RR No. 5-2023 dated 7 March 2023

- ▶ In general, foreign-sourced dividends received by domestic corporations are subject to Income Tax. However, the same shall be exempt if all the following conditions are met:
  1. The dividends received or remitted into the Philippines are reinvested in the business operations of the domestic corporation within the next taxable year from the time the foreign-sourced dividends were received or remitted;
  2. The dividends received shall be used to fund the working capital requirements, capital expenditures, dividend payments, investment in domestic subsidiaries and infrastructure project; and
  3. The domestic corporation holds directly at least 20% in value of the outstanding shares of the foreign corporation and has held the shareholdings uninterrupted for a minimum of two years at the time of the dividends distribution. In case the foreign corporation has been in existence for less than two years at the time of dividends distribution, then the domestic corporation must have continuously held directly at least 20% in value of the foreign corporation's outstanding shares during the entire existence of the corporation.
- ▶ If any one of the above conditions is absent, the foreign-sourced dividends shall be considered as taxable income of the domestic corporation in the year of actual receipt or remittance, subject to surcharge, interest, and penalties, as applicable.
- ▶ For this purpose, to avail of the income tax exemption, the domestic corporation shall:
  1. Attach a "Sworn Statement", following the template provided in these Regulations (Annex A), to the Annual Income Tax Return (AITR) pertaining to the taxable year in which the foreign-sourced dividends were received; and
  2. Attach to the AITR pertaining to the year immediately following the year of receipt of the foreign-sourced dividends a "Sworn Declaration" using template provided herein (Annex B).

However, in case of partial or non-utilization of the foreign-sourced dividends, the domestic corporation shall pay the corresponding income tax due thereon, inclusive of surcharge, interest and penalties, by amending the AITR filed for the particular period. If the amendment is already prohibited due to existence of audit, the income tax shall be paid using payment form (BIR Form 0605).

- Further, no credit or deduction under Section 34(C) of the Tax Code shall be allowed for any taxes of foreign countries paid or incurred by the domestic corporation in relation to the exempt foreign-sourced dividends. Finally, any taxes of foreign countries paid or incurred by the domestic corporation in relation to the exempt foreign-sourced dividends shall be disregarded in computing the limitations provided under Section 34(C)(4) of the Tax Code.

RMC No. 45-2023 publishes the full Text of FIRB Advisory No. 004-2023 clarifying the issues covering the transfer of registration with the BOI of RBEs in the IT - BPM Sector.

RMC No. 45-2023 dated 19 April 2023

Among the salient clarifications of the FIRB Advisory are summarized below. Please refer to the full text of FIRB Advisory No. 004-2023 for the complete Q&A.

Question		Clarification
Q1.	Can IT-BPM projects registered with other IPAs and located in economic or freeport zones, from 15 September 2022 onwards, register with BOI under FIRB Resolution Nos. 26-2022 and 33-2022?	A1.	No. All registration of new or expansion projects from 15 September 2022 onwards shall be with BOI if the enterprises wish to avail of the 100% work-from-home (WFH) arrangements. Prior to this period, IT-BPM projects may register with the BOI based on FIRB Resolution Nos. 26-2022 and 33-2022.
Q2.	What is the penalty if an IT-BPM project implements WFH arrangements in 2023, but fails to register with the BOI by 31 January 2023?	A2.	IT-BPM RBEs that implemented WFH arrangements in 2023 but failed to register with the BOI by 31 January 2023 shall be subject to a penalty on the regular corporate income tax (RCIT) as specified in FIRB Advisory No. 003-2023, and Bureau of Internal Revenue (BIR) Revenue Memorandum Circular Nos. 23-2022, 39-2022, and 120-2022. This, however, is without prejudice to the suspension or withdrawal of tax incentives or cancellation of the corresponding Certificate of Registration, upon further assessment by the concerned IPAs or the FIRB.
Q3.	How is the penalty on RCIT, in case of non-compliance with Section 309 of the Tax Code, as amended, computed?	A3.	Per FIRB Advisory No. 003-2023, any penalty shall be based on 100% or the entirety of the RCIT for the month/s of non-compliance and not merely on the percentage of non-compliance.

