropriate set of criteria for determining whether the taxpayer has complied with the arm's-length principle for certain future-controlled transactions over a fixed period. The taxpayer may request a unilateral, bilateral, or multilateral APA. The new TP Regulations incorporate a section to clarify that the provision on APA will be effective upon the publication of relevant notices and guidelines by the FIRS. On 27 November 2024, the FIRS issued the Guidelines on APA with an effective date of 1 January 2025.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The duration of an executed APA is three years, commencing from the start date indicated in the APA or any other period as may be stipulated in the relevant law or Regulations. It can be renewed for another three years.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

The terms agreed in an APA can be applied to prior years but should not extend back more than three years preceding the start date of the APA. Also, open historical years can only be covered if they meet specific conditions, such as: past years' treatment of the transactions in the APA must align; all tax returns must have been filed for the relevant rollback years; and a formal application must be made in the prescribed form.

d. Is MAP available?

The FIRS in a circular of 23 May 2023 issued an updated Mutual Agreement Procedure (MAP guidelines) to repeal the existing MAP guidelines published on 21 February 2019. The updated MAP guidelines introduce some key changes and provides guidance to relevant stakeholders on the procedure for accessing MAP as a dispute resolution mechanism in line with the provisions of the double tax agreement of which Nigeria is a contracting state. Accordingly, taxpayers and permanent establishments that fall within the scope of the treaties can apply for the MAP through the competent authority in Nigeria. However, due to the limited treaty network of Nigeria, its benefits are accessible to only a limited number of taxpayers.

The Finance Act 2019 restricts the deductibility of interest incurred by a Nigerian company or a fixed base of a foreign company in Nigeria, in respect of debt issued by a foreign connected person or of similar nature, to 30% of earnings before EBITDA (Earnings Before Interest, Taxes, Depreciation, and Amortization). Any excess interest shall be a disallowable deduction and can be carried forward for only five years immediately succeeding the assessment year.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Public Revenue Office

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

The amendments of the Corporate Income Tax (CIT) Law are effective from 25 September 2023 and are applicable as of FY 2023.

The CIT Law stipulates an obligation for mandatory transfer pricing reporting for legal entities whose total annual income exceeds MKD300 million (approximately EUR4.8 million). Local taxpayers shall provide the annual transfer pricing report only if previously requested from the tax authorities. The tax authorities may request the transfer pricing report earliest on 15 April the following year i.e., 30 days following the submission of the annual accounts and CIT return.

Following the receipt of the request issued by the tax authorities, the taxpayer would be obligated to provide the transfer pricing documentation within 15 days as of the receipt of the request. The taxpayer will also be obliged to submit a transfer pricing form containing relevant information concerning the related party transactions no later than 15 March the following year, as an appendix to the CIT return.

The transfer pricing report shall be provided in an official form prescribed by the Ministry of Finance with a transfer pricing rulebook.

For facilitating transfer pricing reporting obligations, it is envisaged that taxpayers whose volume transactions with non-resident related parties do not exceed the amount of MKD10 million per annum (approximately EUR162,000) should prepare a "short" transfer pricing report. Otherwise, taxpayers whose volume transactions with non-resident related parties exceeds the amount of MKD10 million per annum (approximately EUR162,000) should prepare a detailed transfer pricing report.

Taxpayers that have annual income below MKD300 million (approximately EUR4.8 million) or have transactions with related parties that are Macedonian companies do not fall under the criteria for mandatory transfer pricing reporting.

c. Effective date of applicability

1 January 2020

d. Section reference from local regulation

Related parties and associated enterprises are defined in Article 16 of the local CIT Law. The relevant law is publicly available only in the Macedonian language.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no obligation to document domestic transactions in the transfer pricing report, however, in practice the tax authorities may request further information on the arm's-length nature of such transactions.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Limited

▪ Additional details

Macedonia is not a member of the OECD.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

No

▪ Additional details

The BEPS standards are expecting to be implemented in the local regulation until the end of year 2019. However, to date, in this report, there are still no new developments with respect to the BEPS implementation.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

No

No material differences from OECD format
- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?
No
 - Additional details
There is none specified.
- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?
No

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?
Yes
 - If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?
Not applicable
 - Additional details
The general transfer pricing rules are embodied in the CIT Law. The transfer pricing rulebook prescribes the form and content of the transfer pricing report, the types of methods for determining the transaction price in accordance with the arm's-length principle, and the manner of their application.

Yes
- #### b. Materiality limit or thresholds
- TP documentation
 - Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?
Yes
 - If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Value of international transactions

Turnover

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

The materiality limit of an annual turnover of MKD300 million (approximately EUR4.8 million) for the entity obligates it to file a transfer pricing documentation. However, no materiality limits or thresholds per related-party transaction are provided.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

Not applicable

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

No CbCR legislation is in force; refer to the section above.

- Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

The materiality limit of an annual turnover of MKD300 million (approximately EUR4.8 million) for the entity obligates it to file a transfer pricing documentation. However, no materiality limits or thresholds per related-party transaction are provided.

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

The transfer pricing rulebook prescribes the content of the Master File for local purposes.

- Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

Please refer to our comment above in point b. Materiality limit or threshold.

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

As indicated above, the transfer pricing rulebook prescribes the content of the Local File for local purposes.

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

The materiality limit of an annual turnover of MKD300 million (approximately EUR4.8 million) for the entity obligates it to file a transfer pricing documentation. However, no materiality limits or thresholds per related-party transaction are provided.

- c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation needs to be prepared and retained in the local language – Macedonian.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Yes

- Additional details

There is a specific requirement for safe harbor availability. Safe harbor rules exist only in case of intercompany financing arrangements. An interest rate that is higher or lower than the Euribor rate with the same maturity as the related-party loan increased by one percentage point is deemed an arm's-length rate for the domestic loan provider or debtor. For loans denominated in MKD, the reference rate used for the safe harbor rule is the Macedonian interbank rate. However, the above is provided under the rulebook of the CIT Law and not the transfer pricing rulebook. Although it is not specifically mentioned, in our view, the transfer pricing provisions and the transfer pricing rulebook will prevail, further to which it is recommended that taxpayers perform a transfer pricing study on the intracompany financing arrangements, regardless of whether the same are compliant with the safe-harbor rule described above.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

Taxpayers that meet the thresholds for preparation of the transfer pricing documentation should submit a TP disclosure with the CIT return.

The local CIT disclosure for the related-party transactions should contain the following information:

Information for the taxpayer (Tax ID, Company name, Address, Contact details)

Information for the intercompany transactions divided in the following categories:

- Intangible assets
- Tangible assets
- Financial assets, except loans
- Loans
- Inventory of materials, goods and products
- Interest
- Services
- Royalty payments
- Total amount of other intercompany transactions
- Information relating to the preparer of the disclosure (Name, Tax ID/Personal ID, Capacity, Date, Signature)
- Information relating to the signatory of the disclosure (Name, Personal ID, Capacity, Date, Signature)

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes, separate note that includes related party transactions is disclosed in the financial statements and annual report.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

Not applicable

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

The documentation is submitted upon request.

- Additional details

Please refer to our comments in point 1, paragraph b).

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

The documentation is submitted upon request.

- Additional details

Please refer to our comments in point 1, paragraph b).

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

The documentation is submitted upon request.

- Additional details

Please refer to our comments in point 1, paragraph b).

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

The documentation is submitted upon request.

- Additional details

Please refer to our comments in point 1, paragraph b).

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

Please refer to our comments in point 1, paragraph b).

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Following the receipt of the request issued by the tax authorities, the taxpayer would be obligated to provide the transfer pricing documentation within 15 days as of the receipt of the request. The taxpayer will also be obliged to submit a transfer pricing form containing relevant information concerning the related party transactions no later than 15 of March the following year, as an appendix to the CIT return.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

The CIT Law specifies the methods that should be used while determining the price of transactions to be in accordance with the arm's-length principle. According to the law, the CUP method, the resale method, the cost-plus method, the TNMM and the profit-split method should be used. Additionally, any other method may be used if the previous methods are not appropriate.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

According to the transfer pricing rulebook, when selecting comparable companies/transactions, the analysis should initially start from North Macedonia. Then, if no local comparables can be identified, the geographic region may be expanded to include countries with similar market conditions as on the Macedonian market.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

No specific benchmarking requirement for single year vs. multiyear analysis; however, in case the latter approach is utilized, the taxpayer should disclose the reason for using multiyear data.

Acceptable interquartile range is the one between 25% and 75%.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There are no specific requirements in place; however, the approach in practice is aligned with the OECD guidelines.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There are no specific requirements in place.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There are no specific benchmarking criteria other than the ones prescribed within the CIT Law and transfer pricing rulebook.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Not applicable

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

▪ Are there any other penalties?

There are penalties for taxpayers that have i) not retained the transfer pricing documentation, ii) failed to provide the transfer pricing documentation to the tax authorities, and iii) failed to submit the transfer pricing form within the prescribed deadline.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Default daily interest of 0.03% applies on the amount of the additional tax liability for each day of delay in settling such liability.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

No penalty relief was available at the time of this publication. If it objects to the tax authorities' decision, the taxpayer is entitled to file a complaint with the tax authorities in the first instance. The decision reached by the tax authorities upon the complaint of the taxpayer is final. The taxpayer is entitled to initiate an administrative dispute with the Administrative Court against the tax authorities' final decision. Nevertheless, with the submission of the legal remedies, the enforcement of the decision is not postponed, and the taxpayer is obligated to pay the tax liability assessed by the tax authorities.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

There is a five-year statute of limitations beginning with the year following the year of expiration of the statutory term granted for filing the CIT returns, after which the tax authorities may not audit the taxpayer's reported position and reassess tax liabilities. Audited tax periods can be reaudited further based on the decision of the tax authority, as long as the five-year time period has not elapsed. For tax evasion, the statute of limitations is 10 years.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Yes. There is no mandatory frequency for performing tax audits. The tax authority has the discretion to initiate a tax audit in accordance with the audit plans. In general, the possibility of an annually recurring tax audit may be considered to be medium. The possibility that controlled financial transactions may be reviewed as part of that audit is characterized as high, and the possibility that the transfer pricing methodology may be challenged is characterized as medium. The chances for auditing the related-party transactions are high, as under the local CIT Law, transfer pricing adjustments represent permanent tax adjustments, included in the taxable income. As for the possibility for challenging the transfer pricing methodology, the same may be considered to be medium.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Yes. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, the possibility of an adjustment can be characterized as medium.

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

Even though it is not explicitly mentioned, the transfer pricing rulebook defines that in case the transfer price applied in the related party transactions does not fall within the interquartile range, the median value shall be considered as the market price.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

There is none specified.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

No binding ruling or APA opportunities were available at the time of this publication. Taxpayers may file a request for a written opinion with the Public Revenue Office or the Ministry of Finance for the interpretation and application of the tax law with regard to a specific tax issue. However, the value of the position of the tax authorities on a particular tax aspect is very limited because the tax authorities refuse to provide any opinion about transactions that have not yet been implemented.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Not applicable

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable

d. Is MAP available?

Yes

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

Interest expense incurred on loans granted by shareholders holding at least 20% of the capital of the company is nondeductible if the total amount of the loan exceeds three times the interest of the shareholder. The thin capitalization rules do not apply to financial institutions.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Norway is an OECD member. The NTA has a long history of following the OECD Guidelines. The Norwegian regulations follow OECD principles, and any documentation prepared in line with the OECD Guidelines will generally meet Norwegian requirements. Taxation Act (1999) Section 13-1 gives the OECD Guidelines a strong and formal status under Norwegian tax law. However, OECD Guidelines Chapter IV, Administrative approaches to avoiding and resolving transfer pricing disputes, and Chapter V, Documentation, are not included. The status of the OECD Guidelines is limited to that of guidance, and they do not constitute binding rules. The NTA seems to be applying the principles outlined in OECD Guidelines Chapter IX, Transfer pricing aspects of business restructurings. Recent tax audits and court cases have shown that the principles described in the chapter are applied in practice.

CbCR notification is part of the tax return and is to be submitted by 31 May. It should be submitted annually. All entities required to submit a tax return are required to fill in the CbCR notification (if is above the CbCR threshold).

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

Within 45 days upon request

- Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation must be submitted within 45 days of a request by the NTA. All documentation must be retained for 10 years. The NTA assumes that documentation is made contemporaneously and, accordingly, does not allow for extensions.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

There is no statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The deadline is 45 days from the date of request by the Norwegian tax authority.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

- Additional details

The NTA accepts the pricing methods contained in the OECD Guidelines. The traditional transactional methods (CUP, resale price and cost-plus) are generally preferred over the profit-based methods (TNMM and profit-split). However, support for applying the profit-based methods under certain circumstances is increasing. As a starting point, the NTA is reluctant to accept the use of pan-European searches, and Norwegian comparables are highly preferred. There is no specified priority of methods under Norwegian tax law. As stated by the Norwegian Supreme Court, General Tax Act (1999) Section 13-1 allows for the use of several transfer pricing methods, including methods not described in the OECD Guidelines, if those methods provide arm's-length results.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

The NTA tends to prefer local or Nordic comparables over foreign comparables. However, in the absence of local comparables, it is generally recommended to provide information on foreign comparables. Pan-European benchmarks are accepted; however, they are often challenged by the NTA. There have been incidents in which the NTA has made use of secret comparables, although this is not deemed a common practice.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Multiyear testing, as per common practice, is applicable.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

There is no specific requirement, but practice tends toward the acceptance of the interquartile range.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no need to conduct a fresh search every year, although it can be requested. The normal practice currently is three years with financial update for the two years between.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Weighted average, as per common practice, is applicable.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

A 20% surtax of the tax that would have applied on the adjusted amount can be applied in case of incomplete documentation. In cases of gross negligence, this can be increased with additional 20% or 40%.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Daily fines of maximum NOK65,700 may be imposed.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

▪ Are there any other penalties?

There are no specific transfer pricing penalties. A surtax may apply in cases of tax adjustments if the taxpayer is deemed to have provided incomplete or insufficient information. The surtax is 20% of the tax that would have applied on the adjusted amount. In cases of gross negligence, an additional surtax of 20% or 40% may be applied. Failure to comply with the filing requirement carries the same penalties as failure to complete the annual tax return. The same is applicable if the documentation is not submitted within the deadline. If the taxpayer is not able to submit a compliant transfer pricing documentation within the deadline, the Norwegian tax authorities can impose an enforcement fine. The enforcement fine can be imposed for not filing CbCR and CbCR notifications.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

▪ Additional details

A surtax may apply in cases of tax adjustments if the taxpayer is deemed to have provided incomplete or insufficient information. The surtax is 20% of the tax that would have applied on the adjusted amount. In cases of gross negligence, an additional surtax of 20% or 40% may be applied.

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

▪ Additional details

There are currently no penalties for non-contemporaneous documentation; as such, the penalty will only be assessed based on the adjustment itself.

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

▪ Additional details

Nondeductible interest is applied.

▪ Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

The risk of a penalty being imposed may be reduced if proper documentation is prepared. Disclosure in the tax return may, in principle, relieve penalties because the NTA technically will have been informed and may further investigate the transfer pricing case. The assessment of penalties is becoming increasingly common.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The general statute of limitations for tax assessments in Norway is five years. Transfer pricing documentation must be retained for at least 10 years.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

The NTA has increased its focus on substance and the reallocation of profits as it applies the BEPS concepts across a taxpayer's value chain.

There is no specific requirement, but practice tends toward the median to be the most acceptable.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Currently, any company with a low or negative margin transacting with a foreign related party has a high risk of a tax audit. The same goes for business restructurings or the transfer of intellectual property (IP) as well as management fees and financial transactions. The NTA has a strong focus on intercompany transactions and has established a national transfer pricing project involving all the major tax offices to further its focus on transfer pricing. This focus continues to increase, in line with the rising number of dedicated transfer pricing tax inspectors within the NTA. The NTA selects companies for audit based on the submitted information in the tax return as well as CbCR. Based on the initial review, the company is selected for audit if the documentation does not provide sufficient information and has answers about the internal transactions and the profitability of the company.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

APAs are available. There are no domestic APA regulations, but APAs are concluded with reference to the relevant tax treaty. Only bilateral APAs are available. The procedure for APA follows the procedures for MAP. Transactions involving the sale of gas may be covered by APAs in accordance with Petroleum Tax Act Section 6 (5) (1).

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Not specified

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

In certain cases, an APA can also cover previous income years (roll-back).

d. Is MAP available?

Yes, a Norwegian enterprise can submit a transfer pricing MAP application to Norway regardless of whether the enterprise:

- Requests an income adjustment in Norway to be waived or reduced
- Requests a corresponding income adjustment for the associated enterprise in the other state
- Requests an income adjustment in the other state to be waived or reduced
- Requests a corresponding income adjustment in the Norwegian enterprise

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

Norway does not have statutory thin capitalization rules, hence there is no fixed debt-to-equity ratio requirement. Based on the arm's-length principle, the tax authorities may deny an interest deduction on a case-by-case basis if they find that the equity of the company is not sufficient (for example, the Norwegian debtor company is not able to meet its debt obligations). In this regard, please also note there are interest limitation rules in Norway. According to Norwegian case law (Statoil Angola case – 2007 and Telecomputing case – 2010), a parent company may provide interest-free shareholder loans to subsidiaries when the subsidiary does not have further loan capacity to pay interest, if there are commercial sound reasons for establishing such a loan.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

In 2019, the Government issued a Royal Decree to establish the Oman Tax Authority (OTA). As a replacement to the Secretariat General for Taxation, the OTA has its own legal identity and operates with autonomy regarding its financial and administrative matters. The head of the OTA is of ministerial rank and has a designation of chairman.

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Income Tax Law (ITL) issued by Royal Decree 28/ 2009 as amended by Royal Decree 9/ 2017. Articles 126 to 128 of the ITL are the relevant TP provisions. On 27 September 2020, Oman's Tax Authority published Tax Authority Decision 79/ 2020, which introduces CbCR rules for MNE groups operating in Oman. Broadly, the rules are in line with the OECD model legislation as set out in BEPS Action 13. Under the new CbCR rules, an entity or branch located in Oman is required to file a CbCR notification and/or CbC report in Oman if it is a member of an MNE group that had at least OMR300 million consolidated group revenue in the preceding fiscal year. These reporting requirements apply to fiscal years beginning on or after 1 January 2020. On 7 July 2021, the OTA announced that qualifying MNE groups with an ultimate parent entity (UPE) that is resident outside Oman will not be required to submit the CbCR in Oman.

c. Effective date of applicability

27 September 2020 Section reference from local regulation

Income Tax Law (ITL) issued by Royal Decree 28/ 2009 as amended by Royal Decree 9/ 2017. Articles 126 to 128 of the ITL are the relevant transfer pricing provisions.

d. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no formal requirement to submit formal TP documentation with the Tax Authority.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Oman is not a member of the OECD. However, in the past, the Tax Authority has taken OECD Guidelines into account as a point of reference.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Oman has adopted BEPS Action 13 only to the extent of introducing CbCR compliance. However, Oman has not yet introduced other TP documentation requirements.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

At least OMR300 million of consolidated group revenue in the preceding year

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2020.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

Tax returns include some disclosures around related-party transactions.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

▪ Additional details

The formats of the tax returns have been modified to collect information from the taxpayer about related-party transactions.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Tax returns include certain schedules that include information around related-party transactions.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

The related-party transaction data to be provided in the tax return is largely sourced from the taxpayer's financial statements.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No, filed separately

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

Four months from end of the accounting period

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

They should be filed along with the corporate income tax return.

▪ Submission/filing date

There are no separate or additional transfer pricing disclosures besides the related-party transaction disclosures required in the tax return.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

▪ Additional details

No later than 12 months after the last day of the reporting fiscal year of the MNE group

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

31 December

▪ Additional details

Last day of the reporting period. Annual submission is required, and one entity can file on behalf of the others.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

There is no statutory deadline. However, the TP file should be prepared and maintained contemporaneously so it can be submitted if requested.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

It should be submitted within 30 days or as discussed and agreed with the Tax Authority.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

No pricing methods have been specifically prescribed in the law.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Even though they are not specifically mentioned in the regulations, local comparables are preferred over regional comparables.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

There is none specified.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

There is none specified.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no specific requirement to conduct a fresh benchmarking search every year. However, it is recommended that a fresh search be conducted every three years and that financial data be updated in the other years.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

This is not specified. However, the weighted average may be preferred over the simple average for an arm's-length analysis.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

No specific penalties have been prescribed in the CbCR issued by the OTA. General penalties for noncompliance as contained in the Oman tax law could be applicable for non-submission of CbCR, which carries a maximum penalty of OMR5,000 applicable as per the discretion of the OTA .

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

- Are there any other penalties?

Currently, there are no specific TP penalty provisions prescribed in the law.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

This is not specified.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

There is no separate statute of limitations for TP assessments so the general rules are expected to apply, which are; the OTA is required to conclude an assessment of the taxpayer within three years from the end of the financial year in which the tax return was filed. However, this duration may be increased to five years in cases of fraud or deception by the taxpayer.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

The Tax Authority has recently been quite aggressive in relation to related party transactions and methodologies used. We have seen many significant disallowances in this respect. Hence, it is advisable to maintain certain local TP documentation to submit to the OTA during the assessment proceedings, if requested by the OTA.

- b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

The OTA could include an adjustment if deemed not meeting the arm's-length concept.

- c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

Not applicable

- d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

There is none specified.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

- a. Are APAs available?

There is no APA program available in Oman.

- b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Not applicable

- c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable

- d. Is MAP available?

Limited at this stage

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

In accordance with the Executive Regulations of ITL, interest paid on loans from related parties by Omani companies other than banks and insurance companies may be deductible, provided loans on which such interest is paid do not exceed twice the value of shareholder's equity. Thus, interest paid to related parties could be subject to partial or complete disallowance if the debt-equity ratio in general exceeds 2:1.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Federal Board of Revenue (FBR)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Section 108 of the 2001 Income Tax Ordinance deals with transactions between associates and established the fundamental principle that all transactions between associates must be carried out at arm's length. Through the 2016 Finance Act (effective 1 July 2016), the Pakistani Government approved new legislation to effectively implement CbCR and introduce formal transfer pricing documentation requirements in Pakistan.

On 16 November 2017, the Federal Board of Revenue finalized the draft rules previously issued in June 2017 to provide details on the requirements for country-by-country reporting (CbCR) and transfer pricing documentation. On 9 February 2018, the FBR issued Notification S.R.O. 144(I)/ 2018, which amended Chapter VIA of the 2002 Income Tax Rules (Rules), prescribing Master File, Local File and CbCR requirements in Pakistan.

c. Effective date of applicability

16 November, 2016

d. Section reference from local regulation

Section 108 of the 2001 Income Tax Ordinance should be read in conjunction with Rule 27A through 27Q of the Rules, which were introduced as Chapter VIA in the Rules on 16 November 2017.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

Yes, the general transfer pricing regulations would apply.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Reliance on OECD TP Guidelines

Largely

▪ Additional details

Pakistan is not a member of the OECD. However, the legislation on transfer pricing documentation has implemented the OECD's model legislation into the Pakistan income tax law, including the three-tiered approach to transfer pricing documentation.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

MNE's group's turnover should be EUR750m or more, or an equivalent amount in Pakistan Rupees (PKR)

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 July 2016.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Every taxpayer, being a constituent entity of an MNE group and having a turnover of more than PKR100 million, shall keep and maintain a master file. The master file is required to be submitted to tax authorities upon request only.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

For every financial year ending on or after 1 July 2016

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Every taxpayer shall keep, maintain and make available, a local file for all transactions, exceeding PKR50 million, with the associates. The local file shall be made available, if required by the Commissioner.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

For every financial year ending on or after 1 July 2016

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

Yes

▪ Additional details

BEPS Action 13 format report would typically be sufficient to achieve penalty protection.

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

▪ Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

▪ If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

▪ Additional details

The Master File is required to be maintained, while the Local File is required to be prepared for each year contemporaneously. Submission is only required when requested by the tax authorities.

▪ Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

▪ Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The Local File is required to be prepared annually in respect of controlled transactions exceeding the prescribed threshold of PKR50 million.

▪ For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

▪ TP documentation

▪ Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

▪ If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Value of international transactions

- 4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures
-
- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?
No
- Additional details
Not applicable

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Pakistan follows IFRS, adjusted for local GAAP. Therefore, the FBR expects taxpayers to disclose related-party transactions in their financial statements in accordance with IFRS or local GAAP.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No. CbCR notification requirements do not apply for tax year 2017 if it began before 1 January 2016. Under Pakistan's tax rules, tax year 2017 would normally be the year beginning 1 July 2016 and ending 30 June 2017, but any year ending within that normal year is also considered tax year 2017. For all tax years subsequent to 2017, while CbCR notification has to be filed along with the Return of Income for the year, the notification is not included in the Return of Income itself.

e. Other information/documents to be filed

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation and disclosure forms

a. Corporate income tax filing deadline

31 December (for January to June FY-end)/30 September (for July to December FY-end)

- Additional details

31 December for companies with a financial year-end between 1 January and 30 June, and 30 September for companies with a financial year-end between 1 July and 31 December.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

One month after request

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation must be submitted to the tax authorities within one month after the receipt of the tax authority's written request.

- Submission/filing date: TP Documentation (Local/Master File) to be submitted within one month of request from the tax authority.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

One month upon request

- Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

Twelve months after the last day of the reporting fiscal year of the MNE group. There is none specified. The law only prescribes that the CbCR should be submitted on the Automatic Exchange of Information (AEOI) portal within 12 months from the last of the reporting fiscal year of the MNE group. All MNE groups with annual consolidated group revenue equal to or exceeding EUR750 million, or an equivalent amount in PKR, in the previous reporting fiscal year would be required to prepare and file a CbC report. It is generally the Ultimate Parent Entity (UPE) or the designate surrogate entity that files the CbC report in its jurisdiction, which is automatically shared with the Pakistan tax authorities. However, in any of the following three circumstances, the local constituent entity is required to file the CbC report: a. the ultimate parent entity of the MNE group is not obligated to file a CbC report in the jurisdiction or territory of which the ultimate parent entity is resident; b. the jurisdiction or territory in which the ultimate parent entity is resident has an international agreement to which Pakistan is a party but does not have a competent authority agreement to exchange CbC report; c. there has been a systemic failure of the jurisdiction or territory of which the ultimate parent entity is a resident and the said failure has been intimated by the Board to such constituent entity.

Submission/filing date: CbCR is to be submitted online on the AEOI portal within 12 months from the last of the reporting fiscal year of the MNE group.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

There are CbCR notification and report submission requirements in Pakistan. Every Pakistani constituent entity, ultimate parent entity or surrogate parent entity will need to submit a notification to the tax authority about the identity and jurisdiction of residence of the reporting entity on or before the tax return filing deadline. Submission should be made by the due date of filing on annual income tax return of the entity. There is a requirement for annual submission. Where there are more than one constituent entities of the same MNE group that are resident in Pakistan, the MNE group may designate one of such constituent entities to furnish the CbCR to the FRB with respect to any reporting fiscal year on or before the specified date. This designated entity is required to specify in writing to the FRB that the filing is intended to satisfy the filing requirement of all the constituent entities of such MNE group that are resident in Pakistan. If there are multiple constituent entities of the same MNE group in Pakistan, the CbCR notification is required to be filed separately by each local constituent entity.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

No specific deadline

- Additional details

Not applicable

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The Master File and Local File should be available to the tax authority within 30 days from the date of the request.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

- Additional details

The Rules state that the following methods may be applied by the Commissioner to determine the arm's-length result:

- Comparable Uncontrolled Price (CUP) method: The price quoted in a transaction between uncontrolled parties on similar terms and conditions would be considered.
- Resale price: The difference in the resale gross margin of the two transactions would be considered and compared for determining whether the transaction between controlled parties is on an arm's-length basis.
- Cost-plus: The cost-plus markup realized in an uncontrolled transaction would be considered as a basis to determine whether a similar transaction between controlled parties is on an arm's-length basis.
- Profit-split: Where a group of associates is formed and the transactions are so interrelated that a separate basis is not possible to identify the arm's-length results for a similar transaction between uncontrolled persons, the profit-sharing basis agreed to between independent persons forming an association would be considered.

Of the first three methods, the one that provides the most reliable measure of an arm's-length result with regard to all of the facts and circumstances, in the opinion of the Commissioner, will be applied. The fourth method will apply only if the other methods cannot be reliably applied.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Even though it is not specifically mentioned in the regulations, local comparables are preferred over regional comparables. A regional search covering countries in Asia-Pacific or the Middle East could be accepted.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

There is none specified.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

There is none specified.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no specific requirement to conduct a fresh benchmarking search every year. However, it is recommended that a fresh search be conducted once every three years and that the financial data be updated for the rest of the years.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is none specified.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Not applicable

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable

d. Is MAP available?

May be available depending on treaty provisions

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

Under the thin capitalization rules provided in the tax laws of Pakistan, if the foreign debt-to-equity ratio of a foreign-controlled company (other than a financial institution or a banking company) exceeds 3:1, interest paid on foreign debt in excess of the 3:1 ratio is not deductible. In this context, please note that the local tax laws define the terms, "foreign-controlled resident company," "foreign equity" and "foreign debt" as reproduced hereunder.

"Foreign-controlled resident company" means a resident company in which 50% or more of the underlying ownership of the company is held by a nonresident person (hereinafter referred to as the foreign controller) either alone or together with an associate or associates. "Foreign debt" in relation to a foreign-controlled resident company means the greatest amount, at any time in a tax year, of the sum of the following amounts, namely:

- The balance outstanding at that time on any debt obligation owed by the foreign-controlled resident company to a foreign controller or non-resident associate of the foreign controller on which profit on debt is payable and is deductible to the foreign-controlled resident company and is not taxed under this ordinance or is taxable at a rate lower than the corporate rate of tax applicable on assessment to the foreign controller or associate.
- The balance outstanding at that time on any debt obligation owed by the foreign-controlled resident company to a person other than the foreign controller or an associate of the foreign controller where that person has a balance outstanding of a similar amount on a debt obligation owed by the person to the foreign controller or a non-resident associate of the foreign controller.

"Foreign equity" in relation to a foreign-controlled resident company and for a tax year, means the sum of the following amounts, namely:

- The paid-up value of all shares in the company owned by the foreign controller or a non-resident associate of the foreign controller at the beginning of the tax year
- The amount standing to the credit of the share premium account of the company at the beginning of the tax year as the foreign controller or a non-resident associate would be entitled to if the company were wound up at that time
- The accumulated profits and asset revaluation reserves of the company at the beginning of the tax year as the foreign controller or a non-resident associate of the foreign controller would be entitled to if the company were wound up at that time; reduced by the sum of the following amounts, namely:
- The balance outstanding at the beginning of the tax year on any debt obligation owed to the foreign-controlled resident company by the foreign controller or a non-resident associate of the foreign controller

- Where the foreign-controlled resident company has accumulated losses at the beginning of the tax year, the amount by which the return of capital to the foreign controller or non-resident associate of the foreign controller would be reduced by virtue of the losses if the company were wound up at that time As per the amendments introduced via Finance Act of 2020, a new section, Section 106A of the 2001 Income Tax Ordinance, is inserted that restricts the deduction for foreign profit on debt in excess of 15% of taxable income. This restriction was introduced to curb international tax planning and limit tax base erosion achieved by claiming excessive interest deductions. As per the 2001 Income Tax Ordinance, the deduction for foreign profit on debt claimed by foreign controlled resident company shall be disallowed as per the following formula: $[B] - [(A+B) \times 0.15]$ Where A is the taxable income before depreciation and amortization and B is the foreign profit on debt claimed as deduction. The provisions of this section shall not apply if the total foreign profit on debt claimed as a deduction is less than PKR10 million for a tax year. Where the deduction on profit on debt is disallowed under both Section 106 and Section 106A, the disallowed amount shall be the higher of the two. Where the foreign profit on debt cannot be fully adjusted against the taxable income for a tax year, the excess amount shall be added to the amount of foreign profit on debt for the following tax year and shall be treated to be part of that deduction, or if there is no such deduction for that tax year, be treated as the deduction for that tax year and so on for three tax years following the year in which the foreign profit on debt was claimed as an expense. The ordinance defines "foreign-controlled resident company" as a resident company in which 50% or more of the underlying ownership of the company is held by a nonresident person either alone or together with an associate or association. Whereas "foreign profit on debt" means interest paid or payable to a nonresident person or an associate of a foreign-controlled resident company, and includes a wide variety of financial instruments, including instruments which in substance are in the nature of financial instruments, and also includes fees, expenses and exchange gains/losses related to such instruments.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Tax Administration of Panama (Dirección General de Ingresos – DGI)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

They are the Articles 762-A to 762-K of the Tax Fiscal Code, and Articles 1 to 14 of the Transfer Pricing Regulation (Executive Decree 390) in force in Panama. Law No. 33, enacted in 2010 and applicable as of fiscal year 2011, established the transfer pricing provisions in the Tax Code (Chapter IX of Title I of the Fourth Book) in Articles 762- A to 762-K. Law No. 52, which modified Law No. 33 and related sections of the Tax Code, was enacted in August 2012 and is applicable to fiscal years ending after August 2012. Executive Decree No. 390, enacted in October 2016, repealed Executive Decree No. 958, with its regulations on transfer pricing, and is in the related sections of the Tax Code (Chapter IX of Title I of the Fourth Book). Law No. 52 of 17 October 2018 establishes that taxpayers with a concession for call center activities are subject to transfer pricing regulations starting with fiscal year 2019. Law No. 57 of 24 October 2018 amends the multinational headquarters regime (MHQ regime) and contains provisions on applying transfer pricing regulations to transactions conducted by entities with an MHQ license starting from fiscal year 2019. Law No. 69 of 26 December 2018 includes provisions on applying transfer pricing regulations to entities under preferential tax regimes. This law adds Article 762-L to the Tax Code, which establishes that, starting with fiscal year 2019, the transfer pricing rules will apply to any transaction that an individual or entity conducts with related parties that are established in the Colón Free Zone, and operate: (1) in the Oil Free Zone (Zona Libre de Petróleo) under Cabinet Decree 36 of 2003; (2) in the Special Economic Area of Panama-Pacifico; (3) under the MHQ regime; (4) under the City of Knowledge regime; or (5) in any other current or future free zones or special economic areas. Even though individuals or entities that operate in one of the listed zones, special economic areas and preferential tax regimes are exempt from or have a reduced rate of income tax, the transfer pricing rules also will apply to transactions conducted by those entities with related parties that are: (1) established in Panama, (2) tax residents of other jurisdictions, (3) established in any other free zones or special economic areas, or (4) operate under a preferential tax regime.

2010

- Submission/filing date: To be submitted upon request. If requested, the tax authorities generally, do it together with the Local File and the taxpayer has 45 days to file them.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

The reporting entity must submit the CbCR annually within 12 months of the tax year-end.

▪ Additional details

The reporting entity must submit the CbCR annually within 12 months of the tax year-end. On 27 May 2019, Panama's Government published, in the Official Gazette, Executive Decree No. 46, which addresses the disclosure of information in the CbCR by tax resident companies in Panama for purposes of the automatic exchange of information. Panama's tax authorities signed the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement on the Exchange of jurisdiction- by-jurisdiction Reports, which covers the standards for the automatic exchange of information of related parties or CbCR, on 24 January 2019. Any ultimate parent entity of a multinational group is required to file the CbCR on an annual basis if it: (1) has consolidated revenues that are higher than EUR750 million or its equivalent in Balboas, at the exchange rate as of January 2015, during a tax year; and (2) is tax resident in Panama. An ultimate parent entity means an entity in a multinational group that meets the following criteria: (i) the entity owns directly or indirectly a sufficient interest in one or more group entities such that it is required to prepare consolidated financial statements under applicable local accounting standards, or would be required to do so if its share interest were listed on a stock exchange in its jurisdiction of tax residence; and (ii) there is no other entity of such multinational group that owns directly or indirectly an interest described in subsection (i) above in the first mentioned entity. A reporting entity is any entity of a group or multinational group that is required to file the CbCR in its tax jurisdiction on behalf of the multinational group. The reporting entity is the ultimate parent entity.

Notification: A constituent entity that is tax resident in Panama must notify the Panamanian Tax Administration of the identity and tax residence of the reporting entity, as well as the fiscal period used by the multinational group. The entity must submit the notification using the format and terms and conditions established by the Panamanian Tax Administration. The CbCR notification is a one-time notification; however, the Panamanian entities are obliged to update the information provided (annually) if there are any changes on the constituent entity or ultimate parent entity information notified on the first CbCR notification. Filing format and due date: The reporting entity must submit the CbCR annually in an "XML Schema" file within 12 months of the tax year-end. The CbCR must meet the guidelines and regulations defined by the Panamanian Tax Administration. Tax year 2018 is the first CbCR required to be filed. Sanctions for non-compliance in the supply of information Failure to comply with the notification of the CbCR will result in penalties in accordance with Article 756 of the Panamanian Tax Code. Penalties range from USD1,000 to USD5,000 and closure of the business for two days. However, failure to comply repeatedly could result in fines of USD5,000 to USD10,000 and closure of the business for 10 days. If failure to comply persists, a closure of business for 15 days will apply. On 11 November, 2021, Panama's Government published, in the Official Gazette, Law 254, which modifies Article 756 of the Panamanian Tax Code. In this regard, the Panamanian entity that is obliged to annually file the CbCR (ultimate parent entity that is a tax resident in Panama) and does not comply with this obligation will be penalized with a fine of USD100,000. It would be applied an additional progressive fine of USD5,000 daily until the noncompliance is remedied. Moreover, if the information provided by the entity obliged to submit the CbCR in Panama is inconsistent or wrong, it will be penalized with a fine of USD25,000. If the competent authority proves that the information provided on the CbCR was maliciously altered, the Panamanian entity will be penalized with a fine up to USD500,000.

Submission/filing date: The ultimate parent entity of the multinational group that is tax resident in Panama must file the CbCR within the following 12 months after the ultimate parent entity's fiscal year-end.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

The CbCR notification must be submitted within 12 months of the tax year-end of the multinational group.

- Additional details

A constituent entity that is tax resident in Panama must notify the Panamanian Tax Administration within 12 months of the tax year-end of the identity and tax residence of the reporting entity, as well as the fiscal period used by the multinational group.. The CbCR notification is a one-time notification; however, the Panamanian entities are obliged to update the information provided (annually) if there are any changes on the constituent entity or ultimate parent entity information notified on the first CbCR notification. Each constituent entity of the multinational group that is tax resident in Panama must file a separate/individual CbCR notification.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By transfer pricing informative return lodgment date

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation report must be available by the time the transfer pricing return is filed.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

Upon Tax Authority's request

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The taxpayer has 45 days to submit the transfer pricing documentation report once requested by the tax authorities.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

The transfer pricing methods in Panama are CUP, resale price, CPM, profit-split, residual profit-split and TNMM. The selection of the method should be on the basis of the characteristics of the transaction under analysis and the circumstances of the case and should aim to be the one that best respects the arm's-length principle.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Under current regulations, local comparables prevail over international comparables. However, because of a lack of information on local comparables, international comparables are well accepted by the tax authorities.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Multiple-year testing is accepted for the comparables only; in practice, the number of years is three.

Yes, the interquartile range calculation with spreadsheet quartile formulas is used.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is fresh benchmarking search every year. A transfer pricing report must be prepared annually, updating all the information that allows a correct analysis. Additionally, in practice, local tax authorities expect to see the most recent comparable information and to use the most recent available financial information for the comparables and the tested party.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Weighted average is common in practice.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

Penalties for incomplete or non-filing of the transfer pricing documentation report range from USD1,000 to USD5,000 and closure of the business for two days. However, failure to comply repeatedly could result in fines of USD5,000 to USD10,000 and closure of the business for 10 days. If failure to comply persists, a closure of business for 15 days will apply.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

USD100,000

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Penalties for incomplete or non-filing of the transfer pricing documentation report range from USD1,000 to USD5,000 and closure of the business for two days. However, failure to comply repeatedly could result in fines of USD5,000 to USD10,000 and closure of the business for 10 days. If failure to comply persists, a closure of business for 15 days will apply.

Failure to file the transfer pricing return results in a penalty of 1% of the total amount of intercompany transactions. However, the penalty will not exceed USD1 million. For the penalty calculation, the gross amount of the transactions will be considered regardless of their nature (i.e., regardless of whether they are items of income, expense or deduction).

With regard to the transfer pricing documentation report, no express monetary penalties are specified in the transfer pricing rules when taxpayers fail to maintain contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

▪ Additional details

Transfer pricing income adjustments imposed by the DGI can result in a penalty of 10% over the unpaid taxes, plus interest (currently, 0.8% monthly interest).

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

▪ Additional details

Transfer pricing income adjustments imposed by the DGI can result in a penalty of 10% over the unpaid taxes, plus interest (currently, 0.8% monthly interest).

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

▪ Additional details

A penalty of 10% over the unpaid taxes, plus interest (currently, 0.8% monthly interest)

▪ Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

▪ Additional details

There is currently no penalty relief regime in place. If an adjustment is proposed by the tax authority, dispute resolution options available are:

- Reconsideration request (first administrative instance)
- Administrative tax court (second administrative instance)
- Supreme Court (last instance)

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The statute of limitations on assessments is three years from the date of filing the income tax return. The term is extended with the filing of an amended return.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

When transfer pricing is scrutinized in practice the DGI has been questioning the use of the transfer pricing methods (i.e., the TNMM instead of resale price or cost-plus) and comparables with losses, mainly. The risk may be considered to be high, because in most audits, the DGI challenges either the methodology or the comparables. As part of a general tax audit, the tax authorities usually review compliance with transfer pricing regulations. The DGI requests transfer pricing documentation from most taxpayers annually, validating the compliance with the provisions of the local Tax Code and the Decree 930 about its content, and has been performing tax audits regarding transfer pricing issues. The DGI has a specialized transfer pricing unit within the Tax Administration and is active in tax audits regarding transfer pricing issues.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, the consequences of a successful challenge can include an adjustment.⁷⁸⁰

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

According to Article 762-F of the Panamanian Tax Code if the margin or price falls outside the interquartile range, the adjustment should be made to the median of such range.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

There is none specified.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Currently, no APA program has been established.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Not applicable

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Internal Revenue Commission (IRC)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

The following are three references:

- Division 15 of the Income Tax Act (ITA), "Transfer Pricing: Determination of the taxable income of certain persons from international transactions" and Papua New Guinea's double tax agreements (Division 15)
- IRC Taxation Circular No. 2011/ 2 – "Commissioner General's interpretation and application of the Taxation Laws on Division 15 of the ITA 1959" (the circular). The circular was authorized by the Commissioner General on 21 December 2012 and applies to years commencing both before and after its date of issue (paragraph 251).
- Division 16A of the Income Tax Act (ITA), Country By Country Reporting

c. Effective date of applicability

No date specified

d. Section reference from local regulation

Under Section 197D, Division 15 comes into effect when the Commissioner General determines—based on any connection between the parties—that the parties involved in an international agreement were not dealing with each other at arm's length, and that the consideration provided was below the arm's-length amount for the supply. Importantly, Division 15 can apply even in the absence of any formal control or defined relationship between the parties to the agreement.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Papua New Guinea (PNG) is not a member of the OECD. The circular states that the OECD Guidelines should be followed in the absence of guidance in terms of the circular, the provisions of Division 15 or the double tax agreements entered into by PNG.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

PNG has adopted BEPS Action 13 for TP documentation in terms of CbCR to the extent of Articles 3 and 4.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

There is a CbCR notification and CbCR submission requirement in PNG. The notification and reporting threshold is consolidated group revenue of PGK2.3 billion and above. Each constituent entity resident in PNG is required to notify the Commissioner General whether it is the ultimate parent entity (UPE) or surrogate parent entity (SPE) by the last day of the reporting fiscal year of the Multinational Enterprise (MNE). If it is not a UPE or SPE, the constituent entity is required to notify the Commissioner General of the identity and tax residence of the reporting entity by the last day of the reporting fiscal year of the MNE. The CbCR needs to be lodged no later than 12 months after the reporting fiscal year of the MNE group. The CbCR is required to be in a form identical to and apply the definitions and instructions contained in the standard template set out in Annex III of Chapter V of the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines. The Commissioner General has issued a notice advising that until further notice PNG companies that are not the UPE of an MNE and foreign companies with a permanent establishment in PNG do not need to submit CbCRs for the years commencing on or after 1 January 2017 as required in instances where local filing is triggered.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2017.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

No

▪ Coverage

Not applicable

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

Not applicable

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

▪ Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

No

▪ Additional details

The documentation does not need to be submitted, but disclosure of the extent of documentation to support transfer pricing transactions is required in the annual income tax return. The circular recommends that contemporaneous documentation be prepared.

▪ Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

▪ Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

No

▪ Additional details

The general requirements of the ITA require taxpayers to keep proper records related to their income and expenses to enable the assessable income and allowable deductions to be ascertained. However, there is no specific statutory requirement to prepare and maintain transfer pricing documentation. The circular notes that it is in the taxpayer's best interest to document how transfer prices have been determined, since adequate documentation is the best way to demonstrate that transfer prices are consistent with the arm's-length principle.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

No

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

▪ TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

No

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

There are no materiality limits specified in either Division 15 or the circular. The circular does note that preparation of transfer pricing documentation is time-consuming and expensive. It will, therefore, not be expected that taxpayers go to such lengths that the compliance costs are disproportionate to the nature, scope and complexity of the international agreements entered into.

▪ CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

PGK2.3 billion

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

Not specified

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no requirement for Master File.

▪ Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

Not specified

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no requirement for Local File.

▪ Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is no materiality limit.

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

The notifications and reports need to be filed in English.

- Is a safe harbor available?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

- Additional details

There is no guidance provided in the TP legislation or circular. The appropriate method would depend on the transaction being tested.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

There are no specific transfer pricing returns.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

The company income tax return requires completion of an International Dealings Schedule (IDS) to be included as part of the company return when the international related-party dealings exceed PGK100,000 in value (excluding the capital value of any related-party loans) or when loans with related parties have an aggregate capital value exceeding PGK2 million at any time during the year. The IDS requires disclosure of:

- International related-party transaction types and quantum
- Countries with which the taxpayer has international related-party transactions
- Percentage of transactions covered by contemporaneous documentation
- TP methodologies selected and applied for each international related-party type
- Details of branch operations

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Disclosure required in accordance with International Accounting Standard (IAS) 24.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

28 February (extensions available)

- Additional details

The statutory lodgement deadline is two months after the year-end (i.e., 28 February for 31 December balance dates). However, extensions are available if lodged under a tax agent's extension program. In this case, taxable company returns are required to be lodged by 31 July. All other returns are required to be lodged by 31 August. Further extensions may be granted on request.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

28 February

▪ Additional details

The IDS, if required, is required to be lodged as part of the company return. The statutory lodgement deadline is two months after the year-end (i.e., 28 February for 31 December balance dates). However, extensions are available if lodged under a tax agent's extension program. In this case, taxable company returns are required to be lodged by 30 June. All other returns are required to be lodged by 31 July. Further extensions may be granted on request.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

▪ Additional details

If the UPE is a PNG resident, the CbCR is required to be lodged within 12 months following the end of the reporting fiscal year of the MNE.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

31 December

▪ Additional details

The notification is required to be lodged each year and is due by the end of the reporting fiscal year of the MNE. All constituent entities can be included in the same notification. The CbCR notification is required to be lodged each year even if there are no changes. One entity can file the CbCR including details of all constituent entities in PNG.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By tax return lodgment date

▪ Additional details

The disclosure of the methodology used and percentages of the related-party dealings, supported by documentation, must be disclosed in the IDS. It is, therefore, recommended that if the documentation has not been prepared at or before the time of the actual transaction, it should be available by the due date for lodging the company tax return.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation is not required to be lodged unless a specific request is received from the Commissioner General. An exception applies for management fees in excess of the statutory limit of the greater of: a. 2% of total assessable income derived from PNG sources; or b. 2% of total allowable deductions, excluding management, in which case the documentation must be filed with the annual income tax return.

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The normal time limit for responding to a request for information is 14 days.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

▪ Additional details

Division 15 and the double tax agreements entered into by PNG do not prescribe any particular methodology for ascertaining an arm's-length consideration. Given that there is no prescribed legislative preference, the Commissioner General generally would seek to use the most appropriate method, per the OECD Guidelines.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Because limited local data is available, the use of regional data would be acceptable with appropriate adjustments for local conditions if relevant.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

As per the circular, multiple-year data analysis should be used.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

As per the circular, the interquartile range may be used to enhance reliability of the analysis.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no specific guidance provided. Per the OECD Guidelines, prior-year data may be used, provided it is reasonable to conclude that conditions have not changed.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is none specified; it depends on the reliability of data.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

If insufficient documentation is available to support transfer pricing amounts and the Commissioner General makes an adjustment there would be exposure to penalties. The availability of documentation may reduce the amount of penalties imposed.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

A fine not exceeding PGK 2 million was introduced in the 2025 Budget Act.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

▪ Are there any other penalties?

Failure to furnish any return or information by the required date renders the taxpayer liable to a fine of not less than PGK500 and not exceeding PGK5,000 plus PGK50 for each day during which the failure continues. The penalty, additional tax and offense provisions applicable in the event of default or omission in the completion of the tax return or evasion of taxation contained in the act stipulate a liability for additional tax or penalty of double the difference between the tax properly payable and the tax that would be payable based on the return as lodged. The Commissioner General has the discretion to remit the additional tax either in whole or in part. If an incorrect return is lodged, the taxpayer may be prosecuted and liable for a fine not less than PGK1,000 and not exceeding PGK50,000. In addition, the court may order the taxpayer to pay to the Commissioner General a sum not exceeding double the amount of income tax or dividend (withholding) tax that would have been avoided if the statement in the return had been accepted as correct. When additional tax is imposed under prosecution, the amount of that additional tax will reduce the amount of additional tax imposed by the Commissioner General.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

▪ Additional details

The ITA does not impose specific penalties in respect to non-arm's-length pricing practices, and the general additional tax and penalty provisions will apply to default, evasion or omission related to transfer pricing

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

The Commissioner General has the discretion to remit the penalty amount for any reasons considered sufficient. Taxpayers dissatisfied with an assessment may lodge an objection within 60 days of being served notice of the assessment. A taxpayer dissatisfied with a decision on the objection may, within 60 days after service of the notice, apply for a review of the decision by the Review Tribunal or file an appeal with the National Court.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

There generally is no statute of limitations with respect to TP adjustments.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

No. But, if an audit is initiated, the possibility of transfer pricing being reviewed as part of an audit is characterized as high. If the IRC considers that a different methodology should be used and there is insufficient documentation to support the methodology adopted, there would be a high risk that the methodology would be challenged.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes. If the IRC applies a different methodology that results in increased tax liability and there is insufficient documentation to dispute that methodology, the risk of an adjustment may be considered to be high.

c. Specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range

There are no specific regulations.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

The Commissioner General may pay closer attention to a transaction involving an associated entity resident in a jurisdiction with lower tax rates than PNG. In the circular, the Commissioner General notes that the perception exists that transactions involving low-tax jurisdictions are often motivated by tax reasons, rather than strictly commercial reasons. The Commissioner General adds that this will be the case, particularly, when the PNG entity has ongoing tax losses as a result of its dealings with a related party in a lower-tax jurisdiction.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

The Commissioner General supports having an APA program operating in PNG, but no current APA program exists.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Not applicable

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable

d. Is MAP available?

MAP opportunities are available under the relevant double tax agreements.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

Where total debt exceeds twice the amount of equity, the interest on the excess debt to the extent it is paid to overseas lenders is non-deductible. The allowable debt-to-equity ratio is 3:1 for resource companies that have fiscal stability agreements.

1 January 2021

d. Section reference from local regulation

Paraguayan Tax Law No. 6380/ 19, articles 35 to 39, and their regulations

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Domestic transactions are subject to transfer pricing rules when they are not levied/exempted from CIT for one of the parties.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Local law doesn't refer to the OECD Guidelines/UN tax manual/EU Joint Transfer Pricing Forum; nevertheless, it follows some OECD general principles. Since Paraguay became an associate member of the OECD in February 2017, it is reasonable to expect the local tax authority to use and accept the OECD Guidelines as an ancillary source for interpretation purposes (but without binding effect).

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

No

▪ Additional details

No. Local Transfer Pricing Technical Study Reports (Paraguayan Local Files) follow OECD standards with some additional content requirements.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

Not applicable

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

- Coverage

Transfer pricing documentation requirement in Paraguay consists of the preparation and submission of a local Technical Study Report.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

Paraguayan Transfer Pricing rules are effective since 1 January 2021. The first transfer pricing documentation requirement must have been fulfilled in 2022 for the fiscal year ending 31 December 2021.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

Paraguyan Local Files must include information usually found in a Master File, such as the description of the MNE group business, shareholding structure and functional analysis. It also must have a detailed narrative of the search process carried out within the context of the Economic analysis.

d. Sufficiency of BEPS Action 13 format report to achieve penalty protection

No

- Additional details

A Paraguayan Local File that does not contain all the information required by local regulations might be considered incomplete and subject to formal penalties.

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

No

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

Law No. 6380/ 19, Decree No. 4644/ 20 and their regulations contain provisions related to the content of the local transfer pricing Technical Study Report. More details about the specificities of such content are regulated in General Resolution No. 115/ 22. The local transfer pricing Technical Study Report must be submitted to the tax authority annually, the due dates are in July of the next fiscal year's end, according to the taxpayer's tax ID number.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Turnover

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Revenues higher than PYG10 billion (approximately USD1.3 million) in a given fiscal year will trigger the transfer pricing Technical Study Report filing obligation in the next fiscal year. Regardless of the revenue threshold, entities having operations with residents in tax havens are obliged to file the TP Technical Study Report.

- General Resolution No. 96/ 21 establishes new rules taxpayers should consider when performing a transfer pricing analysis, such as rejecting comparables with operational losses.
- The resolution also limits taxpayers to information that relates to a non-controlled operation (i.e., an operation between two unrelated parties that is comparable to the controlled operation under examination) and corresponds to several tax years when (1) they need to analyze business cycles, or (2) atypical circumstances affect the sector or industry in the tax year under analysis.
- Additionally, the resolution clarifies the definition of “related parties” by highlighting cases in which the parties are considered related based on a functional influence (i.e., influence over commercial decisions, contracts or any other decision-making) between them.
- For the exportation of certain agricultural commodities, a specific valuation method must be applied, and these transactions must be reported in a monthly informative declaration.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Local regulations establish that a TP Return must be filed along with the TP Technical Study Report, in the Tax Authority’s electronic platform through the taxpayer’s user profile.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

The Paraguayan TP Return includes a section for the CbCR notification.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

The working papers that contain the detail of the analysis performed and of the information included in the TP Technical Study Report must also be filed.

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

In April according to the Tax ID number.

▪ Additional details

CIT returns are due in the fourth month after fiscal year-end according to Tax ID number.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

In July according to the Tax ID number, along with the TP Local File.

- Additional details

The TP Technical Study Report must also be filed.

- Submission/filing date: The seventh month after fiscal year-end. The exact date will depend upon the tax ID number.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

- Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

CbCR for locally headquartered companies: This is Not applicable.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Along with the TP Local File submission, as part of the TP Return.

- Additional details

It is contained in the TP Return, which must be filed along with the TP Technical Study Report. Annual submission is required. Each local entity must file the TP Return separately.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

- Additional details

During the seventh month after year-end, depending on the Tax ID Number.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Not applicable

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

- Additional details

For the exportation of certain agricultural commodities, a specific method based on international prices must be applied. For other transactions, even though the rule of the best method applies, the taxpayer must justify the use of a method different from CUP.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Both comparables are allowed.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Single year (the one under analysis) is mandatory. Using information related to a non-controlled operation corresponding to several fiscal years will only be justified when corresponding or related to the need to analyze business cycles, or the circumstances affecting the sector or industry were atypical in the fiscal year under analysis.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

Yes

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

Roll-forward of comparable companies and update of the financials using information of the fiscal year under analysis are preferred.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

A single-fiscal-year result is preferred.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

Comparables showing losses in the fiscal year under analysis will be rejected.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The general statute of limitations for tax matters in Paraguay is five years.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

No

▪ Additional details

The possibility is unknown since it is the fourth year of transfer pricing rules application in Paraguay. Please be aware that the TP rules were applied for the first time in 2021; therefore, there are still no TP audits processes in place until now.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

No

▪ Additional details

The possibility may be considered to be low since it is the fourth year of transfer pricing rules application in Paraguay.

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

If the results of the tested party are outside of the interquartile range, the adjustment is to the median of the range.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Based on the tax authority behavior and audit trends, the agribusiness sector is more likely to be audited.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

National Superintendency of Customs and Tax Administration (Superintendencia Nacional de Aduanas y Administración Tributaria, or SUNAT)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

There are the Article 32 (Item 4) and Article 32-A of the Peruvian Income Tax Law (PITL) and Article 24 and Chapter XIX (Articles 108 to 119) of the PITL detail transfer pricing regulations in Peru. Transfer pricing rules have been effective in Peru since 1 January 2001. Over the years, these rules have undergone several changes with amendments to the PITL and Income Tax Regulations. On 31 December 2016, Legislative Decree 1312 was published, amending the Peruvian transfer pricing reporting requirements by implementing the changes proposed by the OECD under the BEPS Action 13 final report, in force since 1 January 2017. Peruvian transfer pricing rules apply both to cross-border and domestic transactions between related parties and all transactions with residents in tax havens, non-cooperative jurisdictions or with entities subject to preferential tax regimes. The transfer pricing adjustments are applicable solely when the value agreed upon by the related parties determines a lower taxable income than the one at arm's length, or in any other case, if the tax authority considers that the transfer pricing adjustment affects the tax determined in Peru for another related-party transaction. The regulations consider that a lower amount of income tax is determined when, among other conditions:

- A deferral of income is evidenced
- Higher tax losses have been determined than those that would have accrued at arm's length Penalties are described in Article 176 (numerals 2, 4 and 8) and Article 177 (numeral 27) of the Tax Code.

c. Effective date of applicability

1 January 2001

d. Section reference from local regulation

There are the Article 32 (Item 4) and Article 32-A of the Peruvian Income Tax Law (PITL) and Article 24 and Chapter XIX (Articles 108 to 119) of the PITL detail transfer pricing regulations in Peru.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Peru is not an OECD member jurisdiction. The PITL refers to the OECD Guidelines as a source of interpretation for transfer pricing analysis, as long as they do not contradict the PITL.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

In December 2016, through Legislative Decree 1312, Peru introduced a three-tiered transfer pricing documentation structure, consisting of a Local File, a Master File and a CbCR, as set out in the final reports under Action 13 of the OECD BEPS Action Plan. Subsequently, on 17 November 2017, the Peruvian Government issued Supreme Decree 333-2007-EF, which approved the regulations with guidance for the preparation and submission of the Local File, Master File and CbCR.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

- Coverage

In Peru, a CbCR should be filed annually by resident parent entities of MNE groups with annual revenue, as reflected in the consolidated financial statements for the immediately preceding fiscal year, equal to or greater than Peruvian sol (PEN)2.7 billion (approximately USD730 million). For these purposes, an MNE has been defined to include two or more enterprises or entities that are resident of different countries or territories, where at least one of them is resident in Peru. The CbC report requires aggregate tax jurisdiction-wide information relating to the global allocation of the revenue, profits (or losses), income taxes paid (and accrued) and certain indicators of the location of economic activity among tax jurisdictions in which the MNE group operates. The report also requires a listing of all the constituent entities of the MNE group, including the tax jurisdiction of incorporation, where it is different from the tax jurisdiction of residence, as well as the nature of the main business activities carried out by that constituent entity. Resident entities that are constituents of a foreign-based MNE group whose consolidated annual revenue exceeds the threshold will also be required to file the CbCR under the following circumstances: The ultimate parent of the MNE group is not required to file the CbCR in its jurisdiction of residence. The CbCR is submitted to the jurisdiction of residence of the ultimate parent company, but Peru has not established an information exchange mechanism with that jurisdiction. The parent company has submitted the CbCR, and even though Peru has an information exchange mechanism with that jurisdiction, there has been systematic failure to exchange information which has been communicated to the resident constituent entity by SUNAT. The resident constituent entity has been designated by the foreign-based MNE group as the alternate reporting entity (which files the CbCR instead of the ultimate parent company) and such designation is properly communicated to SUNAT.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2017.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format.

- Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

- Coverage

Master File is covered.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The law is effective for taxable years beginning on or after 1 January 2017.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

The Master File must be prepared in accordance with the format detailed in Annex I of the Superintendence Resolution No. 163-2018/SUNAT.

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

- Coverage

Local File is covered.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The law is effective for taxable years beginning on or after 1 January 2017.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

The Local File must be prepared in accordance with the format detailed in Annexes I, II and III of the Superintendence Resolution No. 014-2018/SUNAT, which specifies the content, formatting and cross-references with the Local File informative return that must be included. Although Peruvian legislation follows the recommendations specified in BEPS Action 13, the Superintendence Resolution proposes a specific structure for the Local File (Appendix 3), which presents wide differences in form with the one proposed by the OECD.

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

Peru has transfer pricing documentation guidelines and rules. The deadline schedule to submit the Local File informative returns is the same as the one approved for the submission and payment of monthly taxes due in June (tax period May) of the following fiscal year. The deadline schedule to submit the Master File and CbCR informative returns is the same as the one approved for the submission and payment of monthly taxes due in October (tax period September) of the following fiscal year.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

Peru requires transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually under its local jurisdiction regulations. All taxpayers that exceed the threshold levels need to prepare and submit a full transfer pricing documentation report for each fiscal year.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes Each taxpayer is responsible to comply with the Local File and Master File if they meet the requirements.

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

No

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

All transactions between related parties must comply with the arm's-length principle.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

PEN2.7 billion

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

In Peru, a CbCR should be filed annually by resident parent entities of MNE groups with annual revenue, as reflected in the consolidated financial statements for the immediately preceding fiscal year, equal to or greater than PEN2.7 billion (approximately USD730 million). For these purposes, an MNE has been defined to include two or more enterprises or entities that are resident of different countries or territories, where at least one of them is resident in Peru. The CbC report requires aggregate tax jurisdiction-wide information relating to the global allocation of the revenue, profits (or losses), income taxes paid (and accrued) and certain indicators of the location of economic activity among tax jurisdictions in which the MNE group operates. The report also requires a listing of all the constituent entities of the MNE group, including the tax jurisdiction of incorporation, where it is different from the tax jurisdiction of residence, as well as the nature of the main business activities carried out by that constituent entity. Resident entities that are constituents of a foreign-based MNE group whose consolidated annual revenue exceeds the threshold will also be required to file the CbCR under the following circumstances:

The ultimate parent of the MNE group is not required to file the CbCR in Peru in its jurisdiction of residence.

The CbCR is submitted to the jurisdiction of residence of the ultimate parent company, but Peru has not established an information exchange mechanism with that jurisdiction.

The parent company has submitted the CbCR, and even though Peru has an information exchange mechanism with that jurisdiction, there has been systematic failure to exchange information which has been communicated to the resident constituent entity by SUNAT.

The resident constituent entity has been designated by the foreign-based MNE group as the alternate reporting entity (which files the CbCR instead of the ultimate parent company) and such designation is properly communicated to SUNAT.

▪ Master File

▪ What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

PEN107 million

▪ What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

▪ Is there any other threshold?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Taxpayers that are constituents of a group of companies (both domestic and multinational) and have an annual revenue for the fiscal year of more than 20,000 tax units (PEN107 million, approximately USD29 million) and that have carried out transactions with related parties, tax havens, non-cooperative jurisdictions or with entities subject to preferential tax regimes for a total amount that is greater than 400 tax units (PEN2.14 million, approximately USD578,000) will be required to submit a Master File with high-level information of the group's business operations, its transfer pricing policies, and its global allocation of income and economic activity. The Master File requirements in Peru are largely consistent with those under Action 13 of the BEPS Action Plan.

The information required in the Master File provides a "blueprint" of the group and contains relevant information that has been grouped into five categories: (1) the group's organizational structure, (2) a description of its business or businesses, (3) the group's intangibles, (4) the group's intercompany financial activities, and (5) the group's financial and tax positions. The filing should be done in October of the following year.

▪ Local File

▪ What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

PEN12.3 million (Total revenues)/PEN535,000 (sum of intercompany transactions - threshold applicable for appendix I of Local File)/PEN2.14 million (sum of intercompany transactions - threshold applicable for appendix II, III and IV of Local File)

▪ What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

▪ Is there any other threshold?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The Local File documentation requirement applies only to taxpayers whose annual revenue for the fiscal year exceeds 2,300 tax units (PEN12.3 million, approximately USD3.3 million). The Local File provides detailed information relating to intercompany transactions (both domestic and cross-border) and transactions between local taxpayers and residents in tax haven jurisdictions. The second threshold to be observed is the sum of intercompany transactions: Annex I: The taxpayer has carried out transactions with related parties, tax havens, non-cooperative jurisdictions or with entities subject to preferential tax regimes for a total amount that is greater than or equal to 100 tax units (PEN535,000, approximately USD144, 000) but less than 400 tax units (PEN2.1million, approx. USD578, 000). And Annex II, III and IV: The taxpayer has carried out transactions with related parties, tax havens, non-cooperative jurisdictions or with entities subject to preferential tax regimes for a total amount that is greater than 400 tax units (PEN2.1 million, approximately USD578, 000). Both conditions should be met.

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

Yes

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

The Local File documentation requirement will apply only to taxpayers whose annual revenue for the fiscal year exceeds 2,300 tax units (PEN12.3 million, approx. USD3.3 million).

- c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation needs to be submitted in Spanish. According to Legislative Decree 1312, in general, the Master File, the Local File and the CbCR should be translated to Spanish and kept for five years or during the statute of limitations period established by the Tax Code, whichever is longer.

