About EY's Entrepreneurial Winning Women™ Program

As the leading advisors to entrepreneurs worldwide, EY knows that access to successful role models and business-building networks are critical for entrepreneurs to accelerate growth. With the EY Entrepreneurial Winning Women program, we channel our resources and convening power to help women entrepreneurs achieve the full potential they envision for their companies. The program identifies and celebrates high-potential female entrepreneurs and provides them with personalized one-on-one business insights and advice as well as insider access to strategic networks of established entrepreneurs, executives, advisors and investors. Unlike many programs, which are focused on helping women to start a business, EY's Entrepreneurial Winning Women program supports women with existing enterprises to scale up and become market-leaders.