Question		Clarification
Q4.	Can the BOI Certificate of Registration (BOI-COR) be amended after 31 January 2023 in order to include additional projects?	A4.	No, the BOI-COR cannot be amended after 31 January 2023 to include expansions or new projects in order to allow these new projects or expansions to implement WFH arrangements. New or expansion projects or activities of IT-BPM RBEs should be separately registered with the BOI in order to avail of WFH arrangements.
Q6.	How can we avail of the fiscal incentives if BOI has not yet issued the BOI-COR?	A6.	The BIR and Bureau of Customs (BOC) shall accept the official receipt as proof that the BOI-COR will be secured by the company. Generally, in lieu of the BOI-COR, the BOI-issued official receipt shall be accepted as an alternative .
Q8.	Please clarify if the registration with BOI is a transfer of registration or an additional registration in order to institutionalize the conduct of WFH arrangements by IT-BPM RBEs located in economic zones or freeport zones.	A8.	The registration with the BOI will be an additional registration on top of the IT-BPM RBE's existing registration. The registration with BOI will be the basis for fiscal incentives, while the registration with the concerned or original IPA will be the basis for non-fiscal incentives and the corresponding terms and conditions of registration. As such, IT-BPM RBEs must continue to abide by regulations set by both IPAs to maintain their fiscal and non-fiscal incentives.
Q10.	What is the process of requesting the Certificate of Authority to Import (CAI), Certificate of Entitlement to Tax Incentives (CETI), and VAT Zero-rating certificate if the RBE is already BOI registered?	A10.	The CAI, CETI, and VAT Zero-rating certificate shall still be processed with the original or concerned IPA , using their existing processes. Nonetheless, please coordinate with your concerned IPA for any additional reportorial requirements or for any adjustments in existing process flows.
Q35.	Is there a limitation as to the period of enjoyment of WFH arrangement once an IT-BPM project is registered with the BOI?	A35.	There is no limit as to the period of enjoyment of the WFH arrangement once a project is registered with the BOI. Registration with the BOI under FIRB Resolution Nos. 26-2022 and 33-2022 is a permanent solution that enables RBEs located in economic zones or freeport zones to conduct 100% WFH arrangements indefinitely .

RMC No. 46-2023 publishes the full text of FIRB Advisory No. 006-2023 regarding clarifications on the supplemental guidelines on the registration with the BOI of RBEs in the IT - BPM Sector.

RMC No. 46-2023 dated 19 April 2023

- ▶ Discussed in the abovementioned advisory, among others, are:
  1. The policies and guidelines on the movement of capital equipment and other assets within and outside the economic zones and/or Freeport zones; and
  2. Concerns on expansion projects under PEZA.
- ▶ Among the salient clarifications of the FIRB Advisory are summarized below. Please refer to the full text of FIRB Advisory No. 006-2023 for the complete Q&A.

Question		Clarification
Q1:	Are all assets of the IT-BPM RBE covered by these regulations?	A1:	No. Only the capital equipment and other assets related to IT-BPM project or activity registered with the BOI and are to be used to implement WFH arrangements shall be covered by these regulations.
Q2:	What shall be the coverage of the tax exemption indorsement (TEI) to be secured from the Department of Finance-Revenue Office (DOF-RO)?	A2:	Based on Section E of FIRB AO No. 001-2023, as amended by FIRB AO 003-2023, only assets intended to be moved out of or currently outside the economic zones and/or freeport for WFH arrangements shall be required to secure TEI.  Kindly note that existing goods will be covered by a blanket TEI per project, covering existing goods that were imported as of 31 January 2023. For new importations starting 1 February 2023, the TEI shall be processed per project per shipment.
Q3:	If a foreign-supplied intangible asset/software will not pass through the BOC/any port (e.g., purely internet-based), will the TEI no longer be required?	A3:	Yes. The TEI will no longer be required. The TEI only covers goods that are physically imported and processed by the BOC as imports.
Q4:	If the intangible asset/software is a component of a tangible/physical asset (e.g., part of equipment or machinery), will the related TEI be secured?	A4:	Yes. The TEI must be secured. As the intangible asset/software forms part of the imported asset, the cost of such intangible asset/software will be embedded in the purchase price of the tangible/physical asset will be processed by the BOC.