- Is a safe harbor available?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

- Additional details

Individual testing is preferred for intercompany transactions. Segmented financial statements must be prepared when applicable.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

Yes

According to paragraph c) of Article 32-A of the PITL, taxpayers must comply with the following requirements to deduct the costs and expenses for services received from its related parties:

- Comply with the “benefit test”: This implies to examine whether the service provides an actual economic benefit (i.e., commercial or economic value) to the receiving entity. This can be determined by considering whether an independent company in comparable circumstances would have been willing to pay for the activity if performed for it by an independent company or would have performed the activity in-house for itself.
- Provide supporting documentation that the receiving entity needs to support that the services were actually rendered by the provider of the service, nature and real necessity of such service, cost and expenses incurred by the provider of the services, and the criteria for their allocation.
- In the case of low value-added services, such as routine activities that are not part of the core business, they are regulated such that the margin of profitability for the deduction of expenditure will not exceed 5%.

In addition, exporters of mining commodities to related parties and importers of certain agricultural commodities, are required to notify to SUNAT the actual pricing date or period of pricing dates used to determine the price for the transaction, alongside all the conditions agreed for the pricing of the commodities. The aforementioned notification to SUNAT is considered as a sworn statement and would have to be done up to the shipment date for exports or the date of disembarkation for imports, detailing the main terms and conditions agreed by the parties. In the event the notification is not presented, it is incomplete or contains inconsistent information, the date to be used as a reference to determine the arm’s length price of the transaction is either: (i) the shipment date of the commodities exported or (ii) the disembarkation date of the commodities imported.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

- Local File: Taxpayers whose annual revenue for the fiscal year exceeds 2,300 tax units (PEN12.3 million, approximately USD3.3 million) and transactions with related parties exceeds 400 tax units (PEN2.1 million, approx. USD578,000) must file a Local File informative return consisting of: (a) an informative return prepared under the format and configuration detailed by the Peruvian Tax Authority (Annex II), (b) a Local File in PDF format (Annex III) and (c) a spreadsheet file supporting the calculations detailed in Annex III.
- Local File: Taxpayers whose annual revenue for the fiscal year exceeds 2,300 tax units (PEN12.3 million, approximately USD3.3 million) and transactions with related parties between 100 tax units (PEN535,000, approximately USD144,000) and 400 tax units (PEN2.1 million, approximately USD578,000) must file a Local File informative return consisting of: (a) an informative return prepared under the format and configuration detailed by the Peruvian Tax Authority (Annex I).
- Master File: Taxpayers that are constituents of a group of companies (both domestic and multinational) whose annual revenue for the fiscal year exceeds 20,000 tax units (PEN107 million, approximately USD30 million) and that has carried out transactions with related parties, tax havens, non-cooperative jurisdictions or with entities subject to preferential tax regimes for a total amount that is greater than 400 tax units (PEN2.1 million, approximately USD578,000) must file a Master File informative return.
- The CbCR is to be filed annually by resident parent entities of MNE groups with annual revenue, as reflected in the consolidated financial statements for the immediately preceding year, equal to or greater than PEN2.7 billion (approximately USD675 million).

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

Any TP adjustments applicable must be declared as part of the corporate income tax return.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

In accordance with Peruvian GAAP requirements.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

There is no requirement to file CbCR notification.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

In the case of commodity exporters or importers, an Informative Declaration related to the TP of the goods must be filed with each export or import.

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

Mid-June

- Additional details

It should be submitted by mid June based on the schedule approved for the submission and payment of monthly taxes due in May.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

June or October

- Additional details

The deadline schedule to submit the Local File informative returns is the same as the one approved for the submission and payment of monthly taxes due in June (tax period May) of the following fiscal year. The deadline schedule to submit the Master File and CbCR informative returns is the same as the one approved for the submission and payment of monthly taxes due in October (tax period September) of the following fiscal year. The exact filing date for each taxpayer depends on an official schedule based on the taxpayer's identification number.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Mid-October

- Additional details

The deadline schedule to submit the Master File informative returns is the same as the one approved for the submission and payment of monthly taxes due in October (tax period September) of the following fiscal year. The exact filing date for each taxpayer depends on an official schedule based on the taxpayer's identification number.

- Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared): The Master File must be prepared and submitted annually.
- Submission/filing date: The deadline schedule to submit the Master File informative returns is the same as the one approved for the submission and payment of monthly taxes due in October (tax period September) of the following Fiscal Year. The exact filing date for each taxpayer depends on an official schedule based on the taxpayer's identification number.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

October

▪ Additional details

The deadline schedule to submit the CbCR informative returns is the same as the one approved for the submission and payment of monthly taxes due in October (tax period September) of the following fiscal year. The exact filing date for each taxpayer depends on an official schedule based on the taxpayer's identification number. The CbCR must be prepared and submitted annually.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

October

▪ Additional details

Only in those cases in which the CbCR is filed through the Surrogate Parent Entity, the notification must be submitted via SUNAT's Virtual Reception Desk: <https://www.sunat.gob.pe/ol-at-ittramitedoc/registro/iniciar>. The deadline is the same as that of the CbCR. The deadline schedule to submit the CbCR notification is the same as the one approved for the submission and payment of monthly taxes due in October (tax period September) of the following fiscal year. The exact filing date for each taxpayer depends on an official schedule based on the taxpayer's identification number. The CbCR must be prepared and submitted annually. If the conditions are met for local filing for multiple entities of the same multinational group, our law incorporates the option to designate one subsidiary as the representative for filing purposes among all Peruvian entities. The deadline for the filing of this communication is the last day of the previous month (therefore, if the deadline of the CbCR is 31 October the communication of the representative should be done by 30 September).

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

Varies (based on tax ID number)

▪ Additional details

The deadline schedule to submit the Local File informative returns is the same as the one approved for the submission and payment of monthly taxes due in June (tax period May) of the following fiscal year. The exact filing date for each taxpayer depends on an official schedule based on the taxpayer's identification number.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

Yes

▪ Additional details

The deadline schedule to submit the Local File informative returns is the same as the one approved for the submission and payment of monthly taxes due in June (tax period May) of the following fiscal year. The exact filing date for each taxpayer depends on an official schedule based on the taxpayer's identification number.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

If the taxpayer did not file the transfer pricing documentation when it was due, the time given to submit it depends on each audit or inquiry. Usually, it needs to be submitted within five business days.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Peruvian law implicitly adopts a "best method" rule, unless the transaction being evaluated is a sale or purchase of commodities or their derivatives. Under Peruvian legislation, the transfer pricing methods identified are CUP, resale price, cost-plus, profit-split, residual profit-split and TNMM. The Legislative Decree states that the CUP method is the most appropriate transfer pricing method for cross-border transactions involving commodities and derivative financial instruments. These rules establish that the arm's-length price for Peruvian income tax purposes must be determined by reference to the quoted price. For the application of the CUP method, the actual pricing date or period of pricing dates should be used as a reference to determine the price for the transaction, as long as independent parties in comparable circumstances would have relied upon the same pricing date. The taxpayer needs to notify the SUNAT of the actual pricing date or period of pricing dates used to determine the price for the transaction. The aforementioned notification to SUNAT is considered as a sworn statement and would have to be done up to the shipment date or the date of disembarkation, detailing the main terms and conditions agreed by the parties. In the event the notification is not presented, it is incomplete or contains inconsistent information, the date to be used as a reference to determine the price is either: (i) the shipment date of the commodities exported or (ii) the disembarkation date of the commodities imported.

If the transfer pricing analysis of an export of mining commodity or the import of certain agricultural products, is performed selecting a method different than the CUP, the taxpayer must submit to the tax administration the corresponding supporting documentation, as well as the economic, financial, and technical reasons that justify its use or Technical Report. This Technical Report must be included in the New Section 7 of the Local File.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Use of local, regional and global comparable operations are accepted by the law.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

In 2021, SUNAT published ruling No. 036-2021 clarifying the use of multiple years in the application of the Peruvian transfer pricing rules. The ruling concludes that financial information from two or more years before or after the year under analysis can be used to determine whether the transactions are comparable, but that the Income Tax Law Regulations do not contemplate the use of multiple years for the determination of the interquartile range and do not have effect in the determination of the transfer pricing adjustment. A ruling is an official interpretation by the SUNAT of PITL, related statutes, tax treaties and regulations.

Use of interquartile range is mandatory for the application of transfer pricing methods, as set forth by the PITL, whenever there are two or more comparable operations.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

The regulations do not refer to this point. However, a good practice is to update the financials of the comparables for searches undertaken a year before and to conduct a full fresh benchmarking study for searches that have been undertaken two or more years previously.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Simple one year results are preferred.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Noncompliance with the above is penalized with a fine of 0.6% of the company's net income for the previous year. The penalty cannot be less than 10% of a tax unit or more than 25 tax units.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Noncompliance with the above is penalized with a fine of 0.6% of the company's net income for the year preceding that which is under scrutiny. The penalty cannot be less than 10% of a tax unit or more than 25 tax units.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Noncompliance with the above is penalized with a fine of 0.6% of the company's net income for the year preceding that which is under scrutiny. The penalty cannot be less than 10% of a tax unit or more than 25 tax units.

- Are there any other penalties?

Noncompliance with the obligation to file a transfer pricing Local File informative return is penalized with a fine of 0.6% of the company's net income for the year preceding that which is under scrutiny. The penalty cannot be less than 10% of a tax unit or more than 25 tax units. Likewise, noncompliance with the obligation to file the transfer pricing return according to the dates established by SUNAT subjects the taxpayer to a fine of 0.6% of the company's net income for the year preceding that which is under scrutiny. The penalty cannot be less than 10% of a tax unit or more than 25 tax units.

- b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

- Additional details

The adjustments to annual taxable income resulting from the tax authority's application of the transfer pricing provisions will be subject to additional penalties of up to 50% of the resulting tax deficiency (income misstatement penalties)

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

The penalty for filing incomplete documentacion is a fine of 0.6% of the company's net income for the previous year. The penalty cannot be less than 10% of a tax unit or more than 25 tax units.

The adjustments to annual taxable income resulting from the tax authority's application of the transfer pricing provisions will be subject to additional penalties of up to 50% of the resulting tax deficiency (income misstatement penalties).

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

Yes

- Additional details

The annual interest rate on any underpayment of tax on penalties is 10.8%, whereas the annual interest rate on any overpayment of tax on refund is 5.04%.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

The penalty reductions that a taxpayer can be subject to for not complying with the obligation to have a transfer pricing technical study or present the transfer pricing information return are:

100% penalty reduction if the taxpayer files the transfer pricing informative return after the due date but before it is detected and compelled to do so by SUNAT.

80% (with a transfer pricing study) or 90% (with a transfer pricing return) penalty reduction if the taxpayer rectifies the infraction and pays the corresponding fine within the time frame established by SUNAT.

50% (with a transfer pricing study) or 80% (with a transfer pricing return) penalty reduction if the taxpayer rectifies the infraction but does not pay the corresponding fine within the time frame established by SUNAT.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

According to Articles 87- 7 and 43 of the Peruvian Tax Code, the statute of limitations for income tax assessments is four years after 1 January of the year that follows the year the annual income tax return is due (generally, 31 March) and six years if returns were never filed.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

It is possible for a transfer pricing issues being reviewed as part of a general audit. The Peruvian Tax Administration increasingly conducts transfer pricing audits. Also, it has issued letters requesting that taxpayers amend their tax returns based on the results of the transfer pricing studies previously presented or file the local reports that have not been filed on time. The possibility that the transfer pricing methodology will be challenged during a transfer pricing review may be considered to be high.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Adjustments usually arise when the TP methodologies are challenged by the Tax Authorities

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

Transactions that fall outside the interquartile range will be adjusted to the median of such benchmarking range, if the price agreed by the parties undermined the Peruvian tax base.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

The mining industry is more likely to be audited given that 60% of Peru's exports are minerals and approximately 30% are sold to related parties.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Since 2013, unilateral and multilateral APAs have been available for all transactions (cross-border and domestic transactions between related parties and with tax haven residents). Multilateral APAs will be available only for countries that have entered into double tax avoidance treaties with the Peruvian fiscal administration.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

APAs would be agreed upon for a maximum term of four years.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Since 1 January 2025, roll-back provisions are available only in bilateral APAs.

d. Is MAP available?

There are no specific provisions for the MAP procedure in domestic law. Taxpayers must rely on the MAP provisions under DTTs.

PITL historically has limited the deduction of interests originated in loans and other credits granted by economically related entities. Such rules would apply whether the related party is a resident in Peru or not. From 1 January 2020 onward, such rules were extended to include the deduction of interest originated in loans agreed with third parties, in accordance with the following:

- Up to 31 December 2020, interest paid is not deductible in the portion that exceeds the result of applying a coefficient 3:1 (debt-to-equity ratio) over the net equity. The borrower's net equity to be considered is the one resulting at the end of the preceding year. As of 1 January 2021, the new rule sets that interest that exceeds 30% of EBITDA of the preceding year will not be deductible. Interest that is not deducted may be carried forward for up to four years but will always be subject to the 30% of EBITDA limitation.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Bureau of Internal Revenue (Kawanihan ng Rentas Internas – BIR)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Section 50 of the National Internal Revenue Code of 1997, as amended (Tax Code), gives the Commissioner of the Bureau of Internal Revenue the power to allocate income and expenses between or among related parties and taxpayers or to make transfer pricing adjustments to reflect the true taxable income of taxpayers.

To implement Section 50, the BIR came out with several issuances expounding on the power of the Commissioner to allocate income and expenses among related taxpayers, prescribing the arm's-length standard for the pricing of transactions between or among related taxpayers. It also laid out the methods for determining the arm's-length price for related-party transactions.

On 29 March 2012, the BIR issued Revenue Memorandum Order (RMO) No. 5- 2012, prescribing guidelines and policies under the performance benchmarking method. Under this RMO, benchmarking shall be done separately for individual and corporate taxpayers. The BIR will categorize taxpayers as high risk (more than 30% below the benchmark), medium risk (16%-30% below the benchmark) and low risk (15%, or less, below the benchmark). Taxpayers classified as high risk shall be the top priority for enforcement actions, such as an audit.

On 23 January 2013, the BIR released Revenue Regulations (RR) No. 2- 2013, known as the Transfer Pricing Guidelines. The regulations provide guidelines for determining the appropriate revenues and taxable income of parties in the controlled transaction by prescribing the arm's-length principle as the standard to determine transfer prices of related parties. The transfer pricing regulations apply to cross-border transactions between associated enterprises and domestic transactions between associated enterprises.

The transfer pricing regulations took effect on 9 February 2013.

In August 2019, the BIR issued Revenue Audit Memorandum Order (RAMO) No. 1- 2019 known as the Transfer Pricing Audit Guidelines, to provide for standardized procedures and techniques in auditing taxpayers with related party as well as intra-firm transactions. These guidelines apply to the examination of the following transactions:

- Controlled transactions between related or associated parties where at least one party is assessable or chargeable to tax in the Philippines, including:
 - Sale, purchase, transfer and utilization of tangible and intangible assets
 - Provision of intragroup services
 - Interest payments
 - Capitalization
 - Transactions between permanent establishment (PE) and its head office or other related branches

Under the guidelines, the PE will be treated as a separate and distinct enterprise from its head office or other related branches or subsidiaries for tax purposes.

The Transfer Pricing Audit Guidelines were issued primarily to test the application of arm's-length principle on related-party transactions. Related-party transactions to be tested or audited cover cross-border and domestic ones, including intra-firm transactions. Intrafirm transactions apply to taxpayers with different tax regimes: income tax holiday (ITH), 5% gross income tax (GIT) and regular corporate tax.

To ensure proper disclosures of related-party transactions (RPTs) and that these transactions are conducted at arm's length, the BIR, then, issued on 8 July 2020, RR No. 19- 2020, requiring the submission of a three-page BIR Form No. 1709, Information Return on Transactions with Related Party (Domestic and/or Foreign), to be attached, together with its supporting documents, to the Annual Income Tax Return (AITR).

Certain issues on the filing of the RPT Form and its attachments were later clarified by the BIR in Revenue Memorandum Circular (RMC) No. 76- 2020.

On 21 December 2020, the BIR issued RR No. 34- 2020, amending RR No. 19- 2020 and RMC No. 76- 2020 and prescribing further guidelines and procedures for the submission of the RPT Form. Under Section 2 of RR No. 34- 2020, only the following taxpayers are required to file and submit the RPT Form, together with the AITR:

- a. Large taxpayers
- b. Taxpayers enjoying tax incentives, i.e., Board of Investments (BOI)-registered and economic zone enterprise, those enjoying ITH or subject to preferential income tax rate
- c. Taxpayers reporting net operating losses for the current taxable year and the immediately preceding two consecutive taxable years

Or

- d. A related party, as defined under Section 3 of RR No. 19-2020, which has transactions with (a), (b), or (c)

Section 3 of RR No. 34-2020 provides that the preparation and submission of transfer pricing documentation (TPD) under RR No. 2-2013 and all other relevant issuances shall be mandatory for taxpayers enumerated in Section 2 of RR No. 34-2020 who meet the following materiality thresholds:

- a. Annual gross sales revenue for the subject taxable period exceeding PHP150 million and the total amount of related-party transactions with foreign and domestic related parties exceeds PHP90 million. In computing the above threshold, the following items shall be included:
- Amounts received and/or receivable from related parties or paid and/or payable to related parties during the taxable year but excluding compensation paid to key management personnel, dividends and branch profit remittances
 - Outstanding balances of loans and non-trade amounts due from/to all related parties
- b. Related-party transactions meeting one of the following materiality thresholds:
- If involving sale of tangible goods in the aggregate amount exceeding PHP60 million within the taxable year
 - If involving service transaction, payment of interest, utilization of intangible goods or other related-party transactions in the aggregate amount exceeding PHP15 million within the taxable year

Or

- If transfer pricing documentation was required to be prepared during the immediately preceding taxable period for exceeding either (a) or (b) above

The transfer pricing documentation and other supporting documents as set out in Section 6 of RR No. 19-2020 shall no longer be attached to the RPT Form, but shall be submitted within 30 calendar days upon receipt of the request by the Commissioner or that person's duly authorized representatives pursuant to a duly-issued Letter of Authority.

Subsequently, the BIR issued RMC No. 54-2021, which clarified that a taxpayer that is required to file the RPT Form under Section 2 of RR No. 34-2020 shall only prepare its TPD if it satisfies any of the conditions set out under Section

3. However, nothing prevents any taxpayer from preparing a TPD and presenting the same during audit to prove that its related party transactions were conducted at arm's length.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There is a documentation obligation for domestic transactions.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

No

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

The Philippines is not a member of the OECD. The transfer pricing regulations are largely based on OECD Guidelines and refer to them for further guidance and examples.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

- Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

No

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

No

- Additional details

RR 2- 2013 is silent on the manner of preparation. However, being largely based on the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines, the preparation of transfer pricing documentation on year one and the benchmarking updates on years two and three should be sufficient.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

No

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

▪ TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The preparation and submission of TPDs under RR No. 2-2013 and all other relevant issuances shall be mandatory for taxpayers enumerated in Section 2 of RR No. 34-2020 who meet the following materiality thresholds:

a. Annual gross sales revenue for the subject taxable period exceeding PHP150 million and the total amount of related-party transactions with foreign and domestic related parties exceeds PHP90 million In computing the above threshold, the following items shall be included:

- Amounts received and/or receivable from related parties or paid and/or payable to related parties during the taxable year but excluding compensation paid to key management personnel, dividends and branch profit remittances
- Outstanding balances of loans and non-trade amounts due from/to all related parties

b. Related-party transactions meeting one of the following materiality thresholds:

- If involving sale of tangible goods in the aggregate amount exceeding PHP60 million within the taxable year
- If involving service transaction, payment of interest, utilization of intangible goods or other related-party transactions in the aggregate amount exceeding PHP15 million within the taxable year
- If transfer pricing documentation was required to be prepared during the immediately preceding taxable period for exceeding either (a) or (b) above However, the BIR still retains the right to conduct transfer pricing audits against taxpayers with related-party transactions, irrespective of whether or not they are required to file

the RPT Form and prepare a TPD.

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation is prepared in English, which is an official language in the Philippines.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Unspecified

- Additional details

Refer to the section materiality thresholds.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

BIR Form No. 1709, Information Return on Transactions with Related Party (Domestic and/or Foreign) (RPT Form)

- b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

BIR Form No. 1709, Information Return on Transactions with Related Party (Domestic and/or Foreign) (RPT Form)

- c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Related-party disclosures are required in the notes to the audited financial statements, which are filed with the BIR together with the Annual Income Tax Return. Moreover, taxpayers who are not required to file the RPT Form are required to disclose in the notes to the financial statements that they are not covered by the requirements and procedures for related-party transactions provided under RR No. 34-2020.

- d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable

- e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

The transfer pricing documentation and other supporting documents as set out in RR No. 19-2020 shall no longer be attached to the RPT Form but shall be submitted within 30 calendar days from receipt of the request to submit during a tax audit, subject to a non-extendible period of 30 calendar days.

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

- a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

15 April

- Additional details

The filing deadline is the 15th day of the fourth month, following the close of the taxable year.

- b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

15 April

- Additional details

For eFPS filers, the RPT Form shall be submitted within 15 days from the statutory due date or actual date of electronic filing of the ITR, whichever comes later.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

Contemporaneously with transactions

- Additional details

The transfer pricing regulations require contemporaneous documentation to be maintained and retained. It is contemporaneous if it exists, or is brought into existence, at the time the associated enterprises develop or implement any arrangement that might raise transfer pricing issues. These arrangements should be reviewed when preparing tax returns.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

- Additional details

Pursuant to RR No. 34-2020, the transfer pricing documentation is no longer required to be attached to the RPT Form upon filing. However, the transfer pricing documentation and other documents have to be submitted to the BIR within 30 calendar days from receipt of the request to submit during a tax audit, subject to a non-extendible period of 30 calendar days.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The transfer pricing documentation and other documents have to be submitted to the BIR within 30 calendar days from receipt of the request to submit during a tax audit, subject to a non-extendible period of 30 calendar days.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

The transfer pricing regulations adopt the methods to determine the arm's-length price under the OECD Guidelines (i.e., CUP, resale price, cost-plus, profit-split and TNMM). There is no specific preference for any one method. In determining the arm's-length result, the most appropriate method for a particular case shall be used.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There is no legal requirement for local jurisdiction comparables, but local comparable companies are used on the grounds that the BIR requires most reliable companies and uses local companies in determining the arm's-length price of intercompany transactions. Asia-Pacific comparables would be acceptable if it can be shown that no local comparables are available.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

The regulations do not specify, but the Transfer Pricing Audit Guidelines provide the use of multiple-year data to increase comparability.

The Transfer Pricing Audit Guidelines suggest the use of an interquartile range to enhance the reliability of the analysis.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

RR 2- 2013 is silent on the manner of preparation. However, being largely based on the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines, the preparation of transfer pricing documentation on year one and the update of the financials on years two and three should be sufficient as long as the operating conditions remain unchanged.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

The regulations do not specify; either simple or weighted average may be used for arm's-length analysis.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

The Transfer Pricing Audit Guidelines provide selection criteria, which are commonly used in practice, including criteria on independence and level of revenue.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

The provisions of the Tax Code and other applicable laws regarding the imposition of penalties and other appropriate sanctions shall be applied to any person who fails to comply with or violates the provisions and requirements of the regulations.

Section 6 of RR No. 34-2020, in relation to Section 266 (Failure to Obey Summons) of the Tax Code, as amended, provides that non-submission of a transfer pricing documentation, within the prescribed period, when requested by the Commissioner or that person's duly authorized representatives pursuant to a duly-issued Letter of Authority may lead to a fine of not less than PHP5,000 but not more than PHP10,000 and imprisonment of not less than one year but not more than two years.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

▪ Are there any other penalties?

The transfer pricing regulations adopt the provisions of the Tax Code and other applicable laws in imposing penalties on any person who fails to comply with or who violates the regulations.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

▪ Additional details

In the case of a deficiency assessment because of a transfer pricing adjustment, the general penalties apply – a 25% surcharge (50% in fraud cases) and 12% interest per annum.

▪ Penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

▪ Additional details

Delinquency interest at the rate of 12% per year may also be imposed.

▪ Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no penalty relief regime in the transfer pricing regulations. However, the BIR recently issued RR No. 10-2022 which prescribes the guidelines and procedures to be followed by taxpayers in requesting for MAP assistance from the Philippine competent authority to resolve disputes arising from taxation not in accordance with the provisions of the relevant DTA.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The general statute of limitations applies, which is three years after the last day prescribed by law for filing the return. In cases of fraud with the intent to evade tax, the statute of limitations is 10 years from the discovery of fraud.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Yes. With the issuance of the Transfer Pricing Audit Guidelines, revenue officers are now mandated to include the examination of related-party transactions in the conduct of tax audits.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

There is none specified.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

There is none specified.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

The transfer pricing regulations give taxpayers the option to use an APA for their controlled transactions and MAP relief as prescribed under the Philippines' bilateral tax treaties. So far, only procedures and guidelines for MAP have been issued and implemented by the BIR. The BIR has yet to issue separate guidelines for the implementation and application of APA.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Not applicable. APA guidelines have not been issued.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable. APA guidelines have not been issued.

d. Is MAP available?

The BIR has recently issued RR No. 10- 2022, which prescribes the guidelines and procedures to be followed by taxpayers in requesting for MAP assistance from the Philippine competent authority to resolve disputes arising from taxation not in accordance with the provisions of the relevant DTA.

There are no formal thin capitalization rules in Philippines. However, the Transfer Pricing Audit Guidelines provide that the audit of intragroup loan transactions shall be conducted to test the arm's-length nature of the taxpayer's debt-to-equity ratio and to test the reasonableness of the interest rate and other expenses related to the intragroup loan transaction that are charged to the taxpayer.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Tax Inspection Department in the Ministry of Finance, National Revenue Administration (Krajowa Administracja Skarbowa – KAS)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Tax laws and decrees that govern transfer pricing in Poland are:

- Tax Ordinance Act, dated 29 August 1997 (Journal of Laws 2025, Item 111, as amended)
- Corporate Income Tax (CIT) Act, dated 15 February 1992 (Journal of Laws 2025, Item 340, as amended)
- Personal Income Tax (PIT) Act, dated 26 July 1991 (Journal of Laws 2025, Item 163, as amended)
- Act on the settlement of disputes regarding double taxation and the conclusion of APAs, dated 16 October 2019 (Journal of Laws 2023, item 948, as amended)
- Minister of Finance Decree of 18 December 2024, regarding the countries and territories applying harmful tax competition rules for the purpose of CIT (Journal of Laws 2024, No. 1928)
- Minister of Finance Decree of 18 December 2024, regarding the countries and territories applying harmful tax competition rules for the purpose of PIT (Journal of Laws 2024, No. 1929)
- Minister of Finance Information of 8 March 2025, regarding the announcement of the list of countries and territories indicated in the EU list of non-cooperative jurisdictions for tax purposes adopted by the Council of the European Union, which are not included in the list of countries and territories applying harmful tax competition issued on the basis of the provisions on personal income tax and the provisions on income tax from legal persons, and the date of adoption of this list by the Council of the European Union (Journal of Laws 2025, No. 234)
- Minister of Finance Decree from 21 December 2018 on the transfer pricing documentation with regard to CIT (Journal of Laws 2023, Item 1783, as amended)
- Minister of Finance Decree from 21 December 2018 on the transfer pricing documentation with regard to CIT (Journal of Laws 2023, Item 1813, as amended)
- Minister of Finance Decree from 21 December 2018 on the manner and procedure for eliminating double taxation in case of adjustment of affiliated entities' profits with regard to CIT (Journal of Laws 2018, Item 2474, as amended) – repealed on 29 November 2019
- Minister of Finance Decree from 21 December 2018 regarding transfer pricing with regard to CIT (Journal of Laws 2023, Item 1129, as amended)
- Minister of Finance Decree from 21 December 2018 regarding transfer pricing with regard to PIT (Journal of Laws 2023, Item 1349, as amended)
- Minister of Finance Decree from 29 August 2022 regarding the information about transfer pricing with regard to CIT (Journal of Laws 2022, Item 1934, as amended)
- Minister of Finance Decree from 29 August 2022 regarding the information about transfer pricing with regard to PIT (Journal of Laws 2022, Item 1923, as amended)
- Minister of Finance Information from 20 December 2024 on the announcement of the type of base interest rate and margin for the purposes of transfer pricing in the field of personal income tax and corporate income tax (Journal of Laws 2024, Item 1105)

Article 11a of the CIT Act and Article 23m of the PIT Act introduce the arm's-length principle, providing a definition of "affiliation" and the criteria for determining the size of direct and indirect shares held in another entity.

Documentation requirements can be found in Article 11k of the CIT Act and Article 23w of the PIT Act.

Transfer pricing penalties are defined in Articles 58a, 58b and 58c of the Tax Ordinance Act.

According to Article 11o and Article 23za of the PIT Act, the documentation requirements also encompass transactions in which payment is made directly to an entity considered to be in a tax haven. The list of these territories and countries is presented in the Minister of Finance Decree of 18 December 2024 regarding the countries and territories applying harmful tax competition rules and Minister of Finance Information of 8 March 2025. It must be noted that the decree was issued separately for personal and corporate taxation purposes, whereas the information applies for both CIT and PIT.

Since 1 January 2007, documentation requirements also apply to Poland-based permanent establishments of foreign companies. Since January 2015, documentation requirements have also applied to partnerships, joint venture agreements and agreements establishing partnerships.

Transfer pricing regulations introducing BEPS Action 13 guidelines to Polish legislation came into force in January 2017 (requirements regarding CbCR are binding as of January 2016). The respective regulations result in increased transfer pricing requirements (as mentioned below).

Additionally, since January 2019, new transfer pricing regulations came into force in Poland as outlined in this document.

c. Effective date of applicability

No date specified

d. Section reference from local regulation

- Tax Ordinance Act, dated 29 August 1997: Article 58a-c
- Corporate Income Tax (CIT) Act, dated 15 February 1992: Article 11a- 11f
- Personal Income Tax (PIT) Act, dated 26 July 1991: Article 23m- 23zf
- Act on the settlement of disputes regarding double taxation and the conclusion of APAs, dated 16 October 2019: Article 61- 71 and 81- 107

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

In 2019, domestic transactions are excluded as long as they fulfill the requirements listed in Article 11n of the CIT Act.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Poland is a member of the OECD. The Polish tax authorities sometimes refer to the OECD Guidelines when applying transfer pricing principles (e.g., during APA negotiations). Also, reference to the OECD Guidelines is made with respect to tax havens. According to Articles 11j and 23v of the PIT Act, the list of countries recognized as tax havens is issued with regard to settlements made by the OECD. At the same time, the transfer pricing methods presented in the Polish rules are based on the authorized OECD approach.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Poland has adopted and implemented Action 13. There are some specific elements incorporated in the Polish law. There are also some important differences in most cases, meaning that the local requirements are even more extensive.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

The report is mandatory in case of consolidated revenues or costs of more than EUR750 million.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2017.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

The Master File is mandatory in case of (i) belonging to the group of related entities for which consolidated financial statements are prepared, and (ii) consolidated revenues of the group exceeded PLN200 million (approximately USD50 million) in the previous financial year.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The law is effective for taxable years beginning on or after 1 January 2017.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

Since January 2019 there are no material differences between the OECD report template or format and Poland's regulations. However, there are some elements to be covered in detail according to Polish TP regulations, i.e.:

- Description or schema of the value chain for the five most important product or services groups in terms of revenues and such groups of products or services, whose revenues constitute more than 5% of consolidated revenues of the Group, along with an indication of the main geographic markets for these products or services groups.
- Indication of entities performing functions in the scope of central financing/funding within the Group together with the information about their headquarters and place of effective management.
- General description of the Group transfer pricing policy concerning (i) the allocation of costs for intragroup services and the principles for setting prices for these services, (ii) research and development activities and intangible assets and rights, (iii) financing/funding between affiliated entities - in each case detailed methods of calculating remuneration between related parties should be included.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Local File is mandatory for controlled transactions exceeding the documentary thresholds stated in Article 11k of the Corporate Income Tax (CIT) Act or Article 23w of the Personal Income Tax (PIT) Act.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The law is effective for taxable years beginning on or after 1 January 2017.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

There are material differences between the OECD report template or format and Poland's regulations. A new form (TPR-C) was introduced in 2019 that requires taxpayers to provide financials connected with the transactions and compare them with the results of the benchmarking studies. Additionally, since 2022, this form consists of the Management Board confirmation that:

- The Local File has been prepared correctly and in line with business reality.
- The transfer prices set in documented transactions are at arm's length.

The TPR-C form must be signed and submitted electronically by individual taxpayer (in case of PIT) or Management Board member (in case of CIT). There is an option to sign/submit the form by special proxy: tax advisor, certified accountant, advocate. Before 2022 TPR-C and the statement were to be submitted separately.

Based on the Polish TP regulations, the Local File should cover:

- Method of transfer price calculation, along with the assumptions applied (standard TP verification method choice is insufficient)
- Description of market analysis
- The transaction values as well as the amounts actually transferred
- Detailed contact data of the counterparties
- The functional analysis with somewhat more details than the OECD standard, mainly reflected by the requirement to describe each risk also from the perspective of the "ability to bear it" by the parties
- Documents that are the legal basis for the transaction

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

▪ Additional details

There is none specified in the regulations. However, BEPS Action 13 does not fully cover explicit Local File requirements based on tax authority's practice. For example, the Master File in Poland must refer not only to countries where certain related entities, R&D centers, etc. are located (as in BEPS standard) but provide detailed seat or place of management address.

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes. Transfer pricing regulations (binding from January 2017 and from January 2016 for CbCR) introduced fundamental changes to the scope of the mandatory transfer pricing documentation reflecting the guidelines of BEPS Action 13, as outlined below:

Local File and Master File (see next section for thresholds), requiring the presentation in the transfer pricing documentation

Group transfer pricing policy and information about local transactions, but with the justification for the adopted methods of calculating remuneration and confirmation of the arm's-length character of prices, including benchmarking analyses, detailed financial data showing the impact of the transactions on the profits and losses and income of the company, organizational and reporting structures, and other information

Benchmarking analyses mandatory for each entity that is obligated to prepare the documentation

Inclusion of method of transfer price calculation, along with the assumptions applied, in the Local File

Parent company to prepare the CbCR for capital groups with consolidated revenues or costs of more than EUR750 million Further, the Local File needs to be contemporaneous and should be prepared and certified within 10 months of the end of the respective fiscal year.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes. The whole documentation needs to be updated annually with the financial data and facts being reviewed. Benchmarking studies must be updated at least every three years. The Local File needs to be prepared within 10 months of the end of the respective fiscal year, while the Master File - within 12 months of the end of the respective fiscal year.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes (per entity and per fiscal year)

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Value of international transactions

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

The Local File and Master File sections for thresholds are applicable.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

EUR750 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

The report is mandatory in case of consolidated revenues or costs of more than EUR750 million.

- Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

PLN200 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

From 2019, taxpayers are obliged to prepare a Master File only if all of the following conditions are met:

The entity is required to prepare local documentation

The entity belongs to the group of related entities for which consolidated financial statements are prepared

Consolidated revenues of the group exceeded PLN200 million (approximately USD50 million) in the previous financial year

- Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

PLN10 million/PLN2 million/PLN2.5 million/PLN0.5 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

From 2019, the obligation to prepare Local File documentation applies to related entities that conducted transactions meeting the thresholds presented below. The materiality thresholds for particular transactions to include in the Local File for 2023 and 2024 are:

PLN10 million: commodity and financial transactions

PLN2 million: service transactions, profit allocation to foreign branches and transactions involving immaterial values, any other transaction

PLN2.5 million: in case of financial transactions conducted with entities from tax havens

PLN0.5 million: in case of transactions other than financial conducted with entities from tax havens

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

Yes

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Since 2019, benchmarking is mandatory for every transaction that meets the Local File threshold.

- Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

The law mandates the use of the Polish language in Local File documentation. There is no formal requirement for Master File documentation to be in Polish; however, the tax authorities can request a Polish version of the document. Since 2019, a regulation exists stating that there will be 30 days to prepare such a translation upon request.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Yes

- Additional details

Since 2019, the regulations introduced safe harbor markup rates for low-value-added services at the minimum level of 5% for the provision of services and a maximum of 5% for the purchase of services.

Additionally, safe harbor rules were introduced for loans fulfilling the requirements listed in Article 11g of the CIT Act. The "safe" rate is annually published by the Ministry of Finance. At the time of creating this document, the acceptable base rates are:

- Warsaw Interbank Offer Rate (WIBOR) 3M, Warsaw Interest Rate Overnight (WIRON) 3M Compound Rate for PLN
- 90-day Average Secured Overnight Financing Rate (SOFR) for USD
- Euro Interbank Offer Rate (EURIBOR) 3M for EUR
- Swiss Average Rate Overnight (SARON) 3 months Compound Rate for CHF
- Sterling Overnight Index Average (SONIA) 3M Compound Rate for GBP

while the safe margin is minimum 2.0% for lender and maximum 2.6% for borrower.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

- Additional details

The regulations require individual testing. However, they also allow for compensation between transactions concluded with a particular related party. In this context, consolidated approach is possible.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

Since 2019, a new TPR-C form has been introduced. All taxpayers obligated to prepare a Local File, and those exempted due to the fact that transactions were only conducted with domestic-related entities, have to file this new electronic report within 11 months from the year-end. In the TPR-C, the taxable person must include detailed information, including results of benchmarking analysis or transfer pricing adjustments if applicable, along with various profitability indicators. Since 2022 Polish taxpayers are obligated to file within eleven months from the year-end a statement confirming the preparation of Local File documentation in line with the requirement. As indicated in the justification for the law, tax authorities expect that this document will be signed by a member of the management board. Since the beginning of 2019, this official statement also had to confirm that all documented transactions were conducted at arm's-length value. Furthermore, the statement had to be signed by the entity's managing director or by all board members empowered to representations. From 2022 the TPR-C form and the statement were integrated into one new TPR-C document. Except information on related-party transactions (as mentioned above), the TPR-C form has a statement that:

- The Local File has been prepared correctly and in line with business reality.
- The transfer prices set in documented transactions are at arm's length.

The TPR-C form must be signed and submitted electronically by individual taxpayer (in case of PIT) or Management Board member (in case of CIT). There is an option to sign/submit the form by special proxy: tax advisor, certified accountant, advocate.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Information about related-party transactions is one of the elements of the annual income tax return. Taxpayers are also required to indicate in the return whether they were required to prepare transfer pricing documentation. Taxpayers transacting with related entities are subject to the following reporting and information requirements:

- Disclosing in annual income tax returns whether the taxpayer was required to prepare statutory transfer pricing documentation of transactions with related entities
- Reporting agreements with non-residents to the Polish tax authorities; such information to be submitted within three months of the end of a tax year (by filing the ORD-U form), and this reporting requirement applies to agreements in which:
 - A one-off amount of receivables or liabilities resulting from the agreement with a non-resident exceeds EUR5,000 and the non-resident owns an enterprise, branch or representative office in Poland.
 - The total amount of liabilities or receivables resulting from all agreements concluded with the same non-resident in the tax year exceeds EUR300,000.
 - One party to the agreement participates directly or indirectly in the management or control of the other party to the agreement or has a share in its capital entitling it to at least 5% of all voting rights.
 - Another entity, not being party to an agreement, at the same time participates directly or indirectly in the management or control of each party to the agreement or has a share in their capital entitling it to at least 5% of all voting rights in each of the parties to the agreement. If the taxpayer is obliged to file TPR-C form, ORD-U filing obligation is repealed.
- Preparing information about payments to non-residents from which withholding tax is collected and submitting it to the tax office responsible for taxation of foreign persons and to the beneficiary of the payment by the end of the third month of the year following the tax year in which withholding tax was paid (IFT-2/IFT-2 form).
- Those taxpayers that have obtained an APA decision from the Polish Minister of Finance must submit, along with their annual CIT return, a progress report (APA-C) on the implementation of the method stipulated in the APA decision. The format of this report is detailed in the Ministry of Finance Decree of 23 December 2019, which contains the model report on the implementation of a selected transfer pricing method for CIT purposes (Journal of Laws No. 99, Item 687). The obligation of preparing transfer pricing documentation would not apply to transactions for which a taxpayer obtains an APA. Poland transposed a number of the measures set out in the European Union Anti-Tax Avoidance Directive (ATAD). As such, this includes, among other things, a PLN3 million or 30% earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization (EBITDA) interest limitation rule and changes to the controlled foreign company (CFC) legislation, which may broaden the scope of foreign subsidiaries that meet CFC criteria.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

According to the Polish Accounting Act, the information regarding the transactions with related entities must be presented in the financial statement in note 7.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

CbCR notification is not included in the statutory tax return, it is a separate document that must be submitted to the tax office within the deadline.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

There are no additional information or documents to be filed apart from those presented above.

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

31 March if financial year is the same as calendar year

▪ Additional details

The filing deadline for the CIT return is three months from the fiscal year-end.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

30 November if financial year is the same as calendar year

- Additional details

Taxpayers are also required to submit an electronic form (TPR-C form), which must be submitted within eleven months after the end of the Fiscal Year and should contain information on the transactions carried out with related entities.

- Submission/filing date: 11 months since fiscal year-end

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

The Master File must be prepared (not submitted) for each fiscal year in 12 months from the fiscal year-end.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December if financial year is the same as calendar year.

- Additional details

The filing deadline for the CbCR is 12 months from the fiscal year-end. It may be filed by the taxpayer being a headquarters or as a surrogate entity indicated by the headquarters. The CbCR must be filed on annual basis, whether or not there were changes to the report.

CbCR for locally headquartered companies

Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared): 12 months since fiscal year-end

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

31 March if financial year is the same as calendar year

- Additional details

The filing deadline for the CbCR notification is three months from the fiscal year-end. The CbCR notification must be filed on annual basis, whether or not there were changes to the report. Each entity must file its own CbCR notification.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

Within 10 months after year-end

- Additional details

For FY 2022 and following years, it is 10 months from the fiscal year-end.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

No, but it must be provided within seven days (for Local Files covering years to 2021) or 14 days (for Local Files covering 2022 and the following years) upon the request of the tax authorities.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The documentation should be submitted within seven/14 days of the request.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

- a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

Generally, the transfer pricing methods accepted by the tax authorities are based on the OECD Guidelines. These methods are the CUP, resale price, cost-plus, profit-split and TNMM. The most appropriate method for assessing income should be chosen. Regulations binding from 1 January 2019 changed the approach of selecting transfer pricing method used for the purpose of assessing income in related-party transactions. Previously (also for 2018) the traditional methods (CUP, resale-minus and cost-plus) were indicated as first-choice methods. Currently, the division of methods into two groups has been terminated; taxpayers can choose independently the most appropriate method for them. Also, if the use of these five methods is impossible, taxpayers can choose another, most appropriate one, including valuation methods. During the selection process, tax authorities will consider:

- The specifics of the transaction, including the parties' contribution to the transaction

- Access to reliable data about similar transactions and companies in the market
- Comparability of the respective transactions and companies. If a taxpayer has determined the arm's-length value of a transaction by applying one of the accepted methods and tax authorities wouldn't be able to find objective reasons that another method would fit better for economic situation of taxpayer, the method is also binding for them.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Since 1 January 2019, there is no indication that benchmarking analysis should cover local entities. However, in paneuropean samples the tax authorities seek for Polish comparables.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

There is a preference for multiyear testing although not expressed in the regulations. EY Poland usually provides a three-year or five-year analysis.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

There is no formal requirement to determine a particular point in the range, but generally, the interquartile range is a starting point to consider the arm's-length price (however, there is no particular regulation in this regard).

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

Fresh benchmarking does not need to be conducted every year, but financial data for the final sample is recommended to be updated on annual basis. A fresh benchmark is required every three years or in case of significant change in the economic environment.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is a preference for the weighted average for arm's-length analysis (not mentioned in the regulations).

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

Taxpayers should present financial indicators both accepted and rejected during the preparation of benchmarking analysis. Taxpayers are obligated to present part of the information used for benchmarking analysis in electronic form, which enables editing, formatting and sorting data.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- i. What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?
- In Polish legislation there is no difference in penalty for false, incomplete, or late preparation of the documentation or submission of necessary statements.

- ii. What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

For failure to furnish the CbCR, the individual(s) responsible may face a fine of up to 240 daily rates (i.e., EUR3.3 million) (Article 80d Section 3 KKS).

- iii. What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

The failure to furnish Master File is treated as the lack of preparation of TP documentation, thus the individual(s) responsible may face a fine of up to 720 daily rates (i.e., up to approximately EUR9.9 million) (Article 56c Section 1 KKS).

- iv. Are there any other penalties?

If the tax authorities mention that the tax loss has been overstated or the tax profit has been understated, they can levy an additional penalty tax rate of 10% (over the standard 19% rate) (Article 58b Section 1 Tax Ordinance Act). The rate indicated in Article 58b is doubled if:

- The basis for determining additional tax liability exceeds PLN15 million – for the excess over this amount.
- Ten years have not passed since the end of the calendar year in which the taxpayer or payer received the final decision regarding additional taxation.
- The party did not submit to the tax authority the tax documentation.

In the event that together the conditions mentioned in points 1 and 3 arise, the rate is tripled.

Point 3 is not taken into consideration if the documentation in full scope is delivered to the tax authorities within the time frame specified by the tax authority, not longer than 14 days. Moreover, the persons responsible for tax matters locally may be penalized based on the penal and fiscal code for noncompliance (with a fine or imprisonment, depending on materiality of the case). As a result, the magnitude of the risk may be measured by the exposure to personal penal responsibility of the company's representatives. A summary of Fiscal Penal Code (KKS) regulations is below:

- For unreliable preparation of TP documentation, false information in TP documentation, lack of TP documentation: a fine of up to 720 daily rates (i.e., up to approximately EUR9.9 million) (Article 56c Section 1 KKS)
- For late preparation of the TP documentation: a fine of up to 240 daily rates (i.e., up to approximately EUR3.3 million)
- For lack of submission of TPR-C form, false information in TPR-C form, or discrepancy of information between TPR-C form and the Local File: a fine of up to 720 daily rates (i.e., up to approximately EUR9.9 million) (Article 80e Section 1 KKS)
- For late submission of the TPR-C form: a fine of up to 240 daily rates (i.e., up to approximately EUR3.3 million) (Article 80e Section 2 KKS)
- For missing or failure in the delivery of the required tax documentation: a fine of up to 120 daily rates (i.e., up to approximately EUR1.65 million) (Article 80 Section 1 KKS)
- For submission of false information: a fine of up to 240 daily rates (i.e., EUR3.3 million) (Article 80 Section 3 KKS)
- Failure to monitor compliance of the business activities with the regulations: a fine up to 20 daily rates (i.e., up to approximately EURO.275 million) (Article 84 Section 1 KKS)

The above KKS penalties might impact the board members and the person responsible for the tax settlements of the taxpayer.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

- Additional details

For unreliable preparation of TP documentation the individual(s) responsible may face a fine of up to 720 daily rates (i.e., up to approximately EUR9.9 million) (Article 56c Section 1 KKS).

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

- Additional details

Due to false information in TP documentation the individual(s) responsible may face a fine of up to 720 daily rates (i.e., up to approximately EUR9.9 million) (Article 56c Section 1 KKS).

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes. The current rate is 15% (since 7 September 2023).

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

It will be there if the taxpayer supplements the documentation in a full scope in time indicated by tax authorities, but not longer than 14 days. There will be no increase in the penalty rate for the lack of the documentation (Article 58c § 3 Tax Ordinance Act).

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

There are no special time limit provisions applicable to intercompany transactions. The general statute of limitations for tax assessment applies, in accordance with the Tax Ordinance Act. Under Article 70 Section 1 of the Tax Ordinance Act, tax liability shall expire after five years from the end of the calendar year in which the tax falls due.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The possibility of an annual transfer pricing audit, in general, has been high since the beginning of 2016. The deepest scrutiny is put on the biggest taxpayers with a given financial position (e.g., incurring losses, with significant revenues but low profitability, claiming an overpaid tax return, with very low profitability, or with fluctuating revenues or EBIT).

Polish tax authorities in 2017 acquired access to the Orbis database, purchasing more licenses. This information will allow them to conduct more detailed screenings of entities before starting tax audits and help them make a more precise selection of entities for audits.

There is a high possibility that the transfer pricing methodology will be challenged if transfer pricing is reviewed as part of the audit. The tax authorities usually engage in a dedicated transfer pricing audit if they notice irregularities in intercompany settlements or believe that the financial result is biased by transfer pricing. In such cases, they often challenge the transfer pricing methodology applied. The 2019 rules introduced the possibility of recharacterization of a transaction or even declaring a transaction nonexistent (not influencing the tax result) if the tax authorities assess that unrelated parties would not partake in such a transaction. Moreover, with the introduction of TPR-C form reporting, tax authorities gained a tool to effectively gather information which enable to choose the taxpayers to audit. This data allowed the tax offices to audit particular cases, which emerged as red flags in the TPR-C forms.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

There is no specific regulation on transfer pricing adjustment to any point in the market range; however, the key aspect is to remain within the market range and be able to justify any targeted point within that range.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

In practice, there is no focus on any particular industry. The authorities try to focus on an automated approach, e.g., reviewing TPR-C forms to find loss makers or limited risk companies with highly variable financial results or companies with high spending on intragroup services. In case of the controlled financial transactions, the authorities focus on free-of-charge guarantees/sureties. In other cases, the authorities spotlight fluctuation of net results (particularly recurring losses), significant decreases of revenues, new transactions with material amounts, as well as changes in TP models (particularly restructuring and potential exit fees).

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Under Polish rules, unilateral, bilateral and multilateral APAs are available. There are no transaction value limits to be covered by the APAs. To submit an application for an APA, the taxpayer must pay a fee, usually 1% of the transaction value. The Tax Ordinance Act sets the following fee limits:

- Unilateral APA: PLN5,000 to PLN50,000
- Unilateral APA concerning a foreign entity: PLN20,000 to PLN100,000
- Bilateral or multilateral APA: PLN50,000 to PLN200,000 The APA Act precisely defines the terms under which the APA procedure is to be completed:
- The unilateral APA must be issued without unnecessary delay within six months of the start of the APA application procedure.
- The bilateral APA must be issued without unnecessary delay within 12 months of the start of the APA application procedure.
- The multilateral APA must be issued without unnecessary delay within 18 months of the start of the APA application procedure.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The period for which the APA may be concluded is no longer than five years. The APA may be extended for another five years if the criteria applied in concluding the APA have not changed or the entity applies for an extension of the APA (i) no sooner than 12 months before the expiry of the APA and (ii) no later than six months after the expiry of the APA.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

An APA may cover the year the APA application is submitted.

d. Is MAP available?

Yes. Taxpayers may request a MAP if taxation has or is likely to occur that is not in accordance with the provisions of a double taxation treaty (DTT) to which Poland is signatory. The application should be submitted no later than three years from delivery to the taxpayer or an entity related to the taxpayer's control protocol or tax decision that leads or may lead to double taxation, unless the double taxation agreement, which forms the basis for submitting the application, specifies another term. The three-year period begins on the first of the following dates: the date of delivery of the control report or the date of delivery of the tax decision. Application should be supplemented with:

- Transfer pricing documentation
- Financial statement
- Relevant agreements
- Benchmarking analysis
- Protocols from tax control or tax decisions regarding double taxation
- Correspondence with foreign tax authorities concerning adjustments

From 2019, the taxpayer must confirm (in a separate statement or in the TPR-C form) that "the prices have been set in accordance with arm's-length conditions." This means that interest rate is not the only characteristic that must be tested. In fact, the standard interest rate benchmarking study should be the last step of a robust arm's-length analysis. Although such a full analysis is not specifically defined in the Polish CIT Act, one must take into consideration that the new regulations also include a possibility to "recharacterize" any transaction, i.e., act as it did not happen or happened under different (arm's length) circumstances. According to Article 11c of the CIT Act, if the tax authority considers that in comparable circumstances, unrelated entities guided by economic viability would not conclude a given controlled transaction or would conclude another transaction, the income (loss) of the taxpayer might be determined without taking into account the controlled transaction, and where justified, the tax authorities shall determine the income (loss) of the taxpayer earned (incurred) by the taxpayer based on the "proper" transaction. For example, in case of an intercompany loan, if the tax authorities assess that the borrower is not able to carry and service some amount of debt, this part may be recharacterized as an equity, and the interests from that part of the financing will not be tax-deductible. The so-called "debt capacity" analysis will therefore become required more often.

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

Yes

b. Name of authority

Not applicable

c. Name of regulations

Polish Accounting Act, dated 29 September 1994 (Journal of Laws 2023, Item 120, as amended)

d. Effective date of applicability

Fiscal years beginning after 22 June 2024

e. Section reference from local regulation

Articles 631-o of the Polish Accounting Act

14. PCbCR thresholds and exemptions

a. What is the global consolidated income threshold?

Consolidated revenues of PLN3,500,000,000 (approx. EUR750,000,000)

b. Are there any materiality exemptions?

No

▪ Additional details

The regulations require public disclosure of income tax paid and other tax details by:

- Highest-level parent companies or independent entities based in Poland if their revenues in the annual consolidated financial statements exceed PLN3,500,000,000 (approx. EUR750,000,000) for two consecutive financial years, provided at least one subsidiary (or branch) of the group operates outside Poland. Groups operating solely in Poland are exempt from CbC-R reporting.
- Subsidiaries based in Poland if they do not qualify as micro or small enterprises under the Accounting Act, are controlled by a parent company outside the European Economic Area (EEA) with consolidated revenues exceeding EUR750,000,000 for two consecutive financial years.
- Branches operating in Poland if their revenues exceed PLN51,000,000 for two consecutive financial years, and the parent company (independent or in a group) is based outside the EEA with consolidated revenues exceeding EUR750,000,000 for two consecutive financial years.

The obligation to publicly report CbC applies to all mentioned entities if all conditions in a given category are met. Companies required to report must submit their reports to the publicly accessible commercial register (KRS) and publish reports on their websites. The PCbC-R must be publicly accessible for at least five years.

15. Content

a. Does PCbCR align with OECD BEPS Action 13 CbCR requirements?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

b. Is aggregation of transactions allowed?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

c. Can you provide data sources and guidance?

Not applicable

16. Lodgment process and requirements

a. Is lodgment possible?

Yes

▪ Additional details

PCbCR may be prepared by a highest-level parent company.

b. Is lodgment in another jurisdiction possible?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

c. Is lodgment required in a prescribed form and format?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The PCbCR report is prepared in Polish. The obligations (to prepare the PCbCR report in Polish (and Polish currency)) do not apply if the PCbCR report of the highest-level parent entity or an independent entity meets all of the following conditions: 1) is prepared by the highest-level parent entity, or an independent unit; 2) is made available free of charge, within 12 months after the balance sheet date, in electronic form in a machine-readable format, on the website of the highest-level parent entity or independent entity in at least one official language of a country belonging to the EEA, for a period of at least five years.

d. What is the lodgment deadline?

Entities subject to the obligation of public CbC reporting will have to publish reports within 12 months from the year-end date.

17. Penalties

a. What are the maximum administrative penalties?

Penalty of fine (even up to PLN2 million) and/or deprivation of liberty

Additional details

If the parent company does not publish the PCbCR, the Polish subsidiary is obligated to take specific actions:

- Notification to the parent company: The Polish subsidiary should contact the parent company to obtain the missing information and request the publication of the PCbCR. This is a crucial step, as the subsidiary must demonstrate that it has attempted to obtain the required data.
- Preparation of its own report: If the parent company does not provide the report, the Polish subsidiary is required to independently prepare and publish the PCbCR. It should include information that the subsidiary possesses as well as data obtained from other sources.
- Statement of the absence of the report: The report should contain a statement indicating that the parent company has not published the required PCbCR nor provided the necessary information for its preparation.

b. Is there any risk of criminal prosecution?

Yes

- Additional details

A manager within an entity (as defined in the Polish Accounting Act) may face the penalty of imprisonment for up to two years for infringement of the PCbCR obligations.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Portuguese Tax and Customs Authority (Autoridade Tributária e Aduaneira)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Article 63 of the Corporate Income Tax (CIT) Code (CITC) articulates the arm's-length principle, and Article 130 introduces submission obligations of TP documentation for taxpayers under the authority of the Large Taxpayers Unit. These provisions were updated by Law No. 119/ 2019 on 18 September 2019. Decree-Ruling 268/ 2021 of 26 November (TP Decree- Ruling), effective on 27 November 2021, sets the rules for the application of Article 63 and the TP documentation requirements for eligible taxpayers. Articles 121-A and 121-B of the CITC cover the obligation for multinational groups to submit CbCR and, for its constituent entities, to communicate the reporting entity. A detailed APA procedure, setting out the APA submission requirements, process and fees, was updated by Decree-Ruling 267/ 2021 of 26 November (effective on 27 November 2021) and is currently foreseen in Article 138 of the CITC (updated by Law No. 119/ 2019 on 18 September 2019).

c. Effective date of applicability

No date specified

d. Section reference from local regulation

According to article 63(4) of the CITC, two entities are considered to be in a situation of "special relationship" if one has the power to exercise, directly or indirectly, a significant influence on the management decisions of the other. This may occur between:

- An entity and the holders of the respective capital, or their spouses, ancestors or descendants, who hold, directly or indirectly, a stake of not less than 20% of the capital or voting rights
- Entities in which the same shareholders, respective spouses, ancestors or descendants, hold, directly or indirectly, a stake of not less than 20% of the capital or voting rights
- An entity and the members of its company bodies, or of any administrative, management, directorial or supervisory bodies and the respective spouses, ancestors or descendants
- Entities in which the majority of the members of the company bodies, or the members of any administrative, management, directorial or supervisory bodies, are the same persons or, where they are different persons, they are linked to one another by marriage, a legally recognized union or direct blood relationship

- Entities linked by subordination contract, by a similar group contract or by other of equivalent effect
- Companies in a relation of control, as defined in article 486 of the Companies Code
- Companies whose legal relationship allows, by its terms and conditions, one to condition the management decisions of the other, according to facts or circumstances unrelated to the commercial or professional relationship itself
- A resident or non-resident company with a permanent establishment in Portuguese territory and an entity subject to a clearly more favorable tax regime resident in a jurisdiction, territory or region on the list approved by Order of the Minister of Finance

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

- Additional details

Portugal is a member of the OECD. The Portuguese regulations and tax practice follow the OECD Guidelines, and in cases of greater technical complexity, the TP Decree-Ruling indicates that it is advisable to consult the reports produced by the OECD in TP matters. Business restructurings are specifically addressed in the Portuguese TP regulations as transactions that must rely on the arm's-length principle; however, the approaches stated in Chapter IX of the OECD Guidelines are likely to affect the TP interpretations in the context of audit procedures. The part of Action 13 of the OECD BEPS Action Plan devoted to CbCR has been introduced in Portugal.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

The report should be consistent with OECD requirements (i.e., group consolidated revenue of EUR750 million).

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2016.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

A three-tier documentation format as per BEPS Action 13 (Master File, Local File and CbCR) has been formally prescribed in local legislation, as per the TP Decree-Ruling. There are, however, specific requirements foreseen in the Portuguese legislation concerning the contents of the Master File which are additional to those foreseen by the OECD. Annex I (1-11.2) of the TP Decree-Ruling states the information that should be included in the Master File.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The TP Decree-Ruling came into force on 27 November of 2021. However, the previous Decree-Ruling 1446-C/2001 of 21 December, 2001 shall apply for the tax periods beginning prior to 1 January 2021.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

The documentation must follow the format prescribed in TP Decree-Ruling. There are specific requirements foreseen in the Portuguese legislation, which are additional to those foreseen by the OECD, concerning the contents of the Master File (e.g., net profit/loss for the last three taxable periods and taxes paid; summary of the controlled transactions values within the group, by nature and counterparty, for the last three taxable periods). Annex I (1-11.2) of the TP Decree-Ruling states the information that should be included in the Master File.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

A three-tier documentation format as per BEPS Action 13 (Master File, Local File and CbCR) has been formally prescribed in local legislation, as per the TP Decree-Ruling. There are, however, specific requirements foreseen in the Portuguese legislation concerning the contents of the Local File which are additional to those foreseen by the OECD. Annex I (1-11.2) of the TP Decree-Ruling states the information that should be included in the Local File.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The TP Decree-Ruling has come into force on 27 November of 2021. However, the previous Decree-Ruling 1446-C/2001 of 21 December shall apply for the tax periods beginning prior to 1 January 2021.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

The documentation must follow the format prescribed in TP Decree-Ruling. There are specific requirements foreseen in the Portuguese legislation, which are additional to those foreseen by the OECD, concerning the contents of the Local File (e.g., declaration of responsibility, issued by third-party entities, for the information and techniques used in technical studies prepared by them, and the independence criteria differs from other countries). Annex I (1-11.2) of the TP Decree-Ruling states the information that should be included in the Local File.

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no penalty protection regime in Portugal. The documentation will only be accepted as complete if fully compliant with the format prescribed in TP Decree-Ruling.

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

▪ Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

Yes

▪ Additional details

According to the TP Decree-Ruling, there are two distinct documentation models: the standard and the simplified. The standard model consists of a Master File and a Local File, which must be delivered together, each containing a set of elements specified in detail in the annexes to the TP Decree-Ruling, and applies to taxpayers with total annual income of EUR10 million or more. Taxpayers under the authority of the Large Taxpayers Unit and with total annual income of EUR10 million or more have to submit their TP documentation consistent with the standard model within the deadline. The simplified model will apply to taxpayers who, not being followed by the Large Taxpayers Unit and not covered by the exemptions already mentioned, are qualified as a small or medium-sized enterprise, following the terms set out in the annex to Decree-Law No. 372/ 2007 of 6 November. The legislation explicitly provides that the documentation obligation is considered fulfilled only when the documentation submitted contains all relevant information relating to the controlled transactions in which the taxable person has been involved. Despite the documentation exemptions foreseen in the law, any taxpayer may be requested to submit documentation regarding its controlled transactions upon request from the Portuguese tax authority. Normally, the deadline for the presentation of the documentation in this case should be 10 days. The exemptions referred to in the preceding paragraph do not cover the controlled transactions carried out with natural or legal persons residing outside the territory of Portugal and are subject to a more favorable tax regime, following paragraphs 1 or 5 of Article 63-D of the General Tax Law nor, as stated above, when the taxable person is notified to prove that the terms and conditions practiced in the controlled transactions are in accordance with the arm's-length principle.

▪ Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

▪ Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

▪ TP documentation

▪ Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

▪ If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Turnover

▪ Is there any other threshold?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Entities with total annual income of EUR10 million will be required to prepare the documentation within the deadline foreseen in the law. If this threshold is exceeded, an exemption shall apply to controlled transactions whose value in the period has not exceeded, per counterparty, EUR100,000 and, in total, EUR500,000, considering their market value. However, all companies, irrespective of the materiality of their controlled transactions, may be requested to present documentation to support the arm's-length nature of such transactions if notified by the Portuguese tax authority to do so.

▪ CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

EUR750 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

The report should be consistent with OECD requirements (i.e., group consolidated revenue of EUR750 million).

▪ Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

Not specified

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

This is applicable (with local requirements). Entities with total annual income of EUR10 million will be required to prepare the documentation (Local File and Master File).

▪ Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

Entities with total annual income of EUR10 million will be required to prepare the documentation within the deadline foreseen in the law. If this threshold is exceeded, an exemption shall apply to controlled transactions whose value in the period has not exceeded, per counterparty, EUR100,000 and, in total, EUR500,000, considering their market value.

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

If the EUR10 million threshold is exceeded, an exemption shall apply to controlled transactions whose value in the period has not exceeded, per counterparty, EUR100,000 and, in total, EUR500,000, considering their market value.

▪ Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

The law mandates the use of Portuguese in TP documentation. However, before submission to the Portuguese tax authority, it is possible to request the presentation in a foreign language.

▪ Is a safe harbor available?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Entities with total annual income of EUR10 million will be required to prepare the documentation within the deadline foreseen in the law. If this threshold is exceeded, an exemption shall apply to controlled transactions whose value in the period has not exceeded, per counterparty, EUR100,000 and, in total, EUR500,000, considering their market value.

▪ Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

▪ Additional details

Individual testing is preferred. Aggregation is allowed only if certain conditions are met.

▪ Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

Yes

An obligation is established for third parties to issue a statement of responsibility regarding the information and techniques used in technical studies requested by the taxpayer in the preparation of the TP documentation.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The main disclosure requirements at this level are contained in annex A, B, C and H (TP annex) of the Annual Tax and Accounting Information Return (IES), which include (on a yearly basis) the following information:

- Identification of the related entities
- Transactions conducted with each of the related parties
- Confirmation that proper contemporaneous (annual)

TP documentation is prepared on a timely basis and is currently retained. The deadline for the submission of such return corresponds to the 15th day of the seventh month after the corresponding tax year-end. Taxpayers must state in good faith in this annual return that they have complied with the contemporaneous documentation requirements. Misleading information may result in tax penalties and criminal proceedings.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

▪ Additional details

In the corporate income tax return the taxpayer is expected to adjust in favor of the Portuguese state the positive impact of any deviations from the arm's-length principle.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No, but it should be submitted on the same date. The deadline for submission for the CbCR notification is the end of the fifth month following the fiscal year-end.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

31 May

▪ Additional details

The CIT return should be filed on or before the last day of the fifth month following tax year-end or on 31 May, if the fiscal year coincides with the calendar year.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

15th day of the seventh month after the end of the fiscal year

- Additional details

The IES, including the specific TP annexes, should be filed until the 15th day of the seventh month after the end of the fiscal year or on 15 July if the fiscal year coincides with the calendar year.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

15th day of the seventh month after the end of the fiscal year

- Additional details

The deadline for the submission of Master File (and Local File) is the 15th day of the seventh month following the fiscal year-end (applicable only to the taxpayers under the authority of the Large Taxpayers Unit).

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

The deadline for submission of the CbCR is the end of the 12th month following the fiscal year-end.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

31 May

- Additional details

The deadline for the submission of the CbCR notification is the end of the fifth month following the fiscal year-end. Annual submission is required. No requirement for multiple entities in is required.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

15th day of the seventh month after the end of the fiscal year

- Additional details

The statutory deadline for the preparation of TP documentation is the 15th day of the seventh month following the fiscal year-end.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes, taxpayers followed by the Large Taxpayers Unit have to submit TP documentation prepared according to the format prescribed in TP Decree-Ruling within the deadline for submission of the IES, i.e., until the 15th day of the seventh month after the end of the fiscal year or on 15 July if the fiscal year coincides with the calendar year.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The taxpayer is normally given 10 days' notice to submit the TP documentation once requested by the tax authorities in an audit or inquiry.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

- a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

The TP methods hierarchy was removed from the TP Decree-Ruling, aligning it with Article 63 of the CIT Code. Taxpayers are entitled to use any of the accepted TP methods (comparable uncontrolled price method, resale price method, cost-plus method, profit-split method and transactional net margin method). If the controlled transaction is unique (real estate rights, unlisted companies' share capital, credit rights, intangible property) or if there is a lack of available data regarding potentially comparable transactions, the taxpayer may adopt other methods, techniques or models of economic assets valuation when the traditional methods are not viable. Nonetheless, when using other methods, techniques or models of economic assets valuation, the taxpayer needs to describe and explain the method and the rationale of its selection. The TP Decree-Ruling adopts the principle of the prevalence of substance over form since the applicable regulations now determine that controlled transactions' terms and conditions to be considered are those in force, even if those terms and conditions are distinct from the ones contractually formalized.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

- a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There is a preference for local comparables and if not so, Iberian comparables; if these prove scarce, European comparables may be accepted.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

The tested party's single-year results are usually tested against multiple-year interquartile ranges.

Spreadsheet interquartile range calculations are used following general statistics rules for respective calculations.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

The benchmarking search may remain valid for three years (with an update of the financials), provided that the facts and circumstances surrounding the transactions have not materially changed. One of the aspects to be confirmed annually is whether the 20% independence threshold specified in the Portuguese legislation is still met by all comparables included in the final set.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is a preference for the weighted average for arm's-length analysis.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

Local independence threshold (20%) and criteria must be used in benchmarking studies.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Failure to comply with documentation requirements may shift the burden of proof from the tax authorities to the taxpayer and the application of secret comparables.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Fine ranging between EUR500 and EUR20,000, plus 5% of daily interest

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Fine ranging between EUR500 and EUR20,000, plus 5% of daily interest

▪ Are there any other penalties?

Non-submission of the TP documentation and the lack of presentation of the CbCR are punishable with a fine ranging between EUR500 and EUR20,000, plus 5% of daily interest for each late day in delivering the relevant document. In addition, the General Regime on Tax Infractions (Regime Geral das Infrações Tributárias – RGIT) addresses penalties for the following situations:

- The taxpayer stated in the IES that the TP documentation was prepared and, despite being notified by the tax authorities to submit it, it was late in its delivery. The penalty related to late delivery can reach EUR20,000 per year and per company.
- The taxpayer does not state in the IES that the TP documentation was prepared but was notified by the tax authorities to submit it. The penalty for noncompliance related to an omission or lack of evidence in the IES can reach EUR45,000 per year and per company.
- The taxpayer stated in the IES that the TP documentation was prepared, and it was notified by the tax authorities to submit it, but the documentation was not prepared. The penalty for noncompliance related to improper fulfillment can reach EUR75,000 per year and per company.
- The taxpayer stated in the IES that the TP documentation was prepared but refused to submit it to the tax authorities (when duly requested). The penalty for noncompliance related to the refusal to submit TP documentation can reach EUR150,000 per year and per company.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

▪ Additional details

TP adjustments are subject to the general tax penalty regime. A late-payment interest penalty is also applicable for TP adjustments per year.

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes. Non-submission of the TP documentation and the lack of presentation of the CbCR are punishable with a fine ranging between EUR500 and EUR20,000, plus 5% of daily interest for each late day in delivering the relevant document.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

The general tax penalty regime applies in Portugal. The determination of penalties will be made on a case-by-case basis. Taxpayers can challenge adjustments and tax assessments at the administrative level and tax court.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

In Portugal, an assessment is possible during the four years after the end of the assessment year. All Portugal-based companies have a statutory obligation to keep their TP documentation available (at the Portuguese establishment or premises) and in good order for the relevant year for 10 years.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

The possibility of an annual tax audit, in general, may be considered to be medium, as is the possibility that TP will be reviewed as part of that audit. The risk becomes high when it comes to recurrent loss-making companies or business model conversions, especially those often involved in cross-border transactions. Companies followed by the Large Taxpayers Unit are more frequently audited.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

The TP methodology will be challenged if TP is reviewed as part of the audit. The possibility of an adjustment, if TP methodology is challenged, may be considered to be high.

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

To the median

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Transactions more likely to be audited include:

- Recurrent loss-making companies that often perform significant cross-border transactions
- Contradictions disclosed in the IES also lead to audits
- Companies with low profitability and considerable public exposure
- Financial transactions including cash pooling arrangements and guarantees are also likely to be scrutinized
- Restructuring operations are becoming increasingly more subject to audits

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Taxpayers are allowed to negotiate unilateral, bilateral and multilateral APAs. A detailed APA procedure, setting out the APA submission requirements, process and fees, was updated by Decree-Ruling 267/2021 of 26 November (effective on 27 November 2021) and is currently foreseen in Article 138 of the CITC (updated by Law No. 119/ 2019 on 18 September 2019). The previous Decree-Ruling 620-A/ 2008 of 16 July was repealed.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

APAs cannot exceed a four-year period, which may be renewable upon a written request to the tax authorities.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Yes, up to a two-year period under certain conditions.

d. Is MAP available?

Yes, taxpayers may request a MAP if taxation has or is likely to occur that is not in accordance with the provisions of a double tax treaty to which Portugal is signatory under Article 1(1) of the EU Arbitration Convention (90/436/EEC). Taxpayers may also request a MAP when income included in the profits of an enterprise of a contracting state are or may be equally included in the profits of an enterprise from another contracting state. In the case of negotiation of a unilateral APA, the taxpayer will be required to waive its right to apply to a MAP.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

Debt/equity rules according to the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidance on Financial Transactions should be observed.

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

Yes

b. Name of authority

Portuguese Tax and Customs Authority (Autoridade Tributária e Aduaneira)

c. Name of regulations

Decree-Law no. 73/2023 of August 23.

d. Effective date of applicability

Apply to financial years starting on or after 22 June 2024

e. Section reference from local regulation

14. PCbCR thresholds and exemptions

a. What is the global consolidated income threshold?

This reporting is mandatory for multinational groups with consolidated revenues of EUR750 million or more in each of the last two financial years, covering groups with a parent company based in the European Union or that operates in the European Union through a subsidiary or a branch and has a presence in more than one jurisdiction. The reporting also covers individual entities that meet this criterion.

b. Are there any materiality exemptions?

No

▪ Additional details

If the non-EU ultimate parent or stand-alone undertaking decides to draw up and make publicly available a report with requirements equivalent to the provisions of the Decree-Law, the subsidiary or branches are exempt from the obligation.

15. Content

a. Does PCbCR align with OECD BEPS Action 13 CbCR requirements?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The Decree-Law states that the report on income tax information of the ultimate parent or standalone undertaking must include, among others, the following information:

- Identification of the ultimate parent or standalone undertaking, fiscal year to which the report applies and currency
- Brief description of the nature of the activities
- Number of full-time employees
- Amount of revenues - including those from intercompany transactions
- Amount of profit or loss before income tax
- Amount of income tax accrued during the financial year to which the report relates

b. Is aggregation of transactions allowed?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Partly. The information must be disclosed on a disaggregated basis, i.e., on a country-by-country basis, for EU Member States and non-EU list of non-cooperative jurisdictions for tax purposes. Information related to other jurisdictions may be disclosed on an aggregated basis.

c. Can you provide data sources and guidance?

Decree-Law no. 73/2023 of August 23 (in Portuguese)

<https://files.diariodarepublica.pt/1s/2023/08/16300/0004600053.pdf>

16. Lodgment process and requirements

a. Is lodgment possible?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The report must be published on the website of the ultimate parent (or of a subsidiary or branch, if the ultimate parent is not based in the European Union).

b. Is lodgment in another jurisdiction possible?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The lodgment of the PCbC report lies with the UPE. Therefore, we assume that the Group files the PCbC in its website using the relevant format adopted by the EU Directive.

c. Is lodgment required in a prescribed form and format?

No

▪ Additional details

The information must be presented on the company's website in machine-readable electronic format. In addition, entities whose financial statements are subject to a statutory audit must state whether the company is obliged to publish this report for the previous period and, if so, whether the report has been published in accordance with the Decree-Law.

d. What is the lodgment deadline?

As foreseen in the Decree-Law, the corporate income tax information must be published as a report on the entity's website within a maximum period of 12 months after the date of the balance sheet of the fiscal year to which the report relates. The report, that must be prepared in the same language in which the Financial Statements are presented and in, at least one of the official languages of the European Union, must include information related to all the ultimate parent or standalone undertakings activities and remain publicly available for a minimum period of five consecutive years.

17. Penalties

a. What are the maximum administrative penalties?

The Decree-Law defines that the failure to prepare, publish or make the report and statement (when applicable) available on the website, is punishable with a fine of EUR1,500 to EUR30,000. The responsibility is collectively shared by the board members of the entities in-scope.

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

b. Is there any risk of criminal prosecution?

No

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

The Puerto Rico Department of the Treasury (Departamento de Hacienda de Puerto Rico) is the governmental authority that administers the Puerto Rico Internal Revenue Code of 2011, as amended (2011 Code) and other special tax laws. The tax authority that provides for transfer pricing matters is the 2011 Code and regulation under predecessor statute which is considered still in effect as noted below.

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

There are regulations to implement the provisions of Section 1047 of Act No. 120 of 31 October 1994, as amended, known as the Puerto Rico Internal Revenue Code of 1994, as amended (1994 Code). Regulations under Section 1047 came into effect 1 January 2001. Although the 1994 Code was repealed by the 2011 Code, regulations issued under the 1994 Code corresponding to their identical provisions in the 2011 Code shall continue in full force and will be effective until regulations under the 2011 Code are issued.

c. Effective date of applicability

1 January 2001. Prior to this date, as a result of the Puerto Rico income tax statute being modeled after an old version of the United States internal revenue code, the United States rules and jurisprudence is used as persuasive.

d. Section reference from local regulation

Articles 1047-1 through 1047-4 of the 1994 Code Regulations. Such articles regulate the current provisions of Section 1040.09 of the 2011 Code, which is equivalent to Section 1047 of the 1994 Code.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Even when not specifically required as to have written documentation but transactions between related parties/ controlled group of entities are governed by the transfer pricing regulation and highly recommended to have the same documented accordingly.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

No

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Unreliant

▪ Additional details

There is none. The rules are modeled after Section 482 of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and its regulations (U.S. Code).

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

No
-
- ### 3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements
-
- a. Applicability
 - Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?
Yes
 - If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?
Yes
 - Additional details
The 2011 Code disallows as a deduction for income tax purposes, 51% of certain intercompany expenses (51% disallowance) incurred by the taxpayer unless such taxpayer voluntarily provides, along with its income tax return, a transfer pricing study that includes an analysis of the operations taking place in Puerto Rico, prepared according to and in compliance with the requirements established in Section 482 of the U.S. Code. For tax years beginning after 31 December 2019, form AS 6175, Certification of Compliance with Sections 1033. 17(a) (16) and (17) of the 2011 Code must be completed and filed with the Puerto Rico Treasury Department's Unified System of Internal Revenue (Sistema Unificado de Rentas Internas – SURI). Form AS 6175 serves as a certification of compliance and certifies that a transfer pricing study has been issued and is available as of the income tax return filing due date. In the event the transfer pricing study is requested by the Puerto Rico Treasury Department, it must be provided within 30 calendar days after being requested. At the present time, the Puerto Rico Treasury Department has not issued regulations to further interpret these provisions. Note that apart from intercompany expenses limitation per above, the transfer pricing regulation provides the rules for transactions between related parties/controlled groups.
 - Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?
Yes
 - Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?
No
 - Additional details
However, when a transfer pricing study is prepared for purposes of not being subject to the 51% disallowance, taxpayers can reasonably rely on a certified transfer pricing study prepared for previous years, provided the facts and circumstances and relevant transactions in the tax year have not substantially changed since the certification of the transfer pricing study. Despite this, taxpayers need to submit annually form AS 6175 together with their income tax return.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?
 - No. The Puerto Rico Treasury Department has not issued regulations with respect to the impact of transfer pricing study provisions to MNEs with multiple entities in Puerto Rico. It is unclear whether MNEs with multiple entities may be able to submit consolidated transfer pricing studies to cover all the entities operating in Puerto Rico. Please note that to the extent the consolidated transfer pricing study includes each entity separately and addresses the Puerto Rico operations for each entity, there is no specific reference for such consolidated report not to be accepted. The Puerto Rico tax returns though are not filed on a consolidated basis. Therefore, there may be information included in the return of an affiliate with respect to other affiliates that may not be relevant or needed to be disclosed in such individual returns.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

Entities in Puerto Rico that are part of a group of controlled corporations or related entities must obtain an identification number from the Puerto Rico Treasury Department for the group. Such number must be included in their income tax return. There is certain general information that is gathered through questionnaire in the income tax return about the existence of group of related parties.

- c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Audited financial statements (AFS) are required when the volume of business is equal to or greater than USD10 million. In the case of members of a group of related entities, the combined volume of business of the group shall be taken into consideration to determine if the threshold has been met. Generally, the footnotes to the audited financial statements would provide disclosure about related parties transactions as required under United States generally accepted accounting principles and audit principles.

- d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No

- e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

- a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

15 April

- Additional details

Corporate income tax return filers with a calendar year must file their income tax return, or extension thereof, on or before 15 April following the close of the calendar year. Filers with a fiscal year period of accounting must file their income tax returns, or extension thereof, on or before the 15th day of the fourth month following the close of the fiscal year. If duly extended by the due date, the taxpayer will have an additional six months to file its income tax return.

- Submission/filing date Form AS 6175, Certification of Compliance with Sections 1033. 17(a)(16) and (17) of the Puerto Rico Internal Revenue Code confirming the availability of a transfer pricing study is required to be submitted together with the income tax return by the corresponding due date.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing study related to the 51% disallowance must be issued on or before the due date to file the income tax return, and Form AS 6175 must be filed along with the income tax return of the entity.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

If requested by the Puerto Rico Treasury Department, the transfer pricing study must be submitted within 30 calendar days after its request.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Reference would be made to Section 482 of the U.S. Code and customary benchmarking requirements used thereunder.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Reference would be made to Section 482 of the U.S. Code and customary benchmarking requirements used thereunder.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

Reference would be made to Section 482 of the U.S. Code and customary benchmarking requirements used thereunder.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

Reference would be made to Section 482 of the U.S. Code and customary benchmarking requirements used thereunder.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Reference would be made to Section 482 of the U.S. Code and customary benchmarking requirements used thereunder.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

Reference would be made to Section 482 of the U.S. Code and customary benchmarking requirements used thereunder.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

If Form AS 6175 is not completed by the corresponding due date, intercompany expenses will not be allowed as deduction in the entity's income tax return. Additionally, penalties can be assessed from 20% or 40%, in the case of gross valuation misstatements, of the amount assessed as deficiency. In the case of fraud, the penalty should be 100% of the amount assessed as deficiency.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

▪ Are there any other penalties?

Intercompany expenses are not allowed as deduction. In addition, penalties can be assessed from 20% or 40%, in the case of gross valuation misstatements, of the amount assessed as deficiency. In the case of fraud, the penalty should be 100% of the amount assessed as deficiency.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

Generally, the Puerto Rico Treasury Department may assess tax deficiencies up to four years after filing the income tax return or six years if 25% of income or more is omitted from the income tax return. Since Form AS 6175 certifying that a transfer pricing study is available, must be filed together with the income tax return, it would appear, the Secretary of the Treasury may challenge a transfer pricing study within the four-year or six-year period for assessment of deficiencies, as applicable.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Even when the Puerto Rico Treasury Department does not have the expertise on this area for purposes of conducting audit examinations, the Department could propose adjustments. However, as noted, these are very uncommon.

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

There is none specified.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Entities that are considered large taxpayers may be subject to increased likeliness of a tax audit, including entities under certain special tax regimes. However, the general audit risk is low.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

State tax regime: General Tax Authority (GTA). Please note that Qatar has a separate tax regime for taxpayers registered in Qatar Financial Centre (QFC). However, this regime is not further discussed, and the document focuses on the State tax regime.

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

State tax regime: Income Tax Law No. 24 of 2018 (Qatar Income Tax Law), the Executive Regulations to Tax Law No. 24 were issued on 11 December 2019 and the amendment issued on 16 May 2023. The law and Executive Regulations apply to Qatari taxpayers, except for those registered in the QFC. The "related party" concept is defined under Article 52 of the Executive Regulations, and the definition aligns with the IFRS definition.

c. Effective date of applicability

1 January 2020

d. Section reference from local regulation

Article 52 of the Income Tax Law and its Executive Regulations

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There is no distinction between domestic and international transactions under the current transfer pricing regulations. Therefore, it is expected that all related-party transactions should comply with the law and regulations, which are based on the arm's-length standard.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Qatar is not an OECD member jurisdiction, although in practice Qatar generally follows the OECD Guidelines.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

The materiality limit is annual consolidated group revenue of at least QAR3 billion (approx. EUR700 million or USD824 million) in the preceding fiscal year.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2018.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Master File requirements were introduced under the Executive Regulations of the Qatar Income Tax Law. The threshold for submitting a Master File is QAR 50 million or more of revenue as recorded on the P/L or QAR 50 million or more of total assets as recorded on the balance sheet. The existence of an offshore related party is the second requirement for submitting a Master File with the tax authority.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

Mandatory submission of the Master File has been applicable since FY 2020 (financial years starting on or after 1 January 2020).

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

- Coverage

Local File requirements were introduced under the Executive Regulations of the Qatar Income Tax Law. In 2020, the GTA released President's Decision No. 4 of 2020 (Transfer Pricing Decision), requiring certain taxpayers with related-party transactions to submit a Transfer Pricing Declaration form with their FY 2020 tax return. It is a requirement to submit Local Files within 60 days of the tax return filing deadline, subject to certain statutory thresholds. The two criteria for preparing and submitting a Local File includes the taxpayer having at least one foreign related party and a financial threshold of at least QAR 50 million of revenue OR total assets.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

Mandatory submission of the Local File has been applicable since FY 2020 (financial years starting on or after 1 January 2020).

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

- Additional details

There are no provisions in the law that provide for penalty protection regarding the submission of a report prepared according to the BEPS Action 13 format. That said, submission of a BEPS Action 13 format report should be sufficient to meet local documentation requirements.

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

Master and Local File requirements were introduced through the new Executive Regulations of the Qatar Income Tax Law as mentioned above. Subject to the criteria mentioned above, the reports should be prepared contemporaneously, i.e., when the income tax return is prepared..

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Turnover

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Total assets on the balance sheet

There is also a requirement to submit the transfer pricing disclosure form if the taxpayer's total revenues or total assets are above QAR10 million. The requirement to prepare transfer pricing documentation is based on the taxpayer having total revenues or total assets above QAR50 million. Transactions above QAR200,000 (by type of transaction) must be disclosed. If the threshold is not met, documentation should still be prepared and made available, if requested by the GTA.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

Revenue of at least QAR3 billion

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Qatar's CbCR rules only apply to groups where the UPE is headquartered in Qatar. The materiality limit is annual consolidated group revenue of at least QAR3 billion (approx. EUR700 million or USD824 million) in the preceding fiscal year.

- Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

Total revenue or total assets of at least QAR50 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Value of total assets

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

Total revenues of at least QAR50 million and the existence of an offshore related party.

- Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

Total revenue or total assets of at least QAR50 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Value of total assets

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

- Total revenues or total assets above QAR50 million is an alternate financial threshold as is the existence of an offshore related party. Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

Yes

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Total international related-party transactions

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

Transactions above QAR200,000 (by type of transaction) require benchmarking analysis.

- Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation prepared in English is currently accepted by the GTA.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Yes

- Additional details

While there is no explicit reference to safe harbor rules in the new regulations, a limit on the deductibility of interest on related-party loans applies. The limit is a maximum of three times the shareholders' equity, as recorded in the financial statements for the relevant accounting period.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

Yes

Taxpayers are required to prepare and submit a transfer pricing form with the corporate income tax return if the taxpayer has a foreign related entity and if revenue or total assets exceeds QAR10 million and where related-party transactions (either local or abroad) are above QAR200,000 (by type of transaction), for the relevant accounting period.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

Related-party disclosures (transfer pricing form) are included as part of the income tax return. In addition, the notes to the audited financial statements, which are filed with the GTA, should support the figures in the annual tax declaration.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Related-party disclosures (transfer pricing form) are included as part of the income tax return. In addition, the notes to the audited financial statements, which are filed with the GTA, should support the figures in the annual tax declaration.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

Not applicable

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

Within four months of the end of the accounting period

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Within 60 days after the corporate tax return filing deadline date)

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared): When the corporate income tax return is prepared

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

- Within 12 months from the end of the reporting fiscal year
Additional details

CbCR for locally headquartered companies: Yes, the CbCR requirements are only applicable to Qatar-headquartered companies.

Submission/filing date: No later than 12 months after the last day of the reporting fiscal year of the MNE group

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Within 12 months from the end of the reporting fiscal year
Additional details

For the fiscal year beginning on or after 1 January, FY 2019 onward, the local authorities require MNE groups whose ultimate parent entities are tax-resident in Qatar to file CbCR notification with the authorities in the reporting fiscal year. No later than the last day of the reporting fiscal year. Annual submission is required.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By tax return lodgment date

- Additional details

It is recommended that the transfer pricing documentation be available on or before the date of the annual tax return filing.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes, Master and Local Files should be filed within 60 days of the tax return filing deadline, subject to certain statutory thresholds, which includes the taxpayer having at least one foreign related party. This requirement applies to years starting on or after 1 January 2020.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

If Qatar entities do not meet the conditions or prescribed thresholds and hence are not required to submit the master and Local Files within the statutory deadline, the transfer pricing documentation should be readily available for submission within 30 days upon the GTA's request.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

- a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

There is no distinction between domestic and international transactions in the current transfer pricing legislation, and the authorities accept all OECD-recognized transfer pricing methods, subject to the following. The GTA expects comparables from Qatar or the Middle East and North Africa (MENA) region. However, it has not provided specific guidance on the approach taxpayers should adopt if sufficient comparables from the MENA region cannot be identified.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

- a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Qatar tax authorities prefer local jurisdiction and MENA region comparables. Geographic preference is given to MENA; however, if a MENA search cannot provide sufficient comparable companies, the search may be expanded to other regions (generally in the following order of preference: Asia, Africa and Europe).

- b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Multiyear analysis is performed.

- c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

The interquartile range is used.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

Roll forwards and updates of the financials of a prior study are used, provided the benchmarking search is not more than two years old.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

The weighted average is adopted.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

Independence threshold of 50% and above is applicable.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

This is not specified in the regulations.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

- Are there any other penalties?

Late submission of TP documentation will result in a penalty of QAR500 per day up to a maximum of QAR180,000. However, given the Transfer Pricing Declaration Form is to be filed with the tax return, and that tax returns cannot be filed without the form (where applicable), penalties for late filing of the tax return apply if delays are caused due to non-timely filing of the form. Penalties amount to QAR500 per day and penalties are capped at QAR180,000. The transfer pricing assessment of the Qatar tax authorities may become final in the event of failure to provide transfer pricing documentation and supporting information upon request.

The furnishing of incorrect information in the CbC Report may result in a penalty of QAR 500,000.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

- Additional details

Financial penalties, in the form of interest imposed for noncompliance with income tax rules under the Qatar Income Tax Law, may apply in the case of a deficiency assessment due to transfer pricing adjustments. Interest on any additional income tax due as a result of a transfer pricing adjustment may be levied at a rate of 1.5% per month of delay (capped at the amount of income tax due).

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

Yes

- Additional details

Interest can be charged on any additional income tax due as a result of a transfer pricing adjustment.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

Currently there is no penalty relief. A penalty exemption/reduction may be electronically requested as a first step before discussing late filing penalties with the authorities. If no response is received or the exemption/reduction is not granted, an appeal may be lodged to the Qatar tax authorities or to a body designated by the relevant local tax regulations.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

A transfer pricing assessment is a part of the regular corporate income tax audit by the GTA. The statute of limitations to complete a regular tax audit is five years following the year in which the taxpayer submitted the tax return.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

Not applicable

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

State tax regime: Recently the GTA has challenged management fees and head office cost allocations. QFC tax regime: The QFCA Tax Department is currently focusing on intragroup services, intercompany loans and thin capitalization issues.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

State tax regime: There is currently no formal APA program in place. APA regulations are expected to be issued by the GTA soon. QFC tax regime: The QFCA Tax Department has an advance ruling regime and welcomes QFC-registered entities to apply for an APA to obtain certainty about their tax position.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

There is none specified.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

There is none specified.

d. Is MAP available?

Yes.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

Interest expense on related party loans should not exceed three times the equity of the entity.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

Taxpayers are obligated to disclose within their annual corporate income tax return revenues and expenses resulting from transactions with related parties, as well as disclose tax-based adjustments based on the transfer pricing analysis. In addition, related-party disclosures and details of transactions are to be documented through obligatory transfer pricing documentation, which needs to be prepared and filed along with the corporate income tax return annually.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

There is none prescribed.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

This is not yet introduced.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

The deadline for submission of the corporate income tax return is set within 180 days from the date of expiration of the period for which the tax is assessed.

Not applicable

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

12 months from the end of the MNE group's reporting financial year

- Additional details

The ultimate parent entity of an MNE group established in Serbia must submit the CbCR for each Fiscal Year to the competent authority within 12 months from the end of the MNE group's reporting financial year. The template is prescribed by the local transfer pricing rulebook (mostly in line with the OECD template) and should be submitted in the local (Serbian) language in paper form.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

Not yet introduced

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By tax return lodgment date

▪ Additional details

There is a statutory deadline and recommendation for the preparation of transfer pricing documentation – by the time of lodging the tax return to achieve penalty protection (e.g., where there is a contemporaneous requirement).

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Yes, transfer pricing documentation must be submitted with the corporate income tax return. The deadline for submission of the corporate income tax return and transfer pricing documentation is set within 180 days from the date of expiration of the period for which the tax is assessed.

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

If transfer pricing documentation is not submitted, the CIT Law prescribes that the tax authorities could ask in writing for a taxpayer to submit transfer pricing documentation and are obligated to give a deadline of 30 to 90 days to act upon the request.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

▪ Additional details

The taxpayer is required to select the most appropriate method for determining that the transaction price is at arm's length. Selection of the most appropriate method is based on the following criteria:

- Nature of transactions that are subject to the analysis
- Availability and reliability of data for the analysis
- Level of comparability between transactions affected by transfer prices and transactions carried out with or between unrelated parties
- The appropriateness of using financial data of unrelated parties for the analysis of transfer pricing compliance by certain types of transactions
- The nature and reliability of assumptions To determine the arm's-length price of a transaction, the regulations prescribe the following methods: CUP, resale-minus, cost-plus, TNMM and profit-split method. The taxpayer is also allowed to use any other unspecified method that is reasonable to apply in a given circumstance, assuming that the above-specified methods cannot be applied. Foreign comparables are accepted for the purpose of a benchmark analysis if no local comparables can be identified. There is no priority in the selection of methods.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Foreign comparables are accepted for the purpose of a benchmark analysis if no local comparables can be identified.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Use of a multiyear analysis is mandatory.

Use of the interquartile range is mandatory for TNMM and for R- and C+ when external comparables are used.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

This is not explicitly prescribed. In practice, some taxpayers prepare a roll-forward and some fresh benchmark analyses each year. There is no practice in disputing each approach by Tax Authorities yet. However, recently TP audits started to a larger extent.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Application of the weighted average for arm's-length analysis is mandatory.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

Independence of a company is evaluated by related-party rules stating that an entity shall be considered a related party if it has 25% of shares or votes of the taxpayer. Also, a related party is considered to be a person closely related to the taxpayer or an entity registered in a tax haven.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

There are no immediate penalties imposed for incomplete documentation. If submitted documentation is not sufficient for review, the tax authority gives additional time to taxpayer to add complementary documentation (additional expenses and possibility of taxpayer to provide required documentation are taken into consideration by the tax authorities). Additional deadlines for adding complementary documentation and penalties for non-compliance are the same as for failure to submit transfer pricing documentation. The tax authority may complete or perform entire transfer pricing analysis independently, without sending the request to taxpayer to complete the documentation, if in the process of tax audit the tax authority determines that documentation is not prepared in accordance with the prescribed transfer pricing rules.

What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

Are there any other penalties?

Generally, each taxpayer is obligated to file annual transfer pricing documentation together with the annual corporate profits tax return. However, penalties are prescribed only if the taxpayer fails to submit the transfer pricing documentation upon official written request by the tax authorities, subject to an additional filing deadline between 30 and 90 days. The range of penalties for eventual non-compliance is between RSD100,000 and RSD2 million for the legal entity and up to RSD100,000 for the responsible individual in the legal entity.

b. Penalties post TP audit

Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

Additional details

In addition, the possible adjustment of taxable income on a transfer pricing basis may result in a penalty of up to 30% of the understated tax liabilities and may further result in increased interest for late tax payments.

Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

Additional details

In addition, the possible adjustment of taxable income on a transfer pricing basis may result in a penalty of up to 30% of the understated tax liabilities and may further result in increased interest for late tax payments.

Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

Yes

- Additional details

Legislation in the Republic of Serbia prescribes that the interest is charged on penalties or payable on refund at a yearly rate set by the National Bank of Serbia and increased by 10%.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The general statute-of-limitations period of five years for taxes in Serbia also applies to transfer pricing assessments. A five-year period starts from the beginning of the year following the year in which the respective tax liability arose.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

Recently, TP audits started but we are still not in a position to assess to which extent. Although audits by the Serbian tax authorities are not conducted regularly, and audited periods are not considered irrevocably closed. Typically, audits take place only once every three to five years, and they cover all taxes. Transfer pricing is likely to be within the scope of most tax audits.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

Yes, in case the margin is outside of the market range, the TP adjustment should be calculated up to the median value of the range.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

The transactions that have the highest possibility of undergoing audit are management and consulting services, while no specific industry has a special audit treatment in this regard. There is a more frequent audit of large taxpayers concerning transfer pricing than other taxpayers.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Advance rulings and APAs are not available in the Republic of Serbia.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Not applicable

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable

d. Is MAP available?

This is applicable through double tax treaties. There is no elaborate practice in Republic of Serbia regarding MAP.

Thin capitalization rules are prescribed in Article 62 of the CIT Law. In general, to meet the thin capitalization test, a debt-to-equity ratio of 4:1 needs to be met (10:1 for financial institutions). This ratio means that the interest and related expenses accrued on the basis of loan from related party are deductible to the extent being related to the part of the borrowed amount that equals 4 (10) times the value of taxpayer's average own capital. Any interest above that level is considered as non-deductible expense for Serbian corporate income tax purposes.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There is a documentation obligation for domestic transactions. No distinction is made with respect to the content of transfer pricing documentation required for cross-border vs. domestic related-party transactions.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Romania is not a member of the OECD. The Romanian Fiscal Code and the related norms provide that the tax authority should also consider the OECD Guidelines when analyzing the prices applied in related-party transactions. In addition, the legislation on transfer pricing documentation requirements in Romania refers to the EU Code of Conduct on transfer pricing documentation (C 176/ 1 of 28 July 2006). No reference to the UN tax manual is made under the Romanian transfer pricing legislation.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Romanian transfer pricing regulations have been amended in view of implementing the changes introduced by BEPS Action 13 for transfer pricing documentation. In 2016, the Romanian regulations regarding the required content of the transfer pricing documentation have been revised in consideration of the elements recommended by the Master File and Local File under the OECD Guidelines to BEPS Action 13; such revised transfer pricing documentation regulations are applicable for tax audits performed by the Romanian tax authorities from 2016 onward.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

The CbCR requirements apply to MNE groups having consolidated income reported in the last fiscal year prior to the reporting period equal to or exceeding EUR750 million.

CbCR filing

An entity with tax residence in Romania is required to file a CbCR with respect to its reporting fiscal year if one of the following is true:

- It is the ultimate parent entity of the MNE group. It is the surrogate parent entity, being appointed by the MNE group as a sole substitute for the ultimate parent entity.

Or

- It is a constituent entity of the MNE group, having the obligation under certain conditions of filing the CbCR in Romania on behalf of such MNE group (e.g., the CbCR for the MNE group is submitted in a non-EU jurisdiction).

CbC notification

Romanian constituent entities forming part of an MNE group that are subject to the aforementioned requirements must notify the Romanian tax authorities of the identity and tax residence of the reporting entity.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2016.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Yes, although a three-tiered documentation format as per BEPS Action 13 (Master File, Local File and CbCR) has not been formally prescribed in the local legislation, the transfer pricing documentation regulations in Romania are, from an overall content requirement perspective, aligned with the prescribed content requirements of the Master File under BEPS Action 13. Furthermore, the Romanian transfer pricing legislation refers to and is considered to be in line with the OECD Guidelines as amended or revised, and the EU Code of Conduct on transfer pricing documentation. No specific thresholds are applicable for differentiating between the types of elements to be included in the transfer pricing documentation or to be prepared in line with the Romanian transfer pricing documentation requirements.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

Revised transfer pricing documentation regulations are applicable for tax audits performed by the Romanian tax authorities from 2016 onward.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format. Romanian regulations do not prescribe the use of a specific format, whereas content-wise, the requirements are generally aligned.

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

- Coverage

Yes, although a three-tiered documentation format as per BEPS Action 13 (Master File, Local File and CbCR) has not been formally prescribed in the local legislation, the transfer pricing documentation regulations in Romania are, from an overall content requirement perspective, aligned with the prescribed content requirements of the Local File under BEPS Action 13. Furthermore, the Romanian transfer pricing legislation refers to and is considered to be in line with the OECD Guidelines as amended or revised, and the EU Code of Conduct on transfer pricing documentation. No specific thresholds are applicable for differentiating between the types of elements to be included in the transfer pricing documentation or to be prepared in line with the Romanian transfer pricing documentation requirements.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The last revised transfer pricing documentation regulations are applicable for tax audits performed by the Romanian tax authorities from 2016 onward.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format. Romanian regulations do not prescribe the use of a specific format, whereas content-wise, the requirements are generally aligned.

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

- Additional details

The Romanian regulations on the required content of the transfer pricing documentation are broadly aligned with the OECD standard from an overall content perspective (though no specific format is required). Additional specific items would, however, be required in the transfer pricing documentation prepared in accordance with the local regulations in Romania (e.g., actual payments made for related-party transactions).

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

- a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes, there are local transfer pricing documentation rules. Transfer pricing documentation compliant with the specific transfer pricing documentation regulations in Romania (i.e., ANAF Order 442/ 2016) must be provided to the Romanian tax authorities upon their request to demonstrate that the transactions performed with related parties were carried out at arm's length. Taxpayers that entered into APAs for related-party transactions are not required to prepare and submit a transfer pricing documentation file for the periods and transactions covered by the APA. Transfer pricing documentation may need to be prepared contemporaneously by Romanian large taxpayers, but no taxpayer is required to submit transfer pricing documentation in the absence of a specific request from the tax authorities.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes, the requirement to prepare transfer pricing documentation annually is only applicable from 2016 onward for Romanian taxpayers that qualify as large taxpayers (per the specific criteria established by the Romanian tax authorities), with respect to the transaction types carried out with related parties exceeding the following thresholds (obtained by cumulating the value of all transactions of that specific type undertaken during the year with all related parties, excluding value-added tax): EUR200,000 in the case of interest for financial services, EUR250,000 in the case of services, and EUR350,000 in the case of acquisitions or sales of tangible or intangible assets. The standard transfer pricing documentation content requirements are applicable also in the case of reports that must be prepared annually (no specific minimum requirement is provided under the local regulations). The term for the preparation of the annual transfer pricing documentation is within the legal deadline for submission of the annual corporate income tax return (the 25th day of the third month after the tax year-end). For the period 2021-2025, the legal deadline for submission of the annual corporate income tax return was prolonged by the 25th day of the sixth month after the tax year-end. In all other cases, transfer pricing documentation has to be prepared upon specific request from the tax authority and within the required term specified by the authorities. In case of a tax audit, transfer pricing documentation (comprising MF and LF information) may be requested for all IC transactions of the types exceeding any of the following cumulative thresholds (obtained by cumulating the value of transactions within the year with all related parties, excluding VAT): EUR50,000 in case of interest for financial services, EUR50,000 in case of services and EUR100,000 in the case of acquisitions/sales of tangible/intangible assets.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation may be requested for all intercompany transactions of the types for which the following annual thresholds (representing the cumulative value of transactions during the year, with all related parties, excluding VAT) are exceeded:

- EUR50,000 in the case of interest for financial services
- EUR50,000 in the case of services
- EUR100,000 in the case of acquisitions or sales of tangible or intangible assets

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

EUR750 million (MNE groups having consolidated income reported in the last fiscal year prior to the reporting period equal to or exceeding EUR750 million that have a Romanian constituent entity are in scope of the CbCR rules adopted in Romania).

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

The CbCR requirements apply to MNE groups having consolidated turnover reported in the last fiscal year prior to the reporting period equal to or exceeding EUR750 million.

- CbCR filing: An entity with tax residence in Romania is required to file a CbCR with respect to its reporting fiscal year if one of the following is true:
 - It is the ultimate parent entity of the MNE group.
 - It is the surrogate parent entity, being appointed by the MNE group as a sole substitute for the ultimate parent entity.

Or

- It is a constituent entity of the MNE group, having the obligation under certain conditions of filing the CbCR in Romania on behalf of such MNE group (e.g., the CbCR for the MNE group is submitted in a non-EU jurisdiction).
- CbC notification: Romanian constituent entities part of an MNE group that are subject to the aforementioned requirements must notify the Romanian tax authorities of the identity and tax residence of the reporting entity.

▪ Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

Transfer pricing documentation (including Master File type of content) may be requested for all intercompany transactions of the types for which the following annual thresholds (representing the cumulative value of transactions during the year, with all related parties, excluding VAT) are exceeded:

- EUR50,000 in the case of interest for financial services
- EUR50,000 in the case of services
- EUR100,000 in the case of acquisitions or sales of tangible or intangible assets

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Information of the type typically included in a Master File would be expected to be included in the TP documentation prepared in line with the Romanian TP documentation requirements.

▪ Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

Transfer pricing documentation (including Local File type of content) may be requested for all intercompany transactions of the types for which the following annual thresholds (representing the cumulative value of transactions during the year, with all related parties, excluding VAT) are exceeded:

- EUR50,000 in the case of interest for financial services
- EUR50,000 in the case of services
- EUR100,000 in the case of acquisitions or sales of tangible or intangible assets

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

The taxpayer has the burden of proof to document that its related party transactions are carried out at arm's length. Transfer pricing documentation is expected to be available to document all transactions with related parties of the type(s) that exceed(s) the annual cumulative thresholds established under law for large taxpayers for the preparation of the annual transfer pricing documentation, and respectively transfer pricing documentation is required to be prepared upon request from the Romanian tax authorities in all other cases to cover the transactions specified by the Romanian tax authorities in case of a tax audit.

c. Specific requirements

▪ Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation (including all appendices attached, e.g., intercompany agreements) needs to be submitted in Romanian. Per the provisions of Order 442/ 2016, "in case of documents in a foreign language, these shall be accompanied by Romanian translations, according to the law."

▪ Is a safe harbor available?

Unspecified

▪ Additional details

There is none specified.

▪ Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

▪ Additional details

This is not specified.

▪ Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

▪ Additional details

No specific transfer pricing returns for related-party transactions are currently in place under the transfer pricing rules.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

▪ Additional details

No specific related-party disclosures are required along with the corporate income tax return. Generally, information about related-party transactions undertaken by a Romanian entity is disclosed only upon the specific request of the Romanian tax authority.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

For statutory accounting reporting purposes, Romanian companies are required to disclose the transactions undertaken with related parties in financial statements.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No. It is not included in the corporate income tax return. A dedicated CbCR notification form is required to be separately submitted not later than the legal deadline of filing the annual corporate income tax return.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

The Romanian legislation provides for the following general disclosure requirements:

- Disclosure of transactions performed by Romanian entities with non-resident companies for which the Romanian company has an obligation to withhold taxes
- Disclosure or registration of contracts concluded by Romanian entities with non-resident companies and individuals performing services in Romania that may trigger Romanian permanent establishment exposure
- Disclosure of long-term financing contracted by a Romanian entity with non-resident companies or individuals

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

25 March

- Additional details

25 March (in the case of taxpayers with calendar tax years) – the deadline for filing the annual corporate income tax return is generally the 25th day of the third month following the tax year-end. For the period 2021–2025, the deadline for filing the annual corporate income tax return was prolonged by the 25th day of the sixth month following the tax year-end.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

31 December (applicable in the case of groups with reporting fiscal years ending 31 December) – generally, the deadline being within 12 months from the last day of the reporting fiscal year of the MNE group

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

25 March

- Additional details

Notification to the competent authority in Romania is required to be submitted until the last day of the reporting fiscal year of the MNE group, but no later than the last day of filing of the annual corporate income tax return by the constituent entity in Romania for the preceding year. The CbCR notification should be submitted annually to the competent authority in Romania. This is applicable also for the case where no changes have occurred in relation to, e.g., local entity/entities information, entity filling the CbCR. The CbCR notification preparation and submission requirement applies to the individual entity, i.e., each Romanian constituent entity is required to prepare and submit annually on its behalf the CbCR notification.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By tax return lodgment date

- Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation subject to preparation annually by large taxpayers (for transactions that exceed the specific thresholds provided under the local regulations) has to be prepared within the statutory deadline of filing the annual corporate income tax return and submitted to the tax authorities upon request within maximum 10 calendar days from such request. In all other cases, transfer pricing documentation has to be prepared only upon request and within the term established by the tax authorities (between 30 and 60 days, with one possible extension upon request of up to 30 additional days).

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

No. Submission is to be performed only upon request from the tax authorities.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

In cases in which the annual transfer pricing documentation is required to be prepared by large taxpayers by the legal deadline of filing the tax return, such transfer pricing documentation must be provided to the tax authorities upon their request during or outside an audit within a maximum of 10 calendar days. In all other cases of transfer pricing documentation prepared upon receiving a formal request from the tax authorities during an audit, the Romanian tax authorities must establish a term for the preparation and submission of such transfer pricing documentation that can be of 30 to 60 days (one extension of up to 30 days can be obtained upon request).

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The tax authority accepts transfer pricing methods provided by the OECD Guidelines. The traditional methods (CUP, resale price and cost-plus) are generally preferred over the profit-based methods (TNMM and profit-split) subject to the availability of data. When selecting the most adequate method, the following must be taken into consideration:

- The method that is the most appropriate given the circumstances in which the prices that are subject to free competition on the commercial comparable markets are established
- The method for which information resulting from the actual related parties involved in the transactions subject to free competition is available
- The degree of accuracy to which adjustments can be made in order to achieve comparability
- The circumstances of the individual case
- The activities effectively conducted by various related parties
- The documentation that can be made available by the taxpayer. In addition, the selected method should reflect the circumstances of the market and the taxpayer's activity.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Yes. According to the provisions of Order 442/ 2016, in the case of a benchmarking analysis performed to determine the arm's-length nature of the related-party transactions, the territorial criteria should be considered in the following sequence: local, EU, pan-European and international. In the absence of local comparables (aspect thoroughly investigated by the Romanian tax authorities), foreign comparables are accepted (e.g., within the EU as the next level in case local comparables cannot be found).

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Yes. There is a preference for single-year testing; multiyear analysis might also be acceptable if properly justified.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

Yes. The Romanian transfer pricing documentation regulations prescribe the use of the interquartile range for transfer pricing analyses.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

A fresh benchmarking search is required to be performed periodically; a roll-forward or update of financial results of a prior study might also be acceptable for a certain period, depending on the circumstances of the case. With respect to comparable searches required to be included in the transfer pricing documentation for supporting the appropriateness of the pricing for the related-party transactions, the local regulations provide that "justification of compliance with the arm's-length principle shall be based on the information reasonably available to the taxpayer at the moment of establishing or documenting the transfer prices, by presenting the supporting evidence in this respect."

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

No preference is indicated based on the Romanian transfer pricing regulations. Romanian tax authorities have been observed to conduct transfer pricing analyses on a year-on-year basis. Both simple-average and weighted-average methods have been accepted in case of multiyear analyses.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

The search strategy should incorporate the independence criteria as provided by the Romanian legislation currently in force. In this respect, the definition of related parties under the current Romanian Fiscal Code states that a person is considered related party if its relationship with another person is defined by at least one of the following cases:

- An individual is a related party of another individual, if such individuals are spouse or relatives up to the third degree, inclusive.
- An individual is related with a legal entity if the individual owns, directly or indirectly, including holdings of related parties, a minimum of 25% of the value/number of shares or voting rights in the legal entity, or if effectively controls that legal entity.

- A legal entity is related with another legal entity if it owns at least, directly or indirectly, including holdings of related parties, a minimum of 25% of the value/number of shares/units or voting rights in the other legal entity, or if effectively controls that legal entity.
- A legal entity is related with another legal entity if one person owns, directly or indirectly, including holdings of related parties, a minimum of 25% of the value/number of shares or voting rights in the other legal entity, or if effectively controls that legal entity. Therefore, when performing a comparable search, it should be ensured that the accepted comparables have no known shareholder (including individual) controlling or owning directly/indirectly more than 25% interest both in the accepted company and in another company(ies) and hence, a check of the historic shareholdings of the accepted companies for the years under review should be done in order to eliminate such companies.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?
 - In the case of non-submission or submission of an incomplete transfer pricing documentation by large taxpayers (that have the obligation to prepare the transfer pricing documentation within the legal deadline for submission of the annual corporate income tax return) upon the request of the tax authority outside of a tax audit, a penalty ranging from RON25,000 to RON27,000 (approximately EUR5,000 to EUR5,400) will be imposed.
 - In the case of non-submission or submission of an incomplete transfer pricing documentation upon the request of the tax authority during a tax audit, a penalty ranging from RON12,000 to RON14,000 (approximately EUR2,400 to EUR2,800) will be imposed on the large and medium-sized taxpayers, respectively, and ranging from RON2,000 to RON3,500 (approximately EUR400 to EUR700) on small taxpayers.
- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?
 - Penalty ranging from RON30,000 to RON50,000 (approximately EUR6,000 to EUR10,000) is applicable in case of late submission of the CbCR or incorrect or incomplete submission of information.

- Penalty ranging from RON70,000 to RON100,000 (approximately EUR14,000 to EUR20,000) is applicable in case of non-submission of the CbCR.

iii. What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable (not formally separated from transfer pricing documentation)

▪ Are there any other penalties?

There are no specific provisions on penalties for not filing CbCR notifications. General penalty provisions for not filing required information to the tax authorities may be imposed (e.g., penalties for failing to provide periodic information or fulfill reporting obligations (as provided for under the law) ranging from EUR110 to EUR3,100, depending on the taxpayer size (large/medium/small) and on how the infringement would be classified by the authorities).

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Penalties as such in case of incomplete documentation are less likely applied in practice, depending also on the severity of the issue and if the additional information requested by the tax authorities to complete the documentation is not provided. In the case of incomplete documentation for a transaction between related parties, the tax authority may adjust or estimate the amount of the respective income or expenses of either party as necessary to the level considered to reflect the central tendency of the market (i.e., median). This is done either in the case that the tax authority determines that the arm's-length principle is not observed for the respective transaction or that the taxpayer does not provide to the tax authority sufficient evidence to establish if the arm's-length principle was observed. The resulting adjustments or estimation would trigger a profits tax liability of 16% (the standard profits tax rate) and late-payment interest and penalties according to the provisions of the legislation. Currently, the late-payment interest is 0.02% per day of delay and the late-payment penalties are 0.01% per day of delay. Separately, a penalty for undeclared or incorrectly declared tax liabilities established by the tax authorities through tax decisions of 0.08% for each day of delayed payment can be imposed. If the latter type of penalty is applicable, then it is a substitute for the late-payment penalty (only one type of penalty can be applied). If the tax claims are paid within a specific term after the tax decision assessing the tax liabilities is issued, then this penalty is reduced by 75%; however, if the tax liabilities are the result of tax evasion, then this penalty is increased by 100%. This penalty is applicable for tax liabilities due starting from 2016 onward.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

- Additional details

In case of large taxpayers (that have the obligation to prepare the transfer pricing documentation annually within the legal deadline for submission of the annual corporate income tax return) upon the request of the tax authority outside of a tax audit, a penalty ranging from RON25,000 to RON27,000 (approximately EUR5,000 to EUR5,400) will be imposed. Otherwise, in case of a request of transfer pricing documentation during a tax audit, the documentation is expected to cover the period (within the period covered by the corporate income tax audit) that is indicated by the authorities in their formal request.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

In case a transfer pricing adjustment is imposed by the tax authorities, the taxpayer may challenge the decision at an administrative level or in court. A MAP might also be initiated depending on the circumstances of the case, under the provisions of the EU Arbitration Convention or the EU Tax Dispute Resolution Directive or the double tax treaties entered into by Romania.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

No specific statute of limitations exists for transfer pricing assessments. However, general rules for statutes of limitations are applicable – i.e., the Romanian tax authority may normally review tax-related matters retroactively for five years (or 10 years in the case of fiscal evasion or fraud).

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes. Based on the observed practice of the tax authorities, there is a common practice of challenging the transfer pricing methodologies or documentation approach in case transfer pricing is reviewed as part of the audit. There is a declared focus of the Romanian tax authorities on transfer pricing matters; the possibility of a transfer pricing-related audit being, in general, characterized as high.

- b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

Based on the observed practice of the tax authorities, the possibility of an adjustment in case the transfer pricing methodology is challenged is rather high.

Yes, in the case of a transaction between related parties, the tax authority may adjust or estimate the amount of the respective income or expenses of either party as necessary to reflect the arm's-length level. Such adjustment or estimation shall be made to a level considered to reflect the central tendency of the market represented by the median of the interquartile range. In case of a set comprised of a maximum of three comparable companies or transactions, the simple average will be considered.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Management or group fees, royalties, loss-situations or deemed low return taxpayers, business restructuring cases are rather often subject to intense scrutiny by the Romanian tax authorities.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Comprehensive APA procedures and requirements have been in effect in Romania since June 2007. An APA may be unilateral, bilateral or multilateral. By means of an APA, the ANAF approves the specific transfer pricing method utilized by a multinational entity prior to the actual transaction. APAs are binding on the tax authority as long as taxpayers observe their terms and conditions. Unilateral APAs are issued for a term of 12 months, while bilateral and multilateral APAs are issued for a term of 18 months. The fees payable to the ANAF for the issuance or amendment of an APA are:

- EUR20,000 (issuance), EUR15,000 (amendment) – in the case of large taxpayers or for agreements on transactions with a consolidated value exceeding EUR4 million
- EUR10,000 (issuance), EUR6,000 (amendment) – in all other cases

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

As a general rule, APAs are issued for a period of up to five years; however, this term may be extended in certain cases.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

There is none.

d. Is MAP available?

The MAP program addressing cross-border double taxation issues is rather at incipient stages in Romania. The availability of the program is provided under the Romanian Tax Procedure Code, either based on a double tax treaty or the EU Arbitration Convention (90/ 436/EEC) or the EU Tax Dispute Resolution Directive (2017/ 1852 applicable since 2019) as transposed into the local regulations. So far, a Romanian-specific MAP application procedure based on a double tax treaty or the EU Arbitration Convention has not been released by the Romanian tax authorities. Romanian taxpayers must submit an application for the initiation of MAP before the deadline stipulated under the relevant double tax treaty, EU Arbitration Convention or the EU Tax Dispute Resolution Directive, from the date of the ANAF notification or action that leads or may lead to double taxation. Taxpayers have three years to present a case to ANAF under the EU Arbitration Convention or the EU Tax Dispute Resolution Directive.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

A corporate income taxpayer's exceeding borrowing costs (i.e., the amount by which borrowing costs exceed interest revenues and other revenues of equivalent nature) in relation to various types of financing (including bank loans, intercompany loans and finance leasing) may be deducted for corporate income tax purposes in Romania by only up to 30% of the company's EBITDA, adjusted for tax purposes. The above 30% EBITDA limitation is applied to those exceeding borrowing costs that are above an annual threshold of EUR1 million (i.e., the first EUR1 million would not be, in principle, subject to the interest deductibility limitation). Non-deductible borrowing costs would be available to carry forward for an unlimited period of time (i.e., until corporate income tax deduction would be available). For related party financing, new limitation rule is applicable starting 2024: a deductible threshold for the exceeding borrowing costs of up to EUR500,000 was set for transactions/ operations with related parties that do not finance the acquisition/production of certain assets in progress.

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

Yes

Romania implemented the EU PCbCR Directive (i.e., EU Directive 2021/2101) introducing public CbCR requirements. These requirements come in addition to the CbCR obligations for MNEs already in place and described above.

b. Name of authority

Ministry of Finance

c. Name of regulations

Accounting Regulations (as amended to transpose the provisions of the EU PCbCR Directive), namely:

- Order 1802/2016 approving the Accounting Regulations regarding the Annual Individual Financial Statements and the Annual Consolidated Financial Statements
- Order 2844/2016 approving the Accounting Regulations according to the International Financial Reporting Standard

d. Effective date of applicability

Legislation to implement the EU PCbCR Directive in Romania was published in 2022 and the rules entered into force on 1 January 2023.

e. Section reference from local regulation

- Chapter 131 of Order 1802/2016 approving the Accounting Regulations regarding the Annual Individual Financial Statements and the Annual Consolidated Financial Statements
- Chapter 81 of Order 2844/2016 approving the Accounting Regulations according to the International Financial Reporting Standard

14. PCbCR thresholds and exemptions

a. What is the global consolidated income threshold?

Non-EU and non-EEA headquartered MNEs fall in-scope for PCbCR rules in Romania in case of having a group consolidated revenue (net turnover) exceeding RON3,700 million for each of the last two financial years.

b. Are there any materiality exemptions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Only in-scope MNEs that control a Romanian medium-sized or large subsidiary or a Romanian qualifying branch are subject to PCbCR regulations in Romania.

Romanian subsidiaries are classified as medium-sized or large entities in accordance with the Romanian accounting rules if, at balance sheet date, at least two of the three criteria based on the value of total assets, net turnover and the average number of employees are exceeded for the last two consecutive financial years. The criteria applicable for the financial years starting in 2023 provided the following thresholds: total assets RON17,500,000; net turnover RON35,000,000; average number of employees during the financial year 50. For the financial years starting in 2024, the qualification criteria threshold were changed to: total assets RON25,000,000; net turnover RON50,000,000; average number of employees during the financial year 50 (such thresholds increase for 2024 does not automatically trigger a change of the category of the subsidiary, since for an established classification and obligation to report PCbCR to change, the criteria applicable for the reporting year must be unmet for two consecutive financial years).

The reporting obligation shall be applicable to Romanian branches only in case the ultimate parent undertaking of such branch has no large or medium subsidiary subject to PCbCR in Romania and if the turnover reported by the branch in Romania exceeds RON35,000,000 for each of the last two consecutive financial years for the PCbCR reporting for the years starting in 2023; for the PCbCR reporting for the years starting in 2024, the turnover threshold was increased to RON50,000,000 applicable for each of the last two consecutive financial years (for an established obligation to report PCbCR to change, the criteria applicable for the reporting year must be unmet for two consecutive financial years).

15. Content

a. Does PCbCR align with OECD BEPS Action 13 CbCR requirements?

No

▪ Additional details

The public CbCR requirements implemented in Romania follow the EU PCbCR Directive. Information is to be disclosed separately for all EU Member States, EEA countries and jurisdictions on the EU list of non-cooperative jurisdictions for tax purposes. For all other jurisdictions, aggregated data is to be disclosed. Romania made use of the so-called "safeguard clause" and chose to allow in-scope groups to defer in certain conditions the disclosure of commercially sensitive information for up to five years. Sensitive information should be understood as information that, if made publicly available, would be seriously prejudicial to the commercial position of the MNE to which the report relates. Any omission shall be clearly indicated in the report, together with a duly reasoned explanation. This temporary omission of "commercially sensitive information” is however not allowed for information pertaining to tax jurisdictions included in Annexes I and II to the Council conclusions on the revised EU list of non-cooperative jurisdictions for tax purposes.

b. Is aggregation of transactions allowed?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Information is required be disclosed at country level for EU and EEA jurisdictions as well as jurisdictions on the EU list of non-cooperative jurisdictions for tax purposes, and on an aggregated basis for all other jurisdictions.

c. Can you provide data sources and guidance?

Accounting Regulations in Romania and additional public communications from the Romanian authorities

16. Lodgment process and requirements

a. Is lodgment possible?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The Romanian PCbCR rules require PCbCR to be published with the Trade Registry and on the website of the Romanian reporting entity or of any other affiliate, free of charge and in Romanian language. The information on the website should remain accessible for a period of five consecutive years. No formal procedure for lodgment of PCbCR was issued by the Romanian authorities so far. On account of the uncertain lodgment process for the first reporting year, Romanian in-scope entities adopted very diverse publication approaches. In addition to website publication, some reporting entities also undertook lodgment with the Trade Registry via a standard process of filing documents. In 2025, a new form (S1079) was issued by ANAF and seems intended for lodgment of PCbCR, but no related instructions are yet available.

b. Is lodgment in another jurisdiction possible?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The Romanian PCbCR regulations provide for an exemption from lodgment of PCbCR in Romania, in case the PCbCR is prepared in accordance with the provisions of the EU PCbCR Directive as transposed in the national legislation and if (i) the non-EU or non-EEA ultimate parent entity publishes PCbCR on its website in a machine-readable electronic format and at least in one of the EU official languages and within 12 months from the date of the financial statements for the year subject to PCbCR reporting, and (ii) identifies the name and legal seat of a single EU subsidiary or branch that has published the PCbCR outside Romania in accordance with the national law implementation of the EU Directive 2017/1132.

c. Is lodgment required in a prescribed form and format?

No

▪ Additional details

The Romanian PCbCR rules provide that the information is required to be disclosed using a common template and electronic reporting formats which are machine-readable. The legislation provides that the PCbCR format established by the European Commission is to be used. The European Commission adopted the Regulation 2024/2952, aimed at standardizing the presentation of income tax information for PCbCR which introduces a common template and electronic formats for PCbCRs and is applicable for financial years starting on or after 1 January 2025. Non-EU Groups may use but are not under an obligation to use the template and electronic formats as set out in the Regulation.

d. What is the lodgment deadline?

The publication is required within 12 months from the date of the consolidated financial statement for the financial year subject to the reporting. The first publication had to take place by 31 December 2024, for groups having a calendar financial year ended 31 December 2023.

17. Penalties

a. What are the maximum administrative penalties?

Not applicable

- Additional details

There are no specific provisions on penalties for noncompliance with PCbCR rules at this stage. However, implications are rather of a different nature (e.g., note in the financial auditor's report, management liability, other indirect consequences) in case of failure to comply with Public CbCR rules.

b. Is there any risk of criminal prosecution?

No

- Additional details

Romanian PCbCR legislation does not include references specifically related to criminal offenses.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

CbCR is applicable where the ultimate parent of the taxpayer is required to prepare such a report.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By tax return lodgment date

▪ Additional details

Yes, the documentation should be prepared by the deadline of submission of the annual return - by the time of lodging the tax return to achieve penalty protection.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ i. Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ ii. What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Upon request by the Tax Administration, the taxpayer should provide the documentation within seven days from the date of receipt of the written request.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

▪ Additional details

The transfer pricing rules provide for the most appropriate method.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There is a preference for local comparables; however, it is not mandatory.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

There is a preference for the weighted average for arm's-length analysis.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

Interquartile range calculation using spreadsheet quartile formulas is acceptable.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

A fresh benchmarking search is needed every year.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is a preference for the weighted average for arm's-length analysis.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

The transfer pricing rules stipulate that if the relevant financial indicator derived from a controlled transaction, or from a set of controlled transactions that are combined, falls outside the arm's-length range, the taxable profit is computed on the basis that the relevant financial indicator is the median of the arm's-length range.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Not applicable

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

- Are there any other penalties?

There are no specific penalties prescribed.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

A general rule of five years from the date of filing the tax return applies. The tax authorities can ignore the five-year limitation when they suspect fraud or the intention to evade the payment of tax.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes. The tax authority issued transfer pricing rules in late 2020. We have seen requests for transfer pricing documents for some companies. We expect to see more activity on transfer pricing audits.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

Not applicable

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

There have been no active transfer pricing audits in the market. However, the recent gazette tax procedure has introduced transfer pricing audits among the types of audit to be conducted by the Tax Administration.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

APAs are not available.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Not applicable

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable

d. Is MAP available?

Yes, however, it is in the context of double tax treaties.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

Interest and realized foreign exchange losses arising from loans between related parties either paid or due on a total loan that is greater than four times the amount of equity is nondeductible.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Zakat, Tax and Customs Authority (ZATCA)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Kingdom of Saudi Arabia (KSA) income tax law (ITL) and Zakat Bylaws have the following provisions: Article 63(c) of the KSA ITL and Article 10 of the Zakat Bylaws authorizes ZATCA to reallocate revenues and expenses in transactions between related parties or parties under the same body to reflect the returns that would have resulted if the parties were independent or unrelated. Pursuant to Board Resolution No. [6- 1- 19] dated 25/ 05/ 1440H corresponding to 31/ 01/ 2019, ZATCA issued Transfer Pricing Bylaws (transfer pricing bylaws) that apply to all taxable persons (being persons subject to the income tax law). For persons covered by Article 2 of the Zakat Regulations (Ministerial Resolution No. 2082 dated 1/ 6/ 1438 H) the transfer pricing bylaws only apply insofar they are meeting the obligations of CbCR (Article 18) of the bylaws. Currently, transfer pricing provisions are applicable to entities subject to corporate income tax as well as 100% Zakat entities. Article 15 of the transfer pricing bylaws requires taxable persons with controlled transactions to maintain requisite transfer pricing documentation (subject to certain threshold limits).

c. Effective date of applicability

31 January 2019

d. Section reference from local regulation

Article 63 of the KSA ITL, Article 10 of Zakat Bylaws and the transfer pricing bylaws issued on 15 February 2019

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Domestic transactions are not excluded from the scope of transfer pricing provisions as per the transfer pricing bylaws.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Saudi Arabia is not a member of the OECD. However, Saudi Arabia has made a commitment to the BEPS minimum standards and the transfer pricing bylaws mostly follow the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

No Yes

▪ Additional details

The transfer pricing bylaws have introduced transfer pricing documentation (Master File, Local File) and CbCR requirements. It is worth highlighting that KSA LF requirements are more detailed than OECD's Action 13 approach for LF.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

The report should be submitted if the consolidated group revenue of an MNE group during the year immediately preceding the current reporting year, as reflected in its consolidated financial statement, exceeds SAR3.2 billion (approximately EUR750 million).

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2018.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

- Coverage

The transfer pricing bylaws incorporate the Master File concept as recommended under BEPS Action 13 on transfer pricing documentation. Taxpayers with intercompany transactions' amounts exceeding 6 million SAR and Zakat payers with intercompany transactions' amounts exceeding 100 million SAR must prepare and maintain MF.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

This is applicable for fiscal years ended on or after 31 December 2018. For 100% Zakat entities, the Master File is required to be maintained for years starting on 1 January 2024 and onward.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

As per the transfer pricing bylaws, the following difference can be noticed: Master File: In addition to the OECD Master File template, the transfer pricing bylaws prescribe a comprehensive industry analysis, SWOT analysis, exclusion of loss-making comparables, with preference to local comparables.

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

- Coverage

The transfer pricing bylaws incorporate the Local File concept as recommended under BEPS Action 13 on transfer pricing documentation. Taxpayers with intercompany transactions' amounts exceeding 6 million SAR and Zakat payers with intercompany transactions' amounts exceeding 100 million SAR must prepare and maintain MF.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

This is applicable for fiscal years ended on or after 31 December 2018. For 100% Zakat entities, the Local File is required to be maintained for years starting on 1 January 2024 and onward.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

As per the transfer pricing bylaws, the following difference can be noticed: Local File: In addition to the OECD Local File template, the transfer pricing bylaws prescribe a comprehensive industry analysis, SWOT analysis, exclusion of loss-making comparables, with preference to local comparables.

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

- Additional details

All penalties and fines under the ITL are applicable to all income tax matters, including transfer pricing.

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

- a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing bylaws have introduced the three-tiered transfer pricing documentation, including Master File, Local File and CbCR broadly aligned with the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines. Article 2 of the transfer pricing bylaws states that the transfer pricing provisions apply to all taxable persons and zakatable entities under the ITL. Entities need to maintain the transfer pricing documentation and indicate in its annual tax return whether such documentation has been maintained. Upon ZATCA's request, transfer pricing documentation needs to be submitted within 30 days.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

No

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

No

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

It is advisable to maintain general documentation regarding the controlled transactions, the relationship between the related persons involved in the controlled transactions, and how the price of the controlled transactions is calculated for all taxpayers having related-party transactions.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

Above SAR3.2 billion

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

The report should be submitted if the consolidated group revenue of an MNE group during the year immediately preceding the current reporting year, as reflected in its consolidated financial statement, exceeds SAR3.2 billion (approximately EUR750 million). Further, all constituent entities must file dual CbCR notifications (one through Disclosure form as part of tax return and another through Automatic Exchange of information (AEOI) portal).

- Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

Above SAR6 million for tax entities/SAR100 million for 100% Zakat entities

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

Total related party transactions (domestic as well as international)

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Master File and Local File need to be prepared and maintained if arm's-length value of controlled transactions in a 12-month period exceeds SAR6 million for tax entities and SAR100 million for 100% Zakat entities (starting from 1 January 2024). All entities are required to disclose their related-party transactions in a TP Disclosure Form and submit an affidavit along with their tax return/Zakat declarations.

- Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

Above SAR6 million for tax entities/SAR100 million for 100% Zakat entities

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

Total related party transactions (domestic as well as international)

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Master File and Local File need to be prepared and maintained if arm's-length value of controlled transactions in a 12-month period exceeds SAR6 million for tax entities and SAR100 million for 100% Zakat entities (starting from 1 January 2024). All entities are required to disclose their related-party transactions in a TP Disclosure Form and submit an affidavit along with their tax return/Zakat declarations.

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is no material threshold for Economic analysis.

- Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

Regarding CbCR, the transfer pricing bylaws specify that the documentation needs to be submitted in the language and form that the authority may specify. Further, for Master File and Local File, the transfer pricing bylaws do not specify any language; however, the FAQs recommend the use of the official language (Arabic) to the extent reasonably possible.

- Is a safe harbor available?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Aggregation

- Additional details

If a taxable person carries out, under the same or similar circumstances, two or more controlled transactions that are economically closely linked to one another or that form a continuum such that they cannot reliably be analyzed separately, those controlled transactions may be combined to perform the comparability analysis to apply the transfer pricing methods.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

Yes

A dual CbCR notification is required to be filed using both methods as follows:

- Along with the disclosure form
 - On a separate AEOI portal; these notifications are to be filed within 120 days of the end of the financial year.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

Disclosure form

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

Pursuant to Article 14(B) of the transfer pricing bylaws, all entities in KSA will be required to submit to ZATCA, together with their annual income tax declaration, a disclosure form containing information related to their controlled transactions. KSA taxpayers that have controlled transactions will have to submit the disclosure form within 120 days after the end of the fiscal year.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Yes

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

The transfer pricing bylaws also require an annual affidavit signed by a licensed auditor in the jurisdiction through which the auditor certifies that the transfer pricing policy of the MNE group is consistently applied by, and in relation to, the taxpayer.

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

120 days of the end of the financial year

▪ Additional details

It should be filed within 120 days from the end of the fiscal year.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

120 days of the end of the financial year

▪ Additional details

The annual tax return includes disclosure form and affidavit along with CITR.

- Submission/filing date: It should be filed within 120 days from the end of the fiscal year.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

30 days upon request by tax authorities

▪ Additional details

The Master File and Local File need to be maintained within 120 days of the end of the fiscal year and filed within 30 days of request.

- Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared): Within 120 days of the end of the fiscal year

- Submission/filing date: Within 30 days of request by the tax authority

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

▪ Additional details

The documentation should be submitted within 12 months from the end of the reporting year of the MNE group.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

120 days of the end of the financial year

▪ Additional details

CbCR notification is an integral part of the disclosure form and has to be filed within 120 days of the fiscal year-end. Further, a separate notification must be filed on the AEOI portal within 120 days of the end of the fiscal year. There is an annual submission requirement. Each entity needs to file dual CbCR notifications.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

Within 120 days from year-end

▪ Additional details

The preparation of contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation in the form of Master File and Local File is recommended to be maintained within 120 days from the fiscal year-end since a confirmation to this effect has to be given in the disclosure form. The Master File and Local File have to be submitted within 30 days of request by the tax authorities. It is possible to apply for extensions on a case-by-case basis.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

- No

▪ Additional details

There is currently no statutory deadline for the submission of transfer pricing documentation. It needs to be submitted within 30 days upon request by the tax authorities.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The transfer pricing documentation shall be provided to ZATCA upon request within the specified duration (which shall be within 30 days from the date of request). It is possible to apply for extensions on a case-by-case basis.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

- a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

- Additional details

Article 7 B of the transfer pricing bylaws provides that there is no order of preference for the five approved methods. However, the other methods provided under Article 9 can be applied only if the five approved methods cannot be applied.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

- a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Article 13 C of the transfer pricing bylaws provides that foreign comparable transactions can be used in the absence of domestic comparable transactions, provided difference in geographic and other factors are accounted for.

- b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Multiple-year analysis for comparable companies is acceptable (preferably three years). In case of multiple-year analysis for a tested party (especially for loss-making scenarios), in exceptional cases and depending on the situation, a multiple-year approach could be applied after providing sufficient reasons in the Local File.

The interquartile range is considered to be the appropriate approach for determining the arm's-length range.

- d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

Taxpayers are required to perform comparability analyses on a three-year basis if there is no change in conditions and circumstances of the taxpayer and its controlled transactions. However, it would be prudent to note that a financial update of the comparability analysis would have to be performed on an annual basis.

- e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Weighted average is preferred.

- f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

Article 13 provides that secret comparables cannot be used. Additionally, transfer pricing guidelines issued by the ZATCA expect that comparable persons do not report any losses in the years under review. Full range is not acceptable under local transfer pricing regulations.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

- a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

There is none specified. All penalties and fines under the ITL are applicable to all income tax matters.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Currently, there is no specific transfer pricing penalty prescribed under the ITL. However, all penalties and fines under the ITL are applicable to all income tax matters, including transfer pricing.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Currently, there is no specific transfer pricing penalty prescribed under the ITL. However, all penalties and fines under the ITL are applicable to all income tax matters, including transfer pricing.

- Are there any other penalties?

There is none prescribed. All penalties and fines under the ITL are applicable to all income tax matters.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

Currently, there is no specific transfer pricing penalty prescribed under the ITL. However, all penalties and fines under the ITL are applicable to all income tax matters, including transfer pricing.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

- Additional details

Currently, there is no specific transfer pricing penalty prescribed under the ITL. However, all penalties and fines under the ITL are applicable to all income tax matters, including transfer pricing.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

There is no specific statute of limitations set out in KSA ITL regarding transfer pricing assessments. The general statute of limitations (Article 65 of the KSA ITL) for the ZATCA to make or amend a tax assessment is five years from the end of the deadline specified for filing the tax declaration for the taxable year. The ZATCA may, however, make or amend an assessment within 10 years of the deadline specified for filing the tax declaration for the taxable year in cases where the tax return was not filed or, if filed, was found to be incomplete or incorrect with the intent of tax evasion.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

There is a high risk, which is increased in case of inadequate transfer pricing documentation.

- c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

Median is preferred.

- d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Presently, the tax authority in KSA is conducting multiple audits specially for corporate taxpayers with high amounts of related-party transactions and loss-making scenarios.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

- a. Are APAs available?

The provisions of the APA shall be effective for the tax/Zakat years beginning on or after 01/ 01/ 2024.

- b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Three years

- c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

No

- d. Is MAP available?

There are detailed guidelines provided by the ZATCA on the procedure to avail MAP opportunities subject to there being specific provisions for initiating MAP proceedings in the relevant double tax avoidance agreement.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

There is an interest deduction ceiling rule in KSA corporate tax law. The Saudi tax law limits interest rate deductibility as follows: The lower of the interest charged for the year and income from loan fees (interest income) plus 50% of (A-B), where A and B are defined as: A: Income subject to tax less income from loan fee (interest income); B: Expenses allowable for tax purposes less loan fee (interest expense) Interest (or loan fees) in excess of the deductibility limit set out above is a permanent disallowance under the tax law and its bylaws. This is, however, an overall deduction rule and not specific to related-party transactions.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

The General Directorate of Taxes and Domains (Direction Générale des Impôts et Domaine – DGID)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

The regulations or rulings related to TP in the Senegal General Tax Code are found in the following articles:

- Article 17 (arm's-length principle)
- Article 31bis (annual declaration of foreign related-party transactions)
- Article 31ter (CbCR)
- Articles 638 and 639 (transfer pricing documentation obligation)
- Article 9-2 (thin capitalization legislation, applied in the context of certain intragroup financing arrangements only, e.g., intragroup interest payments on intragroup debt)
- Article 667-III.a (annual transfer pricing return fines)
- Article 667-III.c (transfer pricing documentation fine)
- Article 667-III.b (CbCR fine)

c. Effective date of applicability

1 January 2018

d. Section reference from local regulation

Book 1: Direct and assimilated taxes, Title 1: Income taxes, Chapter 1: Taxes on the profits of companies and other legal entities, Section 2: Taxable Profits, Subsection 2 Transfer Pricing

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There is no documentation obligation for domestic transactions. However, it is expected for domestic transactions to follow arm's-length principles as they may be under scrutiny during tax audit.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Limited

▪ Additional details

Senegal is not a member of the OECD. However, as a member of the Inclusive Framework, Senegal agrees to implement a minimum BEPS standard (Actions 5, 6, 13 and 14). In addition, the guides published regarding transfer pricing by the SRA clearly refer to OECD Principles. However, in practice, tax authorities stated in some tax audits that they were not bound by the OECD Guidelines and OECD Principles in assessing the effectiveness of intragroup transactions, such as management fees. This position seems marginal.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Senegal has adopted BEPS Action 13 for transfer pricing documentation in terms of TP return and CbCR.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Taxpayers that fulfill at least one of the following conditions need to file the CbCR: The Senegalese tax-resident company has been elected by the multinational group to file a CbCR and has informed the Senegalese tax administration. The Senegalese tax-resident company fails to give evidence that another company of the multinational group (either based in Senegal or in a jurisdiction that has implemented a similar CbCR requirement or in a jurisdiction that has concluded with Senegal a qualified exchange of information instrument) has been designated for purposes of filing the CbCR. The Senegalese jurisdiction has been notified regarding a systematic failure to exchange the information.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2018.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

- Coverage

Master File is covered.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The transfer pricing regulations entered into force in Senegal as of 1 January 2018.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

There is none specified.

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

- Coverage

Local File is covered.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The transfer pricing regulations entered into force in Senegal as of 1 January 2018. However, the Local File was also due for FY 2017.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

There is none specified.

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

Yes

- Additional details

A BEPS Action 13 format report should be sufficient to achieve penalty protection, but financial data relating to the Senegalese entity itself (including amounts of intragroup transactions) needs to be sourced from the Senegalese statutory accounts.

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

No

- Additional details

Senegalese companies should make available to the Senegalese tax authorities a TP documentation upon request and the taxpayer has a 20-day period to provide the TP documentation (possible extension can be negotiated).

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

No

- Additional details

TP documentation is submitted upon request of the Senegalese tax authorities.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

▪ TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Turnover

- Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

In accordance with the provisions of Article 638 of the General Tax Code, taxpayers that fulfill at least one of the following conditions need to prepare the transfer pricing documentation:

Turnover, excluding taxes or gross assets, equal to XOF5 billion, at least

Holding, at the end of the fiscal year, directly or indirectly, more than half of the share capital or voting rights of a company, located in Senegal or abroad, which generates a turnover, excluding taxes or holds gross assets, equal to XOF5 billion at least

Being directly or indirectly held for more than half of the share capital or voting rights by a company generating a turnover, excluding taxes, or holding gross assets equal to XOF5 billion

▪ CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

XOF492 billion

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

Taxpayers that fulfill at least one of the following conditions need to file the CbCR:

The Senegalese tax-resident company has been elected by the multinational group to file a CbCR and has informed the Senegalese tax administration.

The Senegalese tax-resident company fails to give evidence that another company of the multinational group (either based in Senegal or in a jurisdiction that has implemented a similar CbCR requirement or in a jurisdiction that has concluded with Senegal a qualified exchange of information instrument) has been designated for purposes of filing the CbCR.

The Senegalese jurisdiction has been notified regarding a systematic failure to exchange the information.

▪ Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

XOF5 billion/XOF5 billion

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

The requirements for preparing the Master File are the same as those mentioned in the "transfer pricing documentation" section, i.e.:

Turnover, excluding taxes or gross assets, equal to XOF5 billion, at least

Holding, at the end of the fiscal year, directly or indirectly, more than half of the share capital or voting rights of a company, located in Senegal or abroad, which generates a turnover, excluding taxes or holds gross assets, equal to XOF5 billion at least

Being directly or indirectly held for more than half of the share capital or voting rights by a company generating a turnover, excluding taxes, or holding gross assets equal to XOF5 billion

▪ Local File

▪ What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

XOF5 billion/XOF5 billion

▪ What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

▪ Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

The requirements for preparing the Local File are the same as those mentioned in the “transfer pricing documentation” section, i.e.:

Turnover, excluding taxes or gross assets, equal to XOF5 billion, at least

Holding, at the end of the fiscal year, directly or indirectly, more than half of the share capital or voting rights of a company, located in Senegal or abroad, which generates a turnover, excluding taxes or holds gross assets, equal to XOF5 billion at least

Being directly or indirectly held for more than half of the share capital or voting rights by a company generating a turnover, excluding taxes, or holding gross assets equal to XOF5 billion

▪ Economic analysis

▪ Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

▪ What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

▪ Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

The GTC does not provide for any materiality limit with regard to the intercompany transactions to be reported in the transfer pricing documentation. Indeed, there is no applicable notion of “important intercompany transactions.”

c. Specific requirements

▪ Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

▪ Additional details

French

▪ Is a safe harbor available?

Unspecified

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The transfer pricing return needs to be submitted in French no later than 30 April as part of the taxpayer’s annual tax return. Online submission tool is provided.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

There is no filing obligation for the transfer pricing documentation (Master File and Local File). The documentation package has to be prepared on a contemporaneous basis and provided upon request during a tax audit (20 days after an official request (Article 638.3 of GTC)).

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Not applicable

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Yes, if the Senegalese entity is not the ultimate parent entity (UPE) or surrogate parent entity (SPE)

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

30 April

- Additional details
 - Submission/filing date: The deadline is 30 April following each fiscal year-end.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

30 April

- Additional details
 - Submission/filing date: The annual transfer pricing return due date is 30 April.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

By time of tax audit

- Additional details
 - Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared): The Master File must be prepared and kept for each accounting period.
 - Submission/filing date: The Master File is not subject to a reporting requirement in Senegal. It is only required to be prepared, kept and provided to the tax authorities upon request during a tax audit.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

CbCR is to be submitted within 12 months following the fiscal year-end.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

The deadline is by the last day of the MNE's fiscal year (31 December).

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By time of tax audit

- Additional details

It should be available by the time of a tax audit (accounts examination on-site).

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The deadline is 20 days following the tax auditor's request of the transfer pricing documentation. An extension can be negotiated.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

The following methods are accepted: CUP, resale price, cost-plus, profit-split and TNMM. Other methods may be accepted by the tax authorities if justified and if the remuneration is compliant with the arm's-length principle.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There is no specific indication. However, local comparables would be preferred.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

There is no guidance provided.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

Yes, there are requirements.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no guidance provided.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is no guidance provided.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is no guidance provided.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

As for the transfer pricing documentation and, in case where it is either not provided or is incomplete within the 20-day period, a fine applies at the rate of 0.5% of the volume of transactions that were not documented or are missing.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

XOF25 million

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

- Are there any other penalties?

In accordance with the provisions of Article 667.III- a of the GTC, a XOF10 million fine applies for the failure or delay to submit the transfer pricing return. It is also to be noted that the transfer pricing return is used as a "risk assessment tool" by the tax authorities. In cases where the transfer pricing return is incomplete or inaccurate, and in accordance with Article 667-II of the GTC, a fine of XOF200,000 is due for each time when the information is incomplete or inaccurate. However, the amount of the fine recorded in a "procès-verbal" of violation should not exceed XOF1 million. The article 667.III-b of the GTC provides for a fine of XOF25 million in the event of failure or delay to submit the CbCR. As for the transfer pricing documentation and, in case where it is either not provided or is incomplete within the 20-day period, a fine applies at the rate of 0.5% of the volume of transactions that were not documented or are missing.

b. Penalties post-TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

After a transfer pricing reassessment is made, the profit indirectly transferred should be qualified as a deemed distribution of a benefit. Such "benefit" transfer should entail corporate income tax and withholding tax (WHT) on profits deemed distributed. Accordingly, tax auditors should apply penalties at the rate of 25%, applied on the due corporate income tax, and 50% applied on the due WHT on profits deemed distributed. See Article 671(III)(4) of the Senegalese General Tax Code.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

After a transfer pricing reassessment is made, the profit indirectly transferred should be qualified as a deemed distribution of profits. Such deemed distribution should entail corporate income tax and WHT on profits deemed distributed. Accordingly, tax auditors should apply penalties at the rate of 25%, applied on the due corporate income tax, and 50% applied on the due WHT on profits deemed distributed. See Article 671(III)(4) of the Senegalese General Tax Code.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

Not applicable

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

There are no specific transactions or industries targeted by the tax authorities. As long as a local entity is the subsidiary or branch of a foreign one, said entity may likely undergo transfer pricing related audit.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Unilateral and bilateral APAs are available.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The APA application should be filed at least six months before the beginning of the first fiscal year indicated in the APA request.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

There is no guidance provided.

d. Is MAP available?

Yes, taxpayers may request a MAP if taxation has or is likely to occur that is not in accordance with the provisions of a double taxation treaty to which Senegal is signatory.

Senegal does not have specific thin capitalization rules, but the following limitations are imposed on interest paid to related foreign parties in respect of funds provided to local companies.

- The rate of interest paid to shareholders, partners or other related parties on loans advanced directly or indirectly to the company in excess of the share capital may not exceed the advance rate of the central bank by more than three percentage points.

- The interest referred to in (1) may be deducted only if the capital is fully paid up.
- The deduction of interest paid to an individual is limited to the interest attributable to loans not exceeding the amount of the share capital.
- Interest, referred to in (1) when paid to companies, is not deductible to the extent it is paid on loans that exceed 1.5 times the share capital and the interest exceeds 15% of profits from ordinary activities, plus interest, depreciation and provisions taken into account in determining those profits.
- The total amount of deductible annual interest in respect of all debts incurred by members of a group cannot exceed 15% of the group's consolidated profits from ordinary activities, plus interest, depreciation and provisions taken into account for the determination of those profits.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Inland Revenue Authority of Singapore (IRAS)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

On 22 February 2018, the Singapore Government published the Income Tax (Transfer Pricing Documentation) Rules 2018 (the TPD rules), under the Singapore Income Tax Act (ITA), in the Singapore Government Gazette. The TPD rules are effective as of 23 February 2018 and apply for the basis period for the year of assessment (YA) 2019 and thereafter. Section 34D of the ITA relates to transfer pricing and empowers the IRAS to make transfer pricing adjustments in cases where a Singapore taxpayer's transfer pricing practices are not consistent with the arm's-length principle. Section 34E allows the IRAS to impose a surcharge of 5% on the transfer pricing adjustments made by the comptroller with effect from the YA 2019. Section 34F legislates the mandatory requirement for contemporaneous and adequate transfer pricing documentation, and penalties for non-compliance from YA 2019 onward. On 14 June 2024, the IRAS released the seventh edition of the Singapore transfer pricing guidelines.

c. Effective date of applicability

19 October 2017

d. Section reference from local regulation

Under Section 2(1) of the Singapore ITA, a "related party, in relation to a person (A), means any person who directly or indirectly controls person (A), or is being controlled directly or indirectly by A, or who, together with A, is directly or indirectly under the control of a common person."

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There is a documentation obligation for domestic transactions. Still, taxpayers are not expected to prepare transfer pricing documentation in the following situations: a) where the taxpayer transacts with a related party in Singapore and such local transactions (excluding related-party loans) are subject to the same Singapore tax rates or exempt from tax for both parties; b) where a related party domestic loan is provided between the taxpayer and a related party in Singapore on or after 1 January 2025, and neither the borrower nor the lender is in the business of borrowing and lending and the indicative margin is applied; c) where a related party domestic loan is provided between the taxpayer and a related party in Singapore prior to 1 January 2025, and the lender is not in the business of borrowing and lending

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Singapore is not an OECD member jurisdiction; however, it is a BEPS associate jurisdiction (as announced on 16 June 2016). The 2024 Singapore Transfer Pricing Guidelines are generally consistent with the OECD Guidelines.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

The IRAS has published an e-tax guide on CbCR. Broadly, CbCR is required for an MNE group in relation to a financial year beginning on or after 1 January 2017 (but before 1 January 2018), where Singapore-resident ultimate parent entities (UPEs) of the following two types of MNE groups are required to submit a CbC report to the comptroller (or an authorized person): Type A group: an MNE group with consolidated revenues of at least SGD1.125 billion (USD850 million) and has two or more entities that are tax residents in different countries. Type B group: an MNE group with consolidated revenues of at least SGD1.125 billion having a single entity that is tax resident in one jurisdiction, but is also subject to income tax for its business carried out through a permanent establishment in another jurisdiction.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2017.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

- Coverage

Under Action 13, the IRAS has not adopted the application of the OECD Master File concepts as separate documents. Nonetheless, the information requirements for Singapore transfer pricing documentation are largely aligned to the OECD approaches though the details requested are for the applicable Singapore entity.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

This is already in place (under the requirements for local Singapore transfer pricing documentation).

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

- Coverage

Under Action 13, the IRAS has not adopted the application of the OECD Local File concepts as separate documents. Nonetheless, the information requirements for Singapore transfer pricing documentation are largely aligned to the OECD approaches though the details requested are for the applicable Singapore entity.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

This is already in place (under the requirements for local Singapore transfer pricing documentation).

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

- Additional details

A BEPS Action 13 format report (including both OECD Master File and Local File requirements) will help in mitigating penalties, particularly non-compliance with transfer pricing documentation requirements. Having contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation is also one of the conditions to reduce the surcharge of 5% on the amount of the transfer pricing adjustment under Section 34E (applicable from YA 2019 onward).

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

- a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

With effect from YA 2019, Singapore has compulsory transfer pricing documentation requirements. It is mandatory to prepare a transfer pricing report on a contemporaneous basis, which should be ready by the time of the filing of the tax return.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation should be prepared annually under the 2024 Singapore Transfer Pricing Guidelines. However, to reduce taxpayers' compliance costs, IRAS allows them to use the transfer pricing documentation they have prepared previously to support the transfer price in the basis period concerned if it is a qualifying past transfer pricing documentation. Qualifying past transfer pricing documentation means:

Past transfer pricing documentation prepared for the first basis period immediately preceding the basis period concerned and that satisfies certain conditions

Or

Past transfer pricing documentation prepared for the second basis period immediately preceding the basis period concerned and which satisfies certain conditions; hence, the transfer pricing documentation is required to be refreshed only once every three years if the existing one qualifies as past transfer pricing documentation. For existing transfer pricing documentation to qualify as past transfer pricing documentation, the following conditions must be satisfied:

- The transaction for which the past transfer pricing documentation was prepared must be of the same type as the transaction undertaken in the basis period concerned.
 - The transaction for which the past transfer pricing documentation was prepared and the transaction in the basis period concerned must have been undertaken with the same related parties.
 - The past transfer pricing documentation must contain documentation at group level and entity level as prescribed in the TPD rules.
 - The past transfer pricing documentation must be dated and prepared in English.
- The information contained in the past transfer pricing documentation on the following matters accurately describes the same matters in relation to the transaction in the basis period concerned.
 - The commercial or financial relations between the taxpayers and their related parties
 - The conditions made or imposed between the taxpayers and their related parties
 - The transfer pricing method that is used for the transaction
 - The arm's-length conditions: To make use of qualifying past transfer pricing documentation for a related-party transaction undertaken in the basis period concerned, taxpayers only need to prepare simplified transfer pricing documentation for that transaction. The simplified transfer pricing documentation must be prepared on a contemporaneous basis and dated accordingly as proof that the simplified transfer pricing documentation has been prepared contemporaneously. The simplified transfer pricing documentation need only:
 - Contain a declaration by the taxpayer that it has prepared qualifying past transfer pricing documentation
 - Include, by way of an attachment, a copy of the qualifying past transfer pricing documentation. However, it is still required to conduct annual testing of the actual results against the arm's-length results in the qualifying past transfer pricing documentation. As mentioned above, with effect from YA 2019, Section 34F legislates the requirement for Singapore taxpayers to prepare contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation. They must prepare transfer pricing documentation if they meet certain conditions. It must be prepared no later than the statutory deadline for the filing of the income tax return. Additionally, per paragraph 6.6 of the 2024 Singapore Transfer Pricing Guidelines, the preparation of contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation is important to help avoid the consequences of being unable to deal with transfer pricing enforcement actions by tax authorities and the double taxation arising from those actions. This includes:
 - Supporting the taxpayer's transfer pricing in the event of a transfer pricing audit by the tax authorities

- Helping the tax authorities resolve potential transfer pricing issues under the MAP
- Facilitating the discussion and conclusion of APAs

For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Turnover

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

Additional details

Unless exemption from transfer pricing documentation for specified transactions applies, taxpayers must prepare transfer pricing documentation for their related-party transactions undertaken in a basis period (referred to as the “basis period concerned”) when either of these two conditions are met:

Condition (a): The gross revenue from their trade or business for the basis period concerned is more than SGD10 million.

Condition (b): They were required to prepare transfer pricing documentation under Section 34F of the ITA for the basis period immediately before the basis period concerned. In other words, taxpayers who were required to prepare transfer pricing documentation for a previous basis period would continue to be required to do so for the subsequent basis period, and so on. Transfer pricing documentation is not required in the following situations:

When the taxpayer transacts with a related party in Singapore and such local transactions (excluding related-party loans) are subject to the same Singapore tax rates or exempt from Singapore tax for both parties

When a domestic loan is provided between the taxpayer and a related party in Singapore prior to 1 January 2025, and the lender is not in the business of borrowing and lending

When a domestic loan of any amount is provided between the taxpayer and a related party in Singapore on or after 1 January 2025, and neither the lender nor borrower is in the business of borrowing and lending

When the taxpayer applies the “safe harbor” 5% cost markup for routine services that fall under Annex C of the 2024 Singapore Transfer Pricing Guidelines

Where the taxpayer applies the indicative margin for related-party loans in accordance with the administrative practice

When the related-party transactions are covered under an APA, although annual compliance reports are still required under an APA

When the related-party transaction does not exceed a certain value as follows:

SGD15 million for purchase or sale of goods (respectively)

SGD15 million for loans owned to, or by, related parties (respectively)

SGD1 million for all other categories of transactions (e.g., service income and expense, royalty income and expense, rental income and expense, and guarantee income and expense) For the purpose of determining if the threshold is met, aggregation should be done for each category of transactions (strict pass-through costs should be included in the computation to determine if the threshold is met). For example, all service incomes received from related parties should be aggregated.

CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

SGD1.125 billion

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

The IRAS has published an e-tax guide on CbCR. Broadly, CbCR is required for an MNE group in relation to a financial year beginning on or after 1 January 2017 (but before 1 January 2018), where Singapore-resident ultimate parent entities (UPEs) of the following two types of MNE groups are required to submit a CbC report to the comptroller (or an authorized person):

Type A group: an MNE group with consolidated revenues of at least SGD1.125 billion (USD850 million) and has two or more entities that are tax residents in different countries

Type B group: an MNE group with consolidated revenues of at least SGD1.125 billion having a single entity that is tax resident in one jurisdiction, but is also subject to income tax for its business carried out through a permanent establishment in another jurisdiction

- Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

Not specified

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

The IRAS has not adopted the application of the BEPS Master File concepts as separate documents. Nonetheless, the information requirements for Singapore transfer pricing documentation are largely aligned to the OECD approaches, though the details requested are for the applicable Singapore entity. The 2024 Singapore Transfer Pricing Guidelines contains a two-tiered approach in which both group and entity-level details are required when preparing Singapore transfer pricing documentation.

- Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

Not specified

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

The IRAS has not adopted the application of the BEPS Local File concepts as separate documents. Nonetheless, the information requirements for Singapore transfer pricing documentation are largely aligned to the OECD approaches, though the details requested are for the applicable Singapore entity. The 2024 Singapore Transfer Pricing Guidelines contains a two-tiered approach in which both group and entity-level details are required when preparing Singapore transfer pricing documentation.

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation needs to be prepared in English. Paragraph 6.40(c) of the 2024 Singapore Transfer Pricing Guidelines specifies that the IRAS may request translation of any transfer pricing documentation not written in English.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Yes

- Additional details

As mentioned above, safe harbor is available for routine services and related-party loans if certain conditions are met (refer to paragraph 14. 29 of the 2024 Singapore Transfer Pricing Guidelines for routine services and paragraph 15. 60 of the same for related-party loans).

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

There is no transfer pricing return required to be filed, either separately or along with the Singapore income tax return.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

With effect from YA 2018, a related-party transactions reporting requirement for companies was introduced. Under the related-party transactions reporting requirement, a company must state in Form C whether the value of related-party transactions, as disclosed in the audited accounts, exceeds SGD15 million for the relevant year of assessment. If the value of related-party transactions exceeds SGD15 million, the company has to complete the Related-Party Transactions Form and submit it together with Form C.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

It is required to disclose related-party transactions in the annual financial statement; however, the same may not be presented as a separate note.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

30 November

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

30 November

- Additional details

Submission/filing date: With effect from YA 2018, it should be filed by 30 November for Related-Party Transactions Form, which is to be submitted together with Form C.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not required

- Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

For financial years beginning on or after 1 January 2017, Singapore MNE groups are required to submit a CbC report to the comptroller within 12 months from the end of that financial year.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

With effect from FY beginning on or after 1 January 2022, Singapore-headquartered MNEs having a filing obligation in Singapore will need to notify IRAS on their obligation to file a CbC report within three months from the end of their FY. IRAS will no longer issue notification letters to the reporting entities.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By tax return lodgment date

- Additional details

To be considered contemporaneous, the transfer pricing documentation is required to be prepared no later than the statutory deadline for the filing of the income tax return.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

Taxpayers should have evidence that their transfer pricing documentation was prepared in accordance with the contemporaneous requirements (e.g., dating of the report).

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Transfer pricing documentation should be submitted within 30 days upon request.

6. Transfer Pricing methodsa. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

The IRAS generally does not have a specific preference for any of the five prescribed methods outlined in the OECD Guidelines, and it stipulates that the transfer pricing method that produces the most reliable results should be selected and applied. To apply the arm's-length principle, the 2024 Singapore Transfer Pricing Guidelines recommends a three-step approach:

- Conduct a comparability analysis.
- Identify the most appropriate transfer pricing method and tested party.
- Determine the arm's-length results.

7. Benchmarking Requirementsa. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

As much as possible, taxpayers should use local comparables in their comparability analysis. When taxpayers are unable to find sufficiently reliable local comparables, they may expand their search to regional comparables (such as pan-Asian).

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Single-year results of the tested party are expected to be compared with multiple-year results of the comparables.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

Interquartile range calculation is acceptable.

There is no need to conduct a fresh benchmarking search every year. A roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials is accepted if past qualifying transfer pricing documentation is not relied upon. The same benchmarking set with no financial update should be relied upon in preparing simplified transfer pricing documentation in second and third year of the transfer pricing documentation cycle. However, the 2024 Singapore Transfer Pricing Guidelines states that taxpayers should update their transfer pricing documentation, including the benchmarking set, when there are material changes that impact the functional analysis or transfer pricing analysis. Taxpayers are also required to update their transfer pricing documentation at least once every three years.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is a preference for weighted average for arm's-length analysis.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

Per paragraph 5.50 (a) to (d), the IRAS has clarified that:

- The IRAS has no preference for any particular commercial database, as long as it provides a reliable source of information that assists taxpayers in performing comparability analysis.
- Taxpayers should only use comparables with publicly available information. Such information can be readily obtained from various sources and verified, making the analyses of these comparables more reliable, compared with those based on privately held information.
- Taxpayers should use local comparables in their comparability analysis. When taxpayers are unable to find sufficiently reliable local comparables, they may expand their search to regional comparables.
- Taxpayers should exclude comparables that have weighted average loss for the tested period, or loss incurred for more than half of the tested period.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

With effect from YA 2019, taxpayers will be subject to fines not more than SGD10,000 if they fail to comply with any of the following:

- Prepare contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation if required to do so under Section 34F.
- Prepare transfer pricing documentation with the details and in the form and content as prescribed in the TPD rules.
- Retain the transfer pricing documentation for a period of at least five years from the end of the basis period in which the transaction took place.
- Furnish the comptroller with a copy of the transfer pricing documentation within 30 days of receiving the notice to submit.

Similar penalties apply to a person who knowingly provides materially false or misleading transfer pricing documentation to the comptroller.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

SGD5,000

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

▪ Are there any other penalties?

With effect from YA 2019, taxpayers will be subject to fines not more than SGD10,000 if they fail to comply with any of the following:

- Prepare contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation if required to do so under Section 34F.
- Prepare transfer pricing documentation with the details and in the form and content as prescribed in the TPD rules.
- Retain the transfer pricing documentation for a period of at least five years from the end of the basis period in which the transaction took place.
- Furnish the comptroller with a copy of the transfer pricing documentation within 30 days of receiving the notice to submit.

Similar penalties apply to a person who knowingly provides materially false or misleading transfer pricing documentation to the comptroller.

A SGD5,000 penalty will be imposed upon failure to notify or late filing or failure to file the CbC report by the due date. If the penalty is not paid, the responsible person may be imprisoned for up to six months. An additional penalty of up to SGD100 per day may also be imposed for every day the failure continues after conviction.

An SGD1,000 (USD760) penalty will be imposed upon failing to retain all records used to prepare a CbC report for a period of five years after the end of the financial year. If the penalty is not paid, the responsible person may be imprisoned for up to six months. An additional penalty of up to SGD50 (USD38) per day may also be imposed for every day the failure continues after conviction.

A penalty of up to SGD10,000 (USD7,600) applies to the filing of false or misleading CbCR information. The responsible person may also be imprisoned for up to two years.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

▪ Additional details

With effect from YA 2019, taxpayers will be subject to fines not more than SGD10,000 if they fail to comply with any of the following:

- Prepare contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation if required to do so under Section 34F.
- Prepare transfer pricing documentation with the details and in the form and content as prescribed in the TPD rules.
- Retain the transfer pricing documentation for a period of at least five years from the end of the basis period in which the transaction took place.
- Furnish the comptroller with a copy of the transfer pricing documentation within 30 days of receiving the notice to submit.

Similar penalties apply to a person who knowingly provides materially false or misleading transfer pricing documentation to the comptroller.

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

▪ Additional details

With effect from YA 2019, taxpayers will be subject to fines not more than SGD10,000 if they fail to comply with any of the following:

- Prepare contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation if required to do so under Section 34F.
- Prepare transfer pricing documentation with the details and in the form and content as prescribed in the TPD rules.
- Retain the transfer pricing documentation for a period of at least five years from the end of the basis period in which the transaction took place.
- Furnish the comptroller with a copy of the transfer pricing documentation within 30 days of receiving the notice to submit.

Similar penalties apply to a person who knowingly provides materially false or misleading transfer pricing documentation to the comptroller.

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Applicable from YA 2019 onward, Section 34E introduces the penalty regime which allows the Comptroller to apply a surcharge of 5% on the transfer pricing adjustment made for non-compliance with the arm's-length principle. The Comptroller may also collect and recover any interest charged on top of the surcharge. The Comptroller is required to refund the taxpayer the surcharge and interest paid if the surcharge is reduced or annulled at a later date.

▪ Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Adequate and contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation to support the pricing of the taxpayer's related-party transactions will help in mitigating penalties in relation to non-compliance with transfer pricing documentation requirements. It is also one of the conditions for the IRAS to consider a remission of the surcharge of 5% on the transfer pricing adjustments under Section 34E (applicable from YA 2019 onward).

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The statute of limitations is four years from the end of the year of assessment (i.e., the latest date the IRAS may make an additional assessment for YA 2021 is 31 December 2025).

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Yes. The IRAS may raise transfer pricing queries as part of its routine corporate income tax reviews, as well as through more detailed transfer pricing audits with taxpayers. In examining the related-party transaction under audit, the IRAS may question the applicability of the transfer pricing methodology adopted. This may include the PLI applied, the specific margin and results arrived at, the transfer pricing method applied, as well as economic substance questions and request for evidence.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Yes. The risk of an adjustment may be reduced through contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation.

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

Not applicable

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

There is none specified.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Unilateral, bilateral and multilateral APAs are available; requests for APAs have markedly increased in recent years.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The IRAS will generally accept an APA request to cover three to five financial years.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

The IRAS accepts taxpayers' requests to extend APAs to prior years for bilateral or multilateral APAs. The number of roll-back years will generally not exceed two financial years immediately prior to the covered period. Depending on the facts and circumstances, the IRAS may exercise discretion to vary the number of roll-back years.

d. Is MAP available?

They are available. Taxpayers should submit an MAP application to the IRAS within the time limit specified in the MAP article of the relevant DTT.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

There are no thin capitalization rules in Singapore

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

No

b. Name of authority

Not applicable

c. Name of regulations

Not applicable

d. Effective date of applicability

Not applicable

e. Section reference from local regulation

Not applicable

14. PCbCR thresholds and exemptions

a. What is the global consolidated income threshold?

Not applicable

b. Are there any materiality exemptions?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

15. Content

a. Does PCbCR align with OECD BEPS Action 13 CbCR requirements?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Is aggregation of transactions allowed?

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Slovak Financial Directorate, local tax authorities and Ministry of Finance

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

The Slovak transfer pricing rules established in the Income Tax Act generally conform to the OECD Guidelines. The OECD Guidelines were published in the Slovak Financial Newsletter but are not legally binding. Nevertheless, the tax authorities generally follow them in practice. Since 2009, taxpayers have been obligated to prepare and keep transfer pricing documentation supporting the transfer pricing method used in transactions with foreign related parties. The Slovak Ministry of Finance regularly issues official guidance on the contents of transfer pricing documentation.

c. Effective date of applicability

2009

d. Section reference from local regulation

Transfer pricing rules in Slovak Republic are stipulated by:

- Sections 2, 17 (5, 6, 7) and 18 of the Income Tax Act
- Relevant sections of the Act on Tax Administration (Tax Code)
- Guidance of the Ministry of Finance on the content of the transfer pricing documentation (Slovak TP Guidance) – for 2022, the 2018 guidance is applicable, new guidance was issued for documentations from 2023 onward

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There is a documentation obligation for domestic transactions, but usually only for shortened documentation or the specific cases, i.e., material transactions of taxpayers applying for tax relief, APA, MAP or corresponding adjustments.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

The Slovak Republic is a member of the OECD. The tax authorities usually follow the provisions of the OECD Guidelines (e.g., the acceptable methods listed in the Income Tax Act correspond with the methods listed in the OECD Guidelines). As of 1 January 2014, the Slovak Income Tax Act reflects the 2010 version of the OECD Guidelines (e.g., elimination of preference in applying the selected transfer pricing method). The Slovak tax legislation acknowledge OECD TP Guidelines as soft law – interpretation tool.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

CbCR reporting is required.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2018.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Master File is covered.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The law is applicable for the fiscal year beginning on 1 January 2018.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

There is none specified.

▪ iv. Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Local File is covered.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The law is applicable for the fiscal year beginning on 1 January 2018.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

There is none specified.

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

Yes

▪ Additional details

BEPS Action 13 format report should be sufficient to achieve penalty protection. However, the OECD templates do not match with local reality completely, and some details might be missing either in functions, assets and risk (FAR) analysis or intercompany transactions. Thus, local review is recommended.

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

▪ Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

▪ If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Yes. The transfer pricing documentation has to be prepared annually; however, it is submitted only upon the request of the Slovak tax authorities.

▪ Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

▪ Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The tax authorities can request the transfer pricing documentation for the relevant year once the obligation to file the tax return for the relevant period is fulfilled.

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

▪ TP documentation

▪ Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

▪ If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Value of international transactions

- Is there any other threshold?
Yes
- Additional details
There are three types of documentation: full, basic and shortened, for which several conditions are tested. Generally, the obligation to prepare full documentation is set for every cross-border transaction (or a group of such transactions) whose value exceeds EUR10 million during the tax period or for all material transactions of the taxpayers following the IFRS. Basic documentation is required for each cross-border transaction (or group of such transactions) that exceeds the value of EUR1 million. The basic documentation should also be prepared by every taxpayer with revenues exceeding EUR8 million for each cross-border transaction exceeding materiality threshold.
- CbCR
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?
Not specified
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Annual global income
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
Not applicable
- Master File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?
Not applicable
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Not applicable
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
Both 2018 and 2023 Slovak TP Guidance are fully compatible with the BEPS recommendations for Master File.
- Local File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?
Volume of IC transaction/turnover
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Not applicable
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
Both 2018 and 2023 Slovak TP Guidance are fully compatible with the BEPS recommendations for Local File.
- Economic analysis
 - Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?
Yes
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Other
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
Economic analysis, including benchmark, should be performed as part of the full documentation i.e., for transactions exceeding the amount of EUR10 million. Economic analysis substantiating the transfer pricing method used (but not requiring the benchmark) is required for basic documentation.
- c. Specific requirements
 - Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?
No
 - Additional details
The transfer pricing documentation may be submitted also in other than the local language. However, the tax authorities can always request for a translation into Slovak language.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Yes

- Additional details

For the purposes of determining the tax base of a taxpayer within the MNE, a material controlled transaction or a group of controlled transactions is considered to be a legal relationship or other similar relationship, on the basis of which, in the relevant tax period, one or more related parties achieves taxable income (income) or tax expenditure (cost) in the value exceeding EUR10,000 while a credit or loan with a principal amount of more than EUR50,000 is also considered a significant controlled transaction. For a transaction that does not exceed this value, the tax authority will not review compliance with the arm's-length principle.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

- Additional details

There is no preference.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

The corporate income tax form contains an overview of the transactions in a summarized format. The corporate income tax return includes a summary table in which the amounts of various types of related-party sales and purchases must be stated (regardless of whether they diverge from arm's-length prices). The taxpayer should state (on a specific row of the tax return) the difference, if any, between the prices charged in transactions with related parties and the arm's-length prices that decreased the tax base or increased the tax loss. The tax base must be increased by this difference at the same time. Transfer pricing documentation does not need to be enclosed with the tax return.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Financial statements contain specific rows for related-party loans, receivables and liabilities. Also, the notes to financial statements contain a section with information about related-party transactions. Transfer pricing documentation does not need to be enclosed with the financial statements.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No other information is required.

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

31 March (extensions possible)

- Additional details

The deadline is usually three months after the end of the fiscal year, with the possibility of a three-month extension.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

The high-level information on intercompany transactions in a summarized format is submitted within the corporate income tax return.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

15 days upon request

- Additional details

Master File should be enclosed with the Local File. On the basis of the Slovak TP Guidance, Master File and Local File form one complete documentation. This applies only if the taxpayer has the obligation to prepare full or basic transfer pricing documentation.

- Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared): There is no specific date; however, the documentation may be requested by the tax authorities the day after the submission of the corporate income tax return at earliest. Then the taxpayer has 15 days to submit the documentation to the tax authorities.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

Yes, CbCR for locally headquartered companies

- Additional details

Submission/filing date 12 months after the end of fiscal year

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Submission is three months after the end of fiscal year. Annual submission is not required unless there are changes from the previous year. All entities are obliged to submit the CbC notification.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

Within 15 days upon request

- Additional details

There is no formal deadline for the documentation to be prepared. Nevertheless, should the tax authorities request the documentation, the taxpayer is obliged to present the documentation within 15 days window.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The taxpayer has 15 days to submit the transfer pricing documentation once requested by the tax authorities in an audit or inquiry.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

There is no direct preference, though the most appropriate method should be used (in line with the OECD Guidelines).

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Regional searches are acceptable and preferred.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Multiple-year analysis is acceptable.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

Interquartile range calculation using Excel quartile formulas is acceptable.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

Slovak legislation does not explicitly require new benchmark studies every year, but our experience indicates that it is recommended to update the financials of comparables annually. Brand-new benchmarks should be prepared every three years.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is none specified in regulations; however, the weighted average method is usually preferred.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

Comparables with not more than 25% ownership are specified. This applies for upward and downward ownership. Relations through the individuals are also observed (e.g., the same individual owning multiple entities).

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

The penalty is up to EUR3,000 for noncompliance; it can be assessed repeatedly.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

EUR3,000

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

EUR3,000

▪ Are there any other penalties?

The penalty is up to EUR3,000 for noncompliance; it can be assessed repeatedly.

b. Penalties post-TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

▪ Additional details

If any discrepancies are identified in transfer prices, the Slovak tax authorities would levy an additional tax at the rate of 21% from an adjusted amount, plus a penalty of 10% per year or three times the base interest rate of the European Central Bank (ECB) – whichever is higher – from additional levied tax. There is also a system of transfer pricing related penalties under which the STA can impose a penalty, doubling a sanction of 10% or three times the base interest rate of the ECB (whichever is higher) on the sums equal to differences in the newly determined tax liability of the taxpayer. This would apply if the STA determines that the tax base is not calculated using arm's-length prices in transactions with the taxpayer's related parties and that the general anti-abuse rules stated in the Slovak tax legislation have been breached. If the taxpayer does not file an appeal against a decision of the STA on an increase of the tax liability stated in the tax return, a double penalty increase should not apply (i.e., only three times the base interest rate of the ECB should be applied).

▪ iv. Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

▪ Additional details

As of 2016, there is a general option to submit a supplementary tax return within 15 days from the beginning of the tax audit, which offers taxpayers a possibility of reducing the imposed penalty, compared with a tax audit determination of the tax assessment. That means a penalty at 7% per year or twice the base interest rate of the ECB per year (whichever is higher) could be assessed (instead of 10% per year or three times the ECB base rate per year).

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The statute of limitations in the Slovak Republic in the case of applying a double tax treaty is 10 years from the end of the year in which the tax return is filed.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

As of 2023, the Slovak Income Tax Act stipulates that in the cases when the alignment with the arm's-length principle is tested by use of benchmark analysis and the transfer prices fall outside of the interquartile range, the median value is used for the TP adjustment calculation.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

This can vary depending on the transfer pricing structure, though structure on royalties, services, financial transactions and limited-risk manufacturers is an area of relatively straightforward challenge.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

In cases of related-party transactions, the taxpayer may request that the tax authority approves the selected transfer pricing method. If approved, the method should be applied for a maximum of five tax periods. The Income Tax Act does not explicitly stipulate whether the tax authority may approve the particular price or margin percentage used. Nevertheless, in practice, the Slovak tax authority may approve the practical application of the transfer pricing method (e.g., process of identifying comparable transactions or entities) and request information regarding the specific targeted remuneration considering the model under application. Given this, an APA should provide a reasonable level of comfort for taxpayers.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The tenure is up to five years from the approved fiscal year (if business circumstances do not change).

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

For a unilateral APA, no roll-back provisions exist. For bilateral and multilateral requests for approval of the advance pricing method (APA), the ability to issue a decision for more than five tax periods is introduced from 2023. According to the Explanatory Memorandum, it should be possible to apply for the APA retrospectively, i.e., for the tax periods preceding the application.

d. Is MAP available?

MAP is applicable under tax treaties, and the EU Arbitration Convention and the Ministry of Finance has issued guidance in February 2018. From July 2019, an act governing the MAP and local procedure for resolution of transfer pricing disputes in Slovakia is in effect.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

Thin capitalization rules restrict the maximum amount of tax-deductible interest on related-party (foreign and domestic) loans (new and old) to 25% of the taxpayer's EBITDA.

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

Yes

b. Name of authority

Ministry of Finance

c. Name of regulations

Slovak Act on Accounting

d. Effective date of applicability

First application for the tax period starting after 22 June 2024

e. Section reference from local regulation

Para 21 (Act on Accounting)

14. PCbCR thresholds and exemptionsa. What is the global consolidated income threshold?

EUR750 million (two consecutive financial years)

b. Are there any materiality exemptions?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

15. Contenta. Does PCbCR align with OECD BEPS Action 13 CbCR requirements?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Is aggregation of transactions allowed?

Yes

- Additional details

Total figures per jurisdiction, not per transaction

c. Can you provide data sources and guidance?

16. Lodgment process and requirementsa. Is lodgment possible?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes, for qualified entities, the report should be filed to the register of Financial statements.

b. Is lodgment in another jurisdiction possible?

Yes

- Additional details

Only under very specific circumstances. Generally, the qualifying entities shall file in Slovakia.

c. Is lodgment required in a prescribed form and format?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the lodgment deadline?

12 months after the year-end.

17. Penaltiesa. What are the maximum administrative penalties?

Up to EUR10,000

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Is there any risk of criminal prosecution?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Rules on the implementation of the Tax Procedure Act (Official Gazette of the Republic of Slovenia, Nos. 141/ 06, through 112/ 24) (Pravilnik o izvajanju Zakona o davčnem postopku)
- Financial Administration Act (Official Gazette of the Republic of Slovenia, Nos., 25/ 14, through 104/ 24 - ZDDV-10) (Zakon o Finančni upravi (ZFU))
- Rules on the recognized rate of interest (Official Gazette of the Republic of Slovenia, Nos., 141/ 06, through 195/ 21) (Pravilnik o priznani obrestni meri)
- Companies Act (Official Gazette of the Republic of Slovenia, Nos. 65/ 09 – official consolidated text, through 102/24) (Zakon o Gospodarskih družbah (ZGD-1))
- Minimum Tax Act (Official Gazette of the Republic of Slovenia, Nos. 131/ 23 (Zakon o minimalnem davku (ZMD))

c. Effective date of applicability

No date specified

d. Section reference from local regulation

Articles 16, 17, 18 and 19 of the Corporate Income Tax Act provide the definition of “related party” and the general requirements with which related parties need to comply.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

For Local File: if one of the related parties involved in the controlled transaction is in a beneficial tax position, i.e., meets either of the following conditions: Shows an uncovered tax loss from previous periods (TLCF) in the relevant tax period, or Pays corporate income tax at a rate of 0% or at a specially determined rate, lower than the general statutory rate, or Is exempt from paying corporate income tax.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Slovenia is a member of the OECD and EU Joint Transfer Pricing Forum (JTPF). As the Slovenian transfer pricing regulations follow the principles established in the OECD Guidelines, the tax authority, in the absence of guidance in Slovenian legislation, will also consider the OECD Guidelines during tax audits. The JTPF’s recommendation shall also generally apply.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Slovenia has implemented BEPS Action 13 into its legislation. The CbCR requirement, as well as the Master File and Local File concepts, are incorporated in national tax regulations.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

The CbCR requirement applies to multinational groups with consolidated revenues of EUR750 million or above in the reporting period.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date was 1 January 2016.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Master File is covered to a great extent.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

Relevant legislation for Master File was adopted in 2016 and 2017.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format. Information on financing and intellectual property (IP) is not explicitly required by the Slovenian documentation rules.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Local File is covered to a great extent.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

Relevant legislation for Local File was adopted in 2016 and 2017.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format. Information on financing and intellectual property (IP) is not explicitly required by the Slovenian documentation rules.

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no penalty protection concept in Slovenia. The content of the documentation and deadline is prescribed and penalties may be raised if the documentation does not comply with the requirements. BEPS Action 13 format should generally satisfy the local content rules.

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

▪ Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

Yes

▪ Additional details

The documentation should be prepared contemporaneously, within three months of the financial year-end.

▪ Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

▪ Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation should be prepared annually and for each year separately.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

▪ TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

No

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is no materiality limit.

▪ CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

EUR750 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

The CbCR requirement applies to multinational groups with consolidated revenues of EUR750 million or above in the reporting period.

▪ Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

Not specified

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is no materiality limit.

▪ Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

Not specified

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is no materiality limit.

▪ Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is no statutory materiality limit. In practice, smaller secondary transactions of a few thousand euros do not need to be elaborated in detail.

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation should be prepared in Slovenian. However, an entity may decide to prepare it in another language and translate it in Slovenian upon the tax authorities' request (the tax authorities should grant a minimum of 60 days to translate the documentation)

- Is a safe harbor available?

Yes

- Additional details

Safe harbor rules are available for related-party loans. Intercompany interest rate is administratively determined as an interbank interest rate with a markup. Markup is determined based on the characteristics of the loan (credit rating and the term).

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

Yes

Disclosure of turnover with related parties is required with submission of a corporate income tax return for intercompany loans and other transactions if it exceeds a threshold of EUR50,000.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

Related-party transactions must be reported as part of the information included on the annual corporate income tax return. In addition, if certain conditions are fulfilled, specifically prescribed attachments must be enclosed with the corporate income tax return. Such conditions include:

- If the cumulative amount of the given or received loans from a particular related party exceeds EUR50,000 in a tax period, the taxpayer must disclose the name of the related party, its state of residence and tax number, the cumulative amount of the loan given or received and the relationship with the related party.
- Similarly, if the cumulative amount of other intercompany receivables or liabilities toward a particular related party exceeds EUR50,000 in a tax period, the taxpayer must disclose the name of the related party, its state of residence and tax number, the cumulative amount of receivables or liabilities toward the related party and the relationship with the related party. A similar attachment is required if the resident taxpayer has tax losses generated from previous periods, if it is taxed at a 0% corporate income tax rate or at a lower rate than the general one, or if the resident related party is tax-exempt.

- c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes. A separated related party report should be prepared for entities subject to statutory audit.

- d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

CbCR notification should be filed as an appendix to the corporate income tax return.

- e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

31 March

- Additional details
 - Submission/filing date: The documentation should be filed within three months after the end of the fiscal year (i.e., by 31 March for a fiscal year ending on 31 December).

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

31 March

- Additional details

Related-party transaction volumes should be reported in an appendix to the corporate income tax return.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

31 March

- Additional details
 - Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared): The documentation should be filed within three months after the end of the fiscal year (i.e., by 31 March for a fiscal year ending on 31 December).
 - Submission/filing date: Not applicable – no direct submission is required.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

The CbCR should be filed within 12 months after the end of the fiscal year of the entity.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

31 March

- Additional details

The CbCR notification should be filed as an appendix to the corporate income tax return. Submission date is three months after the end of the fiscal year (i.e., by 31 March for a fiscal year ending on 31 December). Annual filing is required even in case of no changes. No individual filing is required.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By tax return lodgment date

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation (including jurisdiction-specific file and Master File) should be prepared by the time the corporate income tax reporting is due, i.e., three months after the end of the fiscal year. Nevertheless, it does not need to be submitted to the tax authority on this date, as submission is required only upon the tax authority's formal request made in scope of a tax audit.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

There is no statutory deadline for the submission of transfer pricing documentation apart from the CbCR. In line with provisions of the Tax Procedure Act, the CbCR should be submitted to the tax authorities within 12 months following the fiscal year-end.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The documentation should be provided to the tax authority upon request, which is usually made in the course of a tax audit. If it is not possible to submit the documentation immediately, an extension of up to 90 days (depending on the extent and complexity of the information) may be granted. If the Master File is not kept in the Slovenian language, the tax authority may request that it be translated before submission, with an extension of minimum 60 days granted to do so. In line with provisions of the Tax Procedure Act, the CbC report should be submitted to the tax authorities within 12 months following the fiscal year-end.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

▪ Additional details

To some degree, the preference for transactional methods over profit methods still exists; when both can be applied in an “equally reliable manner,” the traditional transactional method should be selected. There is a similar conclusion regarding the application of the CUP method, which will trump any other method if both can be applied in an equally reliable manner.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Pan-European benchmarks are acceptable in Slovenia.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

There are no specific rules on this; it should be examined on a case-by-case basis. As the tax authorities usually review multiple periods, it is possible to apply a multiyear analysis (usually a three-year period is accepted by the tax authority).

An interquartile range is determined in such a way that 25% of the lower values and 25% of the upper values are eliminated from the total observed range of comparable market prices.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

A benchmarking study may be updated by a refresh of the financials in the study. There is no legal requirement to perform a new benchmarking study each year. Updating it at least every three years is required.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Weighted average

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

When establishing comparable market prices, the conditions from related transactions must be compared with the conditions, in identical, or comparable transactions between unrelated parties.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

A taxpayer may be fined up to EUR30,000 if the transfer pricing documentation is not submitted in the prescribed manner. Additionally, the responsible person of the entity may also be fined up to EUR4,000.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Up to EUR30,000 for taxpayer and up to EUR4,000 for the responsible person of the entity

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Up to EUR30,000

▪ Are there any other penalties?

No

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

▪ Additional details

A taxpayer may be fined up to EUR30,000 if the transfer pricing documentation is not submitted in the prescribed manner. Additionally, the responsible person of the entity may also be fined up to EUR4,000.

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

No, there is no interest on penalties or on penalty interest. Late-payment interest is applied only on the tax underpayment arising from adjustments of income and costs corresponding to related-party transactions as a result of the tax audit process.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

Penalties (fines) for a tax offense may be avoided if the taxpayer makes a voluntary disclosure before receiving the notice at the beginning of a tax audit or the notice at the beginning of a tax offense procedure or criminal procedure.

considered to be high. In practice, taxpayers that exhibit the following characteristics are at a higher risk of being subject to a transfer pricing audit in Slovenia:

Losses for more than three consecutive years

An increase in gross revenue or receipts, but no change in net profit

Lower net profit in comparison with other comparable enterprises or with the industry average, i.e., those taxpayers whose profits fall below the range of profit ratios are exposed to increased transfer pricing audit risk

Fluctuating profit and loss histories

Related parties in tax havens

A high number of related-party transactions: In addition, there is a high risk for a tax audit:

For taxable persons (legal entities or branch offices) that are part of restructuring that reduces taxable income and/or amount of corporate income tax paid in Slovenia. Exit tax questions related to transferring of functions and/or other assets to another jurisdiction are especially applicable in such cases

For entities that are part of an MNE group that announce the start of liquidation procedure. Exit tax questions related to transferring of functions and/or other assets to another jurisdiction are especially applicable in such cases

For a branch that operates in Slovenia that does not pay corporate income tax

For a taxpayer for which a specific risk was recognized in a previous tax audit

For a taxpayer subject to an exchange of information between tax authorities Despite the medium possibility of a transfer pricing-related audit, the possibility that transfer pricing will be reviewed as part of the audit may be considered to be high.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The statute of limitations on corporate income tax assessments is generally five years. If the tax authorities intervene with any official action against the taxpayer with a purpose to assess or collect tax, the relevant period is reset, without taking into account any previous lapse of time. Nevertheless, the right of the tax authorities to assess and collect tax will cease after 10 years. The transfer pricing documentation must be archived for 10 years.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

In general, the risk of an annual tax audit is characterized as medium; however, the risk of an immediate tax audit after a taxpayer applies for a tax refund may be

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

It depends on the appropriateness of the transfer pricing system in place (i.e., if the transfer pricing system of the company under review seems to be reasonable and is supported by transfer pricing documentation). For example, if an entity having a limited risk profile incurs tax losses, the tax authorities will most likely challenge the transfer pricing method. It's generally high; the tax authorities make a transfer pricing adjustment for controlled transactions especially when they can support such a decision with a benchmark study. In this respect, the tax authorities recommend to the company what kind of profit-level indicator (PLI) it should have based on the benchmark study performed by the tax authorities. Since the recommended PLI is usually different from the current one, the company should make a transfer pricing adjustment in its corporate income tax return.

Currently, Slovenia does not impose a fixed requirement for adjustments to the median or any specific point in the in the interquartile range.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

The tax authority mainly initiates a transfer pricing audit when a Slovenian taxable person is part of a multinational group. The tax authority is currently putting the following transactions under increased scrutiny:

- Limited function and risk entities with tax losses carried forward
- Intragroup services
- Intangible goods, e.g., royalties and licensing
- Financial transactions, e.g., loans and cash pooling Additional risk factors are the profitability of the local taxpayer, business restructurings, the nature and volume of related-party transactions, transfer pricing issues identified in previous tax audits and information available from the media.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

As of 2017, a taxable entity can request a unilateral, bilateral or multilateral APA with the Slovenian tax authorities. However, the following conditions apply:

- The taxable entity and the tax authorities have met beforehand and agreed on the feasibility of an APA.
- The transaction that is subject to the APA has economic substance.
- The taxable entity has a genuine intention to perform such a transaction.
- The taxable entity and the tax authorities agree on concluding an APA.
- The transaction that is subject to the APA will be performed for a longer period of time and is not due to end shortly after the APA is concluded. The duration of the APA is determined at the tax authorities' discretion. Administrative fees of EUR15,000 for first conclusion and EUR7,500 for extension of an APA apply.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The duration of the APA is determined at the tax authorities' discretion. The maximum duration is five years, with the possibility of an extension.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

There is none specified.

d. Is MAP available?

Yes. Guidance on the access and the use of MAP is available on the website of the Ministry of Finance of the Republic of Slovenia.

Interest Limitation Rule (ILR) has been implemented in Slovenian tax legislation and is applicable for tax periods starting as of 1 January 2024 onward. According to ILR provision, exceeding borrowing costs of a taxable person who has a related person, will be deductible in the tax period in which they are incurred only up to 30% of earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortization (EBITDA) or EUR1 million (EUR3 million after 1 January 2025), whichever is higher.

Following the changes in Slovenian legislation, thin capitalization rule was abolished with tax periods starting with 2025. However, the Slovenian tax authorities have stated that they will still test the thin capitalization rule under the general anti avoidance rules.

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

Yes

b. Name of authority

Financial Administration of the Republic of Slovenia (Finančna Uprava Republike Slovenije – FURS)

c. Name of regulations

Companies Act (Zakon o Gospodarskih družbah (ZGD-1))

d. Effective date of applicability

For financial years starting on 22 June 2024 or after

e. Section reference from local regulation

Articles 70.e through 70.l of the Companies Act (ZGD-1). These articles were introduced to implement Directive (EU) 2021/2101

14 PCbCR thresholds and exemptions

a. What is the global consolidated income threshold?

EUR750 million in two consecutive financial years

b. Are there any materiality exemptions?

No

▪ Additional details

PCbCR applies only to multinational groups with consolidated global revenues exceeding EUR750 million for each of the last two consecutive financial years.

15. Content

a. Does PCbCR align with OECD BEPS Action 13 CbCR requirements?

Yes

▪ Additional details

PCbCR in Slovenia follows the EU Directive on Public CbCR (Directive (EU) 2021/2101), which mandates disclosure of tax-related financial information per country.

b. Is aggregation of transactions allowed?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

c. Can you provide data sources and guidance?

Yes. Guidance is expected to be issued by the Financial Administration of Slovenia and the Ministry of Finance.

16. Lodgment process and requirements

a. Is lodgment possible?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Reports must be filed with the Slovenian Business Register (AJ PES) and will be publicly accessible.

b. Is lodgment in another jurisdiction possible?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Yes, if the ultimate parent company files a public CbCR in another EU jurisdiction

c. Is lodgment required in a prescribed form and format?

Yes

▪ Additional details

A standard structured format is expected, following the one prescribed in EU Directive.

d. What is the lodgment deadline?

12 months after the end of the first financial year starting on/ after 22 June 2024

17. Penalties

a. What are the maximum administrative penalties?

A penalty of EUR30,000 is imposed if the report is not filed in time and accordance with provisions of the corresponding law. Additionally, a fine up to EUR2,500 may be issued to responsible company representative.

- Additional details

Not applicable

e. Is there any risk of criminal prosecution?

No

- Additional details

Currently, noncompliance is subject to administrative penalties only. However, fraudulent misrepresentation may be subject to broader legal action under corporate regulations.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

South African Revenue Service (SARS)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Section 31 of Income Tax Act No. 58 of 1962 (the act) contains the main legislative provisions concerning transfer pricing. SARS issued Practice Note 7 (PN 7) as a practical guide to implementing Section 31 and applying the arm's-length principle. PN 7 is essentially based on the OECD Guidelines and states that SARS intends to follow PN 7. Although South Africa is not a member country of the OECD, the OECD Guidelines are acknowledged as an important, influential document that reflects unanimous agreement among the member countries, reached after an extensive process of consultation with industry and tax practitioners in many countries. PN 7 constitutes an "official publication" under SA tax law and therefore represents "practice generally prevailing" to which SARS is legally bound. In accordance with Section 210 (1) and 211 of Tax Administration Act, 2011: fixed-amount penalties apply for noncompliance with document retention requirements. Interpretation Note 127 (IN 127), which was released on 17 January 2023, contains guidance on the application of the arm's-length principle in the context of the pricing of intragroup loans.

c. Effective date of applicability

1962

d. Section reference from local regulation

Section 1 of the act contains the definition of "connected person," which is used to determine whether a related party can be considered to be within the scope of Section 31 of the act. With effect from 1 January 2023 and applicable in respect of years of assessment commencing on or after that date, Section 31 of the act includes the definition of "associated enterprise," to be defined as contemplated in Article 9 of the Model Tax Convention on Income and on Capital (MTC) of the OECD. SARS published Interpretation Note 128 (IN 128) on 17 April 2023 to provide guidance with respect to the definition of the term "associated enterprise."

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

South Africa is not a member of the OECD. However, PN 7 acknowledges that the OECD Guidelines should be followed in the absence of specific guidance in terms of PN 7, the provisions of Section 31 or the tax treaties entered into by South Africa.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Total consolidated group revenue of more than ZAR10 billion (EUR750 million) during the fiscal year immediately preceding the reporting fiscal year.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2016.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Master File is covered.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

1 January 2016, for financial years commencing after 1 October 2016 (if not a reporting entity) to submit the Master Files

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format. Manual data would need to be completed on the income tax return (ITR 14) e-filing form for each local entity, together with the information related to the constituent entities.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Local File is covered.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

1 January 2016, for financial years commencing after 1 October 2016 (if not a reporting entity) to submit the Local Files

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format. Manual data would need to be completed on the income tax return (ITR 14) e-filing form for each local entity, together with the information related to the constituent entities.

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

Yes

▪ Additional details

A BEPS Action 13 format is sufficient; however, penalty protection is not guaranteed.

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

▪ Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

▪ If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

▪ Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation should be prepared annually. However, benchmarking studies are required to be updated annually and prepared anew every three years.