Question		Clarification
Q5:	Can IT-BPM RBEs implement WFH arrangements while still processing the blanket TEI?	A5:	Yes , WFH arrangements are already permitted upon registration with the BOI. However, during the pendency of the issuance of the TEI, the movement of goods from the economic zones and/or freeport zones, in order to operationalize the WFH arrangements, shall only be allowed upon successfully securing a provisional goods declaration (PGD) and submitting a notarized undertaking
Q6:	What is the duration of the bond-free period for existing assets?	A6:	As provided by FIRB Resolution No. 33-2022, and as extended by FIRB Resolution No. 012-23, the bond-free transition period shall run from 1 January 2023 to 30 June 2023.
Q7:	What is the recourse of IT-BPM RBEs if they are still securing the TEI for existing assets by the end of the bond-free transition period?	A7:	After the bond-free transition period, the goods may still be allowed to be moved outside the economic zone or freeport zone provided that a PGD has been secured and the specific and sufficient surety bond has been posted, as approved by the BOC.  However, in no case shall the TEI of existing assets currently outside the economic or freeport zone be secured later than one (1) year from the issuance of FIRB AO No. 003-2023 or the end of the bond-free transitory period, whichever comes later.
Q15:	Do IT-BPM RBEs need to secure staging Bill of Lading (BL)/dummy BL if all WFH assets to be moved outside the economic zone or freeport zone are locally purchased equipment?	A15:	The staging BL/dummy BL is a requirement to process the TEI for imported existing goods. If the WFH assets to be moved outside the economic or freeport zone are locally purchased equipment, then the staging BL/dummy BL does not need to be secured

Q17:	Is the staging BL/dummy BL only required for existing assets?	A17:	Yes , the staging BL/dummy BL is only required to secure the blanket TEI for existing assets. New importations starting 1 February 2023 shall be covered by an actual signed and dated Import BL/ Air Waybill. Please refer to Annex A of FIRB AO No. 001-2023 for the distinction between requirements for existing assets and new importations starting 1 February 2023.
Q18:	What is the process for new importations starting 1 February 2023?	A18:	As amended by FIRB AO No. 003-2022, new importations of ITBPM RBEs shall undergo the existing/status quo clearance procedures and documentary requirements of their concerned IPA in order to release the goods from BOC custody. The additional step of securing a TEI from the DOF-RO will only arise when the IT-BPM RBE requests for the movement of goods from the economic zone or freeport zone.
Q21:	Is submission of invoices and receipts mandatory in order to prove that local purchases are entitled to VAT incentives?	A21:	In general, locally purchased goods used for WFH arrangements, which were subject to VAT zero-rating, should be supported by the related VAT zero-rating certificate issued by the concerned IPAs. Given the need to balance government control procedures and the ease of doing business, risk-based validation should be applied whenever possible.
Q27:	Are transferee IT-BPM RBEs registered with PEZA and BOI still required to maintain an office inside the economic and/or freeport zone?	A27:	Based on PEZA Memorandum Circular No. 2022-067, the transferee RBEs are still required to maintain an office inside PEZA-registered IT Centers/Buildings . Failure to comply shall result in the cancellation of its registration with PEZA as an IT Enterprise and subsequently, its registration with BOI.

RMC No. 47-2023 reiterates the proper time of remittance of withholding taxes by NGAs, LGUs, and GOCCs.