▪ For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

ZAR100 million
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Total international related-party transactions
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
The threshold for filing information pertaining to the Local File is the aggregate of potentially affected transactions (without offsetting any transactions against each other) exceeding or reasonably expected to exceed ZAR100 million. Note that even if an entity does not meet this threshold to submit its documentation, it is still required to prepare transfer pricing documentation and have this available should SARS request it.
- Economic analysis
 - Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?
No
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Not applicable
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
No set rule, however, at the discretion of the taxpayer, the transactions below ZAR5 million can be indicated as immaterial and not evaluated further. However, it is advisable to conduct a comparability analysis for transactions in excess of ZAR5 million.

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation should be prepared in English.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Unspecified

- Additional details

There is none specified; however, reliance is placed on the OECD Guidelines for Financial Transactions published 11 February 2020 for all financial transactions that were entered into prior to 17 January 2023.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

- Additional details

The Local File documentation requirements apply to taxpayers that have aggregated connected-party transactions of a value of ZAR100 million or more. If this threshold is met, documentation should be completed for all individual transactions of ZAR5 million or more. However, at the discretion of the taxpayer, the transactions below ZAR5 million can be indicated as immaterial and not evaluated further. It is worth noting that the Tax Administration Act requires each taxpayer to retain documents for all transactions (including transactions below ZAR5 million). The public notice does provide room not to retain documentation for transactions below ZAR5 million. However, this will not prevent SARS from requesting such documentation as the Tax Administration tax takes precedence.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

Income Tax Return 14 (ITR 14) provides for specific information pertaining to cross-border transactions with "connected persons." In particular, taxpayers are required to provide the values of individual cross-border transactions entered into with foreign-connected persons. This includes information such as the amounts received or receivable from foreign-connected persons and amounts paid or payable to foreign-connected persons, and whether there have been any changes to the taxpayer's transfer pricing methodologies. In addition, taxpayers are required to provide certain qualitative and quantitative indicators that indicate the arms'-length nature of borrowings and the overall performance of the South African entity.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes, all annual financial statements that are prepared in accordance with the IFRS are supposed to disclose all related-party transactions within the related financial period. Further guidance can be obtained in IFRS standard IAS 24.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Yes, the CbCR notification now forms part of a taxpayer's ITR 14 (tax return).

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

12 months after the financial year-end

- Additional details

An ITR 14 return must be submitted to SARS within 12 months after the taxpayer's financial year-end.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

12 months after the financial year-end

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

12 months after the financial year-end

- Additional details

Master File needs to be submitted with a taxpayer's Local File within 12 months after the taxpayer's financial year-end.

- Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared) 12 months after year-end or within 21 business days of SARS requesting the TP documentation.

- Submission/filing date: Must be submitted to SARS within 12 months after the taxpayer's financial year-end or within 21 business days of SARS requesting the TP documentation.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

A CbCR must be submitted to SARS within 12 months after the taxpayer's financial year-end.

- Additional details

A CbCR must be submitted to SARS within 12 months after the taxpayer's financial year-end.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

A CbCR notification must be submitted to SARS within 12 months after the taxpayer's financial year-end.

- Additional details

A CbCR notification must be submitted to SARS within 12 months after the taxpayer's financial year-end.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

12 months after the financial year-end

- Additional details

Not applicable

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

- Additional details

12 months after the financial year-end

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Taxpayers have to submit the transfer pricing documentation within 21 business days once requested by the tax authorities in an audit or inquiry.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

SARS accepts the methods prescribed by the OECD (i.e., CUP, resale price, cost-plus, TNMM and profit-split). SARS has indicated that it will subscribe to the OECD's view of accepting a most appropriate approach as long as it is substantiated. SARS may require that adjustments be made to foreign comparable company results used for benchmarking the results of the South African entity to compensate for differences in risks assumed by entities operating in a different jurisdiction.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

The South African domestic transfer pricing legislation does not contain specific legislation or guidelines for the selection and or use of domestic or foreign comparables. However, the OECD Guidelines are consulted to provide guidance on comparability analysis.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

The South African domestic transfer pricing legislation does not contain a specific provision that allows or requires the use of an arm's-length range and/or statistical measure for determining the arm's-length range. However, South Africa follows the OECD Guidelines, which provide in-depth guidance on the use of an arm's-length range and/or statistical measure for determining arm's-length remuneration. This is reflected in PN 7 at a high level.

South Africa follows the OECD Guidelines, which provide in-depth guidance on the use of an arm's-length range and/or statistical measure for determining arm's-length remuneration. This is reflected in PN 7 at a high level.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no need to conduct a fresh benchmarking search every year. A fresh benchmarking search is to be conducted every three years, with a financial update annually.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is a preference for the weighted average for arm's-length analysis.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

Regarding independence criteria, South African statutory rules stipulate that companies are considered to be related parties if their ownership share is above 20% and should be excluded from a comparables search, as per the definition of "connected person" in Section 1 of the act. This provision does not apply for financial services transactions (specifically excluded in Section 31 of the act).

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

If the Local File does not pass the validation, the party submitting will be notified and be requested to resubmit the documents or submit more information. If the uploaded documents have successfully passed validations, they will be saved on the SARS system for further evaluation.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

▪ Are there any other penalties?

An administrative penalty of up to ZAR16,000 can be levied for every month that the documentation remains outstanding. The administrative penalty is based on the assessed loss or taxable income for the preceding year. Prior to 11 May 2018, the filing of the CbCR was compulsory; however, no specific interest or penalties were assigned for noncompliance. From May 2018, a fixed amount penalty is imposed by Section 211 and it varies from R250 to R16,000 per month, dependent on the amount of an assessed loss or taxable income for the preceding year. The amount of the penalty will increase automatically by the same amount for each month that the person fails to remedy the noncompliance.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

▪ Additional details

The penalty is the amount resulting from applying the highest percentage (up to 200%) to the shortfall arising from the understatement resulting from an adjustment in the event of default, omission, incorrect disclosure or misrepresentation. The 200% penalty can be reduced depending on the applicable behavior in which the understatement relates as per Section 223 of the Tax Administration Act.

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

▪ Additional details

The penalty is the amount resulting from applying the highest percentage (up to 200%) to the shortfall arising from the understatement resulting from an adjustment in the event of default, omission, incorrect disclosure or misrepresentation. The 200% penalty can be reduced depending on the applicable behavior in which the understatement relates as per Section 223 of the Tax Administration Act.

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Yes, interest is levied at the prescribed rate, which is determined by the Minister of Finance from time to time by notice in the Government Gazette.

▪ Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

▪ Additional details

With respect to other penalties that may be imposed under the Tax Administration Act, if taxpayers have made conscientious efforts to establish transfer prices that comply with the arm's-length principle and have prepared documentation as evidence of such compliance, SARS may take the view that the taxpayer's transfer pricing practices represent a lower tax risk. Such evidence may provide some mitigation against the maximum penalty for the underpayment of income tax of 200%, as provided by the Tax Administration Act. SARS must remit the understatement if either:

- It resulted from a bona fide inadvertent error (a misstatement that genuinely is not achieved through or does not result from deliberate planning; or a misstatement that is genuinely, sincerely and honestly unintentional, unintended, unpremeditated, unplanned and unwitting).

Or

- There was "substantial understatement" and the taxpayer has:

- Made full disclosure of the arrangement
- Received an opinion by an independent registered tax practitioner that:
 - Was issued by or before the return was due
 - Was based on full disclosure of specific facts and circumstances of the arrangement; however, this is Not applicable for opinions regarding cases of substance over form doctrine or anti-avoidance provision unless the taxpayer can demonstrate that all steps or parts of arrangement were fully disclosed to the tax practitioner.
 - Confirms that the taxpayer's position is more likely than not to be upheld if the matter goes to court. The taxpayer can object to the adjustment, or a portion thereof.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The normal statute of limitations is three years from the date of assessment of the taxpayer. Under the Tax Administration Act, self-assessment provisions have an extended statute of limitations of five years. As transfer pricing is now a self-assessment provision, the statute of limitations is arguably now five years where the Commissioner issued a notice to the taxpayer prior to the prescription. This can be extended or removed in the cases of fraud, misrepresentation or nondisclosure of material facts.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Yes, to the extent that SARS requests information from a taxpayer, including transfer pricing documentation that the taxpayer does not have, this is grounds for an automatic transfer pricing audit. The methodology is normally challenged within the audit process.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes. The possibility of an adjustment may be considered to be high, should SARS challenge the methodology.

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

There is none specified.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

There is none specified.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Not yet available. However, on 11 November 2020, SARS published draft legislation and proposed a model for the establishment of an APA program in the jurisdiction. Furthermore, the South African Minister of Finance presented the 2023 budget in February 2023, which included a proposal to introduce a legislative framework to empower SARS to conclude bilateral APAs.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Not applicable

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable

d. Is MAP available?

Yes, MAP is a formal dispute resolution mechanism provided under South Africa's double tax agreements (DTAs).

South Africa introduced IN 127 on intragroup loans in January 2023. The purpose of IN 127 is to provide taxpayers with guidance on the application of the arm's-length principle in the context of the pricing of intragroup loans. According to IN 127, the pricing of intra-group loans includes a consideration of both the amount of debt and the cost of the debt. In terms of IN 127, an intragroup loan would be incorrectly priced if the amount of debt funding, the cost of the debt or both are excessive compared to what is arm's length. IN 127 largely mirrors the guidance provided in the OECD's Transfer Pricing Guidance on Financial Transactions (2022). IN 127 relates to years of assessment commencing on or after 1 April 2012, which is therefore applicable to South African taxpayers as part of the potential borrowing analysis.

- Enforcement Decree (ED) of the AITA (since December 1995)
- Enforcement Regulations of the AITA (since March 1996)
- Basic Rulings of the AITA (since June 2004)

c. Effective date of applicability

December 1995

d. Section reference from local regulation

The AITA, Article 2 (1) 3 and The ED of the AITA, Article 2 defines the term "special relationship" for transfer pricing purposes.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There is no documentation obligation for domestic transactions. However, the tax authority may question and challenge the domestic related-party transaction based on the Corporate Income Tax Law.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Limited

▪ Additional details

South Korea is a member of the OECD. The AITA, though enacted based on the OECD Guidelines, takes priority over them. The NTS recognizes the OECD Guidelines, but they are not legally binding. Hence, if a taxpayer's argument is based only on the OECD Guidelines and not on the AITA, the NTS or regional tax offices may not accept it.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

After the OECD's announcement of the BEPS actions in 2015, the NTS revised the AITA reflecting the BEPS Action 13 recommendations to implement the Consolidated Reports on International Transaction Information (CRIT), which comprises the CbCR, Master File and Local File. The format of CRIT is specified by the NTS which is not exactly same as the BEPS Action 13.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

A domestic UPE with consolidated group revenue in the immediately preceding fiscal year exceeding KRW1 trillion will be required to submit the CbCR. Taxpayers whose foreign ultimate parent meets the prescribed threshold (i.e., equivalent to EUR750 million) will be required to submit the CbCR if any of the following conditions apply: The ultimate parent jurisdiction does not impose CbCR submission requirement. There is no exchange of CbCR between the relevant jurisdictions due to the absence of tax treaty or other reasons.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2016.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

- Coverage

Master File is covered.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

It was enacted in December 2015, effective for fiscal years starting on or after 1 January 2016.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format. However, as the NTS released the standardized template for the preparation of the Master Files, the taxpayer needs to localize the reports prepared and provided from a foreign affiliate to fully align with the Korean standardized templates (following the exact standardized template form is not strictly required for the Master File as long as the relevant contents are covered) including the Master File Attachments.

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

- Coverage

Local File is covered.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

It was enacted in December 2015, effective for fiscal years starting on or after 1 January 2016.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format. However, as the NTS released the standardized template for the preparation of the Local Files, the taxpayer needs to localize the reports prepared and provided from a foreign affiliate to fully align with the Korean standardized templates (following the exact standardized template form is not strictly required for the Local File as long as the relevant contents are covered) including the Local File Attachments.

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

- Additional details

Penalty protection is available to taxpayers that have prepared and submitted a Local File and Master File in Korean by the prescribed due date and where the tax authorities acknowledge that the transfer pricing method as documented in the Local File reasonably selected and applied.

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

- a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

It shall be prepared maintained contemporaneously with the corporate income tax return (CITR) filing and shall be submitted within 30 days upon the NTS's request.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

Taxpayers who meet thresholds aforementioned must prepare BEPS transfer pricing documentation (i.e., Master File, Local File and CbCR) annually. Even though a taxpayer that is not subject to the BEPS transfer pricing documentation, there is obligation for the taxpayer to prepare/maintain the contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation every year by contemporaneously with CITR filing deadline when there is any foreign related party transaction (FRPT) exist in accordance with the Framework Act on National Taxes, Article 85-3 and submit the report within 30 days upon request from the NTS.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

▪ TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

No

Not specified

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

There is none specified.

▪ CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

KRW1 trillion/EUR750 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

Consolidated group revenue/Consolidated group revenue for foreign ultimate parent

- Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

A domestic UPE with consolidated group revenue in the immediately preceding Fiscal Year exceeding KRW1 trillion will be required to submit the CbCR. Taxpayers whose foreign ultimate parent meets the prescribed threshold (i.e., equivalent to EUR750 million) will be required to submit the CbCR if any of the following conditions apply:

The ultimate parent jurisdiction does not impose CbCR submission requirement.

There is no exchange of CbCR between the relevant jurisdictions due to the absence of tax treaty or other reasons.

▪ Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

KRW100 billion/KRW50 billion

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

Revenue/Total cross-border related-party transaction amount

- Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

Domestic corporations and foreign corporations with a domestic place of business must prepare a Master File if they meet the following conditions:

- Revenue of the relevant fiscal year exceeds KRW100 billion,

Total cross-border related-party transaction amount for the relevant fiscal year exceeds KRW50 billion

▪ Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

KRW100 billion/KRW50 billion

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

Revenue/Total cross-border related-party transaction amount

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Domestic corporations and foreign corporations with a domestic place of business must prepare Local File if they meet the following conditions:

- Revenue of the relevant fiscal year exceeds KRW100 billion.

Total cross-border related-party transaction amount for the relevant fiscal year exceeds KRW50 billion

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is none specified by the law but the NTS shall request to perform it with the local database when the tested party is a Korean entity.

- Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

The Local File and Master File must be submitted in Korean. While the Master File can be initially submitted in English, a Korean version must be additionally submitted within one month of the date of submitting the English version. (See the AITA ED Article 34 (4))

- Is a safe harbor available?

Unspecified

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

- Additional details

The preference is Not applicable, but the appropriateness shall be considered.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

Yes, the Master and Local File should be submitted with electronic form defined by the NTS and uploaded on the Hometax homepage by the deadline.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing disclosure forms mentioned below should be filed with the tax authority at the time of the corporate income tax filing subject to the following:

- Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

The AITA requires a taxpayer to submit the following transfer pricing disclosure forms within six months from the fiscal year-end: ¹

- A form stating the transfer pricing method selected and the reason for selecting the method for each related-party transaction²

The taxpayer shall be exempted from the obligation to submit the above report if either of the following exemption conditions is met:

¹ Intangible asset transaction includes transfer of intangible property and royalty transaction.

² Separate forms are required for tangible property transactions, intangible property transactions, service transactions, and cost sharing arrangements (CSA).

Exemption Requirements (a) :

The total amount of each type of international transaction during the relevant fiscal year must satisfy all of the following thresholds:

- Total amount of tangible asset transactions: KRW5 billion or less
- Total amount of service transactions: KRW1 billion or less
- Total amount of intangible asset transactions: KRW1 billion or less

Exemption Requirements (b) :

The total amount of each type of international transaction with each foreign related party during the relevant fiscal year must satisfy all of the following thresholds:

- Total amount of tangible asset transactions: KRW1 billion or less
- Total amount of service transactions: KRW200 million or less
- Total amount of intangible asset transactions: KRW200 million or less
- A summary of cross-border transactions with foreign related parties (including the payment guarantee statement, if applicable)

Exemption Requirements:

- Total amount of tangible asset transactions: KRW500 million or less
- Total amount of service transactions: KRW100 million or less
- Total amount of intangible asset transactions: KRW100 million or less
- A summary of income statements of foreign related parties that have cross-border transactions with the South Korean entity

Exemption Requirements:

- Total amount of tangible asset transactions: KRW1 billion or less
- Total amount of service transactions: KRW200 million or less

- Total amount of intangible asset transactions: KRW200 million or less

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No. It shall be submitted separately.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

31 March

- Additional details

Even though a taxpayer is not subject to the BEPS transfer pricing documentation, there is obligation for the taxpayer to prepare/maintain the contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation every year by contemporaneously with CITR filing deadline when any foreign related party transaction (FRPT) exists in accordance with the Framework Act on National Taxes, Article 85- 3.

- Submission/filing date: The CITR is due three months from the fiscal year-end date (four months in the case of a consolidated return).

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

30 June

- Additional details

TP (related-party) disclosure shall be submitted at the time of the CITR filing. Taxpayers can apply for an extension; the application must be submitted 15 days prior to the original deadline. The tax authority may approve the extension due date up to one year. The master and Local Files must be submitted within 12 months of the taxpayer's fiscal year-end date. The Master File can be submitted in English; however, a Korean version must be submitted within one month of submitting the English version. When the taxpayer meets the BEPS master and Local File threshold, the TP disclosures shall be included on Local File with two additional disclosures. Hence the filing deadline shall be same as the Master and Local Files. For a taxpayer that does not meet the BEPS Master and Local File threshold, the TP disclosures shall be filed with the CITR (three months from the fiscal year-end) or submitted within six months from the fiscal year-end date.

- Submission/filing date: Six months from the fiscal year-end date

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

31 December

▪ Additional details

The Master File must be submitted within 12 months of the taxpayer's fiscal year-end date. The Master File can be submitted in English; however, a Korean version must be submitted within one month of submitting the English version.

- Submission/filing date: 12 months from the taxpayer's fiscal year-end date

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

▪ Additional details

Domestic UPEs with consolidated group revenue in the immediately preceding year exceeding KRW1 trillion are required to prepare and submit the CbCR within 12 months of the end of the relevant fiscal year. If the Korean entity's foreign UPE meets the CbCR filing threshold (i.e., equivalent to EUR750 million), but the NTS cannot obtain the CbCR successfully from the other foreign tax jurisdiction (e.g., due to the absence of a tax treaty), the Korean entity will be required to submit the CbCR to the Korean tax authorities within 12 months of the end of the relevant fiscal year.

Submission/filing date: 12 months from the taxpayer's fiscal year-end date

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

30 June

▪ Additional details

CbCR notification is due within six months of the end of the fiscal year. Submission date is six months from the taxpayer's fiscal year-end date. Annual submission is required and each entity is required to submit it.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By tax return lodgment date

▪ Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation preparation deadline is contemporaneous with the taxpayer's CITR filing date.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation. Taxpayers that meet the thresholds for BEPS transfer pricing documentation (i.e., Master File, Local File and CbCR) must prepare and submit such the Local File within 12 months from the taxpayer's fiscal year-end date.

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Taxpayers that are not subject to BEPS transfer pricing documentation requirements (i.e., Master File, Local File and CbCR) have 30 days to submit the documentation upon the NTS's request. In a tax audit setting, however, the taxpayer will be expected to submit the documentation within a very short time frame upon request.

6. TP methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of TP methods?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Regulations prescribe the following five transfer pricing methods: CUP, resale price, cost-plus, profit-split and TNMM. Other reasonable methods can only be used if the five methods are Not applicable. Of the aforementioned methods, the taxpayer is to select the most reasonable one based on the availability and reliability of data.

According to recent amendments to the AITA (Article 5), the tax authority must thoroughly understand the actual circumstances of the transaction between a resident and its foreign related party by considering the commercial, financial and other important conditions of the transaction and evaluate whether the tested transaction can be considered commercially reasonable by comparing it with third-party transactions between independent companies that engage under similar circumstances. If the tested transaction is determined to considerably lack commercial rationality, making it difficult to calculate an arm's-length price, the transaction can be denied as a whole and recharacterized for the purpose of application of the transfer pricing methods.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

The tax authority will request a local benchmark (if the tested party is a Korean company).

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Single-year analysis is preferred.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

The NTS has its own version of calculating the interquartile range.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

Rollforwards and update of the financials

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

The weighted average is preferred for arm's-length analysis in practice.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Penalty of KRW30 million per report (Master File, Local File or CbCR)

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the Master File?

KRW30 million

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish CbCR?

KRW30 million

▪ Are there any other penalties?

There are certain penalties for failing to comply with information or documentation requests issued by the NTS. A taxpayer must submit information and documents requested by the NTS within 30 days. A penalty shall be imposed on the taxpayer for omitting or falsifying a part or all of the "summary of cross-border transactions with foreign related parties" at the time of filing a CITR. A penalty of KRW5 million applies for each foreign related party. Under the current tax law, taxpayers failing to file a Master File, Local File or Country-by-Country report, or those found to file false information or omit a filing, are subject to penalties of KRW30 million per report.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There are two types of penalties associated with a transfer pricing adjustment: an underreporting penalty and an underpayment penalty:

- The underreporting penalty is approximately 10% of the additional tax resulting from a transfer pricing adjustment.
- The underpayment penalty, which is an interest payment in nature, is calculated as 0.022% of the additional tax on a transfer pricing adjustment per day (8.030% per year) on cumulative days. Counting the cumulative days of the underpayment starts from the day after the statutory tax filing due date, which is three months after the Fiscal Year-end and ends on the date that a payment for the tax assessment is made.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

- Additional details

An underreporting penalty (10% on the additional tax due through transfer pricing tax audit) and an underpayment penalty.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

Under Article 17 of the AITA, if the taxpayer has prepared and maintained contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation for the transfer pricing methods applied to the cross-border related-party transactions reported in the CITR, and it is acknowledged that such documentation supports the reasonableness of the transfer pricing methods reported, the penalty for underreporting may be waived if a transfer pricing adjustment is made. To be eligible for an underreporting penalty waiver, the transfer pricing documentation must be submitted within 30 days upon request by the NTS.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

This is generally seven years from the day after the income tax return filing due date. It extends to 10 years in the case of fraud or another wrongful act and seven years if a taxpayer does not submit the tax filing by the due date.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

Companies should expect to be audited every four to five years, depending on their size, or more frequently if other special factors exist. The possibility of transfer pricing being reviewed during a tax audit may be considered to be high. The NTS, in practice and as a matter of policy, requests transfer pricing documentation at the onset of a tax audit. Such requests can also be made separately from a field tax audit (e.g., desk audit).

- b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

Generally, if transfer pricing is reviewed as part of a tax audit, the tax auditors are likely to challenge the method used by the taxpayer and may propose alternate methods that are less favorable to the taxpayer. The possibility may be considered to be high to medium, depending on the size and nature of transactions, industries and situations.

- c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

There are none.

- d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

The NTS closely monitors companies whose profitability suddenly drops and companies whose profits fluctuate substantially over a number of years. These companies are likely to be subject to tax audits. Also, the NTS will likely scrutinize companies paying high royalties abroad or receiving high management service fee charges or cost allocations from overseas related parties.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Unilateral, bilateral and multilateral APAs are available under the AITA. To encourage the use of APAs, the NTS does not require an application fee, and documents submitted to the NTS with regard to an APA are to be kept confidential from tax audit. In addition, APA officials of the NTS are making continuous efforts to shorten the APA processing period.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

An APA with the NTS is generally for three to five years with roll-backs to previous open tax years.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

A five-year roll-back is applicable for bilateral and multilateral APAs, and a three-year roll-back is applicable for a unilateral APA.

d. Is MAP available?

Taxpayers can resort to MAP under the relevant tax treaty to resolve double taxation arising from a transfer pricing adjustment. MAP can generally be requested within three years from the date that the taxpayer becomes aware of the adjustment (depending on the applicable tax treaty, the time limit for requesting MAP may be extended). A request for MAP requires the submission of a request form and position paper on audit background, assessment, issues addressed and taxpayer's position along with supporting material. MAP is often initiated in the jurisdiction that is expected to make a tax refund. Competent authority (CA) negotiations will commence at the date the relevant CA sends a letter to the other CA accepting the request for MAP. The CAs will then discuss issues through the exchange of position papers and via CA meetings in a year (generally one to two meetings). MAP will be deemed to be closed where no agreement is reached within five years (or eight years if extended for three more years).

The thin capitalization rules recommend 2:1 debt-to-equity ratio (6:1 in case of financial institutions). Further, deduction of net interest (i.e., the amount of interest expense paid to overseas related parties minus the interest income received from overseas related parties) claimed by a domestic company for international transactions will be limited to 30% of the adjusted taxable income (i.e., taxable income before depreciation and net interest expenses) of the domestic company. This has been implemented from the Fiscal Year beginning on or after 1 January 2019.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

No specific deadline

- Additional details

No specific deadline is prescribed under the Taxation Act 2009 and the accompanying regulations.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

No; however, it should be submitted upon request.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Normally, the tax authority gives seven days.

6. TP methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of TP methods?

Yes

- Additional details

The CUP method, followed by the resale-price or cost-plus method, in that order of priority.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There is a preference for local and regional comparables based on geographical market area comparability.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

There is a preference for single-year analysis.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

There is none specified.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

Though not specific, the regulations require annual justification.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is a preference for the simple average.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Not applicable

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the Master File?

Not applicable

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish CbCR?

Not applicable

- Are there any other penalties?

Not applicable, since filing is not a requirement.

b. Penalties post-TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

15. Contenta. Does PCbCR align with OECD BEPS Action 13 CbCR requirements?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Is aggregation of transactions allowed?

No

- Additional details

Not specified

c. Can you provide data sources and guidance?

Section 81 of the Taxation Act 2009 and Regulation 1. 81, Transfer Pricing

16. Lodgment process and requirementsa. Is lodgment possible?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Is lodgment in another jurisdiction possible?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Is lodgment required in a prescribed form and format?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the lodgment deadline?

Within seven days upon request

17. Penalties

a. What are the maximum administrative penalties?

No TP specific penalties. However, additional tax can be assessed – a 5% late-payment penalty per month and interest of 120% of the prime commercial rate based on Tax Procedure Rules.

- Additional details

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Spanish National Tax Agency (Agencia Estatal de Administración Tributaria – AEAT) and General Directorate of Taxation (Dirección General de Tributos – DGT)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

The transfer pricing regulations are contained in the Law 27/ 2014, of 27 November, of Corporate Income Tax (CITL) and in the Royal Decree 634/ 2015, of 10 July, approving Corporate Income Tax Regulations (CITR).

c. Effective date of applicability

No date specified

d. Section reference from local regulation

The section reference is Article 18 of the CITL and Articles 13 and following of the CITR.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

No documentation obligation exemption is established for domestic transactions.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Spain is a Member State of the OECD. The CITL's Explanatory Statement explicitly says that Spanish transfer pricing regulations must be interpreted in accordance with the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines and with the recommendations of the Joint Transfer Pricing Forum of the EU, insofar as they do not contradict what is expressly stated in the CITL.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Consolidated revenues of the group of at least EUR750 million in the previous fiscal year.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2016.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Consolidated revenues of the group of at least EUR45 million in the previous fiscal year.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

1 January 2015

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

Minor differences from OECD template

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Local File is covered.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

1 January 2015

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

While Spanish TP documentation rules are aligned with the OECD to a certain extent, some additional information is required to meet full compliance, such as identification details of counterparties to the intercompany transactions, comparability analysis on the basis of the five comparability factors, and allocation keys for services provided to several recipient entities and information on CSAs/CCAs.

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

Yes

- Additional details

We are seeing Spanish tax authorities challenging broadly generic transfer pricing documentation that is not customised to consider and address local specifics properly. Specifically, the general guidance of the Annual Plan for Tax Control for 2025 refers to Spanish tax authorities' focus on the review of transfer pricing documentation, not only from a formal compliance view, but looking to assess whether the transfer pricing documentation addresses appropriately material issues of the group structure such as a thorough analysis of functions, assets and risks, and the segmentation of financial information for the appropriate application of transfer pricing methods. As such, local fact-finding review is recommended to ensure fully compliant transfer pricing documentation, strong support for intercompany pricing in place and applicability of penalty protection.

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

No

Stand-alone transfer pricing reports are highly recommended to better prepare for tax authorities requests in case of tax audits, although we do not see penalties being applied for the preparation of Country Files.

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

EUR250,000

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

Total quantum of all controlled transactions entered into between the same counterparties

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

Transactions carried out with the same counterparty with an aggregate quantum below EUR250,000 at market value are exempt from documentation obligations. Additionally, transfer pricing documentation is not required in the following cases:

- Transactions carried out within a tax consolidation group
- Transactions carried out by economic interest groupings (Agrupación de Interés Económico – AIEs) and temporary joint ventures (Uniones Temporales de Empresas – UTEs) with its members, or with other entities forming part of the same tax consolidation group
- Transactions carried out in the context of share public offerings or takeover bids

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

EUR750 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

Consolidated revenues of the group

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Consolidated revenues of the group of at least EUR750 million in the previous fiscal year

- Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

EUR45 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

Group income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Groups with income below EUR45 million in the previous fiscal year are exempt from preparing a Master File. Other than that, thresholds for intercompany transactions may also apply (see below comments for the Local File).

- Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

EUR250,000 for all intercompany transactions entered into between the same counterparties

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

Total quantum of all controlled transactions entered into between the same counterparties

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

Transactions carried out with the same counterparty with an aggregate quantum below EUR250,000 at market value are exempt from documentation obligations. Additionally, transfer pricing documentation is not required in the following cases:

- Transactions carried out within a tax consolidation group
- Transactions carried out by economic interest groupings (Agrupación de Interés Económico – AIEs) and temporary joint ventures (Uniones Temporales de Empresas – UTEs) with its members, or with other entities forming part of the same tax consolidation group
- Transactions carried out in the context of share public offerings or takeover bids

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is no materiality limit.

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

In case of tax audit, although TP documentation could be accepted in English, the Spanish tax authorities are not required to use/accept languages other than Spanish and they usually require for information to be submitted in Spanish.

- Is a safe harbor available?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

Yes

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

One of the measures introduced by Royal Decree 634/2015 relates to reporting obligations of transactions with related parties, which used to be disclosed within the corporate income tax return and are now disclosed within a separate form with the aim of simplifying the risk assessment by Spanish tax authorities. The information to be disclosed includes the amount, payer, payee, type of transaction and valuation method applied for transfer pricing purposes. Specific disclosure rules exist for transactions with tax havens, even with unrelated parties (as per a jurisdiction list).

Specifically, the general guidance of the Annual Plan for Tax Control for 2025 refers to Spanish tax authorities developing specific campaigns to verify compliance of reporting obligations related to the TP form.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Notes to the financial statements typically disclose information about related-party transactions that have taken place and the effect of those transactions to the financial statements.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

There are none other than those mentioned in this guide (e.g., CbCR notification form).

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

The corporate income tax return should be filed 25 days after a six-month period after the end of the fiscal year. Normally, 25 July applies for companies closing books on 31 December.

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

Informative statement of related transactions and operations and situations related to tax havens (Form 232) should be filed within one month after a 10-month period after the end of the fiscal year. Normally, 30 November applies for companies closing books on 31 December.

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

There is no filing deadline. The Master File should be available for tax authorities request by the end of the voluntary period for filing the CIT return.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

UPEs are required to prepare on an annual basis and submit the CbCR during the 12 months following the end of the fiscal year to which it refers.

- Additional details

Not applicable

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

The CbCR notification should be filed on an annual basis before the end of the Fiscal Year. If there are multiple entities in the jurisdiction, one entity may file on behalf of all entities in jurisdiction

- Additional details

Not applicable

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

Transfer pricing documentation should be available for the tax authorities by the end of the voluntary period for filing the CIT return

- Additional details

Specifically, the general guidance of the Annual Plan for Tax Control for 2025 refers to Spanish tax authorities' focus on the review of the preparation of the transfer pricing documentation before the end of the voluntary period for filing the CIT return.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The taxpayer has to submit the transfer pricing documentation within 10 days upon tax authority request.

6. TP methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of TP methods?

No

- Additional details

To determine the market value, the law establishes that one of the following methods should be applied: CUP, cost plus, resale price, profit split or TNMM. Other methods may also be found more useful to price the specific transactions at arm's length. All of these methods have the same preferential level. The selection of the transfer pricing methods should be based on the nature of related-party transactions, the availability of information and the comparability analysis.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

The Spanish tax authorities do prefer local comparables and we often see them challenging results of benchmarking analyses on the basis of the selected comparables.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Multiple-year (three-year) analysis is common practice.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

The Spanish tax authorities always rely on the information publicly available and they do prefer Excel spreadsheet quartile to assess benchmarking results. Further, the Spanish tax authorities have published a strong opinion on the adjustment to the median value whenever transaction results are found to be outside of the interquartile range.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

As long as the operating conditions remain unchanged, searches in databases could be updated every three years while financial data for the comparables should be updated every year.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

The weighted average is preferred, per common practice.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There are none.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

When the assessment does not result in a tax adjustment, the penalty will be EUR1,000 per fact or EUR10,000 per group of facts omitted or false. Certain limits apply.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the Master File?

As above

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish CbCR?

Not applicable

- Are there any other penalties?

Not applicable

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

- Additional details

When the tax authorities adjust the pricing of a transaction, applicable penalties amount to 15% of the gross adjustment if documentation is deemed incomplete.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

- Additional details

When the tax authorities adjust the pricing of a transaction, applicable penalties amount to 15% of the gross adjustment if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

Some reductions are applicable to penalties. Penalties do not apply if the documentation requirements have been completely fulfilled, even if the tax authorities adjust intercompany pricing.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

A general statute of limitations of four years applies. The term will be interrupted in the case of a tax audit. If a new income tax return is filed with the tax authorities, a new four-year period begins.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

We generally see all tax audits reviewing transfer pricing structure in place and some tax audits focusing only on transfer pricing related issues. Transfer pricing is currently one of the main focuses of Spanish tax authorities and we recommend clients ensure a fresh review of the structure in place, along with complete and localised transfer pricing documentation.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

An adjustment (and potentially penalties) is the typical outcome of a challenge by Spanish tax authorities.

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

The Spanish tax authorities have published a strong opinion on transfer pricing adjustments to the median value of the interquartile range, should the assessed results of a transaction fall outside of the interquartile range of the appropriate benchmarking analysis.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

The Spanish tax authorities have stated that transfer pricing audits are an area of major attention and, particularly with regard to the general guidance of the Annual Plan for Tax Control for 2025, Spanish tax authorities are expected to focus on the review of business restructurings and asset valuations (such as intangible transactions), material deductions from royalty and management fees, recurrent losses, and financing/cash pool structures. In this sense, loss-making companies, limited risk distributors and limited risk services providers are a standard focus of the tax authorities.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

There is an APA program available in Spain. Taxpayers may request that the tax authorities issue rulings on related-party transactions before these are carried out. This request has to be filed with a proposal based on the arm's-length principle. On the other hand, tax authorities may also settle agreements with other tax authorities to determine the market value of the transactions jointly (i.e., bilateral APAs).

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The APA will take effect with respect to the transactions carried out after the date on which it is approved and will be valid for the tax periods specified in the agreement itself, without exceeding the four tax periods following that of the date in which

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

An APA can be rolled back to reach previous tax periods for which the tax authority's right to conduct a tax audit has not become statute-barred and no final assessment in relation to the transactions referred in the APA request has been carried out.

d. Is MAP available?

MAP is available. Spain has been allocating more resources to MAPs to meet the 24-month target to resolve MAP cases in average. If requested under a Spanish double taxation treaty (DTT), taxpayers must make an MAP request before the end of the period provided for in the respective DTT, starting from the day following the notification of the act which causes or is likely to cause the taxation not in accordance with the provisions of the Convention. If requested under the EU Arbitration Convention (90/436/EEC), taxpayers have three years to present a case to the tax authorities.

In general, net interest expenses exceeding 30% of earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortization (EBITDA) may be disallowed for tax purposes in the year of accrual (adjustments and exceptions may apply, such as a minimum allowance of EUR1 million per year). The excess may be carried forward indefinitely. This restriction applies regardless of whether the interest is paid to a related party or an unrelated lender. In addition, interest expense on intragroup financing related to the acquisition (or equity increase) of participation in group entities is disallowed unless valid business reasons for such transactions are proven. Additional rules for leveraged acquisitions limit the deductibility of interest on loans to purchase shares (acquisition debt) to 30% of the operating profit of the acquiring entity. The limitation applies if the acquired and acquiring entities are merged within a four-year period or if new entities join the tax group in which the acquiring and acquired entity are included. Under an escape clause, the limitation does not apply in the year of the acquisition if the acquisition debt does not exceed 70% of the consideration paid for the shares. In the following years, the limitation will not apply if the acquisition debt is proportionally repaid within an eight-year period until it is reduced to 30% of the total consideration.

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

Yes

b. Name of authority

Institute of Accounting and Auditing of Accounts (Instituto de Contabilidad y Auditoría de Cuentas)

c. Name of regulations

Law 28/2022, of 21 December, to promote the ecosystem of emerging companies

d. Effective date of applicability

Applicable to fiscal years beginning after 22 June 2024

e. Section reference from local regulation

Additional Provision 11th of Law 22/2015, of 20 July, on Auditing of Accounts, introduced by Final Provision 6th of Law 28/2022, of 21 December, to promote the ecosystem of emerging companies

14. PCbCR thresholds and exemptions

a. What is the global consolidated income threshold?

Consolidated revenues of the group of at least EUR750 million in the two previous fiscal years

b. Are there any materiality exemptions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Spanish PCbCR legislation applies to companies with consolidated revenues of the group of at least EUR750 million in the two previous fiscal years.

15. Content

a. Does PCbCR align with OECD BEPS Action 13 CbCR requirements?

No

▪ Additional details

Spanish PCbCR legislation establishes the report must be made available to the public free of charge and in electronic format on (i) the website of the company preparing the report, (ii) in at least one of the official languages of the EU, and (iii) accessible within a six-month period. Although the Directive provides for an up to 12-month period, the Spanish legislation provides for a six-month period only.

b. Is aggregation of transactions allowed?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

c. Can you provide data sources and guidance?

Spanish PCbCR legislation is publicly available (in Spanish) - please refer to the following link: <https://www.boe.es/buscar/act.php?id=BOE-A-2022-21739>

16. Lodgment process and requirements

a. Is lodgment possible?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Spanish PCbCR legislation establishes the report must be made available to the public free of charge and in electronic format on (i) the website of the company preparing the report, (ii) in at least one of the official languages of the EU, and (iii) accessible within a six-month period.

Further, the report will be filed with the Spanish Commercial Registry together along with the documents that are part of the annual accounts.

b. Is lodgment in another jurisdiction possible?

Yes

- Additional details

Spanish companies may be exempt from PCbCR obligations if the parent company of the group has prepared a report compatible with Spanish legislation, and the following requirements are met:

- a. The report is made available to the public free of charge and in electronic format on (i) the website of the company that prepares it, (ii) prepared in at least one of the official languages of the EU, and (iii) accessible within a maximum period of six months; and
- b. The report refers to the name and registered office of a group company subject to EU law that publishes the report.

c. Is lodgment required in a prescribed form and format?

Yes

- Additional details

PCbCR data shall be prepared on the basis of the common template, and in electronic formats that are machine-readable, as established by the European Commission.

Further, PCbCR data may be published on the basis CbCR obligations as established in article 14 of Royal Decree 634/2015, of 10 July, approving the CITR and Order HFP/1978/2016, of 28 December, approving Form 231 for the CbCR statement.

d. What is the lodgment deadline?

Spanish PCbCR legislation establishes the report must be made available to the public free of charge and in electronic format on (i) the website of the company preparing the report, (ii) in at least one of the official languages of the EU, and (iii) accessible within a six-month period.

17. Penalties

a. What are the maximum administrative penalties?

Penalties up to EUR300,000 may apply for the failure by the management body to comply with the obligation to file the information required.

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Is there any risk of criminal prosecution?

No

- Additional details

While the members of the administrative bodies of the ultimate parent companies and/or of the group companies subject to PCbCR obligations will be collectively responsible for ensuring that PCbCR data is prepared, published, filed, and made accessible, we do not expect risk of criminal prosecution.

Yes

▪ Additional details

The Master File and Local File must be available at the time of the income tax return filing, on or before 30 November, following the end of each year of assessment (YA).

▪ For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

▪ TP documentation

▪ Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

Refer below the threshold applicable for Local File, Master File and CbCR

▪ If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

Refer below threshold details provided for Local File, Master File and CbCR

▪ Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

Taxpayers are required to maintain TP documentation, comprising a Local File, Master File and CbCR, if the following thresholds are met.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

- EUR750 million (or the LKR equivalent)

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

- Other

- Consolidated Group's revenue in the fiscal year immediately preceding the reporting fiscal year

- Is there any other threshold?

- No

- Additional details

- Not applicable

- Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

- EUR50 million (or the LKR equivalent)

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

- Other

- Is there any other threshold?

- No

- Additional details

- Declared group revenue

- Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

- LKR200 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

- Other

- Is there any other threshold?

- No

- Additional details

- Sum (aggregate value) of all controlled transactions

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

- Yes

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

- Other

- Is there any other threshold?

- No

- Additional details

- If the aggregate value of a specific category of controlled transaction as prescribed in the regulations exceeds LKR200 million, economic analyses are required for all controlled transactions under such category. Nevertheless, all associated enterprise transactions are required to be carried out at arm's length even if the threshold is not met.

- Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

- No

- Additional details

- For international transactions, English should be used. For domestic transactions, Sinhalese or Tamil can be used.

- Is a safe harbor available?

- No

- Additional details

- Under the Inland Revenue Act of Sri Lanka, safe harbor rules are to be specified by the Commissioner-General of Inland Revenue. However, no such safe harbor rules are available.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

- No preference

- Additional details

Not specified

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

Yes

Taxpayers are required to make TP-specific disclosures in the income tax return.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

Taxpayers are required to file a Transfer Pricing Disclosure Form along with the income tax return by the due date.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

The Transfer Pricing Disclosure Form filed along with the income tax return should provide information related to the transaction, associated enterprise, TP methodology and arm's-length price.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes, there is a requirement under the Sri Lankan Accounting Standards.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No, CbCR notification is not part of the statutory tax return.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

30 November

- Additional details

Taxpayers should file the corporate income tax return on or before 30 November following the end of each YA.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

30 November

- Additional details

The Transfer Pricing Disclosure Form should be filed along with the income tax return.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

No submission deadline, required to be submitted upon written request.

- Additional details

Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared): The Master File must be available at the time of the income tax return filing, on or before 30 November following the end of each year-end. The Master File should be submitted to the IRD within 60 days upon request.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

The CbCR should be filed no later than 12 months after the last day of the reporting fiscal year of the MNE group.

- Additional details

Not applicable

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

The CbCR notification should be filed annually by not later than 31 December of the reporting fiscal year of the MNE group.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

30 November

- Additional details

Local File and Master File should be prepared at the time of filing the income tax return (i.e., on or before 30 November following each year-end).

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

The Master File and Local File should be furnished upon request.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The taxpayer has to submit the Master File and Local File within 60 days from the corresponding notice by the IRD in an audit or inquiry. Usually, the IRD will determine a submission deadline for other documents, which can vary greatly from case to case (e.g., from only one week to several weeks).

6. TP methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of TP methods?

No

- Additional details

The TP regulations prescribe the following methods for the determination of the arm's-length price:

- CUP
- Resale price
- Cost-plus

- Profit-split

- TNMM

The TP regulations do not provide a hierarchy of methods, but require that the process of selecting a method should be aimed at finding the most appropriate method.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

TP regulations neither provide clear guidance on benchmarking studies nor prohibit the use of regional comparables. Therefore, regional comparables should be acceptable, provided that the differences can be eliminated through appropriate adjustments and analyses.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

In general, the data of the current YA is required to be considered. However, data pertaining to up to two preceding financial years may be used, if such data reveals facts that could affect the determination of transfer prices.

As per the TP regulations, use of the interquartile range is mandatory.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

As per the TP regulations, if no significant changes have occurred, no fresh benchmarking search needs to be conducted every year, but the financial data of the comparables needs to be updated. A fresh benchmark search is required every three years. However, there is no specific guidance on the term "significant changes."

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

The TP regulations do not contain guidance regarding the application of simple or weighted average prices in cases where multiple years are considered for benchmarking purposes. In this regard, it is our view that taxpayers should apply the method that represents a proper application of the arm's-length principle.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

The TP-specific penalty regime became effective from 1 April 2018. Such penalties are imposed as follows:

- For not maintaining documentation, a penalty of up to 1% of the aggregate transaction value may be levied.
- For not furnishing required documents, a penalty of up to LKR250,000 may be levied.
- For nondisclosure of any required information, a penalty of up to 2% of the aggregate transaction value may be levied.
- For failure to submit documents on the specified date, a penalty of up to LKR100,000 may be levied.
- Concealment of income, furnishing inaccurate particulars or evasion could lead to imposing a penalty of 200% of incremental tax on the TP adjustment.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the Master File?

Not applicable

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish CbCR?

Not applicable

- Are there any other penalties?

Not applicable

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

- Additional details

As mentioned above, it may be 200% of the incremental tax for furnishing inaccurate particulars and 2% of the aggregate transaction value for non disclosure of any required information.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

- Additional details

If identified as non-contemporaneous, for not maintaining the documentation, a penalty of up to 1% of the aggregate transaction value may be levied.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

Yes

- Additional details

The IRA provides for interest for underpayments by the taxpayer at the rate of 1.5% compounded monthly. If the Commissioner General of Inland Revenue is required to refund interest of 0.5% is payable to the taxpayer compounded monthly.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

Penalties may be avoided by establishing reasonable cause and good faith via preparation of documentation of the taxpayer's application of the arm's-length principle.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The statute of limitations is 30 months from the date of the filing of the income tax return. In the case of fraud or willful evasion, the statute of limitations will not apply.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

If the method selected is not supported with an explanation of why it was considered the method that best reflected the arm's-length principle.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

If a methodology has been challenged, there is high risk that an adjustment will be proposed and a dispute process will commence.

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

Where the actual price for a controlled transaction between associated enterprises is not within the arm's-length range, the median in the arm's-length range shall be treated as the arm's-length price for such transaction.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

No particular transaction, industry and situation is more at risk of receiving a tax audit than another. Experience indicates that once the IRD has had substantial success with a tax audit of a particular company, other companies in the same industry have been targeted.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

The TP regulations provide an opportunity for taxpayers to opt for a unilateral, bilateral or multilateral APA.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The APA is available for a period not exceeding four years.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Yes provided on a case-by-case basis.

d. Is MAP available?

In the case of international transactions, the taxpayer may request relief from double taxation under the double tax treaty.

The domestic law provides for a debt-to-equity ratio of 4:1. Finance costs paid in excess of the debt-to-equity ratio are not deductible for tax purposes. However, as per the law any finance cost that is not deducted as per the above may be carried forward and deducted in the subsequent six years of assessment to the extent of any unused limitation for the year (subject to certain conditions).

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

No

b. Name of authority

Not applicable

c. Name of regulations

Not applicable

d. Effective date of applicability

Not applicable

e. Section reference from local regulation

Not applicable

14. PCbCR thresholds and exemptions

a. What is the global consolidated income threshold?

Not applicable

b. Are there any materiality exemptions?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

15. Content

a. Does PCbCR align with OECD BEPS Action 13 CbCR requirements?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Is aggregation of transactions allowed?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Can you provide data sources and guidance?

Not applicable

16. Lodgment process and requirements

a. Is lodgment possible?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Is lodgment in another jurisdiction possible?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Is lodgment required in a prescribed form and format?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the lodgment deadline?

Not applicable

17. Penalties

a. What are the maximum administrative penalties?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Is there any risk of criminal prosecution?

No

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Swedish Tax Agency – STA

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

- Income Tax Act (Inkomstskattelagen (1999))
- Tax Procedure Act (Skatteförfarandelagen (2011))
- Tax Procedure Ordinance (Skatteförfarandeförordning (2011))
- The Advance Pricing Agreements Act (Lag om prissättningsbesked vid internationella transaktioner (2009))

The STA issues general taxation guidelines and opinions, including information about transfer pricing.

c. Effective date of applicability

See above

d. Section reference from local regulation

- Sections 14:19-20 of the Income Tax Act (Inkomstskattelagen (1999:1229)) includes the arm's-length principle and definition of "related party."
- Section 33a of the Tax Procedures Act (Skatteförfarandelagen (2011:1244)) includes the CbCR requirements.
- Sections 39:15-16 of the Tax Procedures Act (Skatteförfarandelagen (2011:1244)) include the transfer pricing documentation requirements.
- Section 9 of the Tax Procedure Ordinance (Skatteförfarandeförordning (2011:1261)) includes the detailed transfer pricing documentation requirements.
- The Advance Pricing Agreements Act (Lag (2009:1289) om prissättningsbesked vid internationella transaktioner) includes the regulations on APAs.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There are no documentation requirements for domestic transactions, although the arm's-length principle must still be adhered to.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Sweden is an OECD member. The Swedish tax laws on transfer pricing are based on the OECD Model Tax Convention, and the courts and tax authorities apply the OECD Guidelines.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Yes, it is effective for financial years starting after 31 March 2017 (however, see below regarding CbCR).

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Multinational groups with a total turnover of at least SEK7 billion, or a corresponding amount in foreign currency, are subject to the CbCR rules. Generally, this means that the ultimate parent entity is required to file a CbC report for the entire group in the jurisdiction where it resides. Swedish parent companies of groups exceeding the threshold are required to file the CbC report with the STA within 12 months after the end of the financial year covered by the report, the "reporting year." If the ultimate parent entity resides in a jurisdiction that has not adopted CbCR filing requirements, or has an agreement on information exchange but is not exchanging information with the STA, a Swedish entity or permanent establishment or branch may be obligated to file the report in Sweden.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2016.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

- Coverage

Master File is covered.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

Financial years starting after 31 March 2017

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

- Coverage

Local File is covered.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

Financial years starting after 31 March 2017

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

- Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation prepared in line with the documentation requirements and provided in a timely manner, adhering to the OECD transfer pricing principles, describing actual facts and circumstances, implemented in the business at hand and not differing from what is declared in the income tax return, may give 50% penalty reduction, or potentially full relief in special circumstances. In case of significant disagreement on, e.g., the functional analysis, relief is generally not granted. MNEs, due to their international business, are also presumed to be aware of transfer pricing issues and regulations.

The standard way of obtaining penalty protection in relation to tax risks (including transfer pricing related), is to disclose the relevant risk and factual information in the CIT return for the year in question. Such disclosures have the effect, if deemed to meet stringent requirements, of (i) precluding the STA from levying tax penalties and (ii) limiting the statute of limitations to two years instead of six years with respect to the matter which was disclosed.

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

- a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes, transfer pricing documentation has to be prepared contemporaneously on an annual basis under the local regulations.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

See below (Master File and Local File).

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

No

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

▪ TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

The Swedish transfer pricing documentation requirements are based on the OECD Master File-Local File concept.

▪ CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

SEK7 billion

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

Multinational groups with total revenues (as defined) of at least SEK7 billion, or a corresponding amount in foreign currency, are subject to the CbCR rules. Generally, this means that the ultimate parent entity is required to file a CbC report for the entire group in the jurisdiction where it resides. Swedish parent companies of groups exceeding the threshold are required to file the CbC report with the STA within 12 months after the end of the financial year covered by the report, the "reporting year." If the ultimate parent entity resides in a jurisdiction that has not adopted CbCR filing requirements, or has an agreement on information exchange but is not exchanging information with the STA, a Swedish entity or permanent establishment or branch may be obligated to file the report in Sweden.

▪ Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

SEK450 million/SEK400 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

Employee headcount

▪ Additional details

Annual turnover/Balance sheet value and employee headcount are basis used to determine the threshold.

A Master File is not required if the company has less than 250 employees, and the company has either an annual turnover of SEK450 million or less, or a balance sheet value of SEK400 million or less. The thresholds are evaluated based on consolidated numbers, i.e., on group level.

▪ Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

SEK450 million/SEK400 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Annual turnover/Balance sheet value is basis used to determine the threshold.

A Swedish Local File is not required if the company has less than 250 employees, and the company has either an annual turnover of SEK450 million or less, or a balance sheet value of SEK400 million or less. The thresholds are evaluated based on consolidated numbers, i.e., on group level.

Insignificant transactions do not need to be documented. Transactions amounting to less than SEK5 million per counterparty are always considered insignificant and do not need to be analyzed in detail in the Local File. However, for the materiality limit to be applied to transactions involving intangible assets, the intangible assets at hand need to be considered immaterial or insignificant for the business operations.

▪ Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

Yes

SEK5 million (see further above)

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Total international related-party transactions

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation can be prepared in Swedish, English, Norwegian or Danish.

- Is a safe harbor available?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

- Additional details

Aggregation of the same type of transactions is generally accepted.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes

- d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No

- e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

- a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

Generally 1 August

- Additional details

There are four different dates for filing the corporate income tax return, depending on the taxpayer's financial year-end. Generally, the due date is approximately six months after the end of the financial year. For taxpayers with a calendar year-end, the tax return is due by 1 August.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

▪ Additional details

- The Master File shall be prepared by the income tax return due date of the group parent entity.
- To be submitted upon request from the STA.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

Generally 31 December

▪ Additional details

The report has to be submitted within 12 months after the end of the financial year covered by the report.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Generally 31 December

▪ Additional details

The notification is to be submitted before the end of the reporting year. The notification has to be submitted annually. One entity can file on behalf of other entities in the jurisdiction but one form per entity needs to be prepared.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By Swedish tax return due date

▪ Additional details

The Local File shall be prepared by the income tax return due date of the Swedish entity.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

▪ Additional details

To be submitted upon request from the STA

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

There is no formal time period that the STA adheres to when requesting the submission of the transfer pricing documentation, but one to four weeks is common.

6. TP methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of TP methods?

No

▪ Additional details

One of the methods described in the OECD Guidelines should be applied. There is no local priority or preference of methods other than what is stated in the OECD Guidelines.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Local benchmarks are preferred, but regional (Nordic) or European benchmarks are generally accepted if the comparability criteria are met.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

The STA generally expects single-year results for the tested party to be compared to the multiyear comparable data.

Yes, interquartile range calculation is generally preferred.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

Sweden follows the OECD recommendations, and annual financial updates are therefore generally advised, with a fresh benchmark analysis performed every third year.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

The weighted average is generally preferred.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

▪ Additional details

Interest is charged on additional tax imposed, but not on penalties if paid on a timely basis.

▪ Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation prepared in line with the documentation requirements and provided in a timely manner, adhering to the OECD transfer pricing principles, describing actual facts and circumstances, implemented in the business at hand and not differing from what is declared in the income tax return, may give 50% penalty reduction, or potentially full relief in special circumstances. In case of significant disagreement on, e.g., the functional analysis, relief is generally not granted. MNEs, due to their international business, are also presumed to be aware of transfer pricing issues and regulations.

The standard way of obtaining penalty protection in relation to tax risks (including transfer pricing related), is to disclose the relevant risk and factual information in the CIT return for the year in question. Such disclosures have the effect, if deemed to meet stringent requirements, of (i) precluding the STA from levying tax penalties and (ii) limiting the statute of limitations to two years instead of six years with respect to the matter which was disclosed.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Not applicable

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the Master File?

Not applicable

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish CbCR?

Not applicable

▪ Are there any other penalties?

Sweden has no specific transfer pricing penalties; however, general tax penalties apply, ranging from 10% to 40% of the additional tax imposed or reduction of losses carried forward in case of adjustments. In transfer pricing cases, penalties at a rate of 40% are generally imposed. For 2023, penalties above SEK52,500 are reported to the Swedish Economic Crime Authority.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

A reassessment may be made during the six-year period after the end of the calendar year in which the relevant fiscal year ended.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

It depends on a number of factors, including the industry in which the company operates, the occurrence of certain transactions, occurrence of consistent losses, the outcome of previous tax audits and changes in turnover or profit levels, compared with prior years. The possibility that transfer pricing will be reviewed either as part of, or as the sole focus of, an audit may be considered to be high.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The transfer pricing methodology may be challenged if transfer pricing is reviewed as part of the audit. The possibility depends, for example, on the transactions involved, the transfer pricing methods applied, whether documentation and agreements have been prepared, and whether the documentation and agreements are adhered to in practice.

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

No

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Business restructurings and transactions involving intangible assets are often subject to a transfer pricing audit.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Bilateral and multilateral APAs are available. An APA can only be concluded if Sweden has entered into a tax treaty with the relevant jurisdiction(s). APAs are not available for transactions that are not sufficiently complex or that involve minor amounts. This will be assessed on a case-by-case basis.

The STA is the Swedish competent authority in matters related to Mutual Agreement Procedures and Advance Pricing Agreements.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The term for an APA would generally be three to five years unless there are specific reasons for a shorter or longer term

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Roll-backs may be possible.

d. Is MAP available?

Taxpayers may request a MAP if taxation has or is likely to occur that is not in accordance with the provisions of a double taxation treaty of which Sweden is signatory. Taxpayers generally have three years to submit an application.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

There are no formal thin capitalization rules, although substantial interest deduction restrictions apply on loans from affiliated persons.

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

Yes

b. Name of authority

Swedish Companies Registration Office

c. Name of regulations

Lag (2023:340) om offentliggörande av vissa stora företags inkomstskatterapporter

d. Effective date of applicability

Applicable to financial years starting after 31 May 2024

e. Section reference from local regulation

Lag (2023:340) om offentliggörande av vissa stora företags inkomstskatterapporter

14. PCbCR thresholds and exemptions

a. What is the global consolidated income threshold?

SEK8 billion in two consecutive years

b. Are there any materiality exemptions?

Yes

- Additional details

For Swedish branches, materiality exemptions may apply.

15. Content

a. Does PCbCR align with OECD BEPS Action 13 CbCR requirements?

No

- Additional details

The Swedish PCbCR legislation align with the EU PCbCR directive

b. Is aggregation of transactions allowed?

Yes

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Cantonal tax administrations and Swiss Federal Tax Administration (SFTA)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

There are no specific references to transfer pricing in Swiss tax law. The legal support for adjusting a taxpayer's taxable profits is derived from the arm's-length principle in Article 58 of the Federal Direct Tax Act on a federal level (14 December 1990), as well as in Article 24 of the Federal Law on the Harmonization of Taxes on a cantonal and communal level (14 December 1990). Additionally, on 4 March 1997, the SFTA issued a circular letter instructing the cantonal tax administrations to adhere to the OECD Guidelines and the arm's-length principle when assessing cross-border intercompany transactions. In addition, in January 2024, the SFTA together with the Swiss Tax Conference (SSK) published a comprehensive commentary on transfer pricing, the first substantial publication on transfer pricing from a Swiss tax authority. On 23 February 2024, the SFTA released comprehensive guidance in question and answer (Q&A) format on the practical application of transfer pricing rules in Switzerland. The guidance is meant to clarify the application of the arm's-length principle and methodologies for assessing the arm's-length nature of intercompany transactions between affiliates. There is no definition of the term "related party" in Swiss domestic law or regulations. According to the jurisprudence of the Federal Supreme Court, an entity is considered related if a commercial or a close personal relationship exists between two entities or individuals. A direct or indirect participation in the management, control or capital is not required. The crucial criterion is whether the tested transaction was conducted only as a consequence of the close relationship or not.

c. Effective date of applicability

d. Section reference from local regulation

There are no specific references to transfer pricing in Swiss tax law. The legal support for adjusting a taxpayer's taxable profits is derived from the arm's-length principle in Article 58 of the Federal Direct Tax Act on a federal level (14 December 1990), as well as in Article 24 of the Federal Law on the Harmonization of Taxes on a cantonal and communal level (14 December 1990).

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There is no documentation obligation for domestic transactions. However, especially for material and complex transactions between different cantons, it is recommended preparing a transfer pricing documentation also for domestic transactions to demonstrate the arm's-length character of the transactions in case of an inquiry by the tax administration.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Switzerland is a member of the OECD. Switzerland relies on the OECD Guidelines for the interpretation of the arm's-length principle.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Switzerland adopted the global minimum standard included in Action 13 of the OECD BEPS project for the international automatic exchange of CbCR.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Multinational enterprise groups with a parent company resident in Switzerland and a turnover of more than CHF900 million are required to file a country-by-country report with the SFTA. The SFTA automatically forwards the country-by-country reports to the tax authorities of the partner countries and makes them available to the tax authorities of the cantons in which entities belonging to the same multinational enterprise group are resident.

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

No

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

No

- Additional details

Switzerland does not have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules. In particular, there is no obligation to prepare a Master File and a Local File. Swiss tax authorities, however, regularly ask for the Master File and Local File during tax audits. The absence of documentation does not trigger penalties, but taxpayers are required to provide evidence that intercompany transactions are at arm's length. Swiss domestic legislation requires the taxpayer to provide all the documents necessary for properly assessing the taxable income. In the case of related-party transactions, the taxpayer has to demonstrate that the transfer prices are based on the arm's-length principle (implicit obligation to prepare transfer pricing documentation). It is hence recommended that a Master File and a Local File be prepared to document the arm's-length character of transactions in case of an inquiry by the tax administration. Even though Switzerland has no legal documentation rules for the Master File and Local File, Swiss taxpayers factually prepare them to defend their transfer pricing system in tax audits.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

No

- Additional details

Besides the obligation to file a CbCR for fiscal years starting in or after 2018, there are no specific requirements concerning transfer pricing documentation.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

No

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

The CbCR must be submitted in one of the Swiss official languages (German, French or Italian) or in English. Besides the CbCR, other transfer pricing documentation (Master File and Local File) should be prepared in one of the Swiss official languages (German, French or Italian). Documentation prepared in English is usually accepted by the tax administration. Taxpayers may sometimes be asked to provide translations.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Yes

- Additional details

The SFTA has issued circulars containing safe harbor rules for financing with regard to thin capitalization and interest rates for intragroup debt or receivables in Swiss francs and in foreign currency. The safe harbor interest rates are updated annually.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Unspecified

- Additional details

Both approaches may be accepted, depending on the case.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

- a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

Varies by canton (usually six to nine months after FY close)

- Additional details

Corporate tax returns must be filed annually (an exemption applies in the first business year in case of an extended business year). The filing deadlines vary from canton to canton (usually between six and nine months after the close of the business year).

- b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

- Additional details

Submission/filing date: The CbCR must be filed with the SFTA within 12 months following the end of the reporting period.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

90 days after the end of the reporting period

- Additional details

There is a CbCR notification requirement for Swiss ultimate parent entities or surrogate parent entities of 90 days after the end of the reporting period. The government is entitled to put in place notification requirements for other Swiss constituent entities. Submission date is 90 days after the end of the reporting period. The CbCR notification requirement applies to Swiss ultimate parent entities or surrogate parent entities only.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Once requested by the tax authorities, documentation must usually be submitted within 30 days (extendable upon agreement).

6. TP methodsa. Is there any priority and preference of TP methods?

No

- Additional details

In practice, Switzerland relies on the most appropriate method as recommended by the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines.

7. Benchmarking Requirementsa. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Because of the lack of sufficient independent comparable companies in the Swiss market, pan-European comparables are generally accepted. Benchmarking searches of local comparable companies are preferred, but not mandated by law.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Both are accepted in principle, but the multiyear analysis is more commonly used.

The use of interquartile ranges is usually accepted.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no requirement to conduct a fresh benchmarking search every year. Typically, annual financial updates are performed, whereas new benchmark searches are performed every three years in line with OECD Guidelines recommendations.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Typically, simple or weighted average is applied. There is no preference between the two in practice; using pooled results is not common and will likely be challenged.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Besides the obligation to file a CbCR for fiscal years starting in or after 2018, there is no specific requirement concerning transfer pricing documentation. In particular, there is no obligation to prepare a Master File and a Local File.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the Master File?

Not applicable

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish CbCR?

CHF200 per day

- Are there any other penalties?

Swiss tax legislation does not contain specific transfer pricing penalties. In particular, there are no penalties for a lack of transfer pricing documentation (other than for the CbCR). Rather, the general penalty provisions of each relevant tax act apply. Formal penalties include monetary fines for infractions of administrative duties or for tax evasion, and imprisonment in severe cases of tax fraud. In addition, the following penalties may apply:

- Assessment of the taxable base by the tax authorities: If the taxable base cannot be properly determined during a tax assessment (for example, because of inappropriate documentation), it is estimated at the discretion of the tax authorities. By law, these estimates must be dutiful and based on experience in other cases. However, assessments of the taxable base are rarely in favor of the taxpayer.
- Withholding tax: If a constructive dividend is paid by a Swiss taxpayer, a withholding tax of 35% is imposed. According to Swiss practice, in most cases, the Swiss recipient has the right to a refund of the withholding tax under the "direct beneficiary theory." In the case of an international beneficiary, that is not the direct parent but a sister company of the Swiss taxpayer, this situation results in a higher rate of nonrefundable withholding tax, even if a double tax treaty (DTT) is available. This is because DTTs generally require direct investment between companies for them to benefit from the higher refund rate. Regarding the CbC report, there are different layers of penalties:

- Administrative penalty for late submission: CHF200 per day after the expiration of the deadline, capped at a maximum amount of CHF50,000
- Criminal sanctions:
- Failure to declare withholding tax can result in criminal prosecution.
- Intentional falsification or incompleteness of CbCR data: up to CHF100,000 to whoever intentionally submits a false or incomplete CbCR that substantially distorts the information requested, and provides an inaccurate representation of the facts
- Noncompliance with the decision of the tax authority: up to CHF10,000 to whoever intentionally does not comply with the decision of the tax authority in the event of an audit

b. Penalties post-TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

Yes

- Additional details

Late interest is due on penalties that are not paid on time. The general provisions on late interest apply. The interest rate is determined by the SFTA annually.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

▪ Additional details

There are no special provisions for penalty reductions. Penalties charged are lower in the case of ordinary negligence and higher in the case of gross negligence. Many tax disputes can be prevented using the advance ruling process or settled by negotiation with the tax authorities during a tax assessment or tax audit process (by way of formal complaint). In this way, the number of court cases can be reduced. However, if a transaction was not subject to a ruling, or if a ruling was not properly implemented, disputes may still arise and require resolution. Additionally, if transfer prices are adjusted by a foreign tax authority, a dispute resolution mechanism may be needed to avoid double taxation. Each canton has one or two judicial instances that are competent for tax litigation. The highest court for tax litigation is the Federal Court. According to the Federal Constitution, intercantonal double taxation is prohibited. Therefore, the Federal Court has developed numerous rules on how intercantonal double taxation can be avoided. In practice, these rules often also apply to international cases unless overruled by a DTT. The Swiss competent authority for tax treaties is the State Secretariat for International Finance (SIF), a division of the Federal Department of Finance. Among other duties, the SIF represents Switzerland's interests in international financial and tax matters, and leads negotiations in these areas.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

As a rule, the right to assess a taxpayer in relation to corporate income and capital taxes expires five years after the end of the corresponding tax period (relative statute of limitations). Under certain conditions (e.g., when the relative statute of limitations is interrupted), the absolute statute of limitations of 15 years applies. In the cases of tax fraud or tax evasion (e.g., when specific information was not available to the tax inspector at the time of the assessment), finally assessed tax periods can be reopened. The statute of limitations to reopen finally assessed tax periods is 10 years after the end of the corresponding tax period.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

It is high in case of a withholding tax audit. Swiss tax authorities show particular interest for intercompany financial transactions. Recent experience with tax audits seems to indicate that the tax authorities are taking a firm stand on transfer pricing issues.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, the consequences can include an adjustment.