RMC No. 47-2023 dated 3 May 2023

- ▶ The RMC clarifies that the proper time of withholding and remittance of the tax is as required under RR no. 12-2001, which amended Section 2.57.4 of RR No. 2-1998. The said RR provides that the obligation of the payor to deduct and withhold the tax arises at the time an income payment is paid or payable, or the income payment is accrued or recorded as an expense or asset, whichever is applicable, in the payor's books, whichever comes first. Provided, however, that where income is not yet paid or payable but the same has been recorded as an expense or asset, whichever is applicable, in the payor's books, the obligation to withhold shall arise in the last month of the return period in which the same is claimed as an expense or amortized for tax purposes.
- ▶ The RMC also provides that the accrual basis of accounting was already prescribed by the Commission on Audit in the Government Accounting Manuals for NGAs and LGUs since 2002, pursuant to the Philippine Public Sector Accounting Standards that are harmonized with the International Public Sector Accounting Standards.

Availability of the Currency Rate Risk Protection Program (CRRP) Facility

BSP Circular Letter CL-2023-026 dated 18 April 2023

Pursuant to BSP Circular No. 1014 dated 24 September 2018, the CRPP Facility is a continuing facility that offers a non-deliverable USD/PHP forward contract (NDF) between the BSP and a UB/KB in response to the request of bank clients who wish to hedge their eligible foreign currency obligations.

BSP Circular Letter CL-2023-026 circularizes the availability of the currency rate risk protection program facility.

In 2022, the Philippine peso depreciated, in line with comparable regional peers, amid worries over aggressive interest rate hikes by the US Federal Reserve, and concerns over global economic slowdown following Russia's invasion of Ukraine, as well as the imposition of tighter restrictions in China. As such, due to the possibility of renewed depreciation pressure in the peso following the continued interest rate hikes by the Fed, we would like to remind all UKBs that the CRPP facility remains open. Bank clients who wish to hedge their eligible foreign currency obligations from foreign exchange volatility through the CRPP may contact their respective banks.

Banks that wish to avail of the CRPP Facility shall adhere to the implementing guidelines set out under BSP Circular No. 1015 series of 2018, as amended by BSP Circular No.1172 series of 2023.

Below is the full text from the memorandum:

Pursuant to Item "a" of Section 363-A of the MORB, real estate loans shall not include "loans to finance the construction, rehabilitation and improvement of highways, streets, bridges, tunnels, railways, railroad, transport systems, ports, airports, power plants, hydropower projects, canals, dams, water supply, irrigation, telecommunications, land reclamation projects, industrial estates or townships, government buildings and housing projects, public markets, slaughterhouses, warehouses, civil work components of information technology networks and database infrastructure projects, solid waste management, sewerage, flood control, drainage, dredging and other infrastructure projects that are intended for public use" for purposes of compliance with the prudential Real Estate Loan (REL) limit.

Moreover, loans and investments in debt and equity securities, the proceeds of which are used to finance infrastructure projects for public use as described above, are likewise excluded from the composition of (i) real estate exposures for purposes of compliance with the prudential Real Estate Stress Test (REST) limit as required under Item "b" of Section 363-A and Section 363-B of the MORB, and (ii) large exposures in compliance with the large exposures monitoring threshold pursuant to Circular No. 1150 dated 23 August 2022.

For purposes of compliance with the abovementioned prudential requirements, only the loans and investments to finance the construction, rehabilitation and improvement of real estate relating to infrastructure projects that are intended for public use such as fixed assets, permanent structures, immovable facilities or physical improvements thereon shall be excluded from the computation of real estate loans and real estate exposures that are subject to the prescribed REL and REST limits, respectively. Meanwhile, loans and investments to finance the general administration and maintenance of operations of entities operating or working on such infrastructure projects including, among others, the cost of equipment, machineries and the like, as well as the services and related items shall not form part of the items that are allowed to be excluded from the above-mentioned prudential limits, except if the expenditure/cost is needed to build, rehabilitate or improve an infrastructure project for public use and is allowed to be capitalized as part of the cost of the fixed asset, permanent structure, immovable facility, or physical improvement.

In the case of telecommunications and civil work components of information technology networks and database infrastructure projects, these shall pertain to the costs to construct, rehabilitate, and improve the related fixed assets, permanent structures, immovable facilities, or physical improvements thereon such as but not limited to the terrestrial and satellite stations, data center facilities, data recovery sites, or telecommunication towers. However, expenses relating to the general administration and maintenance of operations of telecommunication and/or information technology companies including, among others, their expenditures for equipment and services and related items do not form part of the items that are allowed to be excluded from the prescribed prudential limits on real estate and large exposures.