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

No specific regulations exist; however, in practice adjustments are often made to the median.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

The risk of scrutiny may be considered to be high, concerning the transfers of intangibles and restructurings leading to significant base erosion, unless agreed upfront in a tax ruling with the authorities. Risk of scrutiny is high for intercompany financing and guarantee fees. The risk of scrutiny for tangible transactions is low.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

The mechanisms available in Switzerland to prevent and resolve transfer pricing disputes include rulings, bilateral APAs, multilateral APAs and MAPs. It is common practice to clarify the taxation of critical or complex transactions, including transfer pricing issues, in an advance ruling from the Swiss tax authorities. An advance ruling can be requested for both the interpretation of a relevant tax law or administrative guideline and the actual amount of tax payable on a transaction. The Swiss practice of issuing advance rulings helps reduce the number of disputes. Bilateral APAs with foreign tax authorities have become a favored option for Swiss-based multinational groups with complex or high-volume transactions. Bilateral APAs are conducted under the corresponding MAP in the relevant DTT. In practice, the procedure starts with a presentation of the facts and a formal request to the SIF. The SIF has proved very helpful in supporting the interests of Swiss taxpayers in APA negotiations with foreign tax authorities. The SIF has published guidance on MAPs and APAs, which can be found at <https://www.sif.admin.ch/en/mutual-agreement-procedure-dta>.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The tenure period is subject to negotiation. In most cases five years. Longer periods are also possible.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Possible. Depends on the countries involved. Taxpayers have the option of requesting roll-backs.

d. Is MAP available?

Taxpayers may request a MAP, if taxation has or is likely to occur that is not in accordance with the provisions of a double tax treaty (DTT) to which Switzerland is signatory. Most of Switzerland's DTTs permit taxpayers to present a case to the SIF within three years from the first notification to the taxpayer of the actions giving rise to taxation not in accordance with the DTT. It is prudent to consult the relevant DTT to determine the time limit that applies and to ensure that the deadline for presenting a case is not missed.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

The SFTA has issued a circular containing safe harbor rules for financing with regard to thin capitalization.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There is a documentation obligation for domestic transactions.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

No

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Taiwan is not a member of the OECD; however, it recognizes the OECD Guidelines.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The Ministry of Finance (MOF) drew up an amendment (the amendment) to the transfer pricing guidelines on the basis of the BEPS Action 13 final report. The final amendment was released 13 November 2017. In line with OECD BEPS Action 13, the amendment adopts a three-tiered transfer pricing documentation requirement that includes the Master File, CbCR, and Local File or transfer pricing report. The amendment applies to profit-seeking enterprises' income tax returns starting fiscal year 2017.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

The CbCR requirements came into effect starting fiscal year 2017.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2017.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format, but specific encrypted format is required.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Master File is covered.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The Master File requirements came into effect starting fiscal year 2017.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Local File is covered.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The Local File requirements came into effect starting fiscal year 2017.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

▪ Additional details

A penalty protection regime is not available. An enterprise that fails to file or submit the required information and documents shall be subject to a fine of no less than TWD3,000 but no more than TWD30,000, as per Article 46 of the Tax Collection Act. Specifically, for the first-time infringement, penalty will be TWD3,000; second-time infringement, it will be TWD9,000; third-time and onward, it will be TWD30,000 per request. Please note that the penalty under Article 46 can be imposed repeatedly until the taxpayer submits the relevant penalty.

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

No

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

▪ Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

Yes

▪ Additional details

Taiwan has transfer pricing documentation guidelines and rules. A transfer pricing report has to be prepared contemporaneously. Refer to the below for more information. Taiwan's Taxation Administration, MOF, released the transfer pricing guidelines in December 2004. Except for immaterial related-party transactions, extensive contemporaneous documentation is required. According to the transfer pricing guidelines, an enterprise must have the transfer pricing report and relevant documentation prepared when the annual income tax return is filed. If the enterprise meets the safe harbor threshold and does not prepare a transfer pricing report, the tax authority may still request other supporting documents as evidence for the arm's-length nature of the intercompany transactions (alternate transfer pricing documentation). One example of other supporting documents is the parent's or headquarters' transfer pricing report, as long as it does not significantly vary from the concepts presented in the transfer pricing guidelines. If the taxpayer does not meet the safe harbor criteria for the transfer pricing report, its transfer pricing report must contain:

- Business overview
- Organizational structure
- Description of controlled transactions
- Industry and Economic analysis
- Functions and risks analysis
- Application of the arm's-length principle
- Selection of comparables and related information
- Comparability analysis
- Transfer pricing methods selected by the enterprises
- Transfer pricing methods selected by related parties under the same control
- Result of comparables search under the best method of transfer pricing
- A copy of intragroup agreements
- A copy of unilateral APAs concluded with other tax jurisdictions for the same controlled transactions
- Report of affiliated enterprises under Article 369 of the Taiwan Company Law

Any other documents that significantly influence pricing between the related parties. In November 2017, the MOF released the amendment to revise the existing Articles 21 (addition of new guidance for CbCR notifications) and 22 (amended guidance for the transfer pricing report). To be in accordance with OECD BEPS Action 13, the amendment also added two new Articles, 21- 1 and 22- 1, to the transfer pricing guidelines. Article 21- 1 added new guidance regarding the Master File and Article 22- 1 added new guidance for the CbCR.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation has to be prepared annually under the local jurisdiction regulations. The minimum requirement to achieve this is an annual update of the transfer pricing documentation, including the transaction values and benchmarking analysis.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Turnover

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

According to the Safe Harbor Rules, described in Tax

Ruling no. 09704555160, and further explained in Article 22 of the Taiwan Transfer Pricing Guidelines, a taxpayer is not required to prepare a transfer pricing report if any of the following three criteria are met:

- The total annual revenue of the profit-seeking enterprise does not exceed TWD300 million
- The total annual revenue of the taxpayer exceeds TWD300 million but does not exceed TWD500 million.
- The taxpayer does not utilize tax credits for more than TWD2 million or a loss carry-forward for more than TWD8 million to reduce the income tax or undistributed earnings surplus tax.
- The taxpayer, including a company under Financial Holding Company Law, and Mergers and Acquisitions Law, has no controlled transactions with overseas related parties (whether a company or an individual).
- The taxpayer is a profit-seeking enterprise that has no controlled transactions with overseas related parties.

Or

- The total volume of annual controlled transactions is less than TWD200 million.

Note: The total annual revenue mentioned above includes operating revenue and non-operating income.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

TWD27 billion for CbCR preparation. There is also a submission threshold; please refer to the additional details sections below.

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

A Taiwan profit-seeking enterprise that is an affiliate of the MNE group could be exempted from submission of CbCR if the UPE of the MNE group is not within the jurisdiction of Taiwan and the Taiwan profit-seeking enterprise meets the below additional Safe Harbor of MF:

Sum of the net operating revenue and non-operating revenue in the current year is less than TWD3 billion or the aggregated amount of cross-border controlled transactions in the current year is less than TWD1.5 billion.

▪ Master File

▪ What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

Sum of the net operating revenue and non-operating revenue in the current year is less than TWD3 billion or the aggregated amount of cross-border controlled transactions in the current year is less than TWD1.5 billion.

▪ What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Total international related-party transactions

▪ Is there any other threshold?

Yes

▪ Additional details

A Taiwan profit-seeking enterprise that is an affiliate of the multinational enterprise (MNE) group could be exempted from submission of MF if the following criteria are met:

- Sum of the net operating revenue and non-operating revenue in the current year is less than TWD3 billion or the aggregated amount of cross-border controlled transactions in the current year is less than TWD1.5 billion.
- The aggregated amount of cross-border controlled transactions refers to the aggregation of absolute amount of all types of transactions between the Taiwan profit-seeking enterprise and its related parties outside of Taiwan.

▪ Local File

▪ What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

According to the Safe Harbor Rules, described in Tax Ruling no. 09704555160, and further explained in Article 22 of the Taiwan Transfer Pricing Guidelines, a taxpayer is not required to prepare a transfer pricing report if any of the following three criteria are met:

- The total annual revenue of the profit-seeking enterprise does not exceed TWD300 million.
- The total annual revenue of the Taxpayer exceeds TWD300 million but does not exceed TWD500 million.
- The taxpayer does not utilize tax credits for more than TWD2 million or a loss carry-forward for more than TWD8 million to reduce the income tax or undistributed earnings surplus tax.

- The taxpayer, including a company under Financial Holding Company Law, and Mergers and Acquisitions Law, has no controlled transactions with overseas related parties (whether a company or an individual).

- The taxpayer is profit-seeking enterprise that has no controlled transactions with overseas related parties.

Or

- The total volume of annual controlled transactions is less than TWD200 million.

Note: The total annual revenue mentioned above includes operating revenue and non-operating income

Transaction value greater than TWD10 million by type of transaction (e.g., tangible goods, intangible, service or fund), and TWD5 million for each transaction with one related party.

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing report and Master File need to be submitted in the local language.

Article 22, paragraph V: the transfer pricing report or alternate transfer pricing documentation provided by profit-seeking enterprises pursuant to the preceding paragraphs should contain a table of contents and an index. A Mandarin Chinese translation should be attached if the materials are provided in a foreign language, unless otherwise agreed upon by the tax collection authorities with the provision of the English documents.

Article 21- 1, paragraph II: the Master File is to be prepared in English. A Mandarin Chinese translation shall be provided to the tax authority within one month after receipt of a notice of examination. The submission deadline can be extended for one month with the justification for an extension. The CbCR needs to be submitted in both the local language and English.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Yes

- Additional details

The safe harbors for transfer pricing report (Local File) are provided as follows: The MOF released a letter ruling to further relax the safe harbor criteria. The rule applies for fiscal years ending in December 2008 and afterward. The ruling states that the enterprise is not required to prepare a transfer pricing report if any of the following criteria are met: The total annual revenue (including operating and nonoperating) of the enterprise does not exceed TWD300 million. The total annual revenue (including operating and nonoperating) of the enterprise exceeds TWD300 million, but does not exceed TWD500 million, and either: The enterprise does not utilize tax credits of more than TWD2 million in a particular year or a loss carry forward of more than TWD8 million for the preceding 10 tax years to reduce the income tax or undistributed earnings surplus tax. The enterprise, under the FHCL or BMAL, has no transactions with any overseas related parties (whether a company or an individual), or the enterprise has no transactions with overseas affiliated companies. The total annual controlled transactions amount is less than TWD200 million. The total annual revenue (including operating and nonoperating) of the enterprise exceeds TWD500 million, but the total annual controlled transactions amount is less than TWD200 million. The safe harbors for the Master File are provided as follows: A Taiwan profit-seeking enterprise that is a member of an MNE group can be exempted from the Master File requirement if either of the criteria below is met (the letter ruling was released by the MOF on 13 December 2017): The sum of operating revenue and nonoperating revenue in the current year is less than TWD3 billion. The aggregated amount of cross-border controlled transactions in the current year is less than TWD1. 5 billion. The safe harbors for the CbCR are provided as follows: An MNE group's total consolidated revenue in the preceding year is less than TWD27 billion, which is consistent with OECD standards of EUR750 million (the letter ruling was released by the MOF on 13 December 2017). A Taiwan profit-seeking enterprise that is a member of an MNE group can be exempted from the CbCR requirement if either of the criteria below is met (the letter ruling was released by the MOF on 10 December 2019): The sum of operating revenue and nonoperating revenue in the current year is less than TWD3 billion. The aggregated amount of cross-border controlled transactions in the current year is less than TWD1. 5 billion.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

- Additional details

The different arm's-length methods shall, unless such a method otherwise requires, apply to each transaction on a transaction-by-transaction basis.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

The tax authority currently does not require transfer pricing-specific returns.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

A taxpayer must disclose related-party transactions and include the disclosure with the annual income tax return (pages B2-B5), pursuant to the transfer pricing guidelines. The disclosure generally includes:

- The investing structure
- Identification of related parties
- The related-party transaction amounts by type, including transfer of tangible assets, use of tangible assets, transfer of intangible assets, use of intangible assets, rendering of services, use of funds and other types of transactions prescribed by the MOF
- The related-party transaction balances
- The related parties' financial information, including total revenues, gross margins, operating margins and net margins
- Whether the enterprise has prepared transfer pricing documentation for that fiscal year. The tax authority has issued safe harbor rules for related-party transaction disclosures in two rulings. Both rulings provide that the enterprise must disclose related-party transactions in its income tax return if the sum of its annual operating and nonoperating revenue (total annual revenue amount) exceeds TWD30 million and meets one of the following criteria:
- The enterprise has related parties outside Taiwan, including the headquarters and branches.

Or

- The enterprise utilizes tax credits of more than TWD500, 000, or loss carryforwards of more than TWD2 million, to reduce the income tax or undistributed earnings surplus tax.

Or

- The enterprise has total annual revenue exceeding TWD300 million.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Notification shall be done upon filing income tax return by completing a form of the tax return (page B 6).

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

31 May

- Additional details

31 May (example for a calendar-year profit-seeking enterprise).

- Submission/filing date five months after fiscal year-end

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

31 May

- Additional details

31 May (example for a calendar-year profit-seeking enterprise).

- Master File notification: Notification shall be done upon the filing of an income tax return by completing a form of the tax return (page B 6).
- Master File preparation and submission: The Master File shall be prepared while filing the income tax returns and submitted to the tax authority within 12 months after the fiscal year-end.
- Submission/filing date: five months after fiscal year-end

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

Master File needs to be prepared by the tax return submission date and must be submitted within 12 months after the last day of the reporting fiscal year.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

The CbCR shall be submitted to the tax authority within 12 months after the fiscal year-end.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

31 May

- Additional details

Notification shall be done upon filing income tax return by completing a form of the tax return (page B 6). Annual submission is required and each entity shall fill in the information required in the tax return.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By tax return lodgment date

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation should be prepared by the time of lodging the tax return.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing report shall be prepared upon the filing of income tax returns and be submitted to the tax authority within one month after the receipt of a notice of examination. The CbCR shall be submitted to the tax authority within 12 months after the fiscal year-end. The Master File shall be prepared upon the filing of income tax returns and submitted to the tax authority within 12 months after the fiscal year-end.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The Local File shall be submitted within one month after the receipt of a notice of examination. The CbCR shall be submitted to the tax authority within 12 months after the fiscal year-end. The Master File shall be submitted within 12 months after the fiscal year-end.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

- Additional details

In accordance with the OECD Guidelines, the pricing methods are as follows: CUP, resale price, cost-plus, profit-split, comparable profit and other methods prescribed by the MOF. The MOF follows the changes in the hierarchy of the methods in favor of the “most appropriate method” approach within the OECD Guidelines.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Asia-Pacific regional benchmarks are widely acceptable in practice.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Multiyear (three-year) analysis is required.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

Interquartile range calculation using spreadsheet quartile formulas is acceptable.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no specific requirement for a fresh benchmarking search every year. However, the transfer pricing guidelines requires that the financials of a benchmarking study remain updated to the current year. In case the current year data is not available upon the filing of the income tax return, the enterprise may use the most recent three years' data without the current year.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

The weighted average is required while testing an arm's-length analysis.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

Are there any other penalties?

- A profit-seeking enterprise that fails to file or submit the relevant information and documents required would be subject to a penalty prescribed under Article 46 of the Tax Collection Act.
- Pursuant to the transfer pricing guidelines, up to 200% of the tax shortfall could be imposed if assessed by the tax authority, under certain circumstances.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Where the profit-seeking enterprises failed to comply with the assessment regulations thereby resulting in a reduction of tax payable, and the collection authorities in charge have made transfer pricing adjustments and assessed the taxable income of related taxpayers in accordance with the Income Tax Act and these assessment regulations, Article 110 of Income Tax Act, shall apply to the following specific tax omission or underreporting situations:

- The reported price of controlled transaction is two times or more than the arm's-length price assessed by the collection authorities-in-charge; or lower than 50% of the arm's-length price.
- The increase in taxable income of the controlled transactions adjusted and assessed by the collection authorities in charge is more than 10% of the annual taxable income of the enterprise; and more than 3% of the annual net operating revenue.
- A profit-seeking enterprise cannot produce transfer pricing report as required under paragraph 1 of Article 22 thereof, and no other documents evidencing the transactions is arm's-length result. The increase in taxable income of the controlled transactions, which are not disclosed in the report or transfer pricing document in accordance with Articles 21 to 22- 1 by a profit-seeking enterprise, adjusted and assessed by the collection authorities in charge is more than 5% of the annual taxable income of the enterprise and more than 1.5% of the annual net operating revenue.

What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

b. Penalties post TP audit

Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

Additional details

Per the Taiwan regulations, if an adjustment is sustained, penalties can be assessed. However, penalties are generally rarely assessed, should the taxpayer fully cooperate with the requests from the tax authorities during an audit. The penalties under Article 110 of the Income Tax Act are imposed if both:

- The profit-seeking enterprise failed to comply with the requirements to disclose its controlled transactions in its income tax return and transfer pricing documentation.
- The increase in taxable income of the controlled transactions adjusted and assessed by the tax collection authorities is more than 5% of the annual taxable income of the enterprise and more than 1.5% of the annual net operating revenue.

Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

Additional details

Per the Taiwan regulations, if an adjustment is sustained, penalties can be assessed.

Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

Additional details

Not applicable

Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

Currently, there is no penalty relief regime in place.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

For the tax which should be declared and paid by a taxpayer under and has been declared within the statutory period for filing a tax return, and which the taxpayer has no intention to evade by fraud or any other unrighteous means, the period for assessment shall be five years.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

Because the tax authority frequently conducts corporate income tax audits. The possibility that transfer pricing will be reviewed as part of the annual corporate income tax audit is also characterized as high. All corporate income tax audits may include a request and review of the documentation, as well as related supporting materials. In the past year, there has been increased activity by the tax authority, especially with respect to requests to see documentation reports.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

The possibility that the transfer pricing methodology will be challenged in Taiwan may be considered to be medium. According to the Taiwan regulations, the most appropriate transfer pricing methodology should be applied in evaluating arm's-length pricing of intercompany transactions. Generally, the CPM or TNMM are the most widely applied methods in Taiwan. It is advised that the taxpayer discusses with the authorities to find a consensus on the transfer pricing methodology, should questions arise. Through such steps, challenges on the transfer pricing methodology can be reduced.

To the median of the interquartile range

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

The MOF has issued a ruling that sets forth circumstances under which a transfer pricing audit will be triggered as follows:

- The gross profit ratio, operating profit ratio and net-income-before-tax ratio are below the industry average.
- The parent or headquarters reports profit on the global consolidated level, but the local affiliate reports a loss or much less profit than the industry average.
- The enterprise reports significant fluctuations in profit during the transaction year and in the two preceding years.
- The enterprise fails to disclose related-party transactions in accordance with the related-party transactions disclosure requirements.
- The enterprise fails to determine whether its related-party transactions are within an arm's-length range and fails to prepare documents in accordance with the transfer pricing guidelines.
- The enterprise fails to charge related parties in accordance with the transfer pricing guidelines or charges an abnormal amount.
- The enterprise fails to provide the transfer pricing report upon a tax audit.
- The tax authority adjusted the transfer pricing of the enterprise, in which case the tax years preceding and subsequent to the year of a transfer pricing audit are likely to be selected for audit.
- The enterprise has significant or frequent controlled transactions with related parties in tax havens or low-tax jurisdictions. (In particular, companies conducting business through tax havens have attracted more scrutiny, along with those making losses.)
- The enterprise has significant or frequent controlled transactions with related parties entitled to tax incentives.
- Any other transaction fails to meet the arm's-length requirements in accordance with the transfer pricing guidelines.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

APAs are available under Articles 23- 32 of the transfer pricing guidelines. If the transactions undertaken by a profit-seeking enterprise with related parties satisfy the following criteria, the enterprise may file an application for an APA with the tax collection authorities, pursuant to the following provisions:

- The total amount of the transactions being applied for APAs shall be no less than TWD500 million, or the annual amount of such transactions is no less than TWD200 million.
- No significant tax evasion was committed in the past three years.
- Documentation, as required under subparagraphs 1- 3, and subparagraphs 5- 9, paragraph 1, of Article 24, has been well-prepared.
- A transfer pricing report, as prescribed under subparagraph 4, paragraph 1 of Article 24, has been prepared.
- Other criteria, as approved by the MOF, have been met. In addition, the taxpayer may file an application for a pre-meeting with the tax authority, per the amendment. According to Tax Letter Ruling No. 10900580040, under an APA, a tax return is not subject to a transfer pricing audit. However, if one of the following circumstances occurs in the specific tax year covered by APA, the case could still be subject to a transfer pricing audit:
 - The enterprise fails to provide the tax authority with the annual report regarding the implementation of the APA.
 - The enterprise fails to keep the relevant documents in accordance with the transfer pricing guidelines.
 - The enterprise fails to follow the provisions of the APA.
 - The enterprise conceals material facts, provides false information or conducts wrongful acts.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Three to five years

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Yes, upon the successful agreement of bilateral (or multilateral) APA, the taxpayer could further request both tax authorities (Taiwan and treaty party) to consider, and agree with, the application of APA conclusion to the prior years which have not been assessed yet.

d. Is MAP available?

Yes, Taiwan has concluded 35 double tax agreements in total and all of them include an MAP article with language, in general, equivalent to Article 25 of the OECD Model Tax Convention. In June 2018, the MOF further published "Regulations Governing Application of Mutual Agreement Procedure for Double Taxation Agreements," which provides procedures to taxpayers and tax authorities for making the dispute resolution mechanism more effective and settling the cases within a reasonable time frame.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

Interest expense from related-party debt exceeding a 3:1 debt-to-equity ratio is not deductible for tax purposes. Companies in the financial industry, such as banks, financial holding companies, insurance companies and securities firms, are not subject to the thin capitalization rules.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Tanzania Revenue Authority (TRA)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

The Tax Administration (Transfer Pricing) Regulations, 2018 (the TP Regulations) were formally issued in April 2018 as an updated version of the original regulations (i.e., the Income Tax (Transfer Pricing) Regulations, 2004, issued through a gazette published and effective from 7 February 2014). Transfer Pricing Guidelines, 2020 (the TP Guidelines) issued to provide practical guidance on the application of the TP Regulations, 2018. The Regulations provide taxpayers with guidance about the procedures to be followed in the determination of arm's-length prices. The Regulations also provide a consistent framework for the administration of the Income Tax Act, (Cap. 332), 2004 (the ITA, 2004).

c. Effective date of applicability

April 2018

d. Section reference from local regulation

Section 33 of the ITA, 2004 contains the main legislative provisions concerning transfer pricing. Section 3 of the ITA, 2004 contains the definition of "Associate," which is used to determine whether a related party can be considered within the scope of Section 33 of the ITA, 2004.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There is a documentation obligation for domestic transactions. The regulations apply to taxpayers dealing with related-party transactions for both within and outside Tanzania.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

No

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Limited

▪ Additional details

Tanzania is not a member of the OECD. Tax authorities and the Commissioner recognize the OECD Guidelines and the United Nations transfer pricing manual (UN manual). Nevertheless, the ITA, 2004 and the TP Regulations prevail if there are any inconsistencies between them and the OECD/UN documents.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

No

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes, transfer pricing documentation is required to be prepared contemporaneously and submitted as per the thresholds listed below.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes, the regulations require contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation to be prepared "for the year of income" (TP Regulation 7).

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

Not applicable

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

There is threshold linked with the due date for submission of Local File. The threshold for filing a Local File together with the income tax return is required for entities with an aggregate value of related-party transactions during the year of TZS10 billion or above. For any other case, the Local File should be submitted within 30 days upon request by TRA.

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

- c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation needs to be prepared in either of the official languages of Tanzania (English or Swahili). In practice, documentation is normally completed in English.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Unspecified

- Additional details

There is none specified; however, reliance is placed on the OECD Guidelines.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Individual testing

- Additional details

There is none specified. However, reliance is placed on OECD Guidelines where the preferred approach is individual testing while aggregation is acceptable upon proper justification.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

Yes

Annual updating of the benchmarking study is expected. Supporting documents including actual computational workings carried out in determining the transfer pricing analysis, and any other document that provides foundation or otherwise supports in developing the transfer pricing analysis should be included.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

Part 13 of the income tax return provides for disclosure of related-party transactions entered during the year. In particular, taxpayers are required to disclose the related party, the nature of relationship, the nature of transactions, values of related-party transactions and transfer pricing methodology used.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes, all annual financial statements prepared in accordance with IFRS are required to disclose all related-party transactions within the related financial period, which are then incorporated into the corporate income tax return.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

30 June

- Additional details

The filing deadline is six months after the financial year-end of the company.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By tax return lodgment date

- Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation should be prepared by the due date of filing the corporate income tax return.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes, taxpayers with an aggregate value of related-party transactions of TZS10 billion (approximately USD4.3 million) and above should submit the documentation together with the CIT return. A taxpayer that is required to file a tax return may apply in writing to the Commissioner

General for an extension of the time by which the return shall be filed. The application should be made within 15 days before the due date of filing the return. The extension of time to file the return shall not exceed 30 days from the due date of filing the return.

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Taxpayers with an aggregate value of related-party transactions less than TZS10 billion (approximately USD4.3 million) should submit the documentation within 30 days upon request by tax authority. An extension of time to submit transfer pricing documentation cannot be sought.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Despite transfer pricing methods being based on the OECD Guidelines and the UN TP manual, taxpayers must first apply traditional transactional methods. Transactional profit methods can be applied if traditional transactional methods cannot be reliably applied. Notwithstanding the above, the transfer pricing regulations reiterate that the most appropriate method should be applied with regard to the nature and specific features of the transaction in question.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There is a preference for local comparables; however, it is not mandatory.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

There is a preference for multiple-year testing (preferably three years).

The applicable arm's-length range is the 35th and 60th percentile range.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no reference prescribed in the TP regulations to perform a fresh benchmarking study every year. However, in practice a fresh benchmarking is to be conducted after every three years, with a financial update annually.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is a preference for the weighted average for arm's-length analysis.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

When searching for a comparable, an independence threshold of 25% is applied in line with the definition of "associate" as per ITA, 2004. Comparables with ownership above 25% should be excluded from the search.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

A currency point system is introduced to determine the penalty for taxpayers that fail to comply with the transfer pricing regulations. The penalty is set at a minimum of 3,500 currency points as prescribed from time to time by the Commissioner (currently 1 currency point is equal to TZS15,000), which results in a penalty of TZS52.5 million.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

TZS52,500,000

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

TZS52,500,000

▪ Are there any other penalties?

A currency point system is introduced to determine the penalty for taxpayers that fail to comply with the transfer pricing regulations. The penalty is set at a minimum of 3,500 currency points as prescribed from time to time by the Commissioner (currently 1 currency point is equal to TZS20,000), which results in a penalty of TZS70 million.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

- Additional details

A penalty of 100% of the tax shortfall of the adjusted amount is applicable for failure to comply with the arm's-length principle when transacting with associates

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

- Additional details

A penalty of 100% of the tax shortfall of the adjusted amount is applicable for failure to comply with the arm's-length principle when transacting with associates.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

Yes

- Additional details

A strict interpretation of the law provides for interest on penalties and refunds at the current statutory rate (5%). However, in practice, the tax authority does not apply interest on penalties and refunds.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

The Commissioner may grant relief for interest and penalties if he or she is satisfied that the noncompliance or underpayment of tax has reasonable cause.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

A similar statute of limitation rule for CIT assessment shall apply, i.e., five years from the due date of filing the final CIT return. However, there is no time limit in case of fraud, evasion, or gross or willful neglect by the taxpayer.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes. However, it depends on a case-by-case basis.

- b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes. In practice, the tax authority typically adopts a methodology that may result in higher adjustments.

The TP Regulation 6(7) provides that where a person's results fall outside the arm's-length range, the result shall be adjusted to the median point of the range. The TP Guidelines provide further guidance under paragraph 8.2, that adjustments shall be made where such results erode the tax base of the person.

- d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

All related-party transactions are potentially auditable by the tax authority. However, there is an increased focus on intragroup services, such as management services and intangible transactions. The general focus of the tax authority is on MNEs with significant related-party transactions, irrespective of the industry.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

- a. Are APAs available?

The transfer pricing regulations provide for an opportunity to enter into unilateral, bilateral or multilateral APAs. However, none have been completed in practice.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

An APA will generally apply for three to five years but may be longer where the underlying transaction continues for a period exceeding five years.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable

d. Is MAP available?

Not applicable

The total amount of interest that an “exempt controlled resident entity” may deduct for corporate tax purposes may not exceed the amount of interest equivalent of a debt-to-equity ratio of 7:3. An entity is an exempt controlled resident entity if it is a resident and 25% or more of the underlying ownership of the entity is held by entities exempt under the second schedule to the ITA, 2004, approved retirement funds, charitable organizations, nonresident persons or associates of such entities or persons. The term “debt” is defined under the ITA, 2004 as any debt obligation but excludes; a non-interest-bearing debt obligation, a debt obligation owed to a resident financial institution and a debt obligation owed to a nonresident bank or financial institution on which the tax on interest is withheld in the United Republic of Tanzania. The term “equity” means; paid-up share capital at the end of year, paid-up share premium and retained earnings on an unconsolidated basis determined in accordance with the generally accepted accounting principles.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Thai Revenue Department (TRD)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

- Thai Revenue Code (TRC) – Section 35 Ter, Section 71 Bis and Section 71 Ter
- Ministerial Regulation No. 370 to prescribe annual revenue exemption threshold
- Ministerial Regulation No. 369 for clarification regarding the adjustment of income and expenses by the TRD
- Director-General of the Revenue Department No. 400 (DGN 400) – clarification regarding the adjustment of income and expenses by the TRD
- Notification of Director-General of Revenue Department No. 372 provides guidelines explaining the process of filing a TP disclosure form
- Notification of Director-General of Revenue Department No. 407 (DGN 407) – mandatory items to be included in transfer pricing documentation
- Director-General on Income Tax No. 408 (DGN 408) – local requirement for CbCR and other relevant regulation, e.g., DGN 419

c. Effective date of applicability

Thailand's transfer pricing regulations are officially effective for accounting periods commencing on or after 1 January 2019.

d. Section reference from local regulation

The responses provided above under 1b. on names of relevant transfer pricing regulations and rulings apply to this question as well.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Both domestic and cross-border transactions must be disclosed in the annual TP disclosure form and Local File.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Thailand is not a member of the OECD, but it is in the process of joining, with discussions having begun in June 2024. Furthermore, most Thai transfer pricing-related regulations and guidelines generally follow the OECD Guidelines.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Currently, there are regulations for Local File and CbCR. Master File regulations have not yet been released.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

A consolidated revenue threshold of THB28 billion in the immediately preceding fiscal year (or proportionate amount if such ultimate parent company operates less than a year) is applied.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is accounting period commencing on or after 1 January 2021.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

No

- Coverage
Not applicable
- Effective or expected date of commencement
There is no formal announcement on this matter.
- Material differences from OECD report template or format
Not applicable
- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?
Yes
 - Coverage
Based on TP laws, Local File should be prepared for compliance purposes by taxpayer with revenue from THB200 million and above.
 - Effective or expected date of commencement
Local File (under the TP law, i.e., Section 71 Ter) – applied for the fiscal year starting on or after 1 January 2019 onward.
 - Material differences from OECD report template or format
No material differences from OECD format but there are additional documentation requirements compared with those on the OECD Guidelines.
- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?
No
 - Additional details
There are no penalty protection regulations in Thailand.
- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?
Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?
Yes
- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?
No
 - Additional details
Local File – to be submitted upon request. Though contemporaneous documentation requirement has not been specified in the regulations, Thai tax authority expects such practice to demonstrate good TP governance.
CbCR – yes when the threshold conditions are met.
Masterfile – No formal regulations have been announced yet.
- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?
Yes
- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?
Yes
 - Additional details
Local File for any accounting period not barred by statute of limitation can be requested by the TRD.
- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?
Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

▪ TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

No

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

Please refer to our specific responses to queries in relation to CbCR, Master File, Local File and Transfer Pricing Return.

▪ CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

THB28 billion in the immediately preceding fiscal year

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

A consolidated revenue threshold of THB28 billion in the immediately preceding fiscal year (or proportionate amount if such ultimate parent company operates less than a year) is applied.

▪ Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

Not specified

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

No specific laws and regulations have been released by the TRD for Master File.

▪ Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

THB200 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

A taxpayer having annual revenue exceeding THB200 million in the covered year will generally be required to provide TP documentation within 60 days upon receiving a request letter from the TRD. Such revenue threshold refers to total revenue as disclosed in the audited financial statements for the relevant year.

However, it is noted that this annual revenue threshold does not exempt companies from TP audits. Companies could still be subject to a TP audit even if their annual revenue does not exceed THB200 million. In practice, it is recommended to prepare and maintain TP documentation for risk management purpose even if revenue is lower than the threshold (i.e., as a self-defense tool in case of a potential TP audit) if TP risk is considered high.

▪ Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

Yes

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

The benchmarking study is not required in the Local File if all of the following apply:

- Revenue of the financial year is less than THB500 million.
- The taxpayer has only domestic related-party transactions.
- Neither the taxpayer nor any of the relevant counter-parties have loss carry-forwards for corporate income tax computation purposes.
- The covered Thai entity and all related parties transacting with the covered Thai entity in the covered year are subject to the same corporate income tax rate.

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

As per transfer pricing regulation, effective for the Fiscal Year starting on or after 1 January 2021, Local File for submission to TRD must be in Thai language.

- Is a safe harbor available?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Aggregation

- Additional details

DGN 400 provides that where there are two or more controlled transactions that are closely linked and cannot be reliably evaluated separately, the consideration of market rate should be made on a combined transactions basis. Additionally, in practice, the tax officer prefers the test of Thai entity's bottom-line profit.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

Yes

Please see more details under Transfer Pricing return and related-party disclosures topic.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

With effect for financial years starting on or after 1 January 2019, taxpayers with annual revenue of at least THB200 million are required to prepare a Transfer Pricing Disclosure Form (TPDF).

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

Transfer pricing disclosure form have the same due date as corporate income tax return i.e. within 150 days after the fiscal year-end. Note that there is an extension of deadline where e-filing of tax returns is made during the period from 1 February 2024 to 31 January 2027. Extended due date is within 158 days from the financial year-end.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

It's only required for public accountable entities or PAEs (i.e., listed companies), which are required to prepare audited financial statements in accordance with Thai Financial Reporting Standards (TFRS). TFRS require PAE to disclose about related-party transactions. For non-public accountable entities or NPAEs (i.e., non-listed companies), it is their choice to disclose their transactions with related parties.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

The filing deadline is 150 days after the accounting year-end.

▪ Additional details

There is extension of the deadline for e-filing of tax returns and online tax payment during the period from 1 February 2024 to 31 January 2027. Extended deadline is within 158 days from the end of the accounting year.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

The filing deadline is 150 days after the accounting year-end.

▪ Additional details

There is extension of the deadline for e-filing of the TPDF during the period from 1 February 2024 to 31 January 2027. Extended deadline is within 158 days from the end of the accounting year.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

Within 12 months after the end of the reporting accounting year.

▪ Additional details

CbCR for locally headquartered companies

Submission/filing date for UPE, the due date of filing CbCR is 12 months after the year end. For subsidiary in Thailand, CbCR must be filed within 60 days after receiving the letter from tax officer requesting to file CbCR.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Requirement of CbCR notification has also been mentioned in CbCR Submission Manual, not a law. The manual states that the notification must be done before submission of CbCR, which is due within 12 months after the accounting year-end.

Only one subsidiary is required to do the CbCR notification on behalf of multiple entities in Thailand. Following of this timeline is regarded as best practice in Thailand.

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

▪ Additional details

No

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

60 days after receiving the request letter (or 180 days for the first time receiving the request letter after the TP regulations became effective)

6. TP methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of TP methods?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There is no written regulation; however, in practice, local comparables are requested and preferred.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Three-year or five-year testing is commonly used.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

There is no written regulation in this regard. However, interquartile range is generally commonly used and acceptable as market rate.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

A new benchmarking can be roll-forward for two years after the year new search is conducted.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

The preference is for the weighted average for arm's-length analysis.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

Generally used screening criteria are as under:

- Revenue threshold
- Majority foreign shareholders
- Availability of financial data
- Different function or product
- Unqualified audited financial statements
- Evidence of related party transaction
- Consistent operating losses

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Noncompliance for transfer pricing disclosure form and Local File or wrongly declaring the information will be subject to a fine of not exceeding THB200,000.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

THB2,000

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

- Are there any other penalties?

If a related-party transaction is not deemed to be conducted at arm's length, the TRD has the power to make an adjustment to the income and/or expense of the taxpayer concerned. Should this result in a tax shortfall, besides paying the additional income tax, there may be a penalty of up to 200% on the amount underpaid, plus a surcharge of 1.5% per month on the amount of the shortfall (starting from the filing due date).

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

Generally, five years after the due date of filing of Corporate Income Tax return form.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

No written regulations on this matter

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Situations that mostly trigger tax audit are loss-making from operation, reporting significantly lower profit than other players in the same industry in Thailand, request for a tax refund, business restructuring, conducting service and intangibles related transactions.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Ministry of Finance; General Directorate of Taxes (La Direction Générale des Impôts); General Directorate of Tax Studies and Legislation (DGELF).

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

The Finance Act for the year 2019 introduced, within the local tax regulation, the following main articles that govern transfer pricing aspects:

- Article 48septies of the Personal & Corporate Income Tax Code (PCITC), which was initially added by Article 51 of the Finance Act for the year 2010 and modified by virtue of the Article 29 of the Finance Act for the year 2019, and then amended by virtue of the Article 15 of the Finance Act for the year 2021: governing the transfer pricing adjustments dealing with cross-border transactions, defining the associated enterprises, and excluding the deduction from the tax base of amounts charged by entities that are resident or established in low-tax jurisdictions notwithstanding the fact that they are qualified or not as associated enterprises
- Article 59 paragraph II bis of the PCITC: governing the annual transfer pricing return requirement aspects
- Article 38bis of the Code of Fiscal Rights & Procedures (CFRP): governing the documentation supporting the transfer pricing policy requirement aspects in case of a comprehensive tax audit
- Article 17ter of the CFRP: governing the CbCR requirement aspects
- Article 35bis of the CFRP: governing the APA aspects
- Article 84nonies of the CFRP: governing the sanctions and fines that may be applicable in case of non-compliance with the annual transfer pricing return requirement aspects
- Article 84undecies of the CFRP: governing the sanctions and fines that may be applicable in case of noncompliance with the documentation supporting the transfer pricing policy requirements aspects in case of a comprehensive tax audit
- Article 84decies of the CFRP: governing the sanctions and fines that may be applicable in case of noncompliance with the CbCR filing requirements aspects Article 15 of the Finance Act for the year 2021 introduced amendments to the rules instituted by virtue of the Finance Act for the year 2019. For example, the minimum sales threshold requiring the preparation of documentation supporting the transfer pricing policy and transfer pricing return is increased (modifying Article 38bis of CFRP and Article 59 paragraph II bis of the PCITC), a materiality threshold is introduced (modifying Article 38bis of CFRP and Article 59 paragraph II bis of the PCITC), and a delimitation of the scope of transfer pricing to cross-border transactions is established (modifying Article 48septies and Article 59 paragraph II bis of the PCITC). All the transfer pricing rules added by virtue of the Finance Act for the year 2021 apply to Fiscal Years commencing as of 1 January 2020. In addition to the above, Tunisian tax regulation contains other legal tax references that are in force even before the Finance Act for the year 2019 and that are not rescinded by virtue of this law, which are mainly the following:

- Article 6 of the CFRP: allows tax authorities to rely on presumptions of law and fact to adjust the tax position, notably made of comparison with data that relate to similar exploitations, sources of incomes or operations
- Article 38 of the CFRP: provides that the comprehensive tax audit covers the tax position totally or partially, and that it is processed based on the accounting of the taxpayer who is required to keep accounting, and in all cases based on information, documents or presumptions of fact or of law
- Article 94 of the CFRP: governing the sanctions and fines that may be applicable in case of noncompliance with the arm's-length principle
- Article 101of the CFRP: governing the sanctions and fines that may be applicable in case of abuse of rights (even in terms of transfer pricing policy aspects)

c. Effective date of applicability

1 January 2020

d. Section reference from local regulation

The key references from local regulation that are dealing directly with transfer pricing are the following:

- Article 48septies of the Personal & Corporate Income Tax Code (PCITC): governing the transfer pricing adjustments dealing with cross-border transactions, defining the associated enterprises, and excluding the deduction from the tax base of amounts charged by entities that are resident or established in low-tax jurisdictions notwithstanding the fact that they are qualified or not as associated enterprises
- Article 59 paragraph II bis of the PCITC: governing the annual transfer pricing return requirement aspects

- Article 38bis of the Code of Fiscal Rights & Procedures (CFRP): governing the documentation supporting the transfer pricing policy requirement aspects in case of a comprehensive tax audit
- Article 17ter of the CFRP: governing the CbCR requirement aspects
- Article 35bis of the CFRP: governing the APA aspects
- Article 84nonies of the CFRP: governing the sanctions and fines that may be applicable in case of noncompliance with the annual transfer pricing return requirement aspects
- Article 84undecies of the CFRP: governing the sanctions and fines that may be applicable in case of noncompliance with the documentation supporting the transfer pricing policy requirements aspects in case of a comprehensive tax audit
- Article 84decies of the CFRP: governing the sanctions and fines that may be applicable in case of noncompliance with the CbCR filing requirements aspects
- Article 94 of the CFRP: governing the sanctions and fines that may be applicable in case of non-compliance with the arm's-length principle

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

No

- Additional details

Domestic transactions are no longer covered by the transfer pricing documentation rules. According to Article 15 of the Finance Act for the year 2021, the scope of transfer pricing rules is clearly delimited to cross-border transactions.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

- Additional details

Tunisia is not a member of the OECD. However, the Tunisian newly incorporated transfer pricing regulations that are applicable starting from 1 January 2020 are highly inspired by the OECD Guidelines (mainly the BEPS Action 13).

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

- Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes, Tunisia has adopted and implemented the substance of BEPS Action 13, effective from 1 January 2020.

- Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

- Coverage

Any company that is established in Tunisia and meets all conditions exposed below, are required to file, within the 12 months after the year-end date and by reliable electronic exchange means, a CbCR. The CbCR is based on a form established by the tax administration and contains the distribution of the Country by Country profits of the companies' group it belongs to, and tax and accounting data, as well as information regarding the location where the activities are carried out: The company owns interests directly or indirectly in one or many companies, which make it a requirement to prepare consolidated financial statements in accordance with the current accounting legislation in force, or where it is required to do so if its stocks are listed on the Tunis Stock Exchange. The company's annual consolidated sales exclusive of taxes is equal to or greater than TND1.636 million during the period prior to the period concerned by the reporting. No other company owns direct or indirect interests in the concerned company in accordance with the above first point (i.e., no other entity can include it within its consolidated financial statements). It is also required to file the reporting within the deadlines and in the means and form, where any company resident in Tunisia should meet at least one of the following conditions: It is owned, directly or indirectly, by an enterprise resident in a state not requiring the filing of the CbCR, but who would be required to file that return, if it is resident in Tunisia. It is held, directly or indirectly, by an enterprise resident in a state not included in the list of states having concluded an agreement with Tunisia authorizing the automatic exchange of the CbCR, but with which Tunisia has concluded a tax information exchange agreement. It is designated for this purpose by the group of related companies to which it belongs and has informed the tax administration.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2020.

Limitations have been granted by the administration in certain situations. Joint Note No 18/2022 limited the obligation to file the CbCr for tax years 2020 and 2021 to companies meeting the conditions set out in the first paragraph of Article 17 ter of the Code of Tax Rights and Procedures, i.e., the ultimate parent entities of groups of multinational companies resident in Tunisia. In addition, Joint Note e N° 15/2024 limited the obligation to file the CbCr with respect to tax years 2022 and 2023 to the ultimate parent entities of groups of multinational companies resident in Tunis.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

- Coverage

The Master File is covered.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

These provisions apply to financial years starting on or after 1 January 2020 and are subject to a notice of a comprehensive tax audit notified as from 1 January 2021.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

Pursuant to the Minister of Finance's orders dated 16 October 2019 and the Tax Administration public joint note n° 13/2020 published on 19 June 2020, the transfer pricing documentation template or format is highly inspired from the OECD Guidelines and rules.

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

- Coverage

The Local File is covered.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

These provisions apply to financial years starting on or after 1 January 2020 and are subject to a notice of a comprehensive tax audit notified as from 1 January 2021.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

Pursuant to the Minister of Finance's orders dated 16 October 2019 and the Tax Administration public joint note n° 13/2020 published on 19 June 2020, the transfer pricing documentation template or format is highly inspired from the OECD Guidelines and rules.

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

Yes

- Additional details

The Minister of Finance's orders on 16 October 2019 as well as the Tax Administration public joint note n° 13/2020 published on 19 June 2020 have set out the contents of the supporting documents of transfer pricing's policy (Master File and Local File). Also, Tax Administration public joint note n° 14/ 2020 published on 24 June 2020 has set the content of the CbC report. The aforementioned regulation sources are highly inspired from the OECD Guidelines and rules. Entities that are compliant with these regulation sources can avoid the penalties for lack of compliance with transfer pricing documentation rules

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

31 December

▪ Additional details

Within the 12 months after the fiscal year closing date. Requirement of annual submission and for multiple entities is required.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

Within 40 days from the date of the administration's formal notice of the tax audit

▪ Additional details

The documentation supporting the transfer pricing policy, i.e., the Master File and the Local File, is not to be filed annually but should be communicated to the Tax Administration agents, at the starting date of the comprehensive tax audit, and no later than 40 days from the date of the administration's formal notice, in case it is not communicated by the starting date of the same comprehensive tax audit.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation requirements have to be filed, prepared and submitted within the same deadlines. The documentation supporting the transfer pricing policy, i.e., the Master File and the Local File, is not to be filed annually but should be communicated to the Tax Administration agents, at the starting date of the comprehensive tax audit, and no later than 40 days from the date of the administration's formal notice, in case it is not communicated by the starting date of the same comprehensive tax audit

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Apart from the cases of the annual transfer pricing return as well as the CbCR that should be submitted "spontaneously" (i.e., not upon request by tax authorities), on an annual basis, the companies with annual sales exclusive of taxes greater or equal to TND200 million are required to communicate to the Tax Administration agents at the starting date of the comprehensive tax audit of their tax position, the documentation supporting the transfer pricing policy applied to transactions with associated enterprises according to Article 48septies of the PCITC, i.e., the Master File and Local File. In case these documents are not presented to Tax Administration agents at the starting date of the comprehensive tax audit of their tax position, or are incomplete or inaccurate, Tax Administration agents should send a formal notice to the concerned company in which the concerned company is required to present or to complete the missing information within 40 days after the notification.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

▪ Additional details

Prior to the adoption of the new transfer pricing rules by virtue of the Finance Act for the year 2019, the CUP was the preferred method. Currently, the tax legislator has recognized the five OECD methods by virtue of Tax Administration public joint note n° 11/ 2020 issued on 17 June 2020. However, the current transfer pricing regulation does not present any specified preferred or prioritized methods. Instead, it states explicitly that what is important is that the selected transfer pricing method be the base that reflects as fairly as possible the arm's-length principle, i.e., any other method other than the OECD five methods that may lead to a better compliance with the arm's-length principle may be accepted by Tunisian tax authorities.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Not applicable

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

The current provision considers single year testing as the most preferred method.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

Not applicable

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

According to the local TP practices it is recommended to provide fresh benchmarking search every year.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Not applicable

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

Not applicable

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

A tax fine equal to 0.5% of the amount of the concerned transactions for the missing or inaccurate documents with a minimum of TND50,000 per year covered by the tax audit.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

TND50,000 for not filing the CbCR

Up to TND10,000 for missing/inaccurate information (TND100 per missing/inaccurate information)

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

▪ Are there any other penalties?

▪ Annual transfer pricing return: Any company that has not filed the annual transfer pricing return within the legal deadlines is liable to an administrative tax fine equal to TND10,000. Any missing information in the abovementioned return or any information provided in an incomplete or inaccurate manner gives rise to the application of a fine equal to TND50 per information, without exceeding TND5,000 (Article 84nonies of the CFRP).

▪ The documentation supporting the transfer pricing policy: Any company that did not communicate the documentation supporting the transfer pricing policy to tax authorities or that presents incomplete or inaccurate documents within 40 days after the notification is exposed to a tax fine equal to 0.5% of the amount of the concerned transactions for the missing or inaccurate documents with a minimum of TND50,000 per year covered by the tax audit (Article 84undecies of the CFRP).

- The CbCR: Any company that has not filed the CbCR within the legal deadlines is punished by an administrative tax fine equal to TND50,000. Any information not provided in the reporting or provided in an incomplete or inaccurate manner, gives rise to the application of a fine equal to TND 100 per information, without exceeding TND10,000 (Article 84decies of the CFRP).

Criminal prosecution - Imprisonment for 16 days to three years for issuing or using invoices with excessive amounts in the cases provided for in article 48 septies of the PCITC.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

Article 78 of the CFRP allows tax authorities to grant a relief for criminal tax offenses of which finding, or prosecution is incumbent on them, before a final judgment relating thereto is pronounced, and this is excluding the offenses referred to in Article 102 of the CFRP and Articles 180 and 181 of the Penal Code. Therefore, the offenses provided for in Articles 94 of the CFRP, which may be applicable to the noncompliance with transfer pricing rules, are liable to the said transaction. Article 79 of the CFRP provides that the transaction is based on a tariff fixed by a ruling of the Minister of Finance, after adjustment by the offender of his tax position.

The transaction fee was set by order of the Minister of Finance on 8 January 2002 as follows:

Article	Offense	Penalty	Transaction fee
Article 94 of the tax and rights procedures code	Issuing or using invoices with excessive amounts in the cases provided for in Article 48 septies of the PCITC	A fine of TND1,000 to TND50,000 and imprisonment for 16 days to three years.	5% of the difference between the amounts stated in the invoices issued or used and the actual amounts of the purchase or sale transactions, with a minimum fine of TND100 and a maximum fine of TND50,000.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

- In case of compliance with the tax returns filing requirements: the current considered year and the four previous years (can be extended to the six previous years for the case of back burner enterprises)
- In case of noncompliance with the tax returns filing requirements (failure to file tax returns): the current considered year and the 10 previous years
- The right of the tax authorities to impose administrative fines provided for in Articles 84 bis and 85 of the Code of Taxation and Procedures expires at the end of the fourth year following the year in which the offense for which the fine is imposed was committed.
- Sentences pronounced for crimes are subject to a statute of limitations of 20 full years.
- Sentences pronounced for offenses are subject to a statute of limitations of five full years.
- Sentences pronounced for contraventions are subject to a statute of limitations of two full years.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

No specific regulation, the general transfer pricing rules apply.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

No specifications: tax authorities may challenge all transfer pricing transactions, industries and situations.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Companies with dependency or control relationships, within the meaning of the fourth paragraph of Article 48septies of the PCITC, with companies established outside Tunisia can request from tax authorities to conclude an APA in terms of transfer pricing on the method to be applied in the future, with associated enterprises established outside Tunisia. The procedure for concluding an APA and the associated obligations are set by the Minister of Finance's order dated 6 August 2019, and clarified by virtue of Tax Administration public joint note n° 12/ 2020 published on 17 June 2020. It also requires the taxpayer to provide the Tunisian tax authorities with a report detailing the transactions covered by the APA within six months from the end of each fiscal year covered by the APA. These provisions are effective for financial years beginning from 1 January 2020.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The APA is concluded for a term that may vary from three to five years. Parties cannot end the agreement before the expiry of the period fixed in the agreement.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable, as the APA may cover only future transactions and, so, cannot have a retroactive effect.

d. Is MAP available?

MAP remains possible by virtue of double taxation treaties. On 12 September 2019, tax authorities published a guidance to set out the practical arrangements for implementing the MAP provided for in the double taxation treaties concluded by Tunisia.

Pursuant to Article 48 of PCITC, the interests on shareholders' loans can be deductible from the tax base in case the remunerated amount does not exceed 50% of the share capital (which should be already entirely paid up) and the interest rate does not exceed 8%. With regard to amounts made available to shareholders, interests should be charged at an interest rate that should not be less than 8%.

13. Public Country-by-Country Reporting (PCbCR) legislation

a. Does PCbCR apply?

No

b. Name of authority

Not applicable

c. Name of regulations

Not applicable

d. Effective date of applicability

Not applicable

e. Section reference from local regulation

14. PCbCR thresholds and exemptions

a. What is the global consolidated income threshold?

Not applicable

b. Are there any materiality exemptions?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

15. Content

a. Does PCbCR align with OECD BEPS Action 13 CbCR requirements?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Is aggregation of transactions allowed?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Can you provide data sources and guidance?

Not applicable

16. Lodgment process and requirements

a. Is lodgment possible?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Is lodgment in another jurisdiction possible?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Is lodgment required in a prescribed form and format?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Turkish Ministry of Finance and Turkish state authorities

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Transfer pricing is regulated by Article 13 of the Corporate Tax Code No. 5520, published 21 June 2006.

c. Effective date of applicability

21 June 2006

d. Section reference from local regulation

Article 13 of the Corporate Tax Code states: "Income shall be considered to have been wholly or partially distributed in a disguised manner through transfer pricing, if the company engages in purchase of goods and services with related parties at prices or at amounts which they determine do not comply with the arm's-length principle." Transfer pricing provisions have been effective since January 2007. There are two relevant Cabinet decrees, published in December 2007 and April 2008. Further, three communiqués have been issued by the Ministry of Finance: the General Communiqué on Disguised Profit Distribution by Means of Transfer Pricing Serial Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4. Additionally, the Turkish Revenue Administration (TRA), under the Ministry of Finance, issued guidance in 2009 regarding MAPs and in 2010 regarding disguised profit distribution through transfer pricing.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There is a documentation requirement for domestic intercompany transactions for companies registered with the Large Taxpayers Tax Office (Büyük Mükellefler Vergi Dairesi Başkanlığı).

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Limited

▪ Additional details

Turkey is a member of the OECD. The preamble to the law covering transfer pricing states that the provisions of international regulations, especially the OECD Guidelines, are taken as a reference. However, there is no particular reference to the OECD Guidelines in the actual content of the regulations, including Article 13 of the Corporate Tax Code, the related decrees and communiqués.

In addition, the law diverges from the OECD approach on two major points: the term "related party" is broadly defined, and it also applies to domestic related-party transactions. In local transfer pricing rules, business restructurings are not referenced. However, there are strict provisions in local tax codes regarding anti-abuse rules and the substance-over-form principle.

In general, transfer pricing rules place significant documentation and disclosure requirements on Turkish taxpayers, and with the latest changes, having appropriate and on-time transfer documentation provide 50% penalty protection to taxpayers. To check whether the local file and masterfile have been prepared timely, tax inspectors look for a time stamp on the documents.

On the other hand, the tax inspectors are still not fully aligned with the OECD Guidelines, and there is a very strong tendency toward using the CUP method despite the difficulties in comparability and the fact that the regulations endorse all of the transfer pricing methods listed in the OECD Guidelines.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Yes, the existing documentation requirement has been expanded by Turkey's Presidential Decision No. 2151, published in the Official Gazette dated and effective from 25 February 2020 to include OECD documentation, that is, the Master File, annual transfer pricing report and CbCR for the 2019 accounting period.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

- Coverage

The ultimate parent company of a multinational enterprise group that is resident of Turkey is required to electronically submit a CbC report to the Turkish tax authority by the end of the 12th month following the relevant fiscal period, if the consolidated group revenue in the previous fiscal period is EUR750 million or above.
 - Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2019.
 - Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format.
 - Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

 - Coverage

Master File: Multinational taxpayers that have net sales and assets greater than TRY500 million are required to prepare a Master File. The first Master File will be related to the period 2019 and has to be prepared until following year-end and shall be submitted to tax authorities upon request.
 - Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2019.
 - Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format. However, there is local language requirement.
 - Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

 - Coverage

Local File: The requirement is the same as the former annual transfer pricing report and all taxpayers that have cross-border transactions (for large corporation taxpayers, both domestic and cross-border intercompany transactions) have to prepare a local transfer pricing report. In addition, companies operating in free trade zones are required to prepare a transfer pricing report for their domestic intercompany transactions.
 - Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2019.
 - Material differences from OECD report template or format

Certain differences from OECD format. Additionally, there is local language requirement.
 - d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

 - Additional details

All transfer pricing documentation must be prepared in Turkish and must meet Turkish Tax Authority's content and format requirements to benefit from the penalty protection.
 - e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes
-
- ### 3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements
-
- a. Applicability
 - Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes
 - If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

 - Additional details

There are transfer pricing documentation guidelines, rules and strict documentation requirements. Transfer pricing documentation is required to be prepared contemporaneously.
 - Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation report (i.e., Local File) has to be prepared annually under the local jurisdiction regulations.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

No

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

EUR750 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

The ultimate parent company of a multinational enterprise group that is resident of Turkey is required to electronically

submit a CbC report to the Turkish tax authority by the end of the 12th month following the relevant fiscal period, if the consolidated group revenue in the previous fiscal period is EUR750 million or above.

- Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

TRY500 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Value of total assets

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Corporate income taxpayers that are part of an MNE group and have both previous year-end balance sheet assets and a net sales revenue in income statement amounting to TRY500 million and above are required to prepare a Master File.

- Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

No threshold

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is none specified.

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is none specified.

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation needs to be submitted in the local language. "If the relevant information and documents are presented in a foreign language, their Turkish translations are required to be submitted," according to the General Communiqué on Disguised Profit Distribution by Means of Transfer Pricing (Serial No. 1).

- Is a safe harbor available?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

Taxpayers are required to disclose information about all related-party transactions (domestic and cross-border) performed with related parties, regardless of the magnitude, on their transfer pricing form, which should also include the following information in detail: a. Name or title of the local related party b. Taxpayer identification number c. Name of the foreign related party and the jurisdiction in which it resides. Other required disclosures include the sale and purchase of commodities, both in the form of raw material and finished goods; the lease of any property; construction, research and development (R&D) and commission-based services; all related-party financial transactions, including lending and borrowing funds, marketable securities, insurance and other transactions; and intragroup services. Taxpayers must also disclose the transfer pricing methods applied in the related-party transactions.

- b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

Transfer Pricing form must be attached to the corporation tax return and submitted accordingly.

- c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Not applicable

- d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable

- e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

- a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

30 April

- Additional details

Corporate income tax return should be filed on or before

30 April.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

30 April

▪ Additional details

Transfer pricing disclosure form should be submitted along with the CIT return, on or before 30 April.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

31 December

▪ Additional details

The Master File should be prepared by the following year-end .

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

▪ Additional details

The CbCR should be submitted electronically within 12 months after the end of the reporting period.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

30 June

▪ Additional details

Notifications will be submitted annually by the end of June of the relevant year. Annual submission is required and one entity of an MNE can file on behalf of other entities of the same MNE operating in Turkey.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By tax return lodgment date

▪ Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation should be finalized by the time of submission of the tax return.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

▪ Additional details

Documentation reports are required to be prepared by the end of April of the following fiscal year, which is also the due date of the corporate income tax return. The reports are submitted if/when they are requested by the tax authority.

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The taxpayer has to submit the transfer pricing documentation within 15 days once requested by the tax authorities in an audit or inquiry.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no priority among the methods. However, there is a priority among comparables, and if there are internal comparables, they should be analyzed first. Only if there is a lack of internal comparables (or if these internal comparables are not accurate or reliable enough) can external comparables be used.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Local comparables are preferred.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

A multiyear analysis is preferred.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

None specified in the local legislation.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

Fresh benchmarking is preferred.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

The weighted average is preferred.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is a preference for applying independence and unconsolidated financials criteria

Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

Additional details

The tax inspector may disregard the company's documentation in case it is deemed non-contemporaneous.

Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

Yes

Additional details

Additionally, late-payment interest (1.6% monthly) and a tax loss penalty (which is the same as the tax loss amount) are charged to the taxpayer.

Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

Additional details

A 50% penalty relief will be applied to residual taxes due to disguised profit distribution, provided for taxpayers that have submitted proper transfer pricing documentation. It is also possible to come to a settlement regarding the tax loss amount and the tax penalty assessed. In settlement negotiations, taxpayers may assert a good-faith defense. It is possible to come to a settlement regarding the tax loss amount and the tax penalty assessed by the tax authority or the filing of a lawsuit against the assessment. Additionally, although not widely applied in Turkey, taxpayers can file a request to begin an MAP with the competent authorities.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

There are no specific transfer pricing penalties, but failure to submit, late submission or incorrect disclosures trigger a tax audit. Under the Tax Procedural Code, late filing, incomplete or inaccurate filing of reports are subject to a procedural tax penalty. Additionally, a "Penalty Protection Regime" applies where taxpayers may get a penalty reduction of 50% in the case of full and timely preparation of transfer pricing documentation. Provided that the documentation liabilities for transfer pricing are fulfilled completely and on time, tax loss penalty for the taxes that are not accrued on time or taxes under-assessed concerning the profit disguisedly distributed is applied with 50% deduction.

What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

Are there any other penalties?

Not applicable

b. Penalties post TP audit

Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

Additional details

The penalty will be 100% of original tax amount and late payment interests.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

Five years

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

The frequency of Transfer pricing audits has increased significantly recently.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

Among tax inspectors, there is a strong tendency for using the CUP method, regardless of the inherent difficulties based on comparability. It has also been common practice to use secret comparables, which the taxpayer can challenge if the case is taken to litigation. For medium- and large-sized multinational firms, the possibility of an annual tax audit may be considered high.

Refer to answer provided below under specific transactions, industries and situations.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

The frequency of transfer pricing audits has increased, and these audits are mainly focused on intragroup charges, such as management fees and cost allocations. Tax inspectors often look to find out whether specific services or projects were provided to the recipient under management services (e.g., preparation of a procurement agreement, redesign of a compensation policy or legal advice for a court case). If the service charges are not documented with specificity about the type of service being provided to the Turkish entity, then they are likely to be treated as royalties (and therefore subject to withholding tax), based on the claim that industrial or commercial experience is used. Also, taxpayers in sectors, such as pharmaceuticals, telecommunications, banking and finance, and automotive, are often continuously audited. Moreover, most of the tax revenue in Turkey is generated through indirect taxes; thus, companies subject to excise taxes are usually subject to closer examination.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Companies can apply for unilateral, bilateral or multilateral APAs for their cross-border intercompany transactions.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The term could be as long as five years.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

With APAs, it has been uncertain as to the actions that would be applied for previous periods outside the scope of the agreement. Although taxpayers with an APA have determined their transfer pricing methods prospectively by agreeing with the Ministry of Finance, thereby eliminating the risk in this way, they would still be subject to the tax risks relating to previous periods when the method in question was not applied. The following provisions have been added to sub-article 5 of Article 13 of Law No. 5520:

- The taxpayer and Ministry can ensure the application of the designated method to previous taxation periods that have not lapsed by including the periods in the scope of the agreement, provided that it is possible to apply the penalty and correction provisions of the Tax Procedures Law and the conditions of the agreement are also effective in those periods. In this case, the agreement shall substitute for the petition on notification mentioned in the relevant provisions, and declaration and payment transactions shall be consummated accordingly. The taxes paid previously shall not be rejected and refunded due to the application of the agreement to previous taxation periods.
- This amendment has allowed the application of the method determined under the agreement to be applied to the taxation periods that have not lapsed in the case of an agreement between the taxpayer and the Ministry of Finance. Therefore, taxpayers have been allowed to retroactively apply the relevant APA (Roll-back) and hence eliminate tax risks, provided they retroactively pay the tax principal and interest charge.
- In connection with an application for an APA with a Roll-back that results in a transfer pricing adjustment, there will neither be the imposition of a deemed dividend (arising as a result of the transfer pricing adjustment) nor an associated withholding tax on such deemed dividend if the following conditions are met:

- Any corporate income tax difference related to the amount is paid on time.
- In the framework of general accounting principles, the amount is added to the earnings of the related year and amended within the books of the related year.
- An amount is booked as an account receivable from the related party resident abroad or as paid in cash to the entity in Turkey.

d. Is MAP available?

Yes

According to local thin capitalization regulation, if the ratio of the borrowings from shareholders or from people related to the shareholders exceeds three times the shareholders' equity of the borrower company at any time within the relevant year, the exceeding portion of the borrowing will be considered thin capital and the corresponding interest will not be deductible. Accordingly, the ratio of loans received from related parties to shareholders' equity must be no more than 3:1 to eliminate Turkish thin capitalization issues.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Uganda Revenue Authority (URA)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Uganda's TP legislation is contained in the Income Tax Regulations 2011, under Sections 116 and 151 of the Income Tax Act, Cap 340, and became effective 1 July 2011.

c. Effective date of applicability

1 July 2011

d. Section reference from local regulation

Section 3 of the Ugandan Income Tax Act

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There is a documentation obligation for domestic transactions. Transactions between associates in jurisdiction should be included in the TP documentation.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

No

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Uganda is not a member of the OECD. Ugandan regulations adopt the arm's-length standard and recognize the OECD Guidelines. However, where the OECD Guidelines conflict with the Domestic Taxing Acts, the provisions in the Domestic Taxing Acts take precedence.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

No

▪ Additional details

Since the tax authority follows the OECD Guidelines, Action 13, with respect to having a local TP file, is applied. However, the other aspects of requiring the taxpayer to have a Master File and CbCR may not apply.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

No

▪ Coverage

Not applicable

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

Not applicable

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

Not applicable

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

No

▪ Coverage

Not applicable

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

Not applicable

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

Not applicable

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

▪ Coverage

Only the Local File is required.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

There is none specified.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes, and only the Local File is required.

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

No

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

No

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

TP documentation is required for each year of income.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

No

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

For in-jurisdiction transactions between related entities, the threshold is UGX500 million in aggregate for the transaction during the year.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

Not applicable

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

Not applicable

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

Not applicable

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

Not specified

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Economic analysis requires taking into account the five comparability factors, i.e., the characteristics of the property or services transferred or supplied; the functions undertaken by the person entering the transaction, taking into account assets used.

- c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

The TP documentation does not need to be submitted in the local languages, as only TP documentation in English is acceptable.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Unspecified

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

No preference

- Additional details

Not applicable

Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

There are no specific TP returns required to be filed with the tax authority. However, there is a related-party disclosure form that is circulated to most MNEs as part of the initial TP audit procedure.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

The related-party disclosure form is not filed with the corporate income tax return.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes, the audited financial statements would have a disclosure on related-party transactions. However, the TP rules don't specify the level details to be reported in financial statement and annual report. The following information needs to be disclosed in the TP documentation:

The group organization structure of the entity

The details of the transaction under consideration

The TP method, including the reasons for its selection

The assumptions, strategies and policies applied in selecting the method

The application of the method, the calculations made, and the price adjustment factors considered

The TP policy agreement

Other background information as necessary

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

Not applicable. The local TP regulations state that documents pertaining to TP are not to be physically submitted with tax returns but must be in place prior to the due date for filing the income tax return for the relevant year, and must be in the English language or translated into the English language, prepared at the time the transfer price is established.

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

For entities with a year-end of 30 June, the corporate income tax return (CITR) becomes due within six months of the year-end, i.e., by 31 December. For entities with a year-end of 31 December, the CITR becomes due by 30 June of the following year.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By tax return lodgment date

- Additional details

TP documentation must be available by the time of submitting the income tax self-assessment return or upon request by the tax authority within 30 days.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The taxpayer must submit TP documentation within 30 days of the tax authority's request.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

Uganda accepts the five methods specified in the OECD Guidelines:

- CUP
- Resale price
- Cost-plus
- TNMM
- Transactional profit-split

The most appropriate method is selected based on the circumstances and data available.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There is no legal requirement for local jurisdiction comparables, and a search conducted in regions with economic indicators that are similar to the local jurisdiction is accepted.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Multiple-year (three-year) analysis, as per common practice

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

Interquartile range calculation using spreadsheet quartile formula is acceptable.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no need to conduct a fresh benchmarking search every year, unless the legal and economic circumstances of transactions being analysed have not changed. Where there are no changes to the legal and economic circumstances of transactions being analyzed roll-forward of comparable companies and update of the financials.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is no reference prescribed in the local TP regulations but, in practice, a three-years weighted average is used.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

A well-laid-out search process, as provided for in the OECD Guidelines, has to be followed. It includes:

- Determination of the years to be covered
- Broad-based analysis
- Understanding of the controlled transactions
- Selection of the most appropriate method
- Existing internal comparable data
- Sources of external comparables
- Identification of potential comparables
- Comparability adjustments
- Interpretation and use of the data collected

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

TP documentation being the first line of defence by the taxpayer, any incomplete information or inconsistencies within the TP documentation are to the detriment of the taxpayer. The tax authority, therefore, may either disregard the facts presented in the "incomplete documentation" or rely on them while making conclusions on the arm's-length nature of the transactions.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

- Are there any other penalties?

Specific TP penalties apply for failure to comply with TP documentation requirements. Where one fails to put in place documentation under the TP regulations, the person is liable, upon conviction, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or a fine not exceeding 25 currency points (currently, UGX500,000) or both. The penalty for late payment is 2% per month of the shortfall and 2% of the gross tax liability for the year for which the return is filed late. Other civil and criminal penalties may apply under specific circumstances. Furthermore, the domestic tax laws introduced penalties in which a person who, upon request by the Commissioner, fails to provide records on TP within 30 days after the request is liable to a penalty tax equivalent to UGX50 million (effective from 1 July 2017).

- b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

In the event that the URA raises an upward TP adjustment, a 20% penalty on the shortfall will be imposed if the provisional tax paid is less than 90% of the actual tax liability.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

This is not specified within the TP rules. Note, however, that if the URA raises an upward TP adjustment, a 20% penalty on the shortfall will be imposed if the provisional tax paid is less than 90% of the actual tax liability.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Interest on outstanding tax payable is 2% per month (simple interest) but capped to a maximum of the aggregate of principal tax and penalty tax (i.e., interest should not exceed the sum of principal tax and penalty tax).

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

There is no specific penalty relief. However, penalties may be reversed in case of successful objection to a tax assessment before the tax authority or appeals of tax decisions made before the Tax Appeals Tribunal or the courts of law.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

It is three years, but it may be open if new information is obtained by the tax authority. Considering that TP regulations came into force in July 2011, the period before this date would be outside a TP review. However, other income tax provisions regarding recharacterizing of the transaction may apply.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

Increasingly the tax authority is challenging the taxpayers' methodologies applied and reclassifies certain transactions from high-value to low-value propositions based on the local functional interviews conducted.

- b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

There is none specified. However, in practice any comparability analysis within the interquartile range would be acceptable.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Management fees and royalties: The general focus by the tax authority is on MNEs, irrespective of the sector, with significant related-party transactions.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

There is an APA program available in Uganda. Applications for multilateral APAs are allowed. The tax authority may enter an APA with the person either alone or together with the competent authorities of the jurisdiction or countries of the person's associate or associates.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The APAs must specify the years of income to which the agreement applies. Although the regulations provide that the APA is for a fixed period, the exact number of years covered by APAs is not mentioned.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

There's none specified.

d. Is MAP available?

There's none specified.

Interest on loans received by the subsidiary from its parent company is a deductible expense for CIT purposes, subject to interest capping rule as clarified below: The amount of deductible interest in respect of all debts owed by a taxpayer that is a member of a group shall not exceed 30% of the tax earnings before interest, taxes depreciation and amortization.

A taxpayer that exceeds 30% of the tax EBITDA may carry forward the excess interest for not more than three years, and the excess interest shall be treated as incurred during the next year of income. "Group," in this context, means people other than individuals with common underlying ownership.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

State Tax Service of Ukraine

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Article 39, subparagraph 14. 1. 159, paragraph 120. 3, 201. 4 of the Ukrainian Tax Code (the TCU) regulates transfer pricing in Ukraine. Generally, the provisions of the law are in line with the OECD Guidelines. A number of rules and provisions related to transfer pricing are also established by other laws and decrees, as follows:

- Decree of the Cabinet of Ministers of Ukraine No. 381 (4 June 2015) defines the new algorithm for the interquartile range calculation.
- Decree of the Cabinet of Ministers of Ukraine No. 191 (29 March 2017) defines an approval of the procedure for the weighted-average profit-level indicator (PLI) calculation of the comparable party for transfer pricing purposes.
- Decree of the Cabinet of Ministers of Ukraine No. 480 (4 July 2017) provides a list of organizational legal forms of non residents, which do not pay income tax (corporate tax) in the jurisdiction of registration, that match the criteria specified by subparagraph 39. 2. 1. 1 of Article 39 of the Tax Code of Ukraine.
- Decree of the Cabinet of Ministers of Ukraine No. 1045 (27 December 2017) provides the list of countries (territories) that match the criteria specified by subparagraph 39. 2. 1. 2 of Article 39 of the Tax Code of Ukraine.
- Decree of the Cabinet of Ministers of Ukraine No. 1221 (9 December 2020) provides the list of goods traded on the commodity exchanges and the list of world commodity exchanges for the purpose of CUP method application to improve tax control over transfer pricing.
- Order of the Cabinet of Ministers of Ukraine No. 8 (18 January 2016) defines the forms and procedure for preparation of a report on controlled transactions.
- Order of the Cabinet of Ministers of Ukraine No. 839 (31 December 2020), defines the forms and procedure for preparation of a notification on participation in a MNE group. The tax authorities provide administrative interpretation and guidance on applying the transfer pricing rules, the release of unified and individual tax rulings, orders, and opinions expressed in the official press and public media. Local accounting standards: These are the Ukrainian GAAP or IFRS. Ukraine is not an OECD member; however, it has joined to the BEPS minimal standards in terms of transfer pricing global reporting format: Local File, Master File, CbCR notification and CbCR.

c. Effective date of applicability

No date specified

d. Section reference from local regulation

Article 39, subparagraph 14. 1. 159, paragraph 120. 3, 201. 4 of the TCU regulates transfer pricing in Ukraine. Generally, the provisions of the law are in line with the OECD Guidelines.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Notwithstanding that Ukraine has incorporated the main standards of the OECD Guidelines, direct connection between national transfer pricing rules and the OECD is not prescribed. The Ukrainian tax authorities are not obliged to follow the OECD Guidelines, as Ukraine is not an OECD member jurisdiction. However, the tax authorities follow the OECD standards and recommendations in practice. Ukrainian legislation that does not address the wide pool of practical issues arising during an arm's-length analysis although OECD principles usually help.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

- Additional details

Includes a Master File, Local File, and Country-by-Country (CbC) report. Ukraine's implementation is aligned with the OECD's recommendations for Action 13.

- Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

- Coverage

It applies to MNEs with annual consolidated group revenue equal to or exceeding EUR750 million in the previous financial year.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2021.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

There are significant differences between the OECD report template or format and the documentation requirements under local jurisdiction regulations.

- Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

- Coverage

Master File is covered.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The first reporting year for the Master File is the group's financial year that ends in 2021.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

There are no significant differences between the OECD report template or format and the documentation requirements under local jurisdiction regulations.

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

- Coverage

Local File is covered.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The first reporting year for the Local File is the group's financial year that ends in 2021.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

There are significant differences between the OECD report template or format and the documentation requirements under local jurisdiction regulations.

- d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

- a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes. Article 39 of the TCU includes specific requirements regarding the content of Local File; these differences are described above. Local transfer pricing documentation should be prepared annually and submitted upon the request of tax authorities within 30 days after receiving such request.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?
 - Yes
 - Additional details
 - Yes
- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?
 - Yes
- b. Materiality limit or thresholds
- TP documentation
 - Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?
 - Yes
 - If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
 - Turnover
 - Is there any other threshold?
 - No
 - Additional details
 - Transactions are recognized as controlled if both of the following conditions are met:
 - The taxpayer's revenue exceeds UAH150 million (excluding indirect taxes) for the corresponding reporting year.
 - The volume of transactions with each separate counterparty exceeds UAH10 million (excluding indirect taxes) for the corresponding reporting year.
 - As of 1 January 2025, the criteria for recognizing entities as related have been expanded to include the so-called economic relationship (75% of the total volume of foreign economic activity and 50% of the amount of income/expenses with a counterparty).
- CbCR
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?
 - EUR750 million
- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
 - Annual global income
- Is there any other threshold?
 - No
- Additional details
 - It applies to MNEs with annual consolidated group revenue equal to or exceeding EUR750 million in the previous financial year.
- Master File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?
 - EUR50 million
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
 - Annual global income
 - Is there any other threshold?
 - No
 - Additional details
 - It applies to MNEs with annual consolidated group revenue equal to or exceeding EUR50 million in the previous financial year.
- Local File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?
 - Not specified
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
 - Not applicable
 - Is there any other threshold?
 - No
 - Additional details
 - It is expected to be prepared for each separate transaction that falls under the transfer pricing control.

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Must be prepared for each separate type of the controlled transactions that fall under the transfer pricing control.

c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation and all supporting documents must be prepared and submitted only in Ukrainian.

- Is a safe harbor available?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Aggregation

- Additional details

The TCU provides conditions under which the separate transactions may be analyzed on an aggregated basis. Namely, aggregation is possible if such transactions are closely related or are a continuation of each other or are continuous or regular in nature.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

Yes

The annual preparation and submission of the local transfer pricing form, the report on controlled transactions, which contains an item-by-item disclosure of all controlled transactions indicating the transfer pricing testing parameters: tested party, method, profit-level indicator and its numeric value, and the database used.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

As mentioned above, Ukrainian transfer pricing rules require submitting the report on controlled transactions disclosing all the controlled transactions of a taxpayer for the reporting period, indicating the transfer pricing testing parameters: tested party, method, profit-level indicator and its numeric value, and the database used.

- b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

Taxpayers must report self-adjustments of tax liabilities arising due to the application of transfer pricing rules in a special transfer pricing annex to the corporate profit tax (CPT) return.

- c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

No

- d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No

- e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

1 March

- Additional details

Must be submitted during 60 calendar days after the end of the calendar year.

- Submission/filing date

Should be submitted by 1 March

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

1 October

- Additional details

The report on controlled transactions must be submitted before 1 October of the year following the reporting one. The transfer pricing documentation (Local File) must be submitted within 30 calendar days upon the tax authorities' request.

- Submission/filing date

Should be submitted by 1 October

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Within 90 days upon request

- Additional details

Should be submitted upon the receipt of the request made by the Ukrainian tax authorities within 90 days from such receipt

- Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared)

Based on the Ukrainian legislation, the Master File should be prepared by 1 April, one year after the end of the reporting period (i.e., the FY 2021 Master File should be prepared by 1 April 2023).

- Submission/filing date

Should be submitted upon the receipt of the request made by the Ukrainian tax authorities within 90 days from such receipt

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

31 December

- Additional details

Must be filed no later than 12 months following the reporting year

CbCR for locally headquartered companies

Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared) CbCR for locally headquartered companies or companies which were authorized by parent company to submit CbCR should be prepared and submitted within 12 months after the end of the reporting year (the first reporting period is the financial year ending between 1 January 2022 and 31 December 2022). CbCR for not locally headquartered companies or companies which were not authorized by parent company to submit CbCR should be submitted in the following two cases: 1. The submission of the CbCR is not required according to the legislation requirements of the parent company's jurisdiction, and at the same time the parent company has not authorized another MNE member to submit CbCR in another foreign jurisdiction, where CbCR submission is required. 2. Between Ukraine and the relevant foreign jurisdiction, where the MNE parent company is located or another MNE member, authorized by the parent company to submit the CbCR, an international agreement, which provides the possibility of exchanging tax information, was not signed/signed, but the procedure for exchanging reports between jurisdictions has not entered into force or there are facts of systematic failure to comply with such procedure. For such cases the first year for submission of CbCR is the financial year which started during the period from 1 January 2024 to 31 December 2024.

- Submission/filing date

Within 12 months after the end of the reporting year

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

1 October

- Additional details

The notification should be submitted before 1 October of the year following the reporting (calendar) year. The report should be submitted annually. The notification should be submitted by each taxpayer who carried out controlled transaction during the reporting period.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

Within 30 days upon request

▪ Additional details

There is no statutory deadline for the submission of transfer pricing documentation; however, it needs to be submitted within 30 calendar days upon the tax authorities' request.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The taxpayer has 30 calendar days to submit the transfer pricing documentation once requested by the tax authorities.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The Ukrainian transfer pricing rules provide for the five methods similar to those specified by the OECD Guidelines. The CUP method is given priority. In cases when the resale-price method, cost-plus method, net-margin or profit-split methods may be applied by the taxpayer with the same reliability, the resale-price or cost-plus method should be used. Profit-based transfer pricing methods may be used without specific restrictions. For controlled transactions involving the export and import of goods from the list approved by Decree of the Cabinet of Ministers of Ukraine No. 1221 (9 December 2020), the CUP method based on information from commodity exchanges applies. To apply other methods in such situations, a taxpayer in the transfer pricing documentation must provide data on profit-level indicator (PLI) of all related parties of the taxpayer that took part in the purchase and sale of the goods in the supply chain (up to the first not-related counteragent).

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

A local benchmarking study (Ukrainian comparables) must be used if the tested party is a Ukrainian entity.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Both are possible. However, the best practice is to use single-year (similar to the year of the controlled transaction); the selection of multiyear analysis should be substantiated in the transfer pricing documentation file.

The interquartile range must be used.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

A fresh benchmarking search is required every year. According to paragraphs 39.3.3.3, 39.2.2.1 and 39.3.2.8 of the Tax Code of Ukraine, new benchmarking studies must be prepared. This position is supported by the local tax authorities, as well.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

The weighted average must be used.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

Paragraph 39.3.2.9 of the Tax Code of Ukraine prescribes the list of three mandatory criteria: 1. Establishing comparability using activity code (NACE Rev. 2) 2. Financial criteria, no losses in more than one year in the period selected for arm's-length calculation 3. Twenty-five-percent independence criteria

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Potentially, the transfer pricing documentation that does not satisfy the requirements prescribed by TCU may be regarded as non-submitted, which implies a penalty at 3% of transaction volume, for which documentation has not been submitted, but no more than 200 subsistence minimums per year. Subsistence minimum: 2024 – UAH 3, 028; 2025 - UAH 3, 028.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

10 subsistence minimums per day of delay applies, up to a maximum of 1,000 subsistence minimums per reporting year

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Three subsistence minimums per day of delay applies, up to a maximum of 300 subsistence minimums per reporting year

▪ Are there any other penalties?

Violation of the legislation on submission of the report on controlled transaction (local form); Violation of the legislation on submission of transfer pricing documentation (Local File); Violation of the legislation on submission of Master File; Violation of the legislation on submission of CbCR materiality lookup; Violation of the legislation on submission of notification on participation in an MNE group.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

▪ Additional details

The amount of tax understatement is subject to late-payment interest at a rate of 100%/120% of the discount rate established by the NBU, which is 15,50% per year as of 7 March 2025.

▪ Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Penalty relief is provided for the transition period starting 1 September 2013 until the end of 2014, during which the penalty for the understatement of tax liabilities will be UAH 1. Additionally, there is penalty relief for all understatements of corporate tax liabilities in 2015. No penalty relief is provided for periods after 1 January 2016. According to paragraph 521 of the Section on Transitional provisions to the TCU, violations in the tax sphere (including transfer pricing) are subject to penalties relief due to COVID-19 (up to the end of official quarantine measures).

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

The statute of limitations for transfer pricing assessments is seven years (2, 555 days, as specified by the TCU) from the last date for filing the CPT, or from the actual day the CPT return was filed if it was later than the due date. Statute of limitation was suspended on the basis of COVID-19 measures and martial law from 18 March 2020 to 31 July 2023 (inclusive).

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

According to the TCU, transfer pricing audits should be performed independently from other tax audits. The tax authorities shall not have the right to conduct more than one audit of a controlled transaction of the taxpayer during a calendar year. In general, the possibility of an annual tax audit may be assessed as high, and so is the possibility of a transfer pricing review. The possibility that the transfer pricing methodology will be challenged during the course of an audit may be considered to be high if the method selection is not duly formalized and/or inconsistent with the transfer pricing requirements.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Changing the methodology itself does not lead to the transfer pricing adjustment. However, an adjustment is possible if application of a new methodology reveals failure to comply with the arm's-length principle.

If the taxpayer independently makes the adjustment, then the adjustment is calculated by the upper/lower quartile of the interquartile range. If the adjustment is made by the tax authority, the adjustment is calculated to the median of the interquartile range. Self-adjustments should be submitted in "TP Annex" with submission of the report on controlled transactions by 1 October of the year following the reporting (calendar) year.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Not applicable. Any company can be selected for transfer pricing audit based on risk analysis.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Decree of the Cabinet of Ministers of Ukraine No. 504 (17 July 2015) defines the procedures and requirements for APAs between the tax authorities and the taxpayer (unilateral, bilateral and multilateral APAs are permissible). Decree of the Cabinet of Ministers of Ukraine No. 518 (4 July 2018) features amendments to the procedures and requirements for APAs between the tax authorities and the taxpayer (unilateral, bilateral and multilateral APAs are permissible). At the time of this publication, there were no APAs signed by the tax authorities.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

It is up to five years.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

It is available, although the number of years is not specified.

d. Is MAP available?

Yes, MAP opportunities are available. Most of Ukraine's double taxation treaties provide a three-year limitation period for filing MAP applications.

Thin capitalization rules apply to all loans received by resident companies from nonresident persons where the debt is greater than 3.5 times the company's equity. Deductions for interest paid on such loans is limited to 50% of profits before tax (plus the amount of financing expenses and depreciation) for the relevant tax period. Nondeductible interest may be carried forward to future periods, but the carry forward amount is reduced by 5% annually.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Federal Tax Authority (FTA)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

On 9 December 2022, the UAE's Ministry of Finance (MoF) released Federal Decree-Law No. 47 of 2022 on the Taxation of Corporations and Businesses (Corporate Tax Law or the Law) to enact a new corporate tax regime in the UAE. The Law includes transfer pricing rules that apply to UAE businesses with respect to related-party and connected-persons transactions. In addition, a series of Ministerial Decisions have been issued by the MoF that establish more detailed conditions for the implementation of the Law, as well as a (Transfer Pricing Guide issued by the Federal Tax Authority (FTA) in October 2023) which provides an article-by-article explanation of the meaning of the provisions therein and the legislative basis for imposing the law. The new corporate tax regime became effective for accounting periods beginning on or after 1 June 2023.

c. Effective date of applicability

Fiscal years starting 1 June 2023

d. Section reference from local regulation

Chapter 10 of the Law deals with key transfer pricing principles under the heading "Transactions with Related Parties and connected persons." Specifically, Article 34 introduces the concept of the arm's-length principle, while Article 35 addresses the "related parties" and "control" concept. Further, Article 36 provides the conditions applicable to payments made to connected persons. Article 55 of the Law deals with transfer pricing documentation. To supplement the Law, on 27 April 2023, the MoF issued Ministerial Decision No. 97 of 2023, which covers additional details on the requirements for maintaining transfer pricing documentation.

CbCR requirements are covered under Cabinet Resolution No. 44 of 2020 regulating the reports submitted by multinational companies.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Transfer pricing rules apply to UAE businesses that have transactions with related parties and connected persons, irrespective of whether the related parties or connected persons are located in the UAE mainland, a free zone or in a foreign jurisdiction. More specifically, domestic transactions with a resident person that is an exempt person; a resident person that has made an election under Article 21 (relating to small business relief) of the Law and meets the conditions of such election; and a resident person whose income is subject to a different corporate tax rate from that of the taxable person should be included in the Local File.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Abovementioned sources are not directly referenced in the Law. However, the Explanatory Guide issued by the MoF acknowledges that the UAE transfer pricing rules are intended to be aligned with the OECD internationally accepted transfer pricing standard.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

The requirements are applicable to the UAE-headquartered MNE groups with annual consolidated group revenue exceeding AED3.15 billion (approx. USD850 million) in the immediately preceding financial year.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is January 2019.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

- Coverage

The Master File is to be maintained on record and submitted within 30 days following a request from the FTA.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Within 30 days of a request from the FTA

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Yes

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Multiyear analysis is preferred.

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

Yes, calculated based on the Excel quartile.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

Searches for comparables should be fully updated every three years with an annual financial update of the comparables in the interim years as a minimum requirement. In case of a change in circumstances of the Controlled Transaction or Related Parties (or Connected Persons), the full analysis on the selection of comparables needs to be undertaken in the year of the change in circumstances.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Weighted

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

Independence of 50%

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

There are currently no specified penalty provisions relating to Master File and Local File. As it relates to CbCR, failure to provide the information required in a complete and accurate manner is subject to penalties.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Minimum penalty of AED50,000 (USD13,700) to a maximum of AED500,000 (USD137,000) for failure to report complete and accurate information: e third point above, total penalties shall not exceed AED1 million (USD274,000).

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

- Are there any other penalties?

Master File and Local File: Currently, there are no specific penalty provisions for noncompliance. However, it may be expected that any future penalty provisions will be aligned with the penalty provisions codified under the Tax Procedures Law 2017 (also referenced in the preamble of the Corporate Tax Law).

Country-by-Country Report – Failure to comply with the CbCR obligations may result in penalties as follows:

- Penalty of AED100,000 (USD27,400) for failure to retain supporting documentation and information
- Penalty of AED100,000 (USD27,400) for failure to provide the competent authority with requested information
- Initial penalty of AED1 million (USD274,000), and AED10,000 (USD2,740) to be applied daily until a maximum of AED250,000 (USD68,500) for failure to file the CbCR notification or CbC report
- Minimum penalty of AED50,000 (USD13,700) to a maximum of AED500,000 (USD137,000) for failure to report complete and accurate information: Apart from the additional penalty provided, total penalties shall not exceed AED1 million (USD274,000).

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

- Additional details

This is not specified in relation to Master File and Local File. For CbCR, an administrative penalty shall be imposed if the reporting entity fails to provide the information required to be reported in a complete and accurate manner of a minimum of AED50,000 and with a maximum of AED500,000.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

No specific statute of limitation provisions exist for transfer pricing. However, in accordance with the Tax Procedures Law, the statute of limitations is generally five years after the end of the relevant tax period, which should be applicable for transfer pricing assessments as well.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

No

▪ Additional details

As the implementation of the UAE transfer pricing rules have only been introduced recently (i.e., the Corporate Tax Law became applicable on 1 June 2023), it is too early to make any statements regarding the likely future commonality of audits in the UAE.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The FTA may make adjustments to the income of a taxable person where the result of a transaction or arrangement with a related party does not fall within the arm's-length range. Furthermore, the Law prescribes that when a transfer pricing adjustment is made, a corresponding adjustment to the taxable income of the affected counterparty can or should also be made, to achieve a tax neutral outcome.

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

This is not specified.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

This is not yet known.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Article 59 of the Law allows for the possibility of applying for an Advance Pricing Agreement (APA). In addition, on 3 March 2025, the Federal Tax Authority (FTA) issued Decision No. 2 of 2025, which outlines the mechanism for issuing directives under unilateral APAs. According to the Decision, applications for unilateral APAs will be accepted starting from the fourth quarter of 2025.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

This is not yet known.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

This is not yet known.

d. Is MAP available?

Yes

Article 30 of the Law contains a General Interest Deduction Limitation Rule, which states that (subject to certain conditions) a taxable person's net interest expense shall be deductible up to 30% of the taxable person's earnings before EBITDA for the relevant tax period. Article 31 of the Law contains a Specific Interest Deduction Limitation Rule, which states that (subject to certain conditions) no deduction shall be allowed for interest expenditure incurred on a loan obtained from a related party in respect of any of the following transactions: a. A dividend or profit distribution to a related party; b. A redemption, repurchase, reduction or return of share capital to a related party; c. A capital contribution to a related party; d. The acquisition of an ownership interest in a person that is or becomes a related party following the acquisition.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

His Majesty's Revenue and Customs (HMRC)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

The United Kingdom's primary transfer pricing legislation is set out in Part 4 of the Taxation (International and Other Provisions) Act 2010 (TIOPA 2010), although prior legislation, which was essentially identical, has been in effect from 1998. The transfer pricing rules require tax returns to be filed on the basis that transactions with related parties take place under arm's length conditions, and apply to all entities carrying on a trade in the UK, although there is an exception for most small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs). Details on the SME exemption are provided in section 3.iv.b below.

A consultation process was launched on 28 April 2025 considering the removal of the exception for medium sized enterprises and the introduction of an International Controlled Transactions Schedule (ICTS).

In cases where UK entities have entered into related party transactions with entities in lower tax jurisdictions and where the transaction itself or a party to the transaction is lacking in economic substance, an additional tax (diverted profits tax, or DPT) may apply. The rate of DPT is 6% higher than the rate of corporation tax. The DPT rules are set out at Part 3, Finance Act 2015. The rules are complex and a full discussion is beyond the scope of this guide, but in essence, DPT is charged on profits that are considered to have been artificially diverted from the UK using arrangements lacking in economic substance. The higher rate of DPT compared with corporation tax, as well as the charging mechanism, is intended to deter multinational groups from entering this kind of arrangement.

Draft legislation and a consultation process was launched on 28 April 2025 to rename DPT and bring it within the corporation tax regime although at a higher rate of tax compared to corporation tax. This consultation also addresses a number of definitional and scoping areas across transfer pricing and permanent establishments and has a stated aim of aligning more closely with OECD terminology in certain areas.

The UK also now has formal transfer pricing documentation requirements. On 19 July 2023, HMRC published the Transfer Pricing Records Regulations 2023 (the Regulations) setting out specific requirements for certain businesses to prepare a Master File and UK Local File in line with the format set out in Chapter V of the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines

(see further discussion in Section 2b below). The Regulations have effect for corporation tax purposes in relation to accounting periods beginning on or after 1 April 2023 and for income tax purposes from the tax year 2024-25. For periods prior to 2023, and for taxpayers that do not fall within the scope of the Regulations, there is no prescribed format for documentation, but there is an obligation on taxpayers to prepare and retain suitable records to demonstrate compliance with transfer pricing rules, and penalties apply for a failure to maintain appropriate records.

Also on 19 July 2023, HMRC published detailed guidance in its International Tax Manual on the application of the new Regulations.

c. Effective date of applicability

Taxpayers falling within the scope of the UK TP legislation have been obliged to file tax returns on the basis that transactions with related parties are at arm's length, for accounting periods beginning on or after 1 April 1998.

d. Section reference from local regulation

Part 4, Taxation (International and Other Provisions) Act 2010 (TIOPA 2010) sets out the basic transfer pricing rule.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

HMRC has confirmed that transfer pricing documentation for domestic transactions are out of scope of the transfer pricing requirements except where one of the UK counterparties is: a. Carrying on a ring-fenced trade as defined in Section 277 of the Corporation Tax Act 2010; or b. One of the entities has made an election under Section 357A of the Corporation Tax Act 2010, i.e., elected into the Patent Box regime.

HMRC still expects domestic transactions to be priced at arm's length even where documentation is not required.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

- Additional details

The UK is a member of the OECD. The 2022 version of the OECD TP Guidelines are effectively imported into the UK transfer pricing rules by Section 164 of TIOPA 2010, which states that that the UK's transfer pricing legislation is to be construed as best secures consistency with Article 9 of the OECD Model Tax Convention and the associated transfer pricing guidelines.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

- Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes, for the largest companies. The UK legislation has been amended such that groups with consolidated turnover above EUR750 million are now required to prepare a Master File and UK Local File in line with Chapter V of the OECD 2022 Guidelines for accounting periods beginning on or after 1 April 2023.

- Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

- Coverage

The UK follows the OECD threshold limit of EUR750 million.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2016.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

- Coverage

UK entities that are members of a multinational entity (MNE) group that meets the Country by Country Reporting (CbCR) threshold (i.e., consolidated group revenues of at least EUR750 million) are required to prepare and maintain (i.e., annually update) a Master File for accounting periods beginning on or after 1 April 2023. For those not obliged to keep and preserve a Master File in accordance with the OECD 2022 Guidelines, HMRC is of the view that these guidelines represent best practice as the standard approach for preparing documentation to demonstrate that provisions between related parties adhere to the arm's-length principle.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

As mentioned above, the UK Government requires the largest businesses to maintain a Master File, for accounting periods beginning on or after 1 April 2023.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

- Coverage

UK entities that are members of a multinational entity (MNE) group that meets the Country by Country Reporting (CbCR) threshold (i.e., consolidated group revenues of at least EUR750 million) are required to prepare and maintain (i.e., annually update) a UK Local File for accounting periods beginning on or after 1 April 2023. For those not obliged to keep and preserve a Local File in accordance with the OECD 2022 Guidelines, HMRC is of the view that these guidelines represent best practice as the standard approach for preparing documentation to demonstrate that provisions between related parties adhere to the arm's-length principle.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

As mentioned above, the UK Government requires the largest businesses to maintain a Local File, for accounting periods beginning on or after 1 April 2023.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

There are no material differences from OECD format, however, it should be noted that HMRC has recently released guidance emphasising certain areas that taxpayers should consider in particular in setting and documenting transfer prices, which may require UK files to differ from a "standardized" OECD template approach.

The guidance is in “Guidelines for Compliance 7 - Help with common risks in transfer pricing approaches” and has a strong focus on UK fact-finding and validation. This is discussed further in 3 b. i below.

HMRC had already published (on 26 January 2024) operational guidance (INTM485025) on the role of risk in the accurate delineation of the actual transaction as part of a transfer pricing analysis (“Risk Control Guidance”). This guidance sets out HMRC’s interpretation of the six-step process for analyzing risk contained within Chapter I of the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and Tax Administrations (TPG) and its application to transfer pricing analyses.

The publication of this guidance on risk makes it clear that HMRC considers the analysis of economically significant risks and their management to be an important component of a comprehensive transfer pricing analysis, and will expect taxpayers to submit suitable documentation evidencing this. Taxpayers should expect this to be an area of focus for compliance and in any discussions with HMRC, and should note that HMRC’s interpretation of the six-step process may not agree with that of other OECD members.

A failure to adequately consider and document the matters set out in HMRC’s “Guidelines for Compliance” and/or the “Risk Control Guidance” could be taken by HMRC as an indication of carelessness in setting transfer prices, which would affect HMRC’s approach to penalties in the event of a transfer pricing adjustment.

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

▪ Additional details

Penalties are not determined in respect of UK transfer pricing by reference to the format of reports adopted. Instead penalties are determined by reference to carelessness or deliberate inaccuracy by the taxpayer with factors such as co-operation taken into account. As noted above, a failure to consider and document the matters set out in HMRC’s “Guidelines for Compliance” and “Risk Control Guidance” could be taken by HMRC as an indication of carelessness.

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

▪ Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

▪ If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Yes, transfer pricing documentation, which sets out the evidence of compliance with Part IV TIOPA, is recommended to be prepared contemporaneously. There is no statutory requirement for annual submission of transfer pricing documentation to HMRC. Transfer pricing analysis including documentation is recommended to be prepared and maintained contemporaneously, i.e., transfer pricing records should be prepared before submitting the annual corporate tax return so that it is available to comply with a possible information notice. For those not obliged to keep and preserve a Master File and Local File, are still recommended to have the TP analysis completed before submitting the annual corporate income tax return to be able to support the arm’s-length pricing.

▪ Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

▪ Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Yes, the Master File and Local File must be reviewed and updated annually to determine whether the functional and economic analyses remain accurate. Those not obliged to maintain a Master File and Local File are still required to maintain appropriate evidence that transactions meet the arm’s-length standard having regard to the UK law in Part 4 TIOPA 2010 and showing that this position has been considered for each relevant accounting period.

transfer pricing reports for each entity?

No

b. Materiality limit or thresholds▪ TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Turnover

- Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

For UK entities that are members of an MNE group that does not meet the CbCR threshold, there is still a basic requirement to prepare and retain records demonstrating that tax returns have been filed in accordance with UK law, including UK transfer pricing legislation. HMRC is of the view that the Master File/Local File approach set out in the TP guidelines represents an appropriate approach for preparing documentation to demonstrate this.

There is an exemption from the application of transfer pricing rules for small- and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs), both from the requirement to file tax returns on the basis of arm's length pricing, and (logically therefore) also from the requirement to prepare and retain records demonstrating arm's length pricing. What constitutes an SME for this purpose is a modification of the European recommendation (2003/ 361/ EC), and is defined in terms of staff headcount and financial thresholds for annual turnover and the balance sheet total for the consolidated group of associated enterprises as a whole (rather than just the UK entity on a stand-alone basis). The SME exemption is under review and is likely to be removed for medium sized enterprises.

In September 2024, HMRC published its "Guidelines for Compliance 7 - Help with common risks in transfer pricing approaches." This is formal guidance in a number of areas in relation to the planning of transfer pricing work in relation to UK entities, risk control around processes related to transfer price setting and testing, and identification of what HMRC views as high risk structures and high risk transactions for transfer pricing. The guidance identifies multiple areas where, in HMRC's view, transfer pricing compliance and documentation work often falls short. HMRC specifically notes, inter alia, that documentation where centrally prepared analysis is used without sufficient UK "localization" and validation, and documentation where functional analysis is rolled forward without annual validation, is likely to be insufficient. It is anticipated that this guidance will be an important part of HMRC's approach to transfer pricing risk in the UK.

▪ CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

EUR750 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

Consolidated group revenues

- Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

The UK follows the OECD threshold limit of EUR750 million.

▪ Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

EUR750 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

▪ Additional details

As noted above, UK entities that are members of a multinational entity (MNE) group that meets the Country-by-Country Reporting (CbCR) threshold (i.e., consolidated group revenues of at least EUR750 million) are required to prepare and maintain a Master File and UK Local File for accounting periods beginning on or after 1 April 2023.

Local File

What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

GBP1 million

What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

This is the advised threshold value per category of transaction. However, there are a number of exceptions where no de minimis threshold would apply, as HMRC always considers these transactions material in nature. See Additional Details below.

Is there any other threshold?

Yes

Additional details

As noted above, UK entities that are members of a multinational entity (MNE) group that meets the CbCR threshold (i.e., consolidated group revenues of at least EUR750 million) are required to prepare and maintain a Master File and UK Local File for accounting periods beginning on or after 1 April 2023.

Where a Local File is being prepared, HMRC has issued guidance regarding transactions that are not material and hence can be excluded from the Local File. To determine the materiality of a category of controlled transactions for a UK entity, all the transactions within the category must be aggregated. It is the aggregated position that is used to assess the materiality of the category as a whole. Where a category of controlled transactions consists of a single controlled transaction, only that transaction should be taken into account when assessing the materiality of the category.

HMRC considers that a de minimis threshold of GBP1 million total value can be applied to each category of transactions. Where the aggregate value of the transactions within a category is no more than GBP1 million, those transactions do not need to be reported in the Local File. The Local File is an entity-based document and as such materiality should be viewed from the perspective of the UK entity preparing the Local File rather than the MNE group as a whole.

Notwithstanding the above guidance, HMRC considers that certain categories of transactions will always be considered material due to their nature and complexity, and these should always be included in the Local File, regardless of value. For the following material categories of transactions, the de minimis threshold does not apply:

- Transactions priced using a profit-split methodology
- Transactions concerning the transfer or license of intangible assets
- Transactions concerning hard-to-value intangibles
- Transactions concerning the transfer, use, or right to use key or strategic assets that are required for the entity to carry on its business
- Transactions concerning global or regional strategic or leadership services
- Transactions concerning cost-sharing agreements or cost contribution agreements
- Transactions concerning business reorganisations, including where functions, assets or risks have been moved into or out of the UK during the relevant period
- Commencement or cessation of transactions in the relevant period

Factors to consider when determining whether a category of controlled transactions that exceeds the de minimis threshold is material can include the following:

- Size of the UK entity
- Nature of the transaction – consideration of whether a different materiality approach or threshold should be taken for different categories of controlled transactions
- Level of risk relating to the category of controlled transactions
- Impact of the transaction on the UK entity's profit or loss position
- Industry of the MNE group and UK entity

This list is not exhaustive, and care should be taken to select the appropriate materiality criteria for each UK entity. It is important that entities set out their chosen approach to materiality in the Local File. Regardless of the above, any transactions that are excluded from the Local File either because they fall below the de minimis threshold or because they are deemed to not be material for other reasons must still be priced in accordance with the arm's-length principle.

- Economic analysis

- Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?

No

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Database searches for comparables to support the pricing of material controlled transactions detailed in the Local File should be updated regularly, but this does not need to be annually if the operating conditions remain unchanged.

- c. Specific requirements

- Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

There is no specific language requirement. In practice, it would be highly unusual not to present transfer pricing documentation in English, and in any case, English translations would be requested.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Yes

- Additional details

There is an exemption for small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs) from the requirement to comply with transfer pricing rules. See 3.b.i above. The SME exemption is under review and is likely to be removed for medium sized enterprises.

Also as mentioned above, HMRC recently introduced a de minimis threshold for the requirement to document certain inter-company transactions, though these transactions should still be priced on arm's-length terms.

Transactions that are taxed under UK chargeable gains rules are not subject to transfer pricing, and special rules apply for them.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

Aggregation

- Additional details

As mentioned above, a category of controlled transactions can consist of multiple transactions that can be aggregated into a single category for testing purposes.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No but see the following.

- Additional details

There are no specified returns. There are some isolated tax return disclosure requirements:

- A check box confirmation where an SME exemption is being claimed
- A check box where a compensating adjustment is claimed in respect of a UK-UK transaction with a connected person

Further disclosures may be required in statutory accounts and in annual reports filed in compliance with any current APAs. The absence of specific requirements may leave prior years open to discovery assessments. This is because, in many cases, there may not be sufficient disclosure in tax returns for HMRC to arrive at a fully informed view on compliance with the arm's-length principle.

A requirement for multinationals in scope of transfer pricing rules to report the details of cross-border related party transactions (an international dealings schedule) has been proposed.

- b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

A requirement for multinationals in scope of transfer pricing rules to report the details of cross-border related party transactions (an international dealings schedule) has been proposed.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

As required under the applicable accounting standard.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No. Regulations issued in 2023 amended the original 2016 CbCR Regulations to remove the CbCR notification requirements in the UK with effect from 26 July 2023.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

There are no other specified information or document filing requirements.

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

The deadline is 12 months after the end of the accounting period.

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

30 days upon request

▪ Additional details

- Contemporaneous preparation date (i.e., date by which document should be prepared) - A Master File should be prepared and maintained annually, i.e., the Master File should be prepared before submitting the annual corporate tax return.
- Submission/filing date - The Master File must be provided to HMRC within the specified time period

(normally 30 days) from receiving a formal information notice under Schedule 36 to the Finance Act 2008.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

Contemporary with tax return filing deadline, 12 months after the end of the accounting period to which it relates

▪ Additional details

A CbCR report filing is required where a UK entity is the ultimate parent entity. UK filing is also required for the top UK entity of an MNE when it is not the UPE of the MNE and the UPE is resident in a jurisdiction that either does not require CbCR or does not exchange CbCR information with HMRC (unless the report is filed by a surrogate entity in a different jurisdiction with an effective exchange mechanism in place with the UK). The deadline for submission of the CbCR report is 12 months after the end of the accounting period to which the report relates.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

Following publication of The Taxes (Base Erosion and Profit Shifting) (Country-by-Country Reporting) (Amendment) Regulations 2023 on 5 July 2023, UK tax-resident companies are no longer required to make an annual CbCR notification. This applies to both UK-headed MNEs with a consolidated group revenue of €750 million or more, and UK resident entities of non UK-MNEs that are required to complete the notification in the UK on behalf of their parent entity. The change came into effect on 26 July 2023.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By tax return lodgment date

▪ Additional details

The Local File should be prepared and maintained annually, i.e., the Local File should be prepared before submitting the annual corporate income tax return.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

HMRC will normally expect the Master File and Local File to be provided to HMRC within 30 days, in response to an informal request for the information in an enquiry. Should HMRC need to use formal information powers to request TP documentation, the specified time for complying would normally be 30 days.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

- a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

The OECD Guidelines are followed with regard to pricing methods. HMRC's publicly available transfer pricing guidance is based on adherence to the OECD Guidelines.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

- a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

This is not specified in the legislation, but HMRC accepts regional comparables.

- b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

It is not specified in the legislation, but HMRC generally expects single year results for the tested party to be compared to the multiyear comparable data.

Legislation does not address the use of full range vs. interquartile range but in practice the interquartile range is accepted by HMRC.

- d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

Database searches for comparables to support the pricing of material controlled transactions detailed in the Local File should be updated regularly, but this does not need to be annually if the operating conditions remain unchanged. The requisite frequency of performing a new benchmarking study in cases where the operating conditions remain unchanged will depend on a range of factors, such as those outlined at paragraph 3.82 of the 2022 Transfer Pricing Guidelines. However, a functional change will necessitate fresh benchmarking. Financial data for the comparables should be updated annually to apply the arm's-length principle reliably.

HMRC has specifically identified in "Guidelines for Compliance 7 - Help with common risks in transfer pricing approaches" that it regards transfer pricing risk as increasing where the same comparables are used for more than three years without an updated search being performed despite annual checks.

- e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

It is not specified in either legislation or guidance, and in practice, HMRC has accepted all three options.

- f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There are none specified in the legislation, but there is extensive commentary in the HMRC publicly available guidance on best practices in selecting comparables.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

- a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Penalties for late and incorrect CbCR filing: There is a penalty of GBP300 plus GBP60 per day for non-filing of CbCR after notification of failure to file by HMRC. If no CbCR is filed after the MNE has been notified of the failure, HMRC may apply to the tax tribunal to give an order for an increased daily penalty, which can be up to GBP1,000 per day. The penalty for filing inaccurate or incomplete CbCR information when due to careless or negligent behavior is up to GBP3,000 per day.

Penalties for late and incorrect corporate tax return filing: Under the UK's corporation self-assessment regime, a UK company is obliged to self-assess its liability to UK corporation tax (CT), including its compliance with all aspects of the UK's transfer pricing legislation. There is a penalty regime in UK law that applies in cases, including for late tax returns, incorrect tax returns and late payment of tax. For late tax returns, the penalty is an immediate GBP100 fixed penalty, for returns more than three months late there is an additional GBP100 fixed penalty, for returns more than six months late HMRC estimates a taxpayer's CT bill and adds a penalty of 10% the unpaid tax, then for returns more than 12 months late the penalty is another 10% of any unpaid tax. For incorrect returns, the provisions for penalties are set out in Schedule 24 of the Finance Act 2007. These provisions are couched in terms of careless or deliberate inaccuracies. They are tax-geared at up to 100% of the potential lost revenue and the level of any penalty will reflect the behaviors that led to the inaccuracy. For a careless error, there can be a lower tax-geared penalty (up to 30%), and for deliberate inaccuracies, the penalty will be higher (up to 70%). For a deliberate misstatement that is then concealed, the penalty can be up to 100% of the tax lost. These penalty percentages applied can also vary based on whether the finding of the inaccuracy is considered a prompted or unprompted disclosure.

Penalties for failure to prepare and maintain adequate records A penalty of GBP3,000 per accounting period may be charged to taxpayer for each failure to keep or to preserve adequate records in respect of a return and this includes the specified transfer pricing records.

Failure to maintain a Local File and a Master File and not being able to provide them to HMRC upon request (within a 30-day window), as well as not pricing the intercompany transactions in line with the arm's-length standard will lead to the presumption of carelessness. It may also impact any subsequent penalty considerations should HMRC later identify an inaccuracy in a return where that inaccuracy relates to transfer pricing. The relevant taxpayer can only displace this presumption by demonstrating that the returned position was arrived at by having taken reasonable care.

The "Guidelines for Compliance 7 - Help with common risks in transfer pricing approaches" has introduced much more detail about HMRC's expectations in the preparation of transfer pricing records and accordingly is anticipated to become a new reference level when consideration of carelessness is made. Together with the "presumption of carelessness" identified above this is expected to lead to more frequent assessment of penalties

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

GBP300

- Are there any other penalties?

Penalties for late and incorrect CbCR filing. There is a penalty of GBP300 plus GBP60 per day for non-filing of CbCR after notification of failure to file by HMRC. If no CbCR is filed after the MNE has been notified of the failure, HMRC may apply to the tax tribunal to give an order for an increased daily penalty, which can be up to GBP1,000 per day. The penalty for filing inaccurate or incomplete CbCR information when due to careless or negligent behavior is up to GBP3,000 per day.

Penalties for late and incorrect corporate tax return filing. Under the UK's corporation self-assessment regime, a UK company is obliged to self-assess its liability to UK corporation tax (CT), including its compliance with all aspects of the UK's transfer pricing legislation. There is a penalty regime in UK law that applies in cases, including for late tax returns, incorrect tax returns and late payment of tax. For late tax returns, the penalty is an immediate GBP100 fixed penalty, for returns more than three months late there is an additional GBP100 fixed penalty, for returns more than six months late HMRC estimates a taxpayer's CT bill and adds a penalty of 10% the unpaid tax, then for returns more than 12 months late the penalty is another 10% of any unpaid tax. Penalties for failure to prepare and maintain adequate records A penalty of GBP3,000 per accounting period may be charged to taxpayer for each failure to keep or to preserve adequate records in respect of a return and this includes the specified transfer pricing records.

Failure to maintain a Local File and a Master File and not being able to provide them to HMRC upon request (within a 30-day window), as well as not pricing the intercompany transactions in line with the arm's-length standard will lead to the presumption of carelessness. It may also impact any subsequent penalty considerations should HMRC later identify an inaccuracy in a return where that inaccuracy relates to transfer pricing. The relevant taxpayer can only displace this presumption by demonstrating that the returned position was arrived at by having taken reasonable care.

- See section 8 a. 1 regarding Guidelines for Compliance 7. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No. Not directly but incomplete documentation may lead to an increased risk of carelessness being asserted following a TP adjustment, leading to tax-gearred penalties.

- Additional details

Penalties can be assessed for transfer pricing adjustments if HMRC considers that the inaccuracy in the tax return leading to the transfer pricing adjustment arose because of careless behavior. It is currently HMRC's practice to consider penalties for any transfer pricing adjustment that results in increased taxable profits in the UK, with the level of penalty reflecting the facts and circumstances of the case.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

If suitable evidence supporting the arm's length nature of related party transactions has not been prepared by the time the tax return is filed (such as Local File and Master File documentation, and taking account of the additional guidance in "Guidelines for Compliance 7 - Help with common risks in transfer pricing approaches" and the Risk Control Guidance at INTM485025), and a transfer pricing adjustment is subsequently made, carelessness will be assumed.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

Interest is charged on overdue tax, set at the Bank of England base rate plus 2.5%. Repayment interest is also payable on overpaid tax at the Bank of England base rate minus 1%, with a lower limit of 0.5%. For businesses which must pay UK CT through quarterly instalment payments, interest is charged on any underpaid quarterly instalment payments at a separate rate.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

Penalty protection can apply where the taxpayer is able to demonstrate sufficient due diligence around compliance. This is best shown through robust transfer pricing documentation that shows that the application of the arm's-length principle was fully considered, following a two-sided functional and factual analysis (at a local level), in preparing the relevant tax return and applied to each intragroup provision included therein. Normally, adjustments are mutually agreed in the course of an enquiry. Transfer pricing settlements are required to be reviewed by the HMRC Transfer Pricing Board to achieve consistency across the department. There is a similar board-level review for transfer pricing penalties. As part of the penalty process, HMRC is obliged to consider suspending the penalty if certain terms and conditions apply. Taxpayers may appeal to the First-tier Tribunal and subsequent appeals courts against the imposition of a penalty, and the process would be as for any other tax appeal. However, it is currently rare for transfer pricing cases to be taken to a tribunal or court in the UK.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

Discovery assessments (DAs) may be made four years following the end of the relevant accounting period, for otherwise closed periods, for incomplete disclosure (of the insufficiency in the tax assessment). This can be extended to up to six years following the end of the relevant accounting period for instances of "careless" conduct and up to 20 years for instances of "deliberate" conduct. This is on the basis that the error was not fully disclosed in the body of the tax return or other documents submitted; Taxpayers can appeal DAs within 30 days, and the matter will then become the subject of a transfer pricing enquiry (i.e., an audit).

- The hurdle for making a DA is low (no new information is required and it can be due to a change of mind).

- The level of detail in DAs varies and often DAs are issued when the time limit for HMRC to issue an assessment is close to expiring, as (assuming the taxpayer appeals the assessment) this moves the matter to an enquiry. Once the matter is subject to enquiry, there is no time limit for HMRC to conclude its investigation.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There is no system for annual tax audits, as HMRC takes a risk-based approach to starting enquiries into tax returns. The possibility that transfer pricing will be reviewed in any given enquiry will depend on the facts and circumstances of the entity under review— for example the level of intercompany transactions (and/or PE profit attribution), appropriateness of transfer pricing methodology applied and level of documentation. Most multinational companies will have transfer pricing considered as part of their overall risk assessment, but only those seen as high risk in this area will typically then be subjected to a formal transfer pricing enquiry.

Companies with low or no tax entities in their supply/ transaction chain may find themselves within the diverted profits tax (DPT) regime, which has a requirement for taxpayer notification to HMRC. DPT is a separate tax but cases are often resolved through transfer pricing adjustments.

Outside the formal enquiry process, it is also possible for taxpayers to voluntarily propose a transfer pricing adjustment through the “Profit Diversion Compliance Facility” (PDCF) which was launched in 2019. Companies may elect to use the PDCF to make a disclosure to HMRC in circumstances where they have realised that their transfer pricing arrangements (or other tax positions) may be incorrect and that an adjustment may be required. If HMRC agrees to allow the taxpayer to use the PDCF, the taxpayer itself will conduct a review of the relevant facts and will provide a report to HMRC setting out the facts, the taxpayer’s view of the correct application of tax law to the facts, and their proposal either that the filed tax position can be supported, or that an adjustment is necessary. The benefit of using the PDCF rather than waiting for an HMRC enquiry is that HMRC will treat disclosures made under the PDCF as “voluntary” and generally will not seek penalties on any adjustments. Furthermore, to encourage taxpayers to use the PDCF, HMRC has been sending “nudge” letters to UK entities in some multinational groups suggesting that they might consider using the PDCF, with the presumed alternative being a formal enquiry. HMRC has increasingly been using the PDCF as a tool to conduct taxpayer-led audits, freeing up HMRC resources to initiate coverage across more taxpayers.

In September 2024, HMRC published in September 2024, “Guidelines for Compliance 7 - Help with common risks in transfer pricing approaches.” This is formal guidance in a number of areas in relation to the planning of transfer pricing work in relation to UK entities, risk control around processes related to transfer pricing and identification of what HMRC views as high risk structures or transactions from a transfer pricing perspective. This guidance is anticipated to heavily impact the audit environment as it provides a blueprint for approaches in the audit of UK transfer pricing and will enable HMRC to identify where they consider that taxpayers have fallen short of the standards that they expect.

Further, the Risk Control Guidance issued by HMRC in 2024 has indicated that HMRC have their own specific interpretation of OECD approaches which may not align with other OECD members. Together with the Guidelines for Compliance they are indicative of HMRC taking a more assertive approach in audits, and seeking to impose their own interpretation of the OECD Guidelines.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

HMRC may challenge the transfer pricing methodology applied and most risk assessments have, at their core, a challenge regarding the methods and the appropriateness of their application. Not all enquiries or PDCF submissions will result in an adjustment, but equally, given HMRC’s risk assessment approach, the expectation is that HMRC will have selected appropriate cases for enquiry.

There is no specific legislation in relation to transfer pricing adjustments. This will depend on the facts and circumstances of the entity under review.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

There are no industries that are specifically identified by HMRC as being higher-risk ones. In practice, situations in which there is material activity in the UK but the returns are low and where intellectual property is kept offshore with material, base-eroding payments are likely to be subject to greater scrutiny. In the Guidelines for Compliance, HMRC specifically comments on areas in which it often finds transfer pricing risk, being:

- Intangible assets ownership and exploitation
- Above market intra-group services
- Transfer pricing target margin models
- Cost based reward for services
- Sales based reward for services
- Franchise fees and similar single fee arrangements

HMRC also notes that financial transactions are not specifically commented on in the guidelines but that does not necessarily make them lower risk.

In addition the types of transaction that HMRC views as always being material in the context of a Local File and listed at 3 b. iv provide a further indication of audit risk.

As noted above, the UK has an additional tax that is potentially chargeable in certain cases, the diverted profits tax or DPT. A full discussion of the tax is beyond the scope of this guide, but it is good practice that its application be carefully considered in any transfer pricing case.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

HMRC accepts APA applications for all transactions that fall within the scope of the transfer pricing rules at Part 4 TIOPA 2010, including financial transactions, as well as on the attribution of profits to permanent establishments, and in recent years there has been an increase in acceptance into the APA program. There are complexity thresholds to be satisfied to gain admission to the program, but HMRC will also consider the likelihood of double taxation arising without an APA, the relationship with the counterparty jurisdiction, the commercial rationale for the transaction, and the economic benefit from the transaction to the UK and its trading partners in considering whether it is worthwhile to admit an APA to the program. There is no automatic admission to the APA program.

There are no fees charged by HMRC for APAs.

HMRC has published a Statement of Practice specifying a strong preference for bilateral (or multilateral) APAs. The expectation is that where there is a treaty partner with an active APA program, the taxpayer will seek to engage both tax authorities on a bilateral basis. Unilateral APAs remain possible but only in limited circumstances, such as where the counterparty jurisdiction has no APA program and there are good reasons for HMRC to consider that it is worthwhile admitting the APA. In the 2023-2024 tax year, HMRC agreed 27 APAs and admitted 45 new applications with no applications being turned down at the expression of interest phase. The average time taken to reach agreement was 53 months, which remains a positive trend over past years.

In March 2025 HMRC indicated that it is also willing to enter into unilateral APAs in relation to the characterisation of cost contribution agreements (CCAs). Starting immediately, HMRC intends to offer unilateral APAs to agree that where a UK entity has entered into a CCA with related parties outside the UK, the arrangement will be recognised as a valid CCA for tax purposes (whilst not necessarily agreeing any details of pricing, etc). The need for such agreements has arisen because there have been cases where HMRC enquiry teams have challenged the validity of CCA agreements based on a perceived lack of substance in the UK participants, in order to challenge the deductions for payments made into CCAs by UK participants. As the expectation is that these CCAs will bring net economic benefits to the UK over the lifetime of the agreement, HMRC considers it beneficial to be able to agree the tax treatment of the CCA in advance. HMRC intends to update its Statement of Practice on APAs to describe the process and conditions for entering a unilateral APA in relation to a CCA.

APAs generally cannot be entered in relation to any matter that is subject to an ongoing enquiry. However this will not be the case for APAs being entered to agree the characterisation of a CCA.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

APAs typically do not exceed five years. However, where unilateral APAs have been entered to agree the characterisation of a CCA, it is anticipated that HMRC will agree that the APA will remain valid for the duration of the CCA.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Roll-backs to earlier periods may be available, if the particular facts and circumstances surrounding those years are substantially the same. HMRC intends to offer roll-backs where APAs are agreed regarding the characterisation of a CCA.

d. Is MAP available?

HMRC accepts MAP requests where MAP is available under the relevant double taxation agreement (DTA). A MAP request can be made when a taxpayer considers that the actions of one or both contracting states' tax authorities result, or may result, in taxation not in accordance with the DTA.

In relation to transfer pricing and permanent establishment profit attribution MAP cases, during the 2023 to 2024 tax year the UK resolved 86 MAP applications and admitted 82 new applications. The average time taken to close MAP cases was 28.8 months. A number of the UK's DTAs also include arbitration provision, and unresolved MAP claims may progress to arbitration in such cases. It should be noted that from January 2021 the UK is no longer covered by the EU Arbitration Convention and no new tax dispute resolution cases may be presented to HMRC under this Convention.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

The UK's thin capitalization rules are based on the arm's-length principle, and there are no safe harbors. In this regard, HMRC considers whether at arm's length (a) the loan would have been lent at all, (b) whether the loan would have been lent in that amount, and (c) whether the loan would have been lent on those terms. Outside of transfer pricing rules, there are a number of other domestic rules that may limit interest deductions and should be considered separately. The rulings commonly referred to as ATCAs (Advance Thin Capitalisation Agreements) are not limited to matters of thin capitalisation and debt pricing. ATCAs may also be used to get clearance for the transfer pricing of other forms of financial transactions, including but not limited to cash pooling arrangements, guarantee fees, the allocation of fees such as redemption penalties and the returns of treasury operations.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Internal Revenue Service (IRS)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

The following are the transfer pricing regulations or rulings:

- Treasury Regulations (Treas. Reg.):
- Treas. Reg. § 1.482-1 through Treas. Reg. § 1.482-9
- Treas. Reg. § 1.6662-1 through Treas. Reg. § 1.6662-6
- Revenue Procedures (Rev. Procs.) including Rev. Procs. 99-32, 2015- 40, 2015- 41, 2007- 13 and 2005- 46
- The Tax Cuts and Jobs Act of 2017 (TCJA), effective from 1 January 2018, made significant changes to the IRC, including lowering the US corporate income tax rate to 21% and introducing a number of new provisions with transfer pricing implications.
- Key provisions of the TCJA with transfer pricing implications:
- Base Erosion and Anti-Abuse Tax (BEAT): The BEAT minimum tax detailed in IRC § 59A is the excess (if any) of 10% (increasing to 12.5% for tax years beginning in calendar year 2026) of an applicable taxpayer's "modified taxable income" over an adjusted regular tax liability amount for the tax year.
- Foreign Derived Intangible Income (FDII): IRC § 250 provides a special deduction for a US corporation's FDII. This new section provides a lower rate of tax on a portion of profits in connection with (i) property sold to any non-US person for foreign use or (ii) services provided to a person, or with respect to property, not located within the US. IRC § 250 generally allows a domestic corporation an annual deduction for its Global Intangible Low-Taxed Income (GILTI) inclusion under IRC § 951A and FDII. For tax years beginning after 31 December 2017, but on or before 31 December 2025, the IRC § 250 deduction generally is the sum of (i) 50% of the corporation's GILTI inclusion amount (and IRC § 78 "gross-up" for associated deemed-paid foreign income taxes) and (ii) 37.5% of its FDII. If the sum of the taxpayer's GILTI and FDII amounts exceed the taxpayer's taxable income, however, the IRC § 250 deduction is reduced proportionately to those two amounts.
- GILTI: The GILTI regime is detailed in the new IRC §§ 250 and 951A and in revised IRC §§ 960 and 904. Generally, under IRC § 951A, a corporation can deduct 50% of its GILTI and claim a foreign tax credit (FTC) for 80% of foreign taxes paid or accrued on GILTI.

- The TCJA moved the definition of intangibles from IRC § 936 to IRC § 367(d)(4) and expanded the definition. IRC § 367(d)(4) inter alia includes goodwill, going concern value and workforce in place.
- Transfer pricing examination process:
- (1) Internal Revenue Manual § 4.61.3, Development of IRC 482 Cases; (2) Publication 5300 (2020) Issued by the IRS in 2020. This publication provides a guide to best practices and processes to assist with the planning, execution and resolution of transfer pricing examinations. The publication, which must be shared with taxpayers at the start of an examination, is intended to be consistent with the Large Business & International (LB&I) Examination Process (LEP) (Publication 5125); (3) FAQs on TP Documentation (14 April 2020); and (4) Interim Guidance Memorandum on Economic Substance Doctrine and Related Penalties (22 April 2022) LB&I- 04-0422-0014.

c. Effective date of applicability

No date specified

d. Section reference from local regulation

Not applicable

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no US federal tax documentation obligation for domestic transactions between related parties who are part of the same consolidated US federal tax return. However, the Securities Exchange Commission requires publicly traded US companies to disclose material transactions with their subsidiaries on their annual financial statements and filings. See below at 4.c.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes, although the current administration has voiced concerns over aspects of OECD and G20 Inclusive Framework.

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

- Additional details

The US is an OECD member jurisdiction. The IRS considers its transfer pricing laws and regulations to be wholly consistent with OECD Guidelines. For domestic purposes, OECD Guidelines may provide support in certain instances when addressed by the IRS (e.g., APA and MAP) but would not be directly relevant to the application of any US transfer pricing methods. If taxpayers pursue competent authority relief from double taxation or a bilateral APA, the OECD Guidelines are relevant and may be used to demonstrate compliance with international principles.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

- Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

- Additional details

The US has adopted BEPS Action 13 (limited to CbCR) in the local regulations. There are no Master File or Local File requirements in the US.

- Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

- Coverage

The limit is USD850 million (approximately EUR700 million).

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 30 June 2017.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

- Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

No

- Coverage

Not applicable

- Effective or expected date of commencement

Not applicable

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

Not applicable

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

No

- Coverage

Not applicable

- Effective or expected date of commencement

Not applicable

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

Not applicable

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

- Additional details

The Local File documentation for the US should be consistent with the regulations under IRC §§ 482 and 6662.

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

No

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

Although transfer pricing documentation is not required by domestic law, in practice it is recommended that taxpayers maintain contemporaneous documentation as a defense against transfer pricing penalties. The transfer pricing documentation must be in existence when the return is filed to obtain penalty protection. But the existence of documentation need not be either disclosed in, or provided with, the domestic return. Taxpayers must provide the documentation to the IRS within 30 days of an examiner's request to receive protection from penalties.

For penalty avoidance purposes, a taxpayer satisfies the documentation requirement if it maintains certain documentation that substantiates the taxpayer's assertion that its choice and application of a method were reasonable and that the method provided the most reliable measure of an arm's-length result under the best-method rule. The principal documents required by the regulations are:

- An overview of the taxpayer's business and an analysis of the legal and economic factors that affect the pricing of its pricing or services
- A description of the organizational structure (including an organization chart) covering all related parties engaged in transactions potentially relevant under IRC § 482, including foreign affiliates whose transactions directly or indirectly affect the pricing of property or services in the United States
- Any documents explicitly required by regulations under IRC § 482 (e.g., cost-sharing arrangement documents)
- A description of the pricing method selected and reasons the method was selected (i.e., a best-method analysis)
- A description of alternative methods that were considered and why they were not selected
- A description of controlled transactions and any internal data used to analyze those transactions
- A description of the comparables used, how comparability was evaluated, and any adjustments that were made
- An explanation of any Economic analysis and any projections relied upon to develop the pricing method
- Any material data discovered after the close of the tax year but before the filing of the tax return, which would help to determine if a taxpayer selected and applied a method in a reasonable manner
- A general index of the principal and background documents and a description of the record-keeping system used for cataloging and accessing those documents

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

For penalty avoidance purposes, a taxpayer satisfied the documentation requirement if it maintained certain documentation for each year. To the extent that there are changes from the previous year, they need to be reflected.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

No

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

No

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

There is no materiality limit.