Supreme Court Cases

CBK Power Company Limited vs. Commissioner of Internal Revenue

Supreme Court (Third Division), G.R. No. 247918, promulgated 1 February 2023

Facts:

CBK Power Company Limited (CBK) is a party to the Build-Rehabilitation-Operate-Transfer (BROT) agreement to rehabilitate, construct, operate, and maintain the Caliraya, Botocan, and Kalayaan hydroelectric power plants and other civil Structures for the purpose of generating electricity for National Power Corporation (NPC).

CBK filed with the Bureau of Internal Revenue (BIR) an administrative claim for VAT refund in the amount of PHP50,060,766.08 arguing that this amount represented unutilized or excess creditable input taxes paid or incurred on its domestic purchases of goods and services, all attributable to zero-rated sales for Calendar Year 2012. Due to the BIR's inaction on the refund claim, CBK elevated the refund claim to the Court of Tax Appeals (CTA).

The CTA ruled that while CBK's administrative and judicial claims for refund were filed on time, it is not entitled for a refund since its "purchases of local supply of goods, properties and services needed for the development, construction and installation of its plant facilities are also zero-rated in accordance with Section 15(g) of RA No. 9513 or the Renewable Energy (RE) Act of 2008." Consequently, no output VAT should be shifted to RE Developers such as CBK.

CBK now argues that RA No. 9513 and its implementing rules and regulations (IRR) require an RE Developer to register with the Department of Energy (DOE) and the Board of Investments to be entitled to VAT zero rate. Neither CBK nor its suppliers are registered with the DOE.

Issue:

Is the RE Developer's registration with the DOE is a pre-requisite to avail of the VAT zero rate on related local purchases under RA No. 9513?

Registration with the DOE and the BOI as an RE Developer is a pre-requisite for an entity to avail of VAT zero rate on related local purchases under the Renewable Energy Act.

Ruling:

Yes. Registration with the DOE is a requirement to avail of the said VAT incentive. Otherwise, non-registration would mean that the related local purchases are subject to 12% VAT.

Section 15 of RA No. 9513 states that RE Developers pertain to those which are duly certified by the DOE. Moreover, Sections 25 and 26 provide that RE Developers, local manufacturers, fabricators, and suppliers of local-produced RE equipment who register with the DOE shall be issued with a certification by the DOE Renewable Energy Management Bureau. This certification shall serve as basis for RE Developers to avail of the incentives including VAT at zero rate.

Further, the DOE IRR is replete with categorical statements making registration with the DOE a requirement to avail of the incentives. It also requires RE Developers and manufacturers, fabricators, and suppliers of local-produced RE equipment to register with the Board of Investments.

Thus, it is not the mere fact that an entity is an RE Developer that makes such an entity entitled to the fiscal incentives under RA No. 9513. Rather, registration with the DOE and the BOI is necessary for the RE Developer to be entitled to VAT zero rate on its local purchases.

There is nothing in the record that would show that CBK registered with the DOE, let alone registered with the BOI and obtained all the necessary certificates. Hence, CBK correctly asserts that its local purchases are subject to 12% VAT.

Petron Corp. v. Commissioner of Internal Revenue

Supreme Court (First Division) G.R. No. 255961, promulgated on 20 March 2023

Facts:

Petron Corporation (Petron) is a domestic corporation engaged in the business of manufacturing and marketing petroleum products. Petron imported alkylate on various dates which the Bureau of Customs (BOC) subjected to excise tax pursuant to Customs Memorandum Circular No. 164-2012, implementing the Letter from the Bureau of Internal Revenue (BIR), stating that “alkylate which is a product of distillation similar to that of naphtha, is subject to excise tax under Sec. 148 (e) of the Tax Code.