- CbCR
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?
USD850 million
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Annual global income
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
The threshold is USD850 million (approximately EUR700 million). There is no CbCR notification requirement in the US.
- Master File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?
Not applicable
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Not applicable
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
Not applicable
- Local File
 - What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?
Not applicable
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Not applicable
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
- Additional details
Not applicable
- Economic analysis
 - Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?
No
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Not applicable
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
There is no materiality limit.
- c. Specific requirements
 - Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?
No
 - Additional details
English is the accepted language for all documentation requirements.
 - Is a safe harbor available?
Yes
 - Additional details
There are no safe harbors per se. However, Treas. Reg. § 1.482-2 provides taxpayers the opportunity to use applicable federal interest rates (AFRs) for intercompany loans and advances.
 - Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?
Individual testing
 - Additional details
Currently, there are no specific guidelines regarding aggregate testing of transactions. Accordingly, testing of individual transactions is the preferred approach. Treas. Reg. § 1.482-1T(a)(i)(B) states that “the combined effect of two or more separate transactions ... may be considered if the transactions, taken as a whole, are so interrelated that an aggregate analysis ... provides the most reliable measure of an arm’s length result.” However, this temporary regulation expired in September 2018 and was not replaced.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

- a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

Taxpayers are required to file Forms 5471, 5472 and 8865 regarding transactions with related parties.

- b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

- Additional details

Under regulations issued in 2010, certain taxpayers must disclose their uncertain tax positions (UTPs) on Schedule UTP (Form 1120) and provide information such as the ranking of the positions by the size of their reserves and concise descriptions of the tax positions. The UTP disclosures are required for corporations filing Forms 1120, 1120-F, 1120-L, or 1120-PC with assets of USD10 million or more for the tax year and the corporation recorded a liability for unrecognized tax benefits for a tax position in audited financial statements.

- c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Yes

- d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Not applicable

- e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

Form 8975 and Schedule A (Form 8975) are used by filers described under “Who Must File” to report certain information with respect to the filer’s US MNE group on a country-by-country basis. US MNEs filing Form 8975 and Schedule A (Form 8975) should file a separate Schedule A (Form 8975) for each tax jurisdiction where the MNE group operates and list all of the constituent entities resident in the tax jurisdiction. A US MNE group with only fiscally transparent US business entities would not provide a Schedule A for the US but would provide a Schedule A for “stateless” entities.

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

- a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

15 April

- Additional details

The deadline is the 15th day of the fourth month following the end of the corporation’s tax year. A six-month extension generally is available.

- b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

- c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

- d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

With tax return for the respective year

- Additional details

The filing is due with the tax return for the respective year.

- e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By tax return lodgment date

- Additional details

If the documentation is prepared to help protect against penalties, then it must be in existence by the filing date of a US tax return that has been filed in a timely manner.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- i. Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

The submission is based on the request of tax authorities.

- ii. What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Taxpayers must provide the documentation to the IRS within 30 days of an examiner's request.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

For tangible goods, the IRS accepts the CUP, resale-price, cost-plus, comparable profits method (CPM), profit-split and unspecified methods. For intangible goods, the IRS accepts the comparable uncontrolled transaction (CUT), CPM, profit-split and unspecified methods. For services, the IRS accepts the services cost, comparable uncontrolled services price, gross services margin, cost of services plus, CPM, profit-split and unspecified methods. For CSA buy-ins, the IRS accepts the CUT, income, acquisition price, market capitalization, residual profit-split and unspecified methods.

The regulations provide a best-method rule for determining the appropriate method to be applied by the taxpayer for each intercompany transaction.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There is no such requirement regarding local comparables, as foreign and regional comparables are generally acceptable to local tax authorities, provided the comparability requirements are met.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

The results of a controlled transaction ordinarily will be compared with the results of uncontrolled comparables occurring in the taxable year under review. It may be appropriate, however, to consider data related to the uncontrolled comparables or the controlled taxpayer for one or more years before or after the year under review. If data related to uncontrolled comparables from multiple years is used, data related to the controlled taxpayer for the same years ordinarily must be considered. The extent to which it is appropriate to consider multiple years' data depends on the method being applied and the transactions addressed. Circumstances that may warrant the consideration of data from multiple years include the extent to which complete and accurate data is available for the taxable year under review, the effect of business cycles in the controlled taxpayer's industry, and the effects of life cycles of the product or intangible property being examined.

Yes, interquartile range is acceptable. The interquartile range is the range from the 25th to the 75th percentile of the results derived from the uncontrolled comparables. For this purpose, the 25th percentile is the lowest result derived from an uncontrolled comparable such that at least 25 percent of the results are at or below the value of that result. However, if exactly 25 percent of the results are at or below a result, then the 25th percentile is equal to the average of that result and the next higher result derived from the uncontrolled comparables. The 75th percentile is determined analogously.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no legal requirement for a fresh benchmarking search every year, as roll-forward and financial updates are acceptable for up to two to three years (if the fact pattern has remained the same).

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

No stipulated requirement; the choice will depend on the facts and circumstances and comparability.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Pursuant to IRC § 6662, taxpayers may be liable for either a 20% or 40% penalty for an underpayment of tax attributable to a substantial or gross valuation misstatement. Refer to IRC § 6662 and Treas. Reg. § 1.6662-6.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

▪ Are there any other penalties?

There is no penalty for failure to provide transfer pricing documentation as it is not strictly required; however, documentation may help avoid a penalty.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no penalty for incomplete documentation but incomplete documentation may not provide penalty protection.

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

▪ Additional details

There is no penalty for non-contemporaneous documentation but non-contemporaneous documentation may not provide penalty protection.

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Interest is charged using AFRs.

▪ Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Penalties may be avoided by establishing reasonable cause and good faith through taxpayer-provided documentation demonstrating the taxpayer's application of IRC § 482.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

A general statute of limitations applies in the US – three years from the later of either the tax return due date or the date the return was actually filed. The statute is extended to six years for substantial understatements of income. There is no statute of limitations for fraud-related adjustments. Most treaties with trading partners provide the IRS access to closed years in order to provide relief from double taxation pursuant to a MAP.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

▪ Additional details

The possibility of a tax audit depends on facts and circumstances. The introduction of what the OECD refers to in its Action Plan on BEPS as “high-risk transactions” increases the possibility of a tax audit. In general, yes, transfer pricing scrutiny during a tax audit may be considered a common practice. Transfer pricing is extensively regulated in the US, and the IRS has recently taken a number of administrative steps to increase its ability to focus on international transactions, with a particular emphasis on transfer pricing. Due to this emphasis, documentation is requested frequently at the outset of any examination of taxpayers transacting with foreign related parties.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

▪ Additional details

If the transfer pricing methodology for international transactions is challenged during the initial stages of any audit an adjustment is likely. Once the IRS commits significant resources to the audit, a Notice of Proposed Adjustment should be expected. However, experiences have shown that well-reasoned documentation may potentially reduce the possibility of further scrutiny.

An adjustment will be made to reach an arm's-length result. However, if the the interquartile range is used, the regulations state that an adjustment will generally be to the median of all results.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Cost sharing and other IP migration transactions are generally challenged. Other high-risk transactions, such as those described in the OECD BEPS Action Plan, also draw scrutiny.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Taxpayers may request unilateral, bilateral or multilateral APAs. The APA process is administered by the IRS Advance Pricing and Mutual Agreement Program. Guidance regarding APAs can be found in Rev. Proc. 2015- 41. The revenue procedure has strict case management procedures, disclosure requirements, and detailed guidance regarding the submission and processing of APA requests. Additional competent authority guidance is provided in Rev. Proc. 2015- 40. In April of 2023, the IRS released an internal memorandum with guidance on review and acceptance of APA submission. The IRS charges a user fee for APAs.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

The IRS prefers an APA request to cover a prospective five-year term.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Roll-backs are applicable. Because most US APAs have a prospective five-year term, the addition of a roll-back term could allow a taxpayer to resolve transfer pricing issues from older years in a single negotiation process.

d. Is MAP available?

According to Rev. Proc. 2015- 40, taxpayers may request MAP assistance often referred to as a "competent authority request" or a "MAP request," if taxation has or is likely to occur that is not in accordance with the provisions of a double tax treaty (DTT) to which the US is signatory. In addition, the taxpayer must be a resident either in the US or in the other relevant contracting state, meet the prescribed time limits, and satisfy the prescribed conditions for a competent authority request. Most of the US DTTs permit taxpayers to present a case to the IRS within a prescribed period from the first notification to the taxpayer of the actions giving rise to taxation not in accordance with the DTT. However, time limits may vary, and the relevant DTT should be consulted for the applicable time limit. For a US-initiated adjustment, generally the adjustment must be communicated in writing to the taxpayer (e.g., Form 5701, Notice of Proposed Adjustment) before the taxpayer may seek competent authority assistance.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

Earnings stripping rules under IRC § 163(j) are intended to prevent the erosion of the US tax base of a thinly capitalized corporation by means of excessive deductions for certain interest.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

General Taxation Directorate (Dirección General Impositiva – DGI)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Transfer pricing documentation requirements have been in effect in Uruguay since 1 July 2007 (following Law No. 18.803), but they were not regulated until 26 January 2009, with the publication of Decree No. 56/009. Decree No. 392/009 made additional modifications. The DGI issued Resolution No. 2.084/009 on 1 December 2009 (with the modifications introduced by Resolutions No. 819/010 and No. 2.098/009), which defined concepts and established requirements for the transfer pricing report. Additional guidance includes:

- Chapter VIII, Title 4, Corporate Income Tax Law 2023, as amended, as per Law No. 18,083 (Title 4), dated 27 December 2007
- Presidential Decree No. 56/009, dated 26 January 2009
- Presidential Decree No. 392/009, dated 24 August 2009
- DGI Resolution No. 2.084/009, dated 1 December 2009
- DGI Resolution No. 2.269/009, dated 30 December 2009
- DGI Resolution No. 818/010, dated 6 May 2010
- DGI Resolution No. 745/011, dated 6 May 2011
- DGI Resolution No. 01/020, dated 3 January 2020
- DGI Resolution No. 2440/020, dated 22 December 2020
- DGI Resolution No. 223/022, dated 21 February 2022

c. Effective date of applicability

1 July 2007

d. Section reference from local regulation

Relevant references include:

- Presidential Decree No. 353/018, dated 26 October 2018

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Entities engaging in transactions with other entities that were created, domiciled, based, residing or located in countries with low or no taxation, or that are benefited by a special low- or no-taxation system, including local free zones, are subject to transfer pricing regime. This means that transactions performed by taxpayers with nonresidents domiciled, created or located in low- or no-taxation countries or benefiting from a special low- or no-taxation system that specifically sets forth regulations shall not be considered to comply with practices or normal market values between independent parties, including the transactions carried out in customs exclaves and benefiting from a low- or no-taxation system. Moreover, transactions with nonresident entities located in Uruguay, such as permanent establishments or branches from nonresidents, are also subject to transfer pricing rules.

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Limited

▪ Additional details

Uruguay is not a member of the OECD. The OECD Guidelines are not mentioned in Uruguay's Income Tax Law and Regulations. As transfer pricing practice is relatively new in Uruguay, there is no related background with regard to the OECD Guidelines. However, the local regulation is aligned with the OECD Guidelines.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

- Coverage

If the local taxpayer belongs to an MNE group of which total consolidated revenue is equal to or exceeds EUR750 million, CbCR requirements must be met.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2017.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

CbCR required in Uruguay has a specific format, which may vary from the OECD format, so local customization is required for filing of this report.

- Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

Yes

- Coverage

Master File is covered.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

A subsequent law was published on 5 January 2017 in which the Master File was added to the regime requirements.

Material differences from OECD report template or format

The Master File has yet to be regulated in Uruguay. However, the tax authority has required this document in Spanish language in recent audits.

- Does the jurisdiction require a Local File?

Yes

- Coverage

Local File is covered.

- Effective or expected date of commencement

The law has applied to the Local File since 2009. A subsequent law was published on 5 January 2017 in which the Local File was added to the regime requirements.

- Material differences from OECD report template or format

Local regulations and transfer pricing practice include specific provisions for the completion of the Local File, which may result in variations of content and may have an impact in the transfer pricing analysis.

d. Is a BEPS Action 13 format report sufficient to achieve penalty protection?

No

- Additional details

Local File requirements provided in local regulations must be met to avoid penalties. Country by Country penalties have been applied for failure to comply with filing (at the moment, the suspension of the tax certificate, which has a direct impact on company operations). Nevertheless, fines may apply according to the gravity of the breach, which may go up to USD290,000.

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

Yes

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

Outlined in Presidential Decree No. 56/ 009 and DGI Resolution No. 2, 084/ 009. In case covered transactions exist, taxpayers must prepare the transfer pricing documentation. Furthermore, said documentation must be submitted to the DGI, with a transfer pricing return, when the total amount of intercompany transactions is equal to or greater than 50 million indexed units (as of 31 December 2024, approximately USD7,100,000).

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation has to be prepared annually under local jurisdiction regulations. The minimum requirement is that all Economic analysis information and the transfer pricing documentation must be updated (there is a minimum content that transfer pricing documentation must have included, in DGI Resolution No. 2, 084/ 009).

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

No

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Whenever there are transactions with related entities, taxpayers are required to prepare and maintain an annual transfer pricing documentation. The documentation must be submitted to the DGI, with a transfer pricing return, when the total amount of intercompany transactions is equal to or greater than 50 million indexed units (as of 31 December 2024, approximately USD7,100,000).

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

EUR750 million of net consolidated revenues in the previous fiscal year.

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

If the local taxpayer belongs to an MNE group of which total consolidated revenue is equal to or exceeds EUR750 million, CbCR requirements must be met.

- Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

Not specified in regulations. The tax authorities' position is that no threshold applies.

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Regarding the Master File, the threshold is not defined yet; further regulation must be published to do so. However, it is applicable to entities that belong to a Multinational Group, according to the definition established in art. 55 of Title 4 (2023).

- Local File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Local File?

Not specified

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Not applicable
- Is there any other threshold?
No
- Additional details
For the Local File, there is no threshold; if a transaction with a related entity exists, a Local File must be prepared.
- Economic analysis
 - Is a financial threshold specified for applicability of Economic analysis?
No
 - What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?
Not applicable
 - Is there any other threshold?
No
 - Additional details
Not applicable
- c. Specific requirements
 - Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?
Yes
 - Additional details
The documentation needs to be submitted in the local language (Spanish).
 - Is a safe harbor available?
Unspecified
 - Additional details
Not applicable
 - Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?
Individual testing

- Additional details

There is none specified in local regulations; nonetheless, the tax administration prefers individual testing of transactions if information is available.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?
No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

- Additional details

Only those taxpayers that are obligated to file the transfer pricing study must file the transfer pricing annual return (Form 3001) with the tax authorities. In that annual return, the company must provide information about the related-party transactions. In the new version of the Form 3001, within the additional information required to be included in the new return form are the financial information of the local entity; list of all the related entities; and details of the functions and activities the related entities develop, their address, jurisdiction, number of employees, and identification number. Moreover, the type of relations the company has with each of them should be detailed. Regarding the controlled transactions, a requirement is to inform all types of activity developed by the related entities in these transactions, such as manufacture and intermediation. A description of in-force agreements that the company has with its related entities should be detailed, as well as the description of all the intangible property (IP) of the local entity and IP that is used by the company though it is not the property of the company. An extensive questionnaire of the company's operating activities with entities abroad must be completed, for example, questions about the company and the group, if there has been any transfer of personnel between group's entities, or if there has been any business restructuring in the group in the last five years.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Taxpayers are required to file:

- The transfer pricing study, including key elements such as the functions and activities of the company, risks and assets used, the methods used, the interquartile range and details of the comparables
- For “great taxpayers,” audited financial statements if the company was not entitled to submit its audited financial statements to the tax authorities by any other applying law
- Annual transfer pricing return Form 3001 (if it corresponds, considering the annual covered transactions threshold). The most updated version requires significant additional information about the multinational group and the related entities of the company. If the company does not meet the threshold to file the transfer pricing report to the tax authority, but has transactions with related entities, the Local File must still be completed and kept by the company in case of an audit.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

No specific requirements under Uruguayan TP rules. However, Uruguayan GAAP require certain disclosures for related-party transactions.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

CbCR notification must be submitted separately, within Form 6530 and a separate CbCR filing (if applicable).

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

Depends on the fiscal year-end of the company.

▪ Additional details

Four months after the fiscal year-end; the deadline varies if the local company is CEDE (Control Especial De Empresas) or NO CEDE according to the tax authority –

23 April 2025 or 25 April 2025, respectively, for FYE December 2024.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

Depends on the fiscal year-end of the company.

▪ Additional details

Nine months after the fiscal year-end; the deadline varies if the local company is CEDE or NO CEDE according to the tax authority – 22 September 2025 or 25 September 2025, respectively, for FYE December 2024.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not specified

▪ Additional details

Uruguayan taxpayers that are part of a Multinational Group must count with the Master File. There is no regulation for annual filings of said Master File. However, in practice, the tax authority requests this document in Spanish language during audits.

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

Depends on the fiscal year-end of the Multinational Group.

▪ Additional details

The deadline is 12 months after the end of the reporting FY of the group.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Depends on the fiscal year-end of the Multinational Group.

▪ Additional details

The deadline is by the end of the reporting FY of the group. All entities that are part of a multinational group of great economic dimension located in Uruguay must file the notification.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

Depends on the fiscal year-end of the company.

▪ Additional details

Transfer pricing Economic analysis should be finalized by the time of lodging the income tax return to achieve penalty protection (e.g., where there is a contemporaneous requirement). The transfer pricing documentation must be prepared nine months after the fiscal year-end (same deadline as for Form 3001), but the transfer pricing preliminary analysis is due four months after the fiscal year-end for the presentation of the income tax return.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

i. Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

Additional details

Yes, the report must be submitted to the tax authority if the total amount of intercompany transactions exceeds the threshold established by local regulations with the correspondent transfer pricing return (as of 31 December 2024, approximately USD7,100,000). It must be submitted nine months after the fiscal year-end. If the amount is below that limit, the company must prepare the documentation and have it in case of a request by the tax authority in an audit.

ii. What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The time the taxpayer has to submit the transfer pricing documentation once requested by the tax authorities in an audit or inquiry is not regulated but usually is approximately five to 10 days. Failure to comply with the request in the limited amount of time may be the suspension of the tax certificate of good standing, which is highly disruptive to the company's operations.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

Additional details

There are no differences between an analysis of international and domestic transactions; the same preferences apply for both types of transactions. For transactions involving imports or exports of goods with well-known prices in transparent markets, those prices must be used. If the transactions are performed through international intermediaries that are not the final consignees of the goods, the applicable price is the price in the respective market. The price to be used is the one in the respective market on the day of the shipment or, if it was registered in the mercantile office, the price on the day of the contract. Regarding the financial transactions, the most common method used, although the preference is not stated in the regulation, is the CUP method. Moreover, for transactions that involve royalties, the tax authorities have expressed preference for a specific analysis, through the CUP-method analysis with internal comparables, avoiding a global analysis through a TNMM. In the same sense, the services provided by the tested party are preferred to be analyzed through a specific analysis instead of a global analysis through a TNMM.

There is a mandatory CUP application (with certain restrictions and specific rules) in case of import and export of agro-commodities and similar goods.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

The use of local comparables is preferred but not usually used due to insufficient qualitative and quantitative information of the databases available. Latin American comparables should be prioritized in the analysis according to previous experience in audits by the tax authority. Court Decision No. 597/ 021 was issued recently, stating the preference for local comparables.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

For the taxpayer under analysis, there is a preference for single-year testing and multiyear analysis should be avoided as it is challenged by the tax authority. For the information of the comparables, best practice is three-year averaging (but there is no formal guidance or position on this matter).

Local regulations include the use of an interquartile range for the analysis, and it must be calculated as follows: when the first quartile is above the median value decreased by 5%, this latter value shall replace that of the first quartile, and when the third quartile is below the median value increased by 5%, the resulting value shall thus replace that of the third quartile.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

A fresh benchmarking search is recommended every year. This is not specified in the regulation but is commonly accepted by the tax authority. However, the tax authority has also accepted searches every three years (with annual financial updates), but there is no formal guidance or position on this matter.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is a preference for a simple average for arm's-length analysis.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

The penalty for those that breach the formal requirements established in the transfer pricing framework (e.g., failure to timely file a transfer pricing report, CbCR) will be applied on a graduated scale, in accordance with the severity of the breach. The maximum fine is approximately USD290,000.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

The penalty for those that breach the formal requirements established in the transfer pricing framework (e.g., failure to timely file a transfer pricing report, CbCR) will be applied on a graduated scale, in accordance with the severity of the breach. The maximum fine is approximately USD290,000.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

The penalty for those that breach the formal requirements established in the transfer pricing framework (e.g., failure to timely file a transfer pricing report, CbCR) will be applied on a graduated scale, in accordance with the severity of the breach. The maximum fine is approximately USD290,000.

▪ Are there any other penalties?

When there is an underpayment due to transfer pricing, the taxpayer is penalized with a tax omission fine that is 5% of the amount of the underpayment if it is paid before five days after the deadline, 10% if it is paid between five and 90 days after the deadline, and 20% if it is paid more than 90 days past the deadline. In each case, corresponding surcharges are added. If the DGI requires the transfer pricing study or the CbCR and a company does not file it, the DGI can suspend the certificate that shows that the taxpayer fulfilled its tax obligations. The immediate consequence is that it bars the taxpayer from being able to import goods or obtain a bank loan.

b. Penalties post TP audit

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

▪ Additional details

If a transfer pricing adjustment is calculated by the tax administration in an audit, this adjustment could affect the income tax paid, including fines and surcharges. If documentation is deemed incomplete, the substance of the analysis could be questioned, and an alternative analysis may be imposed by the tax authority, which could lead to the calculation of a transfer pricing adjustment.

▪ Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

▪ Additional details

If documentation is deemed incomplete, the analysis may be disregarded by the tax authority, and an alternative analysis may be imposed, which could lead to the calculation of a transfer pricing adjustment.

▪ Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

Yes

▪ Additional details

According to the law, the interest for nonpaid penalty is 5% for delays no longer than five days, 10% for delays between six and 90 days, and 20% for delays of more than 90 days.

▪ Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

There are currently no provisions for reductions in penalties. The taxpayer can appeal in trial against the tax authorities; however, at the moment, there are no experiences in Uruguay in which a taxpayer has disputed any resolution of the authorities that the general public is aware of.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

There is no specific statute of limitations for transfer pricing adjustments; rather, the general regime applies. Assessments can be raised five years after the company's accounting period ends, but this is extended to 10 years when the difference is due to fraudulent or negligent conduct by the taxpayer.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

While the possibility that transfer pricing will be reviewed as part of that audit may be considered to be high. Specifically, if a taxpayer is classified according to the tax authorities as a "great taxpayer," the experience has shown that it will be audited at least every five years. If transfer pricing is reviewed as part of the audit, the possibility that the transfer pricing methodology will be challenged may be considered to be high. In many of the cases known, the tax authority has challenged the methodology and the companies' sets of comparables.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

Once a transfer pricing analysis methodology is challenged or questioned by the tax authorities in a transfer pricing audit, the possibility of an adjustment may be considered to be high based on experience. In almost every case in which the tax authority suggests a new methodology and it is applied, a transfer pricing adjustment (significant or not) is applied.

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

Local regulations include the use of an interquartile range for the analysis, and it must be calculated as follows: when the first quartile is above the median value decreased by 5%, this latter value shall replace that of the first quartile, and when the third quartile is below the median value increased by 5%, the resulting value shall thus replace that of the third quartile. If an adjustment is necessary, then it should be calculated using the median decreased /increased (according to the situation) by a 5%.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

The tax authority relies on a special team of professionals who have focused on performing tax audits for the biggest companies, known as great taxpayers. However, they have not focused on specific industries. The focus is mainly on:

- Functional analysis
- Segmentation criteria revision
- Selection of comparables, with preference on local comparables
- Comparison between the financial information of the company considered for the transfer pricing analysis and the financial statements, identifying internal and external comparables General observations pointed out in inspections are:
- Comparability adjustments made to the tested party
- Rejection of the selected comparable companies
- Observations of companies that have continuous losses for many years

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Uruguayan transfer pricing rules have an APA regime. However, there are no specific procedures defined yet. Therefore, in case an APA process is initiated and no agreement is finally reached, there are no rules about how the local tax authorities should proceed with the already provided information. As of the time of this publication, only a few unilateral APA cases have been announced but not available to the public.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

There is no specific term set in the local regulation.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

There is none specified.

d. Is MAP available?

There is none specified. For bilateral APAs, the MAP provisions in bilateral tax treaties may be applied.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

There is none specified.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

National Integrated Service for the Administration of Customs Duties and Tax (Servicio Nacional Integrado de Administración Aduanera y Tributaria – SENIAT)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

Administrative Order No. SNAT/ 2010/ 0090, issued by the SENIAT, was published in the Official Gazette No. 39, 557 of 20 December 2010. It establishes the procedure for the calculation and use of the arm's-length range for transfer pricing purposes. The main considerations are as follows:

- The use of the interquartile range is mentioned as the arm's-length range.
- In case the price or amount or profit margin is within the interquartile range (arm's-length range), the tax administration will deem it as agreed to by independent parties. If, however, it is not within the interquartile range, the taxpayer must take the median of the range as the arm's-length price. In February 2007, a partial reform of the Income Tax Law (ITL) and rules on thin capitalization were published in the Official Gazette No. 38. 628. The thin capitalization rules apply, as of FY 2008, to Venezuelan taxpayers or Venezuelan permanent establishments holding debt (controlled debt) of companies or individuals who are considered related according to Title VII, Chapter III of the ITL. The main inclusions are as follows:
 - Taxpayers will have the limited possibility of deducting interest expenses resulting from related parties' loans when the average amount of debt (with related and unrelated parties) exceeds the average amount of equity for the respective fiscal year.
 - The amount by which the debt exceeds the taxpayer's equity will be treated as equity for income tax purposes.

c. Effective date of applicability

20 December 2010

d. Section reference from local regulation

The section reference is Venezuelan ITL, Articles 109 to 168.

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

No

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Venezuela is not a member of the OECD. Article 113 of the ITL states that for everything not foreseen in it, the 1995 OECD Guidelines or their later versions will apply, to the extent that they are consistent with the provisions of the ITL.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

▪ Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

Yes

Transfer pricing informative return (Form PT- 99)

According to the ITL, it should be submitted within three months after the company's fiscal year-end.

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

Yes

▪ Additional details

A controlled party's transfer pricing informative return (Form PT- 99) must be filed during the six months immediately following the close of each tax year of controlled party. The Form PT- 99 is available on the SENIAT's website.

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

No

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

No

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

No

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

All information that supports transfer pricing calculations, in accordance with the provisions of Article 167 of the ITL

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

The deadline is six months after the end of the taxpayer's fiscal year.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

Not applicable

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

Upon request

▪ Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation only needs to be finalized by the time of submission upon request by the SENIAT. The transfer pricing informative return (Form PT- 99) must be submitted within six months after the end of the fiscal year. The transfer pricing study must be submitted only if the tax authorities require it.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

Yes

- Additional details

Usually, the deadline is two to five workdays after the tax authorities require it. The documentation must comply with Article 167 of the local income tax law. The transfer pricing informative return must be submitted within six months after the end of the taxpayer's fiscal year.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

The taxpayer usually has two to five working days to submit the transfer pricing documentation once requested by the tax authorities in an audit or inquiry.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

- a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

Yes

- Additional details

The acceptable methods are the OECD methods: CUP, resale price, cost-plus, profit-split and TNMM. In Venezuela, the CUP method takes priority over others.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

- a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

Regional comparable companies are accepted. However, experience tells us that the tax administration prefers comparables located in the United States and Canada.

- b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

There is a preference for both single-year and multiyear analysis. However, Article 132 of the ITL establishes that data from previous years may be used in determining the transfer prices to reduce the effects of macroeconomic variables on the results obtained. The tax administration prefers the use of multiple years. It is important to notice that the comparison is between a single year of the company against three of the comparable set.

- c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

Yes, interquartile range calculation using spreadsheet quartile formulas is acceptable.

- d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

It can be both. But, usually, an update of the financial information of previous comparable companies is used.

- e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

There is a preference for a weighted average for arm's-length analysis.

- f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

- a. Compliance penalties

- What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

Filing an incomplete PT- 99 will trigger a penalty of 100 times the highest exchange rate published by the Venezuelan Central Bank (Banco Central de Venezuela – BCV).

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Not applicable

- Are there any other penalties?

A failure to file Form PT- 99 will trigger a penalty of 150 times the highest exchange rate published by the Venezuelan Central Bank and a company closure for 10 consecutive days. When failing to submit the documentation upon request by the SENIAT, the taxpayer faces a fine of 1,000 times the highest exchange rate published by the Venezuelan Central Bank and a company closure for 10 consecutive days. Additionally, there is a fine ranging from 100% to 300% of the omitted tax amount. If there is a transfer pricing assessment, late payment interest may also be added to these amounts. The pecuniary sanctions for formal duties will be increased by 200%, when they are committed by subjects qualified as special by the SENIAT.

b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

No

- Additional details

In the case of a transfer pricing adjustment, it must be made to the median of the interquartile range, and in the event that said adjustment modifies the income, it must be paid from 100% to 300% of the omitted tax.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

No, the interest is charged only for late payment.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

If a taxpayer applies a legally sanctioned transfer pricing method, this could be considered a mitigating circumstance in the determination of an assessment. This penalty relief is based on previous tax audit procedures and assessments, but there is no legal provision supporting it.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

According to Article 55 of the Organic Tax Code, the statute of limitations is six years from the date of filing the return and 10 years if the taxpayer fails to comply with the filing of any tax return, including returns for income tax. However, the transfer pricing informative return doesn't imply payments of any type.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

Will be reviewed as part of the audit. The possibility that the transfer pricing methodology will be challenged if transfer pricing is reviewed as part of the audit may be considered to be medium.

- b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

- c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

This is not specified.

- d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

The SENIAT continues to be very active and effective in handling transfer pricing audits. It has added transfer pricing as a relevant topic to be reviewed during general tax audits. Thus far, audits have been conducted on taxpayers irrespective of industry. Tax audits have been focused both on formal duties (i.e., request for contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation, filing PT- 99) and on the determination of proper taxable income in intercompany transactions (e.g., challenge methodology, comparables, use of multiple years' data, segmented financial data by transaction or activity). The evaluation criteria to trigger a transfer pricing audit are:

- Inconsistencies among the transfer pricing report, income tax return and transfer pricing information return
- Use of non-updated financial information from comparable companies up to June of the Fiscal Year subject to the study
- PLIs below the interquartile arm's-length range
- Lower operating margins, compared with operating margins from prior years or with operating losses
- Late filing of transfer pricing informative return Currently, in the transfer pricing review process, the time frame to submit the information requested ranges from two to three business days, and there is a reluctance to give extensions.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Unilateral and bilateral APAs are available to the extent that they are carried out with nations that have concluded double taxation treaties with Venezuela (refer to ITL Articles 141 to 165 and Master Tax Code Chapter III, Articles 230 to 239). Nonetheless, there are no APAs in Venezuela.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

All specifications and terms for APAs are in Articles 141 to 165 of the ITL.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

There is none specified.

d. Is MAP available?

There is none specified.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

Interest paid directly or indirectly to persons that are considered related parties will be deductible only to the extent to which the amount of debts agreed directly or indirectly with related parties plus the amount of debts agreed with independent third parties does not exceed the net equity of the taxpayer.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Department of Taxation (CucThue – DT)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

On 5 November 2020, Vietnam's Government issued Decree 132/2020/ND-CP (Decree 132) that took effect on 20 December 2020 and replaced Decree No. 20/2017/ND-CP dated 24 February 2017, Circular No. 41/2017/TT-BTC dated 28 April 2017, and Decree No. 68/2020/ND-CP dated 24 June 2020. Decree 132 is applicable for the corporate income tax (CIT) period 2020 onward.

On 10 February 2025, Vietnam's Government issued Decree 20/2025/ND-CP, which revises certain provisions of Decree 132 on tax administration for companies having transactions with related parties. Decree 20/2025/ND-CP takes effect from 27 March 2025 and applies for the CIT period 2024 onward.

Law on Tax Administration No. 38/2019/QH 14 (Law 38) provides guidance on tax administration, including transfer pricing, and takes effect from 1 July 2020. Decree 126/2020/ND-CP provides detailed guidance on certain articles of Law 38, including transfer pricing and takes effect from 5 December 2020. Article 50 of the Law 38 articulates the arm's-length principle, which empowers tax authorities to adjust the value of purchases, sales, exchanges and accounting records of goods and services of taxpayers if that value is not in accordance with market prices.

c. Effective date of applicability

20 December 2020

d. Section reference from local regulation

Article 5 of Decree 132 and Article 1 of Decree 20/2025/ND-CP provides the definition of related parties as follows:

- a. An enterprise directly or indirectly owns at least 25% of the contributed capital of the other enterprise.
- b. Both enterprises are directly or indirectly owned at least 25% of the contributed capital by a third party.
- c. An enterprise is the biggest shareholder and directly or indirectly owns at least 10% of the total share of the other enterprise.
- d. An enterprise guarantees or offers another enterprise a loan under any form (including third-party loans guaranteed by financing sources of related parties and similar nature of financial transactions) provided that the total outstanding loan balance between a borrowing enterprise and a lending enterprise or guaranteeing enterprise must be at least 25% of the equity capital of the borrowing enterprise's owner and over 50% of the total outstanding balance of all medium and long-term debts of the borrowing enterprise. The provisions of Point d of this Clause shall not apply to the following cases:
 - d. 1) Guarantors or lending enterprises are economic organizations operating under the provisions of the Law on Credit Institutions and do not directly or indirectly participate in the management, control, capital contribution or investment of the borrowing entity or the guaranteeing enterprise, as outlined in points a, c, đ, e, g, h, k, l, and m of this clause.
 - d. 2) Guarantors or lending enterprises are economic organizations operating under the provisions of the Law on Credit Institutions, and the borrowing enterprise or the guaranteeing enterprises do not directly or indirectly participate in the management, control, capital contribution or investment of another party, as outlined in points b, e, and i of this clause.
- e. An enterprise appoints members of the executive board who are responsible for the leadership or control of another enterprise, provided that the number of members appointed by the former accounts for more than 50% of the total number of members of the executive board of the latter; or a member appointed by the former has the authority to decide financial policies or business activities of the latter.
- f. Both enterprises have more than 50% of members of the executive board or one member of the executive board who has the authority to decide financial policies or business activities, who are appointed by a third party.
- g. Both enterprises are managed or controlled in terms of their personnel, financial and business activities by individuals, each of whom has one of the following relationship pairing: wife and husband, birth/adoptive/step parents, parents-in-law; and birth/adopted/step children, children-in-law; birth/half siblings, siblings-in-law of birth/half siblings; maternal/paternal grandfather/grandmother, and maternal/paternal grandchildren; birth aunt/uncle, niece, and nephew.
- h. Both business entities, which are head office and permanent establishments or permanent establishments of the same overseas entity or individual.
- i. Enterprises that are under the control of one individual through either their contributed capital into such enterprise(s) or their direct involvement in the administration of such enterprise(s).

- j. Other cases where an enterprise (including independent accounting branches that declare and pay corporate income tax) has their business activities managed, controlled or decided de facto by the other enterprise.
- k. Enterprise engaged in capital transfers, receipts of capital transfer of at least 25% of the contributed capital during the tax period; borrowing, lending at least 10% of the contributed capital at the time of transaction within the tax period with individual who manage or control the enterprise or with individual in one of the relationships prescribed in point (g) of this clause.
- l. Credit institutions with subsidiaries or with controlled companies or with affiliated companies of the credit institution as stipulated in the Law on Credit Institutions and its amendments, supplements, or replacements (if any).

Point 21, Article 3, of the Law on Tax Administration 38, which takes effect on 1 July 2020, also provides the general definition of related-party relationship: "Related parties are parties directly or indirectly participating in the management, control or equity of the other enterprise. Or they could be parties directly or indirectly under the management or control of an organization or individual. They can also be parties having the investments from the same organization or individual, or enterprises under the management or control of the individuals with a close relationship within the same family."

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

There is a documentation obligation for domestic transactions. However, Clause 1, Article 19, of Decree 132 provides that "Taxpayers are exempt from the transfer pricing declaration in Section III and Section IV of Appendix I issued together with the Decree, and are exempt from preparing transfer pricing documentation as stipulated in this Decree in cases where they are only engaged in transactions with related parties that are corporate income taxpayers in Vietnam, applying the same corporate income tax rate as the taxpayer, and no party is entitled to corporate income tax incentives during the tax period. However, they must declare the basis for exemption in Section I and Section II of Appendix I issued together with this Decree."

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Limited

▪ Additional details

Vietnam is not a member of the OECD. The OECD Guidelines can be a reference source but are not officially accepted, while Decree 132 adopts certain concepts of BEPS actions.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation (Local File and Master File) must be prepared by the time of submitting the annual CIT finalization return (i.e., no later than the last day of the third month from the end of calendar year or fiscal year) and timely submitted upon the tax authority's request. Regarding CbCR, Decree 132 provides detailed guidance at Point 5, Article 18 as mentioned below.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

Yes

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Other

- Is there any other threshold?

Yes

- Additional details

Taxpayers shall be exempted from the transfer pricing documentation requirements in the following circumstances:

- Taxpayers are only engaged in transactions with related parties that are corporate income taxpayers in Vietnam, applying the same corporate income tax rate as the taxpayer, and no party is entitled to CIT tax incentives during the tax period.

- Taxpayers are engaged in related-party transactions but their total revenue within a tax period is less than VND50 billion, and the total value of related-party transactions within a tax period does not exceed VND30 billion.
- Taxpayers already entering into advance pricing agreement (APA) have submitted the annual report in accordance with legislation on advance pricing agreements. For those related-party transactions that are not covered by the APA, taxpayers shall be responsible for making transfer pricing declarations as required under Vietnamese TP regulations.
- Taxpayers perform business activities by exercising simple functions, neither generating any revenue nor incurring any cost from operation or use of intangible assets, generating the sales of less than VND200 billion, as well as applying the ratio of net operating profit before deducting loan interest and CIT (exclusive of the difference between sales and costs of financial activities) to net sales in the following sectors:
 - Distribution: 5% or over
 - Manufacturing: 10% or over
 - Processing: 15% or over

▪ CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

VND18,000 billion

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Point 5, Article 18 of Decree 132 provides detailed guidance on taxpayers' obligations relating to CbCR as summarized below:

A Vietnamese ultimate parent entity (UPE) with global consolidated revenue in a tax period of VND18,000 billion or more must prepare Appendix IV (CbCR) and submit it to the tax authority no later than 12 months from the fiscal year-end of the UPE.

For a Vietnamese taxpayer whose overseas UPE is obliged to submit a CbCR in its jurisdiction of residence, the Vietnamese tax authority will obtain that CbCR by engaging on the Automatic Exchange of Information (AEOI) in accordance with its commitment under the International Tax Agreement of Vietnam.

A Vietnamese taxpayer must submit a CbCR report to the Vietnamese tax authority in the following cases:

- The jurisdiction of residence of the UPE has signed an International Tax Agreement with Vietnam but there is no Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) for AEOI in place at the time of the CbCR submission deadline.
- The jurisdiction of residence of the UPE has joined the MCAA with Vietnam but suspended the AEOI or cannot automatically provide the CbCR to the Vietnamese tax authorities.
- In case a multinational group having more than one taxpayer in Vietnam and the UPE issues a written notification to appoint one of the taxpayers in Vietnam to submit the CbCR on behalf of all the Vietnamese entities, the appointed taxpayer shall be obliged to submit such report to the tax authority. Taxpayer shall be obliged to submit the written notification of appointment issued by the UPE no later than the financial year end of the UPE.

A Vietnamese taxpayer is not obligated to submit a CbCR to the Vietnamese tax authority if the UPE appoints an organization to submit the CbCR to the tax authority of the host jurisdiction on its behalf (appointed organization) no later than 12 months from the financial year end of the UPE and the following conditions are fulfilled:

- The jurisdiction of residence of the appointed organization has the following regulations:
- Legally requires the submission of CbCR
- Has an MCAA with Vietnam to which such jurisdiction is a signing party at the time of the CbCR submission deadline
- Does not suspend the AEOI and can provide a CbCR to the Vietnamese tax authorities

- The appointed organization provides a written notification on the appointed to submit a CbCR to the jurisdiction of its residence no later than the financial year end of the UPE.
- The Vietnamese taxpayer submits the written notification to the Vietnamese tax authority.

Decree 123 also indicates that the Vietnamese tax authorities will annually announce on their tax web portal the list of foreign tax authorities that engage in the AEOI with respect to CbCR.

▪ Master File

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of Master File?

Not specified

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

The transfer pricing documentation (Local File and Master File) must be prepared by the time of submitting the annual CIT finalization return (i.e., no later than the last day of the third month from the end of calendar year or fiscal year) and timely submitted upon the tax authority's request. Regarding CbCR, Decree 132 provides detailed guidance at Point 5, Article 18.

Not applicable

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

The Master File is required to be submitted upon request of the tax authority.

- Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

No later than 12 months from the fiscal year end of the UPE.

- Additional details

Not applicable

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

CbCR notification is only required for CbCR submission appointment. Submission date is no later than the fiscal year end of the UPE.

- Additional details

Not applicable

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By tax return lodgment date

- Additional details

Transfer pricing documentation must typically be prepared and maintained by the time of lodging the final CIT return and forms a part of the return.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

- Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

- Additional details

No, there is currently no statutory deadline for the submission of transfer pricing documentation. It will need to be submitted timely upon request.

- What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

In consultation phase before the official tax/transfer pricing audit, taxpayers must submit transfer pricing documentation within 30 working days upon the tax authority's written request (possible for onetime extension with no more 15 working days). In tax/transfer pricing audit, transfer pricing documentation must be submitted upon the tax authority's request in a timely manner.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

- a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

- Additional details

Decree 132 permits the use of the following methods: CUP, resale price, cost-plus, comparable profit (TNMM under OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines), and profit-split. Taxpayers are required to select the most appropriate method to determine whether the pricing arrangement is at arm's length under the prevailing regulations. There is no hierarchy among the methods specified, but recent practices suggest that the Vietnamese tax authority has a growing preference for the use of internal comparables.

7. Benchmarking Requirements

- a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There is a legal requirement for local comparables. Where no local comparables are available, comparables in other countries within regions that have comparable conditions of industries and levels of economic development are acceptable.

- b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Single-year testing is required. In audits, the tax authority prefers the single-year testing.

Point 9, Article 4 of Decree 132 defines the standard arm's-length range as values from the 35th percentile to the 75th percentile, with the median value being the 50th percentile.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

There is no specific requirement to conduct a fresh benchmarking search every year. However, annual comparability review and financial update need to be performed to comply with the Vietnamese TP regulations.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

Single-year testing is required. The standard arm's-length range extends from the 35th percentile to the 75th percentile, with the median value being the 50th percentile.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There are many criteria to be applied including comparable companies having three consecutive years of financial data, local comparables prioritized, etc. All information relating to the benchmarking analysis, including, but not limited to, annual reports of companies, website snapshots and any other evidence of the search process, can be requested by the tax authority.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

- Administrative penalties ranging from VND2 million up to VND25 million are imposed for late submission of CIT finalization return (including transfer pricing disclosure forms). In addition, a penalty ranging from VND8 million to VND15 million is imposed for not submitting transfer pricing disclosure forms.

- The tax authority has the right to deem adjustment to the price level; profit margin; profit allocation ratio; taxable income or CIT payable for taxpayers who do not comply with the regulations on declaring and determining related transactions; do not provide or provide incomplete information and data for declaring and determining prices of related transactions in the following cases:
 - The taxpayer does not declare, declares incomplete information, or does not submit Appendix I issued together with this Decree.
 - The taxpayer provides incomplete information in the documentation for determining prices of related transactions as stipulated in Appendix II, Appendix III issued together with this Decree, or does not present the documentation for determining prices of related transactions and the data, documents, and materials used as the basis for analysis, comparison, and price determination in the documentation for determining prices of related transactions as required by the tax authority within the time limit specified in this Decree. Information in the documentation for determining prices of related transactions is considered significant if this information affects the results of the analysis in selecting comparable independent entities; the method for determining prices of related transactions or the results of adjusting the price level, profit margin, or profit allocation ratio of the taxpayer.
 - The taxpayer uses dishonest, inaccurate information about independent transactions for analysis, comparison, and declaration of determining prices of related transactions or relies on illegal, invalid documents, data, and materials that do not specify the origin to determine the price level, profit margin, or profit allocation ratio applicable to related transactions.
- The taxpayer violates the regulations on exemption cases.
- In case of being adjusted by the tax authority in tax/transfer pricing audits, taxpayers are subject to a penalty of 20% of additional tax in the case of an incorrect declaration. Additional penalties of up to three times the outstanding tax due may be imposed if there is a finding of tax evasion or fraud.
- The interest penalty of 0.03% per day, over the outstanding tax due, may also be imposed if a transfer pricing adjustment is made.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Administrative penalties ranging from VND2 million up to VND25 million are imposed for late submission of CIT finalization return (including transfer pricing disclosure forms). In addition, a penalty ranging from VND8 million to VND15 million is imposed for not submitting transfer pricing disclosure forms.

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Master File?

Administrative penalties ranging from VND2 million up to VND25 million are imposed for late submission of CIT finalization return (including transfer pricing disclosure forms). In addition, a penalty ranging from VND8 million to VND15 million is imposed for not submitting transfer pricing disclosure forms.

- Are there any other penalties?

Not applicable

- b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

- Additional details

Administrative penalties ranging from VND2 million up to VND25 million are imposed for late submission of CIT finalization return (including transfer pricing disclosure forms). In addition, a penalty ranging from VND8 million to VND15 million is imposed for not submitting transfer pricing disclosure forms.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

No

- Additional details

Penalty applicable for non-contemporaneous documentation is not specified.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

The late-payment interest of 0.03% per day, over the outstanding tax due, may also be imposed if a transfer pricing adjustment is made.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

No

- Additional details

Penalties may be reduced by timely and adequate disclosure of the related-party transactions on Appendix I, II and III attached to Decree 132, and by the preparation and timely production of the three-tiered transfer pricing documentation. Taxpayers that do not agree with the decision of the tax authority can appeal on the decision to a higher level or go to court.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

Transfer pricing is considered as one area of tax and has the same statute of limitations. The statute of limitations applicable for tax collection is 10 years, counted from the date on which the tax offenses are found. However, where the taxpayer did not register for tax, there is no statute of limitations for collecting the tax shortfall and late payment interest.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

- a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

As the tax authority is currently paying more attention to transfer pricing, they tends to review the TP documentation in detail, including challenging the transfer pricing methodologies and benchmarking analysis.

- b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

Not applicable

- c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

In case a taxpayer's transfer prices/profit margin is lower than the arm's length range, the taxpayer must determine an appropriate value in the range that reflects the greatest comparability with the related-party transactions and make relevant adjustments. In addition, Vietnamese transfer pricing regulations also emphasize that transfer pricing adjustment should only be made if the adjustment does not result in a reduction of tax payable to the State Revenue. Therefore, downward adjustment made to reduce tax liability in Vietnam is prohibited. In addition, according to Decree 132, in case the tax authority make deemed adjustment, the adjusted value is the median value of the arm's-length range.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

Transfer pricing audits are increasing and become more sophisticated. Some of the focus points in transfer pricing audit are as follows:

- Situations: loss-making/low profit companies, large enterprises, companies that have not been inspected or examined for a long time, companies enjoying tax incentives, companies reporting highly fluctuated financial results, etc.
- Industry: various industries
- Transaction: high-value transactions, high-risk transactions (e.g., royalties, loans, intragroup services), etc.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Yes. APA regulations in Vietnam support unilateral, bilateral and multilateral APAs.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

An APA can be effective for up to three years and can be extended.

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Roll-back provisions are not available.

d. Is MAP available?

Yes, taxpayers may request a MAP if taxation has or is likely to occur not in accordance with the provisions of a double taxation treaty (DTT) to which Vietnam is signatory. Most of Vietnam's DTTs permit taxpayers to present a case to the tax authorities within two or three years from the first notification to the taxpayer on the actions giving rise to taxation that are not in accordance with the DTT. However, the time limits may vary, and the relevant DTT should be consulted for the applicable time limit.

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

There are no specific tax-driven thin capitalization rules in Vietnam.

1. Tax authority and relevant transfer pricing regulation or rulings

a. Name of tax authority

Zambia Revenue Authority (ZRA)

b. Name of transfer pricing regulations or rulings

The Income Tax Act (ITA), Section 97A Draft Regulations were published in 2017 and are more detailed than the initial income tax legislation. The draft regulations and document requirements took effect from FY 2017. As per amendment of transfer pricing regulations through government gazette dated 6 April 2018, Zambia has adopted OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines July 2017 recommendations. The amendment seeks to enhance the existing transfer pricing regulations by providing detailed guidance on application of arm's-length principle and Zambia's transfer pricing documentation requirement.

c. Effective date of applicability

2017

d. Section reference from local regulation

Sections 97A to 97D

e. Are transfer pricing compliance obligations applicable to domestic transactions?

Yes

▪ Additional details

Not applicable

2. OECD guidelines treatment and BEPS implementation

a. Is the jurisdiction part of OECD or G20 Inclusive Framework on BEPS?

Yes

b. Does the jurisdiction rely on OECD TP Guidelines?

Largely

▪ Additional details

Zambia is a member of the OECD. The transfer pricing regulations recognize the application of OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines and the United Nations practical manual on transfer pricing for developing countries. However, the local regulations will prevail in case of any inconsistencies.

c. BEPS Action 13 implementation overview

▪ Has the jurisdiction adopted BEPS Action 13?

No

▪ Additional details

Zambia has not explicitly adopted BEPS Action 13 for transfer pricing documentation in local regulations, but there are some elements thereof.

▪ Does the jurisdiction require country-by-country reporting (CbCR)?

Yes

▪ Coverage

An ultimate parent entity that is tax resident in Zambia, with consolidated group revenue of ZMW4,795 million, in the previous fiscal year must file a CbCR with the Commissioner General, 12 months after the last day of the reporting year of the multinational enterprise with respect to that reporting fiscal year. Where no entity in the group files a CbCR, the Zambian resident entity must file if the group revenue exceeds the ZMW4,795 threshold. It should be noted that the ZMW4,795 threshold is the equivalent of EUR750 million as at January 2015.

▪ Effective or expected date of commencement

The effective commencement date is 1 January 2021.

▪ Material differences from OECD report template or format

No material differences from OECD format

▪ Does the jurisdiction require a Master File?

e. Is the jurisdiction a signatory of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (MCAA) on the exchange of CbCR?

No

3. Transfer pricing documentation requirements

a. Applicability

- Does the jurisdiction have transfer pricing documentation guidelines or rules?

Yes

- If yes, does the transfer pricing documentation need to be submitted or prepared contemporaneously?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes, Zambia has transfer pricing documentation guidelines. The documentation must be contemporaneous. There is no requirement to submit.

- Does a local branch of a foreign company need to comply with the local transfer pricing rules?

Yes

- Is there a requirement for transfer pricing documentation to be prepared annually?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes, the transfer pricing documentation must be prepared on an annual basis and maintained for 10 years.

- For a Multinational Enterprise (MNE) with multiple entities in the jurisdiction, is it required to have stand-alone transfer pricing reports for each entity?

Yes

b. Materiality limit or thresholds

- TP documentation

- Is there a financial threshold for applicability of TP documentation?

No

- If yes, what financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Not applicable

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

Local entities with an annual net turnover equal to or exceeding ZMW50 million are required to prepare documentation. However, the threshold does not apply to multinational enterprises (MNEs), effectively rendering all MNEs subject to transfer pricing requirements.

- CbCR

- What is the financial threshold for applicability of CbCR?

ZMW4,795 million

- What financial metric or basis is used to determine the threshold?

Annual global income

- Is there any other threshold?

No

- Additional details

An ultimate parent entity that is tax resident in Zambia, with consolidated group revenue of ZMW4,795 million, in the previous fiscal year must file a CbCR with the Commissioner General, 12 months after the last day of the reporting year of the multinational enterprise with respect to that reporting fiscal year. Where no entity in the group files a CbCR, the Zambian resident entity must file if the group revenue exceeds the ZMW 4,795 threshold. - Is there a local language requirement for TP documentation?

No

- Additional details

The transfer pricing reports are to be prepared in English. The Income Tax (Transfer Pricing) (Amendment) Regulations, 2018, state that if the documents are prepared in a language other than English, the taxpayer will have to translate the documentation at the person's own expenses and have it certified by a translator before a notary public.

- Is a safe harbor available?

Yes

- Additional details

A safe harbor of cost plus 5% is provided on the amount charged for the provision of a low-value-added service between associated persons. No specifications have been provided for financial transactions.

- Is aggregation or individual testing of transactions preferred for an entity?

- Individual testing

- Additional details

The guidelines provide for entities to test transactions on a transaction-by-transaction basis and where an aggregate testing is done, reasoning should be provided.

- Is there any other disclosure or compliance requirement?

No

4. Transfer pricing return and related-party disclosures

a. Is there a transfer pricing-specific return?

No

- Additional details

Not applicable

b. Are related-party disclosures required to be filed along with corporate income tax return?

Yes

- Additional details

Effective from 2018 (including FY 2017), taxpayers must state all related-party transactions in the annual income tax return. Taxpayers are required to disclose details of new related companies (worldwide) within a month of the companies becoming related. The penalty for nondisclosure is approximately ZMW4,000 per day for the company and each of the directors.

c. Are related-party disclosures required in the financial statement or annual report?

Companies are required to disclose related-party transactions under the related-party notes to the financial statements.

d. Is CbCR notification included in the corporate tax return?

Yes, the disclosure is added as part of the income tax return.

e. Other information or documents required to be filed?

No

5. Preparation or submission deadlines for transfer pricing documentation or Local File and transfer pricing returns

a. What is the corporate tax return submission deadline?

21 June (for FY 2022)

- Additional details

For FY 2022, the due date for the return filing is 21 June 2023; prior to FY 2017, the due date for the corporate income tax return filing was 30 June of the following year.

b. What is the transfer pricing return submission deadline?

21 June

- Additional details

Taxpayers must disclose all related-party transactions in their annual returns, effective from FY 2017. The regulations state that transfer pricing documentation must be prepared by the date of submission of the annual income tax return, but a transfer pricing document does not need to be submitted.

c. What is the Master File submission deadline?

Not applicable

- Additional details

Not applicable

d. What is the CbCR submission deadline?

Within 12 months following the reporting fiscal year-end of the MNE group

- Additional details

CbCR must be filed no later than 12 months after the last day of the reporting accounting year of the MNE group.

e. What is the CbCR notification submission deadline?

By or before the reporting fiscal year-end of the MNE group

- Additional details

CbCR notification must be filed no later than the last day of the reporting accounting year of the MNE group.

f. What is the transfer pricing documentation or Local File preparation deadline?

By tax return lodgment date

▪ Additional details

Effective from 2018, for FY 2017 and each subsequent year, contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation must be prepared by the date of submission of the annual income tax return.

g. Transfer pricing documentation/Local File submission deadline

▪ Is there a statutory deadline for submission of transfer pricing documentation or Local File?

No

▪ Additional details

No, however, the document should be in place by the time of submission of the income tax return on 21 June.

▪ What is the time period or deadline for submission upon tax authority request?

Transfer pricing documentation should be submitted within 30 days upon written request by the ZRA Commissioner General.

6. Transfer Pricing methods

a. Is there any priority and preference of Transfer Pricing methods?

No

▪ Additional details

The regulations state the following methods as the approved transfer pricing methods from which an appropriate method can be chosen:

- CUP
- Resale price
- Cost-plus
- TNMM
- Transactional profit-split

7. Benchmarking Requirements

a. Are local comparables preferred over foreign comparables for benchmarking?

There is no legal requirement; local comparables are rarely used because of the challenge in finding information locally.

b. Is a single-year analysis preferred over a multiyear analysis for benchmarking?

Multiyear analysis

c. Is there any requirement for use of interquartile range and is there any formula for determining interquartile range?

Yes, interquartile range calculation using spreadsheet quartile formulas is acceptable.

d. Are fresh benchmarking searches required every year or is a roll forward of comparable companies and update of the financials acceptable?

As a practice, a fresh benchmarking search is not required every year.

e. Does benchmarking have to be simple, weighted, or pooled results?

A weighted average is preferred, as per common practice.

f. Any other benchmarking criteria?

There is none specified.

8. TP Penalties and Relief

a. Compliance penalties

▪ What are the penalties for non-maintenance/non-furnishing/incomplete furnishing of documentation?

In an instance that the transfer pricing document is requested for by the Zambia Revenue Authority and the document is found to not align to the guidelines as per the Regulations, the penalties that relate to noncompliance of transfer pricing regulations of up to ZMW32 million may apply.

▪ What is the penalty for failure to furnish the CbCR?

Not applicable

- What is the penalty for failure to furnish Maste File?

Not applicable

- Are there any other penalties?

Noncompliance with the regulations may result in an offense and liability on conviction to penalties specified under the ITA (i.e., from 1 January 2018 to 31 December 2018, penalty is ZMW3,000, and with effect from 1 January 2019, penalty of ZMW24 million (80 penalty units)). It should be noted that the penalty units conversation were amended in 2024 from 1 penalty unit equivalent to k0.3 to 1 penalty unit equivalent to k0.4, therefore changing the TP penalty from ZMW24 million to ZMW32 million.

- b. Penalties post TP audit

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed incomplete?

Yes

- Additional details

Penalties can be assessed. The rates stated in the income tax return are the applicable rates.

- Is a penalty applicable if documentation is deemed non-contemporaneous?

Yes

- Additional details

Penalties can be assessed. The rates stated in the income tax return are the applicable rates.

- Is interest charged on penalties or payable on a refund?

No

- Additional details

The interest rates are per the ITA. The interest is linked to the prevailing Bank of Zambia lending rates.

- Can penalty relief be obtained?

Yes

- Additional details

Penalty relief is available through negotiations with the tax authority.

9. What is the statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments?

There is a specific statute of limitations on transfer pricing assessments (10 years) with effect from 1 January 2019. The normal income tax statute of limitations applicable is six years. With effect from 1 January 2019, taxpayers are also required to retain transfer pricing-related records for a period of 10 years (six years for other tax records) with the base year being 2012.

10. Transfer pricing audit environment

a. Is it a common practice for transfer pricing methodologies to be subject to scrutiny by the tax authorities?

Yes

- Additional details

There has been a recent rise in the number of TP audits in Zambia. These audits among other things scrutinize the type of transfer pricing methodology used for related party transactions. There has also been no specific sector focus.

b. If the transfer pricing methodology is challenged, can the consequences of a successful challenge include an adjustment?

Yes

- Additional details

Yes. If methodology is challenged, then an adjustment will be made. However, there is a possibility to object to the assessment raised.

When the Revenue Authority issue preliminary audit assessments, the taxpayer will be able to object to those findings if they are not happy with the assessment. It is important to note that typically during a transfer pricing audit, the Revenue Authority will issue several assessments based on information received from the taxpayer.

The Revenue Authority will then issue a final assessment, and if a taxpayer is still not satisfied with the results of the audit, the taxpayer may appeal to the Commissioner General. If the taxpayer is not satisfied with the response from the Commissioner General, they may then appeal to the Tax Appeals Tribunal.

c. Are there any specific regulations on transfer pricing adjustments, for example, to the median or to any point in the interquartile range?

There is none specified.

d. Are there any specific transactions, industries, and situations, more likely to undergo audit?

At the time of this publication, there was no specific industry which was more likely to undergo an audit as all industries were receiving audit requests for information.

11. Advance Pricing Agreement and Mutual Agreement Procedure availability

a. Are APAs available?

Zambia does not have a formal APA program.

b. What is the typical tenure of an APA?

Not applicable

c. Do APAs have roll-back provisions?

Not applicable

d. Is MAP available?

Yes

12. What are the relevant regulations and rulings with respect to thin capitalization or debt capacity in the jurisdiction?

Glossary of key terms

APA (advance pricing agreement)

An Advance Pricing Agreement (APA) is an agreement between a tax payer and tax authority determining the transfer pricing methodology for pricing the tax payer's international transactions for future years. The methodology is to be applied for a certain period of time based on the fulfilment of certain terms and conditions (called critical assumptions). An APA may be unilateral involving one tax administration and a taxpayer or multilateral involving the agreement of two or more tax administrations.

Arm's-length principle

The international standard adopted by the OECD and in many jurisdictions mandating that the result that related parties obtain from an intercompany transaction approximates the result that uncontrolled parties would have obtained had they undertaken the same transaction under the same circumstances. It is set forth in Article 9 of the OECD Model Tax Convention.

Arm's length range

A range of outcomes that are acceptable for establishing whether the conditions of a controlled transaction are deemed to be at arm's length.

BEPS (base erosion and profit shifting)

On 12 February 2013, the OECD released its report Addressing Base Erosion and Profit Shifting, followed by the release of Action Plan on 5 October 2015. Thus, the OECD aims to develop approaches for addressing government concerns about multinational companies (MNCs) reducing their tax liability through BEPS activity.

CbCR (country-by-country reporting)

Part of the OECD's BEPS Action Plan 13. MNCs are required to provide the country-by-country (CbC) report, which includes information on their global allocation of income, economic activity and taxes paid among countries.

CFC (controlled foreign corporation)

A subsidiary and member of an MNE group.

CPM (comparable profits method)

A method that, under US regulations, is used to determine an arm's-length range of outcomes for transfers of both tangible and intangible property. If the reported operating income of the tested party is not within a certain range, an adjustment will be made. In effect, this method requires a comparison of the operating income that results from the consideration actually charged in a controlled transfer with the operating income of similar taxpayers that are uncontrolled. The CPM in US is similar to the TNMM; see below.

CCA (cost contribution arrangement) or CSA (cost sharing agreement)

A framework agreed upon among enterprises to share the costs and risks of developing, producing or obtaining assets, services or rights and to determine the nature and extent of the interests of each participant in the result of the activity of developing, producing or obtaining those assets, services or rights.

CUP (comparable uncontrolled price) method

A transfer pricing method that compares the price for property or services in a controlled transaction with the price charged for property or services transferred in a comparable uncontrolled transaction in comparable circumstances.

EU (European Union)

The European Union (EU) is a group of 27 countries that operates as a cohesive economic and political block.

EUJTPF (EU Joint Transfer Pricing Forum)

The EU Joint Transfer Pricing Forum consists of representatives of governments and the private sector, who advise and consult on transfer pricing issues.

FY

Fiscal Year

GAAP (generally accepted accounting principles)

The rules and practices required to be followed in certain jurisdictions for keeping financial records and books of account.

IFRS (International Financial Reporting Standards)

Accounting standards issued by the IFRS Foundation the International Accounting Standards Board. They set common rules so that financial statements can be consistent, transparent and comparable around the world.

MAP (mutual agreement procedure)

A dispute resolution process found in Article 25 of the OECD Model Tax Convention, as well as in various double tax conventions. MAP is a government-to-government process of negotiation to resolve matters of taxation not in accordance with the particular tax treaty and to attempt to avoid double taxation.

MNE (multinational enterprise) / MNC (multinational corporation)

A member of a related group that carries on business directly or indirectly in two or more countries.

MCAA (Multilateral Competent Authorities Agreement)

The purpose of the CbC MCAA is to set forth rules and procedures as may be necessary for Competent Authorities of jurisdictions implementing BEPS Action 13 to automatically exchange CbC Reports prepared by the Reporting Entity of an MNE Group and filed on an annual basis with the tax authorities of the jurisdiction of tax residence of that entity with the tax authorities of all jurisdictions in which the MNE Group operates.

OECD (Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development)

An intergovernmental organization based in Paris that was formed to foster international trade and economic development. The OECD has 38 member countries. Among its many concerns are the removal of tax barriers to the free flow of goods and services and the avoidance of double taxation of income or profits. The OECD has developed transfer pricing guidelines and a model tax convention; see below.

OECD Guidelines

The Transfer Pricing Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and Tax Administrations, the latest edition of which was published by the OECD in 2022. The OECD Guidelines endorse the arm's-length principle and consist of a statement of principles rather than a set of specific rules to be applied.

OECD Model Tax Convention

The Model Tax Convention on Income and on Capital, first published by the OECD in September 2010 and subsequent shorter versions released, the latest being in 2022. The Model Tax Convention is to be used by member countries in negotiations of bilateral double tax treaties. The OECD also provides commentary on the interpretation of the Model Tax Convention and states that member countries should follow this commentary, subject to their expressed reservations thereon, when applying and interpreting their double tax treaties.

PLI (profit level indicator)

A ratio that measures the relationship between an entity's profits and the resources invested or costs incurred to achieve that profit.

TNMM (transactional net margin method)

A profits-based method that compares the profitability of an MNE member with the profits of comparable entities undertaking similar transactions.

UN (United Nations)

An intergovernmental organization that aims to maintain international peace and security, develop friendly relations among nations, achieve international cooperation, and be a center for harmonizing the actions of nations.