Petron then filed administrative claims for refund of excise tax with the BIR claiming that the foregoing excise taxes were erroneously, wrongfully, illegally and excessively imposed and collected by the BIR through the BOC, which the Court of Tax Appeals denied.

Petron now argues that the principle of strict construction of tax laws granting tax exemptions does not apply to its case since the refund claim is not based on tax exemption but on Sec. 148 (e) of the Tax Code which does not include alkylate as among the excisable articles.

“Alkylate does not fall under the category of ‘other similar products of distillation’ as contemplated in Sec. 148 (e) of the 1997 NIRC, as amended, and thus, should not be subject to excise tax.”

Issues:

1. Is the rule of strict construction of laws granting tax exemptions applicable in this case?
2. Does alkylate fall under the category of "other similar products of distillation" subject to excise tax?
3. Is the Court bound by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue's (CIR's) interpretation and position regarding Sec. 148 (e) of the Tax Code?

Ruling:

1. No, the strict interpretation granting tax exemptions does not apply to this refund case. Not all claims for tax refund partake the nature of a tax exemption such that the rule of strict interpretation against the taxpayer is always applicable. Instead, the rule applicable in this case is the doctrine of strict construction of tax laws in favor of the taxpayer.

When the claim for tax refund is premised on the taxpayer's erroneous payment of the tax or the government's exaction in the absence of a law, the rule to be applied must be the well-settled doctrine of strict interpretation in the imposition of taxes, not the similar doctrine as applied to tax exemptions.

In the case at bar, Petron's claim for tax refund is not founded on any tax exemption law but on the government's erroneous assessment and collection of excise taxes on its alkylate importations, without clear legal basis. Petron's entitlement to a tax refund is not based on the existence of a tax exemption clause in its favor but premised on its claim that alkylate is not subject to excise tax under Sec. 148 (e) of the Tax Code.

Petron does not seek to be exempt from excise taxes on its alkylate importations. Instead, Petron anchors its claim for tax refund on the absence of a law that imposes excise tax on alkylate. Thus, in the absence of a law expressly and unambiguously imposing excise tax on alkylate, the appropriate rule to be applied is the strict interpretation in the imposition of taxes such that the statute must be construed most strongly against the government and in favor of the taxpayer.

2. No, alkylate does not fall under the category of "other similar products of distillation" subject to excise tax.

Alkylate is not expressly mentioned in Sec. 148 (e) of the Tax Code as one of the goods subject to excise tax. Neither does it tax "products whose raw materials are products of distillation." Rather, the provision plainly taxes only "[n]aphtha, regular gasoline and other similar products of distillation." Hence, to be covered by the said provision, alkylate itself, rather than its "raw materials," must be the "product of distillation." Notably, it is undisputed that alkylate is not produced by the process of distillation, but by alkylation.

Sec. 148 (e) of the Tax Code imposes excise tax on naphtha, regular gasoline, and other similar products of distillation only, and not on the raw materials or ingredients used for their production.

Under the principle of ejusdem generis, "where a general word or phrase follows an enumeration of particular and specific words of the same class or where the latter follow the former, the general word or phrase is to be construed to include, or to be restricted to persons, things or cases akin to, resembling, or of the same kind or class as those specifically mentioned."

Therefore, in construing the phrase "other similar products of distillation" as stated in Sec. 148 (e) of the Tax Code, the same must only include or be restricted to things or cases akin to, resembling, or of the same kind or class as those specifically mentioned, (i.e., naphtha and regular gasoline). Since alkylate does not belong to the same category as naphtha and regular gasoline, the same should not be subjected to excise tax.

3. No, the CIR's interpretation should not override, supplant, or modify the law.

Interpretations placed upon a statute by the executive officers, whose duty is to enforce it, are not conclusive and will be ignored if judicially found to be erroneous as the courts will not countenance administrative issuances that override, instead of remaining consistent and in harmony with, the law they seek to apply and implement.

For the courts to subject alkylate to excise tax, the authority should be reasonably founded on the language of the statute. Courts, however, will not uphold these authorities' interpretations when clearly absurd, erroneous or improper.
